UNITE GERMANY FOR PEACE SAYS EDEN

Assures Reds Do Not Intend Regained Strength For Aggressive Purposes

Conference Moves Into East Berlin Russians Show No Signs Of Changing Stand To Accede To West

BERLIN (AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the Big Four conference today it is "our purpose to associate Germany so closely with other peace-loving states that she will neither seek nor be able to use her regained strength for aggressive purposes." Eden's speech ran parallel to a declaration at the conference by French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault demanding free elections as the No. 1 fundamental for uniting Germany.

Statements of the two western foreign ministers were made at the first session held in the east sector of Berlin under the chairmanship of Vyacheslav Molotov, the Soviet foreign minister.

In his declaration, Eden said it was his government's belief that Germany can best be united with peace - loving countries through membership in the European Defence Community.

He hoped to unify Germany in a manner that she will be able to be a member of the EDC. The Russians insist that any unification plan be so written that Germany would be hamstrung for making any alliances that have military connotation.

Eden tried once more to ally Moscow fears about EDC in his comments to the parley today.

"The treaty which sets up the European Defence Community lays down that the community is designed to contribute to the maintenance of peace, and that its purposes are exclusively defensive," Eden said.

VERBAL ASSURANCES

"The Soviet government," Eden continued, "may say that mere verbal assurances are not enough, and that more concrete guarantees are needed. If the EDC treaty contained nothing more than verbal assurances, I should have some sympathy with such an objection to it. But of course it does contain much more."

Eden then emphasized that the six member countries of EDC would hand over control of their forces in Europe to a "supra-national authority."

"There will be no national armies, and the individual countries will not have the power or the means to engage in war on their own. This is a revolutionary con-

CBC Advises Gov't Defer TV Applications

OTTAWA (CP)—The CBC board of governors today recommended that the government defer action on two applications for a television station on channel 12 at Peterborough, Ont., until a further study can be made.

The board said in an announcement following a meeting in Montreal late last week that it "wishes to study further the two applications for this area and to provide further opportunity for clarification of questions of public support in the community for the respective applicants."

The applications are from Kawartha Broadcasting Co. Ltd., which includes Senator W. Rupert Davies and Roy Thomson who both have newspaper and radio interests, and Herb May, Toronto radio personality.

TRANSFER CONTROL

The board recommended also that the government approve the transfer of control of the Regina television station, CKCK-TV, to Clifford Sifton, publisher of the Regina Leader-Post and Saskatoon Star-Phoenix. The station is owned by Transcanada Communications Ltd., a company with which Mr. Sifton is associated.

The board also recommended that control in radio stations CKRC Winnipeg and CKCK Regina be transferred to Mr. Sifton from Transcanada communications.

The board recommended that the government deny an application by William Rea, Jr., operator of radio station CKNW New Westminster, B. C., to establish a satellite transmitter at Cloverdale, B. C., to widen the area covered by his New Westminster station.

THIRD DEFERMENT

The deferment was the third for the Kawartha television application. Mr. May's application has been filed since the previous board meeting in December. The CBC has recommended the licensing of privately-owned television stations in 16 cities exclusive of Montreal, Toronto, Vancouver, Ottawa, Halifax and Winnipeg which are reserved to the CBC by government policy.

Private stations are on the air in Sudbury and London, Ont., and the CBC has stations operating in Vancouver, Toronto, Ottawa, and Montreal.

To Sue America For 'A' Damage

TOKYO (AP) — The Hiroshima atom bomb victims association said today it plans to file damage suits against the United States in American courts as soon as possible.

The association said it would ask the courts to award $2,777 to families of each Japanese who died in the world war atom bomb raids on Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

Kyodo news agency said leading lawyers here say the suits would not have a chance in American courts.

More than 150,000 persons were killed in the atom bomb blasts.

THE WRECKER—Miss Mary Lou James, grade 11 student at PCVS, was chosen "The Wrecker" at the "Wrecker Promenade" held at the school Saturday night. Readers who have been following the comic strip L'il Abner will know that "It is no fault of the wrecker that she wrecks men's hearts" and Mammy Yokum has declared her "a sweet innocent little lamb." You can see why judges picked Mary Lou, can't you? Her prizes included a bag of potatoes.

Accuse U.S. Of Kidnapping

TOKYO (AP)—A Russian spokesman today accused the United States of kidnapping the missing second secretary—an intelligence agent—of the defunct Soviet mission in Tokyo. An American source who refused to be identified told the Associated Press that the missing diplomat, Huri Alexandrovich Rastovorov, had asked the United States for political asylum and had been granted it. The break in the long silence of the cloak-and-dagger story of Rastovorov stirred speculation that the largest spy ring in Asia may have been cracked. The affable 34-year-old Russian diplomat disappeared from the Soviet embassy Jan. 24, on the eve of his scheduled departure for Russia.

The American source said it is almost certain Rastovorov has left Japan and may be en route to the United States.

There was speculation that the Russian had been flown Saturday to Okinawa, a huge U.S. base 700 miles south of here.

S. I. Runov, spokesman for the Russian mission here—unrecognized by Japan—called in Japanese reporters and issued a prepared statement accusing "the American espionage organ in Japan" of seizing and holding Rastovorov.

FREE RUN OF JAPAN

The U.S. state department and Far East command had no comment on the case.

Rastovorov was known to be an intelligence agent. The Russian diplomats had free run of Japan and have been in a position to gather information on U.S. bases.

Kyodo news agency reported earlier that Rastovorov was being returned to the Soviet Union to explain how he botched a spy assignment.

Rastovorov was one of several dozen Soviet diplomats who stayed behind after the Japanese peace treaty was signed in April, 1952. Since the Soviet Union has not signed the peace treaty, the mission has no official status as it did during the occupation.

HAPPY TO RETURN

The Soviet statement said Japanese police, who were asked by the Russians to find Rastovorov, had not been able to locate him. It also said Rastovorov was "very happy" at the prospect of returning to the Soviet Union.

Suspect Arson In House Fire

EDMONTON (CP) — Suspicion of arson has resulted in an investigation of a downtown rooming-house fire early Sunday which claimed the life of an elderly man and sent at least 15 persons to hospital.

Provincial fire authorities and city police continued their search today for clues which might determine the cause of the fire which caused about $30,000 damage to an old wooden building on Jasper avenue.

The two upper floors were believed occupied by approximately 20 persons while the bottom floor was used by Reed's Auction Mart.

Fire Marshal Jack Booth said the fire had the "appearance of being of an incendiary nature."

William J. Mahoney, 84, was asphyxiated.

Some occupants escaped through smoke and flame-filled halls to a rear fire escape. Five were reported to have been carried out unconscious.

Dissatisfaction In Gov't-CCF

FORT WILLIAM (CP)—Donald C. MacDonald, Ontario CCF leader, said Sunday night that he has found "a deep undercurrent of dissatisfaction" with the Ontario provincial government in this part of the province.

The CCF leader, nearing the end of a northwestern Ontario speaking tour, told a public meeting that "northwestern Ontario has tremendous resources and a small population."

"Your trouble ties in with the failure of the provincial and federal governments to give assistance in keeping with what you have to offer."

He said there is no mystery as to why the proposal is revived from time to time that northwestern Ontario should secede and form an 11th province.

STEP-CHILD

"The north has far too long been a sort of step-child which gets attention when its needs become critical, but usually is neglected," Mr. MacDonald said.

Better government, not more government, is needed, he said.

Better government could be brought about, Mr. MacDonald said, by recognizing the particular needs of the north and shaping policy to meet them.

He proposed a working partnership between government and private enterprise with the needs of the people and over-all public welfare being the primary objective, not just "hit-and-run profits."

He said "the north will never share equitably in Ontario's economic development if the expansion is left almost wholly to swashbuckling free enterprises whose sole interest is to make a quick killing and then pull out to leave a host of unsolved problems as communities die a slow economic death and eventually end up as ghost towns."

ON-THE-SPOT ASSISTANCE

"There is a need for on-the-spot assistance to locate and develop suitable industries; on-the-spot research to find more diversified use for your forest products; and research into the feasibility of smelting iron ore with natural gas," the CCF leader said.

"The government of Ontario should be prepared to invest some extra millions for these purposes. It would be a sound investment."

Mr. MacDonald said the problems brought on by the longer winters in the northwest deserve special attention. Among these are seasonal unemployment, a shorter construction season and greater costs if jobs are carried on into the winter.

Iran Begins Elections For New Senate

TEHRAN (AP) — Iranians began elections today for a new Senate, the first since ex-dictator Mohammed Mossadegh dissolved the old upper house in October, 1952.

Electors are to choose 30 of the Senate's 60 members. The others are to be appointed by Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi. Fifteen of the elected Senators will be chosen by Tehran voters, the other half by the voters of Iran's nine provinces.

Elections for 136 members of the lower house (Majlis) started last week and probably will continue for some time.

Police Hold Slasher Suspect

MONTREAL (CP)—Police today held a 28-year-old man as "the best suspect we have picked up" in the search for Montreal's slasher.

His arrest followed two "authentic" slashings during the week-end. "The man was carrying pornographic pictures in his pockets and obviously is a mental case," said a police official. "We can't accuse him definitely of the slashings until he faces several line-ups and until reports of slashings stop coming in."

Rob Super Market Of $7,448 In Sarnia

SARNIA (CP)—A general police alarm was sent throughout Ontario today for safecrackers who staged a $7,448 robbery from the Matthews super market early today. It was the first robbery of its size and kind here in three years.

Constables Donald McDonald and Kenneth Smith, making a routine check at 4:45 a. m. found the front door of the store had been jimmied. The steel concrete safe had been wheeled out the back door and loaded into a vehicle.

Australian Navy Takes Over Guard Duties With Gothic

SYDNEY, Australia (Reuters)—The New Zealand navy handed over the care of the Queen to the Australian navy at noon today in the Tasman sea.

Millions of Australians heard a description of the "changing of the guard" for the royal liner Gothic, which is taking the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh, to a two-month tour of the Australian continent.

The men of the New Zealand cruiser Black Prince gave three cheers for the young monarch as they relinquished their responsibilities to Australia, and the ship's band played the traditional Maori farewell, "Now is the Hour"—following it with "Auld Lang Syne."

The Royal Marine band in the Gothic struck up "Waltzing Matilda."

SAILORS CHEERED

The Australian aircraft carrier Vengeance, the destroyer Anzac and the frigate Quadrant then closed in for their escort duties.

Aussie sailors lined the warships' decks and cheered, craning their necks for a glimpse of the Queen — who was watching the change-over from her stateroom.

The duke stood on the saluting platform near the bridge, under a black sky.

Bad weather over the mid-ocean rendezvous delayed he take-off from Sydney of four Australian bombers for 7½ hours.

Operations officers ordered the postponement because the Gothic was reported on the fringe of a severe cyclonic storm.

Sunday night in Sydney excited Australians flocked to the city of 1,500,000 to get ready for the big reception for the royal pair on Wednesday.

POPULATION INCREASE

The city was so jam - packed with visitors from outlying areas that buses had to drop their passengers in the suburbs.

Police estimated that there were 10 times as many people in the heart of Sydney as usual on a Sunday night—possibly 500,000.

(The Queen had her last view of New Zealand from the decks of the Gothic Sunday morning as the luxury ship steamed off into the Tasman sea from the cliffs of Milford sound.

(She stood on the bridge and waved at cheering New Zealanders on boats clustered around the Gothic.)

U.S. Plane Crashes, 35 Killed

No Survivors As Aircraft Plunges In Sea

TOKYO —(AP)—A United States air force courier plane only 10 minutes from landing plunged 35 persons to death today in icy waters just south of Hokkaido island, the air force said.

There were no survivors among the 30 passengers and 5 crewmen of the twin-engined C-46 "Commando," an air force spokesman said.

The plane crashed at 1:45 p.m. (11:45 p.m. EST., Sunday) in the frigid 25-mile-wide strait between Hokkaido and Honshu, Japan's main island.

It was on a regular run from Tachikawa air force base near Tokyo to Chitose, near Sapporo, principal city of the big northern island of Hokkaido.

The air force spokesman said only some open parachutes and an oil slick were spotted by search planes at the scene, about 20 miles from land.

"It's bitter cold up there now; they had a big blizzard on Hokkaido day before yesterday," he said.

Passengers on such flights customarily wear life jackets and parachutes. However, a man could stay alive only a few minutes in the icy water of the strait.

Names of the victims were withheld.

6 Persons Escape Death From Gas

WINDSOR (CP) — Six persons narrowly escaped death in their gas-filled apartment early this morning. They were saved by a 39-year-old mother who awoke in a semi-stupor to find several members of the household overcome by coal gas fumes.

Mrs. William Schwartz, 284 Josephine St. awoke when she heard the muffled cries of her 10-year-old daughter Ursula. She went to the girl, who was lying on the next door bedroom floor panting for breath.

Mrs. Schwartz was about to return to her husband to get his help when she heard a noise in the bathroom. She went to the door and found Joe Neuschmidt, 27, unconscious on the floor.

She dragged the man back to his bedroom where his wife, Theresa, 23, also lay unconscious.

WOMAN COLLAPSES

Faint from the fumes, Mrs. Mrs. Schwartz collapsed on the floor. By this time Neuschmidt had partially recovered and dragged Mrs. Schwartz into her husband's room.

There, Schwartz, 39, who had slept on unaware of the near tragedy, awoke.

He opened the windows in the four-room apartment and dialed the operator, who called the fire department and the police.

Dr. L. H. Lager ordered the victims to rest for several days.

Four New Attacks

Crackpots Upset Search For Montreal's Slasher

MONTREAL (CP)—Police say that the case of the Montreal slasher, furtive figure who cuts women's legs with a razor, has been complicated by crackpots and publicity-seekers.

Four new attacks were reported during the week-end, but police said they considered only two of these "authentic."

In all, the unofficial count of slasher attacks since 10 days ago—when they began—is 26. But police attribute only 12 of these to the man they describe as "a maniac." Medical authorities have expressed the opinion he is a "sex deviate."

During the week-end, two women reported they had been attacked for the second time, but the police said this is "highly unlikely."

They said some persons even have surrendered to them, claiming to be the slasher in the hope of achieving notoriety.

"We have to investigate these so-called second attacks," said one officer. "But it is most unlikely that of all the women in Montreal the maniac would attack one, let alone two, for the second time."

Police director J. Albert Langlois made a radio appeal Friday night against a "wave of hysteria" sweeping the city. In line with his statements, officers in charge of the case said they will no longer give the names of the victims.

Women and girls of all ages have been targets of the attacks in many widely-separated parts of the city. Police have said at least one other assailant has been at work besides the slasher. Also, many of the injuries were trivial, easily self-inflicted for publicity purposes.

Most of the attacks occurred at streetcar stops, women being cut about the legs as they boarded the vehicle.

Wounds sometimes have required more than 20 stitches to close, but most were much smaller. Several times women have said they were knocked brutally to the ground, but the attacks are usually swift and silent. At least twice the slasher has laughed in the face of his victims.

Most descriptions tally—giving a picture of a flat-nosed man of heavy build in the middle 30s.

Truck, Bus Collide Eight Passengers Escape From Wreck

By MEL MORRIS

YAMACHICHE, Que. (CP)—Provincial police today started the grim job of identifying the last of 14 persons who died late Saturday in a burning bus near this town 15 miles west of Trois-Rivieres. The bodies of two of the passengers who were trapped in the inferno still lay unidentified in the Trois-Rivieres morgue. Eight passengers staggered or were pulled to safety through the smoke-filled aisle after the Provincial Transport bus collided with a car transport at 10:30 p.m. EST Saturday. Both drivers also survived, although Henri Bruneau, 35, of Ville LaSalle, Que., driver of the bus, had to be pried out from behind his steering wheel. Both his legs were fractured and he was suffering from internal injuries.

Valere Plante, 25, of Windsor, Ont., driver of the auto-transport, owned by McBain Transport Company, Quebec, also had to be helped to safety after being jammed in the cab of his truck.

At first police feared between 20 and 25 persons had died in the crash. Coroner P. Bellefeuille late Sunday night set the official toll at 14. He said an accurate count had been made difficult by the mangled condition of the bodies.

Victims identified at the coroner's inquest were:

Jean Olivier, 32, Montreal.
Cecile Everell, 51, Quebec.
Guy Carignan, 21, Trois-Rivieres.
Mrs. Hormidas Mongrain, 48, Montreal.
Jean-Guy Carreau, Montreal.
Leo Carpentier, 36, Trois-Rivieres
Guy Cote, Montreal.
Rita D'Aoust, 45, Montreal.
Gaston Bourgon, 28, Trois-Rivieres.
Cecile Comeau, 22, Trois-Rivieres
Monique Fournier, 21, Montreal.

A 12th victim, Miss Gertrude Masson, 35, of Montreal, was identified by police. The coroner, however, withheld positive confirmation until the arrival of relatives from Montreal.

ON STRAIGHT ROAD

The accident occurred on a straight stretch of road, cleared in the centre and icy on the sides. It was a clear night.

The auto - transport, travelling light from Quebec to Cornwall, crashed into the front left hand corner of the Quebec-bound bus, ripped along the side and came to rest against the emergency door. Flames engulfed both vehicles almost immediately.

Many of the passengers were trapped in their seats or knocked unconscious by the collision. Their charred remains were found when the rubble was unpiled at the morgue in Trois-Rivieres, where the bus was taken.

BULLETIN

LONDON (Reuters) — Prime Minister Churchill's government was upheld tonight when the House of Commons voted 266 to 232 against a Labor party motion of censure criticizing a government decision to scrap the British-designed EM-2 .28-calibre rifle in favor of a .30-calibre weapon of Belgian design.

Wants Spain To Have Naval Dockyard

MADRID (Reuters)—Gen. Francisco Franco's quarrel with Britain over Gibraltar could be settled if Spain was granted the lease of a naval dockyard at the rock bastion, a Madrid newspaper said today.

Writing in Hoja Oficial del Lunes, editor Pedro Gomez Aparicio said: "Gen. Franco in 1951 suggested a generous formula in an interview published in the London Sunday Times.

"This suggested Gibraltar should continue as a free port and there should be negotiation for temporary leasing by Britain of the naval dockyard. Franco's offer showed the same sense of responsibility towards the western cause as did the agreements with the United States (for the use of Spanish bases).

"With these agreements Spain has not hesitated to add her resources to those of other nations in the common interest in order to ensure the defence of Spanish sovereign territories which remain completely Spanish even though—as could be the case in Gibraltar—for military reasons the presence of non-Spanish personnel is accepted."

Franco has long demanded Gibraltar, held by Britain since 1713. "Gibraltar" demonstrations were made by students in Madrid, Barcelona and other Spanish cities last week.

Stopping Fight Against Seaway

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Guy L. Brown, head of the International Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, announced Saturday night that his union is dropping its fight against the St. Lawrence seaway.

"For 25 years our brotherhood, along with other units of railroad labor and the railways themselves have opposed the seaway," Brown said.

"Now I am convinced that it is a futile battle and we will spend no more time or money on a lost cause. Instead we will work and seek to get the railways to work to take advantage of the development and to profit from the changes in business which are bound to result from this new service."

A bill authorizing U.S. participation with Canada in building the seaway has already passed the Senate. House of Representatives passage seems assured.

Jet Mechanic Killed At Plant

TORONTO (CP) — Edward John Curtis, jet aircraft mechanic, was killed today and Thomas Surgonor, 38, injured when they were struck by the cockpit canopy from a CF-100 jet fighter they were servicing at the A. V. Roe aircraft plant at nearby Malton.

It was believed some one inadvertently touched a button releasing the ejector seat of the plane, the heavy cockpit canopy then hitting the men.

Surgonor was said by hospital officials to be in fair condition.

Unfortunate Odds

ILFORD (Reuters)— Insurance salesman Sidney Lee, 28, specializes in policies insuring fathers-to-be against the high cost of twins and triplets. For years Lee has eloquently told prospects, "The odds against twins are 86 to one—against triplets the odds are 5,000 to one." But he never bothered to write up a policy for himself. Sunday his wife gave birth to triplets.

U.S. Fighters Shoot Down Russian MiG

Sharp Engagement Off Korea Ten Days Ago

WASHINGTON (AP)— The United States air force said today U.S. planes and MiG-15 jet fighters fought a sharp engagement near the Korean coast only 10 days ago, after a U.S. reconnaissance bomber was attacked.

No American aircraft were lost, but one of the Russian-made jets was shot down. An air force spokesman here, who had only terse information on the incident, said so far as is known in Washington there were no U.S. casualties nor plane damage.

As for the nationality of the MiG pilots, he said only "it is safe to assume they were Communists."

This was the first known clash between U. S. and Communist planes since the Korean armistice was signed July 27. Whether by coincidence or not, it occurred on a day of considerable tension—Jan. 22 was the day on which United Nations officials released to civilian status prisoners of war who refused to be repatriated to Red-held territory. The Communists had insisted they must be kept in neutral custody. However, no serious incident developed.

A BRIEF ACCOUNT

The air force gave this account of the plane incident:

A U.S. RB-45—a light, jet-propelled bomber fitted for reconnaissance work—was flying a reconnaissance mission Jan. 22 over international waters northwest of Sok-to island, off the west coast of Korea, when "a large formation of MiG-15 jet fighters" attacked it.

F-86 jet fighters guarding the bomber opposed the attack and in the ensuing fight shot down one MiG.

The clash apparently took place north of the 38th parallel, the old dividing line between North and South Korea.

Child Dies Suddenly During Asthma Attack

WARKWORTH (ENS)— Two-year-old Kathryn Jane Redden, of R.R. 4, Warkworth, died suddenly today after an asthmatic seizure.

Daughter of Harold Redden and the former Edith Glover, Kathryn Jane had suffered from attacks of asthma for the past year. She is believed to have been stricken during the night. She asked for a drink of milk before 7 a.m. but died before drinking it.

Dr. R. F. Joliffe, the family physician, arrived within minutes at the Redden farm home, two miles east of Warkworth, but the little girl was dead. She failed to respond though both her mother and Dr. Joliffe worked on her.

Coroner Dr. David Burgess, of Campbellford, said there wouldn't be an autopsy or an inquest.

Canada To Produce New Type Cartridge

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada and four other countries of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization have agreed to start production of the 30-calibre cartridge, adopted earlier as a standard round.

Belgium, Britain, France and the United States joined Canada in the agreement. The cartridge fits the Belgium-made FN-2 automatic rifle which Canada is expected to approve soon as standard infantry weapon instead of the .303 Enfield rifle.

The defence department announced Sunday the agreement was signed here Friday at a meeting among representatives of the five countries. They agreed to technical specifications, tolerances and minimum performance characteristics of the cartridge. However, manufacturing techniques were left to individual preference.

Police Chiefs Discuss Defence

ARNPRIOR (CP)—Top police officials from across Canada met here today in the first national conference to consider the police rule in civil defence. Chief constable Walter Mulligan of Vancouver is chairman.

Health Minister Martin, the cabinet minister responsible for civil defence, said "considerable progress" has been made during the last three years in developing a Canadian civil defence organization. Arnprior is the site of the new Canadian civil defence college, to be officially opened next month.

Mr. Martin said 162,000 civil defence workers have been enrolled in local, provincial and federal organizations. About 57,000 of these have been trained.

Mr. Martin said he will attend meetings of the United States-Canada civil defence committee at Washington next week.

MORE ABOUT—

Others died, frantically trying to force open the emergency door.

None of the survivors had a clear picture of how the accident happened.

Plante, the driver of the transport, said he couldn't explain the cause of the crash.

"I don't know if it was the bus or my transport that was at fault," he told reporters from his hospital bed. "I don't think I took too much of the road."

WENT INTO SNOWBANK

Bruneau, the bus driver, said he remembered seeing the truck veer towards him and ram the bus.

"The bus was swung partly sideways and went halfway through a huge snowbank on the right of the road," he said. "There were two or three deafening explosions, then the whole place seemed to be in flames."

"I was reading when suddenly I felt something crash into the side of the bus," Jacques Auger, 46, of Rosemount, Montreal, said. "The bus crashed into the ditch and I saw smoke spurting from the rear.

"I was in the second seat from the back of the bus. I got out by feeling my way along the seats bordering the aisle. I couldn't see. I was blinded with smoke and blood from a cut on my forehead. I finally came to the front door and fell into the snow."

SCREAMING STOPPED

Claude Paquette, an ambulance driver on his way from Trois-Rivieres to Berthierville, west of here, was driving a short distance behind the auto-transport when it crashed into the bus.

"There was a blinding sheet of flames and the roar of an explosion. Black, oily smoke poured up and the screaming voices stopped one by one. The driver was sobbing with the pain of being pinned behind the wheel.

"I couldn't get within 30 feet of the bus for the heat of the flames.

Brother Alfred Marcel of the Roman Catholic seminary at nearby Joliette, Que., pulled two persons from the wreckage. He was in a second coach following a short distance behind the doomed vehicle.

Other passengers aboard the second coach doused the flames with snow in time to save Bruneau and pry him loose from the steering wheel.

All through the afternoon and evening grim-faced little bands passed along the tables where the bodies were laid out. At intervals sobs of grief echoed through the one-storey building, signalling the identification of another victim.

In some cases the blackened, dismembered torsoes were unrecognizable and identification was made through jewelry or fragments of clothing recovered from the bus.

Of the injured, only Bruneau was considered in serious condition.

FAITH IN THE PLATE—With a searing flame from an acetylene torch only about one inch from his face, Italian invnetor Angelo Secont, left, displays real confidence in his new material. Called "Secondite," the new material is claimed to be entirely resistant to fire and acids. He says it is an excellent insulating material. It was recently demonstrated at a London, England, show.

Produce, Livestock Markets

TORONTO FRUIT

TORONTO (CP) — Wholesale fruit and vegetable prices were unchanged here today.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Soybeans firmed while grains eased at the opening on the board of trade today.

Demand entered soybeans following Friday's U. S. government report showing stocks of beans in all positions on Jan. 1 were down substantially from a year ago.

Wheat started ⅜ cent lower to ⅛ higher, March 2.12, corn ⅛ to ⅜ lower, March 1.52⅝, oats unchanged to ⅛ lower, March 79¼-⅛ and soybeans unchanged to 1½ higher, March 3.13¾-14.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG (CP) — Prices were moving narrowly lower and showing some hesitation in early trade today on the grain exchange.

A few routine domestic orders appeared in oats and barley. Outside selling also showed in barley. Selling in flax was taken by processors. Rye trade was light and local.

11 a. m. prices:

Oats: May ⅛ lower 72⅝A; Jly unch 69B; Oct. unch 68¼.

Barley: May ½ lower 95⅞; Jly ½-⅝ lower 93½; Oct. not open.

Rye: May ⅜ lower 1.07½; Jly ⅜ lower 1.05⅞; Oct. not open.

Flax: May ⅛ lower 3.19; Jly ¾ lower 3.11B; Oct. not open.

MONTREAL LIVESTOCK

Canadian Stocks Mixed In N.Y.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market slipped a little lower today after starting out with a mild attempt at a rally.

Prices spread out over a range of around a point lower to fractions higher.

Steels were consistently higher along with many railroads. Motors were lower, and they were joined by a number of coppers and chemicals. Otherwise the market was steady to mixed.

Canadian stocks were mixed. International Nickel and Distillers Seagram each gained ⅛. Dome Mines and Hiram Walker both fell ⅛ and Canadian Pacific was unchanged.

Canadian issues on the American stock exchange were quiet. Giant Yellowknife and Royalite Oil were unchanged.

"When the facts . . . are compared together with the data on hand . . . regarding the special interest which the American espionage division had in Rastovorov, then the mysterious disappearance of Rastovorov from Japan with the aim of provocation of the Soviet Union clear," the statement said.

All this forms the foundation to believe that Rastovorov has been seized and is being detained by the American espionage organ in Japan with the aim of provocation of the Soviet Union."

The Russians' report of Rastovorov's disappearance was unusual. Previously they have ignored the police and the government. The mission asked for help and said Rastovorov was suffering from a "nervous breakdown."

U.S. Dollar At Discount

MONTREAL (CP) — The U. S. dollar was at a discount of 2 29-32 per cent in terms of Canadian funds, the Bank of Canada reported at noon today. Friday's noon rate was 97 3-32 cents. Pound sterling $2.73 against $2.73 1-16.

Robbers Told Bedtime Stories Then Got Away With $9,525

CHICAGO (AP) — Two gunmen told bedtime stores to keep three small children quiet Sunday night while they awaited the return of the tots' father to rob him of $4,525 in cash and jewelry valued at ...000.

One of the gang of five posed as a Western Union messenger to get into the home of Louis Fahrberger, a bakery owner.

The baby-sitter, who admitted them, Mrs. Marian Schmidt, 36, and the robbers took turns telling the youngsters about Goldilocks and the three bears, the three little pigs, and other fairy tale characters to allay their alarm over the presence of strangers.

"I don't know these men," Mrs. Schmidt told the children—Christine, 3, Fred, 4, and Louis Jr. 8—"but we're supposed to sit here and be good."

During a lull in the 45-minute story-telling session, Christine sang, "Doggie in the Window."

When Fahrberger walked in, he told police, one of the robbers seized Christine and said, "I'll shoot her if you don't get your hands up and that safe open."

The robbers locked Fahrberger, Mrs. Schmidt and the youngsters in a closet before leaving.

Youngsters Ski As Snow Blows At Kemp's Hill

A minor blizzard which swept across the Peterborough district Saturday didn't stop youngsters from attending the opening of the junior ski school at Kemp's hill: In fact even though the skiers couldn't see up and down the hill at times they kept skiing.

Two weeks ago the Peterborough Ski club had 50 young skiers on the slope, for instruction. Actually the school was to open officially a week ago but mild weather and rain caused a postponement until Saturday.

The Peterborough Recreation Commission which operates the school in co-operation with the Peterborough Ski Club transported the 150 skiers from various points throughout the city to the hill and back.

At Kemp's the ski enthusiasts were divided into various groups according to their skiing experience after registration. Then for a half-hour under the guidance of vetern skiers, Tony Westbye, school director, Bob White, Jim and Mollie Craig, Agnes Upper, Rod Reed, Shirley Sackville, Ron Walsh, Waddy Waterman and others, the boys and girls were given lessons.

The instructions literally varied from the ground up, depending upon the skier's ability. They were taught the fundamentals of turning, going down and up, and the more experienced skiers advanced skiing such as the slalom and other trips.

After that half-hour the skiers had an hour of open skiing. It was during this free hour that there were times the skiers couldn't see up and down the hill, but the youngsters didn't mind a bit.

Prices Mixed At Toronto

TORONTO (CP) — Prices were mixed and volume heavy in early afternoon stock market trading today.

Papers, steels, foods and liquors were strong in an industrial rise. Financial institutions, utilities and manufactures were weak, refining oils and constructions steady. There were only two individual features: Canadian Locomotive, down $1, and International Paper, up 25 cents.

Base metals showed the biggest gain. Hudson Bay added $1.25 and International Nickel was up 75 cents.

Golds were lower in all categories. Campbell was down 20 cents in the juniors.

Uraniums were slightly higher following leads of 40 cents by Gunnar and five cents by Nesbitt-Labine. Bathurst - area base metals weakened slightly.

Canadian Collieries slipped 40 cents to lead the western oil losses.

St. Laurent, 72 Works As Usual

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent is celebrating his 72nd birthday today but there isn't much to set it apart from an ordinary working day.

He smilingly acknowledged the congratulations of his staff when he arrived at his East Block office as usual at 9:30 a. m. He worked all day Sunday clearing the decks for his departure on a world tour Thursday.

Members of the Commons and Senate will give him a reception in the railway committee room this evening to mark his birthday. One of his three daughters, Mrs. Frank Lafferty of Montreal, and her husband will arrive here later today to stay at 24 Sussex street, the prime minister's residence. There will be a quiet family get-together if Mr. St. Laurent's parliamentary duties do not keep him on Parliament Hill too late.

Reds Advancing Into Loas

(Reuters)—The advance guard of a 12,000-strong Vietminh Communist division has poured across the northern frontier of Laos and is advancing toward this royal capital, French authorities said here today.

They said the rebel forces are cutting through jungles about 80 miles from here. The advance could result in an assault on the capital within two weeks.

Premier To Broadcast

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent will make a national radio broadcast at 7:45 p. m. EST tomorrow over the CBC's Trans-Canada network. He is expected to speak on the purpose of his world tour—he leaves Thursday — and comment on the current session of Parliament.

Pilot Averts Disaster

PITTSBURGH (AP) — An air force pilot, fearful of having to bail out of his crippled plane and have it crash in crowded metropolitan Pittsburgh, put the ship down safely on a hillside a few miles northeast of here Sunday. Capt. Herbert O. Brennan, 27, of O'Neill, Neb., and his co-pilot, Capt. James Allen of Louisville, Ky., escaped without a scratch. Their plane, a twin-engine C-45, was considerably damaged.

ception. It is the heart of the whole matter."

Bidault said "it would be up to the German government itself to decide whether it wants to assume the international obligations contracted earlier either by the Federal Republic (West Germany) or by the German Democratic Republic (East Germany)."

LEAVE DECISION

"I should like . . . to point out that the one basis on which we can come to an agreement on the subject is for all of us to leave the decision up to the German people. France does not demand as a condition for unification that Germany should enter a European community but we want to make it even equally clear that we will not permit our partners (obviously the Russians) to require as a condition of German unity that Germany should not enter into the European community."

The conference began its second week today after a Sunday recess.

The American, British and French ministers drove through the old Brandenburg gate onto Unter den Linden and swung through the iron portals of the Soviet embassy shortly before the opening hour.

As host and as chairman for the day, Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov greeted his colleagues in the "Hall of Mirrors"—where a round table 12 feet in diameter was set up for the parley.

U. S. State Secretary Dulles was first to arrive, followed by French Foreign Minister Bidault. Foreign Secretary Eden was last. The Big Three met at the Allied Control Authority building for a brief exchange of ideas before going to the east sector.

POSE FOR PICTURES

Actual business of the conference was held up a few minutes while the Big Four posed for news photographers and television in the ornate chamber set aside for their deliberations.

The western three went east, braced to ward off a "Molotov cocktail"—a plan for a unified Germany too weak and isolated to resist Russia.

But Western diplomats talked optimistically about the conference. To them the most pleasing thing was the change of atmosphere.

NEW MEETING PLACE

The conference moved for this afternoon's session to the Allied Control Authority Building to the shiny new $5,000,000 Russian embassy on Unter den Linden, a stone's throw from the ruins of the prewar American embassy.

The massive structure has 363 rooms. It took three years to build and is believed to be the most elaborate embassy the Russians have anywhere.

As the conference went onto its second week, no evidence that the Soviets were changing their basic aims was manifested.

Just before midnight Saturday, the East Germans published their own plan for uniting Germany. Westerners were certain it was drafted in the Kremlin for Molotov to sponsor in Berlin, even though the East German announcement contained no specific Soviet endorsement.

SOME DENIED VOTE

It provided that the Communist bosses of the 18,000,000 East Germans would have as many votes in a new government as the 50,000,000 West Germans.

It would pit the solid phalanx of the one-party East regime against West Germany's democratically divided several parties. Russian guns would remain in East Germany until the new government was set up to the Reds' satisfaction.

It is a sharp contrast to British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden's plan, which contained the West's demand that free elections should be held first of all to choose a democratic German government with which the occupying powers could make peace.

The Communist demands also included the holding of Soviet-style elections only after a peace treaty is signed. Certain classes, usually described by the Reds as professional people, capitalists and landlords, would be denied the vote.

Charges Explode Airman Killed

TORONTO (CP)—Edward Curtis, 30-year-old aircraft assembler, was killed today, blown from the cockpit of a CF-100 twin-jet fighter when charges under an ejection seat exploded. Another worker was injured.

The accident occurred while Curtis and Thomas Surgonor, 38, were doing maintenance work on the plane at the A. V. Roe aircraft plant at nearby Malton.

Surgonor was taken to hospital suffering a fractured pelvis and fractured jaw. He was standing on the wing of the plane when the seat was ejected.

The two detonators, powerful enough to blow the ejection seat 50 feet into the air, are exploded by the pilot when he is forced to bail out at high speed. They were apparently touched off when the men began to remove the ejection seat.

AVRO officials said the detonators normally are removed before any work is done on the seat.

Fire Destroyed School In Ops

LINDSAY (ENS)—Fire today gutted one of Victoria county's oldest schools, Laing's school, just east of Lindsay in Ops township. The blaze, which apparently broke out around the furnace of the small brick building, had made too great headway before it was noticed, and the Lindsay fire department, working with only a tank truck and not water supply, were unable to quench it.

According to township officials, the school is almost 100 years old. At the present time 15 pupils are attending, under Mrs. Nora Menaul, the teacher. The fire left only the brick shell of the building standing. The school was renovated only last summer.

Fire Loss $14,000

OWEN SOUND (CP)—Fire loss in Owen Sound was only $14,000 despite a sharp increase in the number of alarms. The fire department answered 256 alarms in the year.

Three Women In Moscow Known Of In City

Peterborough has interesting claims on three of the young women of the Canadian embassy staff in Moscow whose pictures appeared in the Weekend magazine of the Examiner Saturday.

They are: Miss Margaret MacKenzie of Toronto, who is a daughter of the late Rev. James A. McKenzie, former minister of Knox United church.

Mrs. James Barker, whose husband is a grandson of the late Rev. James Rollins, minister years ago of St. Andrew's United church.

The third young lady of the group was, until the other day, Catherine Jamieson, sister of Mrs. Don Carr, 345 Hunter St. west. She was married last Thursday at the embassy to Lieutenant James Davidson who is attached to the British diplomatic staff in Moscow. Her family is of Almonte, Ont.

Relatives and friends of the three families recognized the young ladies in the pictures which Gerald Clark took and mailed from Moscow with his Weekend story. The third instalment of it was printed Saturday.

He mentioned that the Canadian colony numbers thirteen, including wives, suggesting that the three in whom Peterborough has a special interest comprise a fairly large percentage of their group. The staff has combined working and living quarters at the embassy, "a large rambling building that in Czarist days was the home of a sugar merchant . . ."

Man Shared Bear's Den

REXTON, N.B. (CP) — Patrick Whalen, near collapse while lost in deep woods, shared a bear's winter den until found by a search party.

Caught in a heavy snowstorm while taking a shortcut home through the woods, Whalen crawled into the den of the hibernating bear. The bear didn't notice him.

Havelock Robinson, a woodsman out with other searchers, entered the den and brought Whalen out.

Toronto To Build $8 Million Apartments

TORONTO (CP) — Final negotiations have been completed for an $8,000,000 apartment development immediately north of Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens, it was reported today.

Swiss capital is reported to support the project—three apartment blocks each 14 stories high with a total of 800 suites.

Destruction of existing buildings is to begin at once. The site is one of the older sections of downtown Toronto. It is bounded by Wood, Alexander and Church streets and a line 250 feet east of Yonge.

Montreal Trading

MONTREAL (CP) — Government issues were quiet and unchanged today in trading on Montreal bond markets.

Corporate bonds were better in some issues. Canadian Breweries and CPR fours were slightly improved. Unchanged were Dosco, Dominion Textile and BA Oil. Non-concertibles were steady.

Elk On Move

CALGARY (CP)—Nearly 100 elk are being moved from Canmore, west of here, to other sections of the province where they are scarce. The Calgary Fish and Game Association is sponsoring the project.

Hopes To Form Centre Group Coalition Party

ROME (AP) — Communists criticized U. S. ambassador Clare Boothe Luce with posters today as President Luigi Einaudi began another weary search for a premier.

The 79-year-old president first received elder statesman Enrico de Nicola at the Qurinale palace, opening consultations with political leaders on how to pull Italy out of its political crisis.

About the same time, Italian police tore down posters assailing the American envoy and accusing her of meddling in Italian politics.

Communist leader Palmiro Togliatti assailed Mrs. Luce in the Chamber of Deputies last week. A planned Communist campaign against the American representative seemed behind the developments.

There were indications that the premier-designate might once again be veteran and pro-western statesman Alcide de Gasperi. His battered Christian Democrat party today appeared once again to be aiming at a centre group coalition to solve the nation's six-month-old crisis.

There seemed no other possible solution to the rising challenge of the Communist left and the Fascist-Monarchist right which has upset three Christian Democrat cabinets in six months and plainly worried other NATO capitals.

The centre party, still Italy's biggest and in control of the government since the war, seemed likely to call its grizzled old warrior, former Premier Alcide de Gasperi, back to the helm.

President Luigi Einaudi began consultations with senior statesmen and party leaders this morning, seeking a man who could form a new government.

COALITION MAY BE SOLUTION

But it was the Christian Democrat executive committee's announcement Sunday night inviting a coalition that gave him the best chance of finding a solution.

Already the Social Democrats, the anti-Communist Socialists, have hinted broadly they would like to see de Gasperi's party try to put the old centre coalition back together. The small republican and liberal factions—the other minority groups in the pre-election foursome—also seem willing.

Boy 10, Blamed For False Alarm

COBOURG (ENS) — A ten-year-old boy Saturday night sent the fire truck out on a false alarm across the icy streets of the town. Firemen went to the address given and found no fire. Just in case it was an incorrect address they tried several streets in the neighbourhood but found no fire. Police checked on the phone call and located the source of the false alarm. It was not a case of a youngster putting in the alarm to see the truck go by as he didn't stir out of the house. Police gave him a severe lecture and a contrite lad realized that he was endangering firemen and equipment by sending them out on the slippery streets.

Fires In U.S. Cause $1,125,000 Damage

DETROIT (AP)—Fire in four Michigan communities caused an estimated $1,125,000 in damage over the week-end.

There were no deaths but at least one fireman was hurt and utilities were disrupted or threatened.

Worst was a $500,000 fire that left half the Federal Drop Forge Company plant in Lansing a charred ruin Sunday night.

Hamilton Firemen Fight Warehouse Blaze

HAMILTON (CP)—Almost every available piece of fire fighting equipment in the city was rushed to the plant of the Dominion Foundries and Steel Corporation this morning when a fire raged out of control in a storage warehouse.

For a time the blaze threatened the whole plant but after two hours firemen had the flames under control confining them to the one building. Company officials said the fire was not near any operational premises and that there would be no interruption of production.

Russia May Agree To Germany In Defence Pact

LONDON (Reuters)—Two British newspapers said today Russia may agree to German participation in the European Defence Community as one way to protect Russia against "German nationalism."

They said, however, that Russia is far less likely to agree to free all-German elections, under occupation control, as the western nations propose.

In a comment on the Berlin foreign ministers' conference, The Times said:

"According to some western representatives, Mr. Molotov may be viewing with more favor an EDC solution for western Germany in that, from the point of view of Russian security, it provides at least a brake against a resurgence of German nationalism.

FEAR NATIONALISM

"It is German nationalism which the Russians now clearly fear—and not that they will be attacked by the United States."

The News Chronicle said the west proposes, through the European army, to "make Germany one of the underwriters of an insurance policy against war."

"We know and understand the Russian fear that the Germans may one day try to make themselves masters of the world," the newspaper said.

"If a way can be found to enlist the Soviet government, in its own interests, among the company of underwriters, the future will begin to wear a wonderfully different aspect.

"The best hope is that, step by painful step, the foreign ministers in Berlin may be able to open the way to that consummation."

MP's Fire New Rifle

By DONOVAN BESS

LONDON (Reuters)—There were some sore shoulders in the British House of Commons today.

Some 20 members of Parliament trudged across a frosty army range near here this morning to fire the new FN .300-calibre Belgian rifle.

They were following the lead of that old battle veteran, Sir Winston Churchill, who a week ago fired the Atlantic pact weapon in order to gain ammunition against Socialist verbal volleys in the House.

The leaders of Clement Attlee's Labor party believe Britain should adopt the British-designed EM-2 rifle and have introduced a censure motion which "deplores" the Conservative government's decision in favor of the Belgian rifle.

TOO MUCH FLASH

Labor supporters claim the Belgian weapon gives off too much flash when fired, exposing an infantryman to the enemy.

(The Canadian government announced in Ottawa 11 days ago that it has ordered 2,000 of the Belgian rifles for tests as a standard infantry weapon.)

Civilian Spending Provides Problem For Budget Experts

By HAROLD MORRISON

A rise in the civilian portion of government spending has turned into a major problem for federal experts trying to find ways of balancing next year's budget.

Defence requirements for the 1954-55 fiscal year may be less, perhaps down as much as $100,000,000 from the 1953-54 allotment of $2,000,000,000.

But this decline, which might otherwise be passed along to the taxpayer in the form of some tax concessions, likely will be eaten up by heavier civilian commitments.

With Canada's population rising, the number of babies and old folks are increasing, causing heavier outlays for family allowances and old-age pensions.

Inflation, rooted in the Korean war, brought with it higher interest rates, boosting interest charges on Canada's public debt.

The cost of maintaining the federal-provincial tax rental agreements is increasing, causing a heavier drain on the treasury.

Pay boosts recently have been granted for Canada's fighting forces and federal civil servants. These also will require heavier outlays in 1954-55, augmented by prospective indemnity increases for cabinet ministers, members of Parliament and senators.

ADDED HEADACHES

Adding to budget-planning headaches is Premier Duplessis' proposed Quebec provincial income tax which, if implemented, will cut into federal revenues by, perhaps, $15,000,000 in the next fiscal year.

Thus, treasury officials have been urging departmental heads again and again to cut their 1954-55 money requirements as much as possible.

A few departments anticipate reductions. The defence production department, for example, is tapering off its capital assistance for defence industries. In the last budget, it asked Parliament for some $50,000,000 for this purpose. The amount it will ask in Finance Minister Abbott's 1954-55 budget will be vastly smaller.

But the experts are finding it hard to steer around the evident rise in civilian spending. And thus they anticipate another $4,500,000,000 budget for the next fiscal year, at least as large as the one for the current year, and perhaps even a little larger.

OBITUARIES

MISS ELIZABETH ANN TEEVANS

Funeral of Miss Elizabeth Ann Teevans, of Peterborough, who died in hospital in Kingston on Saturday following a prolonged illness, was held today from the Duffus funeral home to Our Lady of Mount Carmel church, Hastings.

The Rev. J. J. Garvey said requiem mass and pallbearers were Gus O'Shea, James Faux, William Armstrong, Thomas Lynch, Raymond McGuire and John Doherty. Burial was at Our Lady of Mount Carmel Cemetery, Hastings.

Miss Teevans was born in Lindsay 86 years ago, daughter of the late John Teevans and Marie Lynch. Before coming to Peterborough 20 years ago, she lived in Lakefield and Hastings. She was the last surviving member of a family of 11 children. A great church worker, Miss Teevans was active for many years, and member of the Church of the Immaculate Conception, and of its society for the propogation of the faith.

Miss Teevans leaves five nieces: Mrs. Albert Heenan and Mrs. Patrick Milloy and Mrs. William Shine, both of Downeyville, and Mrs. George Thompson, of Toronto. One nephew, John Murphy, lives in Lindsay.

HARRY FRANCIS McFADDEN

The death occurred in Oshawa Sunday of Harry Francis McFadden, 45, of Whitby, a former Peterborough resident, after a short illness.

A native of Lynn, Mass., he was the son of the late Harry Thomas McFadden and his wife, Addie E. Heddeman. He came to Peterborough from Lynn in 1910 and lived here until April, 1953, when he moved to Whitby.

He was a member of the 1931 graduating class of the University of Toronto in chemical engineering. He was an Anglican and a former member of the Oshawa LOL.

Surviving are his wife, the former Margaret Mackay; one son, Harry Thomas, of Dumbarton, Ont.; a brother, Nelson, of Peterborough, and one sister, Miss Sybil McFadden, of Upper Montclaire, N.J.

The body is at the Comstock funeral home where the funeral service will be conducted Tuesday at 2 p.m. by the Rev. M. P. Poole, of All Saints' Anglican church. Burial will be in Little Lake cemetery.

Inventor Falls To Sudden Death

NEW YORK (AP) — Maj. Edwin H. Armstrong, inventor of many of the world's basic radio patents, was killed today when he fell or jumped from his 13th floor apartment in swanky River House.

Armstrong, 63, developed the frequency modulation system of broadcasting. He also invented the superheterodyne and super-regenerative circuits which are the basis of virtually all radio receivers.

His body was found on a third-floor balcony.

Police said Armstrong left a two-page note adressed to his wife, Esther. She was reported staying with friends at Granby, Conn.

It was learned the note expressed regret over his way of death, and stated his love for his wife.

Catching Up

MELBOURNE, Australia (CP) The Victoria state legislature has passed a law making it legal for aircraft to fly over private property provided they fly at a reasonable height. Under the new act passing.

Playing With Rifle Boy Accidentally Shot

ST. THOMAS (CP) — Ronald Buttinger, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Buttinger, is in "good" condition in hospital here with a .22-calibre bullet wound in the shoulder suffered Saturday. He was playing with a friend, Bud Roach, behind a barn when the Roach boy's newly-acquired rifle discharged accidentally.

Court Awards $17,000 Damages

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — A $17,000 judgment was awarded John H. Armstrong of London, in a jury action heard in winter assizes by the Supreme Court of Ontario here, before Mr. Justice R. W. Treleaven.

Armstrong sued Gerald King of Mount Brydges for damages resulting from a two vehicle collision on No. 2 highway near London August 15, 1952.

An all-male jury found King entirely to blame for the accident, noting he was "not prudent in passing a vehicle with uncertain visibility."

Tried To Sell Lead Arrested By Police

ORILLIA (CP)—An attempt to sell 500 pounds of lead to a local scrap-metal dealer resulted in the week-end arrest of Edgar Turcotte and Sam Bissonnette of North Bay.

Provincial police who made the arrest are holding the two until they can be returned to North Bay area where the alleged theft of the lead took place.

Enjoys Retirement

SOUTH MIMMS, England (CP) Prince, a 20-year-old horse who delivered coal in Bognor Regis for years, is the newest arrival at the Ada Cole memorial stables for retired horses. Prince was saved from the slaughterhouse by a subscription campaign.

Helicopters Guide Snow Plows To Isolated English Villages

LONDON (Reuters)—Snowplows guided by helicopters today battled through drifts up to eight feet deep in southeast England to clear a way to five villages isolated by blizzards during the week-end.

Continued snow and dropping temperatures through Europe started February off with no easing of the week-old big freeze.

All 432 inhabitants of the village of Eastling have been cut off by blizzard since Saturday. Snowplows clearing roads to Eastling and four smaller hamlets were guided by helicopters which spotted deep drifts and guided the plows along the clearest routes.

The temperature in London was 23 degrees—coldest in six years. Many trains froze up. Snow still fell on the capital at noon.

The Thames froze over at Windsor for the first time in seven years. Meteorologists said there will be no let-up for at least two days.

Ironically, one of the warmest places in Europe is Iceland where the countryside is turning green. The temperature was 48 yesterday at Siglufjordbur, 20 miles from the Arctic circle.

Far to the south, about 100 Italian farmers and fishermen were left homeless when the stormswept Adriatic flooded two villages in the Po river delta.

Waves tore a 66-foot gap in a dike protecting the island of Camerini, driving villagers from their homes at Forti and Maddelena. They huddled on the dikes till fire fighters took them off in boats.

About 100 villages in the central Abruzzi mountains were still isolated by snow.

Other countries reported:

The Netherlands: Nearly all inland and coastal shipping paralyzed. No sign of a thaw.

France: Temperatures in Paris eight below zero.

Belgium: Coldest night of the winter; four below.

Germany: Two below this morning, but prospects of warmer weather from Siberia.

Switzerland: 12 below.

Moscow: Slightly warmer weather—23 below.

Claims Horses Big Help Making Surveys

EDMONTON (CP)—Horses may not be so fast, says Knox McCuster, "but at least you know you're going to get there."

McCuster has been "getting there" on horseback for more than 45 years, in which he has probably trekked through more of the great northwest than any other man, surveying and mapping land contours.

His faith in horses doesn't mean he's old-fashioned. He was one of the first to use bull-dozers instead of an ax gang to cut out boundary lines.

BOSS SURVEYOR

McCuster has been reputed able to carry out more survey work in a given time than any other boss in the trade. He knows the country, and he can stimulate interest among junior members of his team.

Last summer he surveyed 132,000 acres of "new" land in the Peace River Block between Fort St. John, B.C., and Hines Creek, Alta.

He often becomes impatient with the young men—says they are slower than they should be. The important thing is accuracy, he concedes, but speed in mathematics and moving through the bush are vital, too.

McCuster's life has been largely spent in northern Alberta and B.C., the Yukon and the Northwest Territories. He has pegged out millions of new acres in the northlands.

COOK IS KINGPIN

His gang numbers between 12 and 24 men. Most valuable of them all, from Knox's point of view, is the cook. He reckons an energetic, skilful "bullcook" is more help to expeditions than a dozen Einstein theorists.

Things have changed since Mr. McCuster first explored the backwoods in 1909.

"In those days we were isolated for four or five months at a time," he recalls. "Mail was brought into camp by pack-horse and the letters were about two months old. We spent most of our time in the bush. But nowadays we're isolated only about 50 per cent of the time."

Knox McCuster is getting on in years and admits he has "slowed up" a little. Nowadays he's happy to stay at home by the fireside during the winter months while the younger fellows brave the elements.

His home is at Fort St. John, B.C. Mrs. McCuster sees little of her husband during the summer and is glad enough to have him home through the bitter northern winter.

Recently he made a trip south to Edmonton for the annual convention of the Alberta Land Surveyors' Association. It was here he told, with reluctance, of some of his experiences.

He laughed off talk of retirement. "What would I do with myself," he asked. Another summer is coming.

Swedish Drug Sent To Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Sweden has sent the Vatican a new medicine that Swedish doctors think might help rid the Pope of the hiccups bothering him for more than a week. It was not known whether the medicine would be used.

Vatican sources reported the 77-year-old Pontiff is continuing to improve slowly. The hiccups resulting from a nervous stomach have almost, but not entirely, vanished, they said.

The Swedish legation offered an anaesthetic anti-hiccup medicine known as viscous xylocaine.

The drug is used to deaden the throat. It is not known definitely why this can cure some cases of hiccups.

Mrs. Irene Anderson

Funeral services were conducted Saturday at the Kaye funeral home by the Rev. F. G. Ongley, St. Johns' Anglican church, for Mrs. Irene Anderson. She died in her 27th year Thursday in Peterborough Civic hospital after a lengthy illness.

Pallbearers were: Bud Andrews, Walter Baldry, Russell Fair, James Plumley, Albert Brooks and William Walsh. Burial was in Little Lake cemetery.

H. O. TAYLOR, secretary-manger of the Cobourg Chamber of Commerce who will be the new registrar of deeds at the west Northumberland registry office in Cobourg, to succeed Fred Slade, who resigned last week. The official announcement will be made this week by the inspector of legal offices. Mr. Slade, who resigned because of ill health, had been registrar here for the past 17 years. Mr. Taylor is a former grocer and after selling out was appointed secretary-manager of the chamber of commerce, a post he has held for the past four years. At the federal election last year he ran as Conservative candidate and was defeated by the liberal nominee, Dr. Fred Robertson.

Lindsay Fair's Surplus $1,921

LINDSAY (ENS) — The annual meeting of the Lindsay central exhibition on Saturday heard the auditor report a surplus on operations during 1953, of $1,921. Members expressed satisfaction with the report, in the light of decreased attendance during the four day fair in September.

Past president John Kelsey, in his report, recommended that the directors consider cutting the cost of the entertainment, including "free acts" which this year cost $9,000. Later, at a meeting of fair directors, Richard Butler, of Lindsay, who has been in charge of entertainment for some years, recommended that delegates to the fairs' convention in Toronto next week make every attempt to hire non-union entertainment. "We could save $2,000 if we did," he said. "And probably get more acts for the money."

Racing director at the fair, Dr. A. F. Codlin, said they would have to consider cutting their races to two heats during 1954. "The horsemen roundly criticised us all around the circuit for holding three-heat races last year," he said. "Many of them threatened they would not come back this year."

At the election of directors, 22 of last years' board were returned along with two new members, Warren Brown and Dr. Codlin, both of Lindsay. The other directors elected were: Jos. Cayley, Ray Weldon, Jos. Murphy, John Graham, William Weldon, Ray Webster, Lery Brown, Alvin Mark, Harvey Graham, Jim Butler, Bert Wainman, Bill Weir, Stanley Read, John Imrie, Harold Beatty, Hugh Davidson, Arthur Shier, John Bent, Angus Jewell, Charles Lane, and Earl Kennedy.

At the first meeting of the new board, following the annual meeting, vice-president Jos. Cayley, was elected president with vice-presidents Ray Weldon and John Bent.

Premier Arrives London On Friday

LONDON (Reuters) — Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent of Canada will arrive here by air Friday from Ottawa on the first stage of a six-week world tour, it was announced today.

He will fly to Paris Sunday. St. Laurent will go to Bonn and Rome before leaving for visits to India, Pakistan and the Far East.

During his brief stay here, he is expected to meet Viscount Swinton, Commonwealth relations secretary, and other British ministers.

The prime minister's full program is expected to be announced in Ottawa Tuesday.

Durham County Student Oratory Winner

KEMPTVILLE — Ewart Leask, junior student from Taunton, Durham county, won the annual public speaking contest at the Kemptville Agricultural school last week in competition with students from many parts of Eastern Ontario. Leask, an experienced pilot, chose the topic, "Flying."

In second place was Victor Henry of Antigua, B.W.I., who spoke on the "British West Indies" while third spot went to Mildred Pringle, RR 4, Napanee, Lennox and Addington county, with the subject "Examinations." Other speakers who reached the finals were Leon Martin, Hannon, Wentworth county, speaking on "The Ayrshire Cow"; Monte Moorcroft, RR 3, Mados, Hastings county, with "Comics," and Joan Stewart, Lyn, Leeds county, who spoke on "The Witch of Plum Hollow."

All entrants gave impromptu talks in addition to their regular speeches. Judges for the occasion were P. W. Gardner, J. H. Short, and Mrs. Gerald Kingston, all of Kemptville.

Two Hearses Damaged In Lindsay Fire

LINDSAY (ENS)—Fire believed to have started around a small heater in the garage of the James Mackey Furniture Co., Sunday afternoon caused damage estimated in excess of $3,000.

The blaze which took firemen two hours to extinguish, burned out the interior of the large garage, causing fairly heavy damage to the building. Inside were two hearses, used in the funeral business of the firm, and both these were badly damaged. A good deal of furniture including mattresses, was also destroyed or damaged.

No close estimate of the damage is available until the owners of the firm make an inspection of the blackened warehouse. One of the brothers in charge of the business Lynden Mackey said firemen were laying the hose within three minutes of receiving the call. The fire house is 100 yards from the fire. He praised their efficient work under Chief Alex Wylie.

Among the articles lost was an old sleight hearse, a large wooden box on runners, which has been out of use for many years now.

Chinese Gunboats Detain British Boat

HONG KONG (AP)—The British freighter Hydralock, intercepted Sunday by three Nationalist Chinese gunboats off the Red China port of Amoy, was under-way again today to Shanghai. The Royal Navy said the ship was detained several hours. No cargo was confiscated.

PROP MAN—Size of the liner Queen Elizabeth's propeller is compared to a worker doing a scrubbing job on the sea queen which is getting her annual overhaul at Southampton, England. Even though the prop is only a small part of the ship, it takes a long time to clean.

Do You Need The Free Book?

When persons intending to qualify as licensed car drivers go for a 60 day permit to the Chamber of Commerce or whatever license issuing office is in their district, they are given with the permit a little booklet issued by the Motor Vehicles Branch of the Department of Highways. It is called The Motorist's Manual. Anybody else who wants a copy may also have it, free of charge. He has merely to ask for it. This is a handy little book, plain in its language, and has diagrams where these may be clearer than words.

* * *

The Motorist's Manual, in its new, revised edition, just published, has six chapters in its 59 pages. They are "Driving Regulations" (a summary of principal provisions of the Ontario Highway Traffic Act); "How To Operate Your Motor Vehicle Safely"; "If You Are Involved In An Accident"; "Keep Your Car in Safe Operating Condition"; "Driver's License Information"; and, finally, some information about the law regarding vehicles. At the end of the booklet is a set of diagrams showing rural road markings and what they mean, and the proper procedure at intersections; also a reproduction of the examination form used by driving examiners, and an index.

* * *

You, dear reader, an experienced driver who has never had an accident, may not need to put your nose even for a minute inside the booklet. But it would do you no harm, and possibly some good. Anyway, it is always interesting to find how good your knowledge and driving are by checking them against information given in the booklet. And we are willing to bet the price of the book that you cannot answer all the 24 questions on pp. 42-44 correctly, right off the bat. The price of the booklet? We remind you that it can be had for nothing, simply by asking for it at the Chamber of Commerce when you go up to get your 1954 plates.

Sixty Years Of The Queen's Quarterly

We have received number four of Volume LX of the Queen's Quarterly, in which that publication celebrates sixty years of continuous publication. This is indeed a cause for celebration in a magazine which prints nothing that is meretriciously attractive (and has indeed often managed to print whole issues which contain nothing that was attractive even in the most austerely academic sense) and makes no conciliatory move toward a large audience. The Quarterly has had its ups and downs, but having negotiated sixty years we feel that it is tough enough to manage another sixty. Indeed, it shows welcome signs of increased vitality under the editorship of Mr. Malcom Ross.

The jubilee number contains a survey of the arts in Canada which is lively reading, and several articles on aspects of this country's development and character which, without being lively, are of a sober goodness. But it is the arts survey which gives us hope for the future of the Quarterly. It is not impossible for writing on important subjects to be informed and serious and at the same time graceful and entertaining, and we hope that a move is being made in this direction. Canadian scholarship has for too long delivered its opinions in frowsty, nineteenth century forms. The Quarterly's 'new look' suggests better things to come.

Canada needs the Quarterly. There must be publications in which brief articles of permanent value may appear, and in which opinions which cannot command a mass audience may be expressed. That one such publication has arrived at the end of sixty years hale and hearty, and with a new gleam in its eye, speaks well for Canada and well for Queen's.

Censorship Proposal For New York State

Since the power of censorship boards of individual states of the United States to ban the showing of certain moving pictures has been upset by two U.S. Supreme Court verdicts in the cases of the movies The Miracle and La Ronde, state authorities have been attempting to devise an instrument that will permit them to retain some form of control over the exhibition of moving pictures. Dr. Hugh M. Flick, the director of New York State's motion picture licensing body, has made one proposal of this nature, and we predict that, if it is adopted, it will prove one of the greatest causes of headaches ever to afflict our neighbouring state.

Instead of attempting to ban moving pictures outright, as his office does, under the present system, Dr. Flick would have films classified in four categories, according to obscenity, brutality and moral content. These classifications would be as follows:

Class No. 1—For the entire family.

Class No. 2—A little less than entirely suitable.

Class No. 3—For adults only.

Class No. 4—To be shown under very restricted conditions.

There, we submit, is a set of regulations that would send exhibitors and enforcement authorities to the snake pits in droves—assuming, of course, that Dr. Flick intends that the regulations should be enforced. If he simply intends to label advertisements with the above descriptive phrases and trust to the general public to respect the classifications, we are sure he will learn that the procedure would be quite meaningless. We haven't noticed that the label "Adult Entertainment" on moving pictures shown in Ontario has made any great difference to the theatre-going public of this Province.

It would be particularly interesting, we think, to learn just what Dr. Flick would recommend with regard to imposing the second classification listed above. Does he propose to bar individuals under nine and over ninety, or saintly looking persons, or persons engaged in certain occupations, or churchgoers? Or does he intend to require theatre managers to warn prospective patrons that the show is "not quite the thing"? Whatever his intentions, we venture the opinion that enforcement of this classification would be highly amusing—for anyone not affected by it.

Nonsense About Singing

A statistician—for what reason we do not know—has announced that only two people out of every hundred have singing voices. We should like to know more about this, for we think it is pernicious nonsense and should be corrected. What does he mean by a singing voice? If he means a voice which can be used pleasantly and in tune, either by itself or in a choir, we would go so far as to say that four people out of five have such voices. And we base that not on statistics, but on personal observation and faith in humanity.

Being able to sing is a matter of inclination and opportunity. Many people do not sing because they are timid about expressing themselves. They think that singing is difficult; they think that it is something that only highly trained and gifted people can do. If they were given encouragement and some training as children, they would not grow up with such a foolish notion. It should be as natural for a child to sing as to speak. There are several school choirs in Peterborough which show how well children can sing, when they have the chance and good teaching.

There are many people who believe themselves to be tone-deaf because they cannot sing in tune. Real tone-deafness is very rare, and is usually associated with some sort of hearing injury. Singing in tune is a skill which can be acquired, and obstinate cases of singing out of tune can be put right by a patient and skillful teacher.

Virtually everybody can sing. They cannot sing like Pinza or Flagstad, but they can sing naturally and pleasingly if they are encouraged to do so. They can sing in choirs. There is in Peterborough an instructor—Mr. Quirt McKinney—who can make the most unlikely groups of people sing simple songs in four-part harmony within a quarter of an hour. There is also in Peterborough a music instructor in the schools—Miss Musa Cox—who can turn the shyest little croaker into a singer of a modest kind in a few weeks. Even with fairly simple levels gives great pleasure, and in time it can be raised to the level of art.

Much of the secret of singing consists of shaking off the initial laziness of the human body, for singing is work as well as pleasure, and demands some concentration and intelligent effort. The dreary moaning which we hear when God Save The Queen is attempted at public gatherings is the sound made by a lot of lazy people who cannot be bothered to throw their chests out and their heads back and make a joyful noise unto the Lord. But they could sing if they chose, and if a good leader took them in hand. We speak with certainty, for we have heard it done. Everybody can sing, and most people can sing pretty well.

NOTES AND COMMENT

Ottawa reports the appearance of what it calls the first robins of Spring. Sure those aren't autumn robins making a late get-away?

We are tired of hearing about the 21 U.S. and British soldiers who have decided to become Communists. Certainly there has been more hullabaloo about the 21 sheep that were lost than about the thousands who have returned safely to the fold

LONDON LETTER

Pale Pink For War Office

By KENNETH HARRIS

WHEN nearly a year ago Sir Winston Churchill started agitating for a top-level meeting with the Russians, what he had in view was a kind of personal reconnaissance of the mind of whoever was boss of the Soviet Union when the meeting came off. He thought this the best way to assure the prospects of being able to relax the chronic East-West tension.

He never had his way. The Foreign Office opposed his plan from the start. If there was a meeting, they said, it should take place on the conventional level, with the usual battalion of Foreign Office experts in the offing to see that nothing too drastic happened. Mr. Antony Eden, the Foreign Secretary, who, because of his conventional experience of overseas affairs, nearly always takes the orthodox point of view, took the Foreign Office's part in the argument about a Churchill-Malenkov-Eisenhower meeting. (President Eisenhower would not have agreed to it, anyway.)

✧ ✧ ✧

IN THE EVENT, the size of the delegation representing Britain at the Berlin talks of Foreign Ministers which began last Monday, is almost record-breaking. Mr. Eden has sponsored a mass outing of seventy officials, ranging from the High Commissioner in Germany to a third assistant typist. The Foreign Office seems to be rubbing it in hard that Ministers of State must not be allowed to form the bad habit of acting without the advice of officials.

✧ ✧ ✧

SOME of Britain's Government offices are being re-decorated — for the first time in many years, by the look of them: glancing into a room in the Treasury I could well believe the American story that the British Government used to leave the place looking shabby so that when visiting dollar-diplomats remarked on its dilapidation they could be told: "You see, we only spend money on essentials."

✧ ✧ ✧

THE interior of the War Office is being decorated in a colour scheme of light green (not very military) and pale pink (not very conservative.) This combination is not the work of soldiers, however, but of the chief architect of the Ministry of Works, Mr. Eric Bedford. Mr. Bedford, who was responsible for London's Coronation decor, is keen on redecoration. He has even produced a booklet of colour schemes to be circulated among all Government departments — with suggestions of "warm schemes" for "offices with cold aspects" and "cool schemes" for "warm aspects," and goodness knows what else besides.

As he displays catalogues of pictures and sketches of the most delightful decors, Mr. Bedford's own aspect seems slightly wistful. With money and materials as short as they are, it is going to be years before Britain's Civil Service is working in the aspect he would like. And he knows it. But it is nice to think that one of our top-ranking bureaucrats is thinking about such pleasant human problems.

EVEN with the Labour Government out and the Tory (Conservative) Government in, Britain's material resources are so slender that there is still a much greater degree of socialistic control then, for instance, the average American would think desirable. At the same time, over here I seem to come across far more examples of real private and voluntary enterprise, especially on the small scale, than I did in the United States.

✧ ✧ ✧

THIS WEEK, for instance, I met a man called Wylie, an Englishman who works in the City of London as an agent for American and Canadian importers. Two years ago he was chatting to the headmaster of his old school — a London grammar school (public school in the American sense) — and learned that the boys about to leave always lacked real first-hand knowledge about the prospects and possiblities of jobs.

Wylie started raising little panels of former pupils like himself to provide such information. Around this time of year, about forty panels, each made up of four or five old boys, or parents or friends — and including actors, botanists, dentists, accountants and cartographers — are available, every night of the week, to give the boys information. This year nearly a hundred boys are using this service.

THE RUSSIANS touring this country to buy bloodstock are being obscure about their intentions. Even the bloodstock agency arranging their tour of studs and stables finds the three Russians on this purchasing commission as close as a trainer running a real dark 'un.

Eighteen years have passed since the Russians last went out on a horse-buying mission. They came to Britain then, too, and went home having acquired a lot of stallions. Bloodstock circles recall that their purposes on that visit were equally impenetrable. Did they fancy any horses, their hosts asked, trying to guide their choice? When they fancied a horse, they posted a man to watch it for twenty-four hours with a note-book. The sport of kings is well-established in the Soviet Union. When Bernard Shaw, the writer, went there in 1931, the Russians proudly staged a special race-meeting in honour of his seventy-fifth birthday. Shaw temporarily lost the initiative and was reduced to saying that he was the only Irishman who had never been to a race meeting. He regained it, however, by ostentatiously sleeping throughout the meeting.

WHILE Queen Elizabeth is away on her trip around the Commonwealth, the servants on the Buckingham Palace payroll are finding they have time on their hands. So they are taking part-time work outside the royal precincts. I'm told that one is working at a bar near the palace — I wonder what he does when the Queen is at home — and another in the kitchen of a restaurant. Most of them are working as waiters. What would Queen Victoria have said?

AFFECTED SPEECH

Old Mrs. Miggles managed to get along in the world in spite of her educational deficiencies. One day she was called upon by a lawyer to sign an important document.

"You sign it yourself, sir, an' I'll make me mark," said Mrs. Miggles. "Since me eyes gave out I'm not able to write a wurrd."

"How do you spell it?" asked the lawyer, his pen poised above the document.

"Spell it whitever way you plaze," said Mrs. Miggles. "Since I lost me teeth there's not a wurrd I can spell."

An American Opinion: "LOOKING FOR SOMETHING?"

Letters To The Editor

KIND WORDS FROM NORWOOD FAIR

SIR: At this time on behalf of the Norwood Fair I wish to express to you our appreciation of your interest and co-operation as shown through the medium of the Examiner in the progress of the Norwood Fair.

Since reorganization in 1946 we have endeavoured to foster a fair that would do things an Agricultural Society is organized to do. To this end in 1950 we demonstrated right on the farms of East Peterborough that an average increase of at least 20 bushels per acre of higher quality oats could be attained by using the best registered seed obtainable. In 1950 we were able to prove to local farm owners that Commercial Fertilizers of the correct analysis would show a net profit up to $17 per acre over unfertilized portions adjoining. In 1952 realizing that the profit making qualities of swine produced in this area was rapidly deteriorating, the Norwood Fair brought 30 young sows and three boars of English Large White imported breeding as foundation stock. The distribution of the young stock from these matings through this locality is already showing a marked improvement in the vigor, growth and the economical production of pork in the hogs of this district. Again in 1953 to teach the boys and girls of Peterborough County valuable lessons in feeding, finishing and showing beef cattle, some 40 well-bred Hereford heifer calves were imported from Alberta in May and shown at the Norwood Faid in October. This project like those preceding has been valuable not only in the production of new wealth to the farm lands of this area but has added a new zest and interest to the improvement of agriculture generally.

We would like to point out also the dissemination of the information regarding above projects through Harry Theobald's Farm Page in The Examiner has very materially widened and emphasized the value of our Norwood Fair activities and thereby not only added interest to our organization but has also contributed very substantially to the improvement of agriculture in this community. Thanking you again, I remain,

Sincerely,
G. A. BRETHEN.

RENT CONTROL AN EVIL

SIR: There is much being said about rent control, but I would like to know what right has anyone to take my private personal property out of my control and say that I must keep a certain tenant in it and charge them so much rent whether the tenant suits me or not? Also why are the old properties under control when the new buildings can charge anything they like?

I have a house in Peterborough; five years ago I was offered $65 per month for it by a doctor. But it was under rent control at $25 per month, and the tenant has been renting the upstairs for $12 per month. Last year I had to have it shingled and some other repairs, which cost me $500, and the year before I had it painted at a cost of $171.75, that with taxes and insurance and some other repairs has cost me much more than I have had in rents in the past three years. I have two flats where the rent board froze my rents at depression rate of $15 per month. I could have rented both of these to a doctor and a dentist for at least $50 per month each. But the rent board said NO, you must keep these tenants in a home. Are we living in Canada or is it Germany or Russia?

The only thing that you can compare the treatment that we have received from both the price control and rent control boards to was Hitler's Gestapo. There may be landlords who need a ceiling on their rents. But every property-owner should have the right to give a tenant a month's notice to move if he so desires. We dropped rent control here last year and there has been no complaints since.

"A Little Bit of What You Fancy"

(London Free Press)

Hail Oscar Berceller, Toronto restaurateur, president of the Canadian Restaurant Association, who rebukes the "eat, be slim, and be healthy" fad. This, says Mine Host Berceller, is simply propaganda implying that to eat "is a crime against the nation's health." What is more, he told the association, all this repetitous publicity may frighten patrons away. Indeed the association may have to launch its own counter-propaganda.

"We must make it clear," he said, "that an undernourished body cannot meet the requirements of our modern daily life. Undereating is an equally great danger to the nation's health."

Eating habits, like all our habits, have changed considerably. In the Gay Nineties it was a crime not to eat well. Magnates, secondary figures, and even their wives were all well fleshed; many were embonpoint, as they used to say. Often they were paunchy; several of the captains of industry developed a low-set facade upon which they displayed the family watch chain, with blood stone seal pendant.

Today we pride ourselves on our military waistline, even if after a time some of us have to wear a little something in support. As for the ladies, bless them, they diet. On some it looks good.

Restaurateur Berceller blames the insurance companies, the medical profession and the "pill factories" for the current dietary habits. It may well be that in the past our fathers over-ate. The happy medium is our own preference — a little of everything you like — or in the words of Marie Lloyd's old song: "A little bit of what you fancy won't do you any harm."

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Give unto the Lord, ye kindreds of the people, give unto the Lord glory and strength. Give unto the Lord the glory due unto his name: bring an offering, and come before him: worship the lord in the beauty of holiness. (1 Chron. 16:28, 29.)

✧ ✧ ✧

The mighty God, even the Lord, hath spoken, and called the earth from the rising of the sun unto the going down thereof. Out of Zion, the perfection of beauty, God hath shined. (Ps. 50:1,2.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Thus saith the Lord of hosts; it shall yet come to pass, that there shall come people, and the inhabitants of many cities . . . Yea, many people and strong nations shall come to seek the Lord of hosts in Jerusalem, and to pray before the Lord. (Zech. 8:20, 22.)

✧ ✧ ✧

And the Lord their God shall save them in that day as the flock of his people: for they shall be as of the stones of a crown, lifted as an ensign upon his land. For how great is his goodness, and how great is his beauty! (Zech 9:16, 17.)

London's New Airport

(BBC News)

One of the terraces in the newly designed London Airport will be used specially by people who have come to see their friends off to distant places and will be called "The Waving Base." This and other details of this immense modern airport now in process of reconstruction were discussed recently by Bertram Mycock in the BBC's "Radio Newsreel." It is fifty years since the first "heavier than air" flight, and the new airport, which should be the most up-to-date in the world, will contain a memorial to Alcock and Whitten Brown who, in a Vickers' plane in 1919, were the first men to make a direct Atlantic crossing.

Air traffic to and from London grows steadily in volume each year and it is hoped that the new airport will be as easily accessible from the centre of the city as any airport can be nowadays. The airport's technical facilities will be the most advanced in the world and its handling of passengers and baggage unsurpassed. Ten parallel channels will run from front to back of the main passenger building and travellers who have just flown in to London will go along one of these, through immigration, health and customs formalities, while their baggage travels under the floor beneath them on a conveyor belt, emerging only at the one point where passengers and baggage are brought together for Customs inspection. Each of the ten channels can be instantly reversed to deal with passengers coming out from London to board their planes. This busy central area will be reached by a half mile long tunnel with dual roadway, cycle tracks and footpath, and it is along this tunnel that passengers will go to and from their aircraft. It will also be used by the great mass of sightseers who find entertainment in watching the comings and goings of a large air terminal. There will be every facility for their enjoyment, in restaurants giving a view of the airfields from every table, a large exhibition hall, a news theatre, shops, snack bars, a children's playground and nursery and roof gardens and terraces sheltered from the wind; it will be, in fact, London in miniature. The one hundred-and-twenty-feet high tower which will dominate the central area will be finished next Autumn and it is hoped that the whole scheme will be completed by January, 1956.

Notre Dame Coach Resigns Because Of Ill Health

CHICAGO (AP)—Frank Leahy, second only to Knute Rockne as a Notre Dame football coaching great, Sunday resigned as Irish head coach because of ill health.

Leahy, 45, who collapsed between halves of the Georgia Teeh game Oct. 24, said he was advised by his doctors to quit. He had two years remaining on his current 10-year contract.

The resignation of Leahy, whose Irish teams had won 87 games, lo t 11 and tied 11 since he took o er in 1941, was announced at South Bend, Ind., by Rev. Theodore Hesburgh, president of Notre Dame.

Later, Leahy talked to an Associated Press reporter at Chicago confirming his decision to "quit football entirely."

"It's a tremendous weight of my mind to get out of the game, as much as I love it," Leahy said. "I will weigh three or four business offers. But pro football definitely is out."

Leahy said he was told by his doctors another attack could be fatal. His ailment was described as pancreatitis. The seizure Oct. 24 first was described as a "stomach muscular spasm."

Pressure on the highly-successful Irish coach, who had his sixth unbeaten Irish season in 11 campaigns, was mounting with each season.

Last season's Irish finished second to Maryland in The Associated Press national poll. However, Oklahoma, which was defeated by Notre Dame, 28-20, whipped Maryland in the Orange Bowl 7-0.

Leahy was a tackle under Rockne whose Notre Dame career ended in a 1931 plane crash after he had fashioned a brilliant 105-won, 12-lost and three-tied record.

POOLS BILL DEFEATED

LONDON (CP) — Britain's football pools, a £68,000,000 business last year with anywhere from 10,000,000 to 17,000,000 customers, appear to be as far as ever from having to publish their accounts.

A private member's bill seeking to make such publication mandatory, was "talked out" Friday in a House of Commons debate so removed from party lines that a Socialist put the skids under the bill, proposed by a fellow Socialist.

The bill seeks to enforce some of the recommendations made by a royal commission on gambling. Drawing wide support in the House and from newspapers, it was held up from second reading and the indications are that it won't appear again for a while at least.

Mark Hewitson, who represents Hull, talked out the pools bill. Hewitson, who tried to get bingo struck from the list of illegal gambling games last year, objected that the bill was badly drafted and would reduce pools dividends to bettors.

As he talked the bill into the ground, some members of his party got up and angrily stalked out.

Fred Mulley, Labor member for Sheffield Park and the bill's sponsor, said the proposed legislation was an attempt to control pool betting. It would make pools publish their accounts. As private companies, they are under no obligation to do so.

COUTURE SUSPENDED

CHICAGO (AP) — Gerald (Doc) Couture, veteran right winger, was suspended by Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey League Saturday for refusing to report to Quebec Aces of the Quebec Hockey League.

Couture, 29, said the suspension resulted from an effort by the Hawks to use him in a trade with Montreal Canadiens.

Couture was tabbed for a minor league assignment by the Canadiens in the deal but had a preference for Calgary of the Western League and this caused negotiations to collapse.

Hawk president Bill Tobin then ordered Couture to report to Quebec which he refused to do. Couture broke into pro hockey in 1944-45 with Detroit.

IL OPENS APRIL 20

NEW YORK (AP)—The International League Saturday adopted a 154-game schedule for the 1954 season with Havana and Richmond, its newest entries, both playing at home in the league openers April 20. The season will end Sept. 12.

Opening day pairings are Toronto at Havana and Rochester at Richmond. April 21, Montreal will be at Syracuse and Ottawa at Buffalo.

In the northern openers, Buffalo is at Ottawa April 24. And April 29, Syracuse is at Montreal, Havana at Toronto and Richmond at Rochester.

Havana and Richmond have replaced Springfield and Baltimore.

COCKELL KEEPS TITLE

JOHANNESBURG (CP) — Don Cockell of England outpointed John Arthur of South Africa in a 15-round bout Saturday night to retain his British Empire heavyweight title. Cockell weighed 210½, Arthur 226½.

The fight was slow-moving and a disappointment to most of the 8,500 fans in Rand Stadium. The fans started clapping for action several times and cheered when the last round began, apparently welcoming the end of the dull fight.

Cockell did most of the forcing but Arthur had him in trouble several times in late rounds.

Junior Petes Down Ports To Virtually Clinch First Place In OHA League

Red Creighton's classy Junior Petes visited Port Perry Saturday night and racked up their 15th hockey victory of the season, 5-4, over the strong Flyers in a clean, lightning-fast duel. It was Petes' fifth win in seven games over their husky Oshawa rivals, their 14th win of the last 16 played, and gives them virtual final leadership in the league standing, regardless of the outcome of remaining games. Victory was hard-earned after a stiff struggle that saw the Creighton men triumph, despite the absence of Bill Twist, Kevin Heffernan, Bud McDougall and Johnny Pue. A sizzling struggle is likely Monday night, when the two teams go right back at each other at Civic Arena in the final clash of the regular season between them. Lindsay and Flyers are fighting a desperate duel for second place; hence the importance of all remaining struggles.

A FAST CLIP

Play opened at a fever clip after a delay, due to late arrival of equipment and Flyers tallied first at the quarter-mark, when Gibson combined with Till and Masters to foil Delahey, who later rose to heights, and proved a big factor in his team's triumph. It was nip-and-tuck both ways till near period's end, when determined plugging could not be denied, and, led by tireless Jimmy Morrow, with his mates following hard, Petes found reward at 18.38 on a sharp 25-footer from short right-centre when a mad scramble shot the disc back to Morrow, who whistled high into the mesh over falling forms.

Gary Kearns, the Mighty Mite, made it 2-1, a bit later, from Morrow, on one of his tricky specialties, in close. Each team sinned once in the frame.

TALLIED TWO

Continuing their great form in the mid-session, Petes scored two markers in 25 seconds, on a great series of plays led by Lawrence Ball, Kearns, Gord Coyle and star defence stalwart, Jerry Frizzelle. Ball led off with a lightning thrust on a pass-out as the visitors swarmed like flies around the distracted Howe, with Kearns and Coyle drawing assists, Frizzelle from Ball, whipped a right blueline deep into the mesh at 52 seconds.

Flyers fought back furiously with Tom O'Connor and Neil Attersley the spearheads, and hit pay-dirt a minute later, when the former blasted a 15-footer past Delahey, with Fisher also assisting on a well-executed thrust. Play roughened up during the next 10 minutes of play and when Fisher received a holding penalty, Ball followed suit shortly. Then Al Myles took the gate for boarding; Kearns and Frizzelle likewise, all within four minutes as play became intense, and tempers flared. Murray Byrne's great defence work was a standout feature throughout the game for Petes.

PENALTIES APLENTY

Bradie, Frizzelle and Dykstia drew minors, then the teams settled down once more, and O'Connor from Attersley near period's end, wound up the scoring in the period as Petes' lead was threatened.

The final frame proved a sizzler and Bob Gardner tallied the insurance marker that gave final victory when he back-handed a beautiful 20-footer from short left-wing, on a pass from Paul Doris that fooled Hawe, on the short side.

A furious session of play followed but Petes' great defensive play thwarted every opposing move, till O'Connor scored close in on a pass from Dykstra with seconds to go, to end a great game.

Port Perry: Goal, Howe; defence, Chaszewski, Dykstra; centre, Copeland; wings, Brodie, Romanuk; alts., O'Connor, Till, Fisher, Gibson, Attersley, Myles, Davis, Masters.

Petes: Goal, Delahey; defence, Frizzelle, Byrne; centre, Ball; wings, Coyle, Morrow; alts., Gardner, Doris, Murphy, Snape, Uren, Hook, Kearns.

Local Curlers Take Two 'Spiel Trophies

By HERB MARTIN

Local curlers—ladies and men—not only gave a good account of themselves during the week-end but they also brought honor to the club.

Playing in Toronto on Friday, H. Baptie and F. Stenson, by their combined efforts, skipped their rinks to win The Globe and Mail Trophy. They lost their first game in Oshawa on Thursday and then went on to wip three straight games and get the trophy.

Up in Brampton on Friday Mrs. M. McCartney's rink won all three games and took first honors and captured the Wilson Insurance Co. Trophy.

This is the first time these trophies have come this way and congratulations are in order to the members of these rinks.

RINK PERSONNEL

E. Bickell, C. Selkirk, Dr. M. McGavin, T. Saunders, F. Hollowell, H. Baptie, skip. — Globe and Mail Trophy and each a silver plated tray.

RINK PERSONNEL

Mrs. I. MacGillivary, Mrs. R. Morgan, Mrs. H. Baptie, Mrs. M. McCartney, skip.—The Wilson Insurance Co. Trophy and each a Kenwood blanket.

It will be Neill Trophy again this Wednesday evening.

BACK FROM QUEBEC

Thomas Doughty, Thomas McMillan, Harry Dulmage and William Reynolds arrived home early this morning from Quebec City. They have been down there all week playing in the International bonspiel. We'll have to interview Tommy before we can give any further details of his trip.

A number of lady curlers are leaving Wednesday noon, for the Seigniory Club, Quebec. Included in the party are: Mrs. J. Fanning, Mrs. D. Norman, Mrs. E. Riley, Mrs. J. Wocker, Mrs. H. Dulmage, Mrs. R. Miller, Mrs. A. Lamers, Mrs. A. Clark, Mrs. C. Westbrook, Mrs. C. Coons, Mrs. H. Inman, Mrs. D. Chamberlain, Miss H. Fannings, Mrs. R. Turner and Mr. M. Crough.

The winning skips on Saturday afternoon were: A. Hempstead, B. Grant, R. Williamson, K. Bissett, H. Baptie and B. Jeffries.

At night the winning rinks were skipped by R. Bastable and Dr. M. McCartney.

Bisons Increase Lead In American League

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Buffalo Bisons increased their commanding lead of the American Hockey League with two victories during the week-end.

The Bisons defeated Cleveland Barons 3-2 at home Sunday after edging Pittsburgh Hornets 2-1 Saturday, to take an eight-point lead over the Barons, who lost 4-3 to fifth-place Syracuse Warriors Saturday.

In the only other game Sunday, Syracuse scored four goals in the second period to hand Providence Reds a 5-3 setback in Providence.

Dunc Fisher's overtime goal Saturday in Hershey was the crowning touch as Hershey Bears defeated Providence 4-3.

Retain Cup

KINGSTON (CP)—A team of cadets from the Royal Military College here posted 380 of a possible 400 points Saturday to retain the Tri-Service Cup for the inter-University rifle shoot.

Another RMC team ... onto naval training division placed third with 372. Toronto also took fourth place.

Quebec, Ontario Get Lions Share Of Awards In Curling Match

By PETER BUCKLEY

QUEBEC (CP)—A mass exodus during the week-end ended an 11-day curling spree that annually sets this city on its ear.

Most of the more than 500 rock-and-broom enthusiasts had left by today for homes from the mid-west United States to Nova Scotia's Atlantic seaboard.

On the back seats of cars and on baggage racks in trains were the spoils of two of curling's biggest yearly events—the Province of Quebec curling championship and the famed Quebec international.

The first was a closed affair which ended its four-day run a week ago, nine teams contesting the provincial championship and emerging with the right to represent Quebec in the Dominion finals was the rink from the Lake St. John district city of Arvida.

Bill Tracy's crew won eight of their nine games to take the title and will meet the other provincial champions at Edmonton March 1.

WEEK-LONG CLASSIC

The second was a week-long free-for-all in the classic tradition. When the spray of ice from busy brooms had cleared, Quebec and Ontario had copped the lion's share of the 14 first-place awards in the various competitions.

Top prize, the Lieutenant-Governor's Trophy, went to a Montreal West foursome led by 62-year-old skip Earle L. Gallagher.

C.A. (Scoop) Sutherland's Kirkland Lake rink captured the next two biggest awards—the Seagram's grand aggregate, for most games won, and the "a" section's Chateau International Trophy.

Of the other trophies, six went to Quebec City, which had 40 of the 117 entries in the international 'spiel, two to Montreal, one to Ottawa, one to St. Johns, Que., and another to the Maritimes.

Besides Kirkland Lake, Ottawa West skipped by Ed Robertson was the only other Ontario winner. He took the City of Quebec International Cup.

Sarnia Rink Wins Schoolboy Curling Title

TORONTO (CP) — Bill Fraser's Sarnia rink, squeezing through the first round with a 10-9 victory over John Holliwell's Oshawa quartet, breezed to the Empire Life Trophy and the Ontario schoolboys' championship here Saturday.

Winning the title gives the Sarnia group the right to represent Ontario at the Canadian schoolboys' curling championships at Hamilton Feb. 24-26.

The first-round match was the toughest of the three played by the winning rink, comprising lead Rod Brown, second Ed Fraser, third Carl Madery and skip Bill Fraser. The winners walloped Dave Green's Orillia rink 19-1 in the semi-finals and didn't have much more trouble taking Jerry Legate's Owen Sound entry 15-5 in the finals. Green and Legate both conceded after nine ends.

Eight group winners, representing an original province-wide entry of 54 rinks, took part in the championships. The group winners were Sarnia Collegiate Institute, Kingston Collegiate and Vocational Institute, Lindsay Collegiate Institute Owen Sound Collegiate and Vocational Institute, Guelph Collegiate Institute, Orillia Collegiate Institute, Hamilton Westdale and Oshawa Collegiate and Vocational Institute.

John Laidley's Lindsay rink won the Esso Trophy, first consolation prize, by defeating Peter Mitchell's Hamilton quartet 16-3.

Ken Kay's Guelph entry took the Gore Trophy by downing Oshawa 10-7.

Green's Orillia team took the Crawford Plaque by eliminating Murry Hampton's Kingston rink 14-7.

Kingston won its first round match by defeating Lindsay 13-9. Owen Sound also survived the first round edging Guelph 12-10 and Orillia ousted Hamilton 15-7.

In the Empire Life semi-final Owen Sound downed Kingston 9-7 to advance into the final against Sarnia.

In the Esso semi-final Lindsay edged Guelph 10-9 and Hamilton took Oshawa 11-9.

Canadian Team Disappointing At Championship

PARIS (Reuters)—Toronto Lyndhursts, Canada's entry in the forthcoming world hockey championships at Stockholm, gave a disappointing performance in their first game in Europe when they were trampled 11-2 Saturday night by a team of expatriate Canadians who play pro hockey for several clubs in England.

A crowd of 15,000 fans had crowded the Palais des Sports expecting to see some top-grade hockey.

Instead they saw a display of sloppy passing and wild shooting by the Toronto senior B team.

Members of the team said they thought the pro team was good while adding that most of the Lyndhursts may have been suffering from the effects of seasickness in the ocean crossing and a party which they attended on board ship the night before they landed Thursday on the trip from Canada.

The "Europeans" took a 4-0 lead in the first period, scoring twice while Toronto players were in the penalty box. They added four more goals in the second period and then outscored the Canadian entry 3-2 in the third period. Earl Clements and Norm Gray were the Toronto scorers.

The game was the first of an 11-game exhibition series in which the Canadians will prepare for the championships beginning in Sweden Feb. 27. Lyndhursts next exhibition will be at Neuchatel, Switzerland, Feb. 2.

Crowd Disappointing At Exhibition Game

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS) — Cold weather hampered the efforts of the Campbellford Rotary club to raise money for the new Campbellford Memorial hospital on Saturday night, when only about half the expected crowd turned out to see an exhibition hockey game in the community arena between Campbellford's TVL champs and Father Flannigan's OHA Junior B St. Mike's team from Toronto.

The Rotary club had hoped to raise a sizeable sum for the hospital through gate receipts, but fewer than 500 fans witnessed the game. As a result, less than $100 went into the club's coffers.

The faster Toronto team took the game by a score of 8-4, showing the result of their daily practices. They scored most of their eight goals in the last few minutes of play. The players were both heavier and faster than the home town lads. In spite of this, the local boys put up a good show.

Following the game, the Rotary club treated both teams to a dinner at the parish hall.

Quebec Teams Clean Up On Weekend Hockey Games

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Quebec teams made a clean sweep of their interlocking games during the week-end—both on home ice and in Ontario. Ontario Hockey Association Junior A teams couldn't earn a point in the three games but the gate receipts were good.

In Montreal Sunday 14,060 fans watched the Royals of the Quebec Amateur Hockey Association junior league defeat Galt Black Hawks 5-3.

In Toronto, 10,269 fans, the largest junior hockey crowd of the season, turned out to see Montreal Canadiens defeat Toronto St. Michael's College 5-2.

In Quebec City the Frontenacs edged Toronto Marlboros, who share first place in the OHA league 4-3.

Saturday action in the Ontario loop produced two upsets. The seventh-place Hamilton Cubs defeated St. Catharines TeePees, who also have a share in first place, 6-4 in Hamilton and the last-place Guelph Biltmores downed the fifth-place Barrie Flyers in Barrie.

Royals took their victory, their first on home ice since Dec. 15, by outscoring the Hawks in the last two periods, Galt drew 14 of the 23 penalties, including a major and a misconduct.

Stan Rodeck, Eddie Eustace, John Fraser, Stan Maxwell and Sandy Morrison scored for the Royals. Frank Bettiol, Bob Wilson and Chick Chalmers tallied for the Hawks.

CYR FIRES WINNER

Ray Cyr scored two goals to lead the Frontenac victory over Marlboros. His second marker, less than five minutes from the end of the game, was the deciding goal. Clermont Doyon and Fernan Turcotte notched the others for the winners. Bob Duncan, Mike Elik and Tom McCarthy were the Marlboro snipers.

The Canadiens victory in Toronto was never in doubt. Henri Richard, with two goals and an assist, was best for Montreal. Denis Boucher followed with two goals, the other going to Claude Vinet. Paul Knox and Marc Reaume counted for the Majors.

At Hamilton Ed Louttit scored three goals for the Cubs. Val Mitchell, Marlin McAlendin and Cummy Burton tallied singles. Hank Ciesla, Bob Maxwell, Cec Hoekstra and Don McLean shared the St. Catharines total.

The loss handed the Flyers by Guelph in Barrie was the third consecutive for the home team. The lead changed hands five times during the game.

Defenceman Ron Howell scored three goals for Biltmores. Walt Para, Erwin Scott and John Gillis scored the others. Ed McQueen, Bill Hope, Jim Robertson and Bob White were the Barrie snipers.

Montreal Canadiens are at Guelph while St. Michael's go to Hamilton tonight.

Police Action Against Teams

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—The executive of the Ontario Baseball Association Sunday decided it may have to take "police action" against teams "cheating the OBA" out of its share of gate receipts from playoff games.

Nature of the suggested "police action" was not defined. One representative suggested that members of the executive attend playoff games to "keep an eye on things."

Secretary-registrar Tommy Rowden of St. Catharines reported that a number of teams have failed to send in the OBA's portion. One executive member said:

"We'll just have to take police action of some kind. Some of these teams have been cheating the OBA for years."

YM Bantams Win

YMCA boys took a 42-17 cage victory over St. Peter's on Saturday in a City Bantam League encounter. They led 12-3 in the first quarter and had built it up to a 24-7 margin at the half-way mark, play being a little tighter in the last half, though the "Y" basketeers led 9-4 in the final quarter of a lively tussle.

Sorrie led the winners with 14 points, while Ruttan clicked for nine, Cox seven, Waters six, Reid four, and Cinnamon two. For the Saints, Doris had five points to his credit, Kingdon four, Roy three, Quinlan and Cavanaugh two each. Others on the team were Nolan, Carroll, Fitzpatrick, Kennedy, Terpestra.

THREE FOR THREE—St. James' United church midget goalies, Paul Jones (left, top photo) and Paul Waldie (right) have Terry Huffman hold the three pucks with which he performed the hat-trick Saturday. Huffman paced the southerners to a 5-3 victory over Park St. Baptist. St. John's Anglican church midgets seem happy (lower left) as they lead George St. United 3-1 but sensational goal-tending by George St. church's Clark Hayman (at right) helped George St. finally win 7-4.

St. James And George St. Triumph In Church Loop

St. James defeated Park St. 5-3 in midget Church Hockey League competition Saturday at Civic Arena, as George St. won their midget melee 7-4 over St. John's. In bantam action, St. James and All Saints drew 1-1. Two peewee games were run off, St. John's downing George St. 5-1, and Knox blanking Park St. 3-0.

The first midget tilt saw Huffman score for Saints in the first, and he added one next heat, while Robinson scored for Park St. Rose clicked for two and Huffman got one more from Rose in the third, as Scarfe counted a pair for Park St., Davis helping on one. The winners drew five of the eight penalties.

D. Lustic and Trudeau, the latter for George St., tallied in the initial inning of the other midget fray. Falkner and Simpson lit the lamp for St. John's in the second, Morley aiding on one. In the third, George St. broke out in a rash to score six, Tetlock and Dinsdale getting two each, and Trudeau and Anderson one apiece, while Trudeau assisted on three and Tetlock on one. The victors drew two of the three penalties.

A TIED GAME

Weese from Scholey for St. James and Davies for All Saints in the second period were the only bantam snipers, St. James drawing three penalties and All Saints one in their tilt. Referees for the evening were E. Woodcock, W. Flint, J. Hawthorne, R. Batley and L. Williams.

In peewee play, Dalliday dented the hemp thrice for St. John's in the first period and he added one in the second, besides aiding on a Ross goal in the third for a starry effort. Milburn scored for George St. in the third heat. St. John's had three penalties. In the other game, Maxwell counted for Knox in the first, and Reid got two in the third, Scott helping on one. Knox had two of the three penalties.

Lakefield Gets A 4-2 Win From Lindsay

LINDSAY (ENS) — The Lakefield Lumbermen continued their climb in the Lakeshore League standing here Saturday night as they posted a 4-2 win over the Lindsay Muskies for their third straight victory over last year's league champs. A goal in the final minute of play with the Lindsay net empty proved to be the insurance tally, after the Lumbermen had gone in front in the third period.

Birch opened scoring for the visitors in the first, when he went in alone on a fast break and beat O'Connell cleanly. In the second, Ken Kelly of the Muskies was credited with the tying goal when his shot from behind the net went past Harding off Richlark's skate.

TOOK THE LEAD

The Lumbermen jumped into the lead in the third after playing close defensive hockey for the first half of the period, when Lindsay threatened to run away with the game; the second on a breakaway. Lindsay all-star centre Stew Hicks cut Orlie Crawford loose to put the Muskies within a goal but Coach Al Burns' strategy in taking O'Connell out of the nets in an effort to tie in the final minute of the game backfired, when Birch broke out on a pass from Hunter and hit the wide-open twine from just inside the blue line. Sabatino of the visitors retired for medical attention after a first period stick swinging duel with Davis of the Muskies, for which both received majors for attempting to injure and Richlark were best of the visitors' attackers, while Harding played a great game in goal. Hicks, Davis, Crawford, Sinclair and Kelly were best for Muskies.

DeWolfe Rolls High

In the Mercantile League last week, Stan DeWolfe rolled top three for the season with a 797 effort, including games of 292 and 276. The 7-0 wins went to Chal-Credit No.1, Cherney No. 2, Ackison Jets and Dominion over Turner's, Tent & Awning, Pet. Express, UCO and Chal Credit No. 2; the 5-3 victories were taken by Combines, Co-op and Bob & Betty over Canoe, Loblaw's and Seabrook's. A 4-3 split went to Mustangs over Austin's.

Neat triples: Midge O'Donnell (291) 795, Jim Price (288) 714, Walt Byrd (248) 700, Bud Royle (288) 687, Joe Wilkinson (291) 685, Doug Chamberlain (276) 681, Bob Martell (262) 667, John Young (248) 658, Frank Millard (302) 652, Win McCarrell (248) 637, Hazel Davis (276) 625; good singles: J. Stevenson 287, G. Watkins 275, A. Lee 271, E. Little 276, B. Manbeck 260, W. Gamsby 272, D. Bodkin 268, A. O'Neill 240, E. Hinonen 237, C. Sedore 232, D. Archibald 228, E. Byrd 225, W. Wesley 225, J. SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

Jerry Coughlin, an oldtime pro puck star from here, remarked to us the other day: "If the private bill is passed to permit building the Memorial Centre in Morrow Park, I hope the committee here is farsighted enough to erect an auditorium seating at least 5,000 people. And up to 7,000 isn't too much, as Peterborough is growing fast. This could be a great hockey city with a good arena and real good teams operating, like senior and junior "A" teams, perhaps with professional sponsorship. We must look ahead. And we should let future generations help to pay for it, borrowing what's now on long-term notes. But if we don't build it large enough, we'll be in the bush leagues of hockey forever." Yes, Kingston has a grand arena and they pack it.

Switching to the mat game for a moment, we notice where the horrible Mills brothers are slated to return to the Brock Arena this Wednesday night. Long time since they've shown their ugly mugs here, inciting several mob riots among angry fans. Popular Whipper Bill Watson makes one of his rare appearances in Peter's borough to team up with huge Hombre Montana against the two Mills in the main tag team grapple bout. When the Mills lost their team title to this pair in Toronto they smashed the trophy in anger — and now they're out to get the battered piece of pewter back. Jack Bence faces Firpo Szybsko in the semi-finals, as Johnny Harmon meets Bill Stack to start it.

Dog in the Manger?

St. Kitts' scribe writes: "One thing we can't figure is why Boston Bruins look the other way whenever Red Sullivan is mentioned for the big team. Certainly he is a better player than many now in the NHL and it seems ridiculous that he couldn't make a permanent position on Bruins. One of his Hershey mates remarked before the Buffalo game: "We just Can't figure what Red has to do to get another chance at the NHL.' If Sullivan doesn't figure in the future plans of the Bruins they most certainly should sell him to Chicago Hawks, who would jump at the chance of obtaining a playmaker of his calibre. While playing beneath his own class in the AHL, Red is losing three to four thousand dollars a year in potential salary with an NHL club." Yeah, that's the trouble in the NHL — some clubs have NHL material in the minors, but won't sell them to other major league clubs needing help.

Topping off a great dash in the keen OHA senior "B" group race, the TPT Petes edged Oshawa Truckmen 4-3 in Bowmanville on Saturday to climb into undisputed possession of first place o'er the Truckers. Despite a stiff scrap the night before here, while Oshawa were resting, the Redmond men played grand hockey to earn the duke. They're the hottest club in the circuit in recent weeks and might go all the way this season. Minus bashing Bill McMaster on defence — out with the flu — the Petes shone going both ways in a fast, rugged and smart hockey game. They trek to Belleville tomorrow and have Kingston up this way on Friday night.

Pair of Classy Clubs

While all the group games have been dandies lately, we prefer an Oshawa-Petes' battle to any. Outstanding precision and positional hockey marks their meeting, real fast encounters with plenty of brainy passing plays shown, and not too many penalties to mar the action. The B-P-P line starred for the victors on Saturday, that hustling trio of Rod Belisle, Doc Prentice and Denny Peterson being trigger men for three goals, Roy Armstrong firing the other one from Ted Collins. Both Colvin and Donlevy were tops between the pipes at opposite rink ends. Oshawa timer nearly got his side a goal as the first frame finished but the clock showed 20 minutes were up and the gong still hadn't sounded. Petes were a happy bunch at the finish.

A 5-4 win for the Junior Petes in Port Perry on Saturday night practically clinched first spot in their keen OHA junior "B" race. They have 15 wins now against five reverses and are sure of a playoff place, though Oshawa squad (from Port Perry) have an outside chance yet of catching them, and these clubs clash here tonight. Ought to be a redhot number as they're well-matched teams. Ports have nine wins and a tie so far, while Lindsay had nine wins up to Saturday but had played two more games than Port Perry. Latter and Lindsay are fighting it out fiercely for that other ters. A real classy young puck team, and they rate lots of fan support.

Royals Beat Saints 4-1 In Quebec Hockey

Montreal Royals continued their front-running pace in the Quebec Hockey League Sunday, defeating Sherbrooke Saints 4-1. The victory kept the Royals tied for first place with Chicoutimi Sagueneens who won a 6-1 victory over Ottawa Senators Sunday.

The third-place Saints suffered a 3-2 defeat in Ottawa Saturday in a game that moved the Senators within one point of the Sherbrooke team.

Four goals by Larry Regan Sunday gave Quebec Aces a 9-5 victory over Valleyfield Braves.

Petes Capture Leadership Of Senior "B" Group By Defeating Truckers 4-3

OSHAWA (Special)—Climaxing a brilliant drive that has vaulted them from fourth place, where they were mired shortly before Christmas, Peterborough TPT Petes took over sole possession of the top rung in the OHA senior "B" group race on Saturday night when they took a well-earned 4-3 decision over the season-long league-leading Oshawa Truckmen, before one of the biggest crowds to attend at Bowmanville arena this winter.

A following of almost 100 Liftlock City fans cheered lustily as their favorites opened the game's scoring, took the lead the second time and finally the third time, to make it stick six minutes before full time.

THREE IN ROW

It was the third straight loss in eight days for the Truckmen who, except for a six-day period in December when Kingston Goodyears perched on top for a brief stay, have held the league leadership ever since the schedule opened. It was the third win of the week for the hungry Petes, completing a drive that has seen them bowl over all opposition in their march to the top of the heap.

Petes earned their win, too. They had more will to win than the Truckmen. They were puck-hungry, pounced on every loose puck and fought grimly for possession at every turn. They outskated and out-hustled the Oshawa forces all down the line. They were more diligent with their back-checking, determined on the attack and were aided by a fine goaltending chore by Jack Donlevy.

Pete's third line stole the show. Midway through the first period Doc Prentice struck for the opening goal following a brilliant combination attack with his line mates, Ron Belisle and Denny Peterson, and 15 seconds later, right from the face-off Peterson made it 2-0 with help from Prentice.

GOT ONE BACK

Spurred to bettter effort, Oshawa got one of these back in much less than two minutes, Frank Hooper scoring on a three-way rush with George Samolenko and Gerry Scott.

The middle canto produced the best and closest action of the night, with Ernie Dickens topping off his fine night's performance with a pretty solo goal, the result of his own sheer determination and skill. It was the only goal of the period.

Army Armstrong broke the 2-2 deadlock, early in the third frame when he beat Les Colvin after taking a pass from Ted Collins.

Both teams had the throttle wide open at this stage and the fans were in a frenzy at the furious action. It was getting late in the game when Jed Wilson beat Donlevy with a scorching screened shot, after taking a pass from Bill Berwick, to make the score 3-3.

Oshawa's joy was shortlived, just 20 seconds to be exact and Peterson racked up his second goal of the night and the game's deciding tally when he took a pass from Belisle, waltzed past Samanski, around Sinden and beat Colvin with a not so hard shot that just caught the bottom of the net, barely inside the post.

COULDN'T TIE IT

The Truckmen, or at least most of them, gave it everything they had left for the last few minutes but even the advantage of a penalty to Ted Collins didn't help the Oshawans get the equalizer this time.

In all there was an even dozen penalties meted out and the teams shared them equally. The game was well and strictly handled and none of the seven goals was scored with a man in the penalty box. It wasn't penalties that decided this one, it was superior skating, more will to win and the fact that the Petes had everybody in high gear all the way while a few of the Truckmen were lacking in speed, intent and willingness to face the heavy going.

Peterborough: goal, Donlevy; defence, Munroe and Montgomery; centre, Hill; wings, Crowley and Collins; alts.: Leonard, Fryia, Greenlaw, Belisle, Prentice, Peterson, Redmond and Armstrong.

Oshawa: goal, Colvin; defence, McBeth and Sinden; centre, Scott; wings, Samolenko and Hooper; alts.: Thaler, Etcher, Wilson, Berwick, Dafoe, Yourth, Peters and Dickens.

Referees: Ken Holmshaw of Toronto and Jim Crombie of Bowmanville.

Regents Record Second Win Over Broadview Y 63-38

A short-handed YMCA Regents quintet easily romped to a 63-38 victory Saturday in Toronto over an inferior YMCA quintet from Broadview YMCA. This was the second straight victory over Broadview YMCA for the Regents; a week ago at St. Peter's High gym the Regents, paced by Dan Griffen won handily 80-33. Saturday's victory keeps the Regents' exhibition win streak intact, only losing their first game two months ago to New York Black Barons, a professional touring team.

Griffen gave a repeat performance for the Regents at Broadview Y. The former PCVS Garnet and Grey star paced the Regents throughout the game, scoring 18 points in the first, second and fourth quarters.

Another former collegiate star, Don Ash, ran Griffen a close second for the game's scoring honors. With driving in layups and short set shots Ash collected 14 points. Lanky Ed Nicholls, who's making a comeback this season with the Regents, scored at east in the first half for a 10-point game total.

Gord Burns also gave Broadview YMCA a lesson in showing foul shots. Noted through city contests at shooting foul shots, the Regent guard scored on seven out of a possible 10 Saturday, throwing in a field basket for his total of nine.

Burns, Nicholls, Griffen and Ash practically decided the game in the first quarter when the Regents ran up a 16-5 lead. With Burns' foul shots, Griffen's sets and layups the Regents again overpowered the Y quintet in the second quarter, taking a 36-11 half-time score.

The Regents eased up in the third as Broadview rallied. J. Gibson, Johnston and H. Gibson led the rally as the Toronto quintet enjoyed their best quarter. Even then they just edged the Regents 13-11 on the quarter.

But in the fourth the Regents again went on a scoring spree. Griffen, Ash and Ted Payne dropped in points as they easily took the victory.

This week the Regents have two exhibition games. On Thursday night they'll meet the Trenton RCAF intermediate team in Trenton. Then Saturday the Regents will play Oshawa at St. Peter's High gym.

E. Butcher Leads

E. Butcher rolled high three of well as a 269 single, last week in the Lucky Strike Bowling League for girls. Gibbons blanked Graham's, a 3-1 win went to Miles, Reed, Butcher and Callaghan over McBride, Knights, Parsons and Dunfield in that order.

Good triples: J. Steen 647, B. McBride 619, M. Knights 606, H. Starr 604; better singles: V. Henderson 272, J. Steen 260 and 251, B. McBride 258 and 209, J. Sedgewick 234, M. Knights 232 and 221, G. Gibbons 229 and 215, H. Starr 224, H. Heath 221, A. Reed 220, I. Penrose 211, B. Hardill 211, M. Pearson 207, M. Hollowell 205 and I. Miles 201.

Seeded Players Succeed At Badminton

STRATFORD (CP)— Woodstock and Hamilton players won four of the five divisions of the western Ontario badminton championships Sunday as seeded player swept every bracket in the week-end tournament.

In the men's singles Bill Parkes of Woodstock, a former champion, defeated Ted Barber of Windsor, formerly of Stratford, 10-15, 15-12, 15-8.

Aveleigh Hepworth of Woodstock defeated Audrey Rhodes of Stratford 11-9, 11-1 to retain her ladies singles title.

The powerful team of Bunny Brewster of Woodstock and George Thorpe of Hamilton won the men's doubles championship in straight games 15-10, 15-6 over Bill Parkes and Howie Ransom of Woodstock. Brewster and Thorpe won the same title in 1953.

Marg Raymong and M. Cunningham of Kitchener took the ladies' doubles crown with a 15-1, 3-15, 15-12 win over Miss Hepworth and Helen Wake of Stratford.

Dorothy O'Loughlin of Hamilton and George Thorpe also went three games to take the mixed doubles championship from Muriel Steely of Hamilton and Brewster 15-8, 10-15, 15-12.

Red Wings Leading By 8 Points NHL Championship

By AL. COLLETTI

The victim having been thrown to the lions, there was little to pick off the bones today. Detroit's Red Wings, in a great stretch drive to nail down their sixth straight National Hockey League championship, showed up the down-trodden Chicago Black Hawks in a home-and-home weekend series 4-2 and 5-1. Chicago now has lost 13 of its last 14 games. Detroit added four points to boost their league leadership to eight over the runner-up Canadiens, who bowed to the Rangers 2-1 on Forum ice Saturday night.

Toronto Maple Leafs split a week-end series with Boston Bruins winning at home Saturday night 4-2 but bowing to Sugar Jim Henry's sterling effort 2-0 in Boston Sunday night. This left the Maple Leafs just a point behind Montreal while fourth-place Boston, in a battle for the final playoff spot, stayed three points ahead of the rangers.

LINESMEN STRUCK

It didn't take long for the Red Wings to settle their second encounter against the Black Hawks at Chicago stadium Sunday night. Tony Leswick and rookie Earl Reibel put Detroit ahead 2-1 in the first period and the Red Wings added three more goals in the third period as Reibel got his second of the night and Alex Delvecchio and Glen Skov completed the rout. Lou Jankowski scored the Chicago goal.

A fight broke out between Leswick and defenceman Larry Zeidel of the Black Hawks. Two linesmen, George Hayes and Harold (Mush) March, were struck by the irate Zeidel as they attempted to restrain him. Zeidel broke away twice, finally getting at Leswick to drop him with a right before the players could restore order. Leswick and Zeidel were given major penalties.

In Detroit Saturday night a near-sellout crowd of 13,692 watched the Red Wings pile up a 3-0 margin going into the third period on goals by Ted Lindsay, Delvecchio and Marcel Pronovost.

The Black Hawks managed to click twice in the final session, Bill Mosienko and Pete Conacher scoring with Larry Wilson assisting both times. Chicago pulled out goalie Al Rollins in a final attempt to tie the score but Glen Skov snuffed the rally by sliding the puck into the empty net.

FIRST SINCE APRIL

At Montreal, Dean Prentice and Paul Ronty got the Ranger goals in the first six minutes of the second session and Floyd Curry scored the Montreal tally at 13:04.

It was New York's first victory in Montreal since April, 1950 in a playoff game and their first in regular season play since February of the same year.

At Boston Sunday night third-period goals by Johnny Peirson and Capt. Milt Schmidt gave the Bruins their shutout win over the Leafs before 9,815 fans.

Harry Watson, Eric Nesterenko, Ron Stewart and Rudy Migay gave Toronto their victory at home Saturday night. Migay's tally came in the final second of play on an empty net after Boston coach Lynn Patrick removed Henry during the final 45 seconds. Dave Creighton and Doug Mohns counted for the Bruins.

The crowd at home was 12,715.

Rideaus Fold, Lack Of Support

SMITHS FALLS (CP)— Smiths Falls Rideaus have become the second team in the New York-Ontario Hockey League to fold from lack of fan support.

D. C. Smith, chairman of the Smiths Falls parks board which operates the local arena, announced the team was through Saturday night at the end of its game with Gananoque G-Man. The Rideaus, who were tied for first place in the senior B loop with Brockville Magedomas, won their last game 8-6.

The reason given for the Rideaus' failure was poor attendance with a resultant deficit in team finances. Average attendance at the last 18 home games was 500 fans.

Inkerman rockets were the first team to leave the league, for the same reason. They announced they were quitting last November.

The league now consists of Brockville, Gananoque, Cornwall and Clinton, N.Y.

Purple Raiders Win From Mustangs 84-45

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Assumption College Purple Raiders tied University of Western Ontario Mustangs for first place in the Senior Intercollegiate Basketball League Saturday night by scoring an 87-45 victory over McGill University Redmen of Montreal.

The loss dropped McGill into a three-way tie for fourth place with Queen's Golden Gaels and McMaster Marauders. Toronto holds down the third spot.

Ontario Man Second In Trophy Race

Lueckenhoff of Detroit won the free-for-all race at the Orange Cup regatta Sunday and with it the Orange Cup Trophy for top inboard driver.

Art Hatch of Hannon, Ont., was second. No time was recorded, because the race was run five laps around the 1 2-3-mile course instead of the usual three laps.

Beat Hamilton 87-50

HAMILTON (CP)—Toronto Tri-Bells Saturday night beat Hamilton Mountaineers 87-50 to clinch a playoff spot in the International Triple A Basketball League.

Saturday night Tonowanda Eldredges defeated Brantford Stags 103-73 at Brantford.

Toronto Skiers Win

NORTH BAY (CP)— The five-man Toronto Ski Club safety patrol team won the Ontario ski patrol championship here Saturday.

Last year's champions, the Laurentian Ski Club of North Bay, came second.

Dutchmen In Sole Possession Of Top Place After Winning Run

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The two top teams in the Ontario Hockey Association Senior A series are pulling away from the pack.

And Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen, never ones to turn down an opportunity, are back in sole possession of first place after playing see-saw with Owen Sound Mercurys.

The Dutchmen took advantage of the idle Mercurys during the weekend for a four-point lead on Owen Sound and a 14-point margin on the third-place Windsor Bulldogs.

Kitchener collected four points by defeating Hamilton Tigers 3-2 in Kitchener Saturday and downing the Bulldogs 5-3 in Windsor Sunday.

Bulldogs didn't help themselves by losing 4-1 to the Indians in Stratford Saturday.

Saturday's other game had the last-place Cataracts holding the sixth-place Chatham Maroons to a 4-4 overtime tie in Niagara Falls.

In the Northern Ontario Hockey Association Saturday North Bay Trappers took a 5-3 home-ice decision from Pembroke Lumber Kings and Sault Ste. Marie (Ont.) Greyhounds defeated Sault Ste. Marie (Mich.) Indians 9-3 in Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.

Sunday the Indians took an 8-2 victory over the Greyhounds in the Sault, Mich.

LAUFMAN WINS GAME

Ken Laufman's goal six minutes before the end of the game in Kitchener gave the Dutchmen their first victory of the week-end. The win was Kitchener's fourth in five days.

Joe Schertzl and Howie Lee counted the other Kitchener goals. Bill Hammond and Bud Kemp tallied for the Tigers.

At Stratford, Bob Mader, Mickey Roth, Herv Dejordy and George Aitken were the Indian snipers. Gord Haidy tallied for Windsor 27 seconds after the opening face-off.

Chatham netminder Hank Bassen kicking out 44 shots, held the Maroons together long enough for their 4-4 draw with the Cataracts in Niagara Falls.

Don Savage scored two goals for the Maroons with Bill Lee and Jim Campbell notching the others. Bill Kodatsky, Ed Plata, Sandy Air and Red Olsen shared the Niagara Falls total.

Ken Laufman and Joe Schertzl, who each fired single goals for Kitchener Saturday, repeated against Windsor Sunday. Art Hurst, Gerry Theberge and Jack McKenzie also scored one each. Earl Keyes, Gord Haidy and Lyle Wiseman got the Windsor goals.

Chatham plays at Hamilton during tonight's only OHA game. North Bay meets the Wolves in a NOHA contest at Sudbury.

Yesterday's Stars

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Earl Reibel, Detroit, whose two goals Sunday paced the Red Wings to a 5-1 victory over Chicago Black Hawks.

Sugar Jim Henry, Boston, who chalked up his fourth shutout of the season ajding the Bruins to blank Toronto Maple Leafs 2-0.

Johnny Peirson, Boston, who netted his 18th goal of the season, scoring the winning goal against the Maple Leafs.

Paul Ronty, New York, who scored the winning goal Saturday to defeat Montreal Canadiens 2-1.

Gable To End Contract At MGM Studio

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The king is back at MGM, but not for long. Clark Gable announced today he will end his 23-year contract with the studio March 3.

That date will mark the end of his studio pact, probably the longest star contract in Hollywood history. There had been talk that he might sign on for another term as MGM has been urging him, but Gable put an end to such speculation.

"As of March 3, I'm a free man," he told me. "Twenty-three years at one studio is long enough for any man."

Gable, who is 53 today, appears to have changed little — a trifle greyer at the temples, perhaps, but as crisp and dynamic as ever.

"I have no plans," he said. "I suppose there have been pictures offered to me, but I will not discuss them as long as I am under contract to the studio."

What about the report that he almost got married off to a French model?

"Oh, the newspaper boys had fun with that one," he said, laughing, "but I was too smart to get involved in something like that."

Any current romances?

"I have no plans."

Clark seems to like it that way. He will soon be the master of his own fate for the first time in 23 years. Thus will end a highly successful association. Rejected by Warner Bros. because "his ears were too big," he was signed by MGM in 1931. He skyrocketed to fame as a rugged and romantic star.

After he returned from his wartime service in the air force, he was dissatisfied with the way his career was handled. Most of his films failed to have the impact of his pre-war hits. His straight salary was heavily taxed, and MGM doesn't approve of percentage deals. It is probable that his future picture contracts will include a share of the profits.

Medical Forums To Be Held

TORONTO (CP) — The Ontario Medical Association Saturday announced a series of four public medical forums in the next three months at the University of Toronto, starting Feb. 17.

Dr. L. V. Lang of Kitchener, chairman of the OMA's public relations committee, said doctors participating will be recognized authorities in their fields.

The forums, sponsored jointly by the OMA and the Toronto Telegram will consist of a short address in every-day language summarizing medical knowledge of the subject followed by a one-hour panel discussion by four doctors answering written questions submitted in advance.

Want Safeguard Against Pollution

ST. PAUL, Minn. (CP) — The Minnesota water pollution control commission said Saturday it had received reports of large new iron mining projects in northwestern Ontario, northeast of Rainy lake.

The reports prompted a resolution calling for safeguards against pollution of lakes such as occurred from the Steep Rock mine in Ontario in 1951.

The commission at a meeting Friday requested Governor C. Elmer Anderson to urge the state department to confer with the Canadian government in regard to the matter. The commission did not pinpoint the new project.

Cut Scrap Metal Prices

TORONTO (CP)—The Canadian Secondary Metals Association said steel mills at Hamilton will cut scrap metal prices today for the fourth time in two months. The association said in a statement the drop is another $3, which brings the price to $26 a gross ton for No. 1 heavy melting scrap delivered at the mill and to $23 for No.

Cut By Beer Glass

TORONTO (CP) — Thirty-two stitches were needed to close wounds police said were caused by a broken beer glass that was rammed into the face of Robert Hipkiss during an argument Saturday night between Hipkiss and three other men in a west-end tavern. Police charged Allan Mitchell, 21, with wounding.

Police Want Stop Club Being Formed

KITCHENER (CP)—The Kitchener police commission decided Saturday to request the provincial secretary to amend the charter of the Port Colborne Social Club so the club cannot establish a branch here.

Police Chief John Patrick said Kitchener now has two social clubs and "that is two too many."

The club made known its intention earlier this year of establishing a branch here. The commission asked it to defer operations until it's status was clear. Provincial authorities reported the club's charter in order and that it is not restricted in the establishment of branches.

Wants University Grants Extend Over Period Of Time

TORONTO (CP) — Dr. Sidney Smith, president of the University of Toronto, suggested Sunday that provincial grants to universities extend over a number of years. At present, they are annual.

"To depend on fluctuating annual grants is to be in a state of chronic uncertainty," Dr. Smith said in his annual report. He said British university grants are on a five-year basis.

Dr. Smith said the increased post-war birth rate, which probably will almost double the number of 18-year-olds in Ontario before 1970, makes it advisable to consider provision of institutions other than universities for the training of students beyond grade 13, as is done in Britain.

Referring to suggestions he has made previously that technological institutes and junior colleges should be established, he said the problem should be considered "before the crisis of numbers is upon us," so that there might be a wise solution rather than a makeshift one.

"A university degree is not a prerequisite of useful citizenship. It is a waste of everyone's time to try to educate the incompetent."

During 1952-53 11,750 students were enrolled in regular courses at the university, compared with 12,021 the previous year, Dr. Smith said.

ACADEMIC FREEDOM

In an apparent reference to the current campaign of investigation of United States universities for supposed Communist sympathizers, Dr. Smith said academic freedom, the assurance that in universities truth may be relentlessly pursued by teachers and students, "must be maintained against political demagogues and exactors of 'loyalty oaths,' which to the honest are insulting and with the dishonest are ineffectual."

He said academic freedom is not a legal code but an environment favorable to unfettered intellectual activity.

"Out of an active career of over three decades in Canadian universities who share the heritage of academic freedom, I profess my faith in the good sense and the wisdom of members of the staffs of Canadian universities who share the heritage of academic freedom and in their capacity to discipline themselves and their colleagues in the exercise thereof."

Dr. Smith called for more support by Canadian benefactors to the humanities and social sciences. He said efforts still are being made to obtain more equitable treatment for graduates of the university's school of law, as compared with Osgoode Hall students. He suggested setting up a new course in drama at the university, possibly leading to a diploma.

Higher Gold Profits Reported For 1953

TORONTO (CP) — Teck-Hughes Gold Mines Ltd. and its subsidiary, Lamaque Gold Mines Ltd., report higher profits and maintained ore reserves for 1953, D. L. H. Forbes, president of both companies, said improved earnings reflect benefits received under the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act.

Teck-Hughes estimated net profit was $846,173, equal to 17.6 cents a share. Net profit in 1952 was $756,974 or 15.7 cents a share.

Lamaque mines showed 1953 net profit of $1,008,321, or 33.6 cents a share, against $713,627, or 23.8 cents a share in 1952.

$685 Average at Sale

TRAFALGAR (CP) — Sales totalled $31,510 at the annual Toronto shorthorn cattle sale held here Saturday. All 48 head sold with 21 going to United States buyers. Average price was $685.

U.S. Lawyer Found Dead

NEW YORK (AP) — Lawyer Emanuel H. Bloch, who led the long, bitter and futile defence of atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, was found dead Saturday in his Manhattan apartment.

An autopsy fixed a heart attack as the cause of death. A friend discovered the body after Bloch had spent the night alone.

At the time of his death, the after effects of his biggest case had left the threat of disbarment pending against the 52-year-old lawyer.

Proceedings had been brought by the New York State Bar Association for his denouncement of President Eisenhower and other government officials who refused to stay the executions of the Rosenbergs last June 19.

Bloch, who often in his career found himself pleading cases involving civil rights and occasionally defended so-called "left-wingers," represented the Rosenbergs throughout the litigation that preceded their deaths.

Youths Rescued From Ice Floe

CORNWALL (CP) — Six youths stranded on an ice floe in the St Lawrence river were rescued Saturday by the combined efforts of firemen, police and hydro workers using an outboard motorboat.

Rescued were John McCarroll 14, Ronald Proulx, 15, Ronald Carson and Robert Earl, both 16, Robert McDonald, 17, and Ray McCormick, 18.

McCarroll said they were taking a stroll on the ice-packed river when they noticed the ice between them and the shore had disappeared.

VOL. CVII. No. 26 — MONDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1954 — PRICE FIVE CENTS

Main Street Topics

CUSTOMS UP

Customs receipts for goods imported through Peterborough in January were $956,513.87. For the same month last year the figures were $680,034.18.

TWO CHIMNEY FIRES

Firemen put out two chimney fires on Saturday. One was at 5.08 p.m. at the Quinlan's home, 307 Bethune St. The other was at Clayton Geeza's home, 14A Mill St. A handpump was used at both fires.

FRACTURES LEG

Adam Harris, 38, of 1081 High street fractured his left leg Saturday night during a fall on Frank St. He was taken to St. Joseph's hospital by Nisbett ambulance for treatment. His condition today was described as fair.

WINTER HALF OVER?

A huge bite that appears to have consumed about half has been taken out of the miniature mountain of sand piled up by the department of highways at the junction of Highways 28 and 7A at the south west limits of the city. Could it mean that the winter is only half gone?

CGE PAPER-MACHINES

The CGE is keeping pace with Canada's rapidly expanding pulp and paper industry. Recently they have taken orders for five multiple generator sectional paper machine drives, and are also supplying expanding plants with electronic equipment. The drives will have a total of 5,740 hp and will feature "speed control" units, important for obtaining good quality paper and maximum production.

BACK AT WORK

Struck by a car this morning at Brock and Water Sts., Raymond Bennett, 58-year-old postman, was able to return to work after a checkup by Dr. Bob Young. Bennett was crossing the street when hit by a car driven by Patrick Dupuis, 36, of R.R. 4, Peterborough. Dupuis' view of the intersection was obscured by a turning vehicle, and no charges will be laid.

FIRE IN COAL BIN

What might have been a serious fire was averted Sunday noon at Keith Brown's service station, Romaine and George Sts. Mr. Brown went into the basement on a routine check and found a smouldering fire in the coal bin. He extinguished it with a garden hose and later called the fire department. Burning coals from a nearby jacket heater are believed to have been blown into the bin, causing the outbreak. There was little damage.

ACCIDENT IN SNOWSTORM

Bad visibility and the other hazards of driving during a snowstorm contributed to a minor accident Saturday noon on Highway 7, a mile east of Fowler's Corners. A westbound car, driven by Gordon M. Boyd, 33, of RR 4, Lindsay, came into collision with a car driven by Dr. George N. Earle of Omemee. Dr. Earle's car shot across the highway from where it had been struck in a snowbank and the two vehicles were in collision causing $75 damage. OPP Constable Harold Armstrong investigated.

Quebec Men Prospect At Eagle Lake

Scour Anstruther In Wake Of Air Survey

Eight prospectors from Northwestern Quebec are said to be currently combing the Eagle Lake country in mid-Anruther township. They have been boarding in a Lakefield hotel for the past week.

These men are following the feverish search for uranium deposits that was sparked by the quiet Newkirk Mining Corporation aerial survey and extensive staking program a few miles north-east of Paudash lake in the vicinity of Bow lake on Highway 28 during Christmas week.

The Newkirk acquisition of 350 claims in that area, 27 claims in Cavendish township and 5,000 acres being leased in Galway township has attracted field men from various major mining companies.

Conwest Exploration Company is the largest of this group which has staked interesting ground; Iso Uranium and Orchan Uranium combined to stake a large group of claims on a 50-50 basis in the general area of interest.

Bonville Gold Mines and El Sol Gold Mines, both believed to be subsidiaries of Newkirk, have staked 544 acres and a second large block of ground, respectively.

The Newkirk aerial survey, which originally covered 1,000 square miles south-west of Bancroft, indicated many interesting anomaly patterns which, after surface checking by geiger counters, enabled their field men to stake what they decided were the most favourable ground.

Since the latest geological maps of that district had never plotted the new finds by older surface survey methods, the use of airborne and surface technical equipment is now revealing the mineral wealth of North Hastings and Peterborough counties.

Mayor Explains Stand On Issues To Union Men

Mayor Norman Graham chose a union meeting Saturday night for some political fence mending.

In fact, Alderman William Beggs, who was doubling as a UPWA field representative and chairman of the dinner meeting, had this comment: "By coming to a banquet I find out more than I hear in city council."

Here is the gist of a number of comments by Mayor Graham:

1. Defending his support of one firm — the application of Kawartha Broadcasting Ltd.—for a television station in Peterborough:

("They are in good shape and a television station will cost a lot of money, about $600,000 . . . We have a fair chance of getting a TV station in Peterborough. There will be no aerials required except on the individual sets . . . Should I be criticized for cutting down on antennas and the difficulties of reception?")

("You know the Examiner handed me no bouquets at election time. However, as mayor, I can't keep chips on my shoulder . . . It was the Kawartha broadcasting Co. that I favored.")

2. The Memorial Centre committee is being reformed.

("I'll work hard for you people and I have worked hard. There is about $40,000 toward the project that will be granted from some industries.")

3. Lower rents.

("I stated I was against rent control but I found it would cost $70,000 to $80,000 to carry it through. The city can't afford that much money.")

4. Better conditions for the old people.

("I feel the old people are not getting a break. Where will they go I'm endeavoring for a certain piece of city property . . .")

5. Sending fire trucks out of city.

("When the fire reels went out into the township do you think I was right or wrong?")

(Loud applause from the labor audience.)

The mayor joshed Alderman Beggs about his stand on the fire protection controversy and it was then that Alderman Beggs announced that he was finding more about civic affairs at the banquet than he did in council.

Retailers Refuse Reconsider Petition For Monday Closing

Grocers, butchers, fruit and vegetable dealers have flatly refused to reconsider their stand for closing all day Monday. At a special meeting held in Chamber of Commerce chambers today, other merchants submitted alternative plans for having all stores close all day Wednesday, but the grocers' decision is final. Last week, in an effort to effect some sort of compromise, Chamber of Commerce manager James H. Fraser sent out questionnaires to other retailers asking their views on the Monday closing issue. Results showed 62 favored all day Wednesday closing, 26 votes said Monday if the grocers remained adamant and 50 were for keeping things as they are (Wednesday afternoons off) whatever the grocers may do.

Of 180 questionnaires sent out, 140 were returned, some with a little prompting from the chamber of commerce. A percentage tally of votes cast is impossible, however, since the questionnaire listed three questions each leading into the next. Thus many merchants registered first, second and third choices.

More than 60 per cent of the retailers answered affirmatively to the question: "In order to bring about city-wide uniformity I am (am not) willing to close all day Wednesday, provided grocers, butchers and fruit merchants follow suit.

WILL AGREE

Twenty-six retailers said they were willing, in the interests of uniformity, to close Mondays if the food merchants could not be persuaded to close Wednesdays. There were 50 votes suggesting maintenance of the status quo among non-food retailers whatever the grocers may do.

Representative ballots numbering 101 were taken by the chamber of commerce. There were a total of 138 votes on these ballots, this showing considerable overlapping in choices. No retail classification came out four-square for Wednesday closing although many indicated that this was their first choice.

Six stores in various classifications attached a rider to their ballots suggesting that they might be willing to accept Monday or Wednesday closing if they were allowed to remain open Friday nights. But since no classification speaks with a single voice on this issue, it cannot yet be officially raised. Last week Fred Correll of Correll's Ladies' Wear said that his group favored Friday openings, but few of the 17 ladies' wear stores which answered the questionnaire mentioned this on their ballots.

Eight of ten jewellers heard from said they favored closing Wednesdays, providing the food merchants fell into line. On the other hand, seven, apparently thinking there was little likelihood of this, voted to stay "as is."

three categories. No Peterborough furriers were interested in the Monday arrangement.

Sports, millinery and hardware stores for the most favored Wednesday, but several were willing to go along with Mondays if they had to. Shoe stores stood almost solidly for Wednesday, with only one of seven merchants expressing any interest in Monday. Music and photographic stores seemed willing to accept either arrangement.

FEW ANSWERS

Biggest enigmas were the department and variety chain stores. Only two of both categories answered. Two department stores favored the status quo, one variety store liked Monday and none had any interest in Wednesday.

Actually the vote is of no particular consequence since before it could be tabulated the food merchants said they could not be moved from their pro-Monday stand whatever the views of the others. Result is that there will be two store holidays in Peterborough, Mondays for the food merchants when their bylaw is passed, and Wednesday afternoon for the others.

POSSIBILITIES

It is generally agreed that such an arrangement as this cannot continue indefinitely. Some of the possible developments are:

1—Retailers will swing around to side with the food merchants and there will be a general holiday Mondays. Twenty-six votes suggested that this was if not desirable, at least preferable to having two days off in separate classifications.

2—Food merchants will find that they cannot make a go of it with other retail stores doing business Mondays and closed Wednesday afternoons. They would then be willing to affect a compromise for all-day Wednesday closing.

3—Some sort of arrangement will be affected whereby stores open Friday nights (this would require

FAVOR MONDAY

One of the few classifications to express interest in the Monday proposal was the shoe repair stores. Of the four who answered the questionnaire, three said they were willing to go along with the grocers, while one firm favored the present arrangement.

In both men's and ladies' wear sections, two of the largest, there were eleven votes for Wednesday all day. But five men's wear as against one ladies' wear store said that they were willing to go along with the Monday plan if the Wednesday arrangement were unacceptable. Eleven ladies wear and five men's wear stores thought the present arrangement best.

Gift shops were strongly pro-Wednesday. All seven who answered favored Wednesday, although three would accept Monday and two thought it best to leave things as they are if nothing better could be worked out. Four applianoe stores registered two votes for each of the wear stores which tried to open Friday nights last year were charged with breaking municipal bylaws). Friday night openings might close the non-food stores all day Wednesdays.

4—Any idea of any holiday is a delusion, for the time is coming when a six-day-week, possibly with Friday night opening as well, is coming to Peterborough. This view was expressed in view of Simpsons-Sears plan to open a store here next summer. Simpsons-Sears generally favors a six-day sales week, a five-day week for staffs.

Possible results of a six-day week are greeted with mixed feelings by local retailers. Smaller stores feel they would be put in an unfair competitive position by such an arrangement, since they could not afford to hire extra help needed to keep a store open six days. Staggered staffs would be necessary to keep employees from working in more lucrative fields where hours are shorter.

ON TREADMILL

If the six-day week were effected, and the feeling is that it quite likely might be, prices would almost inevitably go up due to rising labor costs. Some retailers feel they would thus be caught on the economic treadmill, with prices steadily rising to meet spiralling costs.

On the other hand some retailers say that Peterborough is fast becoming a metropolis, and that having stores closed one or two days a week is small-townish. They foresee far more consumer spending and thus more general prosperity with a six-day week. There might be some stores who would feel the pinch at first, but the net result would be to boost sales, and this would rebound to the benefit of all.

Meanwhile, food merchants will be closing Mondays when the bylaw is passed and other stores will retain their Wednesday half-holiday.

January Building Permits Double Value Of Year Ago

Although as usual, January was a quiet month for new construction, the value of building permits issued by the city last month was almost twice what it was in January, 1953.

Total value of 15 permits issued last month was $118,625. Three permits for dwellings were issued with a total value of $37,000 but this was swelled by 12 miscellaneous permits with a total value of $81,625.

In January of last year, there were also 15 permits issued, two for dwellings with a combined value of $15,000 and 13 miscellaneous permits with a total value of $49,400. Total value of permits was $64,400.

ALTERATIONS

Heading last month's list in value was the estimated $50,000 alterations to The Examiner building at Hunter and Water Sts., entailing erection of additions to the steel framework and construction of new outside walls, in addition to inside alterations. Charles Huffman is contractor.

The T. Eaton Co. were granted a permit for remodelling the interior of the women's apparel department on the second floor of their department store at Charlotte and George Sts. Estimated cost of the alterations is $15,000. The contractor is M. J. Finn.

Only new commercial building permit to be issued was to J. L. Paquette, 688 Aylmer St., for the construction of a $10,000 warehouse and bottling plant for Pure Spring Beverages Ltd. at 926 High St. Work is under way on the 50 by 84-foot concrete block structure.

CGE Men Insfalling Generator At Kitimat

Engineers from the Peterborough CGE are at work on a huge underground generator which will help produce more power than is now used by Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg and Vancouver put together. The site is ALCOA's huge aluminum plant at Kitimat, B.C. where sixteen huge generators will ultimately be built.

the CGE crew under Hugh Cowie, is putting together pieces for a generator rated at 106,000 KVA. with two other generators it will supply the tremendous amount of power needed to refine aluminum ore. (Processing a pound of aluminum requires 10 kilowat hours).

The CGE installation, rated at 420 horsepower will operate the smelter so that 83,000 metric tons of aluminum ore can be produced annually. When all 16 generators are in operation, total power produced for all purposes will be more than 2,000,000 hp.

Last month a ten-mile tunnel was built to carry water through the mountain, dropping half a mile to the powerhouse. Earlier the Kenney Dam was completed, blocking off the flow of water from 12 B.C. lakes. Building the smelter generator completes this phase of the operation.

Labor Must Seek Improvement In Social Laws

Trade unions must continue to press the provincial and federal governments for better social legislation, Max Dodds, welfare director of the Ontario Federation of Labor, said Saturday night.

Mr. Dodds was speaking to 150 trade unionists and guests during the two-day Canadian Congress of Labor school that was held here this weekend.

"There never has been any move that was a progressive move that somebody didn't have to fight for it," said Mr. Dodds. "Somebody had to make a row before anything was done about it."

At present, he said, the unions are trying to convince management that they have too much money in the pot and the workers haven't enough in theirs.

Mr. Dodds gave a brief review of the history of the labor movement, both in England and North America. He told how, at one time, children were forced to work from dawn to dusk in coal mines; women, wearing special collars dragged coal from mines.

"Those who survived were broken people at the age of 30," said Mr. Dodds.

JUST DISAPPEARED

In the packinghouse industry in North America men would go to work in the morning, as usual, but never return. Relatives could get no information on them. Apparently they were killed at the plants and never heard from again.

Unions have three functions, said Mr. Dodds.

1. Bread and butter items. Children must be fed and clothed to build a better generation;
2. Unions must see that the right of each individual to be treated as a human being is never violated;
3. Unions must be watchful so no injustices occur.

Dr. Dodds said that unions got the government to bring down old age assistance to 65 years and he contended it should come even lower. Other pieces of legislation either improved or initiated through pressure from organized labor: widow's allowances, unemployment insurance and workmen's compensation.

He described the present Workmen's Compensation Act as "a most ridiculous piece of legislation." Last year he said that one out of every six workmen suffered an industrial accident; 423 were killed.

Among other things, trade unions are demanding a national health plan. "We want it and we're going to have it," he said.

Chairman at the banquet was William Beggs, UPWA field representative. Mr. Dodds was

Earlier in the day Henry Weisbach, executive secretary of the national PAC-CCL, warned that there are dangers to organized labor in the present economic trend.

"Despite official figures, we have about 500,000 unemployed in Canada, the highest number of unemployed since before the Second World War," said Mr. Weisbach. He was critical of Premier St. Laurent's statement that the government was taking no special measures to remedy the situation because it was only seasonal unemployment.

Mr. Weisbach was also critical of Quebec's controversial Bill 19 that would permit the province's labor board to decertify any union with communist leadership.

"We feel that this is a grave danger to the trade union movement," he said.

Two amendments — to sections 365 and 372 of the Criminal Code — drew Mr. Weisbach's fire. Under 365 a 'mischief' could be extended to pickets under certain circumstances with a possible penalty for a violation of this section is 14 years in ja

Nine Injured As Two Cars Collide At Scott's Corners; Four In Serious Condition

South-Bound Car Out of Control Swerves Across Highway Into Path of Second Auto Nearby Residents Pull Victims From Wrecks

Nine people were injured, four of them seriously, about 3:30 p.m. Sunday when Wesley Pavy, 44, of Guelph, a former Peterborough resident, driving south on Highway 28, five miles south of Peterborough, apparently lost control of his 1941-model car, which swerved across the highway into the path of a small English-model car. The force of the impact carried the two cars off the highway and landed Pavy's car on its side. The centre door post on the right hand side of Pavy's car was driven through the car and out the opposite side where it twisted over onto the roof.

In serious condition in Civic hospital are:

Douglas Holland, 23, of Guelph, also a former Peterborough resident, with a fractured pelvis and concussion. His condition was reported satisfactory today.

His wife, Irma, 20, with a fractured pelvis and collarbone and concussion. Her condition is more serious than her husband's but she is also reported to be progressing satisfactorily. The Hollands were passengers in the Pavy car.

James Cook, 38, 473 O'Connell St., Peterborough, thought to have been the driver of the other car, with a fractured rib, several cuts on the face and concussion.

Mrs. Cook, with a lacerated scalp and knee and concussion.

THREE CHILDREN

Mr. and Mrs. Cook's three children are also in Civic Hospital, where they were reported to be progressing satisfactorily today. David 7, suffered concussion, contusion on his hand and a possible broken wrist. Judy, 4, suffered concussion and Peggy, 3, suffered concussion and contusion on the fac

Also in Civic Hospital is Dallas Pavy, 15, with bruises on both legs and concussion. His father, Wesley Pavy was treated for broken ribs and discharged Sunday.

"I went into a spin and hit the other car. Then we both went into the ditch," Pavy explained after th accident. The highway was centre bare with a surface covering of snow for about two feet on either side at the edges.

The south-bound Cook car struck the middle of the Pavy car smashing in the side of the larger vehicle. Passing motorists stopped and assisted in pulling the injured from the wreckage with the help of others from Fair brothers' service station at Scott's corners, about 100 yards north of the accident scene.

Dave Price, CBC sports announcer, was among those who helped remove the injured. Others were George Walker and Joseph Fair, from the service station and Jerry Blodgett, a passing motorist.

DOCTOR AT SCENE

Dr. W. J. Warren Gamble of Peterborough, driving on the highway, stopped to render assistance and accompany the injured to Civic hospital, where several doctors were called in to treat the injured.

The accident victims were taken to hospital by Nesbitt ambulance and in two cars and a station wagon, of which the drivers were not identified.

Damage to Pavy's car was estimated at about $1,500 and to the Cook car at between $800 and $1,000.

OPP Constable John Cawood, who investigated, said Wesley Pavy would be charged in police court at 2:30 p.m. today with dangerous driving and careless driving.

Two Cars, Truck Collide, Passenger Hurt

Two cars and a truck were involved in an accident about 8:45 p.m. Saturday on Water St. north that injured one driver and a passenger. Most seriously hurt was Donald Windover, Rockcroft, who was cut with flying glass before he was thrown out the door of a truck by the impact.

He was a passenger with Gerald B. Simmonds, 25, Lake Catchacoma, who was driving his half ton truck north on Water St. Simmonds was charged with careless driving.

Approaching him travelling south were two cars, the first driven by, Terrance Staples, 18, Lakefield, and the second by Orville Elliott, 28, Oshawa.

Police reported both the car drivers said that as the truck was rounding a curve opposite McNaughton's service station, it appeared to skid and headed across to the west side of the highway.

DOUBLE COLLISION

They crowded over as far as possible but the truck met in collision with the Staples car first and then collided with the Elliott car following it before bouncing back to the east side of the road.

Windover, who had several stitches to close the cuts made by flying glass, was released from Civic Hospital Sunday. Both he and Staples who suffered a small gash on his forehead were taken to hospital by Nesbitt's ambulance.

About $500 damage was done to the Staples car, about $300 to the Elliott car and about $1,000 to the Simmonds truck which was just about demolished. Constable Cecil Bowyer investigated.

Two cars collided as one was turning into a lane on Sherbrooke St. Sunday at 11:50 a.m. William Landry, 28, 520 Sherbrooke St., was making a right turn into his lane. Driving behind him, Mrs. Elizabeth Curtin, 31, Wallis Drive, started to pass when, as she told police, Landry turned south first making her think he was pulling into the curb to stop.

About $150 damage was done to the Landry car and about $300 damage to the Curtin car. Constable Pat Gillis investigated.

WOMEN MEET

Cars driven by Mrs. Marcille Boucher, 26, 579 Douglas Ave., making a left turn at Park and Westcott Sts. and Mrs. Agnes Anderson, 34, 198 Braidwood Ave., who was stopped on Westcott St., collided at 10:50 a.m. Sunday. Damage to each was slight. Constable Dennis Smith investigated.

Meeting at the CPR railway track which is on a small knoll on Rogers St., two cars sideswiped but did little damage about 5:10 p.m. Sunday.

Alexander Curtis, 112 Sophia St., was travelling south and Armar Butcher, Lakefield, was driving north. About $25 was done to the Curtis car and about $35 to the Butcher car: Constable Harold Andrew investigated.

Damage totalling $85 was caused when a truck driven by William Reynolds, 28, of 139 Stewart St., backed into a parked car owned by Edward Collins, 859 Montrose Ave. Collins was parked opposite the driveway from which Reynolds backed. The U.K. Contractors Planning Major Push Across Canada

By ARCH MacKENZIE

LONDON (CP) — Accustomed to ranging the world, British contractors are concentrating on a major push in Canada.

The St. Lawrence seaway project and construction opportunity in general have aroused unprecedented interest.

"The amount of construction work on tap at the moment in Canada is fantastic," said an industry spokesman. "It is astronomical."

The superlatives truly indicate the general attitude toward a market which seems to offer high and long-term profits. In an effort to share as much of the cake as possible, the British industry is moving individually and in groups.

Several of the main firms have established Canadian subsidiaries during the last year. More have quietly assessed the situation and probably will follow suit.

Eight of the biggest have banded together in one of the largest contracting combines ever formed in this country. The organization, the Seaway Group, is mainly attracted by the seaway project, a "fantastic" operation by British standards in view of Canada's small population.

WATCHING BRIEF

The group is maintaining a "permanent watching brief" from a Toronto office on progress toward a starting date for the "big ditch." Then, say British contractors, watch out for the hottest competitive dogfight in years by Canadian, United States, British, German and French firms.

Britain wants all it can get, from excavations to bridge-building and machinery supplying. The reasons are obvious.

"There's no shortage of work in the world," said a trade authority. "In fact, the world has never been so busy.

"But we can't live on figs and dates.

"The trouble has been with British contractors that we have been caught between the Iron Curtain and the dollar curtain. Canada is a chance to earn some dollars."

Aside from the competitive nature of the seaway and Canadian work in general, the British industry professes to have few other worries. Finances can be supplied from Canada, or through the current British treasury willingness to supply dollars for a good Canadian investment.

U.S. COMPETITION

As far as the seaway project is concerned, said a Seaway Group spokesman, the only substantial sums of money required would be in guarantees covering contracts received.

At one time, Canada's heat and cold battled the British. J. J. Holoway, registrar of the Export Group for Constructional Industries—parent body of the Seaway Group—says this applies less now, due to British experience in the Canadian climatic extremes.

The United States is expected to provide the biggest competition by far. An industry authority, who emphasized that he was speaking personally, put it bluntly:

"All the indications point to the U. S. coming in with Canada after delaying the project for years. And you can be sure that they will channel just as much of the work to their companies as they can."

Police Find Body Of Old Trapper

SUDBURY (CP)—Provincial police said Sunday they found the frozen body of a 60-year-old trapper in his cabin near Westree, about 80 miles northwest of here.

The victim, Joseph Montmarquette, was last seen Dec. 28 and is believed to have died of natural causes. His body was found last Wednesday.

Montmarquette's half - starved dog was locked in the cabin and kept alive by eating the trapper's winter provisions.

Helicopter Carries Plane 25 Miles From Crash Scene

FORT WILLIAM (CP)—A helicopter picked up a wrecked plane Saturday and carried it 25 miles to Fort William.

The plane, a trainer owned by Thunder Bay Flying Club, crash-landed six miles from the nearest road. Officials of the club could not figure out how to salvage it.

Jack Godsby, owner of the helicopter, offered to try to move the plane. He said he would do the job without charge as a test of the helicopter.

The wings of the training plane were removed and strapped to the plane's body. Then, as the helicopter hovered overhead, four cables were attached to the training plane.

The helicopter then lifted the plane into the air and took it back to the airport without incident. An emergency release would have let the trainer drop if serious trouble had developed on the way.

The 1,900-pound Aeronca went down two weeks ago when its two flying club members ran into bad weather. The men were uninjured but damage to the plane prevented it being flown out.

An official said the flying club has five other aircraft down in various unapproachable districts. It is hoped to repeat the helicopter salvage operation to save all five planes.

New Superhighways Will Cost U.S. More Than $2,500,000,000

By SAUL PETT

NEW YORK (AP) — While jet planes make headlines with speeds of 1,600 miles an hour, while prophets speak of rocketing to the moon before dinner, the average man angrily slams on the brakes, hits the horn again and would gladly trade all the promise of the future for a few feet of clear highway right now.

To most travellers, who are still landlocked and subsonic, the biggest barrier in getting from one place to another continues to be the crowded road ahead.

To meet at least a fraction of this complaint, the United States this year will spend more than $2,500,000,000 on new superhighways. To satisfy the complaint completely would take many more billions than are available now.

More than 1,800 miles of new divided highway with four or more lanes are under construction.

Most of the new roads will have limited access, which means that drivers will not often be slowed up by cars entering or leaving.

PAY-AS-YOU-GO

Of the 1,800 miles now being constructed, a little more than 1,000 will be given over to toll roads. Pay-as-you-go highways have proved most popular in the east and central states. In the far west, they are still financing their expressways through gasoline and licence taxes.

Years ago, when superhighways were first begun, the trend was to make driving on them as easy and as fast as possible. Now the most recent trend within the trend is to make them easy and fast, but not too easy and fast. Monotony, the experts have found, can cause accidents.

Thus, in new construction, not all curves and grades are eliminated even when that would be structurally possible. The centre strip, which divides today's superhighway, is being made of varying widths to keep the driver alert.

In some areas, road builders are making it a point to remove the cross-joints in the pavement which bump, bump, de-bump.

The biggest of all toll roads is the 427-mile, $500,000,000 New York State thruway under construction between New York City and Buffalo by way of Albany.

About 60 miles have been completed. The entire route is scheduled to open by the summer of 1955.

FOUR TO SIX LANES

This huge toll facility will run from four to six lanes, will have no crossings at grade, no stop lights, no steep hills or sharp curves throughout its length and will be divided by a centre mall ranging in width from 20 to several hundred feet. As an extra safety precaution, trees will be left standing here and there in the mall at a safe distance from the pavement to reduce headlight glare from the opposite direction.

In its first full year of operation, the thruway is expected to cost $3,300,000 for maintenance. But against that expense and the reduction of the original cost will be the tolls of millions of motorists who will save 75-minutes on a trip from Buffalo to Albany for instance.

Trucks are expected to save 3.3 cents a mile in gasoline, maintenance and tire wear.

Man Injured In Crash

BUCKINGHAM, Que. (CP)—Dennis Badiston of Fort William suffered a fractured jaw and facial cuts Sunday when the car in which he was riding was involved in a head-on collision with another car in this town 20 miles northeast of Ottawa. Eleven persons were injured, one of them critically. Nine, including Badiston, were in one of the cars.

22 Die Skating

LANCASTER, England (Reuters) The frozen millponds, canals and abandoned coalpits which surround industrial towns in Lancashire took a staggering toll of 22 lives this week-end as carefree children went out to frolic on ice provided by the current cold snap. Of the 22 victims only one was an adult.

Study Students To Find Cause Many Suicides

OXFORD, England (CP)—Thirty first-year students at Oxford University are to undergo physical and psychological tests as part of an investigation into the reported high rate of suicides among undergraduates.

The inquiry is being made by a committee set up at the request of Sir Maurice Bowra, vice-chancellor of Oxford. Though the committee is primarily concerned with Oxford, concern also has been publicly expressed about the number of suicides at Cambridge University.

The committee is also expected to study financial problems of students. Its report will probably be made public in the summer.

No statistics on the number of suicides have been made available by the universities. A fellow at St. Catherine's College, Oxford, wrote that intellectuals commit suicide about six times as frequently as comparable groups of athletes of the same age.

While some blamed the suicide rate on attempts to impose university training on persons who lacked the intellectual equipment to cope with it, a student of Gonville and Caius, Cambridge, wrote to The Times dismissing the problem on the ground that no figures were available to measure the rate of suicide.

The problem of student suicides was also discussed in an article in The New Statesman and Nation, producing a number of letters from readers who advanced varying explanations.

Illegal Entry Across Borders

NEW YORK (AP) — Senator Herbert H. Lehman (Dem.-N. Y.) said Sunday that while immigration from Europe and Asia has been limited by the McCarran-Walter act, "the Mexican and Canadian borders offer simple access for almost unlimited illegal immigration."

Lehman, speaking at the annual meeting of the Hebrew Sheltering and Immigrant Society, said that while all alien visitors, sailors and immigrants landing at Atlantic and Pacific harbors must undergo the most gruelling interrogation and examination," persons who "swarm" across the Mexican and Canadian borders "get in without so much as tipping their hats to a single United States official."

LESSONS IN GOVERNMENT MADE EASY—Rep. Craig Hosmer, Republican of California, is supposed to be the first U.S. congressman to send a cartoon report home to his constituents instead of the usual letter. After reading a committee report which he thought was too complicated, he decided to turn cartoonist in order to show voters back home the way laws are made. In the background are originals of two pages he mailed to 7,500 people. Hosmer is now working on a series of sketches about the judicial and executive branches of government.

Big Connaught Laboratories Started By Young Graduate With 5 Horses

TORONTO (CP)—An institution which has served Canadians in towns and cities, in mines and at sea for the last 40 years, had its start when a young medical graduate bought five horses and went into the business of producing vaccine.

The Connaught Medical Research Laboratories of the University of Toronto have since produced a steady stream of vaccines, serums, antibiotics and other life-saving products.

The late Dr. John G. FitzGerald returned to the University of Toronto from California soon after the university established a department of hygiene, at the time when researchers were first realizing the value of preventive medicine.

At that time diphtheria vaccine cost between $20 and $80. Fitzgerald believed it could be produced cheaper. He bought five horses and inoculated them and thus began production by collecting bacteria from the infected animals.

OFFICIALS IMPRESSED

Officials were so impressed with the work that a laboratory was opened and named in honor of the Duke of Connaught, then governor-general.

With the end of the First World War the laboratory began the production of vaccines and toxoids to meet civilian needs. By 1921 when the late Sir Frederick Banting and Dr. C. H. Best discovered insulin it was ready to undertake production.

In the early 1920s the department became a school of hygiene and the Rockefeller Foundation contributed $650,000 for a new combined school and laboratories building, of which $250,000 was to be the nucleus of a research fund. Further expansion was made in 1931 with aid from the Rockefeller Foundation.

Contributions from the research laboratories have helped to create a health record that places Canada high among all countries. New production methods also have provided Canadians with cheaper drugs. Canadians now buy insulin and many other drugs and serums cheaper than they can be purchased elsewhere.

Believe Eisenhower Plans To Crack Down

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — When President Eisenhower hopped out of bed one morning this week and looked in the mirror, he may have thought: "How did I ever come to let myself in for this?"

He had moved into the White House one year ago. And it had been a tough, grinding year. The face which gazed back at him in the mirror looked a little older. Not much. Just a little.

But if he wondered why he had been willing to carry on his back that mountain called the presidency, it was probably a thought that lasted only an instant.

He was still as jaunty as ever, working harder and longer hours, perhaps, than any he had endured since those days on the eve of the invasion of Normandy, nine years ago.

He seemed, judging from the quick grin he could produce, to be enjoying his job. He was still enormously popular. And he was still amazingly free from personal abuse.

TOUGHENING ATTITUDE

He was wiser, no doubt, than he had been that day a year ago. In his first year, he frankly concedes, he was a political novice. He doesn't claim political mastery now.

His handling of Congress this year will illustrate his political development, or lack of it. Last year he was mild and gentle with the lawmakers. Some of his critics said he was more anxious to be liked than to lead.

His friends gave another explanation: He was using 1953 to get his program ready for 1954, so there was no reason in 1953 to antagonize legislators whose help he might otherwise get for his program this year.

Toward the end of his first year, Eisenhower gave signs of a toughening attitude, which may be an indication of the mood he'll use in 1954.

Jump Course Thought Sissy

LONDON (AP)— Steeplechasers in Ireland and England like the idea of an international chase in New York in May, but privately some of them think Belmont Park's jump course sounds a little sissy.

The race will be run over a two-mile brush and fence course. But that's not considered tough for these Irish and English hunters. Over here a chaser hardly gets warmed up short of two miles and 20 to 30 brooks and rail, thorn and board fences.

Plans call for nine British, Irish and French jumpers to fly to New York and compete against six American horses. The National Steeplechase and Hunt Association of America is eager and Belmont Park thinks enough of the idea to lay out $20,000 in expense money for the foreigners. In addition, the race will have a $20,000 value.

"First reactions to the project here have been distinctly favorable," said Tim Vigors of Dublin, who has been retained to handle details on this side of the Atlantic.

The United States is a ready market for Irish and English horseflesh and the international chase certainly wouldn't do the trade any harm.

Big Celebration

GUELPH, Ont. (CP)—Wellington county centennial this year will be marked by a gigantic picnic and field day at Fergus Saturday, July 17. County council meeting here decided the fun will start with old-time and modern dancing on the evening of July 16.

SYDNEY, N.S. (CP)—Only the cat was at home when fire destroyed a small cottage occupied by Mrs. Dolly Clarke, her son and daughter. Firemen said the cause of the fire was not established, but it was suggested the cat caused the blaze by overturning a lamp.

Bar Harbor Enthusiastic About New Ferry

BAR HARBOR, Me. (CP)—Here in Bar Harbor they're enthusiastic about the proposed new ferry service to Yarmouth, N.S.

For one thing they say the ferry will put Bar Harbor, mainly a summer resort, "in the middle of a road instead of at the end of one."

Financially, the ferry is expected to be a big factor in a changing Bar Harbor economy. F. E. Gerrish, 36-year-old town manager, estimates the new boat service will bring the town about $500,000 a year in extra income. Besides that it's Maritime provinces for tourists and business traffic.

Now being built at Montreal, the ferry will carry 150 cars and 600 passengers. It is scheduled to start operations in June, 1955. The cost is being borne by the Nova Scotia and Canadian governments and the boat will be operated by Canadian National Railways.

The old ferry from Yarmouth made its New England terminus at Boston so it means a major construction job to take care of the new boat here. The Bar Harbor terminal will include a pier extending 750 feet from the shoreline and two approach drives to the loading platform. The 400-foot-wide platform will include a ticket office and waiting room.

At the base of the pier will be two parking spaces, each with a capacity of 750 cars. A United States customs office will be built nearby.

At first it was feared the ferry teriminal would be objectionable to Bar Harbor's fashionable summer colony. The terminal is being built on a choice bit of waterfront property.

WELL DESIGNED

"We have been assured that the ferry terminal will be well-designed. We see no reason why it should drive out the summer people," said Gerrish.

"The approach to our terminal along a shore lined with fine estates will be the most beautiful in the world."

The ferry will remain at Bar Harbor overnight and it is believed that this will result in an increased demand for hotel accommodation. The town has already met this possibility with a new hotel.

U.K. Businessmen Told Stress Personal Touch

LONDON (CP)—Hang up your shingle on main street and let Canadians know you mean to do business, is the advice given British business men by R. P. Bower, Canadian trade commissioner in London.

Back at Canada House after a five-month tour of Canada, Bower said:

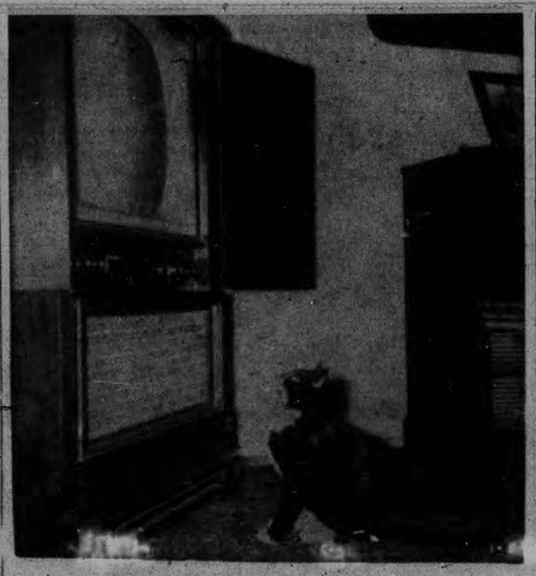
"Step No. 1 for any firm is to go over and set up a Canadian office. Even if it's just a small place to begin with, the thing to do is hang up your shingle on Main street. . . The biggest mistake is for a firm to hold back and expect dollar customers to come over here and hunt them up."

TWO SUCCESS STORIES

Bower cited two British success stories in Canada. One was a British metal company which opened an office in Toronto and tripled its sales in 12 months. The second was a textile company which quickly forged ahead through the presence in Canada of a top-ranking executive from the parent company.

"Canadians took to him right away," said Bower, "because they recognized him as a man who wanted to do business, and because they put a high value on personal contact."

Stressing the old theme about the need for adequate servicing in Canada, Bower told the story of a chocolate company manager in eastern Canada who had two rows of cocoa-crushing machines, one British and one American. The manager preferred the American. But a look at statistics showed the British machines ran twice as long before breaking down. The hitch was that when they did break down they were out of action a long time.



FRONT SEAT for televiewing in the home of eight-year-old Montrealer Suzanna Janelle is grabbed by her cat, Daisy. That cat should be TV fans is strange, but Daisy's even discriminating in her choice of programs. She'll not watch anything but hockey. Maybee she thinks the puck's a mouse. Could be, too, she thinks the Forum rink is really a giant saucer of milk.

Britain Opens Largest Dock, "Revolutionary"

EASTHAM, England (CP)—Britain's largest oil dock has been opened in Cheshire, marking a stage in what is described as a new industrial revolution.

Called the Queen Elizabeth II dock, it covers some 20 acres, cost £5,000,000 and took a little more than four years to build, the first sod having been turned in November, 1949.

The new dock will serve a refinery recently constructed at nearby Stanlow. It will be an important factor in saving dollars and represents another step forward in the speetacular progress of Britain's oil industry.

CAPACITY INCREASED

Since the Second World War, Britain's refiery capacity has increased sevenfold. She now stands fourth among the world's oil refiners, trailing only the United States, Russia and The Netherlands West Indies.

Commenting on the opening of the new dock, the Manchester Guardian said editorially:

"The opening. . .will mark more than the successful completion of a great engineering enterprise. The dock itself and the need for it constitute a notable advance in what may be fairly called a new industrial revolution that has been going on quietly in Britain since the war."

Investigation Into Air Crash

MOSSLEIGH, Alta. (CP) — An RCAF board of inquiry has begun investigation into a mid-air collision Saturday of two Harvard training planes flying in formation 4,000 feet over southern Alberta.

Killed in the crash of one of the planes were FO. Harry James, an instructor, and PO. Ramon Valdes, both from Calgary.

Pilot of the other plane, reported to have sheared off the tail of James' craft while flying in the anchor position of a four-plane line-astern formation, was RAF student Acting PO. J. S. Whiting of Johannesburg, South Africa. He suffered minor injuries.

It was the fourth fatal crash in the area since the RCAF station at Claresholm was re-activated in August, 1951. Five men died in the other three.

Snarling "Wolf-Boy" Found Naked On Train

LUCKNOW, India (Reuters)—A frightened, snarling "wolf-boy" ducked his head under bed sheets today as hundreds converged on Balrampore hospital here to see the nine-year-old curiosity.

The boy was found naked, heavily scarred and walking on all fours in a train car near here 12 days ago. He was ravenously hungry for raw meat.

Dr. N. Sharma, medical superintendent of the hospital, said the boy, named Ramu by the hospital staff, now accepts boiled meat and drinks milk, but remains terrified of civilization.

Ramu is constitutionally normal but still moves about on all fours and has the double set of upper incisors of a wolf.

Villagers in the foothills surrounding Lucknow are believed to have found the boy and put him aboard a train, knowing he would receive care in Lucknow.

ANIMAL TENDENCIES

The hospital found that, though he has the body of a normal boy, he has many animal tendencies.

"All this led us to believe that he was taken from a village as a baby and mothered since by she-wolves," Sharma said.

"It is not the first time such a thing has happened, but this is the first time a boy has been reared by wolves over such a long period."

The most celebrated boys raised by she-wolves were Romulus and Remus, the legendary twins who founded Rome. Rudyard Kipling's character Mowgli was a human child brought up by wolves.

Pussy Must Wait

CROYDON, England (CP)—Fire chief E. R. Ashill ruled that a cat must be caught up a tree 48 hours before firemen go to the rescue. "We don't believe in risking a man's life for an animal's unless it is absolutely necessary;" he said. "Some women think more of their cats than of their husbands."

Railway Strike Averted At Last Moment

NEW YORK (AP)—Service on the Long Island Rail Road was normal today following an 11th hour agreement Saturday night which cancelled the threat of a strike against the world's busies commuter line.

Some 1,400 members of the Independent Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen had set a strike deadline of 4 a. m. EST Sunday over a wage-hour dispute with the bankrupt road.

The walkout would have crippled transportation facilities for 150,000 weekday commuters to and from Manhattan. The line operates 600 trains daily.

ANNOUNCED AGREEMENT

At 11 p. m. Saturday night, federal mediator Leverett Edwards announced an agreement.

The major issue in the dispute was a union demand for a reduction in the present seven-day work week with no loss of take-home pay.

Under terms announced in the settlement, passenger trainmen holding regular assignments would be granted a work week of six days with no reduction of the present monthly guarantee of 30 days' work a month.

NEW METHOD MAKES IT POSSIBLE!

Tobacco Smoke Tar Affects Your Health

Rumblings of warning over the years evidenced by some one hundred published medical papers on the possible health dangers of smoking flashed to a climax barely six weeks ago.

Public attention was first caught by an article in the December issue of "Reader's Digest" titled "Can the Poisons in Cigarettes be Avoided?" Within a week "Time" magazine reported from St. Louis that Doctors Evart A. Graham and Ernest L. Wynder had reproduced cancer experimentally in mice by merely using the tars of these eminent American surgeons was quickly picked up by news services and newspapers throughout the U.S. and Canada. Hardly a smoker is not by now informed of the alleged danger of excessive smoking.

The report of Doctors Graham and Wynder substantiated previous reports and statistics showing "the association between smoking and cancer of the lung."

The National Cancer Institute reported that smokers are four times as likely to get lung cancer as non-smokers.

Dr. Alton Ochsner, an American surgeon, advises the man over forty who smokes, to have an x-ray every six months, preferably three months, to spot possible cancer.

Known for years to medicine is the fact that heavy smoking can cause rapid pulse, heart palpitation, shortness of breath, a constriction of blood vessels affecting circulation, a dulling of sensory nerves, loss of appetite, heartburn, hunger pain and nausea.

Now form and tablets sufficient for the course.

The Method provides a reason for reducing the smoking habit and psychological approaches to making the task easier. The Tablets contain Lobeline Sulphate which has many of the characteristics of tobacco and is capable of reducing desire and aiding in withdrawal of symptoms.

Ozotron tablets are swallowed, thus there is no unpleasant taste nor do they affect the taste of smoking. People who have tried unsuccessfully in the past to give up smoking have reported that the Ozotron Method and Tablets gave them their first success.

Renovations Of Property Highlight Of Church Year

MILLBROOK (ENS)—The annual meeting of St. Andrew's United Church was held on Friday evening with the Rev. A. M. Butler in the chair and with J. T. Crowley secretary.

In giving the report of the session, the Rev. A. M. Butler told that there had been 22 baptisms during the year. Thirteen of the 22 were infants and the other nine older children and adults. Twenty-four were admitted to full communion on profession of faith, eight of them adults and 16 young people. Four were received by transfer, making a total of 28 new members. Two members were lost by transfer and eight by death.

Total membership of the church on December 31, 1953, was 412, an increase of 22 over the previous year. There were eight marriages in Millbrook and one in Yelverton during the year. There were 15 burials.

The report of the treasurer, A. R. Payne, was read by Mrs. Payne. Total receipts from weekly envelopes, loose collections and thankofferings were $4,943.33.

Cash receipts for the renovation of the church were $7,421.48. The balance is to be raised in the next two years. Wilfred Elson gave the renovation fund report.

The chairman of the renovation fund, Robert Larmer, reported a new oil heating unit had been installed; the church hall had been remodelled and redecorated with washrooms installed; a new plumbing system had been put in; both church and hall had been completely rewired; the church, vestry and entry had been redecorated and the roof insulated.

Appreciation was expressed to the WA for free labor; for the water system and wash rooms; new ceiling in church hall; new floor in the hall; for decorating and finishing the plywood of the hall; refinishing the kitchen; painting the furnace room, back stairway and hall; upholstering three chairs for the chancel; supplying dossal curtain and coat rack for men's coats.

The members of the official board were thanked, along with other interested friends, for supplying the new centre aisle carpet. Also thanked were all the men and women who had supplied free labor; the Mission Circle for funds and for providing the chancel cross and one light in the nave; the donors of memorial lights; the choir for providing and equipping the choir room and the beginners' room and upholstering three chairs for the vestry; the Sunday school for the worship centre and the CGIT for a new screen for the projector.

Mrs. A. R. Payne reported that the WA had raised $1,421.13 during the year.

The WMS report was given by Mrs. Chester Fisher. There were 10 meetings held with an average attendance of 24. There were 28 annual members and 11 life members. Bales were sent to Korea and to presbyterial headquarters along with a student's kit. Four quilts were quilted. The sum of $260 was sent on to the presbyterial treasurer.

Miss Edith Clarke read the report of Mrs. M. E. Hobbs for the Mission Circle and her own report of the CGIT. In the circle there are 36 paid members and an average attendance of 25 at the ten regular meetings held. Life memberships were given to Mrs. Henry Gray, Miss Betty Lunn and Mrs. George Sedgwick before they moved to new homes away from Millbrook. The sum of $130.86 raised by systematic giving was sent to the presbyterial treasurer. A fall tea held by the circle realized $181 for the church renovation fund. The circle has invited all the circles of the Peterborough presbyterial to hold their fall rally in Millbrook in 1954.

The CGIY, one of the newer organizations of the church, reported a successful year. A wool afghan, knit by the girls, was sent to the Overseas Relief committee. Through mite boxes, offerings and their share of a film shown in the hall, $52.58 was raised; $10 was sent to the Girls' Work Board and $10 to missions.

OPERETTA

Miss Jean Burnham, reporting for the chair, said their operetta "The Belle of Barcelona" had been presented 16 times. Two of the presentations had been benefit performances, one of which added $150 to the building fund of Norwood United Church. The other supplied the money for gowns for the 23 members of the junior choir. The sum of $900 had been cleared from the other performances.

Appreciation was expressed to Mrs. G. A. Spicer, choir leader, Miss Stella Hetherington, organist, and Miss Mabel Clarry for her assistance.

Other choir projects were: supplying music for an anniversary service at Eden (near Mount Julian) and the singing of the male quartet at Ebeneazer anniversary. Members of the choir had also taken turns playing the chimes each Sunday morning.

Herbert Patton, Sunday school superintendent, reported a successful year. In spite of the fact the Sunday school had not been able to meet since mid-October, their finances were in good shape with a balance on hand of $75.78. He said there was a good staff of enthusiastic teachers and that good temperance and missionary reports were given each alternate month.

The Asiatic section of the tour will take the prime minister through Pakistan, India, Ceylon, Indonesia, the Philippines, Korea and Japan. (CP Photo).

Should Conductor Stay With Band Or Have Drinks With Patrons—Question

By DON FERGUSON

LONDON (Reuters) — Controversy has split the black-tie-and-carnation hired help at London's glittering night spots.

The question: Should a band leader stand up and wave his baton all night or should he cruise around the floor trading gags with the expensive customers and having a drink here and there.

A London high court judge decided the leader's place is on the bandstand—and set off the controversy.

Bandleader - disc jockey Paul Adam was trying to sue the ritzy Astor Club for $14,000 damages he claimed he suffered when the club fired him for not staying on the bandstand. Adam contended it was his job to do more "mingling," as he called it, than baton-waving.

After a three-day hearing the court rejected Adam's claim. "There was nothing in the contract that meant Mr. Adam should act as host," the judge said.

DISAGREE WITH JUUDGE

In the champagne and showgirl nighteries around London's west end there were plenty to disagree with the judge, not himself a notable nightclub customer.

One such was one of Mayfair's top band names, Ambrose. He estimated he gets paid about $30 a week as a musician and about $2,000 as a personality.

"I have to make them feel at home," he said. "I mean it is very social work. . .a little drink here, a little chat there, a joke..."

Harry Roy, another top Mayfair name, said at the Copacobana: "I never go on the stand until the place has warmed up. And I don't stay there long. It makes my feet ache."

"Conduct? I give 'em a flick of the eyebrow and they're away for the night."

SIDE WITH JUDGE

Others among the big money maestros sided with the judge's ruling.

Edmund Ross, Mayfair's top tango merchant, said: "Some leaders float around on the surface of their own self-importance. Leaders must be musicians first. I'm on the stand from start to finish."

Meanwhile, Paul Adam himself was not crying over spilt champagne. Now playing at the Milroy Club at a reputed $1,000 a week, he said: "Why should I worry. Here I wander around the club as I like. Everybody is happy."

Accidents Claim 28 Lives During Weekend

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Accidents claimed 28 lives in eastern Canada during the weekend, including 14 in a collision between a bus and a car transport near Yamahiche in Quebec's Trois Rivieres district.

A Canadian Press compilation today listed 18 fatalities in Quebec, nine in Ontario and one in Newfoundland. Twenty-two persons died in traffic accidents, four from asphyxiation and one was frozen to death.

The Quebec province victims included Mrs. Narcisse Gervais of Field, Ont., fatally injured in a head-on collision of two automobiles near Montreal.

Killed in Ontario traffic were Thomas Walsh, 41, hit by a car 30 miles north of Kingston; Leo White 11, struck by a car while on an errand at Sarnia; Percy Saulnier, 26, hit by a train near Toronto; Bruce O'Donnell, 4, struck down by a truck while walking with his mother on a roadway at Mitchell, 14 miles northwest of Stratford; and Cecil Woodruff, 62, hit by a car in the Niagara Falls district.

George Westbrook and Anne Shakespeare, both about 65, were killed by cooking gas in a room in Toronto. Frank Torelli, 22, and Linda Beaurivage, 18, were found dead in a car in a Hamilton garage and police said carbon monoxide killed them.

Audience Shares Criticism

REGINA (CP) — The audience shared criticism with the cast Saturday night with the performance of Thornton Wilder's "Our Town," third presentation in the Saskatchewan regional drama festival.

Graham Suter, British adjudicator, took the audience to task because some members were "selfish and naughty" by eating "sweets" out of rustling paper bags during the three-act play.

He said an audience in a "cinema" could unwrap and eat candy without distracting too much. But it couldn't be done in legitimate theatre. Audiences also should remember not to squirm too much, even though the seats are hard.

Mr. Suter said part of the squirming was caused because Battlefords' Community Players, who presented the play, didn't provide enough variety. On the whole, the play presented "an interesting evening" and the players "did themselves proud."

The play, a difficult interpretation of everyday life in a small United States town, dispenses almost entirely with props.

Correspondent Dies

SINGAPORE (AP) — Dickson Brown, 55, veteran southeast Asia news and financial correspondent, collapsed and died at his home here Sunday. A huge jovial man who covered the Pacific war and general MacArthur's headquarters in Australia, Brown came to Malaya from Scotland after the First World War and became a financial writer for the Singapore Straits Times and correspondent for the London News Chronicle.

Canada's Currency Climbs Gets More Than 3% Bonus

By ARTHUR MERIMS

NEW YORK (AP) — Canada's currency is climbing again. Not only is Canada's dollar worth more than the U.S. dollar at the foreign exchange counter, but the premium has been rising steadily since the first of the year.

Last week Canada's dollar advanced to more than a three-cent bonus when matched with an American bill. It's the highest premium since mid-December of 1953. Some financial experts wonder if it will soon challenge the nearby record of 104 11-32 cents, set Aug. 13, 1952.

What's behind the rise in the value of the Canadian dollar? Basically, it's due to the huge and growing influx of United States capital into Canadian industry, New York financial circles say.

Many U.S. companies have set up subsidiaries in Canada. Especially since the start of the Korean war, U.S. oil and mining concerns have wanted to ensure a ready supply of raw materials in the Northern Hemisphere. Other fields of U.S. investment include wood and pulp industries, food processing and autos. Just recently, Ford Motor Co of Canada, began a $70,000,000 dollar expansion program.

U.S. institutions diversify their investments by purchasing Canadian securities. Three U.S. mutual funds purchase solely Canadian securities. Their managers must go to the foreign exchanges, where dollars are traded like stocks or commodities, to purchase currency.

TOURISTS BIG FACTOR

Besides the investment capital flowing north, American tourists are crossing Canada's borders in record numbers. They take with them plenty of United States money.

Another factor has been the sale of Canadian municipal bonds through U.S. underwriters. Last year Canadian municipal financing in the United States totalled $28,000,000 against $3166,000,000 in 1952.

There is a paradox in this dollar situation. Canada's foreign trade is more than 50 per cent with the U.S. And Canada has lived with a trade deficit for many years. That is, Canada buys more from the U.S. than it sells. Under "normal" conditions, this would place the value of the Canadian dollar considerably under the United States dollar. But the theoretical "norm" seldom applies to monetary conditions.

From the beginning of the Second World War to Sept 30, 1950, the Canadian dollar was "pegged" at 90 cents U.S.

But after the war, the need for such artificial stability appeared less pressing. In 1950, Canada announced that its currency would be allowed to find its own level.

UNPEGGED DOLLAR

Following this "unpegging," the price of the Canadian dollar rose to 95 cents, where it remained with minor fluctuation until December, 1951. Up to this time, foreign investments had been "frozen." Thereafter, foreign capital could be withdrawn or increased at will and Canadians were permitted to take their money out of the country without restriction.

At that moment, United States capital started north, increasing in amount with the passing months. Jan. 22, 1952, the Canadian dollar reached a parity with the U.S. for the first time in 13 years.

March 6, the Canadian dollar held a 1-32 of a cent premium for a full trading session. By the summer of 1952, the Canadian bill had jumped to more than a four-cent premium, but by the year-end the premium was down to less than a penny. Since the start of 1953, the direction has been upward, slowly, but steadily.

Rail Traffic Opened With Niagara Century Ago With Great Ceremony

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) — Cannon boomed in Windsor a century ago to mark the opening of rail traffic between the city and Niagara Falls, Ont.

Jan. 17, 1854, was a gala day as the first Great Western Railway train arrived to link Windsor, London, Hamliton and Niagara Falls. Business was virtually suspended in the Windsor-Detroit area.

Crowds jammed the ffery from Detroit and every window near the station was crowded. A cannonade signalled the arrival of the first of the two 12-car sections of the train about 4 p.m. Each car carried about 70 passengers.

In the evening, 1,700 persons sat down to a banquet on the upper floor of the Michigan Central freight depot. British and American flags were draped overhead.

INSTANT SUCCESS

The new service was an instant success. Among the passengers on the first trai nwas Mrs. George E. Copeland of Windsor, who died in 1951.

New stations sprang up along the line the first year. The road expanded steadily. By June, 1856, through service was offered on a 30-hour schedule from Chicago to New York.

King Edward VII, then Prince of Wales, used the new line in September, 1860. He took the passenger ferry from Windsor to the Woodward avenue dock in Detroit.

Had he been seven years later, he might have remained comfortably seated in his railway car as he made the trip to the American side of the Detroit river. The SS Great Western made its first trip as a ferry for railroad coaches in 1867.

In 1875 the Great Western absorbed the London and Port Stanley Railway. Other railways taken over about the same time were the Wellington, Grey and Bruce Railway, the London, Huron and Bruce Railway and the Brantford, Norfolk and Port Burwell Railway.

By 1882, the Great Western became part of the Grand Trunk Railway system. In 1923, both were absorbed by the Canadian National Railways.

Shipping Strike Begun

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Five thousand Indonesian employees of the Royal Dutch Navigation Company—KPM—began a three-day, nation-wide sitdown strike today. The shipping line is the major means of passenger and freight transport for this island republic. The workers, members of a non-Communist trade union, are asking higher cost-of-living bonuses and family allowances.

Head Office: CANADA PERMANENT BUILDING, 320 BAY STREET, TORONTO

C. S. Robertson, President and General Manager, in presenting the 99th annual report of the Canada Permanent Mortgage Corporation, said in part . . .

An announcement by the Prime Minister at the beginning of October was one of the most significant developments of the year to the financial institutions of Canada. I refer to the government's plans for amending the National Housing Act to permit chartered banks to enter the mortgage lending field. The federal government is to be given credit for attempting to improve the situation, but I am not at all convinced that the introduction of our banks to the building loan mortgage business is the answer.

The Canada Permanent has been making mortgage loans for ninety-nine years. Experience guides our thinking in lending. Property values can be as variable as the weather: in the last sixty years we have been through two major economic storms and some minor ones. It is well to remember that the lending institutions suffered very many substantial losses on mortgage loans made for 50% of the value of dwellings and apartment buildings erected during the building activity in the years prior to 1930, when costs of construction were less than half present day costs.

Now, after several years of building [illegible] have mounted to an all-time high, the banks are asked to lend not 50% of value, but up to 90%, for terms of twenty-five to thirty years and to take loans in small outlying areas which have always been considered hazardous by experienced lenders.

Are the risks involved outweighed by some greater good for all? I do not think so. The new Act may give further encouragement to the building of dwellings in the $15,000 bracket but it will also probably add to their cost. In my opinion this is not meeting the real need which to-day, in so many centres is for cheaper houses and more rental units.

Copy of the President's address and the financial statement of the Corporation will be mailed on request

Ontario Girl Reaches Finals In American Golf Tournament

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Blonde Grace DeMoss Smith climaxed a spectacular comeback to tournament golf after a five-month layoff Sunday by whipping Marlene Stewart, British amateur champion, 1-up in the finals of the Helen Lee Doherty tournament.

In two days the Coral Gables, Fla., housewife disposed of both the American and British champions. In Saturday's semi-finals she upset Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., queen of the American amateurs, 2 and 1.

Playing in her first tournament since the national amateur last August in Providence, R.I., the 26-year-old Mrs. Smith showed no signs of rustiness as she mowed down five straight opponents with greater power off the tees.

Marlene, 19-year-old Rollins College student from Fonthill, Ont., reached the finals Saturday with a 3-and-2 victory over Vonnie Colby of Hollywood, Fla.

MARLENE "TOUGH"

She rushed to a 5-up lead over Miss Stewart in the morning's 18-hole round, lost it on the third nine as her grim little Canadian opponent fought back with a four-hole winning streak, then won the 36th hole in a tough eight-hour duel.

"I was awfully lucky to win," Mrs. Smith said as she walked wearily off the final green. "Marlene is the toughest fighter I've ever met and she made it a battle right down to the wire."

Miss Stewart made her gamest bid for victory when she captured four holes in a row to square the match at the 27th.

Little "Miss Poker Face" hit into the sand traps at the 24th, 25th and 26th, but recovered beautifully each time for two pars and a birdie. She dropped a six-foot putt for a birdie four to win the 27th.

This stirring rally failed to unnerve the slender Mrs. Smith, a former Curtis Cup player, and she surged back into the lead at the 30th with a par four as Marlene's approach shot went into the rough beyond the green.

Marlene beat her opponent to the greens at the 31st and 33rd but when the pressure was on, Grace saved her lead with beautiful putts, sinking a 15-footer at the 31st and canning a 25-foot shot at the 33rd.

Marlene lost her putting touch at the 34th, muffing a three-footer and allowing Grace to take the hole with a par five and increase her margin to 2-up with two holes to go.

WINS ON 36TH

At the 35th, Marlene kept her hopes alive by blasting out of a sand trap to within three feet of the cup and dropping her putt to win the hole with a par three, but Mrs. Smith won the match at the 36th when they halved the hole with par fives.

"That was a real good match," declared Miss Stewart, who showed no signs of fatigue after the long grind. "She was just too good for me today. Those long shots off the tees were hard to overcome."

Mrs. Smith was five strokes over par for the 6,190-yard Miami Shores Country Club course with 155 for the 36 holes. She took 78 in the morning round and improved her score with a 77 in the afternoon.

Marlene needed 82 in the morning round and 75 in the afternoon for a 36-hole total of 157, seven over par. On the third nine, where she flashed her four-hole winning streak, she made her best showing with a two-under-par 35.

NEAR ACE

On this same nine, the consistent Canadian came within an inch of a hole in one. At the 160-yard 21st hole, her tee shot rimmed the cup and rolled to a stop six inches beyond.

Piracy Still Big Business; Women Lead China Corsairs

WASHINGTON—Piracy, the business that built a reputation for Blackbeard, Jean Lafitte and Captain Kidd, no longer menaces the big international trade routes, but it has not died out altogether.

Since World War II the most flagrant examples of piracy have occurred off the china coast which has spawned freebooters down through history.

Elsewhere too, modern seamarauding clings to ancient pirate nests: the northwest coast of Africa, the east coast of Arabia, and Malayan waters. And on the Spainsh Main, once the scene of many plundering forays, missing men and ships recently gave rise to piracy reports.

RAID FISHING FLEET

Not long ago off Indonesia four craft seized eight out of a fleet of 130 fishing boats and demanded $650 ransom for 15 men. A few days earlier the British frigate Flamingo captured a gang that had stolen the dhow Naram Pasa in the Arabian Sea.

China's corsairs, some led by women, are a versatile and persistent lot, usually operating on motorized, well-armed junks. Numerous lawless acts indicate their favorite hangouts are in the Hong Kong-Macau area, particularly near Bias Bay.

In 1951, 28 bandits boarded the 2,801-ton British ship Hupeh and held off relief from the New Zealand frigate Rotoiti by taking all 19 passengers hostage. The pirate leader apologized for the inconvenience.

The 3,500-ton British vessel Wing Sang was attacked in Formosa Starit in 1952. Forty barefoot buccaneers swarmed the ship and held the captain and an American diplomat for $4,000 ransom.

In late 1947, 25 picaroons gathered money, jewels and clothing, valued as high as $500,000 from passengers and crew of the 4,522-ton Dutch liner Van Huetz. The pirates controlled the vessel 15 hours and kidnapped six passengers.

The little British freighter Nigelock fared better. In early 1951, she beat 30 brigands off her sides, then fought a successful 30-minute running battle with their powered junk.

The same year the Panamaian freighter Taluei encoutered marauders in the Yellow Sea. They looted everything that could be moved—personal belongings, ship's instruments, 1,000 tons of peanut oil and soybeans. As they transferred the cargo, their junk sank low in the water. Then suddenly it lurched and slipped below the surface.

Rose Captures Australian Tennis Title

SYDNEY (AP) — Lefthander Mervyn Rose trimmed Rex Hartwig, his doubles partner 6-2, 0-6, 6-4, 6-2 to win the Australian national tennis championships today.

Fortunes changed rapidly in the first three sets, with Rose taking the initiative first. Hartwig broke his racket early in the first set and it took him a while to get used to the second one.

But he played sensationally in the second set, which lasted 10 minutes. Rose never got to deuce in any game and won only eight points in the set.

Hartwig kept it up for a 4-2 lead in the third set, but Rose broke his service in the seventh game. He did the same thing in the ninth game, with the aid of a netcord shot that just trickled over the net, and held his own service for the set.

Hartwig never recovered his second set form again, and Rose took the decisive set without being extended.

To Hold Bonspiel At North Bay Club

SUDBURY (CP)—The new North Bay Granite Club will be the site of the 68th annual Northern Ontario Curling Association bonspiel, it was decided at the annual meeting here Sunday.

Lester Hume of North Bay was elected president of the NOCA for the coming year. He succeeds Don Groom of the Sudbury Granite Club.

Don Fraser of Copper Cliff retained his position as secretary-treasurer, while Sudbury's Sam Rothschild was reappointed NOCA representative to the Dominion Curling Association.

Play In Norwood

Two exhibition games were staged in the Norwood Arena on Friday night. There was a fair attendance at the two games. The first game was staged between Norwood and Campbellford midgets with a score of 9-8 for Norwood and the second one between Norwood Lions Club and Norwood Branch Canadian Legion.

The first game which was closely contested had these players: Campbellford: Goal, Denny McArthur; defence, Douglas Seymour, David Ellis; centre, Allan Copperthwaite; left wings, Joel MacArthur, Ross Hendricks; alternates, Tom Holme, Lyle Bland, Wilson Darrington, David Girard, Art Nelson, Bob Dunk, Duffy Cochrane and Jim McComb. Norwood: Goal, John Scott; defence, Gordon Millett, Neil Telford; centre, Jim Byer; wings, Wilfred Smith, Bob Hannivan; alternates, John Terpstra, Fred Morgan, Bruce, Mullan, John Thompson and Ed Heffernan.

Color Camera Club Formed In Cobourg

COBOURG (ENS) — A color camera club has been organized here with Dr. Charlotte Horner, president; F. A. Miller, vice-president and James Harding, secretary-treasurer. Dr. Jack Tripp and Oliver Johns comprise the program committee. Slides were shown at the organization meeting by Dr. Horner of her trip through Europe. The club is interested in 35 mm. and larger color transparences as well as color movies.

The club also viewed a number of slides brought to the meeting by some of the members and had a discussion period on problems encountered in taking the pictures. Speaker at the February meeting will be Murray Smith, who will discuss the operation of various types of cameras and will conduct a question period.

Guelph, Waterloo Combine To Play In Baseball League

ST. THOMAS (CP) — A hasty merger of the Guelph and Waterloo Senior Intercounty Baseball League teams Sunday ensured a six-team league this year.

At a meeting of club owners, Kitchener, St. Thomas, Galt, London, Brantford and Guelph-Waterloo decided to play in the league. Oshawa, a member of the league last season, was voted out at a previous meeting.

Waterloo, Guelph and Brantford appealed for an extension of time for filing an entry for 1954 but the meeting refused.

After a brief conference Ernie Goman representing Waterloo and Jim Kendricks of Guelph announced the merger of their teams and Mike King filed an entry for Brantford.

John Gillies of London was reappointed commissioner of the league for a three-year term.

The league will play a 60-game schedule starting May 21 and ending Aug. 21. Each club is expected to have 25 dates at home but some will be twilight-night doubleheaders.

A new plan for playoffs was introduced. The top team will have its choice of opponent in one semi-final series while the other two of the four qualifying teams will clash in the other. All finals and semi-finals will be best-of-seven.

Before any entries were filed a dispute arose over the status of the Galt team. The Galt Baseball Club, holders of the franchise, has leased the players and equipment to Mike Pontarelli, a former player who plans to operate the team with the help of an associate from Chicago.

The club owners asked Pontarelli to post a bond of $2,000 as evidence of his good faith. The matter was ironed out when Walter Reid, representing the franchise holders, agreed to file the entry and be responsible to the league for the team.

Jack Blakeney of Brantford, who acted secretary for the baseball association and the senior series last year said he must give up one of the posts.

Blakeney said commissioner Gillies told the club owners they have reached no agreement with the Intercounty Umpires Association. Hold-up is "duplicate mileage"—an auto allowance for each umpire even if they all travel in the same car. The officials received the allowance in other years but the league this year has refused to pay.

The club owners threatened they might hire their own umpires.

New Buildings From Rubble In War-Damaged Berlin

WASHINGTON — When the Big Four Foreign Ministers Conference convenes in Berlin, diplomats will find a city that is still only a sprawling skeleton of its former mighty self. They will also find surprising recovery from war's devastation.

In West Berlin industrial production has reached almost 70 per cent of the 1936 level. Over 11,000 homes have been built and 16,000 repaired. Another 11,000 dwellings are going up. From more than 10 million tons of rubble that clogged the streets, Berliners have constructed new office buildings, apartments, hotels, playgrounds and swimming pools.

Most heavily bombed of all German cities, Berlin was 40 per cent destroyed during World War II. The city provided more strategic bombing targets than Munich Leipzig, Cologne, Hanover and Mannheim combined. Heaps of shattered masonry, steel and glass were piled 30 feet high. Thousands of buildings were left burned-out shells.

CITY DIVIDED

Berlin today is deep in the Soviet zone of Germany. The eastern half of the city is occupied by the Russians, the western half by American, British and French authorities. There have been frequent conflicts over the city's economical and political administration.

In 1948-49, a 322-day Russian blockade isolated West Berlin. The Western powers were forced to operate a gigantic airlift to supply food and fuel to the two million residents in the western sector.

Last summer disgrunted workmen rioted in East Berlin. Soviet tanks, troops and armoured cars were called in to quell the uprisings. Martial law was declared. Some 1,500,000 people live in East Berlin.

MASS EXODUS

In pre-war days the former German capital was the largest city on the European continent. Its 1940 population of 4,355,000 was surpassed only in London, New York and Tokyo. During the war almost two million residents abandoned their homes in this constantly attacked city.

At its wartime peak, nearly 200 of the leading factories of Germany, employing one-tenth of the nation's industrial workers, operated in Berlin. Huge plants turned out airplane engines, cables, ammunition, armaments and machine tools.

Electrical goods, clothing, optics and chemicals are today the leading products of West Berlin factories. Unemployment is at its lowest level in eight years.

VITAL SITE

Modern Berlin spreads over 341 square miles of a flat, open plain on the Spree River, a hundred miles from the Baltic Sea. Its site has been a natural crossroads for both trade and conquest since medieval times.

In early days it was an outpost of the militant religious order of the Teutonic Knights in campaigns to subjugate and convert the Slavs. Later, as the capital of Brandenburg, Berlin, was the nucleus of the expanding power of the Hohenzollern family.

Still, later, Berlin became the capital of Prussia, and 1871 it joined the front ranks of international cities as the government seat of the newly formed German Empire. It soon grew into the nation's industrial and commercial center, as well as the hub of transport lines by air, highway, rail, river and canal.

Boy Survives Ordeal

SAPPORO, Japan (AP) — An eight-year-old boy, missing in a blinding snowstorm for almost 24 hours, was dug out from under a six-foot drift Sunday—unconscious but alive. Masahito Kobayachi's body temperature was reported down to 78.9 degrees but he recovered quickly.

Freighter Gets Help

TOKYO (AP)—A disabled Japanese freighter was rescued by a patrol boat in the Japan sea today after its distress signal was picked up 2,500 miles away in Manila and relayed to Tokyo. The 870-ton Shinkyu Maru, with a load of coal, developed rudder trouble.

Football "War" Appears Lost Impetus

PHILADELPHIA (CP) — The threatened "war" between professional football leagues in the United States and Canada appeared to be simmering down to a propaganda barrage with a few skirmishes between individual clubs thrown in.

While commissioner Bert Bell of the National Football League insisted Saturday that the "war" is still on, club officials made it clear at the close of the NFL's annual meeting here that they are interested only in occasional local action.

New York Giants, still breathing fire over the loss of all-star tackle Arnie Weinmeister to British Columbia Lions, said they are preparing to file a breach-of-contract suit against the Rhein, Sask., native.

CONSIDERING FORAYS

Two clubs indicated they are considering forays into enemy territory for playing talent.

General manager Nick Kerbawy of Detroit Lions said his club plans to look over the Canadian field for prospects and has a couple of players in mind. Owner Vic Morabito of San Francisco 49'ers said his club also plans to inspect a list of the most promising Canadians furnished by Bob Snyder, coach last season of Calgary Stampeders.

Neither official gave any indication of specific players he has in mind.

Officials of Los Angeles, Pittsburgh, Washington and Chicago Cardinals also said they aren't planning to enter the Canadian market.

N.Z. Rugby Team Beats England 5-0

TWICKENHAM, England, Jan. 31 (Reuters) — New Zealand beat England, 5-0, before 70,000 spectators in a fast, exciting Rugby Union international match here Saturday. Their score in the 20th minute avenged England's victory against New Zealand at their last meeting, just before the Second World War.

At the conference he pointed out several clubs which he said would be stronger this season and which could give the Yankees plenty of trouble.

Sudbury Rink Wins Right Represent Northern Ontario

SUDBURY (CP) — Don Groom skipped his Sudbury Granite Club rink to a 9-6 decision over Wally Johnstone's Copper Cliff foursome Sunday night to win the right to represent the Northern Ontario Curling Association in the northern Ontario championships.

The northern Ontario finals will be held at either Kirkland Lake or New Liskeard Feb. 15 and 16. With the NOCA winner meeting the survivors of playoffs in the Timiskaming and Northern Ontario Association and the Northwestern Ontario Association.

Sunday's final here was close for 10 ends. Then Groom counted two on the 11th and a single on the 12th to wrap up the game. Playing for Groom were Ray Cook, Bob McInnes and Tom Callaghan, while Johnstone's rink included Arn Boyd, Will McKay and Wally Flowers.

SECOND VICTORY

It was Groom's second win in the NOCA event as a skip, and his sixth time as a member of a winning rink. He reached the Canadian finals in 1942 playing third for the late Bill McMitchell.

The winner of the northern Ontario finals will compete in the Dominion championships at Edmonton in March.

Johnstone advanced into the NOCA finals by defeating J. Bridges of Blind River Saturday. Groom edged Tom Therriault of Chapleau to enter the finals in Sunday morning play.

Other rinks in the round-robin play and their standings:

Adelard Lafrance of North Bay, three wins, one loss; W. Harvey of Capreel, two wins, two losses; Ken Mills of Thessalon, two wins, two losses; Alex Barlow of Sudbury, two wins, two losses; Lance Watson of Sault Ste. Marie, two wins, three losses; Tom Therriault of Chapleau, one win, three losses; L. Hutchinson of Levack, one win, three losses, and J. Bridges of Blind River, no wins, four losses.

Every fifteen minutes, a Canadian suffers serious injury in a traffic accident. Every four hours a life is lost. Every two minutes a fender is smashed.

Insurance cannot restore life or mitigate pain. All it can do is relieve the financial burden of disaster. Even then, the bill comes high.

Housewives May Write Essays In CAC Contest

Life is pleasant or difficult according to the good or bad design of our household articles! The Canadian Association of Consumers an the National Industrial Design Council feel that Canadian housewives have some pretty definite ideas on the subject.

With this in mind, the two national organizations, one representing Canadian consumers and the other formed to promote the cause of good design in Canadian-manufactured products, have announced a "Contest for the Best Essays on the Design of Household Articles."

The sponsors of the contest are asking Canadian housewives who are members of the Canadian Association of Consumers to take a considered look around their homes and local stores and then write, in not more 300 words and not less than 100 words, about their ideas for improvements in the design of household furniture and lamps, electrical and kitchen equipment. If they prefer, those entering the contest may present their original ideas for new designs in household articles.

In all $500 in prizes will be awarded. First, second and third prizes of $50, $35, and $15 respectively will be awarded for essays in each of four classes: (a) Lamps of any kind, (b) household and kitchen electrical equipment, including gas, wood and oil burning ranges, (c) furniture used in kitchens, bedrooms, living rooms and dining rooms, or used outdoors, and (e) kitchen utensils and non-electrical kitchen equipment. Contestants may send as many entries as they wish under any or all of the four classes. To the best of the winning entries a grand prize of $100 will be awarded.

The Canadian Association of Consumers has cautioned that entries must be mailed before midnight of March 31st, 1954 to provincial representatives of the organization. In Ontario, the representative is Miss Jean Rorke, 16 Inglewood Ave., Ottawa.

Judges of the contest are: Miss Jean McKinley, Editor, Canadian Homes and Gardens, Toronto; D. W. Stewart Jr., President, Polyfiber Limited, Renfrew, Ontario; Mrs. M. Wherrett, Chairman, and Mrs. W. S. Harrison, member of of Canadian Association of Consumers Design Committee, Ottawa, and Miss Marcelle Barthe, Women's Talks Producer, Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, Montreal.

Madame H. E. Vautelet, Montreal, is President of the Canadian Association of Consumers, and Mrs. M. Wherrett, Ottawa, is chairman of the Canadian Association of Consumers Design Committee. The National Industrial Design Council Secretary is Donald W. Buchanan, Ottawa.

Contest inquiries should be addressed to the National Office, Canadian Association of Consumers, 1245 Wellington St. Ottawa.

PCVS Choral Club Chooses "The Wrecker"

PCVS Choral Club's first dance to raise money for their music and other expenses was held Saturday night at the school with terrific success. From the proceeds, club director Mr. M. J. Curtis estimated the crowd at about 400 dancers.

Highlight of the evening was the choosing of "The Wrecker", as this was "The Wrecker Promenade." A committee of teachers, basing their selection on "personality and appearance" had no hesitancy in naming Miss Lou James.

Miss James received three gifts with the title—flowers, a bag of potatoes and a compact. She also had a "ride" on the "horse" that was a part of the Dog Patch decorations of colored streamers, bunches of carrots and balloons.

Three committees of students took part in the dance arrangements. These were headed by Choral Club president Betty Thomson, vice president Barbara Woodcock, secretary Betty MacDonald and treasurer Ruth Grandy.

Dedicate Lighting To Memory Of Mrs. E. M. Carleton

A service of dedication was held by members of the Silver Cross Chapter of Peterborough in the chapel at the Civic Hospital Friday evening. The service dedicated the automatic illumination of the memorial window in the chapel to the memory of the late Mrs. Edith Maude Carleton, Reg. N.

Dr. H. G. Carleton and his family, who were present with Chapter members for the dedication, have provided the lighting, installation of which had only recently been completed.

A eulogy to Mrs. Carleton explained the circumstances leading to this gift from her husband and children. Mrs. F. W. Burnham, flower convener for the chapter, said Mrs. Carleton had expressed to her the wish to be permitted to share with the Silver Cross the expense of special outside lighting so that visitors too, the chapel in the evening would not miss the beauty of the window, which is in memory of men who died in the Second World War.

Officiating in the dedication, the Rev. M. P. Poole, who had been Mrs. Carleton's minister before her death, also paid tribute to her inspiring Christian impulses, and read scripture passages favored by her.

President Mrs. A. S. Williams quietly expressed to Dr. Carleton and family the chapter's appreciation of their gesture.

Oak Heights WA Elects Officers

WARKWORTH (ENS) — The Women's Association of the Oak Heights United church held their annual business meeting on Thursday evening in the church.

The meeting opened with the WA Ode, followed by prayer by the pastor, the Rev. A. L. Sisco.

The devotional period was conducted by Mrs. A. P. Sayles. The president, Mrs. L. Tucker, presided over the business period.

It was decided to join the presbytery women's association.

The February meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. L. Tucker when Mrs. A. McMurdo will be co-hostess with her. The sum of $100 was voted the church treasurer towards the expenses incurred at the parsonage.

Just before the election of officers took place, Mrs. L. Tucker, president, expressed her thanks to all the members for their co-operation during the past year.

Mr. Sisco presided for the election of officers which resulted as follows: president, Mrs. L. Tucker; first vice-president, Mrs. D. Langford; second vice-president, Mrs. Alvin Pratt; secretary, Mrs. Clarence Ferguson; treasurer, Mrs. Archie Ferguson; assistant secretary, Mrs. Jim Sayles; pianist, Mrs. Clarence Ferguson; assistant pianist, Mrs. L. Tucker; good cheer reporter, Mrs. W. H. Porter; buying committee, Mrs. B. Porter, Mrs. A. P. Sayles; parsonage representative, Mrs. S. Lawrence; visiting committee, Mrs. E. Covert, Mrs. A. Pratt, Mrs. G. Pratt; press reporter, Mrs. S. Lawrence.

Directly following the WA meeting, the business meeting of the congregation was held.

Mrs. Archie Ferguson reported a balance on hand of $112.04 in the WA treasury. Mrs. D. Langford gave the secretary's report for the Sunday school, which showed a small balance on hand.

A. P. Sayles, church treasurer, reported a balance of $198.62.

Leslie Tucker was elected elder to fill the vavancy created by the death of George Beatty. John Ferguson was elected a member of the committee of stewards to fill the vacancy made by the appointment of L. Tucker. The pianist, Mrs. L. Tucker, and secretary-treasurer, A. P. Sayles, were re-appointed.

After the benediction by the pastor, lunch was served by the ladies and a social period was held.

POUR GIRL—One of the few Hollywoodians to admit that it has rained heavily in that sunny clime during recent weeks, is screen star Jane Russell, who showed up for work in this umbrella-type rain hat.

TO FILL HER ROLE in the community successfully, a housewife must take care with her grooming at all times. She must represent her family to business callers, to shopkeepers, schoolteachers and clergy. This housewife has stopped to chat with a neighbor (left) who is admiring her infant. Like the career woman, the housewife needs only to schedule a few minutes before breakfast and again in mid-afternoon to maintain her appearance. If she gives her hair a thorough brushing daily (centre), she will find that it will stay in place without constant combing. The housewife who makes a habit of careful grooming need never worry about unexpected encounters. Leaving the supermarket, this housewife meets a business associate of her husband (right). She won't have to apologize to her husband later on for making a bad impression.

Keeping Trim Full-Time Job For Housewife

One of the biggest mistakes a housewife can make is to think that she has no reason to be concerned with her appearance during the day.

The people she is likely to encounter—the grocer, the clergyman, the brush man, the club representatives, her youngsters' teachers, the Community Chest representative—are a cross section of the community. The opinions they will form will influence the role she will play in it.

The woman who takes pains with her grooming for special social events, but ordinarily is neglectful of her appearance, may wonder why she is overlooked when community leaders organize projects.

The explanation is that most people tend to believe that the person who can keep herself well-groomed at all times is most capable of helping to create order in the community, whether in planning a club activity or a political rally.

Furthermore, the housewife who has young children has an obligation to set a good example in grooming.

Children are the most observant creatures in the world. A little girl doesn't have to be very old to observe: "If Mommy doesn't have to brush her hair and look pretty, why do I?"

And it doesn't take much time or effort to put one's best face forward in the community. It really requires only the will. This should be quickly mastered if one would consider that the housewife who doesn't groom for her job is putting a low estimate on its importance.

The housewife's morning ritual should be the same as the career woman's. Before the rest of the family appears for breakfast she should take time to don a crisp house dress or brunch coat, to arrange her hair and to put on her lipstick neatly. Once the habit is established, it will require less time to do than it takes to tell.

Prerequisite to good grooming is dressing for the job. When heavy work is in order, the best outfit to wear is one that will stand up to the task. A coverall apron that can be quickly shed when the doorbell rings has proved popular with many housewives; it keeps that crisp house dress crisp right through the day.

When she is doing house cleaning, it is wise to protect her hair from dust. A head covering that can be worn loosely so as not to crush the hair flat and that can be removed easily is the best choice.

Whatever work plan the housewife has outlined for the day, she should take time out in the afternoon for a bit of relaxation. Then, after washing her face thoroughly, applying fresh make-up and combing or brushing her hair, she'll approach the remainder of the work with new zest.

After all, nothing beats the knowledge that she is looking well for keeping up a woman's interest in whatever she is doing.

Honey-Blonde Briton Seeks To Crash Canadian TV Field

By MURIEL NARRAWAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—Joan Bell, 26, presents a contrast to the steady one-way traffic of Canadian hopefuls seeking places in London's entertainment world.

The honey-blonde Briton, a television stage manager, wants to try her hand in Canada.

"Now's the time to get into the technical side of TV and drama over there," said Miss Bell, echoing a confidence in the future of Canadian entertainment that is being expressed more and more frequently here.

Thus, after five years as a TV stage manager, the China-born miss sails this month—with high hopes.

TV prospects are first on her list. But her real aim is to find a job as instructor-producer in drama schools so that "I'd be learning about Canadians and their approach to drama while I was working."

Equipped with a two-year acting course at the same school that trained Sir Laurence Olivier, the grey-eyed Miss Bell can look back on a year in bit parts in the west end.

"But I decided I wasn't cut out for a great actress," she said.

She studied stage management for six months and was lucky enough to walk straight into a television stage manager's job as assistant to producer Royston Morley, now head of the BBC's TV production school. Under Morley she was responsible for the stage settings of such TV plays as "Richard II," "Henry V" and "The Guilty Party."

Miss Bell has met many Canadian actors while working on TV productions — but so far she's missed Toronto's Alvin Rakoff, now a London producer. It is possible, however, that Miss Bell will meet Rakoff aboard the Queen Mary, Feb. 3—if she gets a berth. Rakoff is going to Canada for a holiday before returning for further work with the BBC.

The first few weeks of Miss Bell's Canadian residence will be spent at the Toronto home of her elder brother Alan Bell, a director of a machine tool company. A younger brother, Ronald, 20, went to Canada about two months ago.

Miss Bell is the last to migrate of her family's younger generation. Her parents, now running a London hotel, may follow their sons and daughter to Canada, later.

JOHN NIAGARA Talks about:

EXTRA MONEY— would it help you RIGHT NOW?

This is the time of the month when bills come in bunches. Our own experience is that the postman occasionally brings a few too many . . . but there just isn't enough in the pay envelope to cover every bill. If you are in the same fix, then . . . how would you like to get yours cleared away? Well, you can—with a Niagara loan. We've a choice of loan plans at Niagara and many people can borrow up to $1500. Payment plans, up to 24 months, give you time to get back on your feet. Your family is protected because your loan is covered by a life-insurance policy, that costs you not one penny extra. But that's not the only plus you get at Niagara for, if you compare, you'll find that on many amounts our rates are lower. Niagara loan is a clean-cut way of looking after too many bills instead of just worrying about them. If a Niagara loan would help you put your budget back in shape . . . just drop in or call.

Only this one toilet tissue is fine and firm and soft —like Kleenex tissues

When you choose Delsey*, you're choosing the wonderful, *Kleenex kind of quality you'll find in no other toilet tissue. For only Delsey—like soft, strong Kleenex—gives you such luxurious softness: absorbent and extra firm (double-ply!) as you'd expect, with quality such as this. Ask for Delsey at your favourite store. If Delsey is not on hand, have them order it for you.

Tears clean at a touch!

No shredding, no waste with Delsey. It's "clean-cut" (a Delsey exclusive), so tear evenly, last longer!

A FAMILY AFFAIR—Mrs. Bessie Taylor, of Edmonton, a suburb of London, England, mother of the well-known quads, has her hands full with the addition of twins born to her last September. Fortunately, the quads, now five years old, are always on hand to give her some help and are seen assisting at the "weighing in" ceremony at the twins' bedtime. Annette does the weighing as Paul, Kevin and Robert look on. Twins are named Gary and Armanda.

Simple Foods Elegant Fare When Prepared With Care

In a certain city far, far away from where we are lives a lady who writes that she reads this column faithfully—not to read my words of wisdom (?) so much but for any chance reference I might make to my sister Peady.

In our family there are a variety of opinions about being used as guinea pigs for my food column. Peter and Marianne do a minimum of cooking and a maximum of tasting and get into the act often, much to their delight. eady does a maximum of cooking but seldom is mentioned here because—well she doesn't want to be a character—in print that is.

Today is Peady's birthday and I am taking liberties.

This lady to whom I refer—initials E. McI.—would love to know about the dinner Peady served to us last night, because in years gone by when they both lived in Montreal often she was a guest in Peady's gracious home. There is always candlelight, a crackling wood fire, excellent food—but best of all—Fun.

It was zero last night outside but inside we were toasting warm and starving hungry, for it was 7:30 p.m. and none of us had finished our work in time to dine earlier.

When we sat down to dinner it was certainly worth waiting for.

Oyster Stew
Smoked Finnan Haddie Baked In Cream Sauce
Baked Potatoes
Winter Salad
Applesauce Coffee

Simple-sounding isn't it? But when Peady does the preparing the simplest foods become elegant.

OYSTER STEW

To serve four heat in top of double boiler 2½ cups whole milk with three tablespoons very fine cracker crumbs to scalding point. Add ½ pint oysters and their juice (or one whole pint if this is to be the main dish of your meal) and two tablespoons butter, ¾ teaspoon salt, shake of pepper, and heat until oysters are fully plumped.

FINNAN HADDIE BAKED IN CREAM SAUCE

Buy finnan haddie from the thickest part of the thickest fillet you can select in the fish store. The piece Peady bought cost 75c and must have weighed between 1½ to 1¾ lbs. Make a white sauce by melting three tablespoons butter, stirring in three tablespoons flour, then 1½ cups milk until thick. Add pepper,—no salt. Place finnan haddie cut into four generous thick pieces in baking dishes for which you have a cover. Pour white sauce over. Cover. Bake at 325 deg. Fahr. about one hour. (The potatoes had been put in oven previous to the haddie, and at a higher temperature.)

WINTER SALAD

One small carrot finely shredded, ½ head lettuce coarsely shredded, ¼ Spy apple, pared and finely chopped, about ¼ of a small cucumber unpeeled but sliced in wafer-thin slices. Mayonnaise.

APPLESAUCE

Because all of us try to reduce perennially Peady makes applesauce from Spy apples, seasons it with a little cinnamon and sweetens it with two sucaryl tablets dissolved in two tablespoons warm water. We love it.

How's that for a little picture of Peady at play, Eva?

DOROTHY DIX

Wife Refuses Leave Home To Live In Another Town

DEAR MISS DIX: I've been married 15 years and have four wonderful children. I love my wife dearly, and she loves me. Three years ago I came to this state because I had been told my chances of getting a good job here were promising. I got a fine job almost immediately, and have held it since. I see my family on an average of twice a month and have been trying to establish a home for them here. My wife agreed that when I had a house, she and and the children would move into it. Six months ago I bought a nice house. My wife came out, looked over the place, decided on her decorating scheme, but a week later, when I went to make arrangements for the moving, she refused to leave. She's always lived in the same city. Now she wants me to quit my job, return the furniture I bought and go back to her home town to work. I know the employment situation there isn't too hopeful. I am so worried about the whole mess that I can't eat or sleep.

BARRY D.

ANSWER: Since you are the breadwinner of the family, you must go where you can find the most congenial and lucrative employment. Your wife's place is with you. After all, she's not being asked to move to the far corners of the earth, but just from one state to an adjoining one.

Clinging so tenaciously to the scenes of her early years isn't being realistic or grown-up. It also shows a complete lack of imagination and self-reliance. Most young women (and your wife, at 33, is still a young woman) get pleasure seeing new things and new places. Even when a move meant, as it has to so many service wives, a change to inferior living quarters, minus conveniences, the girls went cheerfully.

WIFE SHOWING BAD JUDGMENT

Your wife is risking her future, the happiness of her children, and certainly your welfare, by refusing to move. Your children are at an age when they need Dad most. She could at least have the grace to try a new life. Your family has been separated too much in the past three years; your present mode of living, if continued too long will end in a complete loss of family harmony and unity. Use every argument you can muster, enlist the cooperation of the children, who are quite willing to be transferred, and break down the barriers that are keeping your lady and children away from you.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: A few days ago my brother brought some boys home from school. We were standing on the stoop when one of them, an impudent lad, kissed me. I had never seen him before. My steady happended to be walking down the street, witnessed the incident, then went home and wrote me a note asking me to return his ring. What can I do to make him realize the truth?

Millicent

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWWER: Write, telling him exactly what happened, and offering to get corroboration from your brother, if necessary. Judging just from what he saw, you can't blame the young man for feeling hurt. I hope you're successful in making your steady forget the incident.

DEAR MISS DIX: I'm a high-school freshman, and I like a boy who works in a neighborhood store. I often talk to him when mother sends me on errands, but can't get him interested in me personally. Maisie

ANSWER: Try to keep in mind, Maisie, that the young man is working at the store. If you continue to take up his time with idle chatter, it will make a very poor impression on the boss. Remember, also, that a boy, who is going to school and working, hasn't too much time for social life. He probably has home responsibilities, also. Maybe you should take on more work at home instead of spending so much time at the local grocer. Continue to be pleasant to the boy, and in time he may become interested in you.

5 To Represent Canada At Conferences

TORONTO (CP)—The Canadian Association of Adult Education today named five education leaders to represent Canada at a series of educational conferences in Europe this summer.

They are Charles Topshee of Halifax, assistant director of the division of adult education in the Nova Scotia department of education; Fernand Jolicoeur of Quebec, president of La Societe Canadianne d'Education des Adultes and director of the Canadian and Catholic Confederation of Labor; A. L. Hepworth of Montreal and Ottawa, vice-president of The Canadian Film Institute and assistant director of the education and welfare department of the Canadian Congress of Labor; Mrs. Isabel Wilson of Toronto, author, editor and radio commentator; and Dr. John Friesen of Vancouver, director of the extension department of the University of British Columbia.

SPEND THREE WEEKS

The delegates will accompany a delegation from the United States and will spend three weeks in Britain conferring with officials in universities, departments of education and voluntary societies. They will also visit western European countries, conferring with adult education officials there.

The Canadians will give full reports to European leaders on documentary film distribution and use, study groups for farmers, trade unionists and fishermen, radio discussion groups and classes for the foreign-born.

Left Accident Man Fined $30

Archibald Erchman, 70, R.R. 1, a charge of leaving the scene of Fraserville, was found guilty on an accident last April, and fined $30 and $8.50 costs in court today. Also involved in the accident was James Quinn, 35, of 484 Glengarry Ave.

Although Erchman did not appear this morning to answer the charge, Quinn and Constable Victor McConnell gave evidence against him.

According to Quinn, he was driving south on Park St. when Erchman's car struck his on the rear fender. Quinn gave Constable McConnell the second vehicle's licence number and the officer went to the accused's home, 14 miles southwest of Peterborough, where Erchman admitted the offence.

About $25 damage was caused to Quinn's vehicle.

Police Suspect Arson In Woodshed Fire

TORONTO (CP)—Fire authorities today investigated the possibility of arson in a fire which started in a woodshed behind two frame houses in central Toronto Saturday.

Two young mothers whose husbands were away at the time rushed their five children into the freezing weather and snow, clad only in night attire.

Police decided to investigate the fire when both Mrs. Coulson and Mrs. Howard Wilson, occupants of the house, reported seeing a prowler on several occasions.

Firemen confined the blaze to the shed and part of the kitchen of the Coulson home.

Fireman Struck By Wood Beam

HAMILTON (CP) — A fire of undetermined origin gutted a storage annex to the melt shop at the Dominion Foundries and Steel Company, on Depew Street, early today. A fireman was injured when a wooden beam struck him on the head.

Lt. Daniel L. Reid was reported in fairly good condition, suffering from concussion.

Arthur Redburn, chief security officer at the plant, said the building was used to store carbon electrodes for the furnaces, and bricks.

Watchman Ronald Jaster found smoke pouring from the building while making his rounds about 6:40 a. m.

Seven fire department companies fought the flames for more than an hour before bringing them under control.

Company officials said they did not think the loss would be too great. Production will not be affected.

Cat-Nip

Into the glass goes the paw . . .

. . . and out comes some milk.

CAT-"NIP" — This cat, belonging to H. William, of Houston, Tex., knows what he's after —especially when there's milk around. If Tabby finds a glass, he's too shrewd to dump the liquid on the floor. Instead, he dips his paw into the glass and then relays milk to his mouth.

John L. Lewis Been Quiet On Strike Front

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP)— John L. Lewis hasn't called any big coal strikes lately but that doesn't mean he's losing his grip.

In fact, the president of the United Mine Workers, the man chiefly responsible for engineering the surge in labor union membership in the 30s, is busier than ever.

Lewis, who will be 74 Feb. 12, wears his years lightly. He is up to his fluffy eyebrows in a wide variety of affairs, some of which seem to have little to do with problems of the coal miners.

Four months have gone by without Lewis exercising his option to negotiate new wage rates for the miners. How long he'll wait before starting a new pay boost campaign, nobody knows. It may depend on whether there is any pickup in the lagging coal business.

There are some rumors that Lewis may team up with David J. McDonald, president of the million-member CIO steelworkers union, for a joint pay increase drive in the coal and steel industries. Steel contracts expire at mid-year.

While biding his time, Lewis is interesting himself in other affairs. One is his current backing of the Internatonal Longshoremen's Association in its New York waterfront war with a new AFL union with the same name.

CLOSE TO EATON

A man often figuring in Lewis' plans is Cyrus Eaton, the Nova Scotia-born Cleveland financier. About six months ago, Eaton acquired a controlling interest in the West Kentucky Coal Company, the largest non-union coal firm in the United States. Now the company is negotiating for a contract with Lewis' UMW and an agreement is expected soon.

There have been rumors among some mine owners that Lewis put up money with Eaton in this venture, but there is no evidence and well-placed sources consider it extremely unlikely.

Lewis is chief trustee of the UMW health and welfare fund, financed by mine owners. When money began accumulating in the fund—the reserve now is $100,000,000—its investment became a problem.

So the UMW bought an interest and deposited a large amount of the fund's reserves in the National Bank of Washington. Lewis' brother, A. D. Lewis, and the UMW's chief counsel, Welly K. Hopkins, became directors of the bank. Barnum L. Colton became the bank's president.

The other day when Robert R. Young surrendered control over the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, a large coal carrier, the man taking over was Eaton. Named as a new director of the C. and O. In the shake-up was Colton.

Woman Magistrate

EMSWORTH, England (CP)—Toronto-born Mrs. Margery E. Weekes, daughter of the late R. P. Ormsby, one-time secretary of the Canadian National Railways, has been appointed justice of the peace for Hampshire. Mrs. Weekes, who came to England in 1928, is also a member of the county council and president of the local British Legion women's section.

New Cotton Variety

KARACHI, Pakistan (CP) — A new variety of American cotton has been developed at the cotton experimental centre at Murpur Khas. The variety gives a greater turnout of seed cotton an acre and has a longer staple. It is being tested in five cotton growing areas.

Found Guilty Of Theft Put On Probation

Douglas Gallagher, 25, of 137 Stewart St., was placed on two years' suspended sentence today on a charge of stealing gasoline. Last Monday, Ronald Bye, 19, R.R. 4, Peterborough, was convicted on the same charge, laid January 19.

Bye was fined $52.50. Gallagher had been remanded a week for sentence and today was placed on suspended sentence. He had no previous record.

Prelate Praises Eisenhower's Religious Life

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's religious observances have brought him praise from a Roman Catholic prelate for giving a good example.

The President, a Presbyterian, yesterday attended the traditional "red mass" at St. Matthew's cathedral here. The service, named for the color of the vestments worn, is conducted annually to invoke divine guidance in the administration of justice and conduct of government generally. Eisenhower was the first President to attend while in office.

Msgr. John K. Cartwright referred in his sermon to the heavy duties of the presidency and continued:

"To them you have added that of giving your fellow countrymen a good example in paying homage —and not only on this Sunday— to the God 'who hath made and preserved us as a nation.'"

Ballet Arrives In Top Condition

TORONTO (CP) — The Royal Winnipeg Ballet, 24 strong, arrived here today filled with goodwill and good health.

In the pink of condition again were the company's principal ballerinas, Eva von Gencsy and Jean Stoneham, whose illness— a sudden attack of influenza—last week caused the ballet's cancellation of an engagement in Sudbury.

The appearance there was to have been sponsored by the Communist-led International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers. When the Winnipeg company bowed out of its date on short notice, the union voiced strong disapproval, claiming an advance sale of 2,000 tickets.

The company is scheduled to perform tonight in suburban Etobicoke.

Board Cancels Liquor Licences

TORONTO (CP) — Suspension of two licences for two weeks effective today was announced by the Ontario liquor licence board.

The Paris public house, Sudbury, lost its licence for serving beer to intoxicated persons and for double servings of beer.

The licence of the Hollywood tavern, Humber Bay, was suspended for irregularities including permitting intoxication, permitting spirits to be brought upon the premises, service of beer to patrons after hours and service of beer without food.

The board also announced reclassification of the Plaza Arms tavern, Windsor, as a hotel.

British Coffee Prices Have Held Firm

LONDON (Reuters) — Coffee drinkers in North America may sneer at the way coffee is made in Britain, but they must admit British coffee has one good feature —the price.

The Londoner still pays the same price he did a year ago.

A top brand of coffee in Britain retails for about eight shillings ($1.) a pound in vacuum packed cans, a rise of six pence (10 cents) in the last 18 months. Cheaper brands sell at about four shillings.

Coffee is being drunk in Britain at the rate of two cups for every one consumed in pre-war years. But the rise in British consumption appears to have passed its peak. Further, the trend is toward quick-service coffee preparations which take less of the raw material.

Bulk-buying is the major reason for the stability of coffee prices in Britain. Britain buys most of its coffee from Africa under long-term contracts, most of it coming from Uganda and Kenya. The big increases in the price of Brazilian and Central American coffees have scarcely made a ripple here.

The Coffee Buyers Association here says there is no reason to believe basic retail prices for coffee will change substantially during the next few months. Long-term contracts made by the British ministry of food with East African producers during the war, at favorable prices, recently were adjusted and extended to next June.

Early Birds

REGINA (CP)—Fifteen-year-old Sandra West has been first in line for bicycle licences here for the last three years. This year her sister, Sue, obtained the second licence issued. And her grandmother was the first applicant for a dog licence.

Students Hang Effigies Outside Hall

TORONTO (CP) — University of Toronto students hung effigies of Dr. James Endicott and the "Red Dean" of Canterbury outside Massey Hall here Sunday night, when Dr. Endicott was addressing a congress of support for negotiated peace rally inside.

Both the demonstration and meeting proceeded peacefully and police had no trouble keeping order.

The effigies were hung from a scaffold built on the back of a truck and were the work of students, members of the Association for the Liberation of the Ukraine in Canada, U. of T. branch.

In addition the students passed out leaflets describing the peace congress as operated by communists. Dr. Endicott is chairman of the Canadian Peace Congress.

The Dean of Canterbury, Dr. Hewlett Johnson, has often been accused of Communist sympathies.

Meanwhile, inside the hall delegates to the meeting adopted a resolution calling on the Canadian government to join with other countries in a declaration not to use atomic weapons.

The resolution described Canada as "particularly vulnerable" in the event of atomic war.

Air Conditioning For Big Four

BERLIN (Reuters) — The atmosphere for Big Four talks in the Soviet embassy is better than it was in west Berlin—thanks at least to air conditioning, the East German press said today.

It said sessions in East Berlin would prove far more pleasant than in the stuffy allied control building in the American sector.

"The delegations will notice the improvement—if they have not already been ruined by conditions in the allied control building," said the newspaper Rundschau am Montag.

Man Admits Driving While Impaired, Fined

Pleading guilty to charges of driving while impaired and driving without a licence, Bernard O'Brien, 28, of 505 Indian Cr., was fined $90 on the two charges by Magistrate W. R. Philp, QC, this morning.

The charges arose out of an accident Sunday when O'Brien's car swerved into another vehicle on Armour Rd., causing damage of $750.

The fines were $75 and costs on the impaired charge and $10 on the licence charge.

Caused Disturbance Three Men Fined

Three men were fined in magistrate's court today when they appeared on charges of causing a disturbance. They were Donald Brant, 21, of 227 Prince St., Alfred Cameron, 49, of 738 Stewart St., and Donald McMaster, 36, of 230½ Charlotte St.

Brant was fined $20 and costs, Cameron $15 and costs, and McMaster $10 and costs.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS —By Merrill Blosser

Violenec, Bloodshed Marks Line Between Two States

By LYNN HEINTZERLING

JERUSALEM (AP) — The 1954 shepherd in the Holy Land carries a rifle instead of the traditional crook.

Violence and bloodshed mock the armistice line that separates Israel and her Arab neighbors. What lies ahead for this ancient land, which has known so much bloodshed?

Dr. Raif Aballama, acting secretary-general of the Arab League retary-general of the Arab League in Cairo, chose his words carefully: "I do not believe there is a king or president in the Arab countries who could even propose peace with Israel. He would be overthrown in 24 hours."

A high Israeli official, who requested anonymity, said: "The prospects of peace are nil."

There has been no true peace since the establishment of Israel as a homeland for the Jews in 1948 plunged the Middle East into a brief war.

REPEATED VIOLATIONS

The armistice achieved by United Nations mediator Dr. Ralph Bunche in the spring of 1949 has been violated repeatedly by both occurrence.

More than 800,000 refugees Palestinian Arabs, driven, enticed or frightened into flight in 1948, still sit in sullen despair on or near the borders of the new state.

Designed for a short period between the cease-fire and the final peace which did not come, the armistice line does curious things to its neighbors. It cuts off wells from Arab villages, separates owners from orange and olive groves, leaves some villages without mosques or schools and, in a few cases cuts through villages, dividing fathers and sons.

Among the boulders of a wind-swept Jordanian hillside not far from Kibya is the United Nations refugee camp of Deir Ammar. From the tents in which they have been living for more than five years, 2,464 Arab refugees there look out on the plain southeast of Tel Aviv where formerly they and their forefathers owned or cultivated the land. Most of them are within 10 miles of their former homes.

The women each day walk barefoot to the only spring in the area, two miles down a steep hill and into the valley, and bring back tins of water, balanced on their heads.

"We think about our homes during the day and dream about them at night," one of the refugees said.

868,350 ON ROLL

There were 868,350 persons on the United Nations relief agency ration roll at the end of the year. The international community has provided $121,000,000 dollars for the relief of refugees in the last five years. Arab governments and refugee spokesmen have expressed little praise or gratitude.

All Arab leaders, in public pronouncements, demand the refugees be returned to their homes as one of the conditions for even discussing peace.

In a 1948 resolution of the General Assembly, the United Nations also supported repatriation. But in the five years since, more than 600,000 Jewish immigrants have arrived in Israel. Many an Arab refugee would not recognize his old village. Rural settlements have sprung up all over Israel.

Few, if any, Middle East observers expect full-scale fight to break out in the near future. Israel is busy with her development program. The Arabs are counting on wiping out Israel with their economic boycott.

All trade with Israel is banned by the Arab countries and there is a developing secondary boycott of foreign firms which establish branches in Israel.

LONG SIEGE

The end of the war found the Arab Legion in occupation of the old walled city of Jerusalem — where the major religious shrines of three religions are located—and a small slice of the remainder of the city. The Israeli forces, after a long siege, held on to the major part of the city with the principal business and residential districts. The 1948 United Nations resolution setting up an international regime for the city never has been put into force.

Israel has moved many of her government offices to Jerusalem. The foreign office is here although, with the exception of the Dutch legation and Greek consulate-general, the foreign diplomatic missions are sitting tight in Tel Aviv, refusing to recognize Jerusalem as the capital.

The Arab League's highly pessimistic views on the prospects of peace are based on one of the elemental political facts of life in the Arab world today. Assassins struck down King Abdullah of Jordan in 1951 for negotiating with Israel. Since then no Arab leader has dared to make a conciliatory move.

SNOW FLOES—These may look like ice floes in False Creek in the downtown part of Vancouver which calls itself the evergreen plaground. Actually they are big chunks of snow left in the creek when snow-removal trucks dumped their loads. Vancouver shared British Columbia's record 14-day cold spell and had 30 inches of snow.—(CP Photo).

Many Old Grads

MONTREAL (CP)—McGill University's half-century club now has about 600 members who gained their degrees 50 years ago or more. The two veteran graduates are William Lighthall of Montreal and Dr. William McClure of Toronto, who won BA degrees in 1879.

OLD TRADER

A concession to mine gold in Nova Scotia was granted by Louis XIV in 1654 to the French trader, Nicolas Denys.

Lakefield United Church Reports Successful Year

LAKEFIELD (ENS) — A successful years was shown by the encouraging reports presented from all departments of Lakefield United church at their annual meeting and congregational dinner in the Sunday school rooms.

The Rev. H. C. Wolfraim was chairman. He expressed his pleasure at seeing so many of the congregation present and also at the splendid reports of the year's work.

The report of the church treasurer, John Harrison, showed total receipts to be $7,482.09. Mr. Harrison is retiring this year as treasurer, and Mrs. W. W. Leonard was appointed to replace him. Mrs. Leonard will also be the treasurer of the Missionary and Missionary fund.

The report of the M and M fund by Mrs. Leonard showed an increase over the previous year. Last year's receipts totalled $2,437.80.

REPORTS

Other reports were that of the Women's Association, given by Mrs. P. H. Darling, who reported total receipts to be $1,097.94; the Women's Missionary Society, by Mrs. H. J. Brown, with total receipts $497.47: the Mission Band, presented by Mrs. G. L. Poole, showing receipts of $92.84.

Mrs. Clarence V. Coons reported receipts from the Missionary and Service club to be $1,413.97. The Sunday school report, by Mrs. S. A. Grylls, showed $696.31 for the general fund and $201.98 for the M. and M. fund.

Mrs. T. E. Rath reported receipts for the choir as $15.63. Dr. L. O. Bailey gave the report from the Young Adult Society, showing receipts of $430.56.

The CGIT raised a total of $131.83 during the year. Mrs. Neil Wood, leader, gave this report. The Young Peoples' Union, which was only reorganized in October, 1953, had receipts of $14.59.

The building fund, which had been used towards the extensive renovation of the church, was closed out, with all bills paid, and a small balance left over, which was placed in the general fund.

The report of session, given by Mrs. W. H. Fife, showed 10 members received on profession of faith and 16 by transfer of membership. There were nine removed from the roll by transfer and six by death. The total on the roll is 466. Of these, 56 are non-resident members.

The Session recommended that their membership be increased to 16 members, that Ivan Madill be appointed a new member for a term of 5 years and that Mrs. H. J. Brown, Sherman Northey and William Fairbairn be re-appointed for five years.

A further recommendation suggested that last year's slate of ushers, with the addition of Gordon Blake, H. Maidment, Ken Darling and Peter Leonard, remain the same for 1954.

APPOINTMENTS

In giving the report of the board of stewards, Neil C. Wood recommtnded the re-appointment of S. E. Richardson, Earl Edwards and George Graham. All these recommendations were approved by the meeting.

Miss Irene Darling was re-appointed Observer representative. It was decided not to have the every member plan.

The question of purchasing a public address system for the church was discussed and the matter left for the consideration of the trustee board, who will also look into the question of renovating the choir loft.

A vote of appreciation to the choir was moved by Mrs. L. O. Bailey, who especially mentioned the Cantata given at Christmas.

During the evening the congregation enjoyed a solo by Mrs. Raymond Jackman, a trio by Mrs. T. Payton, Anne Wolfrain and Betty Jane Rath and a piano duet by Mrs. Rath and Miss Wolfraim.

Dinner was served to members of the congregation prior to the meeting by the Missionary and Service club.

Guiana Missionary Speaks At Norwood

NORWOOD (ENS)— The two missionary groups of Norwood Presbyterian church met at the home of Mrs. Harry Morgan for their first thankoffering meeting of the year.

Mrs. I. Sexsmith conducted the meeting. A violin solo was played by Miss Shirley Davey, accompanied by Mrs. L. Burtt at the piano.

Mrs. R. Duncanson introduced the guest speaker, the Rev. John Elder, a missionary on furlough from British Guiana. Mr. Elder was previously the minister of Milverton Presbyterian church for 11 years and has been in British Guiana for 12 years.

He told about the work of the missionaries in that country. They supervise many schools. In this way they teach Christianity to the children and reach the parents through children.

He told about the influences of Communism in British Guiana and emphasized that all Christian people must work harder to keep the belief in Communism from spreading to these illiterate people.

Mr. Elder showed lantern slides which he had taken himself.

Mrs. William Golloher thanked the speaker for his talk, also Mrs. Morgan for opening her home for the meeting and the ladies who served the refreshments.

Two Fliers Found Safe

ST. FELICIEN, Que. (CP)—Two men lost Wednesday on a flight from St. Felicien, Que., to Lake Nitchequon, 325 miles north of this lake St. John town, were reported safe Sunday.

Officials of Boreal Airways, owners of the ski-equipped Beaver aircraft, said the plane was located Saturday on Lake William, 280 miles north of here.

They said names of the men would not be released until next-of-kin are notified.

The single-engined aircraft took off Wednesday morning to fly supplies north for other company aircraft.

WI Bake Sale, Bingo Yield Total Of $62

HAVELOCK (ENS) — Despite stormy weather, the bake sale Saturday afternoon and the bingo Saturday evening sponsored by the Belmont Women's Institute in the Legion Hall, Havelock, were successful events. Total proceeds were $62.85.

At the home cooking sale, the large display was quickly sold.

The bingo was under the direction of Robert Wrightly. A draw was held for a three-layer cake made by Mrs. Randal Vansickle. The winner was Mrs. Robert Hart of Toronto. Proceeds from the draw were $7.95.

The president of the WI, Mrs. William Harris, welcomed the guests on both occasions.

Want Federal Aid For Higher Learning

HAMILTON (CP)—A week-long campaign to press for federal aid to higher learning will be undertaken by the National Federation of Canadian University Students Feb. 8.

Delegates to a week-end regional conference at McMaster University Sunday went ahead with plans to seek support for implementation of certain recommendations of the Massey report, dealing with federal scholarships and loan funds to aid university students financially.

Fifteen delegates from eight colleges and universities held two-day talks and among the decisions were plans to continue and enlarge their national short story-writing, art and photography contests.

Former Lacrosse Player

BRANTFORD (CP)—Hugh Robert Howie, 84, prominent in business, fraternal and sports circles here for more than 50 years, died Friday in hospital. A native of Brantford, he played for the Brantford lacrosse team when it reached the zenith of its glory at the beginning of the century.

Editor Dies

Three Years Ago Exercise Limited To 150 Feet

Can Do 10 Miles In Bush Suffers No Angina Pains

This is the last in a series of stories about a revolutionary surgical procedure originated and developed by Dr. Arthur Vineberg, Montreal surgeon, for treatment of coronary artery disease an l related angina pectoris.

By W. R. WHEATLEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL (CP) — More than three years ago D. M., an oilfield worker, placed himself in the hands of Dr. Arthur Vineberg to undergo an operation whereby D.M.'s internal mammary artery would be placed within his heart muscle.

D. M. was a sufferer from angina pectoris, the painful manifestation of diseased coronary arteries. He had difficulty in breathing and suffered from fatigue. His exercise tolerance was limited to 150 feet, walking. He had been unable to work for seven months. Nowadays he can do 10 miles in the bush and suffers no anginal pain.

The operation he underwent is known as the internal mammary artery implant. This surgical procedure was pioneered and developed by Dr. Vineberg. The Montreal surgeon bridges over a diseased artery with the one he has detached from the chest wall in order to supply the heart muscle with needed blood.

AN EARLY PATIENT

D. M. was one of the first patients to undergo this new surgical procedure designed to bypass a diseased artery. Up to the present the operation has been carried out on 25 patients. Among the earliest cases three patients died. All knew their condition was hopeless at the time but insisted on the operation in desperation. All three suffered anginal pain while at complete rest without even any inciting emotional cause.

Detailed case histories of the 11 other early patients show all had anginal pain under various conditions but no angina at rest. All had been incapacitated before surgery; none was working.

Although two patients had large areas of infarction—a scar-tissue condition in the heart muscle from lack of blood supply—there was still some muscle left to revascularize. Both of these patients have done well.

One case among the 11 was considered a failure. This man suffered pain as severe as before the operation. Examination indicated there was not enough slack in the transplanted internal mammary artery to allow for movement of respiration and the artery most likely became thombosed.

RETURNED TO HOSPITAL

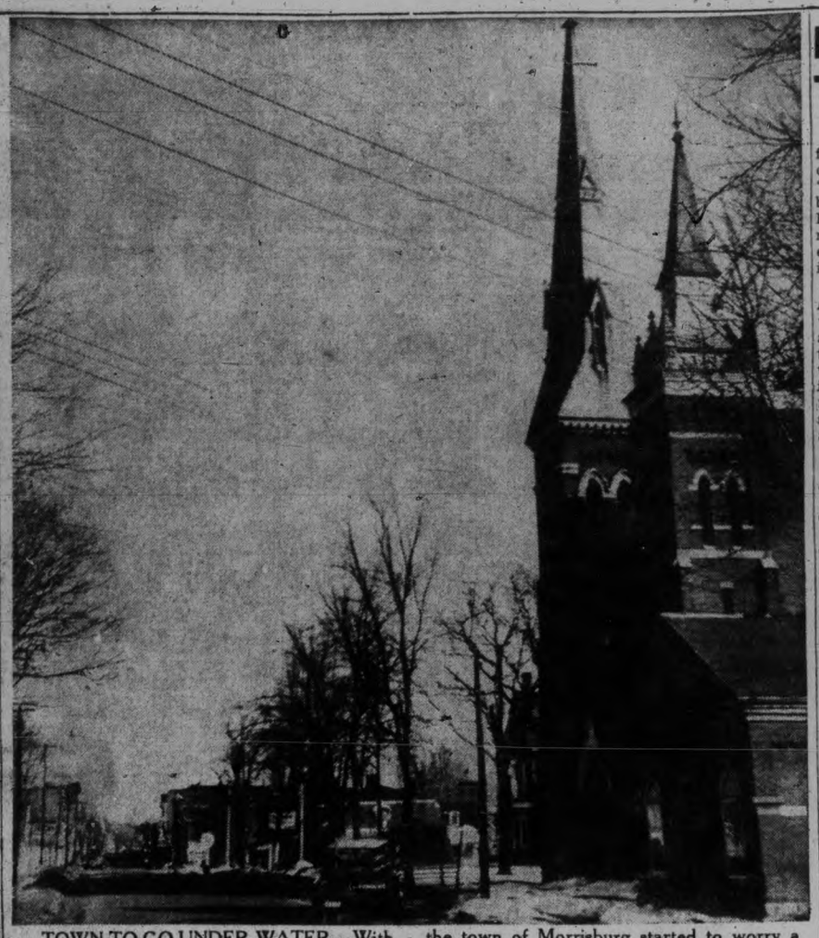
S. E., a 57-year-old electrician, had a large area of infarction and was totally incapacitated. He was operated on in March, 1952. He returned to work in September, 1952, feeling fine. In May, 1953, he developed severe chest pain and returned to hospital for what appeared to be an attack of infarction. It turned out to be coronary artery occlusion (blockage) without infarction. He returned to work in July, 1953, and is still working. His electrocardiogram shows no change since operation.

In a heart such as this man's—without internal mammary artery implant—death, or at least infarction, might have occurred, reports Dr. Vineberg.

L. G. M., a 39-year-old physician, had been disabled for two years. He suffered marked fatigue, in addition to anginal pain, and there were two previous infarctions. His exercise tolerance was 50 feet. A check eight months after operation showed no anginal pain, his exercise tolerance was a mile and he was taking a post-graduate course.

C. A., a 55-year-old machinist, had been incapacitated two years. He now can put in 16 hours a day. He has anginal pain only after strenuous exercise.

Reports on two other cases show slight or occasional pain. The remainder of the patients have been without anginal pain, as indicated in check-up periods ranging from three months to three years after the operation.



TOWN TO GO UNDER WATER—With the United States Senate passing the St. Lawrence Seaway bill the inland waterway came a step nearer reality, and the people of the town of Morrisburg started to worry a little more for the whole town on Highway No. 2 about 110 miles from Montreal will be flooded by the newly planned waterway. —(Federal Newsphotos).

Doubt Britain To Boost Trade With Red China

LONDON (OFNS) — No ground for expecting any substantial increase in British trade with China "in the foreseeable future" can be found by the Federation of British Industries, according to the report recently issued by the Federation after a careful investigation.

A similar request by the China Association has led to the same verdict. Interested propagandists assert that Seventy-Five million to one hundred million pounds worth of trade with China is waiting to be picked up by British manufacturers. The F.B.I. considers such an amount to be far above what China could sustain.

China undoubtedly needs much heavy machinery, machine tool and hydro-electric plants for her industrialization program. The question is how can she pay for them with the agricultural products which, with antimony, wolfram and tin are her main exports.

In 1936, the year before the Japanese invasion of China, when the Nationalist Government was at the height of its prosperity, China sold Britain 1,200 tons of bristles; last year, including Hong Kong shipments, only 291 tons. She sold Britain 44,800 tons of dried and liquid eggs in 1936, against 1,500 tons last year. British purchases of wood oil from China went up from 3,780 tons in 1936 to 10,021 tons (again including that via Hong Kong) last year. But British imports of wolfram, antimony (5,080 tons in 1936) and tin appear to have ceased altogether.

The value of all Britain's imports from China in 1936 was £6,576,000, equivalent at today's prices to about £28 million; while her exports to China that year were worth £6,570,000, say £32,850,000 at today's prices.

Comparable figures in the first ten months of 1953 — at today's values — are £7,806,819 for imports and £5,084,781 for exports. Even if the volume of the 1936 trade could be recovered it is still far short of the £75 to £100 millions predicted by the optimists.

During the past five years, when imports from China could not be depended on, substitutes or suppliers from other sources have been found for her produce.

Recently a leading British firm was offered a consignment of China's eggs, but refused, having contracted for all the eggs it required elsewhere.

The question is also asked what purchasing power China will have after fulfilling her trade agreements with the Soviet Union (with whom seventy-two per cent of her trade is now done) and the rest of the Soviet bloc.

Albania's Top Capitalist Killed In New Year's Purge

TRIESTE (OFNS). — Pilo Peristeri, the richest member of the Cominform regime in Albania and nicknamed "Communist Albania's Number One capitalist," was shot dead by his own comrades during the New Year's purge in which more than 30 Albanian state and party officials are said to have been involved. According to a refugee who has just arrived here in a fishing craft, the situation in Tirana, the country's capital, still resembles life in a besieged fortress: There is a 12-hour curfew in force, and every second man in the street is either a soldier or a policeman. Camouflaged among the few civilians there is another large percentage of secret government agents. Food is scarce, and no one may enter or leave the town without a special permit.

The source says Peristeri faced a firing squad early this month, accused of being "one of the American-paid conspirators to overthrow the regime." But in reality he met his fate because he pocketed too much for himself while engaged in organizing black market deals for the Tirana Government and the Russians. He was chief Albanian purchaser of strategic goods and materials on the black markets in Italy and Switzerland, and his private bank accounts in Western countries are reliably reported to be holding comfortable four and five figure funds.

DONE FOR SOVIETS

Most of the deals were done for Soviet accounts, but Tirana expected some hard currency commissions for lending its "good offices." These commissions were unduly affected by the extra profits Peristeri thought to exact for his own good offices.

Before the war Peristeri was a poor village school teacher, but he found himself well placed when Albania was finally "liberated" and attached to the Cominform; he had been one of the Albanian Communist Party's founders, and remained faithful throughout its many years of difficult underground activities when Italy's Mussolini dominated Albania.

This brought him into profitable jobs when the Russians arrived and started to exploit the country. Peristeri started for them as a district commissioner, controlling deliveries of hides and other agricultural supplies demanded by Moscow.

SENT TO DEATH

Ruthlessly prosecuting his fellow countrymen as "traitors," and sending them to slave labor camps and even to death as "enemies of the regime" when they fell short of their target quotas, he always managed to deliver more to the Russians than they had expected and demanded. So he quickly won their confidence and won himself better positions as well.

One of these positions concerned the smuggling of Albanian products into Greece to obtain drachme for the Russians which they needed for their secret service activities in that country. This provided Peristeri with his first private profits. He took "commission" on every deal he made.

Later, Peristeri was attached to a Cominform "trade" department engaged in collecting funds for espionage activities by means of illegal deals, and once he was involved in an international drug scandal with a woman captain of the Bulgarian Razuznavatelni Otdel, or espionage organisation, but managed to escape in the nick of time. He also had a hand in attempts at kidnapping Cominform refugees in Western countries and smuggling them back home. During that time, and while conducting these unsavoury affairs, he held the position of chief Albanian delegate to the World Federation of Trade Unions,, a post specially allotted to him to afford him good cover for his clandestine activities in the West.

SET UP BANK

Finally, he was appointed to purchase strategic goods and materials through black market channels in Italy and Switzerland and to arrange for camouflaged shipments of such products eastwards. This provided him with his greatest chances: using the various false documents given him by the Cominform to facilitate his dealings with the West, he set up a number of private bank accounts under different names to hide away the substantial "commissions" he took from the deals he made for the Russians; and his profits soon assumed enormous proportions. He even started to employ his funds in stock-market dealings.

One day, however, he was himself betrayed by an Albanian refugee, whom for an unknown reason he helped to kidnap in Italy and return forcibly under drugs to Albania. This man knew more about Peristeri's activities and financial transactions on the Western side of the iron curtain than Peristeri seems to have anticipated, and more than was good for him on the Eastern side: Peristeri was arrested, and his life, with its promising career as a capitalist in a Communist country, came to a sudden end.

Comedian Hurt On TV Stage

NEW YORK (AP) — Comedian Jackie Gleason suffered a severe injury to his foot and ankle Saturday night when he slipped on a wet spot on the stage during his nationally-televised show.

A medical report showed he had a dislocation of the right foot, and all ligaments in the ankle were torn, with "separation of the ankle joint and fracture of the posterior lip of the tibia, causing a haemorrhage of the ankle." A cast was placed on his leg.

A CBS spokesman said Gleason slipped because the stage floor was wet from melted dry ice, which had been used to create steam for one of the sketches in the show.

At the time of the accident, Gleason was about to play a practical joke in a skit called "The Wedding Party," a satire on the old silent films.

Soldier Tarred By Nationalists

BELFAST (AP)—Irish Nationalists tarred and feathered a British soldier here Saturday night and chained him to a lamp post.

Around his neck they hung a sign "Kenya Black and Tans, Beware."

The soldier, Walter Mercer of Belfast, was home on leave from duty in Britain's east African colony of Kenya.

"Black and Tans" is the name the Irish gave British soldiers sent to Ireland during home rule riots in the 1920s.

Mercer was released by police and taken to hospital for treatment and removal of the tar.

The Irish Republican Army, an outlawed organization which demands independence for Northern Ireland from Britain, admitted "full responsibility" for that attack in letters to Belfast newspapers.

3 Die In Crash Man Charged

MANIWAKI, Que. (CP) — A charge of criminal negligence Saturday was laid against Eugene Julien, 24, of Val d'Or, Que., in connection with a two-truck crash 30 miles north of here Friday night in which three persons were killed.

The charge was laid against Julien following an inquest attended by Coroner J. T. l'Ecuyer of Maniwaki.

Killed were lumbermen Albini Paquette, 33, of Lac des Ecorces; Jean-Paul Abour, 28, of St. Jean sur Lac, and Roland Gareau, 24, of Grand Remoux.

The three men were riding in the cab of the truck, loaded with 20 large hardwood logs, when it smashed into the rear of a stalled truck driven by Julien.

Women's Council Plan Meeting

OTTAWA (CP)—The life members of the National Council of Women—including a few men—will meet in Toronto Feb. 16 to mark the council's 60 years of progress and plan for the years ahead.

The council, representing some 500,000 Canadian women, will be looking to a man for advice. Selected as main speaker is Senator W. Ross Macdonald, solicitor-general and government leader in the upper chamber.

The amiable senator, along with Trade Minister Howe and other distinguished Canadian men, are honorary life members of the council. Mr. Howe will not be able to attend.

Senator Macdonald says he has not picked a subject for discussion, but observing that the council is celebrating its diamond jubilee, he concluded the women will want some guidance on the future. He hopes he can be helpful.

COLLEGE GRID STAR DIES IN PRANK

Artists On TV Blacklisting Producer Of CBC

TORONTO— (CP)—Canadian television artists and announcers today imposed a union blacklisting on producer Don Hudson. Members of the Association of Canadian Radio and Television Artists AFL-TLC were advised by the union that they must not apepar in any Hudson shows on penalty of suspension from the union. The order covers singers, actors, announcers and stagehands but not musicians. The CBC operates TV stations at Toronto, Montreal and Ottawa and provides film for stations at Sudbury, London, Ont., and Vancouver.

The union blacklisting of Mr. Hudson would affect such shows as "The Big Revue" and would be effective for three months, from Feb. 1 to April 30. He was accused of "unprofessional behavior" in dealings with the artists.

Mr. Hudson is the supervisor of light entertainment for CBLT, Toronto television station. He supervises "Music Hall," "Showtime," "Holiday Ranch" and "Now's Your Chance," shows which would come under the union ban.

The ban has no connection with union negotiations with the CBC over an interim or working agreement which ends Feb. 14. It covers rates paid to individuals appearing on CBLT.

Bernard Cowan, president of ACRTA, said it has a membership of 1,900. He added that "any talks of strike action is completely unfounded and premature. We always had a good working agreement with the CBC, with the corporation providing the facilities and our association providing the artists."

WILL GIVE CBC TIME

He said he wanted "to give the CBC plenty of time to consider our proposal."

Fergus Mutrie, program director of CBLT, said it was premature to talk about a strike.

"The union," he said, "has submitted proposals and asked us to sign them by Feb. 14. These were delivered to us only yesterday."

He added that the proposals have been sent to A. D. Dunton, CBC board chairman and J. A. Ouimet, general manager, at Ottawa and "I presume the decision will be made by them."

The dispute is reported to centre over payments made to those participating in a panel discussion. The union said the panelists were not union members.

(At Ottawa Monday night the CBC said in a statement that unions of television performers proposed "major changes" in an agreement negotiated with the CBC last fall but never signed.

(The publicly - owned corporation said it has taken under study proposals on pay rates and working conditions made by the Canadian Council of Authors and Artists. The council includes the Association of Canadian Radio and Television Artists and the Union des Artistes Lyriques et Dramatique.

(The agreement was reached after eight months of negotiations last year. The CBC statement said the corporation "must study the new document as well as the change in the group.

Identifies Shoe As One Worn In Rubber

Four disconnected articles—a pair of shoes and a pair of rubbers—were the puzzling exhibits submitted today as preliminary proceedings against the McCaskie brothers began. Walter, 26, Raymond, 27, are facing breakikng, entering and theft charges arising out of the theft of a safe containing $442 from Canadian Tire last December 30.

Evidence of two witnesses was heard as the brothers elected trial by a higher court and the preliminary hearing before Magistrate W. R. Philp, QC, began.

SPECIALIST TESTIFIES

The shoes and rubbers were submitted as exhibits as RCMP Corporal J. R. Abbott, the only footwear identification specialist in Canada, testified.

One of the shoes, Mrs. Madeline Brown of 208 Lake St., said, belonged to her husband, John Randolph Brown. It was exhibit one and Corporal Abbott gave extensive evidence in an attempt to show it had been worn inside of exhibit seven, a toe rubber.

Similarly, he said, shoe exhibit three was worn inside toe rubber exhibit five.

These articles were not connected by any of the witnesses or Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw, QC, to the break-in.

A large part of the morning was taken up by the corporal explaining how he reached his conclusion the shoes had been worn inside the rubbers.

SUBMITS CHARTS

He submitted several charts and photographic negatives to prove his contention.

A total of 14 exhibits were placed before the court during the morning.

Crown Attorney Bradshaw is expected to deal with the safe involved in the burglary this afternoon. Other expert witnesses, members of the RCMP identification bureau in Ottawa, will be called.

W. J. Arthur Fair, QC, is acting for the two McCaskie brothers.

This morning was the first time such identification of footwear has ever been made in Peterborough courts. The process involves photographing the heels and soles of shoes and the insides of the rubbers where they would come in contact if worn.

The negatives are then placed together on charts and marks left by nails, scrapes, etc., compared.

Involved In Theft Dentist Dies In Fla.

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Dr. Winifred S. Moore, 58, a dentist once involved in a sensational theft case, died Monday of a heart attack.

He pleaded guilty on Oct. 11, 1952, at Parry Sound, Ont., of taking a battered old suit case containing $74,000 cash from Shirley Clapperson, a Canadian lumberman and Moore's longtime friend.

Moore's car trunk yielded $52,000 of the money, and another $8,000 was recovered later.

Moore was a past president of the Florida East Coast Dental Society.

Liner Strikes Rock In Narrows

Say Damage Light To Prince George No Injuries Reported

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Canadian National passenger liner Prince George sheered into a rock in treacherous Seymour narrows 150 miles north of here early today but damage was believed light.

A radio report received here from Capt. W. E. Eccles said the 5,800-foot vessel had proceeded through the narrows past Ripple Rock and was standing by waiting for daylight.

No injuries were reported. The number of passengers aboard was not immediately known.

The Prince George struck the rock about 6:30 a. m. PST while northbound from Vancouver to Prince Rupert, B. C., and Alaska.

Capt. Eccles reported that the forepeak was slightly damaged but there was no other apparent damage.

A company spokesman here said the vessel would return to Vancouver for drydocking and was expected to be able to resume its regular run next Monday.

A fast-running tide in the narrows is believed to have forced the ship into the rock off north bluff in the narrows.

The salvage vessels Salvor, from Vancouver, and Rosario Straits, from Port Harvey, B. C., left immediately for the scene.

The Canadian National Steamships liner's call for a tug reduced the acute first fears over her situation. Mackay radio said the Prince George advised the nearby Baranof there was no need of standing by.

FAST-FLOWING CHANNEL

Seymour narrows is a winding, fast-flowing channel at flood tide, which ordinarily is travelled by vessels only during slack water periods.

The Prince George is a 350-foot liner which plies the west coast from Puget Sound to southeast Alaska.

Navy Garage Roof Collapses, None Hurt

HALIFAX (CP)—Two walls and part of the roof of a new $320,000 garage at the Navy's nearby Shearwater base collapsed early today. Several naval men escaped injury.

The roof of a Navy bus in the garage was crushed, and several passenger cars badly damaged.

Navy officials said cause of the collapse was not known. An official inquiry will be held.

The garage, considered one of the most modern on service bases in eastern Canada, was opened two weeks ago.

Russian Diplomat Spy Vanishes In Japan Say Kidnapped By U.S. Intelligence Agents

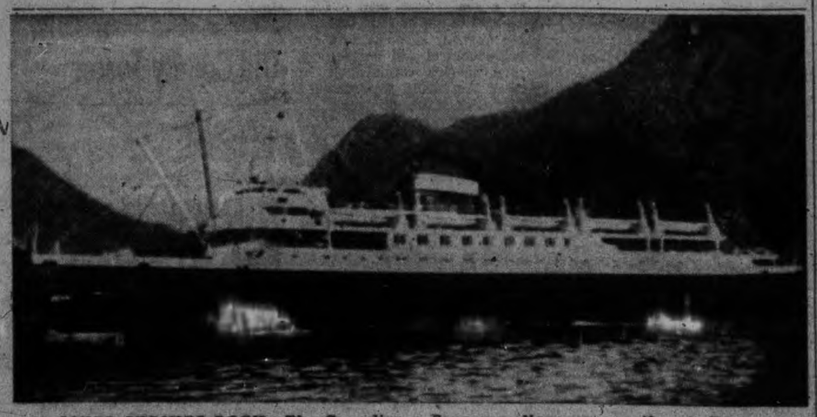
TOKYO (AP)—Japan asked the American embassy today if it knows the whereabouts of a Russian diplomat-spy, the Soviet mission charges was kidnapped by United States intelligence agents.

The Japanese foreign ministry said it had not received a reply. A spokesman for the embassy refused to acknowledge receipt of Japan's request for information.

The deplay in answering the foreign ministry could be an indication that the embassy may know the whereabout of Yurl Alexandrovich Rastovorov, second secretary of the defunct Russian diplomatic mission here.

An American source who cannot be identified said Monday that Rastovorov asked the U.S. for political asylum and probably is no longer in Japan. He could be on the American military base of Okinawa or even en route to the U.S.

Rastovorov presumably has valuable information on Russian plans and espionage in the Far East.



LINER STRIKES ROCK—The Canadian National passenger liner Prince George today sheered into a rock in treacherous Seymour Narrows, north of Vancouver. Damage is believed to be light and the ship is standing by for salvage vessels.

ANOTHER SIX WEEKS of winter in this part of Ontario —so Mr. Groundhog, who goes under a number of aliases, is telling an Examiner photographer who caught the cheeky-fellow out weather forecasting. When he first came out of his hole this morning there was a leaden sky; so no shadow. No shadow means an early spring, says the groundhog school of weather forecasting. If he had stayed around a little longer he'd have seen the sun. It peaked through the clouds shortly after 11 a.m., too late.

Local Groundhog Predicts Early Spring

This is the day that the careful predictions of a man of science are ignored for an old wives' tale.

This is the day that the lowly groundhog (arctomys monax, as the learned boys have it) is supposed to tip us off on whether or not there will be an early spring.

This hoary superstition, rehashed each year in the less imaginative sections of the popular press, goes somewhat as follows:

Li'l ol' arctomys monax—alias the marmot, alias the groundhog, alias the woodchuck (or groun' chuck as the burrowing little creature is called in Pogo's Okefenokee swamp—is purported to come romping out of his winter quarters waiting to tell all the breathless world, north of 40 degrees latitude, just when glorious spring will arrive.

WAIT FOR OBSERVATIONS

The two-legged species of homo boobiens — the kind who read newspapers and believe in them—wait for his observations to be recorded in their favorite journal.

If it is a bright, sunny day when Mr. Groundhog ventures out in the morning, he sees his shadow. This (for reasons not explained) convinces him that winter will last for another six weeks, at least, and he crawls back into his earth burrow for another nap.

If, however, the day is overcast and Mr. Groundhog doesn't see his shadow then he concludes it will be an early spring. Apparently he sets up shop and activity among nature's noblest screechers begins.

Denies Party Prevented Win

NEUCHATEL, Switzerland (Reuters)—Donald Preston, manager of Toronto Lyndhursts, the Canadian team entered for the forthcoming world ice hockey championships, categorically denied here today that the team lost its first exhibition game in Paris Saturday because of a pre-landing party on board their ship.

"It was a terribly rough trip and almost all the boys were very seasick," he declared. "There is no question of a party. Some of the team were only able to eat about four meals during the whole voyage. There was the usual end-of-trip dance the last night on board and a few of the boys may have taken part in that, but most of them were feeling far too ill to bother about it."

Preston said the team they lost to in Paris "are all top-notch professional players."

Soviet Plan Threat—Dulles

BERLIN Reuters—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said today if Germany were rearmed under the Soviet plan, "it would be so strong it would threaten all of western Europe." Dulles blasted the Soviet proposal unveiled to the Big Four foreign ministers Monday by Vyacheslav Molotov. Dulles was in the chair for the eighth session of the conference and the second to be held in the Soviet embassy in East Berlin. Molotov had proposed a peace treaty permitting a reunified Germany to arm as a nation for defence purposes instead of under the western plan within the six-nation European army.

Dulles declared:

"The greatest danger to world peace lies in the fact that in some cases a vast military establishment can be made to attack by the decision of a single nation, sometimes indeed by the decision of a single man.

"That is a situation which is understandably terrifying.

"In the Soviet proposed German peace treaty, resubmitted by Mr. Molotov to the conference Monday, the United Germany would have land, sea and air forces for internal security, frontier defence and anti-aircraft defence."

Dulles said Molotov felt moved to intensify international tension. So he made bitter accusations against France, Britain and the United States.

CCF Afraid Highway Inquiry To Be Whitewashed By Gov't

GERALDTON, Ont. (CP)—Donald C. MacDonald, Ontario CCF leader, says Premier Frost should give "more definite assurances that the Fort William division highways investigation is not going to be whitewashed." In a public speech in this north-western Ontario town Monday night, Mr. MacDonald said "this is necessary if confidence in department administration of the Ontario government is to be restored."

Highways Minister Doucett has ordered an investigation of the operation of the department's Fort William branch, to be carried out by a Toronto firm of management consultants. Five former employees of the department's Fort William branch have been charged in connection with misappropriation of department funds.

FEAR "GLOSSING" ATTEMPT

Mr. MacDonald said that in his tour he has found a growing feeling that the investigation is going to be glossed over by making a few minor officials the "scapegoats."

"Unfortunately, Premier Frost has himself lent weight to this growing suspicion by his repeated statements that the government, through the investigation of a firm of business efficiency experts, is seeking to establish the best possible administrative procedures within the highways department so that this kind of thing won't happen again.

"People are quite rightly concluding that the government's tactics are designed to bury the scandal by creating the impression that the problem is basically one of poor administration."

Mr. MacDonald said a firm of business administration experts is "not competent" to establish "the full network" of guilty persons.

"There must be a full-fledged inquiry under the Public Inquiries Act which is specifically designed to obtain evidence under oath wherever it is felt needed to bring offenders to justice."

Abbott To Table Estimates Friday

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Abbott said Monday he expects to table in the Commons on Friday the government's estimates of expenditures for the coming year.

The estimates are detailed lists of proposed expenditures for the fiscal year starting next April 1.

Mr. Abbott said that the date he will present the government's budget is "still a matter of conjecture."

Crashes Tree, Trucker Killed

BELLEVILLE (CP)—The driver of a three-ton fish transporting truck from Detroit, Mich., was killed early today when his vehicle went out of control on Highway 2 near Milltown, 10 miles east of here, and crashed into a tree.

Police said the man, in his early 40s, was not immediately identified.

The driver was alone in the truck. The highway was slippery at the time.

29 Cars Derailed Rail Line Blocked

RIDOUT, Ont. (CP) — The main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway was blocked here today by the derailment of 29 freight cars.

Westbound passenger and freight trains were forced to detour for 252 miles on the Canadian National Railways' line, from Sudbury, 140 miles southeast of here, to Franz, Ont.

No one was hurt in the derailment Monday night. CPR officials said the track was damaged for "several pole lengths."

The diesel freight was an extra subdivision train on its way from Chapleau to Cartier.

Tests Indicate Pope Hasn't Got Cancer

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Vatican announced today that the Pope has shown "notable improvement" but is still hiccuping intermittently. Private fears that the pontiff might have been suffering from cancer were dispelled by word that medical tests had been negative.

In its most definite communique thus far on the pontiff's week-long gastric illness, the Vatican press office said tests had shown the 77-year-old Pope to be suffering from a "neuro-digestive" disturbance. It said the tests had produced "happily negative results."

The announcement brought considerable relief to Vatican circles, where the pontiff's illness had been causing increasing concern.

The morning paper Il Tempo said he is in "serious but not grave" condition.

Mustangs' Player Electrocuted

Attempting To Put Area In Darkness Youth Dies At Once

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — A young University of Western Ontario student was electrocuted in north London early today in a prank with a tragic ending.

Dead is Charles "Chuck" W. Wildman, 20, from Toronto.

The youth was found by a companion at the base of a hydro pole shortly before 3 a.m.

University authorities said Wildman was a popular student and well known on the campus. His academic work was good. Last fall he played on the university's senior football team, the Mustangs.

DIED INSTANTLY

Coroner Dr. A. R. Routledge said the youth evidently intended to open a 4,000-volt transformer box on the pole to put the district in darkness but suffered the shock before he could complete the action.

The coroner said the youth suffered burns to the palms of both hands, and one to the back of his right knee where the current emerged. Death was instantaneous, he said.

Dr. Routledge said that with two companions, Bob Scott and Jim Murdock, young Wildman had been studying until almost 2 a.m., then decided to go out for some air.

V. A. McKillop, PUC general manager, said that a Cheapside street resident called the hydro operator at about 2 a.m. and reported someone breaking street lights. Mr. McKillop said five street light bulbs in the area were missing.

Shortly before 3 a.m., constable Neil Hefkeyn, sent to the intersection, found Scott applying artificial respiration to Wildman. Murdock had gone to St. Joseph's Hospital to summon aid.

Wildman was taken to St. Joseph's, where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Dr. Routledge said no inquest is planned.

Uphold Decision To Change Rifle

LONDON (Reuters) — Parliament Monday night upheld a government decision to discard a new British rifle in favor of a Belgian model.

The House of Commons voted 262 to 232 against a Labor party censure motion attacking Prime Minister Churchill's Conservative government for choosing the .30-calibre Belgian weapon in preference to the British-designed EM-2 28-calibre rifle.

Debate on the censure motion reached an angry pitch at times, particularly when Churchill, thumping the table, demanded—and received—an apology from Labor MP Woodrow Wyatt for accusing him of "deliberately falsifying the facts."

Churchill charged opposition members with anti-Americanism during the debate. He said some Socialists are always trying to find fault with the United States, "even on this question of the rifle."

Earlier, Wyatt, who moved the censure motion, said Churchill was trying to satisfy the United States and, in so doing, was completely abandoning "legitimate and reasonable British interests."

U.S. Airman Recovers

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (CP)—Airman First Class John Durnam of the United States Air Force is recovering today from an appendectomy at War Memorial Hospital here. He is reported to have passed a good night.

Durnam, with acute appendicitis, was flown here Monday night from Pagwa, 200 miles northwest of Timmins, in an RCAF Dakota of the search-and-rescue unit, Trenton, Ont.

Europe One Vast Icebox

Misery Stalks Urals To Mediterranean

LONDON (AP) — The worst winter in seven years today turned Europe into one vast icebox from the Urals to the Mediterranean, spread misery among the homeless in the big cities, and covered the play resorts of North Africa with snow.

Already more than 45 people have died of the cold, and lower temperatures are on the way.

In North Africa, many parts of Morocco had their first snowfall in 35 years. Near Meknes, three feet of snow is reported and the hills around Algiers were ice-capped.

London had its coldest night in seven years with the temperature at 2 3degrees for 12 hours.

Nearly 100 villages were cut off by snow in the Italian highlands. A howling storm with gusts of hurricane force lashed Trieste, injuring at least seven.

RHINE MAY FREEZE OVER

German officials predicted the Rhine river will be frozen solid from the North Sea to Switzerland by the end of the week if there is no let-up. River traffic already is at a virtual standstill.

Two Danish planes today flew a ton and a half of food to the island of Juist, where 400 children are marooned at a rest camp.

The lowest February temperature in 20 years—7.5 below zero—was chalked up at Basle, Switzerland.

In Britain, pipes froze and many homes were without water.

May Ask Reds Let Bygones Be Bygones In Korea

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States may call today on the Communists in Korea to let bygones be bygones and get on with preliminary peace talks, stalled now for nearly two months. States department officials wrestled today with the problem of how to word a reply to the Communist demand that special ambassador Arthur H. Dean return to Panmunjom and resume conversations intended to pave the way for a full-dress Korean peace conference.

State Secretary Dulles was kept up to date on the efforts to draft a reply. He is in Berlin attending the Big Four foreign ministers meeting.

Dean, a former law partner of Dulles, walked out of the preliminary talks at Panmunjom Dec. 12, saying he had had enough of Red insults. He objected most strenuously to a Red charge that the United States had connived with South Korea to release 27,000 anti-Communist war prisoners before the truce last summer.

READY TO RETURN

Dean said that he would not return until the Communists retracted a perfidy charge against the U.S. However, the U.S. government later said Dean was ready to return to Korea "on short notice."

So far, the Communists have given no indication of readiness to retract. Just last week they wrote Dean, demanding the resumption of talks but saying nothing about the issue that prompted him to break off those talks.

Ever since the Communist demand was received nearly a week ago, high-level diplomats here had been drafting replies.

Their problem was how to get over an apparently insurmountable road block in a way that would save face all around. In the Orient, "face" is vitally important.

Sault Tunnel Possible Chairman Says

SAULT STE MARIE, Mich. (AP) — Paul Hoholik, chairman of a new commission to investigate feasibility of building a passageway between the Canadian and American Soo, says he is "very optimstic" that the passageway will be built.

In New York Monday, Hoholik said he hopes that a passage (bridge or tunnel) will be completed by the time the state completes its proposed bridge across the Straits of Mackinac in 1955. The project is still in the preliminary planning stage.

Hoholik is chairman of the newly-formed international St. Mary's (river) bridge (or tunnel) authority. Carl Modine, Soo, Michigan, city commissioner and Robert C. Kline, an attorney, complete the Michigan authority.

All three are members of the Michigan bridge authority and will work with a similar Canadian authority on the passageway.

Hoholik was in New York to help complete the signing of bonds for the straits bridge.

Forgotten $70 Becomes $700

BRANTFORD (CP) — Seventy dollars deposited in a bank 84 years ago and forgotten has come to light again. But it's no longer $70. Interest has increased it to $700.

The bank book, which belonged to George Simpson, was put in the museum of the Norfolk Historical Society in 1951 by Dr. J. A. Bannister, of Port Dover, president. Later he noticed the deposit entry and began inquiries.

Heirs of Mr. Simpson, including Mrs. Dorothy Cauley of Burlington, will share the $700.

MPs Congratulate P.M. On Birthday

OTTAWA (CP)—Trim, natty and rosy-cheeked as a teen-ager, Prime Minister St. Laurent Monday celebrated his 72nd birthday.

He rose and bowed graciously in the Commons as Speaker Rene Beaudoin, amid energetic desk-thumping by all members, wished him "a very happy birthday and many happy returns of the day."

All opposition leaders joined in the salute.

Hon. George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, said the prime minister looks "extremely well" and is a "comparative youngster when one compares his age with that of the very youthful head of another government of the Commonwealth with whom he will be lunching in just a few days."

This was a reference to Mr. St. Laurent's tour, on which he departs Thursday. His first date abroad is lunch with Prime Minister Churchill, 79, in London.

CCF leader Coldwell said: "I do want to say that I am sure all of us, irrespective of our political views, join with the leader of the opposition, the speaker and everyone else in extending our good wishes to the prime minister."

Summary for Wednesday: Cloudy.

Many Camping Under Stars To Greet Queen

SYDNEY, Australia (Reuters)—Thousands of Australians camped under the stars tonight to be on hand to greet the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh on their arrival Wednesday morning from New Zealand.

The sleek, white royal liner Gothic will arrive off Sydney harbor at 6 a. m. local time (3 p. m. EST today) and will drop anchor about two hours later. Royal Australian Air Force jet fighters will scream over in salute as scores of vessels, from tugs to luxury yachts, escort the Gothic to her anchorage, not far from where the first English settlers set foot in Australia.

OFFICIAL WELCOME

First to welcome the Queen officially to Australia will be the governor-general, Field Marshal Sir William Slim. He and his wife will go out to the Gothic by yacht.

Firefly and Sea Fury aircraft from the Australian carrier Vengeance flew past the royal yacht today in an aerial salute, and then turned over the ship in a formation making the letter "E" in honor of the Queen

Later the Vengeance carried out a rocket attack on a target towed by other ships.

The Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh watched the show but otherwise spent the day quietly in preparation for their Australian landing at Sydney tomorrow, where huge crowds are gathering to welcome them.

Convertibility Seen Nearer

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Abbott said Monday the goal of sterling convertibility is "very much nearer than anyone could have hoped a year ago."

Mr. Abbott made his first appearance in the Commons since his return from the recent conference of Commonwealth finance ministers in Australia.

He reported a "moderate but steady improvement" in the trade and currency situation of sterling-area members of the Commonwealth during the last two years.

Mr. Abbott said he would not prophesy when the Commonwealth countries would reach the goal of convertibility between sterling and dollars which was set two years ago. But the pound sterling was stronger than at any time since the war and convertibility was closer than anyone could have hoped a year ago.

Opposition leader Drew said the Progressive Conservative party welcomes Mr. Abbott's statement but regrets that Canada had not taken initiative in seeking sterling convertibility.

Soviet Plan

Molotov again laid down the familiar Kremlin ultimatum — that Germany will be united on Russia's terms or not at all.

There is no possibility that the United States' John Foster Dulles, Britain's Anthony Eden or France's Georges Bidault will agree to that. Officials of the Western delegations agreed today that the latest Berlin conference has floundered on the German issue.

FUTILE ATTEMPT

Eden and Bidault tried vainly Monday, the conference's first day in the Russian side of Berlin, to make the Western plans for uniting Germany reasonable to the Russians.

Molotov denounced their ideas as tools of U.S. militarism.

Molotov's 21-page speech, almost an hour long, made clear three things:

1. Russia wants to get U.S. troops out of Europe at the earliest possible date because they block Soviet domination of the Continent.

2. Russia wants to smash the projected European Defence Community because it paves the way for rearming Germany, or part of it, in a close alliance with the West.

3. Russia wants a reunified Germany, virtually defenceless and ripe for Soviet domination, with Communists in key government posts.

CLASH OF VIEWS

The ideas of the two sides were summarized in two brief exchanges.

Said Eden: "It is our purpose to associate Germany so closely with other peace-loving states that she will neither need nor be able to use her regained strength for aggressive purposes. It is our conviction that this can best be achieved through the European Defence Community."

Molotov replied: "The political meaning (of EDC) is that three powers, the United States of America, Great Britain and France, are trying together with official circles of present-day Western Germany to form a military bloc directed against a fourth power, the Soviet Union."

Out of the ruckus over Germany, the West still hopes to salvage something, perhaps an easier movement of trade between East and West Germany.

Western diplomats think the conference also might push Asia toward peace, since they believe the Russians would like to see an end to fighting there in order to let the Soviet Union turn even more of her production into the home market.

RECOGNIZE CHINA

For such peace, Molotov may try to exact more Western recognition of Communist China. Failure to get it possibly could do more harm to China's relations with Russia than relations with the West, some observers think.

Molotov also tried a direct bid for French support, by-passing Bidault, who he knows is pledged to try to push ratification of the European army plan through the French parliament as soon as this conference ends.

France, he said, needs the Potsdam decisions to demilitarize Germany "no less than the Soviet Union." He said French resistance to EDC "is growing daily."

"The most eager followers of the idea of a west European army," Molotov declared, "are the American ministers. That is very easy for them, since the United States makes no move to include its troops in this community."

Limit MP Pensions To $3,000 Year

OTTAWA (CP)—The government Monday introduced legislation limiting MPs' pension benefits to a maximum of $3,000 a year despite changes in sessional indemnities.

In introducing the bill Prime Minister St. Laurent said the government feels there should not be any change at this time to the Members of Parliament Retiring Allowances Act.

The amending bill stipulates that members' contributions, matched by the government, shall be six per cent of the first $4,000—$240—of the members' indemnity.

The amendment was made necessary because the act provided for a payment of six per cent on "all amounts" payable as indemnity. With the government's intention to double sessional indemnities to $8,000 from $4,000, the existing act meant members would pay $480 a year and thus increase the maximum pension to $6,000 a year.

Paid 15 Cents Pound For Beef Sr'd To U.K.

OTTAWA (CP)—The government was paid 15 cents a pound for the 8,000,000 pounds of beef sold to Britain last December, the Commons was informed Monday.

A return tabled for Wilfrid Lacroix (L—Quebec - Montmorency) said the sale disposed of the last of the government's stocks of beef purchased during the United States embargo on Canadian meat which followed the outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease in western Canada.

The return said the average cost to the government of all beef purchased was 45 cents a pound. The 15-cent selling price was "in keeping" with prices of New Zealand beef sold to Britain.

U.S. Dollar At Discount

MONTREAL (CP) — The U.S. dollar was at a discount of 2 29-32 per cent in terms of Canadian funds at noon today. Monday's noon rate was 97 3-32 cents. Pound sterling $2.73 1-16, against $2.73.

Decide To Adopt "Parallel" Scale

TORONTO (CP) — The board of education in suburban Forest Hill decided Monday night to abandon the single salary schedule for public and high school teachers and adopt instead a "parallel" scale.

The Forest Hill decision leaves only three boards of education in metropolitan Toronto's 13 municipalities continuing demands for the single schedule: Toronto, Lakeshore district, and Leaside.

In Toronto, secondary school teachers have threatened a mass resignation in May if the single salary schedule is not abandoned.

The alternative "parallel" schedule, a compromise suggested by the Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation, means separate salary negotiations for public and high school teachers.

See Offensive Shaping Up In Indo-China

By LARRY ALLEN

HANOI, Indo - China (AP) — Vietminh attacks in five separate sectors shaped up today as parts of a general offensive apparently aimed at overrunning enough territory to give the Communist-led rebels a powerful talking point for ending the Indo-China war by negotiation.

A new invasion of Laos threatened Luang Prabang, the royal Laotian capital, as Red leader Ho Chi Minh threw eight regular divisions, trained and equipped by China, into the winter campaign.

Vietminh division No. 308, detached from the siege of Dien Bien Phu, crossed the border from northwest Viet Nam into northern Laos, overran French-garrisoned Muong Khoua after a 30-mile advance and headed on toward Luang Prabang, 85 miles to the south.

OTHER BATTLES

In central Laos, a war theatre for six weeks, other rebel troops battled French forces in the Mekong river area north and east of Thakhek, a town of the Vietminh won during Christmas week and then lost.

Three Vietminh divisions, including No. 316, a heavy-weapons outfit called the Iron Division, maintained pressure on Dien Bien Phu, the heavily fortified plain where the French keep a toehold in the Thai mountain country at Laos' back doorstep.

Two hundred miles east, troops of Vietminh division No. 320 infiltrated the Red river delta, the key defence bulwark of French union forces against the sweep of communism into southeast Asia, and opened attacks on guard posts in the Ninh Binh and Nam Dinh sectors.

In southeast Viet Nam, rebel resistance stiffened against a French drive to oust the Vietminh from the rich coastal strip of 220 miles between Cap Varella and Faifo.

French army sources here said today, that of all the sectors involved, the most important is the densely populated Red river delta.

Maritime Fires Take 4 Lives

SPRINGHILL, N. S. (CP)—Two young children died today when flames destroyed their home at Claremont, five miles from this northern Nova Scotia mining town.

Judy, 3, and John, 2, children of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Perrin, were trapped in the tiny frame dwelling.

Mrs. Perrin and her 10-year-old brother managed to escape.

Mr. Perrin was working in the woods.

BRIDAL COUPLE DIE

CHATHAM, N. B. (CP)—Fire of undetermined origin early today took the lives of a newly-married couple at nearby Nordin and that of their dog which refused to leave the flaming house without his masters.

Police identified the dead as James Malley, 25, and his bride Elaine, 24.

Find Prices Lower In Moderate Trading

TORONTO (CP) — Prices were lower in moderate early afternoon stock market trading.

Industrials were down. Utilities, constructions, steels, refining oils and manufactures were lower. Papers and liquors gained. Foods were steady.

Hudson Bay and Noranda were the lower issues in the base metal seniors. They showed losses of 50 and 87½ cents respectively.

Golds showed a small loss.

Uraniums and Bathurst-area base metals slipped a little with Lorado, down five cents. New Larder U in the Bathurst-area issues was down seven cents.

Western oils showed little change.

Seek United Action On Sewage Plants

SARNIA (CP)—Sarnia will seek united action with Windsor, Chatham and Wallaceburg to obtain government money to help build sewage disposal plants, city council decided Monday night.

The four border communities have been requested by the federal government to stop pouring raw sewage into the St. Clair river system. All four have said they cannot afford to build the plants unless they get aid.

Estimated cost of a sewage disposal plant and feeder system here is $6,000,000.

MORE ABOUT—

Local Groundhog

It's as simple as that. But on the strength of this little bit of whimsy the weatherman is shoved into the background for a day and another contribution is made to North American folklore.

February 2 has now been solemnized on this continent as Groundhog Day.

(If the Examiner reader has noticed a sour theme running through this light little story, it was unconscious but, perhaps, understandable. The reporter's birthday is February 2 and from his earliest days he has had to play second fiddle to this wretched little animal on his own birthday. After 30 years of frustration he has struck back at arctomys monax.)

GET IT STRAIGHT

What's that? It's the news you want . . . ?

Well, today the Examiner photographer, true to his tradition, paid no heed to Jim Harrison, Peterborough's official weather recorder. He posted himself outside a groundhog hole and waited till mid-morning.

Sure enough, the snow was pushed back and out burrowed a cheeky looking groundhog, woodchuck (or whatever you like to call him). He yawned, looked around, saw there was no sun and no shadow. (If he had only waited a bit the situation would have been reversed; the sun came out shortly after 11 a.m.)

So to you nature lovers who read sermons in brooks, tell direction by the moss on trees, and gauge the severity of a winter by a squirrel's hoard of nuts—it's going to be an early spring.

Personally, this reported likes the story of the groundhog's comment when he learned that there was no sun and he would have to be up and doing. The furry weather forecaster borrowed a line from the deathless prose of the late Joe Jacobs: "I shoulda stood in bed."

Cut By Glass, Child 3, Dies

TORONTO (CP)—Margaret McCarthy, 3, fell from a bed Monday night and struck jagged glass of a broken window pane.

The glass, still in the frame, cut her deeply under the right armpit and about the chest.

Her father, Charles McCarthy, made a tourniquet with some towels. The girl was bleeding badly and crying from fright.

Her mother called a doctor and then the police.

A patrol car picked up the child and the father and raced to hospital. The trip through slippery slush took eight minutes.

Little Margaret was unconscious when she was carried into the hospital.

While doctors worked over her in the emergency department, she died.

12-Year Term In 2 Deaths

TORONTO (CP)—Richard Campbell McCart, 32, pleaded guilty to manslaughter here Monday and was sentenced to 12 years in connection with the deaths of two elderly men in a downtown rooming house last Aug. 7.

Clarence Bowen, 33, had previously been sentenced to 15 years on the same charge.

The victims, Joseph George King 81, and George E. Weaver, 78, were found by another roomer lying on their cots in a front room of the house with the bed clothing covering their bodies. Weaver's throat had been cut and King had been strangled with his tie.

It was believed the two men were killed in a fight following a drinking party in their dingy room which was littered with empty wine bottles.

Bowen and McCart were arrested in Cobourg the day following the double-slaying.

Health Dept. Charges:

Federal Employees Abuse Sick Leave Privileges

OTTAWA (CP)—The health department has accused federal employees of abusing sick leave privileges and urged stiffer controls to reduce "unnecessary absenteeism."

Studies during a six-year period "substantiated" earlier impressions that the number of days lost, both from casual and certified illness, "is in excess of that occasioned by actual illness" the department said in its 1952-53 annual report tabled Monday in the Commons.

The government employs about 130,000 workers. About 30,000 work in Ottawa. Regularly - employed civil servants are allowed three weeks sick leave a year, including seven days of casual leave without a medical certificate.

Under the current system of administration and recording, it was impossible to gauge the exact extent of the abuse, but the department concluded that "it must be substantial."

IMPORTANT CHANGES

"This is particularly true with respect to casual leave. It is increasingly apparent that government departments must make important changes both in their attitude to the problem and in their system of record keeping if this gap is to be narrowed and if any tangle reduction in absenteeism chargeable to sickness is to be achieved."

The department suggested employees be taught to conserve and not squander sick leave, cumulative from year to year.

Interpretation and administration of sick leave regulations should not be handled by a junior clerk, which "too often" was the case, but by a senior personnel officer.

Departments must assume greater over-all responsibility for sick-leave control and not rely on the civil service commission or advice of the health department's civil service health division.

SHOW AGE, SEX

The recording system also should undergo change to show age and sex of employees so that the sickness rate in federal jobs may be calculated.

Federal employees made 177,400 visits to health units in their areas in the 1952-53 fiscal year. Of these, 80,900 were by women and 96,500 by men. Leading complaint was respiratory ailments with digestive troubles second.

About one-quarter of the visits resulted from social, economic and welfare factors, including those relating to personal health and hygiene, nutrition and budgeting, family health problems, emotional disorders and factors associated with the severely physically handicapped.

Steel Union Agrees To Meeting

3-Party Conference On Noranda Proposed By Chamber

TORONTO (CP) — The United Steelworkers of America (CIO-CCL) today announced that it has agreed to a proposal of the Rouyn-Noranda Chamber of Commerce for a three-party conference in an effort to end the strike of 1,500 workers at Noranda Mines Limited.

The strike, for higher wages, pension and welfare benefits, started Aug. 22.

The Chamber of Commerce proposed a meeting between J. Y. Murdoch, Noranda president; C.H. Millard, Canadian director of the union; and Labor Minister Antonio Barrette of Quebec.

Senator Makes Plea For Alaska Co-operation

WASHINGTON (CP) — Chairman Hugh Butler, (Rep. Neb.) of the Senate interior committee inserted into the congressional record Monday a plea for co-operation between the United States and Canada in the settlement of mutual Alaskan problems.

The committee is working on a bill to admit the Arctic territory to full statehood.

Butler said he feels the U. S. has "a positive obligation to be sympathetic and generous" to Canada's need for access to the Pacific ocean across the Alaska panhandle. He said he can see no objection to the U. S. granting Canada one or more free ports along the Alaskan coast, but added:

"I do not believe we would consider permanently alienating any American territory to Canadian sovereignty."

GREAT FRONTIER

Butler said both Alaska and the Canadian northwest "offer a tremendous frontier for future development" but that neither can be developed without the closest kind of co-operation.

He felt paving the Alaska highway for its entire length through Canada to be "one of the most important things we could to to further the development of Alaska."

He also mentioned the "great need" for construction of an overland railroad.

OTTAWA DUBIOUS

At Ottawa, an official of the northern affairs and national resources department said it has never been shown—or even seriously argued—that Canadian corridors across the Alaska panhandle would be of any advantage, either to Canada or the United States.

He said he had never heard of any serious consideration of such a scheme although a mining group in British Columbia and the Yukon had recently put forward such a suggestion.

Paying of the Alaska highway would be an advantage but the construction and maintenance costs would be "fantastic."

Construction of a railroad from B. C. to Alaska was an "old chestnut." If it had been economically feasible, some private group probably would have built it years ago. (Cost of such a project has been estimated at some $1,000,000,000.)

Won't Burn Library Books

VICTORIA (CP)—Mayor Claude Harrison said Monday he does not intend to hunt out possible subversive books which may be on the shelves of the Victoria public library. He said the controversy which has raged here over "Red" books is the result of "misrepresentation". The colorful, 57-year-old mayor, who for years has worn a navy blue cape, lined in red, claimed he had been misquoted in a newspaper interview. He said that all references he had made last week to burning of subversive "Red" books were intended to refer to books he might own himself and not to books in the library.

In a letter, published by both the Victoria Colonist and the Times Mr. Harrison claimed he had been misrepresented in what he said to a reporter.

"He asked me for comment on subversive books in the library," said the mayor. "I said I did not know of any and had not seen any, but I had heard a rumor.

"He then asked what would be done with the books if there were any, and I replied that I did not know if there were any.

"He asked me what I should do with them. . . I then said 'if I had them myself, oh I would burn them.'"

Both newspapers replied the letter, saying their reporters had accurately reported the mayor and that at no time did he refer to books owned personally by him.

Some members of the library board favor investigation and listing of subversive books on the library shelves. This may be discussed at a meeting Wednesday.

Safety Factors Ignored Builder Claims

COBOURG (ENS) — Failure to pay proper attention to safety factors was cited as the cause for the death of an aircraft assembler, working on an automatic ejection seat in a twin-jet CF-100 at the Avro plant in Malton Monday.

"Apparently safety regulations as laid down by Avro had not been followed," said R. A. J. Murison of Cobourg, president of the Canadian Flight Equipment Co. which manufacturers the ejector seat. He said that there was nothing wrong with the mechanism when shipped from Cobourg.

When a jet pilot is in trouble he pulls a trigger which releases an explosive charge strong enough to send him, attached to his pilot's seat, into the air. He cannot parachute from the jet because he would not be able to get clear of the slipstream.

Edward Curtis, 30, with another workman was dismantling the apparatus when the seat exploded. Apparently workmen had failed to disconnect the explosive apparatus which fires the ejector and Curtis was killed.

The explosive cartridges are installed in the seats at the Avro plant.

PRIME MINISTER'S WORLD TRIP—An RCAF C-5 aircraft will take off from Rockcliffe air station near Ottawa Thursday carrying the Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent on his world tour. The aircraft, attached to 412 transport squadron, has a pressurized cabin, and will normally fly at 20,000 feet over territory already familiar to the 16-man crew. Last September, using a four-engine North Star, the crew made an around-the-world flight that took 23 days and covered 31,000 miles in preparation for the trip. The globe-encircling tour will take the official party and crew to London, Paris, Bonn, Rome, Middle East, Pakistan, India, Ceylon, Java, Phillipine Islands, South Korea, Japan, Midway, Honolulu, San Francisco and back to Ottawa around mid-March. The crew, in clockwise order, are: Group Captain J. G. Stephenson, conducting officer, Walkerville; Flight Lieutenant H. H. Enns, navigator, Steinbach, Man.; F/L D. R. Adamson, co-pilot, Lloydminster, Sask.; F/L R. G. Chalk, radio officer, Toronto; Flying Officer W. Middler, first officer, Wadena, Sask.; F/O A. A. Pulfer, radio officer, Beausejour, Man.; F/O R. W. Doncaster, navigator, Liverpool, England; Corporal E. H. Sjolin, engineer, Xalun, Alta.; Flight Sergeant E. J. Benoit, engineer, Ottawa; Cpl. H. Five Rinks Double Winners

SUDBURY (CP)—Five out-of-town rinks were among the double winners as play concluded Monday night in the first round of the two main events of the 67th annual Northern Ontario Curling Association bonspiel.

Sudbury Granite headed the list with eight winners in both events, while Copper Cliff had five and Sudbury Club two.

North Bay's Bob Hambley toppled Al Umpherson, Sudbury Granite, 6-5 in a Silver Foam game after scoring an earlier 10-9 decision over Copper Cliffs Russ Boyter.

In other Silver Foam matches Copper Cliff's Bill Allen defeated North Bay's Butch Brohman 9-4; Sault Ste. Marie's Lance Watson downed W. B. Harvey, North Bay, 9-6; Wynn Fellows, Sudbury Granite, beat Syd Stevens, North Bay, 8-7; and George Fife, Sudbury Granite, lost to L. Kervin, North Bay, 10-9.

R. A. Cooper, Elmvale, A. Kirkpatrick, Toronto Granites, and Lance Watson, Sault Ste. Marie, all won two matches Monday to stay in the running for Grand Aggregate honors.

Child Hit By Car

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS) — A five year old kindergarten student, Darrell Hopkins, was struck by a car on Monday about 4 p.m. when he ran from the north to the south side of Bridge street on his way home from school.

He was struck by a car travelling east over the bridge and driven by Fred Fry of RR 2 Campbellford. The child received shock and bruises but was otherwise apparently uninjured.

The child was taken to the office of a local doctor by Chief Constable Charles M. Lockwood, but his injuries were not considered serious.

The boy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Hopkins of Hastings road.

Was It Double-Talk, Or What?

Ald. Art Burrows Gives Away Something Wanted To Keep

Was it modesty, admiration or simply double-talk?

You can take your pick; but any one of these motives might explain the behaviour of Ald. Art Burrows in city council Monday night when he gave away something he claimed he wanted to keep.

A modest man at any time, but often apt to be too self-effacing, Ald. Burrows made this year's most unusual request, to the delight of a large gallery of spectators, composed of four delegations of citizens.

Never a man to have the limelight stolen from him, Mayor Norman Graham decided to get into the act but flubbed rather badly when he referred to Ald. Alene Holt as "Mrs. Beggs."

(His Worship explained afterwards, not altogether satisfactorily, that he had intended, as a humorous touch, to call the city's only woman alderman "Mrs. Whitton," but hadn't been able to remember the name of Ottawa's colorful woman mayor.)

Here's how it all started:

In the course of reading the lengthy report of the board of works, of which he is chairman, Ald. Burrows said he would have something to say about clause 5 when he had finished. Clause 5 recommended the appointment of Ald. Holt and himself to the city planning board.

Several minutes later, having accomplished his routine task, Ald. Burrows asked that his name be deleted, and that of Ald. Harold Rehill substituted, in view of Ald. Rehill's valuable experience on that body.

At this, Ald. Rehill got to his feet and pointed out that appointments had been made to three committees since the first of the year and he had been named to all three.

"I am wondering how other aldermen are able to delete their own names and substitute mine, especially on the planning board, which will involve heavy work this year," lamented Ald. Rehill, who was aparently referring to the preparation of a zoning by-law.

"I think Ald. Rehill was just kidding. Personally, I'd like to be on that committee," was the surprising statement of Ald. Burrows.

"Ald. Rehill has given valuable assistance on the planning board," Mayor Graham said, asking for a seconder for the motion.

At this point, Ald. Bill Beggs stepped into the debate, if it could be called that.

"Before we vote on this motion," he said, "I would like to know: Was Ald. Rehill just kidding?"

"I meant he was kidding about not being appointed to the planning board," Ald. Burrows explained. "I hadn't realized he was on the recreation commission and I 'phoned him up to see if he would take my place on the planning board because he had so much experience there. He said he would."

"I did feel some other member might have been appointed to the recreation commission," Ald. Rehill said, "especially in view of my work on the board. But I was still happy to be able to serve on the recreation commission."

"I would still like to be on the planning board," Ald. Burrows repeated.

Ald. Holt then suggested a solution to Ald. Burrows' dilemma by proposing that her own name be deleted from the appointments in place of Ald. Burrows'. This naturally caused some slight embarrassment to the parties concerned. But Mayor Graham gallantly assured Ald. Holt that her feminine point of view was required on the planning board.

In case it would appear that there was some backtracking—not to mention confusion — in the course of the discussion, the outcome was the approval by council of Ald. Burrows' suggestion. Ald. Rehill and Ald. Holt will represent council on the planning board. Ald. Burrows will not.

Long Life Span Adds Care Aged

With the increase of longevity the problem of caring for the older people has increased in proportion but little has been done to correct this problem at present.

Dr. J. P. Wells addressed the Lion's Club on "Homes for the Aged", Monday night at the Kawartha Club.

Medicine and research have done miracles to increase man's life span, the result being an increasing proportion of old people. One thousand years ago a man of 35 was a patriarch. Today, the life expectancy is 65.

Dr. Wells questioned whether there could be anything worthwhile in this advanced age for many people if we put off the making of arrangements so that they could enjoy it. Very little is being done to date, he said.

Many agencies and organizations greatly concern themselves with infant and child welfare, but few contribute any time or money to provide a measure of comfort or happiness for the elderly. The general opinion seems to be that the aged are getting the pension and as long as they have a roof over their heads and enough to keep them from being hungry, they can get along.

An older person's eating habits must be altered or disaster follows. He should be given a health examination regularly. None of this is being done and the situation has become distasteful and depressing.

Dr. Wells challenged the Lion's Club to give some thought to the matter and be ready to act when talks developed regarding homes for the aged.

Lutheran Leaders Map Program For NewYear

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Leaders of more than 4,000,000 American Lutherans today started mapping a course for the church to follow in the coming year as the National Lutheran Council opened its annual four-day meeting.

A report by the Rev. Dr. Oscar Benson of Mnneapolis, council president, was to be presented today.

Thirty-four delegates are here representing eight Lutheran church groups with 10,000 congregations.

In the next four days the council will tackle a multitude of problems. Refugee resettlement, construction of student centres in colleges, the 1954 budget and the Lutheran world action appeal are a few of the topics listed.

A goal of $2,600,000 is planned for the annual Lutheran World Action appeal.

Begin Inquiry Into Jolley Cut

HAMILTON (CP) — Before a group of solemn-faced civic officials, Lorne Cumming, chairman of the Ontario municipal board, declared at city hall today the board would hold "a complete investigation from beginning to end," of the city's construction, without the board's approval, of the $850,000 Jolley cut widening project.

Referring to various letters, Mr. Cumming said it was apparent the city had proceeded with the work "even before the application to the board was in any sense complete."

The Jolley cut was opened last summer.

The board is also to hear the city's application on three other projects for which final approval was not obtained for overdraughts from the municipal board.

The list of debentures issued without authority totals $2,170,000.

475 Patients Treated By Apsley Red Cross

APSLEY (ENS) — Patients numbering 475 were treated at the Outpost Hospital in Apsley during 1953, the Apsley Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society reported at its annual meeting Friday. The hospital is administered by the local branch of the society.

Most of those treated were outpatients. There were only 27 inpatients according to a report submitted by nurse Beryl Price. Eight babies were born, 753 treatments were given and 310 people received advice.

Representatives of the society travelled 1,910 miles inspecting five district schools and visiting 543 homes. They also took care of one home confinement.

The financial report for 1953 showed $783.57 on hand at the end of the year. Receipts, including balance from 1952 were $1,693.69 and expenditures $910.12.

A special government grant of $2,000 helped the society to refurnish the hospital, paint and roof the building and supply hospital equipment. The county also donated $250.

Sidney McCauley was named president of the Apsley branch of the society for 1954. Other officers are Dan Whitmore, vice-president; Mrs. Don Newberry, secretary; Mrs. M. C. Tucker, treasurer. On the board of directors are W. Lean, Earl Trotter, Herb Tucker, Mike Maloney, Clive Hoard, Joseph Tucker, W. Jeff, Rev. W. Boddy, John Stevenga, A. Goodson, W. Everett, Percy Thompson, Vern Young, Archie Oltment and two members of the Peterborough Red Cross branch.

Honorary members of the board are Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Fraser, Rev. C. A. G. Spence, Mrs. J. Downing and T. Post. Auditors are Mrs N. Wilson and Mrs. Ross Reynolds.

Judge Dismisses Robbery Charge

MONTREAL (CP)—A charge of robbery with violence against Rene McKissock, 27, of Cornwall was dismissed Monday by Judge Marechal Nantel on the grounds his alibi was true.

McKissock, along with two other men, was accused of robbing a gas station Dec. 20, at nearby Lachine, of $140. More than 20 stitches were required to close wounds on the station attendant's head.

McKissock testified he was in Massena, N. Y., about eight miles from Cornwall, at the time. His testimony was supported by his wife, mother-in-law and other witnesses.

Stromboli Volcano Has New Eruption

MESSINA, Sicily (AP)—A new eruption of the island volcano of Stromboli poured hissing lava into the Tyrrhenian sea early today. The red glow could be seen in Sicily, 40 miles away.

Many of the 700 fisherfolk of Stromboli took to their boats when the blow-off ripped three new craters in the northwest side of the cone Monday. But they returned at sundown, confident the eruption was no more serious than several others in recent years.

Sheriffs Wait Outside Door To Arrest Singer Dick Haymes

NEW YORK (AP)—Singer Dick Haymes and his actress wife Rita Hayworth kept to their hotel suite today while two deputy sheriffs waited outside the locked door to arrest him.

The deputies arrived Monday night with a civil arrest order obtained by Haymes' former wife, actress Joanne Dru. This morning the deputies, along with reporters and photographers, were still in the 12th-floor corridor outside the couple's Hotel Madison suite.

Miss Dru alleged in the complaint that Haymes concealed assets "for the purpose of defrauding creditors" and owes her $33,323. The singer has admitted he owes her $32,000. She claimed he also has violated an agreement with her to give her 10 per cent of his earnings to clear the bill.

CAN'T FORCE ENTRY

The court order calls for Haymes' arrest on bail of $26,000, apparently the sum he must post as security in the case if he wants to remain free.

In a civil case such as this, arresting officers cannot force an entry. However, they would be allowed to enter if the door were unlocked for any reason.

Haymes and Miss Dru were married in 1941 and divorced in 1948. They have three children. He later married actress Nora Eddington, who divorced him shortly before his marriage to Miss Hayworth last September. Miss Dru now is married to actor John Ireland.

PUC Employees Ask 25c Raise

COBOURG (ENS) — Across the board increase of 25 cents an hour is contained in the proposed new agreement between the public utilities employees and the commission. There are a number of alterations from the 1953 contract and last night the commission decided to compare the two agreements. Tentative date for the meeting between the Commission and the union (National Union of Public Service Employees) is set for February 10.

Changes in the 1953 contract, as contained in the 1954 proposed contract are additions of check-off, closed shop, elimination of the clause which gives the management the right to fire any employee drinking on the job, elimination of the clause which prevents any employee from taking jobs outside his regular duties, and weekly pay instead of every two weeks.

"You can't blame them for trying," remarked Commissioner Bob Love, "but I think we should return the new proposed contract to them and work on the old one and if you see fit to give them an increase in pay, all well and good. However, it might be a good idea to take both contracts home and study them, checking one with the other."

Commissioner Charles Jackson agreed that the old contract should be the basis of negotiation. As for the clause in the old contract which prohibited employees taking outside jobs, Commissioner Love pointed out that the conciliation board last year agreed that an employee of the utilities should not go out and do somebody else out of a job.

Otonabee Father, Son Rector And Organist

OTONABEE (ENS)—St. Mark's Anglican church, Otonabee, held its annual vestry meeting at the home of A. G. Stock on Friday evening.

The financial report showed the children doing well.

The WA with its 10 working members had a very profitable year. A big improvement is to seen around the church yard during the past year.

Church attendance shows a slight increase in members and a confirmation class of 12 and 6 baptisms was said to be a very encouraging sign for so small a church.

The congregation officially welcomed the Rev. H. Peasgood as their permanent minister and his son, David, as organist. The congregation's thanks were expressed to them both.

A. G. Stock was reappointed as rector's warden, Ray Robinson as people's warden.

The communion set which was given to the church in 1879 is to be inscribed and put into a glass case in the church for safe keeping. It will join the set now in use and given during the 2nd World War in honor of the boys who had gone over-seas from the community.

Boy Like Hairless Ape Found In Formosa

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP) — A Formosan newspaper today reported the discovery of a 13-year-old boy who looks like a hairless ape, climbs trees with simian agility and lives on snakes and insects.

The United Daily News said the boy is the son of an aboriginal family in central Formosa. It described him as three feet eight inches tall, with feet bigger than those of a normal man.

The paper said the boy walks like an ape, utters only meaningless sounds and is fascinated by the color red.

Wm. McComb Appointed To Northumberland Board

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS) — Town council accepted the resignation of Arthur K. Loucks as representative on the North-East Northumberland District High School Area board at a meeting held on Monday night. Mr. Loucks is the new secretary of the board. He has had considerable experience on school boards. A bylaw appointing William McComb as representative to the board was passed at the same meeting. Mr. Comb will complete Mr. Louck's term.

ENLARGE BOND GRANT

In response to a request from a delegation from the citizens' band, which attended the meeting, it was decided to make an additional grant of $1,300 besides the regular yearly grant of $500 to the band. The total grant of $1,800 added to what the band hopes to raise on their own, will be used to equip the members with new uniforms. Several councillors expressed favorable views with regard to making the larger grant and it was felt that the organization was a valuable asset to the town and was worth the expenditure. The two bandmasters serve without pay, and all money realized by the band goes into the funds of the organization, with no member receiving remuneration for his services. The grant will mean about one mill on the tax rate, but council hopes to pare down other expenditures so there will be no increase in taxes.

A motion to purchase a new electrically operated adding machine for the town offices, from the Campbellford Herald at a cost of $340 was passed.

Councillor George Vice, in reporting for the police committee said he felt his committee needed more time to complete their investigation of the request made by Chief Constable Charles M. Lockwood, that a third constable be hired. Mayor Locke said they would leave the matter until the next regular or special meeting.

A letter was received from Ross Stephens, saying his car had sustained damage when he had struck a mound of snow that had been left in the centre of the roadway on Bridge street by the town snow plow. Reeve D. R. Maybee, chairman of the road and bridge committee explained that on the date in question, the plow had moved snow from the curb to the centre of the roadway for easier removal, but that during the night, the temperature had dropped about 30 degrees and the snow had become frozen so solid that it was impossible to load it onto trucks for removal. Mr. Stephens claimed damages to the extent of replacing the battery of his car, which he said had been ruined when his car struck the frozen mass of snow. On motion of council, the matter will be turned over to the insurance company under a policy held by the town covering such mishaps.

STREET LIGHTS

The matter of the street lights not being turned on soon enough was again brought up, and Mayor Locke said that the P.U.C. had promised him they would do everything in their power to turn the street lights on as soon as dusk fell. He explained that on a couple of occasions the town had been unable to purchase power from the H.E.P.C. during peak loads, and this was the reason for the darkened streets. "We can't have lights if there is no power there", he told council. He also stated that if each householder in the town would turn off one electric light bulb during peak hours of 5 to 6 o'clock there would be no power shortage.

TAX COLLECTOR

Council received three applications for the position of tax collector, but decided to take no action on any of them until a thorough investigation is made into the requirements of the office. The advisability of hiring additional secretarial and stenographic help and combining the job of tax collector with that of treasurer was discussed, but no decisions reached. The finance committee will study the question and report at the next meeting.

The offer of Harry Sheridan for the old hospital property on Front street north was accepted. Mr. Sheridan ofefred $3,500 cash if he could obtain immediate possession. Council decided that since his offer was the highest yet received, they had better take the cash. When it is received, the money will be turned over to the new Memorial Hospital board to be applied against the building fund. A discussion arose as to the allotment of seats on the hospital board. It was felt the council should have a representative on the board, but no further action was taken.

A bylaw providing for a fee for the inspection of sewers and plumbing in the town, to be paid by the person having the plumbing done, was passed.

Instalments To Pay Court Fine

COBOURG (ENS) — Hector McKinnon of Hamilton, age 26, who said he was helping to put his brother through college, was given time to pay a $50 fine for driving while impaired. He was also found guilty of having liquor in an illegal place, and was fined $10, and costs. McKinnon had enough funds for the latter fine. He promised the magistrate that he would pay half the $50, and costs, next week and the balance the succeeding week.

Magistrate R. B. Baxter allowed him to handle it on the deferred payment plan.

Provincial Constable R. Cooke said that a car driven by the accused sideswiped a car at a service station in Brighton on January 30, and kept on going. He went after it, and came upon the car in the ditch outside of Brighton. McKinnon was the driver, and there was a part bottle of liquor under the seat.

Charge of failing to signal a turn laid against Jack Harnden of Grafton was adjourned for a week when it came up in court yesterday.

Lekel Stoker of Colborne was fined $10, and costs, on a careless driving charge arising out of an accident which took place on No. 2 Highway December 23. Leonard Ursini of Toronto told the court that he backed out of a side road on to the highway when he discovered his brakes were frozen, and the car was partly on the highway and part of it on the sideroad when struck by the vehicle of the accused.

More Than Sixty Revisions

The Canadian Institute of Public Opinion recently asked some Canadians, supposedly representative of the nation, 'What is the main job of the Senate?' Of this group 21 per cent. were able to give an intelligent answer, 9 per cent. were a little off the track, and 4 per cent. were vague. The remaining 66 per cent. were either flippant, misinformed or simply did not know. However, 42 per cent. of those questioned were in favour of abolishing the Senate.

* * *

We have said many times in these columns that we think that the Senate could be better managed, and probably better manned. But we think that it would be a disastrous mistake to abolish it. There are many reasons, some of them good, why the Commons approves of bills which are of the greatest importance, which the Commons as a whole has not studied and understands only in the most general way. The Commons is frequently in a hurry to get through the work which lies before it, and it is often extremely careless of what it approves.

* * *

The Senate's principal job is to examine what is sent to it by the Commons, and make suggestions for its revision; these suggestions are usually accepted, because they are improvements on the original, which may be full of holes. The Senate has plenty of time to consider bills, and it has among its members men of wide experience in a variety of fields, including some lawyers whose professional services would cost the country very large sums of money.

* * *

When the Senate returned the plan for an amendment of the Criminal Code to the Commons, it had been revised in more than sixty places, and the purpose of the revisions was to make the Code coherent and workable. If the Code had become law without such an examination, it would have had more than sixty holes in it, some of them capable of causing great injustice and confusion.

* * *

Of course the Commons does not give wide publicity to these revisions. It is understandably not anxious to advertise to the country that some of its work is done in a hasty, makeshift fashion. But that is the case and, as we said before, the Commons is not entirely to blame; it has an immense amount of work to get through every session, and it lacks the time for leisurely consideration of new legislation. But the Senate has it, and the Senate does it, and the Senate saves Canada many bad laws and a great deal of money by exercising the function for which it was instituted. Those who seek to abolish it do not understand it, and we are utterly opposed to their wish. Those who seek to reform it have, as we have said on many occasions, our support. But it would be a bad day for Canada when all our legislation was the work of one overloaded House.

The Risk Of Error Must Be Taken

In his annual report on the state of the University of Toronto, President Sydney Smith has some pertinent comments on the university and freedom. In some universities in the American republic academic freedom is being undermined and foreclosed by political tactics which should be foreign to the liberty which the American constitution would guard and without which universities make a mockery of their proper function to find, teach and learn the truth. In the face of what is happening in some quarters across the border it is well that the head of Canada's largest university should speak strongly on the nature and necessity of academic freedom.

The university tradition of independent thinking and speaking by its very nature gives rise to conflict with certain elements in society, Dr. Smith points out.

"Any person or institution that has a vested interest in the status quo resents the suggestion of change; on the other hand, revolutionaries fired with a fanatic zeal for whatever cause they have at heart dislike objective criticism. To the first group universities are hotbeds of radicalism, to the second they are icebergs of reaction. The tension between universities and society is not new. Charges of heresy were not uncommon when the main areas of study were theological and philosophical. Even in the last century, the opposition that was raised to scientific teaching, particularly the theory of evolution, is well known.

"In our own country, freedom of thought has been stifled in the name of the state under dictatorships, and it is now being threatened in the name of democracy".

Sir Robert Falconer, President Smith's predecessor, said in 1922 that "The question of Freedom is more vital in a university than in any other institution of our Western civilization". A university has to encourage and preserve the freedom of thought and speech, and its teachers and students must be pathfinders in the world of ideas. They are not infallible, for "to think at all is to risk error". The risk must be taken, and independence of mind fostered and guarded.

John Stuart Mill summed up the need in his essay On Liberty: "Protection against the tyranny of the magistrate is not enough: there needs protection also against the tyranny of the prevailing opinion and feeling; against the tendency of society to impose, by other means than civil penalties, its own ideas and practices as rules of conduct on those who dissent from them: to fetter the development, and, if possible, prevent the formation, of any individuality not in harmony with its ways, and compel all characters to fashion themselves upon the model of its own. There is a limit to the legitimate interference of collective opinion with individual independence: and to find that limit, and maintain it against encroachment, is as indispensable to a good condition of human affairs, as protection against political despotism".

The tactics of Senator Joseph McCarthy in the United States have been effective only because there is a body of collective opinion in the United States which in the name of democracy, fears change and freedom of ideas. An environment unfavourable to free intellectual activity will not be created in Canada if enough men of responsibility have the courage and confidence to resist the tyranny implicit in a prevailing opinion.

Three Horror Weapons

When the revolver was perfected in the last century prophets of woe said it would change military tactics and make war so atrocious that humanity itself would be threatened with extinction. Similar statements have been made about other new weapons. The truth is that until a weapon becomes "conventional" it is damnable, but by the time it has been accepted as normal to the military, devices have been invented or discovered to mitigate its harmfulness.

Despite these comfortable thoughts, we cannot be at ease in thinking of three kinds of weapons now available to warmakers, all of which have to some extent become "conventional". Atomic, biological and chemical warfare pose greater threats to civilization's survival than a pistol, a tank or a torpedo. And we have from Dr. O. M. Solandt, chairman of Canada's Defence Research Board, this recent prediction: that all of them might be used in a third world war.

To those people who are not already scared out of their wits, we suggest that a lively personal interest in anything which may prevent a third world war—the present Berlin Conference, for instance—is justifiable. There is no use in burying one's head in the sand and saying it can't happen here — atomic biological and chemical warfare. But it can. Since these could affect one very personally indeed, and horribly, is it not prudent to consider that anything that might prevent its happening here is personally important? We suggest that this is one reason why our readers, remote as they are from Berlin and as they may be from the seats of power, should not ignore our reports on the Big Four conference.

Mr. Hemingway's Reported Death

Toronto and American papers were not the only ones to jump into mourning before Ernest Hemingway had time to jump out of his crashing plane. The French press made a national calamity of it, Hemingway being one of the few modern foreign gods whom the French admit to their literary temple. His prose style has been revered and imitated by French moderns since the twenties.

One Paris newspaper printed the "reaction of major French authors to his supposed demise". When Mr. Hemingway meets his Parisian friends again he will be pleased to know that M. Andre Maurois's admiration for him was "without limit", and that M. Raymond Queneau thought him "a very, very fine fellow". M. Henri Troyat saw Fate fittingly at work. "Being a writer of passion, action and violent adventure, Mr. Hemingway's death is in some way prefigured in his works".

Perhaps it was these obituary notices which forced Hemingway into hospital last week, it is said "for observation". We venture to guess that he is there to get away from the observations of his mourning literary friends.

AT BERLIN

U.S. and Russia Relax Tension

By SEBASTIAN HAFFNER (in Berlin)

THE FIRST round of the Berlin four-power conference is over. It consisted of two separate events: the prepared and public keynote speeches of the Four Foreign Ministers, which marked a certain transition from the preceding exchange of Notes to the actual negotiations stage, and served to define the opening positions of the four Powers; and the surprisingly quick and smooth acceptance by the Western Powers of the Russian proposal for an agenda.

The latter is a move of considerable importance, which changes the character of the conference more than perhaps at first realised. It makes a great difference whether the four Powers approach the German and Austrian questions on the basis of a tacitly accepted division and antagonism between East and West, and try to make the best possible local and limited compromise on that basis; or whether they explore first their own relationship with one another and see whether or not possibilities for a fundamental change of the relationship exist. For it is clear that an Austrian, and even more a German, settlement will look different according to whether or not it is made on the basis of continuing global cold war.

IT IS almost equally clear that the most acute and immediately dangerous cold theatre is at the moment not Europe but Asia. If it were taken for granted that the conflict in Asia would go on, regardless of whether or not agreement on Germany and Austria were reached at this conference, then East and West alike would have to look at Europe as the potential second front in a possible Asiatic war, and would have to be extremely careful not to weaken their military positions in Europe: the dominating aspect of any European settlement would then undoubtedly have to be the strategic one. If, on the contrary, a global and universal relaxation of tension should become possible, then the four Powers could, with the prospect of a prolonged period of peace before them, afford to take somewhat larger strategic risks in Europe, and approach the German and Austrian questions more from the point of view of the merits of the case and the justice and inner viability of the solutions envisaged.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE AGENDA now agreed at Berlin, which puts relaxation of tension and especially the question of China, first, is therefore not necessarily a bad one, even though it has been proposed by Russia's Mr. Molotov and only somewhat regretfully accepted by the three Western Ministers. It does, of course, contain the danger which is inseparable from tackling the hardest part of a task first: it may lead to an early exacerbation of feelings and to a stronger consciousness of continuing world conflict than might have been the case if the general nature of East-West relations and the Chinese and Asian questions had been left on one side.

✧ ✧ ✧

ON the other hand, no one would in any case have been able to put the background of acute conflict in Asia out of his mind, even if it had not been formally put on the agenda; and the fact that it has now been brought to the surface may present not only a danger of "rubbing it in" but also an opportunity, albeit a slight one, to do something about it and change for the better the whole atmosphere in which the subsequent bargaining on Germany and Austria will take place.

✧ ✧ ✧

IT IS, incidentally, worth noting that Mr. Molotov, with his proposal to call a five-Power conference with China in early summer has at any rate killed the fear that he might insist on the participation of China in the current Berlin conference. He seems, as regards relaxation in Asia and admission of China to the circle of great Powers, to be content with promissory notes for the future and not to demand present payments. At the moment, of course, and in the present state of United States politics and public opinion, even such promissory notes may well be beyond Mr. John Foster Dulles' power to sign. However, what with the undecided questions of the Korean political conference, the mild Chinese reaction to the release of prisoners and the French interest in ending the Indo-China war without recourse to bilateral negotiations with Ho Chi Minh, the rebel leader, there is some scope for debate and even, possibly for compromise.

COMPARED with this important widening of the agenda, the four opening statements kept more within the bounds of the expected. Yet they, too, had their points of interest.

Unlike the previous exchange of Notes they produced four distinct points of view and emphasis, not two only. Indeed, the four statements might be grouped not just into three Western against one Russian one, but equally into two polemical ones (Mr. Molotov and Mr. Dulles) and two non-polemical ones (M. Bidault and Mr. Eden). If they are wed together, it becomes clear that it is an oversimplification to see the line-up of this conference simply as Russia against the Rest — one against three. It is essentially a line-up of Russia against the United States, one against one, in which Britain and France know that they have to side with the U.S. if it comes to the worst, but are in the meatime overwhelmingly interested in preventing things from coming to the worst. They — as much as Germany — are, in this conference, subjects for whose good will and adherence Russia and the U.S. are fighting; and from Mr. Molotov's second speech it became fairly clear that he, at least, is well aware of this.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE OTHER striking thing so far has been Mr. Molotov's complete renunciation of any wooing of Germany. His speeches must make harsh reading to German readers. Mr. Dulles, in contrast, went so far as to make even the anti-Versailles tirades of the more extreme German nationalists his own, regardless of the fact that this cannot have gone down too well with his French and British listeners. For moments, during the Molotov-Dulles speeches, there flashed up a rather frightening vision of what is certainly by now a possibility if things go wrong at the conference: a fully-fledged U.S. military alliance with revisionist Western Germany, against which Russia would hope to revive the old tripartite alliance — France, Russia and Britain — of 1914.

✧ ✧ ✧

BUT this is still a far-off danger. For the moment the first question on the agenda is whether some remnant of the five-Power alliance of 1941-45 can be restored. If this should prove possible — the hopes are not high — it would not be difficult to fit a united Germany into a world which would then look forward to a period of peace. If it proves impossible, the second question of the conference (which may well provide the bulk of its proceedings) is whether and on what conditions the opposed power groups in Europe can afford a united Germany — or, failing that, at least a free and neutral Austria — between them.

An American Opinion: MOLOTOV COCKTAIL

Call Me Mister

(BRANTFORD EXPOSITOR)

IN one week three men, two in Australia and one in the U.K., have declined to assume the title of baronet to which they succeeded on the death of the previous holder. The two Australians, like their fathers, are plain working men and feel that a title is out of place in their economic station in life.

The Englishman, however is the wealthy, prominent and able head of a famous printing firm. His motive for declining to be called Sir Philip A. Waterlow, Bart., cannot be economic. Perhaps he shares the feeling of many people that the system of inheriting titles has led to a cheapening of honours and to the perpetuation of undeserved distinction.

British public and private life is littered with people whose sole claim to notice is their possession by birth of a title they did nothing to earn and could not earn if they tried. There is also a horde of men and women who preface their names with "The Hon", for the sole reason that some often distantly related ancestor, recent or remote, earned or bought an inheritable title of high rank.

Abolition of all such titles at one fell swoop is out of the question. It is also unnecessary because there is a much better way to get rid of these false social distinctions, one that we claim modestly as our invention. Let us explain.

Supppose plain John Smith, by industry and ability, rises to become Lord Mayor of his city and is knighted, being then known as Sir John Smith. If he dies while still a knight the title dies with him. But if he is stepped up from a knighthood to a baronetcy to become Sir John Smith, Bart., and then dies, his eldest son, or failing a son, his nearest male relative takes the title simply by accident of birth. The son or other inheritor may be a mental clod or the black sheep of the family, but he gets the title all the same and can use it or not as he pleases.

Our scheme is quite simple. It would provide that when a man with an inheritable title—all titles above knighthood, are inheritable—dies, his successor should take the title one step below. Sir John Smith, Bart's successor would become, say, Sir Henry Smith, knight, and if he failed to prove his worthiness to be advanced to baronet the knighthood would die with him, and his sons, if any, would be plain misters.

The idea works equally well where the title is a much higher one. Each inheritor would take the rank one below that of the previous holder. Thus the man succeeding a viscount would be only a baron or lord. And if he did nothing to earn a viscountcy, his son or other successor would step into his shoes one rank further down as a baronet and his son a knight. And if this son failed to win promotion, the title now reduced to knight, would disappear with him.

In this way a family viscountcy and its lower ranks would be extinguished in three generations, a barony in two and a baronetcy in one, provided none of the inheritors at each stage showed such ability and worth as to deserve promotion.

Instead of the screams of outraged dignity which prompt and total abolition of all inheritable titles would provoke, there would be a steady reduction in the number of titles by an eminently just process, the reverse of that by which titles are usually gained. Anyone who felt aggreived by the operation of this system would have only himself to blame. He who subscribes to the idea of promotion on merit must logically accept demotion for lack of merit.

We do not expect that our idea will ever be adopted, and strictly, this matter of inheriting titles is none of our business. But it would be fun to watch our deflation system at work.

Protocol on Rock

(Montreal Star)

When seventeen British guns roared out a salute Friday morning as the Spanish governor of Algeciras stepped onto the rock of Gibraltar, two governors of Gibraltar greeted one another. Lt.-Gen. Sir Gordon MacMillan is the British Governor-General. Gen. Jose Cuesta Monero, the military Governor of adjoining Algeciras, in Spain also holds the title of Governor of Gibraltar.

If this seems a little complicated let it be remembered that Spain considers Gibraltar her own, although she has never taken any steps to regain actual possession. So, among the titles given in Spain is Governor of Gibraltar and it is always conferred upon the military Governor of Algeciras.

When Sir Gordon MacMillan raised his glass to General Monereo and the guns thundered out, protocol was being observed but, in the minds of each man, protocol of different kinds. General Monereo, from the Spanish point of view, was being welcomed to his own territory. From the British point of view he was a V.I.P. being welcomed to British territory.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

The burden of the word of the Lord for Israel, saith the Lord, which stretched forth the heavens, and layeth the foundation of the earth, and formeth the spirit of man within him. Behold, I will make Jerusalem a cup of trembling unto all the people round about, when they shall be in the siege both against Judah and against Jerusalem . . . And I will pour upon the house of David, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the spirit of grace and of supplications. (Zech. 12:1, 2. 10.)

✧ ✧ ✧

In that day there shall be a fountain opened to the house of David and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem for sin and for uncleanness. And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the Lord of hosts, that I will cut off the names of the idols out of the land, and they shall no more be remembered: and also I will cause the prophets and the unclean spirit to pass out of the land . . .

And it shall come to pass, that in all the land, saith the Lord, two parts therein shall be cut off and die; but the third shall be left therein. And I will bring the third part through the fire, and will refine them as silver is refined, and will try them as gold is tried: they shall call on my name, and I will hear them: I will say, It is my people: and they shall say, The Lord is my God. (Zech. 13:1, 2, 8, 9.)

✧ ✧ ✧

And the Lord shall be king over all the earth: in that day shall there be one Lord, and his name one. (Zech. 14:9.)

Infant Training

(New York Herald Tribune)

Scientists are undoubtedly wise to use caution in applying to humans some of the lessons they learn in animal behaviour experiments. Yet most parents would not hesitate to link the discoveries of a Toronto scientist in his experiment with baby rats to his findings in a study of human orphans.

Reporting to the American Society for the Advancement of Science at its annual meeting in Boston, Dr. Otto Weininger, of the University of Toronto, says he found that infant laboratory rats which were petted for a few minutes each day grew up to be smarter and healthier rats than those of the same strain which were not petted. Coincidently, his studies of orphaned human babies placed in asylums and in foster homes, he says, showed that those in institutions were less healthy and had a higher mortality rate than those who had the care and affection of foster parents.

Dr. Weininger, exercising a scientist's caution, observes only that he was pleased to note a relationship in his findings. But others will see in this further confirmation of what they and the human race in general through the ages have sensed instinctively, and what human psychology has increasingly emphasized in recent years. The sense of security or insecurity, and the states of health associated with them are imparted to human infants during their very earliest develpoment; and the quality of love and affection given to the infant is the determinant.

Canada's National Church?

(Portage La Prairie [illegible]phic)

The Manual of the United Church of Canada (page 13) reminds us that the United Church dares to hope it will be considered a National Church. There is no doubt it is well on its way to that goal. Sunday school attendance has greatly increased and the school has become much more efficient. Having a native ministry, the United Church is quick to adopt (1) Mission Preaching, (2) a Form of Confirmation (after Lutheran belief and pattern) and a modified sacramental view of life and Christian Living. Since the unit is the "Pastoral Charge," the local Minister is, with certain limitations, enabled to adjust the worship and practice of his congregation to suit a fairly wide circle of people. In the Episcopal Communions, the unit is the Diocese, and the opportunity for "accomodations" in Faith and Practice is much less.

Four Projects Tied Up By Picketing

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—Picketing in a dispute involving union recognition and wages has tied up construction work on four building projects in the Niagara peninsula. Cost of the projects is estimated at about $500,000. Smith Brothers Construction Company has the contracts.

The pickets, from the International Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners (AFL), have halted work on a crippled children's camp near Port Colborne, a federal building at Ridgeway and alterations at the Bank of Montreal in Niagara Falls. The fourth job is at the Welland works of North American Cyanamid where there are no pickets but work has stopped by agreement.

ASK FOR HEARING

The Smith company is applying to the Ontario labor relations board in Toronto at a hearing today for a ruling that the picketing is unlawful and for leave to prosecute the union.

Arnold Smith, president of the company, claims that the union does not represent his workers as bargaining agent.

The union is asking that the present $1.75 an hour wage be increased to $1.90 at once with increases to $2 and $2.50 later in the year.

Ballet Given To Large Crowd

TORONTO (CP) — The Royal Winnipeg Ballet Monday night performed before a capacity crowd in suburban Etobicoke township. It presented "Swan Lake", "Concerto" and "The Shooting of Dan McGrew" as the third attraction of the season of Etobicoke Community Concerts.

Pearl McCarthy, Globe and Mail reviewer, wrote:

"This was remarkably good ballet. There is no ethereal Markova type to make one forget everybody else for the moment. .. This organization is obviously built from the ground up and that tells in general quality."

Miss McCarthy said Jean Stoneham's technique was "absolutely excellent" in the classical "Swan Lake."

2 Governments Agree To Buy Cornwall Land

CORNWALL (CP)—The federal and Ontario governments have jointly agreed to purchase some 275 acres of land on Cornwall's eastern outskirts for housing construction.

The land, estimated to cost about $175,000, will be serviced to provide, initially, about 1,000 building lots, Dr. J. A. Phillips, chairman of Cornwall's planning board, said Monday.

The land will be sold to home builders at cost.

Bancroft Students Compete In Public Speaking Contest

BANCROFT (ENS)—Six high school students participated in Friday night's Public Speaking contest held at the North Hastings High School. The contest, sponsored by Bancroft Lions, was in conjunction with the nation-wide scheme conducted by Lions International and the two winners will now compete in a zone contest at Peterborough.

Taking part were Haroldeen Watson, Gail Inwood, Sue Gordon, Glen Kellar, Garfield Moxam and Cyril Sharp. Lion president Jim Brown introduced the judges, the Rev. E. Owen Johnston, the Rev. Alan Borland and the Rev. E. Hardy.

Winning contestants were Haroldeen Watson and Glen Kellar, both of Bancroft. Each speaker delivered two addresses, one prepared and one impromptu. Miss Watson chose as her prepared subject "Madame Pandit" in which she told of the rise to fame of this lady. In her impromptu "My greatest scare", an imaginary thriller, the speaker related her struggle with a python in Darkest Africa.

Glen Kellar's first subject, well supported by statistics, was "Our winters are getting warmer", and his impromptu, "Why I go to school", indicated the student's aspirations to the teaching profession.

A fluent review of the life of Robert Louis Stevenson was given by Gail Inwood who chose as her impromptu title "An interesting trip", an account of an actual school trip made by bus through New York State.

Sue Gordon's oration outlined the supposed life of "George Dupre" and "What I would expect of a summer job" was the title of her second speech.

Cyril Sharp spoke on "India's struggle for independence" and outlined that nation's history from the earliest days of Britain's colonization to the present day. Cyril's impromptu subject "I dislike non-participation" dealt with extra-curricular subjects at the school.

In a clever speech entitled "Work", Garfield Moxam, in support of his subject, quoted liberally from various authors including Kipling and Shakespeare. His second choice told of "What I like in teachers".

Announcing the winners, the Rev. Johnston made suggestions to aid the contestants in future events and quoted the speaker's golden rule "Stand up, speak up and shut up".

Presentation of awards to winners and runners-up was made by public school principal Gordon Fresque, who is also chairman of the Lions boys and girls committee.

A supporting program included dances by Donna Turner and Karen Labarge, piano solos by Mrs. Don Creighton and David Smith and a vocal solo by Mrs. Creighton.

Australian Cashiered

TOKYO (AP)—Lieut. Norman Poole, Australian paymaster charged with embezzling nearly £50,000, was sentenced today to 10 years imprisonment and cashiered from the Australian Army by a general court-martial. He was convicted on 14 separate counts of misappropriation and making false statements of his accounts.

Will Film 'Antony'

ROME (AP)—Filippo Del Giudice, producer of "Hamlet" and "Henry V," plans to film Shakespeare's "Anthony and Cleopatra," probably this year. Plans already are far advanced. The cast would be headed by British stars Michael Redgrave and Margaret Leighton. Orson Welles and Canadian-born Alexander Knox are being considered for supporting roles.

Language Study Urged Earlier

KITCHENER (CP) — Language study early in school life would help children develop musically, Dr. Edward Johnson, former manager of the Metropolitan Opera Company of New York, said Monday.

Addressing a service club, he said music teaching in the schools should be based on language study. He said usually young singers find it difficult now to become fluent in the languages they need and this is a severe handicap in their later training years.

Dr. Johnson said he feels the time is ripe for developing the present school generation into future Canadian artists and audiences.

He suggested that Kitchener-Waterloo service clubs develop a program similar to the Edinburgh Festival but on a smaller scale. He said he thinks Kitchener and Waterloo have all they need to develop into a music centre for western Ontario.

India Next Door Red China Seeks Form Buffer State

By PHILIP DEANE

NEW DELHI (OFNS)—Diplomatic observers here report a serious deadlock in the Indian-Chinese talks on Tibetan frontier questions now being held in Peking. The deadlock is believed to be related to India's role in the Neutral Nations Commission on prisoners of war in Korea and her attempts to help China to get a political conference on Korea.

Now that Tibet is in Communist hands, it no longer serves as a protection for India. The Indian Government, therefore, wants to create a new protective zone skirting the borders of Tibet, and including the Himalayan States of Nepal, Sikkim and Bhutan. The Chinese have been unwilling to give India a completely free hand in these buffer States. Peking has been asking for frontier revisions between Tibet and these States, as well as between Tibet and Assam, India's northeastern corner. These frontier demands have been a part of a Chinese war of nerves which has included interference with India's traditional telegraphic, consular and trading rights inside Tibet, and which is believed to have been intensified recently as a means of pressure on India over the question of Korea.

WILL LOSE FACE

It is believed here that the Chinese want a political conference on Korea, and that to get it they were willing to lose face over the prisoners of war issue. Peking was also reported to be willing to give way on the question of how exactly the Soviet Union would participate in the Korean political conference—whether as a neutral or as a belligerent. According to these reports Peking would like the conference without the Soviet Union's participation; but Moscow is not willing to let Peking conduct an independent foreign policy. This Soviet attitude, it is believed here, displeases the Chinese, who do not think Soviet advice has helped them in resuming more normal relations with the West and in obtaining the Western imports which would ease the present dangerous material shortages in China. But since the Soviet Union is for the time being China's only source of heavy industrialisation equipment Moscow can dictate terms to Peking.

To by-pass the problem of the Soviet Union's participation in the Korean political conference, a plan was worked out by India, reportedly with China's approval. It is believed here that this plan included a proposal for dropping any further discussion of the Korean prisoners issue, and for holding a preliminary, informal, exploratory conference, to precede the main political conference. For the purposes of this exploratory conference the two opposing sides were not to be defined, so as to make it possible for the Soviet Union to participate without the Western Powers having to give their formal agreement.

WHY STALLED?

It is the Western Powers' refusal to accept the Soviet Union as a neutral participant that has stalled the negotiations on the Korean political conference. Diplomatic observers here, however, no longer believe the Indian Plan has much chance of success. India's explicit condemnation of the release of the prisoners of war in Korea by the United Nations, has offended many Western countries, who are expected to oppose a United Nations Assembly meeting on Korea and to oppose the holding of a Korean political conference on the lines suggested by India. One of their objections, it is thought, would be that India's report on the prisoners of war would make such a conference degenerate into a bout of useless recriminations.

The increased strain in the Peking talks is interpreted in diplomatic circles here as China's way of making India pay for her failure to secure a political conference on Korea.

Former Queen Awarded Quick Divorce

CAIRO (AP) — Beautiful, 20-year-old former queen Narriman of Egypt won a quick divorce in a Moslem religious court here today from ex-king Farouk after a month of behind-the-scene negotiations.

The girl Farouk first saw in 1949 as she shopped for her engagement ring with another man renounced custody of her two-year-old son, Ahmed Fuad, and also dropped her demand that the ex-king personally pay her monthly alimony of 5,000 Egyptian pounds ($14,400) and a dowry allowance of $10,000.

Instead, her lawyer said, Narriman will ask President Mohamed Neguib's revolutionary government to pay her those moneys out of Farouk's properties in Egypt, which the new regime confiscated when it dethroned and exiled him in July, 1952.

Her chances of getting the money appear problematical.

LONG LIST OF CHARGES

Narriman in her divorce suit had charged her husband with adultery, maltreatment, mental cruelty and estrangement. The settlement prevented the airing of any details that may have escaped newspaper reporters who have avidly followed the ex-king's cavortings about Europe with a succession of young women.

It was the second marital severance for Farouk, who will be 34 next month. In 1938 he married the teen-age daughter of an Egyptian diplomat and she became Queen Farida. He divorced her in 1948.

Narriman had been engaged to diplomat Zaki Hashem. When Farouk began paying court, Zaki returned to his job in New York as an economist with the United Nations. Subsequently the king gave Zaki a good government job at home, and he married a banker's daughter.

Ontario Approves Cancer Institute Plan

TORONTO (CP) — The Ontario government has approved plans for a $4,500,000 provincial cancer research institute, Premier Frost announced Monday night.

He said an additional $1,000,000 will be spent for equipment. Half of this money will be provided by the province and the rest, it is expected, by the federal government.

The seven-storey building for the institute will be built on the Wellesley Hospital property in central Toronto.

Robbed While Praying

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—Mrs. Amelia Meeks reported to police that she was robbed of her purse by a young man carrying a knife while she knelt praying in church.

MISSION COMPLETED — Destitute Eskimos at Perry River, 75 miles inside the Arctic Circle, line up for food and supplies flown in by the RCAF. The food shortage developed because there were no caribou and little fish last fall. The Perry River trading post carries little food supplies because the natives normally live off the land. The RCAF flew the supplies in from Yellowknife, N.W.T., to the lonely settlement, 1,100 miles northeast of Edmonton. —(CP Photo).

Ask Final Clemency For Paratrooper

STRATFORD (CP)—A final submission has been made to Justice Minister Garson asking clemency and remission of the death sentence imposed on Reuben Henry Norman, 26-year-old former Army paratrooper, his defence counsel said Monday.

Norman was convicted and sentenced to hang for the fatal shooting of Jean Marie Satchell, 17, here in February, 1953.

Defence counsel K. V. Stratton said that a series of appeals have been made and the last one was filed Monday at Ottawa. Defence was made on the ground of insanity.

Norman was sentenced last fall to be hanged Feb. 16.

Five Left Homeless

KINGSTON (CP)—A family of five was left homeless Monday when fire gutted their frame bungalow within 30 minutes. Burned out of their home into a mild snowstorm were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moon and their three sons, Earl, 7, Ronnie, 8, and Wayne, 10.

Dies Of Injuries

HAMILTON (CP)—W. E. Carman Richards, 62, injured when his car plunged 150 feet down Hamilton mountain 10 days ago, died in hospital Monday. His wife, hurt in the same accident, is in critical condition.

Quebec Residents Now Facing Possible Double Tax Bill

By ALEX DIMEO

MONTREAL (CP) — Quebec taxpayers are probably the least envied of any in Canada—by 1955 they may be paying income taxes to two governments.

When Premier Duplessis of Quebec recently announced plans to introduce a bill imposing a provincial income tax, effective Jan. 1 last, he said it was his "sincere conviction" the tax will be fully deductible from federal income tax. This, however, may not be the case.

The proposed tax, equivalent to 15 cents of every dollar paid in federal income tax, would, if deductible, cut federal revenues. It might reduce chances of federal tax cuts in 1954.

Under existing federal laws, an individual paying provincial income tax can claim deductions of five per cent on his federal payment.

In Ottawa, federal officials expect Mr. Duplessis to ask for amendment of the federal tax law, making the provincial levy fully deductible from federal taxes. But the official feeling is that Ottawa will resist this move.

FEAR REACTIONS

Officials fear Quebec's move may lead to reactions elsewhere. Quebec at present is the only province that has not signed away its income-tax rights in return for set annual payments by the federal government.

The other provinces have signed five-year taxation agreements with Ottawa but might be hesitant about signing again in view of Quebec's action when the agreements come up for renewal.

Any mass breakaway would mean collapse of the federal plan to prevent duplication in the tax field, officials say.

If Mr. Duplessis asks Ottawa for revision of the federal tax code and Ottawa refuses, approximately half of Quebec's some 600,000 taxpayers would be the heaviest taxed in Canada.

They could claim deductions of five cents on every dollar paid to the federal government, but they would be left owing Quebec 10 cents.

Basic exemption for the proposed provincial tax is $1,500 for single persons, and $3,000 for married persons. Approximately half of Quebec residents paying federal income tax would be exempt.

The proposed tax is expected to increase provincial revenues by $25,000,000 annually to $300,000,000.

The Wolf and the Crane

A WOLF once got a bone stuck in his throat. So he went to a Crane and begged her to put her long bill down his throat and pull it out. "I'll make it worth your while," he added. The Crane did as she was asked, and got the bone out quite easily. The Wolf thanked her warmly, and was just turning away, when she cried, "What about that fee of mine?" "Well, what about it?" snapped the Wolf, baring his teeth as he spoke; "you can go about boasting that you once put your head into a Wolf's mouth and didn't get it bitten off. What more do you want?"

Junior Petes Defeat Ports Who Try To Beat Up Referee Coombs After Tilt

The Junior Petes downed Port Perry Flyers 5-1 before some 300 OHA junior "B" fans here last night to definitely clinch first place in the group race as the schedule nears the finish. Immediately after the last gong of the game, many of the losers swarmed around Referee Sixty Coombs of Lindsay, arguing hotly and threatening him, two of them trying to hit him as he escaped through the hall door as a police constable stepped out to order the players off the ice. Their manager also hurried over at this time and angrily ordered his players to their dressing-room, berating them for their action. The loss left the transplanted Oshawa team (who play "home" games in Port Perry) in second place, a game and a half up on Lindsay.

PEEVED AT REF

The visiting players were peeved at the referee toward the last for two penalties given the Ports halfway through the third period, which cost a goal. However, the Junior Petes were full value for their victory, outplaying the visitors throughout the third to outscore them 3-1. They had racked up a 2-0 lead in the first heat, and the teams battled on even terms in the scoreless mid-session.

Play was fast and fairly even the first two frames, but quiute chippy in the third and the Creighton crew had an edge on their hot rivals. Gary Copeland had an injured hip aggravated and Paul Doris got a bad gash on the mouth in an accidental collision in the first period, both being out some time for repairs, but returned later.

ATTEMPT TO INJURE

Port Perry drew six of the 11 penalties, one a five-minute one for attempt to injure, while Junior Petes drew one 10-misconduct. Bob Delahaye deserved a shutout with fine goaltending, and he had good support most of the way, Jerry Frizzelle especially turning in a solid blueline chore. Gord Coyle pulled the hat-trick up front with three nice markers, while Paul Doris and Jim Morrow had one each. Gary Kearns and Larry Ball had two assists apiece, singles going to Frizzelle, Morrow, McDougall and Ferguson. Attersley scored from Fisher for the losers.

O'Connor was off for high-sticking early when Coyle beat Hawe with a backhander on a play with Ball and Kearns. Both sides were at full strength when Paul Doris lifted the rubber over a prostrate goalie on a close-in thrust with McDougall and Kearns. Copeland and Paul Doris went off hurt after their collision. Tell nearly counted in alone on Delahaye, but was robbed, and Ports pressed a bit near the close.

LOTS OF PENALTIES

Johnson and Coyle got it early in the second for high-sticking and a drive by Frizzelle just missed. Johnson later drew the nod again for tripping and Chazewski was thefted on a breakaway. Myles went next for slashing and Kearns followed for hooking. All were back when Pue got it for tripping with a minute left in the period. Then, with but five seconds left to go, Coyle was chased for tripping and his angry buddy, Murray Byrne pushed the referee and got a misconduct out of the deal.

Shy two men for a minute in the third, the locals held off the Ports till all were back. Then Attersley lifted one on Fisher's pass right in on goal with Delahaye down from one save and that lit the lamp. Paul Doris and Kearns came close twice as Junior Petes roared back to dominate play. Coyle finally scored in a close-in scramble with Morrow and Ferguson. Johnson boarded Morrow hard and got five minutes for an attempt to injure as play roughened up. Attersley followed for slashing. It cost them a goal as Coyle counted a nice one from Frizzelle. All were back in the dying minutes when Morrow scored the clincher on a good play with Ball.

Port Perry: goal, Hawe; defence, Dykstra and Johnson; centre, Attersley; wings, O'Connor and Fisher. alts.: Romanuk, Masters, Copeland, Brodie, Gibson, Zaduc, Tell, Myles and Chazewski.

Jr. Petes: goal, Delahaye; defence, Byrne and Frizzelle; centre, Ball; wings, Morrow and Coyle; alts.: P. Doris, McDougall, Kearns, Murphy, Hook, T. Doris, Pue, Ferguson and Snape.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

TPT Petes trek to Belleville tonight and hope to lengthen their lead atop the OHA senior "B" grouping. Their 4-3 win Saturday down Bowman Villa way jumped 'em into first place in the hot race, and one wonders if the Truckers will take another cut of pay. Scribe George Campbell of Oshawa wrote before the Saturday scrap: "Coach Ernie Dickens fined every player on the team, including himself, for the showing in Kingston the other night, and he has also withdrawn a few privileges. The Truckmen have to get serious. They've had 19 goals scored against them in the last two games, which is an obvious reflection on their defensive play—weak defence and poor back-checking as glaring faults.

Bench coach Frank (Drake) Jopling, working with playing coach Eddie Redmond, has been doing a fine job handling the Petes the last half of the senior schedule. An experienced and smart defenceman for a long playing period himself, Drake has his men hustling both ways and handles the game relays wisely. Petes boast the best defence in the loop, in front of a steady goalie who is showing plenty now since the newcomers have all adapted themselves to the club's style of play. Prexy Eddie O'Toole, Manager Jim Ellis and the rest of a capable executive are also quite pleased with Petes' position atop the heap, and think they'll go all the way this semester. Kingston, after a long absence up this way, come here Friday night.

Chip Off The Old Block

Years ago as a kid we heard of the prowess of big Bill Crowley in the days of Ernie Wasson, Rollie Glover, Fred Whitcroft, Harry Morgan, Chris Graham, Bill Cavanah and Mel Moore. They won an Ontario intermediate title for Peterborough around 1906, we believe. Kids of today, probably, will in later years speak of another Bill Crowley, and his classy teammates on the Petes' senior "B" club now. Young Bill isn't as husky as his late dad was, but he is faster and likely just as good a hockeyist. After all, he helped Legion win an Ontario senior "B" crown several years ago, and he may be riding with a provincial winner this season. A fine player.

Oshawa Truckers travel tonight to Orillia and could once again tie Petes for first place by a win, if our squad loses to the Memos. Latter goes next night to the Limestone City. Petes will be idle this Saturday night, as Orillia plays in Kingston, and Belleville at Oshawa. We hear the K's-Oshawa tilts of Feb. 13 will be switched from Bowmanville to to Kingston where they draw much better. Statistician George Carver hasn't compiled the leading scorers of the group this week as several summaries weren't sent to him in time, but the list will be released next weekend. Less than four weeks remain in the keen schedule, and think it'll be group semi-finals, featuring the top four teams.

Can't Be Caught Now

Junior Petes made sure of first place in their final group race here last night by dumping Port Perry 5-1 in a scrappy contest. Winning 16 and losing but five, they can't be dislodged now, the schedule ending within two weeks. Port Perry will probably finish second to make group finals, though Lindsay has a chance yet. Locals have two tilts away yet, one at Collingwood on Saturday, and they have Lindsay here Feb. 8. Bill Twist, after treatment to his back by Archie Campbell, will be ready to play later this week. Gord Coyle shone last eve with three markers for Red Creighton's crew, with Gary Kearns, Larry Ball and Jim Morrow each in on two. Some neat defensive work and goaltending shown by the winners, who finished stronger in a lively fray.

* * * * * *

Game was nearly an hour late starting owing to the tardy arrival of the Ports, by way of Oshawa. Play roughened up some in the second and third periods, with fights threatening toward the end. A couple of penalties to Port Perry in the third — and by then they had lost the tussle — angered the visitors and they badgered Referee Sixty Coombs plenty till the finish. Right after, they tried to rough him up, and a few did get a light punch or two in, ere Sixty escaped what might have developed into a serious mess any moment. A police constable and the Ports' manager shooed the perturbed Ports off to their dressing-room. Looks like a hot playoff series shaping up if these clubs clash in it.

CURLING CHAMPS — An Arvida, Que., rink is the winner of the 1954 Quebec provincial curling championships held in Quebec City. Quebec To Be Represented By Four Young Curlers

By PETER BUCKLEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

QUEBEC (CP)—Four curlers in their 30s, who had played together as a team for less than a month when they won the provincial title, will represent Quebec at the March 1-6 Canadian championship at Edmonton.

The Arvida team from northern Quebec's Lake St. John district took eight of its nine games against the province's best from nine regions, including the first play-off game necessary since the championships started here in 1927. The rink is skipped by 32-year-old Bill Tracy.

It was in the final game against veteran Alf Muth's Quebec Victoria quartet that the Arvida players showed their mettle. Counting four stones in the third end and three each in the eighth and 10th, they won 13-7.

THREE BILLS ON TEAM

Besides skip Tracy, the team is made up of second Ford Loucks, 37, and two other Bills—lead Bill Wallace, 35, and third Bill White, 39.

Although Tracy was elected skip "by popular acclaim," his position is almost solely titular, since most decisive plays are decided after a four-man conference at mid-ice.

All four shine at sharp, take-out curling and show the training each has had as a skip in the Arvida area. Each can eliminate an opponent's stone with a head-on butt or a slow roll around or through a defensive "cage."

Tracy is a native of Sackville, N.B. Married now with three youngsters, the mild-mannered, solidly-built maritimer insists he's "just an ordinary guy."

Interviewed after his provincial victory, he said "We count on supporting each other and on team play."

"There's four skips on our team. And if anybody says you can't play that way, well I guess we're here to prove they're wrong."

COMES FROM LINDSAY

Loucks, originally from Lindsay, Ont., has had a short stint at newspaper work and played intermediate football in 1938 with Peterborough Orfuns of the Ontario Rugby Football Union.

Five years ago he skipped a team in the provincial 'spiel, with Wallace on second. Loucks, the team conference caller, vividly recalls that tournament. "We had an eight-ender scored against us. It was the first one they ever had in the bonspiel."

Wallace, born in Winnipeg, is married and has three children. He has played on provincial competition teams three times, none victorious.

White is the father of four. He was born in Cape Breton, N.S.

All team members work at the Aluminum Company of Canada plant at Arvida, around which their city of 12,000 is built. Tracy and Wallace are engineers, White is a supervisor and Loucks an electrical maintenance foreman.

Junior Canadiens Bow To Biltmores In 4-3 Win

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Montreal Canadiens of the Quebec Amateur Hockey Association Junior league lost twice Monday night.

But their first loss will probably hurt them more than the second one. In fact it may have caused the second one.

The Canadiens, league-leaders of the QAHA with 35 victories so far this season, suffered their fourth defeat of the year when they were edged 4-3 in overtime by the Biltmores in Guelph.

It was their second loss to an Ontario Hockey Association Junior A team and the Biltmores were in last place before the game.

The visitors suffered their first loss of the night when their star centre Henri (Pocket Rocket) Richard was crashed hard in the second period. First reports said he suffered a broken rib.

ONE OF BEST PLAYERS

Richard, one of the best players in junior hockey, is also one of the game's biggest gate attractions after being continually compared to his older brother, Maurice, in the National Hockey League.

In the night's only other action Toronto St. Michael's College Majors defeated Hamilton Cubs 3-1 in Hamilton to strengthen their hold on third place in the OHA standings.

In Guelph the Biltmores took a 2-0 lead in the first period and led 2-1 in the second before increasing their margin to 3-1 in the third. But the Canadiens came back with two goals to send the game into overtime.

ATTERSLEY SCORES WINNER

Bob Attersley's marker at 4:08 of the overtime period won it for the Biltmores. Bill McCreary, Ike Scott and Hillary Menard were the other Guelph scorers. Claude Vinet, Claude Provost and Neil Burke counted for Montreal.

St. Michael's allowed Hamilton one goal in the first period but tied the score before the session ended and won it with two more goals in the final stanza.

Ken Gribbons fired the tying and winning marker. Dick Duff got the other goal for the Irish. Ed Louttit scored for the Cubs.

Jonquiere Marquis are at Kitchener, Quebec Frontenacs play the TeePees in St. Catharines and Guelph meets the Black Hawks in Guelph tonight.

Patrick Sees Rangers Making Playoffs

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP)—"The club is clicking and I think we have a good chance of making the playoffs."

That was the opinion expressed Monday by Muzz Patrick, coach of New York Rangers.

Having seen every National Hockey League club in action since he took over the Ranger reins three weeks ago, Patrick now has his own ideas on his team's attempt to qualify for a Stanley Cup berth.

"We're taking every game as it comes and not worrying about the long run," he said. "Sure, we have to concentrate on Boston—that's the team we have to beat out for fourth place. But every one counts now."

MOVING AHEAD

The Bruins, coached by Muzz's brother, Lynn, blanked Toronto 2-0 Sunday night and moved three points ahead of the New Yorkers. Each team has 21 games left to play.

The recent Ranger surge, during which they've won nine of 13 games —including a victory at Montreal for the first time in four years—has brought them from nine points behind the Bruins to their current contending position.

Patrick attributes the club's success to several factors, but calls the play of defencemen Harry Howell and Jack Evans a "real delight."

"These two are playing like veterans. They are forcing the opposing forwards to shoot from impossible angles by riding them out of every play. The other teams can take more shots than we do, but they can't come in close to the goal, the chances are they're not going to score."

PRAISES PLAYERS

Muzz also singled out centre Paul Ronty and right winger Wally Hergesheimer for their fine play.

"Ronty has been doing some fine work—feeding the wings and coming up with an occasional goal. Hergy, of course, is our big gun. He comes through with those important goals—in several games he's had two." Hergesheimer leads the Rangers with 23 goals.

Another reason for optimism, Patrick says, is the return of Doug Bentley, expected back next weekend. Bentley is in Saskatoon cleaning up some business affairs.

"Doug looked like his old self in the three games he played for us. He and Max (Doug's brother) give us the best power play in the league. It's something to have those two guys on ice when the other club is a man short."

Marmora Gets TVL Win From Batawa

MARMORA (ENS) — Marmora were at home to Batawa on Monday evening and came out winners by the score of 7-0.

The visitors had two players less than the homesters but put up a good game against the victors. It was La Forts' first appearance in the Batawa nets in the Marmora rink but his display was excellent. Killian in the Marmora goal handled shots in a styl pleasing to fans and he obtained his first shutout of the season. Marmora's second line were in on four of the seven goals.

Brooks and Mantle got two goals and an assist apiece. Jones was unlucky in not scoring but had three assists to his credit. The game was watched by a crowd of approximately 300.

Marmora — Goal, Killian; defence, Darrah, Leonard; centre, Maynes; wings, Lavender, K. Trumble, alternates, Jones, Mantle, Brooks, E. Trumble, Paranuik, Doyle, Brown, Nayler.

Norwood Boys Split In Puck Double Bill

NORWOOD (ENS) — In two minor hockey games here Monday, Norwood split evenly, beating Stirling 6-5 in the midget melee, but losing 7-1 to Stirling in the juvenile joust. The home midgets got all six goals in a driving third period to gain the verdict in a play which became rough in the final two frames.

Baker put Stirling midgets up one in the first from Reynolds and Ingram. Austin, Budd and Reynolds scored for them next heat, Budd and Kidd having an assist each. Budd from Kidd was their final in the third. Byer slapped home four for Norwood in the third, Smith and Hannivan each getting one. Hannivan was good for four assists, Smith three and Byer one in this chukker.

Stirling: Brady, McIntosh, Parks, Scott, Austin, Kidd, Budd, Ingram, Reynolds, Wells, Gary, Dickson, Shelnicky, Kempt, Baker.

Norwood: Scott, Telford, Heffernan, Byer, Smith, Hannivan, Herr, Millett, Morgan, McManus, Thompson.

CLOSE AT FIRST

G. McKee scored from Palmer for Stirling juves in the first period, as Rusaw got the lone one for Norwood. After a scoreless middle heat, Stirling got six, McMurray sparking them with four, as G. McKee and Parks added singles. An assist each went to Parks, M. McKee, Palmer, Anderson, Hermiston and McMurray.

Stirling: Brady, Hermiston, Hadley, Parks, Knapman, McMurray, Hessman, McCrory, Anderson, Montgomery, G. McKee, M. McKee, Bailey, Palmer.

Norwood: Lockheed Smith Hannon, Chase, Patterson, Rusaw, Rooney, Buchanan, MacArthur, Chamberlain.

Sport Motive

SACKVILLE, N.B. (CP) — Athletic events will take the spotlight at the spring convocation of Mount Allison University, with celebrations May 8-11 marking the 65th anniversary of intercollegiate sport. About 400 former athletes are expected to attend.

For Tag Team Title

WHIPPER WATSON

The Canadian Open Tag Team Wrestling Championship will be at stake in the feature mat event at the Brock Arena on Wednesday night, when the Mills Brothers, also known as Murder Inc. will collide with the team of Whipper Billy Watson and Hombre Montana.

Watson and Montana were awarded the referees' decision over the Mills Bros. at Maple Leaf Gardens recently, the Watson-Montana team being presented with the trophy, which the Mills proceeded to smash to smithereens over the victors. The Mills protested the verdict and still claim the championship. This match should clarify the contentious situation.

Firpo Szybsko, who many people witnessed in action on TV Saturday, will meet Jack Bence in the semi-final. There were more requests for a return engagement of Bence than any other wrestler to appear here. It should prove a fiery contest.

Johnny Harmon will wrestle Bill Stack in the first match.

FINISHES FIRST—Coach Red Creighton (shown above) has his Junior Petes safely tucked into the top slot of their OHA junior "B" grouping, and they can't be dislodged now as the schedule runs out. The locals will play either Port Perry or Lindsay in group finals later this month. The Junior Petes definitely clinched first place last night here by beating the Ports 5-1 in a scrappy game.

Leafs Buy Blake For $10,000 Cash

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto Maple Leafs of the International Baseball League announced Monday night that they have purchased Eddie Blake, a right-handed pitcher, from Indianapolis of the American Association for $10,000.

Blake, who returned to baseball after an army tank ran over both his legs in 1945, had a 14-7 won-and-lost record with Indianapolis last season. His record was the best in the league. He allowed only 37 walks in 208 innings, an average of 1.61 for a nine-inning game.

Eskimos Coach Leaves For Job In U.S.

EDMONTON (CP) — Darrel Royal, the man who brought split-T football to Canada, bowed out as head coach of Edmonton Eskimos of the Western Interprovincial Football Union Monday.

A few hours after Eskimos released the WIFU's all-star coach of 1953 from his contract obligations, the 29-year-old Royal left Edmonton by plane for Starksville, Miss., where he will become head coach of Mississippi State College.

Eskimo officials said Royal would return here in about a week to wind up his affairs.

Spring training at Starksville opens the first week in March.

Royal will succeed Murray Warmath, who will take over as head coach at Minnesota State.

DIDN'T STAND IN WAY

The move was in line with Royal's ambition to become a "career" coach. Eskimos didn't stand in his way.

Royal signed a three-year contract last season, his first in Canadian football, but Eskimos waived his obligations.

Eskimo president Ken Montgomery said "Darrel's ambition came true two years earlier than expected. The Eskimo executive decided unanimously that we could not stand in the way of the greater opportunity afforded Darrell. He leaves under the very best conditions and terms."

WON ALL-STAR HONORS

Royal earned all-America honors as one of the best quarterbacks in the history of the Oklahoma Sooners. He played with Oklahoma from 1946 through 1949.

He later went to Mississippi State where he was backfield coach under Warmath, and also was back field coach at North Carolina State in 1950 and at Tulsa in 1951.

In his one year with Edmonton, Royal took the Eskimos to the top of the WIFU in league play, but was beaten out by Winnipeg Blue Bombers in the final.

His split-T, learned and perfected at Oklahoma and Mississippi State, was so successful that he was named WIFU all-star coach and several other Canadian teams copied the formation.

Eskimos, meanwhile, have the "lines out" for a new coach, but they haven't given any indication who they want. All that has been said is that the lines are out for an American, and probably a split-T specialist.

THE Calvert SPORTS COLUMN

by Elmer Ferguson

The oldest partnership in major hockey, now extending beyond the 20-year mark, still carries on. We refer, of course, to the Milt Schmidt-Pork Dumart community of interests, which started when they were juniors in Kitchener. Since then, with the exception of a season when Dumart played with Boston Cubs in a minor league, while Schmidt continued to serve his apprenticeship with the hometown Greenshirts, they've never been apart. When this was written, they were still the Damon and Pythias of the ice-lanes, in Boston Bruin garb.

For sheer durability, they are unbeaten, as a pair, in major hockey annals. Dumart will be 38 next December. Schmidt is 36 soon—March 5 is the date. Dumart has slowed down somewhat, but Schmidt carries on at an undiminished pace, one of the all-time greats of the game, mainspring of the Boston team for so many years, that he is now taken for granted in the Hub. For, as a skinny 18-year-old, he joined that club in 1936-37, and a long fourteen years later, years that encompassed his World War II service, he blazed to glory as winner of the Hart Trophy as the most valuable player to his team in the league.

Seventeen years after he had joined the club, surviving a dozen injuries, and playing on knees so dinky that they must be carefully bandaged before every game, Schmidt recently set two all-time Boston records with 549 total points (221 goals, 328 assists) for regular season play and 595 points for regular season and playoff games. His 221 goals was at that time only seven short of Durable Dit Clapper's club mark of 228 over 20 seasons of play.

It is accepted in Boston hockey circles as a certainty that when, if ever, his playing days are done, Schmidt will become coach of the club, while the present coach, Lynn Patrick will succeed the veteran Art Ross as general manager of the Boston team. And the most significant remark on Schmidt's value to the club came from Coach Patrick.

"Schmidt will never be as good a coach as I am," declared Patrick. 'Whenever we're in trouble I just look down the bench and yell for Schmidt to get out there. But when Milt becomes coach he won't be able to do that because there'll be no Schmidt available. For I very much doubt that there ever will be another Schmidt."

Dumart, like Schmidt, joined Bruins in 1936. Soon after, there came from Kitchener a third and notable partner to the twosome, in the person of Bobby Bauer. This threesome became known as the Kraut line. In tribute to one of Kitchener's favored dishes, and in the season of 1939-40, they performed the unusual feat of finishing 1-2-3 in the scoring race.

Bauer retired, but Schmidt and Dumart still carry on, the oldest partnership in hockey.

Red Wings Forge Ahead In NHL Race Still With No Close Opposition

MONTREAL (CP)—Those clubs harboring ideas of halting Detroit Red Wing's march to a sixth straight National Hockey League title had better start coming up with effective ways and means. The same goes for aspirants to the point-scoring title which Gordie Howe of the Red Wings has won the last three seasons.

Both the Wings and their scoring ace edged further away from their pursuers last week. The team itself, with two wins and a tie, collected five of a possible six points—the best performance of any club.

With 21 games left, the Red Wings have an eight-point bulge over Montreal Canadiens. The Montrealers retained their one-point margin over Toronto Maple Leafs.

HELPS WITH ASSISTS

Howe failed to score any of his team's goals but helped with four assists and ran his point total to 54. Maurice Richard of Montreal, who was only two points behind Howe a week ago, scored one goal as his total output. The Rocket now has 49 points.

Bernie Geoffrion of Montreal also scored one goal and held third place with 45 points.

Richard is top goal-scorer of the league with 29, followed by Geoffrion with 25, Wally Hergesheimer of New York Rangers with 23 and Howe with 21.

PLAYOFF BATTLE

The team with an opportunity to do some giant-killing this week is the Boston Bruins. They play Red Wings three games, two of them in Boston. The Bruins need points to hold off New York Rangers' bid for fourth place, last playoff spot.

The Bruins produced two wins in three starts last week and have a three-point margin over Rangers.

Rangers gained a win and a tie last week. Canadiens split a pair, while Toronto Leafs missed a chance to overhaul the Montrealers by taking only one game in three outings. One of the losses was to Canadiens. Chicago Black Hawks, sunk in the cellar, lost all three starts.

Rookie Earl Reibel of Detroit gathered three goals and one assist during the week, matching Howe's four-point performance, and moved from eighth to fifth place in the individual point-scoring race.

GOES POINTLESS

Ken Mosdell of Montreal went pointless and dropped from fifth to eighth place. It was the only shake-up among the upper-crust of scorers.

Johnny Peirson of Boston and Paul Ronty of New York, each with three points, moved into the first 10 ranking. They caught up with Bert Olmstead of Montreal and Tod Sloan of Toronto, both of whom failed to get a point, and created a four-way tie for ninth place.

Among goal-tenders, Harry Lumley of the Leafs sets the pace with a goals-against average of 1.70, followed by Terry Sawchuk of Detroit with 1.77 and Gerry McNeil of Montreal with 2.12

Three Rinks Survive Second Round

TORONTO (CP)—Three of the 10 out-of-town rinks survived the second round of the premier event in the Royal Canadian Ladies' Curling Club annual invitation bonspiel here Monday.

Mrs. J. Noble and Mrs. Paterson, both of the Hamilton Vics, and Mrs. A. Taylor of Oshawa all came through with second-round victories. Mrs. G. Cheriton of the Vics has yet to play a second-round game.

Mrs. Noble's rink defeated Mrs. LeMesurier of Unionville 21-1. Mrs. Paterson downed Mrs. J. Corby of Barrie 7-4. Mrs. Taylor's group defeated Mrs. Robinson of Toronto 7-6.

Mrs. J. Shamess of Kingston lost 8-7 to Mrs. Malcolmson in the second round while Mrs. Cardinal of Toronto Granites eliminated Mrs. Knapman of Hamilton Vics.

An Oshawa rink, skipped by Mrs. A. Harding, and one from Sherbrooke, Que., skipped by Mrs. Lathrop, were the only visitors to be eliminated in the first round.

Toronto clubs entered 18 rinks in the competition.

To Drop Action Against Zeidel

MONTREAL (CP) — President Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League said Monday night no further action will be taken regarding an incident in Chicago involving Larry Zeidel of Chicago Black Hawks.

Campbell's statement followed receipt of a telegraphed report from referee-in-chief Carl Voss, who attended the game.

Zeidel and Tony Leswick of Detroit Red Wings got into a fight during Sunday night's game and were given major penalties by referee Red Storey. Voss' version of the affair differed greatly from newspaper reports, which said Zeidel struck linesmen George Hayes and Mush March and dropped Leswich with a right hook.

"In view of the facts that no misconduct penalties were assessed and apparently the events did not warrant any, no further action will be taken," said Campbell.

Upset Defeats Break Up Boxing Ratings

NEW YORK (AP) — Upset defeats suffered by Earl Walls, Yolande Pompey, Danny Nardico and Gerhard Hecht have resulted in a vigorous shake-up of the latest boxing ratings, released today by Ring magazine.

Tommy Harrison, Los Angeles heavyweight, took over the No. 6 spot among the challengers by defeating Walls, the Canadian slugger from Edmonton, who twice knocked out Rex Layne. Coley Wallace, beaten by Ezzard Charles was dropped out of the top 10 and was replaced by Clarence Henry of Los Angeles.

Challengers for Rocky Marciano's title are now listed in this order: Nino Valdes, Charles, Dan Bucceroni, Roland La Starza, Don Cockell, Harrison, Walls, Henry, Bob Satterfield, Heinz Neuhaus.

Despite a disappointing performance against Jimmy Slade, Philadelphia's Harold Johnson retained his No. 1 spot among light heavyweight contenders. Joey Maxim, although badly beaten by champion Archie Moore, remained in the No. 2 spot. Pompey's first defeat, by Bobby Dawson, dropped him to fourth place.

NARDICO TUMBLES

Nardico, the Tampa, Fla., light heavy, fell all the way to seventh after he was knocked out by Charley Norkus of Bayonne, N.J. Hecht, of Germany, was spotted No. 8 after he was stopped by heavyweight Johnny Williams of England.

Rocky Castellani of Cleveland and Joey Giardello of Philadelphia moved up to become No. 1 and No. 2 middleweight challengers, while Britain's Randy Turpin dropped to third. Dawson earned a ranking among the 160-pounders by his victory over Pompey.

Billy Graham soared to second position in the welter division and Del Flanagan advanced to fourth by upsetting Johnny Saxton.

As a result of Paddy Demarco's triumph over Ralph Dupas, the Brooklyn lightweight was rated No. 4 challenger. He has signed to meet champ Jimmy Carter for the title March 5.

Sullivan Takes Scoring Lead

NEW YORK (CP) — George (Red) Sullivan of Hershey Bears last week regained the scoring lead of the American Hockey League. Sullivan had 68 points on 19 goals and 49 assists. Ed Olson and Jackie Gordon of Cleveland Barons were tied for second place with 67 points each.

Harry Pidhirny of Syracuse Warriors led the goal scorers with 31. Sullivan had the most assists, 49.

Rookie Larry Cahan, defence star of Pittsburgh Hornets, remained the league villain with 104 minutes in penalties.

Goaltenders were led by Jacques Plante of Buffalo Bisons with an average of 2.78. Emile Francis of Cleveland was shutout leader with four.

RED WINGS OFF TO PRISON

MARQUETTE, Mich. (AP)—Detroit Red Wings today are going to prison, where they'll probably be penalized.

But don't get too excited about it. The Wings are going to play an exhibition game against Marquette Pirates, a hockey team composed of prisoners.

Leonard (Oakie) Brumm, prison director, said he hoped the Pirates will be able to join an organized league next season. All their games of course, would be "home" games.

CAHA Likely To Send Lyndhursts Reinforcements

MIDLAND (CP)—George Dudley secretary-manager of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, said in an interview Monday the CAHA "probably would send reinforcements" to Toronto East York Lyndhursts, now touring Europe in preparation for the Feb. 26-March 7 world championships.

Dudley, who said he was "disappointed" at the 11-2 pasting the senior B Lyndhursts took in Paris Saturday night, added that nothing would be done until after this week. Lyndhursts, Canada's representatives in the Stockholm championships, have four exhibition games against Switzerland in the next few days.

"I didn't expect Lyndhursts to win on Saturday, their first exhibition game after an Atlantic crossing, but I certainly didn't expect them to lose by that score," Dudley said. "If they still look weak against Switzerland, we'll shop around and probably send senior A players just before the championships."

At Paris, the players blamed seasickness and a party which they attended on board ship the night before they landed last Thursday for their performance against Canadian players now performing for teams in England.

"The officers of the CAHA would like to know about that party," Dudley said.

Gagnon Scores TKO In Fight With Edwards

By ROMEO MAGERA

QUEBEC (CP) — Scrappy Fernando Gagnon of Quebec, Canadian bantamweight boxing champion, slugged his way to a fifth-round technical knockout Monday night over Edmonton's Jersey Joe Edwards to retain his crown.

The triumph was Gagnon's seventh successful title defence since winning the championship in 1946. The bout was scheduled for 12 rounds.

Edwards, rated No. 1 challenger for the bantam crown by the Canadian Boxing Federation, proved no match for the sharp hard-punching Quebecer.

The champion was declared the winner at 1:12 of the fifth when referee Ralph McNaughton stopped the uneven fight after the Edmonton Negro went down for the fifth time.

CHALLENGER FLOORED

Two solid left hooks and a right sent the challenger to the canvas to end the fight. Neither fighter appeared hurt at the end.

Gagnon entered the ring at 116½ pounds, while Edwards weighed 113¼.

Edwards went down for the first time late in the second round. A solid left hook knocked him to one knee and he took an automatic eight count. He went down twice late in the third round, both times from short, hard rights.

Gagnon sent Edwards to the deck the fourth time in the next round for another eight count.

A crowd of about 1,800 made up a $4,200 gate. Gagnon gets 37½ per cent of the gate and Edwards 12½.

American League Gives 1954 Schedule

CHICAGO (AP)—The American League, with Baltimore Orioles becoming its first new club in 51 years, Monday released its official 1954 baseball schedule.

The 1954 slate lists 215 night games, nine fewer than were scheduled in 1953. Washington Senators again have more floodlight contests scheduled than any other club, 45. This is five fewer than the team slated last year.

April 13 is the season's start, when Baltimore is at Detroit, Boston at Philadelphia, Cleveland at Chicago and New York at Washington. The season ends Sept. 26.

Miss Jo Stafford Makes Debut In Television After Abiding Time

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Jo Stafford finally makes her television debut tonight and she isn't sorry she waited.

Virtually all the other recording stars rushed into the new medium either on a regular or guest basis. Not red-haired Jo.

"Sure, I had a lot of offers to do guest shots," she admitted between rehearsals for her CBS show. "I passed up a lot of money because I didn't think that kind of TV would be good for me.

"I have a different kind of voice from most singers. I can't go out and knock them dead with one number or two. You have to get used to my style.

"TV is something of a monster. You are being seen by a fantastic number of people. If you don't click just right, you can ruin yourself. In two weeks, you can wipe out what you have been building up for 15 years."

And so Jo just bided her time while her competitors warbled on all channels. She didn't exactly need the money. She had four big hits in 1953, and her current "make Love to Me" is jiving the juke boxes.

TOO GOOD TO MISS

But one day her agent came to her with the CBS deal. It was a straight three-year contract with options thereafter. It was too good to pass up.

The present plan calls for a 15-minute show "along the Perry Como-Dinah Shore lines" every Tuesday. It may be expanded to twice-weekly since Jo feels her voice wears better with folks if they're exposed to it more often.

She said she will try to emphasize the good songs.

"I think the pendulum is swinging away from the novelty songs and back to good music. In the past year we have seen hits made by such beautiful songs as 'Ebb Tide,' 'Song From Moulin Rouge' and 'Stranger in Paradise.' That's a good sign."

Central Place Of Execution Favored By MP From Stormont

TORONTO (CP)—Peter Manley, Liberal member of the legislature for Stormont, said Monday the argument in favor of a central place of execution was strengthened when convicted murderer Henri Seguin killed himself with poison Jan. 18 an hour before he was scheduled to be hanged at the Cornwall jail.

"After hearing a coroner's verdict that attached no blame to jail authorities, Mr. Manley, whose constituency includes Cornwall, told the legislature's select committee on reform institutions that county jails lack proper facilities for holding a condemned man.

He said other aspects of the Seguin case should be given earnest attention by all officials concerned with public welfare.

The gallows on which Seguin was scheduled to die was erected in the inner yard of the Cornwall jail, a few feet away from the county building and facing it, he said.

"The top of the gallows structure projected over the top of the jail wall and was plainly visible from the street. This fed the morbid curiosity that lies in many people and brought a crowd of several hundred persons to the scene two hours before the execution time.

"The execution of a murderer is one of the most awful acts that any human is called upon to perform. It should be conducted in the greatest privacy and with the most possible dignity. This crowd, jostling for position to see a portion of the gallows, gave it a macabre carnival atmosphere."

Mr. Manley said it has been emphasized that hangings should be carried out in the community in which a killing occurred so as to act as a detterent to others.

"If this is so, Cornwall should be crime-free for many years to come. I don't believe this is true. I do believe the dignity of justice is besmirched and cheapened by a quasi-public exhibition."

The committee also received a request from the Ontario Sheriffs' Association for consideration of the appointment of a provincial executioner and the abolition of the present dual-control system under which municipalities and the province share responsibility for jails.

Government Bill Raising Parliamentary Indemnities Heading For Free Vote

OTTAWA (CP)—A government bill to double parliamentary indemnities appears headed for a free vote, members deciding according to their own feelings. All shades of opinion on the issue were expressed Monday as the Commons debated the measure which Prime Minister St. Laurent has said should be decided on a non-partisan basis. The widest difference appeared within the CCF party. All CCF members oppose raises for the Senate. Some reject any Commons increases; other support the entire $4,000 increase; still others want a smaller increase.

Debate was on a government bill providing for indemnity raises to $8,000 from $4,000, this in addition to a $2,000 tax-free expense allowance annually. A second bill, proposing salary increases for cabinet ministers, speakers and Opposition leaders in both Houses, the deputy speaker and the government leader in the Senate, did not enter the discussion.

WANTS COMMISSION

Opposition Leader Drew said there should be some increase, but asked for a royal commission to study the specific amount. Howard Green (PC—Vancouver Quadra) said a doubling of the indemnity is not justified "at any time" and certainly not for the Senate.

No Liberal member has opposed the legislation.

Social Credit leader Solon Low plans a "take-it-or-leave-it" proposal for members who oppose the indemnity increase. He said members should be able to reject or accept the raise and that he later will move an amendment to cover that option.

It would show "how much of this talk is on principle and how much is for political purposes."

"I don't want any person to receive what he doesn't want to receive," he said.

Later, when it became apparent there was a division within the 23-member CCF representation, Mr. Lowe said he has no one person in mind.

OPPOSES INCREASES

Angus MacInnis (CCF—Vancouver Kingsway) opposed the increases, which he said would put MP's salaries above those of 99 per cent of wage earners while thousands of Canadians went to bed hungry.

The former Vancouver street-car motorman said the present indemnity and tax-free allowance, give members an income higher than 89.3 per cent of Canadians who paid income tax in 1951.

Stanley Knowles (CCF—Winnipeg North Centre) said there is an argument for an increase and his party will say later what amount it has in mind.

R. R. Knight (CCF—Saskatoon) went a bit further. In the last Parliament there were six sessions in four years. That gave members an average $6,000 a year, on the basis of $4,000 a session, plus the expense allowance. That average could be maintained.

CITES TEACHERS WAGES

Joseph W. Noseworthy (CCF—York South) said he approves the bill as far as the Commons is concerned. His old job as a teacher of history and English now paid $8,000 a year and that was worth much more to him as a teacher than the $10,000 he would receive as a member of Parliament.

However, he said he opposes the same increase for Senators because his party advocates abolition of the 102-member upper house.

Mr. Drew said he opposes the increase because there are no facts or information before the House to show how the figure was reached. He accepted the proposition that increases were in order, but there should be a royal commission to determine the amount.

Mr. Low said he agrees with Prime Minister St. Laurent and Trade Minister Howe that an adequate indemnity would attract a higher calibre of men. Mr. Drew also shared that view.

Mr. Knowles said Parliament attracts men because of their desire to serve the country.

Credit Canada With Victory In Free Trade-Protection Clash

By RON EVANS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP) — Observers today credited Canada with victory in a clash between free trade and protectionist elements at the second European economic conference.

The conflict over policy among the 28 countries attending the European Movement conference centred on two main topics—tariffs and guaranteed raw material markets. Discussions at the conference, which opened Friday and ended today, had progressed smoothly.

Trouble developed Sunday when Julian Amery, British Member of Parliament and son of Commonwealth champion Leopold S. Amery, proposed a plan of mutual preferential tariffs within Europe and the Commonwealth. Amery suggested such a customs union be called "Big Europe."

Before he could complete his proposals, Dr. Robert Clark of Vancouver, head of the Canadian group, and delegates from several other countries jumped to their feet to challenge the plan.

OPPOSE QUOTA SYSTEM

They strongly opposed any quota system and in particular any suggestion that tariffs be raised except within the framework of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

The debate raged for 90 minutes and the two interpreters on duty were overwhelmed as delegates ripped off rapid-fire arguments in German, French and English.

The issue was again fanned to flame when Amery put forward a six-point tariff plan. This provided for the raising of tariffs as a substitute for quantitative restrictions or to protect infant industries.

Again Clark, professor of economics at the University of British Columbia, and now lecturing at Manchester University, spearheaded the opposition. He was supported by both the German and French delegations, largest groups at the conference.

ALL CANADIANS SPEAK

Each member of the Canadian delegation spoke against the plan and in favor of a general lowering of world trade barriers.

Clark later was congratulated by Dr. Rudolph Meimberg, deputy leader of the German delegation, who said:

"The picture has really changed. Herr Amery is a hard fighter, but I think—you also."

This is the first year that Canada has joined in the discussions of the group founded in Holland in 1948. The European Movement is the unofficial parent body of several post-war European political and economic unions including the Council of Europe, the European Payments Union and the European Coal and Steel Community, popularly known as the Schuman Plan.

Other Canadian delegates to the conference are Harry Johnson of Toronto, an economics lecturer at King's College, Cambridge, Richard Lipsey and Pat Keatley, both of Vancouver.

SUMMER TIME

Daylight saving time will start Sunday, April 25, at 2 a.m. and end Sunday, September 26, at 2 a.m. The city solicitor has been instructed by council to prepare a bylaw authorizing this arrangement.

AT CONVENTION

Charlie Graham of Higgins Harware and Geddes Harper and Jack Baldwin of Kingan's are attending the convention of the Canadian retail hardwaremen's association at the Coliseum, Toronto.

MONEY FOR STREETS

City council Monday night passed a bylaw authorizing expenditures during 1954 of $287,000 on roads and streets. Ald. Art Burrows, chairman of the board of works, explained this was the amount considered necessary by the city engineer.

STORAGE TANKS

Canadian Oil Companies Ltd. Monday night were granted permission by City council to install an additional 2,000-gallon underground gasoline storage tank at Herb. Payne's transport yard on Romaine St., bringing total storage facilities there to 3,000 gallons.

WINE STORE

City council has received a letter from Chateau-Gai Wines Ltd., stating that the company is considering applying for a licence to operate a wine store in Peterborough and asking what the position of the city would be concerning such an application. Council Monday night referred the letter to the finance committee without comment.

NEED MORE MONEY

Going into the last month of its campaign for $10,000, the Peterborough County Tuberculosis Association is still a long way from going over the top. Money raised so far totals $7,742.51 with the drive due to end February 28. The campaign, directed by associated president C. H. Elliott, got under way last November 15.

FROSTY VALENTINES

The fresh fall of soft snow has provided unlimited ammunition for the perennial school boy habit of tossing snowballs. Their feminine school mates were targets for a heavy barrage of frosty valentines as they dodged and ducked their way home from school today. Should a girl not be in range, a jauntily riding fedora would suffice.

PHYSICALLY FIT

A group of Peterborough doctors were hard at work in the YMCA gym, today, preparing for their meeting on the basketball court, Wednesday night, with the local nurses team. Instructor Fraser Wade had his hands full rounding out the team which will pledge their masculine honor tomorrow night at PCVS.

FREE RINK TIME

An executive of Civic Arena management said today the public generally may not know that free hours of skating time are from 10 to 11:30 a.m., Monday to Friday, for pupils of the public and separate schools. Also, school hockey periods: 4 to 5:30 p.m. Mon., Wed. and Friday, and 4 to 5 o'clock Tuesday and Thursday.

FOX BOUNTIES FEB. 4

Hunters who have fox skins for bounty payment won't be able to collect their $3 a hide until Thursday, February 4. Because of a misprint, a number of hunters brought the hides into the county courthouse today for marking and payment. Final bounty day will be March 4 when bounties will be paid on foxes killed in Peterborough county during February.

Fractures Leg Playing On Ice

Eight-year-old Susan Prout of 542 Aylmer St. had her right leg broken Monday afternoon while sliding on a patch of ice at Central school.

She was taken by ambulance to Civic Hospital where it was determined that it was clean break of the bone, between the knee and the hip. She will probably be in hospital for some time because a cast cannot be put on the leg immediately.

Susan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Prout of 542 Aylmer St. On Monday afternoon she had returned to school and was sliding on a small patch of ice behind the school, along with other children, just before the 1:30 p.m. bell.

After her slide she fell and was still on the ice when a little boy, also of junior age, bumped into her. The impact broke her leg.

Donald Crawford, principal of Central school, said the schoolyard is reserved for the Grade 1 and 2 children to play in. Older boys and girls use the trickier slide on the courthouse hill in Victoria Park.

Six Million Fractional Motors In Next 10 Years, CGE Forecast

CGE's manufacture of its three millionth fractional motor was celebrated Monday night with a forecast the company will produce six million more in the next 10 years. Speaking to fractional motor employees at a special dinner, W. F. Smith, manager of the component products department, said CGE plans to continue leading "seven keen competitors" in small motor building.

According to Dominion Bureau of Statistics figure, Mr. Smith said, there are 3,300,000 homes in Canada wired for electricity. A conservative estimate of the number of fractional motors in each is four.

Assuming, likewise by statistics, there are 4,200,000 wired homes in 1963, and each home averaged seven motors, there will be 29.4 million motors compared to 13.4 at present.

With a market opening for 16 million motors in the next 10 years, CGE hopes to sell six million of those; or "more than twice as many as in the past 30 years."

In the first 23 years after the fractional motor department was founded at CGE in 1922, 1,000,000 motors were sold. In the next eight years, 1945 to 1953, 2,000,000 were sold. "No other Canadian company has produced nearly that quantity."

Specially honored at the dinner was A. L. Dickieson, 43-year veteran at General Electric, who built the first fractional motor there and continues to engineer their design. He was presented with a camera and photographic equipment by vice-president and general manager of the Industrial Products Division, J. S. Keenan.

Climax of the evening was the unveiling of the three millionth motor—plated in gold and silver.

QUARTER-CENTURY MEMBERS

Seated at a special table and introduced to the fractional motor employees were quarter-century employees, plus recently-retired veterans George Killingbeck and George Snowden.

The 25-year group included E. J. Dibben, Mary McCusker, Albert LeVasseur, R. E. Dixon, Gord Graham, W. R. Williams, Robert Blair, A. Welbourn, Alex LeVasseur, H. R. Hall, Fred Hillier and William J. Constable.

Each of those attending the celebration was given a pin showing a fractional motor with the CGE crest at the bottom. The men were given tie clips and the ladies, pins.

GAME AWAY

The YMCA Regents and Collis girls basketball teams will travel to Trenton on Thursday to meet the RCAF men's and women's teams in an OBA intermediate twin bill. A game scheduled to be played here between these teams last week, was cancelled because of travelling conditions.

Survey Ambulance Requirement In City

The medical staff of Civic Hospital is making a survey of other cities to find out how many ambulances are considered necessary to provide adequate service, it was learned at city council Monday night.

In a letter to council, the doctors said they would make their findings known through the Peterborough county medical society.

Council previously wrote to the medical staffs of both hospitals and the medical society, asking their opinions on the ambulance service operated in the city at present.

The Civic Hospital staff explained their delay in answering the letter was due to the survey they were conducting.

WARNING ON CANVASSERS

"Although those canvassers collecting money here, saying they are raising funds to send Peterborough ornamental swimmers to the British Empire Games, may be bona fide agents for the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada in Toronto, they have no authority whatsoever to collect here," Chamber of Commerce manager James Fraser said today. He is advising all citizens to refuse to pay for ads in a Toronto program, saying there is no tie-up in this respect between the AAU of C and the Peterborough club. The Toronto canvassers are still working in this city.

Welcome Given Bishop Berry

HALIFAX (CP) — Thousands turned out to welcome Halifax's new archbishop, Most Rev. Joseph Gerald Berry, when he arrived here Monday night, accompanied by Canada's Maritime-born James Cardinal McGuigan, Roman Catholic Archbishop of Toronto.

Cardinal McGuigan Wednesday night will install Archbishop Berry as eighth Archbishop of Halifax, an archdiocese of about 71,000 persons.

Archbishop Berry was born in Montreal in 1902, and has been bishop of Peterborough since 1945. He succeers Archbishop John T. McNally, who died in 1952.

Napanee Council Waits Board Action

NAPANEE (CP)—Town council decided Monday night to await word on whether the dominion board of transport commissioners plans any action toward providing protection at a level crossing here where eight persons died.

The eight district residents were killed Jan. 23 when their car collided with a train. One person died earlier in an accident at the crossing.

"Surely no right-thinking person in the town or county is going to hold Napanee responsible," said Deputy Reeve A. D. Alkenbrack.

Hunt With Arrow

MEDICINE HAT, Alta. (CP)—The fish and game association here is studying archery as a legal form of hunting in this area. Before endorsing archery for hunting, however, the group will obtain the views of government officials.

Con Man Returns To City

Forgets Face Of Salesman He Gypped On Last Visit

A con man is like any other salesman. Forgetting a face is almost fatal to his selling job.

A district gyp artist, who has been in operation for some time in Peterborough and district, returned Monday to work after a fairly lengthy holiday at government expense. He forgot a face and failed to make a "sale."

Looking a good deal better fed and more prosperous than he had two years ago, when he had nicked his intended victim for $20, the con man had apparently mellowed to the point of carelessness during his healthful rest.

However he was working the same old dodge. Monday he was interested, at least nominally, in tires, by coincidence, just as he had been two years ago with the same salesman, but in a different store.

The con man wanted, he said, to buy a truck tire and tube. His truck was stranded south of Omemee and he had come into town with a friend. He had phoned first to establish the contact.

SURE OF HIS MAN

The story was familiar and the clerk was pretty sure of his man, but waited for the complete performance. The self-styled farmer had to be sold the tire. He was no push-over for a sales talk. But finally he decided that he would buy a tire and tube at a total price of $155. He said that he would pay for it now and his friend would pick it up later. He would pay by cheque. He has a bank account with a few cents in it in Omemee.

Just as the clerk started to make out the cheque, the gyp artist said, "Oh, say, I'm a little short of cash and I want to do some shopping while I'm in town. Would you make the cheque out for $10 extra and let me have the cash?"

That was it. The clerk said: "You're not still trying to pull that old one, are you? You cheated me out of $20 the same way two years ago."

MAINTAINED INNOCENCE

The con man's mouth dropped open, but he maintained his innocence. In fact, said he, he would go and get the cash and come back and buy the tire, just to show what a mistake had been made. He left, but he didn't come back.

Well known to police, he has been convicted of fraud on other occasions. His trademarks are: an odd cast to one eye; a pose in which he is reluctant to buy, but manages to get himself sold on the article in question; a stratagem by which he doesn't take the article he has "bought" with him; and a penchant for cheques made out for a few dollars more than the price of the article, and strangely enough he signs his correct name. He is also well known among city and district merchants. But as yet not quite well enough.

Potato Price Almost Put Growers Out

Price One Year Ago 10 Cents A Pound Now Cent and Half

The 50-pound bag of potatoes retailing at 79 cents during the last week or more is a woeful contrast with the $5 to $7.50 75-pounder last year and the year before.

In a hurry today, retail grocers remembered the peaks, up and down, and especially up, but they could not recall precisely the time of the price heights.

"To sell at 50 pounds for 79 cents, the producer must be nearly giving them away, after the freight from the maritimes and other handling charges are taken into account."

A rough comparison is: 1½ cents a pound today, as against 10 cents a year ago.

Incidentally, the 75-pound bag is going the way of the 90-pounder.

75-POUND BAG OUT

At the E. C. Braund store, George St. and Parkhill Road, L. W. Welch estimated that they were selling 75 or 80 of the 50-pound bags of potatoes to every one of the 75's. And a man's size bag of spuds used to be 90 pounds.

Today you can buy them for a dime a package or something like that, sliced and ready for the pan. And the trade says they sell a lot of them.

People just don't want to be lugging around a 75-pound bag of potatoes, several of the grocers suggested. Most of the consumers have cars in which to do their own transporting, but that doesn't help, the attitude has changed. The public is looking for clean, well-sized, firm potatoes, but not many of them at one time. They are attuned to the smaller living unit.

The market reported Monday a "slight firming up in price, but nothing worth mentioning. They have had heavy snows down in the Maritimes with some trouble in getting cars sufficiently warmed up."

DEEP IN TROUBLES

The potato farmer is thrust deep into the troubles that rise up with surplus food production. Prospect for the later fall and winter was visualized in the maritimes on both sides of the boundary, and since then the portents of gloom have materialized.

BUMPER CROP IN 1953

Aristook county in Maine, one of the centres of the potato growing industry, and the Canadian provinces, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island, particularly, have been overwhelmed by the tremendous volume of their 1953 crops.

Just as estimate, several of the retailers merely guessed that the New Brunswick farmers must have been down to 50 or 40 cents (possibly less) to enable the retailers to announce up here—50 pounds for 79 cents.

Looking through the wholesale price list a year ago the market was firm in January at $3.50 for the 75-pound bag; April $4.38; May $5.62 and the price to the retailer must have been up to $6.15 and more.

Eddie Butler of Ashburnham said today that he tried to buy his supplies from Weatherilt of Bethany and Cochrane of Baltimore, but of late there has been a heavier surge of the New Brunswick spud.

ALL-TIME TOP PRICE

The all-time top price remembered at the Braund store was at the rate of $7.50 for 75 pounds, and they were doled out in 10-pound lots. Apparently that was a year ago, and the memories of it mentioned an Examiner photographer going up to get a picture of customers buying with remonstrance and verbal opposition the 10-pound lots for $1.

The potato farmer has boomed his production rates away up into the hundreds of bags an acre, thereby cutting down his per-bag cost; but even so, at 40 or 50 cents the 50-pound he's in a tough spot.

"It is a wonderful food value at that price today," Mr. Butler commented, as if he wished he could lift the producer up onto firmer and at least profitable ground.

"There shouldn't be any hesitation about buying in quantity at that figure."

But, the quantity evidently has to be done up in smaller parcels down to the cellophane bag of the chips that need only browning for supper.

A Variable Winter

Bruce Graham of Asphodel remarked today: "Last winter used to change its mind every week or ten days, but this winter has the habit by this time of changing its mind overnight, and sometimes faster."

Monday Closing Bylaw Passed By City Council

The city's grocery stores, fruit stores and butcher shops are going to be closed all day Monday and open Wednesday.

The final step was taken by city council Monday night when the necessary bylaws authorizing the new business hours were read three times and finally passed.

There was no debate on the issue. Ald. Pat Anglesey, chairman of the finance committee, who moved that the bylaw be passed, pointed out that it was mandatory for council to do so, as petitions had been signed by more than 75 per cent of each of the groups of merchants concerned.

PROBABLY START MARCH 1

March 1 is the most likely date for beginning the new arrangement, said Don Lewis, spokesman for the grocery classifications and retiring chairman of the retail section of the chamber of commence. Before the new hours can be put into effect the various chain food stores must notify their head offices and the necessary directives must be issued.

The public, too, must be educated to an appreciation of the new arrangement said Mr. Lewis. He said that while Monday was the "logical" day to close, it would not be fair to consumers to spring anything on them suddenly.

The chamber of commerce questionnaire issued to the non-food retailers was "unrealistic," said Mr. Lewis. He thought the question asking retailers if they would close Wednesdays if the grocers could be persuaded to fall in line implied "pigheadedness" on the part of the grocers when this was not the case.

General consensus among the grocers is that the other retailers had plenty of time to consider the grocers' Monday closing proposal, first mentioned last August, but failed to act until it was too late. Even then these retailers could not take the initiative and present a concrete alternative to the grocers plan which, says Mr. Lewis, is the only plan with any cohesiveness or purpose to it at all.

CONSUMER SURVEY

It was also suggested that a consumer survey might have produced more realistic results. If a questionnaire were distributed to the public asking their preference, Monday or Wednesday, most retailers of whatever classification would have been willing to adapt themselves to the public decision.

Monday, say the food merchants, is not a good day anyway. Sales are a "joke," it is difficult to get fresh supplies of fruit and vegetables, housewives are at home with their weekend groceries and staffs spend most of the day just cleaning up.

NO ALTERNATIVE PROPOSED

Apart from the food classifications, the other retailers "didn't know what they wanted and were not interested in finding out," said Mr. Lewis. By procrastinating when the issue was first raised, he said, they placed the onus for an alternative plan on themselves. No positive alternative plan was proposed although 62 of the non-food retailers did indicate a compromise they would be willing to make in the intesests of uniformity.

Fears about public reaction to the Monday closing plan were exaggerated said Mr. Lewis. He said that having store closed two days a week was not the best of arrangements, but the only possible one in view of the circum-

Ask Council To Limit Gas Stations

Garage Operators Petition Council For Limiting Bylaw

The Peterborough district branch of the Garage Operators' Association of Ontario have asked city council to consider limiting the number of retail outlets for gasoline and lubricants in the city, including service stations.

A number of operators appeared before city council Monday night to present a brief prepared by Rae McWilliams, provincial director of the association. Spokesman for the delegation was Ted Elliott, Peterborough branch president, who charged there was a "mad race" on the part of the oil companies to establish outlets on premises which they leased to operators.

The result of this increased number of outlets was a loss of revenue to operators of repair garages and a subsequent effect on their ability to pay wages, it was charged.

INCREASED HAZARD

"It seems that unless something is done we'll find our technicians will go into industry," Mr. Elliott said. "In addition, the number of installations creates an increased fire hazard."

The proposals of the association were set forth in Mr. McWilliams' brief, citing the storage, keeping for sale and sale of engine oils and lubricants by those not in the garage business and on premises other than garage premises.

"We have reference to department stores, food markets, hardware stores, automotive parts and accessories stores, factories and so-called commerical fleet operation," the brief stated.

"Since the government does not see fit to intelligently control the issuing of gasoline-handling licences," council was asked to give serious consideration to the handling of gasoline and lubricants on premises where food is sold.

"It is not our desire to restrict existing business establishments where a garage operation and restaurant are operated as separate units and have the facilities to properly look after a motorist's needs. We do feel, however, that those handling food one minute and gas the next, and whose economy is not directly dependent on gasoline and whose facilities do not go on beyond the bare dispensing of it, have no rightful claim to be connected with it."

BUILDING PERMITS

The brief also called attention to the number of permits being issued for the construction of garages.

"Unless a figure is arrived at, based on present population and scaled for future population increases, the city will find itself classed as gasoline alley from outskirts to outskirts," it was charged. ". . . it is becoming increasingly apparent that operators cannot stay financially healthy with the available business spread out as thinly as it is now.

"It is much better economy to have present garages healthy and able to pay their taxes and their employees a living wage and keep prices within sensible bounds than to have more garages built and have all three of these items become a liability to the city and its residents.

"This is a point you would be well advised to discuss with the township authorities surrounding the city as well," it was said.

The request was referred to the next meeting of the committee of the whole council, presumably next Monday.

Must Visit Know Israel Land Of Contradictions

By CYRIL DUNN

LONDON (OFNS) — Everyone knows a Jew — by sight, as a friend and neighbour, perhaps only as a symbol of something in human affairs. Nobody knows Israel who hasn't been there.

The more you know, or think you know, about Jews outside Israel, the more surprised you are likely to be by the way things are in the Jewish State, even after five richly publicised years.

Going in by air softens the impact a little. All airports are much alike. At Lylla (the Israel airport) the only obvious difference is that the airport officials never seem to smile. This turns out later to be true of almost all Israeli officials; one is made to feel that in Israel superficial charm is considered redundant and has been consciously rejected, along with other trivialities in human behaviour.

LOOKS GERMAN

On the outskirts of Tel Aviv one begins to exclaim about how German it looks. By the roadside there are great white blocks of flats, with wall-sided concrete balconies like drawers pulled out and left open. The same sort of thing may be seen beside the bomb-demolished cities of the West German Federal Republic.

In the city itself, in the crowded terrace - restaurants overlooking the beaches and wine-dark sea, the air pulsates with small-talk in the German tongue, only beginning and ending with "Shalom" — "Peace!" — the moving Hebrew salutation which Israel might usefully export to the world. All the rest is, or seems to be, nostalgia. These are people singing the songs of home in a strange land, keeping alive the old European courtesies, nourishing the polite elegance of the Kurfuerstendamm. It is a curious inversion of what you might expect.

SOCIAL STRATA

But there are social strata in Tel-Aviv — not antipathetic as they are in the old European cities, but visible, and apparently discounting the good times back in 1949 when, according to the German idealist behind the bar, "this truly is democracy." The people on the terraces are middle-aged. The people who parade along the sidewalks close enough to pass you the salt and who stare at what you are eating with a curiosity which is blatant but somehow not at all impertinent, are mostly young, inelegent on the whole, and not obviously enduring so much as a nostalgic twinge.

BEAUTIFUL WOMEN

According to some of the best judges the women in Tel-Aviv are the best looking in the world and in this general concourse of beauty the Rumanians are supreme. The young men are monotonously well set-up. Many of them, and many of the girls too, are in uniforms which acknowledge British, American and Scandinavian derivations. ("But nobody looks at all Jewish," says an English voice in wild surmise).

The younger generation, the native-born (the Prickly Pears, as the older immigrants call them, lovingly), testify to the certain country in geographical terms. No further away than Cyprus, the sexes lead entirely separate public lives. On Sundays the Cypriot girls promenade along the road outside the village and all the young men sit, each disposed in three chairs, outside the village coffee-house, endlessly discussing. One wonders how the twain ever get to meet. But in Israel romance is everywhere; so rarely is boy seen without girl that you begin to suppose them incapable of walking alone.

MUSIC EVERYWHERE

Music, of course, is everywhere, too. The Israelis themselves are embarrassed by its ubiquity. It follows you out of the city, right into the frontier country, right down to the deserts of the south. You travel to these outposts, not in covered wagons, but in American taxis big enough for you to get up and walk about inside. And when the driver switches on the radio, it is always Brahms. Or Chopin. Even in the roadside cafes, where the food is oriental and frequently to the taste of the flies, conversation normally competes with a violin concerto.

With this accompaniment, drawn from the inexhaustible repertoire of the Old World, I toured the new settlements of Israel. They stand in straight rows beside the new roads, like white boxes, pink-lidded, awaiting shipment somewhere else. The uniformity of these homes on the bare landscape shows Israel's wish to have things the same for everyone; the strung-out plan is dictated by agricultural needs. Staff officers of the Israel Army, who in a hostile Arab world still have to treat the border settlements as the country's front line defence posts, often sigh for the tight jumble of the older settlements, built on the stockade principle to repel marauders.

But in all the settlements, the old ones with their trees and lawns, the new ones on the bare brown earth, the spirit is the same and is very strange They are profoundly self-sufficient. The people who live there do not seem to need anything from the outside world, nothing spiritual, that is to say. Even in the solitudes of the Negev—the desert which is being made to bloom in accordance with Biblical prophecy, as any Israel Public Relations Officer will tell you — the arrival of strangers at a settlement makes not a ripple on the surface of the settlement's life. Nobody here asks for the gossip of Europe.

HOME LIFE

The man and his wife live in one allotted room. If there are children, they go when weaned to the Children's house and Mum sees them from 4:30 p.m. to 7 p.m. each day. The furniture in the room is apt to be European, modern and functional; the fabrics are arty-crafty, the pictures are good reproductions and the books, if they are not about the arts of husbandry, are intellectual. But the way of life harks back to nothing in Europe, nothing on our side of the Iron Curtain, at all all events. The plan is idealistic, or ideological. It is a system chosen by people who are looking for personal redemption through heavy labor and austere living. They tell you frankly that they are getting away from the kind of moneymaking life chosen by, or forced upon, Jews in the old world. They do not discuss their way of life very freely; they state it. If you ask them how they like this or that—meaning sometimes how on earth do they put up with it—they say it is what they have chosen.

These are the old Europeans, who have made their own decisions and are achieving great wonders of courage and endeavor. But there are now new immigrants, from the countries of the East. What impresses you about them first—and above all about the emaciated, ragged, but splendidly glamorous Yemenites from Arabia — is the proud affection with which they are regarded by Israelis with European roots.

HITCH-HIKERS

I had a young Army captain as a guide in some of the more restricted frontier regions. He sat wall-eyed with indifference while half the population of Israel thumbed us for a lift; public transport is not yet among Israel's major achievements.

But the moment he saw a Yemenite woman, jangling with silverware, balancing a bundle of sweet herbs on her head, he stopped the car and squeezed her in beside us, thereafter laughing and chattering with her as if she were a favorite child. The significance of this — whether it represents some kind of reaction (the Captain is a Prickly Pear) against European culture and European earnestness, or against the European nostalgia of Tel-Aviv — I cannot attempt to suggest.

40 Chief Constables At Defence College

ARNPRIOR (CP)—Some 40 chief constables from centres across the country gathered at the Civil Defence College here Monday to pool their experience in helping to work out a country-wide pattern for handling disaster of any kind.

Maj.-Gen. F. F. Worthington, civil defence co-ordinator, said in an interview the week-long sessions are being held under a panel of top police officials with Chief Constable Walter Mulligan of Vancouver as chairman.

Gen. Worthington said civil defence officials "are setting the stage" for the conference, but the discussions are under the direction of the police panel.

Hotel Sold

TORONTO (CP)—The Windsor Arms Hotel, one of Toronto's oldest residential hotels, has been sold by William A. Price to a company headed by M. J. Rothschild and Arthur Minden, senior partner in a Toronto law firm. Sale price is reported to be $650,000. The 100-room structure, built in 1928 will continue to operate as a residential hotel.

Mother Saves Child

DUNBARTON (CP)—Mrs. Hilda Nixon carried her 10-months-old baby from her burning home Monday and then collapsed. A neighbor and another woman carried her and the baby into a nearby home where she was revived. Pickering firemen were unable to save the home.

Coronation Bible

TORONTO (CP)—The only coronation Bible in Canada went on display Monday in Hart House at the University of Toronto.

The Bible, one of 25 printed in Britain for the Coronation, bears the royal cipher and crown on the cover and is an exact replica of that used by the Queen in the Westminster Abbey ceremony.

DROVE FATAL TRUCK—Valere Plante of Windsor, Ont., shown in hospital, drove the auto-transport which collided with a bus east of Trois-Rivieres, Que., causing one of Canada's worst highway disasters. Fifteen persons were killed and 10 injured in the accident at Yamachiche, 15 miles from Trois-Rivieres. The driver of the Provincial Transport bus was among the survivors. Plante suffered a broken right leg and a bruised face.—(CP Photo).

Brothers Cut Death Toll

YAMACHICHE, Que. (CP) — Heroism of a group of shy Christian Instruction brothers was credited Monday night with cutting the death toll in one of Quebec's greatest highway disasters Saturday when a bus-truck crash near here snuffed out the lives of 15 persons.

The victims were burned to death when their Provincial Transport bus, travelling from Montreal to Quebec, was sideswiped by a heavy trailer truck and exploded before bursting into flames.

The story of gallant rescue work by the handful of young religious teachers was told by the 10 survivors, including the two drivers, as they lay in hospital beds at nearby Trois-Rivieres.

RESCUED TWO

Brother Leon-Georges was given special mention. Survivors related how he climbed inside the blazing wreckage and helped two injured passengers to safety as the fierce heat mounted, threatening new explosions.

Another brother, his clothes ablaze, pried loose bus driver Henri Bruneau who was pinned behind the steering wheel. Other members of the order piled snow into the vehicle.

The brothers, travelling in a second bus to their seminary near here when the collision took place, would not comment on their rescue work.

10 ARE IMPROVING

Meanwhile hospital authorities reported the condition of all 10 injured has improved. Driver Bruneau, the most seriously injured, with fractured legs and suspected internal injuries, was removed from an oxygen tent.

Police Monday identified all but two of the 15 dead. The remaining victims are believed to be Maurice Tessler, 24, of Montreal and Mrs. Marie Jolin, 40, of Montreal and Trois-Rivieres, but the mangled condition of the bodies prevented positive identification.

Police said they do not yet know the cause of the crash.

Actor's Estate $150,000

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—English-born actor Sydney Greenstreet, who died two weeks ago at 74, left an estate valued at approximately $150,000, it was disclosed Monday when his will was filed for probate. His wife and son will share the bulk of the estate.

Roosevelt Domestic Battle Echoes With Adultery Charges

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The sensational and public domestic battle of the James Roosevelts, replete with charges of adultery and counter-charges of blackmail, will go into another round Friday.

The first hearing has been set in superior court for that day on the separate-maintenance suits Roosevelt and his wife, Romelle, have filed against each other.

Another date on Roosevelt's calendar is April 2. He must decide by then whether he will run for Congress, as he announced he would before his wife's charges broke into the open. Some Democratic party leaders have expressed the opinion that he should withdraw from the race. April 2 is the final date on which to declare candidacy.

CLAIMS CHARGES FALSE

Roosevelt, son of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt, issued a prepared statement Monday regarding a letter he signed admitting infidelities with nine women. He says he knew the letter to be false, but signed it to keep his wife from suing for divorce in 1945 and thereby adding to his father's burdens as president.

Mrs. Romelle Schneider Roosevelt included the letter in her suit for separate maintenance, filed last Thursday, in which she also named three additional women as co-respondents.

"My wife has chosen to make the most ugly accusation which it is possible to make against any man," Roosevelt's statement said. "Each and every allegation of misconduct by the 12 persons mentioned with me is completely false and without foundation."

Roosevelt offered "an especial apology" to the nine women named in the letter signed by him.

"Each and every one of them is completely innocent of any misconduct with me. The harm which has been done them I can never repair, but I can and do emphasize their innocence, ask their forgiveness and understanding of this unfortunate incident."

SAYS WIFE JEALOUS

From the very beginning, Roosevelt said, his wife displayed an "unreasoning demand for material security" and developed "an unreasoning fear and jealousy" of his social contacts. The result was "a calculated campaign" to transfer to her all his material assets "and a constant threat to accuse me of imaginary infidelities."

"This pattern reached its climax in the early part of 1945, when I was repeatedly faced with the demand that I acknowledge these imaginary happenings, and as she put it, 'purge my soul.'

"I was given an alternative. She stated that if I once did this she would forever cease these demands and begin our marital life anew. If I did not, she would proceed with a divorce naming all individuals."

This, said Roosevelt, was when he was entering the fifth year of service with the marine corps and when he was "very much below par physically." He said he was promised that if he would sign a letter prepared by her lawyers it would never be made public and in time would be destroyed.

BLACKMAILED, HE SAYS

"That it was blackmail I now recognize, but my desire to keep these innocent people from unjustified attacks while I was overseas and unable to defend myself, my desire to make, if possible, a success of my marriage and my desire to prevent any anguish to my own family led me to believe in the sincerity of my wife's statement."

Roosevelt said he turned over to his wife almost all that he possessed in community property and property he owned before their marriage. The insurance man, now 46, described as "an utter and complete falsehood" her statement in an affidavit that he was worth about $2,000,000.

His lawyer, Samuel B. Picone, said in a statement that Mrs. Roosevelt has property in her possession valued at more than $90,000, while Roosevelt has a deficit of $28,000.

Begin Second Bootleg Trial

NEW YORK (AP)—The second trial of a suit by James Rutkin to recover $22,500,000 from his one-time bootleg partner, Joseph H. Reinfeld, and others, began Monday in federal court before Judge Thomas F. Murphy.

Last October, Judge Murphy declared a mistrial in the first action after four weeks of testimony because anonymous letters alleged to have been "highly prejudicial" had been received by members of the jury.

In his opening remarks, counsel Maurice Edelstein repeated charges that Rutkin had been "framed and double-crossed" on income-tax evasion charges by Reinfeld, and added that Reinfeld had conspired with Samuel and Allen Bronfman of Montreal to deprive Rutkin of large sums of money accruing from the sale of a distillery.

Rutkin, 56, was brought here from jail where he is awaiting results of an appeal fro mhis four-year jail term, imposed for tax evasion.

Public School Teachers Defend Single Salary

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto's 2,000 public school teachers Monday stepped into the dispute between the Toronto board of education and its 832 secondary school teachers.

They presented a brief to the trustees of the Toronto board defending the single salary scale which is under attack by the secondary teachers. The brief was prepared by a joint committee of the public school teachers.

In the brief the teachers charged that acceptance of the secondary teachers' compromise plan for parallel schedules would mean "complete capitulation" by the board.

Toronto secondary school teachers have threatened to strike at the end of May if the single salary schedule is not abandoned.

Bancroft Builds New Golf Course

BANCROFT (ENS) — "The need of a good golf course for North Hastings has been felt for many years, not only for the sport and exercise afforded, but as a major tourist attraction," Whitney L. Martin, prominent local lumberman, stated in an interview last night.

For some weeks, Mr. Martin, aided by a small group of associates, has been working to put his plan into effect. Golfing experts were hired and selected a suitable tract of land, on Highway 62, three miles north of Bancroft, which has been acquired. Much preliminary work has been completed and it is hoped that a barn on the property will prove to be suitable for conversion into a clubhouse. Professionals have inspected the nine-hole course and voted it ideal.

To finance the project, a holding company is to be formed and shares will be offered to stockholders in units of $100. All property and equipment will be acquired by the holding company. An operating company composed of club members, will operate the course, exact members' dues and visitors' fees and generally manage the project. Mike Burns, of Bancroft, is at present acting as club secretary.

St. Andrew's Church, Millbrook Re-opened And Re-dedicated

MILLBROOK (ENS)— St. Andrew's United Church was filled to capacity for the morning service on Sunday when the church and church hall were re-opened and rededicated after a renovation program which began in October.

After the processional hymn the keys of the church were presented to the minister, the Rev. A. M. Butler, by the chairman of the planning committee, Robert Larmer.

Passages of Scripture were read by members of the congregation. One on prayer was read by the senior elder, W. Fred Fallis; one on the Word of God and the preaching of the Gospel, by the Rev. Walter Patterson, minister emeritus of Grace Presbyterian church; on baptism by Dr. H. G. Tuttle of the United Church offices in Toronto, guest preacher for the daly; on reception of full communion by Archie Matchett, representing the Cavan congregation; on matrimony by Hebert Patton, Sunday school superintendent; on burial of the dead by H. C. Argue of the official board, and on the Lord's Supper by Bruce Ingham, clerk of the session.

Leonard Smith of the official board presented the memorial lights to the minister for dedication. The lights in the narthex were presented in memory of Helen and Charles Larmer. In the nave five lights were in memory of Percy Stinson, Percy Bentley, Moses and Elizabeth Sutton, Ralph Raymond Richards, and Edwin Vincent Dawe and Cordelia Raymes. The lights were given by members of the various families.

In his morning address Dr. Tuttle said that this as an occasion for thanksgiving and that he rejoiced with the congregation in their magnificent achievement. He stressed the fact that it was not a time only for re-dedication of the building, but of each member of the congregation.

Down through the ages the church had been built on the faith of such people as Peter, Calvin and Wesley. Dr. Tuttle urged the people in this moment of re-dedication to say "Lord, what do you want me to do?" and then to go out and do it.

EVENING SERVICE

In his evening address to another large congregation he asked the people to use this occasion as a landmark, a stepping stone to greater things.

Special music for the day included "Bless This House" and "O Jesus, I Have Promised", by the junior choir. "Prayer of Thanksgiving" with Mrs. Lawrence Winslow taking the solo part, and "Creation's Hymn" by the combined choirs; and "Te Deum" with Homer Ouellette taking the solo part, "Go Not Far", and "Hark, Hark, My Soul" with solo parts by Mrs. G. A. Spicer, choir director, and Mrs. Lawrence Winslow. Miss Estella Hetherington, the regular organist, and Miss Mabel Clarry, a former organist, were at the organ.

The evening service of Grace Presbyterian church was withdrawn so the congregation could worship with St. Andrew's. The Rev. W. H. Heustin of Grace church assisted by reading a Scripture lesson and offering prayer.

Flowers on either side of the chancel steps were placed there in memory of Henry Fallis and of Mrs. George Raymes.

After both services visitors looked through the renovated church hall with its new beginners' classroom complete with new furniture and sand table, new platform, dressingroom for the junior choir, and new washrooms.

Yorkton Group Wins High Praise

REGINA (CP) — Yorkton Little Theatre's presentaton of "You Can't Take It With You" won high praise at the Saskatchewan regional drama festival Monday night from British adjudicator Graham Suter.

Mr. Suter called the Pulitzer-Prize play "a big, bold undertaking" which went off with "a propitious bang."

"The Yorkton team put their head into the lion's mouth and got it out unscathed," he said. "For a young team, they did extremely well."

Mr. Suter said presentation was remarkably good and the direction was good in parts—"rather like a curate's egg."

"There was a certain haphazard grouping and a general lack of pace," he said. "Actors were slow in taking cues.

Good Manners Spoil Hold-up

OTTAWA (CP) — A young would-be hold-up man Monday night was delayed by his good manners until panic apparently sent him fleeing empty-handed.

He walked into Teniel Elias' grocery store, stuck his hand in his coat pocket as though it held a gun and announced: "This is a stick-up."

As he made for the cash register, however, a woman entered and stepped up to the counter ahead of him. He politely waited his turn, and when the woman took several minutes to make her purchases, he fled.

He is now sought by police.

Plan Nationalized Power Company

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—President Getulio Vargas announced Monday night in a radio speech that he is planning to create a nationalized Brazilian Power Corporation called Electrobras to provide increased power installations in Brazil.

He emphasized that his plan does not contemplate the nationalization of companies owned by foreign capital or the appropriation of present enterprises.

The plan presumably will be drafted and presented to congress in the form of a bill.

Most private power companies in Brazil are subsidiaries controlled by the Brazilian Traction Company, a holding company with headquarters in Toronto, and the American Foreign Power Company, with head offices in New York.

Brazilian Traction, with assets of about $800,000,000, is Brazil's biggest power concern.

OLD PORP LEARNS NEW TRICK—When Flippy, star, porpoise performer of the Marine Studios, Marineland, Fla., had a spell of poor health recently, it was up to Trainer Adolf Frohn to devise a cure. He taught Flippy to swim onto a specially made stretcher-hoist when it was lowered into his tank and to lie quietly while being lifted out to receive his penicillin shot, as seen above. Flippy even became resigned to the sting of the hypodermic needle which had to pierce the half-inch layer of blubber that lies under his skin. The sling and the medication worked and Flippy is back in shape again.

Sicily Gushers Lead Italy Role Major Oil Producer

By JOHN CAIRNCROSS

ROME (OFNS)—Under the Fascist regime, Mussolini made great play with the claim that he had, for the first time, developed Italy's natural resources. So it is somewhat ironical that the post-war era has seen a boom in two new mineral products; methane gas and oil.

Of the former, little need be said. Each year its production is increasing by about one hundred per cent. and annual output is now equivalent to three million tons of coal. But oil is the latest find. Hitherto there has been a small but steadily increasing oil output from the Po Valley. Last year it rose to eight-five thousand tons. Now oil has been struck in Sicily.

MUSSOLINI FAILED

To do Mussolini's regime justice, there had been eighteen drillings in the island up to 1943; but none of them had any luck. Since 1949, however, the American Gulf Oil Company has been prospecting energetically; and last October it struck oil, at a depth of two thousand metres, near Ragusa, in the southeast corner of the island. The samples were found to be of high quality, and it was decided to sink a well, and, if technical difficulties could be overcome, to develop operations in the normal commercial way.

Even if it should prove necessary to pump the oil to the surface, the shorter haul to the refineries will more than outweigh the extra cost. It is hoped to extract about fifty thousand tons a year from this well alone. Further west along the south coast, near Girgenti (the old Greek settlement of Agrigentum), the drills used at Ragusa will go into action on another site, and the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company have also started drilling in Ragusa Province.

In fact, there has been a wild scramble among oil firms. The Pacific Western, the MacMillan group, the German Wintershall Company, and the French General Geophysique are among companies which have secured concessions. These concessions total, or will shortly total, a million hectares, or forty per cent. of the area of Sicily. Thirty per cent. of the land has gone to foreign firms, while Italians, working alone or in co-operation with foreigners, have the rest. To avoid one firm taking too much, no concession can be of more than one hundred thousand hectares.

PRIVATE CAPITAL

Much of the credit for the latest developments must go to the Sicilian Government, which has so far enjoyed complete automony, as regards oil drilling at least. By generous legislation it ensures that any firm finding oil may have the right, for twenty years, (and this period may be extended) to work itsc oncession, subject only to paying the Government a royalty of from twelve to twenty per cent of the gross product. Owners of the land receive only compensation for los sof crops. The law has been strongly attacked on chauvinist grounds by the Left, athough the Left voted for it when it was passed in 1950. Italy itself, whose legislation is far less favorable to prospectors, is considering introducing a similar law.

It is too early to do more than speculate about the probable output of oil once production from other finds gets under way; but a figure of one million tons a year appears probable. It may well be more. If these prospects are realized, poor and overly-populated Sicily will find an outlet for the drive and ingeniousness of its people; and the basis may be laid for the wider industrialization essential if Italy's problem of the poverty-ridden South is to be solved.

Ancient Indian Custom Of Giving Goes Modern

WASHINGTON—The potlatch, a unique gift-giving ceremony of Indian tribes in the United States Pacific Northwest, has been revived, with radios, kitchenware and sewing machines replacing the homemade presents which originally characterized the affair.

For centuries the potlatch custom was cherished by the Tsimshian, Haida, Kwatkuitl, Nootka and other tribes inhabiting the coastal fjords and valleys of British Columbia and south Alaska, says the National Geographic Society.

When Indian cultural life waned in the 19th century, the potlatch virtually disappeared. Within recent years, however, many old tribal practices have been reinstituted, and the potlatch is again a highlight of winter ceremonials.

GENEROUS HOSTS

A corruption of the Nootka word patshatl, meaning "giving," the potlatch is a lavish feast at which the host distributes gifts to the guests. In early days each clan chief was expected to hold periodic potlatches, and his prestige and reputation were based on the amount of personal property distributed. Canoes, dressed elk-skins, and blankets of cedar-bark, mink, marten, sea otter and deer skin were the most common gifts.

A chief would often strip himself of nearly every possession except his house. But although he might temporarily beggar himself and his family, reimbursement was assured. His guests were obliged — for their own good names—to return the gifts with interest at their own potlatch functions.

Besides enhancement of a chief's social position, the potlatch had legal and cultural functions. Potlatch parties were necessitated by the assumption of chieftainship, maturity of a child, building of a new home, use of a new dance, name or fishing ground.

ABUNDANT LAND

Before civilization touched them, Northwest Indian tribes enjoyed an abundance of foodstuffs and raw materials. Successive waves of salmon from spring to autumn populated channels from Seattle to Skagway. Great runs of oolachon, or "candlefish", yielded butter and oil equivalents. Halibut, herring, seals and sea lions were numerous. Dense rain forests provided a wealth of game and timber.

European influence on the coast began with Russian exploitation of the Aleutians in the 1760's and the later arrival of Captain James Cook at Vancouver Island. Contact with Europeans opened a lucrative fur trade for the Indians and brought immense technological and social changes.

But it brought misfortune as well. Smallpox and tuberculosis epidemics decimated the tribes. Whole villages died out. The sea otter soon became extinct, and intensified competition in fur trapping and fishing caused economic hardships. By 1875 disease and starvation had reduced the coastal tribes to less than a fourth of their numbers a century earlier.

The increasing extravagance of potlatch ceremonies in period of uncertainty involved chiefs in obligations which led to bitter disputes and petty warfare. Some chiefs committed suicide or made war to vindicate their honor, rather than face the shame of not paying their potlatch debts. At the beginning of the 20th century, the true potlatch was practiced only in the most remote valleys by a few isolated clans.

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both— Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

Toronto, Ont. (Special)— For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to stop bleeding—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form for hemorrhoids under the name Preparation H.® The price is only $1.19 a tube including an applicator. The name to ask for is Preparation H—at all drug stores. And remember — if not entirely satisfied — your money will be refunded promptly.

John W. Miles Places Fifth Chinchilla Show

John W. Miles of 590 Reid St., showed two animals at seventh annual Chinchilla Show in Toronto on Saturday. One of them placed fifth to the show champion and he said today that he was very pleased with its standing.

A chinchilla breeder for the past nine years, Mr. Miles currently has about 60 animals at his ranch. There are several breeders in the Peterborough district but few attended the Toronto show and no one but Mr. Miles exhibited.

President of the Kawartha Breeders Association Sidney Ward of 1314 Monaghan Rd., said that the show was by far the best to date; there were more exhibits, better animals of improved stocks and, as far as he could judge, the animals shown did not vary five per cent from each other in show standards.

The show was attended by some 1,100 fur ranchers and visitors. According to the president of the Central Ontario branch, Basil Hall, the industry had come a long way in Canada since its beginning in Alberta in 1937.

At next year's show, he said, chinchilla pelts would be marketed for the first time. Owner of the animals with the highest aggregate points was W. Freeborn of Concord, Ont., who also had the champion male, the show champion and junior show champion animals.

Niagara Council Stands Pat On Firing Manager

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (AP)— A city council majority stood pat in the face of a tumultuous public hearing and cast a final vote early today for the ouster of city manager Harold R. Cheek.

Cheek was fired by a 3-2 vote—the same line-up that supported a resolution a month ago calling for his dismissal.

The council's final action came after a bitter, five-hour public hearing. A crowd of more than 1,000 jammed the council chambers, overflowed into the hall, and punctuated the hearing with volleys of boos, catcalls, cheers and applause.

The council based its action on the ground that a strong pro-city-manager candidate's failure to win election in November amounted to a public mandate for a change.

It said also that relations between the city manager and the general public had "deteriorated to an alarming extent" during Cheek's 2½ years in office.

Cheek contended that a basic reason for his dismissal was his invoking of a state anti-strike law during a strike of municipal employees during 1952. A second reason, he declared, was his refusal to yield to influence in making appointments to city jobs.

To the defence of the council majority came a large group of speakers led by city workers and labor leaders who said the voters of Niagara Falls wanted government by "elected officials." City managers are appointed by councils.

Dutch Newcomers Marry

Newcomers to Peterborough from Holland, Miss Diny Verbunt and Mr. Gerry Luyckx, were married on Saturday morning at St. Peter's Cathedral in a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. J. P. McGuire.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Verbunt of Tilburg, Holland, and the groom is the son of Mrs. W. Luyckx and the late Mr. Luyckx, also of Tilburg.

Attending the couple were the groom's twin brother, Mr. Theo Luyckx who came to Canada just two months ago, and his wife. Mr. John Anderson of Peterborough gave the bride in marriage.

A lovely gown of white taffeta with overskirt of white nylon tulle was the bride's choice and she wore a fingertip veil of tulle caught to a tiny Juliet cap. She carried a nosegay of white carnations with lillies of the valley. Mrs. Luyckx wore a waltz-length gown of black taffeta trimmed with tiny green flowers, and a tiny velvet hat.

The High Mass was celebrated by Father McGuire and the children's choir of Sister Caroline sang. Wedding music was played by Mrs. R. G. Aman.

The wedding reception held afterward at the Empres Hotel followed a mixture of Dutch and Canadian customs.

The bridal couple will live at 555 King Street.

Elegant Spring Collection Keeps Skirt Lengths Down

By NADEANE WALKER

PARIS (AP) — Stubbornly keeping skirt lengths down to last spring's level, Pierre Balmain today showed one of the most lavishly elegant collections of fashions seen this season.

While other designers favor sparse, discreet evening embroidery of flat crystal bugle beads, Balmain splashes his queenly great-skirted formals with colored flowers in high relief, mixed with jewelled beads and gold braid.

In general, he likes the same colors, blue, pink, navy, white, and beige, as other fashion houses, and the same lines, both the figurine silhouette fitted to the hip and then full to the hem, and stem-straight skirts.

The rose is the flower of the day, appearing repeatedly in pastel-chalk silk prints and all kinds of embroidery. One of the nicest new notes at Balmain is a lacing of wide ribbon down the front of dresses and jackets and evening formals.

CAPE COATS POPULAR

A sort of dark-screen wool is popping up all over the shows; and so are cape coats. Bands of delicate faggotting for trim is Balmain's original idea, and he even uses it on thick woollen coats.

Jackets, always on the short side, are cut away in front in an inverted V for a weskit effect. Jersey, draped as Balmain says "at the points of feminity—the hips and the bust," is an easy winner as a daytime favorite, with soft silks coming into their own for late afternoon onward.

A white mink jacket has a pearl and crystal jewelled lining of pale blue satin, and silver fox in a recurring trim.

Otonabee Chapter Members Enjoy Luncheon Meeting

A delightful luncheon party in the YWCA Green Room Monday preceded the business of the regular and annual meetings of Otonabee Chapter, IODE. Thirty seven of the 55 chapter members enjoyed this event which was convened by Mrs. A. R. McWilliams and Mrs. W. A. Burrell.

Mrs. Bert Jackson, a past regent, was honored because of having been absent from some recent meetings due to ill health, and was presented with a lovely corsage of spring flowers. Later she was called on to preside for the election of officers and to install the new slate.

Regent Mrs. Frank Merrett, who was re-elected for a second term, made a brief address in which she said "We look forward to greater and better things. A wonderful lot of work has been accomplished, as our reports have shown. 'The past is inspiring, the future is challenging, but the present is our responsibility'."

Members were advised that there is a great deal of sewing to be done and it was planned to have a sewing meeting next Wednesday, February 10th, at the home of Mrs. M. Adams, 482 Cambridge Street. Last year 253 pieces valued at $135.50 were completed. Services at home and abroad committee also reported sending eight food boxes. Cash donations were made to a number of worthy local causes as well as to IODE funds.

Said Mrs. Jackson: "As long as a helping hand is held out by caring for children, sending food parcels and grain overseas where needed, we know there is Christianity in the world." She was referring to a Communist claim that there will no christians in 10 years. "The IODE is a christian organization" she said. "Every member of this chapter is a member in good standing of some church. We know that christianity will never die among us."

Congratulations to Mrs. Merrett on carrying out so splendidly her first year as regent were expessed by Ms. Jackson, and she urged each officer to continue to do her very best to help her in the coming year. She commented on the "kindly" personality of the chapter as a whole and the "great deal of friendliness" shown.

It was decided to continue giving silver dollars as prizes for attendance at the adopted schools. Also to continue sending food boxes through the agency employed last year. It was reported that all had been acknowledged but one and the recipients seemed quite satisfied with the contents. It was also voted to continue the practice of sending monhly bulletins to members.

The slate of officers for 1954 is: Honorary regent, Mrs. R. R. Hall; regent, Mrs. F. Merrett; 1st vice-regent, Mrs. G. Langhorne; 2nd vice-regent, Mrs. F. J. A. Hall; standard bearer, Mrs. W. A. Burrell; secretary, Mrs. D. E. Bell; treasurer, Mrs. W. A. Davern; assistant treasurer, Mrs. W. G. McLaren; educational secretary, Mrs. A. R. McWilliams; Echos secretary, Mrs. H. Wilson.

Conveners: flowers, Mrs. B. MacLean, Mrs. F. Mowry, assistant; publicity, Mrs. I. Rattenbury; membership, Mrs. I. Rattenbury; films, Mrs. G. Langhorne; hospitality, Mrs. W. A. Burrell; Canadian and immigration, Mrs. E. S. Humphrey; Empire and world affairs, Mrs. Jos Dunkerley; service at home and abroad, Mrs. J. R. Pollard; committee to assist, Mrs. W. A. Burrell, Mrs. H. Lowes.

Home and School Association News

QUEEN MARY SCHOOL

Health week was featured at the meeting of Queen Mary Home and School Association Monday evening. Mrs. C. B. Muir and Mrs. S. Pope received in the rotunda and President Mrs. Robert Hutton welcomed parents, and the grade 6 pupils of Miss Chalk's, Miss Doughty's and Mrs. Millard's rooms. Mrs. R. Shaw took attendance and Mrs. Millard's room won the prize.

The children sang three songs, "Early Morning," "All Through the Night" and Brahm's "Lullaby."

Mrs. G. Reader, a past president, gave a short talk on the founding of the Home and School movement.

New school nurse, Miss Lois Galpin, spoke on the public health services that the child receives at school. "The teacher's part is to point out defects she notices to the school nurse, and the child's part is to learn to take some responsibility for his own health," she said. A lively question period followed her talk. She was introduced by Mrs. J. Stewart and was thanked by Mrs. W. B. Brown.

Mrs. F. Mulcahy was pianist for the evening. A pleasant social period followed business.

MAINTAINING THE HEALTH and well-being of the family pet is usually a task that falls to the housewife. This housewife (left) is making sure that her Scottish terrier gets a regular checkup by a veterinarian. And she also sees that the Scottie (right) has clean dishes for every meal, is fed in a quiet corner away from noise and that he is given just the proper amount and no more at each meal.

Learn Basic Rules To Guard Pet's Health

One of the many tasks that falls in the domain of the housewife is the care of the family pet. Knowing just what to do to keep a dog (for example) in sound health can relieve the woman of the house of both worry and heavy bills from a veterinarian.

The first basic rule in the care of any pet is a sound one that applies to humans: A thorough checkup by a doctor (veterinarian) once a year. Some dog lovers make this regular practice instead of buying their pets expensive toys or fancy trappings.

Almost anything that can happen to a human being in the way of sickness can happen to a dog or cat: arthritis, cancer, heart disease, nutritional deficiency disorders. Asthma is common among dogs with flattened noses, like the bull terrier and bulldog.

There are some half-dozen types of worms that may infest your puppy or grown dog. Each has its own characteristics and takes special treatment by a veterinarian.

Poisoning is the one thing dog owners fear most for their pets. Best rule is to prevent your dog from eating objects he picks up on the street. Nearly all of them try it. Most important factor in saving a dog that's been poisoned is speed. If you can't reach a vet at once, take steps yourself to save your pet's life.

First, empty the dog's stomach by mixing hydrogen peroxide (use regular drugstore strength of 3 per cent) and water, half-and-half, and pour it down his throat. Use tablespoon of this mixture for each 10 pounds in body weight.

This should cause vomiting within two minutes. Warm salt water is also effective for this purpose.

When the vomiting has stopped, give the dog a teaspoon of epsom salts in a little water to empty the intestines. But never administer a laxative intended for humans.

Peroxide is an antidote for the phosphorus often used in rat poisons and epsoms salts are helpful in clearing up lead poisoning.

These tips and many other come from J. W. Cunkelman, D.V.M., of the veterinary division research laboratories of a large meat packing company. He suggests that in case of food poisoning, you give an enema of water before administering epsom salts. And in all cases of poisoning, get your pet to a veterinarian as soon as possible.

Foot injuries are so common that every dog owner should know how to deal with them. If a nail is broken, clip away the broken part at once. For surface bleeding, use hydrogen peroxide. As dressing, secure a piece of cotton with adhesive tape. If your dog's feet should become frostbitten, massage them gently and bandage them with some soft material.

Most important, pay attention to symptoms. Don't neglect injuries and don't attempt to doctor a dog for any length of time without expert help.

Kitchen Suite Given Newlyweds

BETHANY (ENS) — The Bethany community gathered in the town hall on Friday evening to extend congratulations and good wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Creighton Carr (nee Shirley McGee) and presented them with a lovely kitchen suite designed in chrome and plastic. Charles Palmer was chairman and read the address which accompanied the gift presented by Gordon Smith, Jack Palmer, Ernest Youngman, Robert Read and Ronald Pomeroy.

Creighton thanked everyone for the lovely gift, especially the committee who had arranged the evening's entertainment. "Bethany is a good place to live in, it is wonderful to have so many friends," he said.

Taking part in the program were Mrs. Earl Argue with several humerous readings, Ralph Preston with vocal numbers accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Clarence Rowan, Miss Ingrid Rajski with accordion selections and Mr. Ted. Spencely with several songs and his own guitar accompaniment. Lunch was served and dancing enjoyed for the remainder of the evening to music supplied by Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Bristow and Mr. Clarence Page, with Ernest Youngman calling the square dances.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Homemade Bread, Potatoes Tasty Two Staffs Of Life

A letter you will see in this column, if you care to read it, on February 5 asks for information re darkening of cooked potatoes.

The type of cooking ware to use for any purpose could bring down a controversy on my head. I don't relish a quarrel of any kind at any time. I tend to be a peace-at-a-price woman. But I will say one thing: peeled potatoes that are cooked whole in very heavy utensils in a minimum of water without salt, so that water is all gone by the time they are tender, have excellent flavor. This way most of the minerals are retained too. Need I say more?

It is a year since I gave you a recipe for homemade white bread, so it is high time I repeated it. Letters are coming in asking for it.

HOMEMADE WHITE BREAD

(quick method)

These amounts make 4 loaves.

Scald two cups milk until very hot and add to it two cups cold water. Measure one cup of this liquid into a small bowl and when it is lukewarm add two packages of granular yeast and two teaspoons sugar. Mix and allow to stand until lukewarm.

Sift bread flour and measure 11 cups, and make a well in centre of flour in large bowl. Add ¼ cup very soft shortening to the lukewarm liquid, then add the soaked yeast mixture. Pour these liquids into well in flour and stir until all of the flour is dampened.

Now knead the dough in the bowl with the hand for five minutes or until dough becomes smooth. Turn out on greased board or table top (do not use flour board) and knead with both hands for eight minutes. Place dough in bowl which has been well-greased, cover with slightly dampened towel, cover with a dry towel and let rise until doubled in bulk in warm place—preferably at from 75 to 80 deg. Fahr. This requires about 2 hours.

Turn out on lightly greased board and cut into four even pieces with greased sharp knife. Shape each piece into a ball, folding cut surfaces under. Let these stand 15 minutes, covered. Then shape these balls of dough into loaves and place in greased loaf pans, cover and let rise at room temperature for 1½ hours or until doubled in bulk and risen a little above rim of pans.

Bake at 425 deg. Fahr. for 15 minutes, then reduce heat to 400 deg. Fahr. and continue baking 35 minutes longer. Bread has a hollow sound when baked through, when it is wrapped on the bottom with knuckles. Turn out of pans at once onto wire racks to cool. If desired, bread may be brushed with melted butter while still warm. Do not put in bread box until bread is cold.

QUESTION: . . . one time while at a restaurant we were served some lovely over-browned whole but peeled potatoes. These had been cooked separately, not in with a roast. Would you please tell me how these are done. The ones I have been trying are always browned nice, but are quite tough and hard on the outside, while the ones we had at the restaurant were tender and nice on the outside as well as the inside . . . D.B.

ANSWER: that is only part of D.B.'s letter but since potato queries are around I've included it.

FRANCONIA POTATOES

Wash and pare potatoes and soak whole in cold water ½ hour. Drain and parboil 10 minutes. Drain and dry. Brush with melted butter or shortening and arrange in buttered baking dish with cover. Bake at 400 deg. Fahr. for one to 1¼ hours, depending on size. Brush with melted butter twice during baking period. Remove cover and sprinkle with salt during last 15 minutes, and turn potatoes over. If necessary raise pan to be directly under broiler for a few minutes at the end to brown them even more attractively.

Bible Society's Aims Outlined

SPRINGVILLE (ENS) — The Rev. Edgerton Young of Toronto, a representative of the British and Foreign Bible Society, addressed the congregations of Springville, Fairmount and Mt. Pleasant at Fairmount church on Sunday evening. He also presented an interesting film—"Under the Dust." The film showed the life of a colporteur in Cuba among the sugar plantation natives and very vividly portrayed the change in their lives when the gospel was proclaimed and copies of the scripture were given to them.

Mr. Young told of some of the difficulties missionaries encounter when they go to live among people who can neither read nor write and who have no written language. Missionaries have to invent a way to write this new language and to do this it is necessary to know the history of the tribe and their ways of expressing things.

He cited the case of a missionary trying to find a way to say "God redeems us" to an African tribe. The literal translation means "God takes our heads out." These African tribes knew of slaves being chained together to be marched out and sold. Sometimes it happens that a person takes a particular fancy to one of these slaves and buys him from the slave-raider and then this redeemed slave's head is taken out of the chains.

This year is the 150th anniversary of the British and Foreign Bible Society. It was started at the time of the Napoleonic War when a little girl in Wales carefully saved and earned money to buy a Bible and then walked 25 miles in her bare feet to purchase one. She was terribly disappointed to find the last one had been sold.

This year the society has two special aims—First to recall the people of Canada to the Bible; Second—to dedicate ourselves to making the Bible available to all peoples of the world.

If Canada is going to assume its position of leadership in the free world then she must assume economic leadership, political leadership as well as spiritual leadership," said Mr. Young.

Warning his audience that the Bible is necessary to freedom, Mr. Young said—"There are subtle movements at work to undermine our freedom. Some still believe that Communism and Christianity can work together but there are Soviet Societies organized to put a lie to the Christian Myth."

Before the showing of the film, Roger Hanbidge, Ray Kelk, Hazel McIntosh and Lila Seymour sang a quartette "Near to the Heart of God" and at the close of the film, they sang "My Mother's Old Bible is True."

The service was sponsored jointly by the local branch of the Bible Society, the Young Adult Group and the Young People's Union. Margaret Earle and Clarence Johnston presided for the program. Catherine Earl read the scipture. Charles Knight also assisted in the program.

Clarence Johnston, president of the local branch and Roger Hanbidge, secretary were re-elected and canvassers were appointed to call on those who were not present.

Mrs. T. W. McIndoo was organist for the evening service and the Rev. A. E. Larke pronounced the benediction. Bryce Larke reminded the YPU members of the Interdenominational Fireside at George St. church next Sunday evening at 8.30 p.m.

Dress-Length Capes Make News In Spring Fashions

By NADEANE WALKER

PARIS (AP) — Long, flowing capes—rather like those worn by Paris policemen—were the newest note in designer Jean Desses' spring fashion collection shown Sunday night.

Drawing inspiration from spring breezes, Desses presents clothes full of pleats that ripple, rustle and flutter like the leaves of the trees. He has not entirely abandoned straight, slim skirts but most of his collection has fullness from the hip. He says his new hemline is 15 inches from the floor (some looked even shorter).

Stiffened petticoats for daytime wear as well as evening are an essential of the new skirts, here as well as in other houses. Desses calls this a figurine silhouette; the bust is tightly moulded, the waist tiny, the upper hipline fitted, and the skirt billowed towards the hem.

CAPES MATCH

Tender pinks, blue and greens are almost matched in popularity by white pale beige, navy and lilac. Jersey and soft silk flower prints are daytime favorites, while chiffon and lace come out for cocktail and evening wear. There are some small polka dots and small checks. Suits are of both oatmeal texture and polished woolens.

The Desses capes are dress-length and usually of matching material. A romantic black chiffon evening cape hangs from a neck-lace-collar of pink roses, worn over a short formal of white chiffon with a scallop tiered skirt. The whole effect is as dainty as a Dresden shepherdess.

Other features of the new Desses collection include big squared sailor collars, slanted pleats and tucks, a princess line throughout, centre front or just off-centre buttoning, low square necklines and low round necklines, vest-pointed weskit jackets (all jackets are rather short here), and all kinds of pleats from umbrella to organ-fluted.

Apsley News

A gloom was cast over the community when word was received of the passing of Mr. Bert Downing in Peterborough. He spent his childhood here attending East Road school and as a young man he went to Minnisota to work at logging. Later he returned and took up residence in Toronto where he was employed as an electrician.

Mrs. Newton Stephens has returned to her home from Civic hospital where she had a major operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Chesel McColl were visitors to Marmora on Sunday.

DOROTHY DIX

Weak Hubby Worries Wife By Fondness For Gambling

DEAR MISS DIX: Why is it that when a wife is trying to get her husband to stop gambling, his friends and relatives insist on his going with them to gambling places? They ignore the wife's feelings and pleadings. Some people seem to get a kick out of destroying a happy marriage. Are they jealous, or just plain bad?

My heart is being broken, all my dreams of love and a happy marriage are being destroyed, and a once-devoted husband is turning from his family. My husband vows to stop gambling, then someone comes along and entices him out. How can I stop it?

H. L. M.

MAN HAS WILL OF OWN

ANSWER: First of all, don't put all the blame on the friends who coax your man to gamble. He has a will of his own, and even if it is weak, he certainly isn't so spineless that he can't say "No." Believe me, if he wanted to stay home with his family, he couldn't be lused so easily. What are you doing to combat the attraction of gambling? Does your home provide the things a man wants — comfort, peace, and contentment? Have you stopped to consider that he might be running away from something, instead of to a diversion?

Surely there must be one friend or relative who might help you in your efforts to keep hubby at home. Let that person join you in a concentrated effort to make the non-co-ops keep "hands off" your husband. It's difficult to believe that your husband is surrounded by people who aim to break up his home.

Try to look at your problem a bit more objectively to see just where the fault lies. Blaming "friends and relatives" won't accomplish much. You can't cope with a large group of people, but if you narrow the culprits down to two or three, you could probably convince them of the harm they're doing. But first look to your own house!

DEAR MISS DIX: Do you think 18 months is long enough to prove whether or not a marriage will be successful? I am 21, and am not a bit happy. My husband goes to school. I work. As far as I can see there will be six more years of the same thing. I'd like to separate now while I still have my youth.

BETTY M.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: The success of a marriage doesn't depend on time, but on the two people concerned. Few marriages, especially those of young people, go according to their premarital dreams. Men and women know that while the realities of life are not the stuff of which dreams are made, they are more substantial, and will become more desirable. Throwing up one's hands after 18 months is the weak way out.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: After we had dated for a few months John went overseas recently. His brother then asked me out, and, while I went with him, I realized it was John who really had a claim to my love. How can I tell the brother that it's John I love and that I no longer wish to date anyone else?

BETSY.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: A straightforward explanation is best. Tell the young man you've enjoyed his company, but since you love somebody else, you prefer to forego all other dates. He'll appreciate your honesty.

That "SMOOTH LOOK" men admire can be yours!

Resting at the residence of her parents for Funeral Service Wednesday, February 3rd at 2 p.m. Rev. A. L. Sisco officiating. Interment at Warkworth Cemetery. (Arrangements Allen Funeral Home, Warkworth).

6—In Memoriam

JORDAN—In loving mmory of a dear mother, Mrs. Ellen Jordan, who passed away February 2, 1950.

Peacefully sleeping, resting at last,
The world's weary troubles and trials are past.
Her illness she suffered, in patience she bore,
Till God called her home to suffer no more.

—Ever remembered by daughter Elizabeth Moher and Family.

7—Card of Thanks

I sincerely thank my doctor and the attending nurses at Civic Hospital, my minister Rev. Lloyd Shorten and Mrs. M. Shorten for visits and kind help to return home, Rev. Harold Wright of Norwood United Church for his kindness, St. James' W.A., W.M.S., the Cheerful Workers Bible Class, and the Bowling Club, and all the kind friends, relatives and neighbors for the lovely plants, flowers, fruit, candy, cards, letters, books, and telephone calls and visits—I sure appreciate everything. —Mrs. Florence Wagstaff.

Dangerous Driving Charge Laid In Death

BRANTFORD (CP) — Provincial police said today that a charge of dangerous driving has been laid against Kenneth Scott, 47, of Toronto, following the death Sunday of 55-year-old William R. Laing, London.

Mr. Laing was injured Jan. 19 near Paris when struck by a car.

Mr. Scott, charged with careless driving after the accident, appeared in court today on the more serious charge and was released on bail.

Ask Retention Of Name Chemong Road

What's in a name?

According to the Juliet of Shakespeare's script, a rose by any other name would smell as sweet. But would a street smell as sweet if the name weren't the same.

Not according to people living on the part of Chemong road annexed by the city last year. Thirty-nine of them signed a petition asking city council to discard the name Stewart St. for their thoroughfare; they want to continue living on Chemong Rd.

The petition was presented to council Monday night by Mrs. L. R. Groombridge. (Incidentally, Mrs. Groombridge's address in both the city directory and the telephone book is listed as Chemong road.)

MEANS CONFUSION

It was pointed out by the petitioners that the utilities commission had been mailing accounts to them addressed Stewart St., RR 1. From a business viewpoint, change of address meant confusion and a possible loss of trade. If the older name were kept, personal and business letter-heads would not have to be changed.

The ticklish question of the sensitive pride of the Scots was not overlooked in the petition.

"We have no quarrel with the fine name of Stewart," it was said, "but, geographically speaking, the situation of Chemong road is well-known by everyone in the city."

Chemong road residents had built there because they liked the location and the name, it was said. The name was associated with Lake Chemong and was linked with the past. Within memory it has been a corduroy road and before that it was an Indian trail, used by Champlain himself.

SEVERAL MEANINGS

As for Stewart St., it had several beginnings and endings, it was pointed out.

"Down by the CGE, it changes into Stewart Place. Then, up by Murray St., it takes a notion to wander over into a garden, down steps and over the creek.

"This by no means deters it, for when it reaches Edinburgh St. it decides to make up for its shortcomings and goes into a fork before it reaches Parkhill, thus giving itself two short stretches of Stewart.

"However, it still isn't satisfied, because it slips over the highway and runs parallel along Brookdale.

"We admire and like our long straight road and would prefer to tell our friends that we have not moved," it was stated.

There were 43 addresses involved, Mrs. Groombridge told council. Thirty-nine had signed; the others were away.

The petition was referred to the board of works.

Monday Closing

stances. Another grocer suggested that the public had been stirred up too much by the controversy and the best thing to do was to wait and see.

One reason why the Monday closing cannot be effected immediately is the difficult position of the chain grocery stores. Such stores seldom enter a controversy of this sort, but go along with the majority of the independent grocers when these make a decision.

Another factor affecting the chain grocers is the fact that the Dominion Stores will likely take country are unionized. Thus the Dominion Stores will likely take the lead in falling in with the grocers plan.

One grocery suggested that it was to the advantage of the non-food retailers to be open all day Wednesdays because many stores in surrounding towns to the east are closed either Wednesday or Thursday. These townspeople would then visit Peterborough on these days in order to take advantage of greater retail varieties.

Mr. Lewis was not enthusiastic about the suggestion for Friday night opening. He said this was an unnecessary hardship on staffs and did no more than decrease the volume of Saturday trade, especially in the summer.

"We'll know after three or six months how things are going to work out," said Mr. Lewis. He thought it quite possible that other retailers might come to agree with the Monday closing precedent established by the grocers, butchers, fruit and vegetable dealers.

Swift Fish

ABERDEEN, Scotland (CP)—Scientists who have been tagging herring in an experiment to determine movements of the shoals of fish find they can travel fast. One tagged herring swam 100 miles in seven days.

Some Believe Babies Can Cure Any Recession

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Babies—will they cure any recession that may be in the making?

The theory: since people will go on having babies, the population will continue to grow at its present howling pace. Meeting the needs of all these new citizens will launch business and industry on another boom.

But of all the statistics which slide-rule boys like to project into the future as a basis for their prophesies, the birth rate can be the most fickle. It fluctuates among nations. It changes from one generation to the next. And it reacts sensitively to good times and bad.

During the depression of the 1930s people had too much trouble feeding themselves to welcome any more mouths. Both the marriage rate and the birth rate went down.

People got pretty gloomy about the future and talked a lot about its being a mature economy with no more growth left in it.

But the war and the post-war boom sent the marriage and birth rates up again—as wars and booms usually do.

WONDER ABOUT FOOD

People are talking now about an indefinite boom in the population and therefore in the economy. Some even wonder a little where all the food is to come from.

Only a few seem to wonder, should there be another depression whether there would be as many early marriages as now, as many babies, as great an urge to have large families to clothe feed and educate.

AGED'S RANKS INCREASE

Population has its other phase. Science has steadily increased the term of life expentancy. The army of the aged is growing at the same impressive rate as the school of young fry.

Business has a big stake in any change in the population's gait. Many businesses will be affected if the populaton multiplies at the same astounding rate as now, or if it slows down again, or if it results in bigger proportion of old people and children.

Slasher Takes Holiday After 11 Days

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal's slasher took a holiday Monday, the first since sadistic attacks began 11 days ago. The let-up came while police held four men for questioning in connection with razor-blade attacks on the legs of women.

One of the men, 28, was described by police as the "best suspect" so far. He surrendered Sunday to RCMP, saying he was the slasher. None of the detained men was named.

Police are not sure whether the let-up was due to a drop in publicity given the case, to the detention of the suspects, or to some other reason.

12 GENUINE ATTACKS

Police said only 12 of 20 or more reported attacks were genuine.

"Now women realize they won't get publicity by reporting attacks," an official said. "This may have weeded out publicity-seekers."

Police said they feel one man being held might be responsible for one or two of the attacks, prompted by reading reports of the case. Several women brought to headquarters had not been able to dentify him as their assailant.

"Official" week-end victims of the slasher were two teen-age girls. Twelve stitches were required to close wounds of one.

GM Output Remains Same

DETROIT (AP)—CIO President Walter P. Reuther said today that General Motors' recently announced billion-dollar expansion program would not add to the auto industry's over-all output.

"What GM is going to do is steal the market from other companies," he asserted at a press conference.

Reuther, who also heads the CIO United Auto Workers Union, noted that the industry has produced as many as 8,000,000 vehicles in a single year in the past. But in 1954, he said, industry leaders themselves forecast a total production of between 4,000,000 and 5,000,000.

"I'm happy to see General Motors expanding," he said. "But we're going to be in serious trouble if we don't do something to expand purchasing power and provide for wider distribution."

About $400,000,000 of the $1,000,000,000 for GM's expansion program will come from termination of the excess profits tax, he said.

Freedom Of Worship Given Precedence

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The Indiana Supreme Court ruled Monday that a Jehovah's Witnesses congregation's right to freedom of worship takes precedence over a church parking lot zoning regulation.

The congregation at Decatur, Ind., had gone to court, complaining that strict enforcement of the parking lot requirement would prevent it from building a church. The court instructed judge Myles F. Parrish of Decatur to order the requirement disregarded.

Decatur's zoning ordinance requires churches to provide off-street parking for one car for every six seats in the church. The congregation said its lot is too small for the specified parking space.

OBITUARIES

MRS. ANGUS McINTOSH

The death occurred, Monday, of Mrs. Angus McIntosh, 88, of 469 Murray St., after a lengthy illness. Born in London, England, daughter of Arthur Fisher and Jane Jackson, she came to Canada in 1876 and has resided in Peterborough since 1880.

Her husband, predeceased her. Mr. McIntosh is survived by sons Wilbert and Allan, of Toronto, Harold and Donald, of Peterborough; one sister, Mrs. Thomas Bradford, of Saltcoats, Sask.; and one brother, William, of Seattle, Wash.

Mrs. McIntosh was a member of St. Paul's Presbyterian church and a life member of the Women's Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion.

Funeral will be on Thursday from the Comstock funeral home at 2.00 p.m., for burial in Little Lake cemetery. The Rev. C. G. Boyd will officiate.

MRS. JOHN HEASLIP

Funeral service for the late Mrs. John Heaslip of Bailieboro, who died at her residence last Tuesday following a short illness, was held on Thursday at the MacPherson funeral home, Millbrook. The Rev. Hubert Malcolm of Bailieboro United church officiated and pallbearers were Hailand Seens, James Fair, Alex Watts, Dawson Rutherford, Charles Fisher and Reginald Elliott. Burial was at Welcome cemetery.

Mrs. Heaslip was born in Clarke township 75 years ago, daughter of the late Henry Green Tippett and Mary Jane Hawthorne.

Besides her husband she leaves two daughters, Mrs. William Bamsey (Ila) of Port Hope and Mrs. John Dew (Audrey) of Peterborough, and two sons, Melville of South Monaghan Township and Alvin Heaslip of Port Hope. A sister, Mrs. Yates (Laura), lives in St. Catharines and a brother, Fred Tippett, in Moosomin, Sask.

ALLAN LOBICO

ROSENEATH (ENS). — The lengthy tolling of Alderville church bell (84 times to be exact) on Saturday morning made it known to the people of the Alderville Reserve that one of the older residents, Allan Lobico, had died in a Peterborough hospital following a lengthy illness at home and the last month in the hospital.

Born at Alderville 84 years ago, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Lobico, his entire life was spent here, with the exception of a year spent in the armed forces in Canada in World War I.

His wife, the former Elmira Beaver, predeceased him in 1920.

Crippled with arthritis for upwards of 30 years, the greater part of that time he has been cared for by a stepdaughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Marsden, in their home, where he was treated with the utmost patience and kindness.

He is survived by two stepdaughters, Mrs. Thomas Marsden, Alderville, and Mrs. John Lobico of Clarkson, two half-sisters Mrs. Victor Hirom of Oakville and Mrs. Moses Smoke of Alderville; a half-brother, John Lobico of Alderville. A brother Robert Lobico paid the supreme sacrifice in France in World War I.

The funeral service was held at Alderville church on Monday afternoon at 2:30. Interment was in Alderville cemetery.

WALTER KINSMAN

Walter Kinsman of Lot 20, Concession 3, Cavan townsihp, died at his home on Monday. He was born in the district, son of the late James Kinsman and Mary Frances Trew, and has lived there all his life. He was a farmer.

Besides his wife, the former Pansy E. Rowe, he leaves three children, Donald Edward, 11; Berneice Louise, 9; and James Walter, 7 years. There is one sister, Mrs. Wilmot Homes (Carrie) of Manvers Station, and four brothers, John and W[illegible]y both of Peterville and Bill and Sam, of Millbrook. Mr. Kinsman was a member of Centreville Presbyterian church.

A private service will be held on Wednesday at the MacPherson funeral home, Millbrook, and burial will be at St. Paul's cemetery, Cavan township.

Foundation Aids Doctors Keep Up With Times

Grants from the Kellogg Foundation are enabling Peterborough doctors to stay ahead of the latest medical techniques. The report of the dean of the faculty of medicine at the University of Toronto, included in the president's annual report says that the foundation's "generous support" has enabled the faculty to include Peterborough in the "scheme of decentralized postgraduate education."

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO

Kellogg Foundations funds enable specialists in various medical fields to come to Peterborough and speak to the Peterborough Merical Association on new medical developments. Doctors also present cases to the guest speakers for discussion of various means of treatment.

Three such meeting with visiting specialists have already been held this year and two more are planned before April. Last week Drs. A. W. Farmr and H. Bain were guests. Dr. Farmer is a plastic surgeon, Dr. Bain a pediatrician.

Although the Kellogg Foundation grant is to the Peterborough County Medical association, invitations are extended to all doctors of surrounding countries to avail themselves of these educational services. Although most centres are able to keep abreast of medical developments through the Ontario Medical association, only four — Welland, Kirkland Lake, the Lakehead and Peterborough — have the specialized services of Kellogg Foundation speakers from the University of Toronto.

In charge of Kellogg Foundation activities here is Dr. H. S. Dunham, of the Peterborough County Medical association.

Hallnor Miners Accept Settlement

TIMMINS (CP) — A strike of some 250 gold miners that lasted more than six months at Hallnor Mines Limited ended today when the miners accepted terms of a company offer.

Settlement terms were not disclosed, but they were believed similar to those accepted by workers at four other mines in the Porcupine area where strikes have been settled in recent weeks.

Settlements at Hollinger, McIntyre Porcupine, Coniaurum and Aunor were based on a five-cent-an-hour wage increase and five statutory holidays. Three other mines — Preston East Dome, Broulan Reef and Delnite — still are on strike.

STRUCK JULY 11

Hallnor miners went on strike July 11 when workers refused to cross Broulan Reef picket lines strung across a common access road to both diggings. The union said today Hallnor workers will be given passes to allow them to get to work through the lines of Broulan Reef pickets.

About 5,000 men were out of work when all eight mines were on strike. About 1,000 are still on strike.

Missed London, Damaged Ship

ROTHESDAY, Scotland (AP)—A young sailor who said he missed the gaiety of his native London was sentenced to a year's detention today on charges of smashing gauges, light bulbs and pipes aboard the submarine depot ship Montclare.

Thomas Hulley, 22, was tried by a court martial. He pleaded guilty to three charges of "malicious damage."

Hulley told the court Rothesday depressed him, especially in winter.

He said he seized a board and smashed about "in a fit of depression."

The Montclare, a former Canadian Pacific Steamships passenger vessel, is regularly tied to dock here and rarely leaves port.

Police Still Seeking Cause Of Death

STURGEON FALLS (CP)—Police said today they are still trying to determine the reason for the death of Mrs. Ralph Kelso New Year's Eve.

Mrs. Kelso died at her home after she returned from a movie. An autopsy was performed and parts of the woman's body were sent to Toronto from this town 25 miles west of North Bay for examination.

Police said they are awaiting a report.

Army Psychiatrists

OSLO (CP)—Psychiatrists, with the rank of captain, will be permanently attached to each of the six district commands of the Norwegian army.

St. James' Church Report Shows Gain On All Fields

"Emphasis must be placed on the 'important things' in our lives," declared Rev. Lloyd Shorten when he spoke of the challenge before the church today. As chairman for the annual meeting of the St. James Congregation Monday night. Mr. Shorten expressed gratitude for the Christian fellowship and the fine spirit of cooperation he had found. Though only seven months with the congregation, the minister noted that there was a great opportunity for growth and a responsibiliy for all to enable the church to serve the community more effectively. The reports of every organization were encouraging.

Mr. Don Hess, general secretary issued committee reports.

Mr. Roy Heard, clerk of session, reported that during the year 43 members had been received on profession of faith and 54 by letter of transfer. Four members were removed by death and 15 by transfer. There were 51 baptisms, 13 marriages and 12 funerals during the year.

SUBSTANTIAL INCREASE

As reported by the treasurer, Mr. Gerald Cuff, a substantial increase was shown in the receipts both for current expenses and the Missionary and Maintenance Fund. The latter amount totalled $2,708, an increase of 20 per cent over the previous year. The trustee Board, as reported by Mr. J. Sanderson, secretary, had undertaken considerable work on the church property.

Mrs. H. Turner, president, reported a most successful year in the Women's Association. Receipts totalled $6,222. Highlights of the work done included the project of the dining tent during the week of the Peterborough Exhibition, and a Turkey Dinner in the fall. An oil furnace was installed in the parsonage and other needed work was completed.

The Woman's Missionary Society, Mrs. L. Birch, president, reached its allocation by raising $473. The Jean Wagar Evening Auxiliary, Miss G. Langton president, raised $141, and the Mission Circle, Miss Muriel Hall, president, raised $65. The Baby Band Mothers, under Mrs. R. Stewart's leadership, raised $287. The Mission Band, led by Mrs. E. Johnston, raised $41.

Ms. Wm. Prest reported that the allocation for the United Church Training School Building Fund had been exceeded. The ladies of the congregation had sent $572 for this work.

SUNDAY SCHOOL

All departments of the Sunday School, which has an enrolment of 450, beside the Nursery Roll, reported a successful year. The General Superintendent, Mr. Roy Heard, thanked all who had helped with the task of Christian Education. The Treasurer, Mr. Harold Fife, showed the finances to be in a healthy state, with substantial balance in the general and improvement funds. The school raised $286 for missions during the year. The program of improvement under Mr. Bob Pirie's direction, had made possible more effective work in the different departments.

Tribute was paid by Mr. Heard and Mr. Shorten, to the organized adult Bible classes and the men's Brotherhood, for their help in financing much of the Sunday School work. The fact that a large number of adults are active in the Sunday School had added to its influence and effectiveness. Each class reported successful year, with monthly meetings in addition to the regular Sunday session. The classes include: Excelsior, Mrs. Q. Dantzer, president; King's Own, Mrs. L. Gibson, president; Ever Awake, Mrs. H. Rolufs, president; and Cheerful Workers, Mrs. C. Olaveson, president. Mr. H. Naish is the president of the Brotherhood.

The mid-week program in St James' was one that showed activity in nearly every age group of boys, girls and young people. There is need for leaders and leadership training, particularly in the field of boys' work. The Explorer group for junior girls, under the leadership of Miss Betty Piercy, provided a program of study and varied activity related to the church's program. The CGIT group was reported by Mrs. W. Berland, superintendent. There are five leaders and 44 intermediate and senior girls enrolled.

JUNIOR BOYS

The past fall saw a new program for junior boys organized. The new Tyro program for this age group has 29 boys enrolled, under the leadership of Mr. Cecil Hunter and his assistants. In the intermediate age group, Mr. W. Piercy and Mr. Shorten are experimenting with the new program which has been developed by several of the Canadian churches. This program, known as Sigma-C, has 15 boys enrolled and provided the latest Christian program available for this age group.

The Young People's Union, reported by Mr. W. Cunningham, has a membership of 40, and last year raised $850. Of this amount $240 went to missions, and $240 to Camp Quin-Mo-Lac. The group has been active in drama and in the program of the presbytery and conference young people's work. With Mr. and Mrs. Walter Murphy as presidents, the Mr. and Mrs. Club had a profitable year. The 60 members raised $185 which was largely used in projects connected with the church. The senior choir, Mr. F. Huffman, president, was given a vote of thanks for their work and the contribution made to the services of worship. During the year the choir raised $412 and renovated the choir loft in the church.

Tribute was paid to Mrs. Charles Renaud, organist and choir leader, Mrs. E. Davis for her work with the junior congregation, Mrs. J. Dunkerley and Mrs. W. Miller and their helpers for work with the nursery, Mr. E. Lillico for his faithful work as caretaker, and Mrs. H. Doig for her work in connection with the vestry. Mr. Harry Orvis and Mr. Earl Wood expressed appreciation for the work of the minister and his wife.

The nominating committee, reported by Mr. W. Prest, brought in the names of the men to be appointed to the session, committe of stewards and as auditors. The following were elected or re-elected: Elders, A. E. Prest, E. Kitney, E. Wood, E. Hunter, R. Heard, L. Bird, W. Naish, J. Worrall, E. Sollitt. Stewards, R. Tully, W. Miller, G. Seabrooke, W. Roode, I. Larmer, S. White, K. Drain, W. Collison. Auditors, J. A. Fife, F. G. Parsons.

At the close of the meeting, Mr. Shorten showed colored slides of the church's work.

$25,000 Building Plan Campbellford Church

The congregation of the Glad Tidings Pentecostal church, Bridge St., Campbellford, plan to launch a $25,000 building program. The present basement church will be enlarged and a proposed structural top of oak bark brick and cinder block 43 ft. x 80 ft. Modern stone construction with glass block inset around the doors will comprise the front.

The new church will take on a square, modern design throughout, with a seating capacity of about three hundred and fifty, including the gallery. The pastor's office, water bapistry, sound-proof nursery and ladies' wash-rooms will be off the main auditorium. The basement will be finished with several bright, cheery Sunday school rooms, washrooms and a small auditorium to be used also as a prayer room. Oil heating will be used.

Archie Greenwood, Peterborough, contractor and builder, will provide the plans early in April at a proposed cost of about $25,000 without present donations, partially for labour and church furnishings which will include grand piano, pews, rugs, etc.

According to building schedule, the new church is expected to open Labour Day holiday, 1954.

The annual business meeting held January 8 showed an excellent increase in every department with an over all figure of $1,426 over 1953. The church and Sunday school show an attendance of over thirty new families under Rev. and Mrs. G. E. Leno's leadership. A lovely brick parsonage completely renovated and decorated has also been added to the church property.

Woodcocks Becoming Plentiful in U.S.

By KINGSLEY BROWN Jr.

HALIFAX (CP)—After two serious setbacks, woodcock again are becoming plentiful in Nova Scotia, a famous territory for the lively game birds.

They had been almost wiped out in 1938-39 because of bad weather on their winter grounds in the Louisiana swamps. In 1948, a week-long cold snap froze their nesting grounds in this province. In thousands of woodland coverts in mid-April then there were unhatched eggs. The birds starved to death because their three-inch bills could not penetrate the frozen soil for worms.

BIG EATERS

Ordinarily a woodcock eats daily more than its own weight, about six ounces. Wildlife biologists estimated that 40 per cent of the tiny birds died on their nesting grounds in 1948.

Only about a quarter of the normal migration reached Louisiana and other southern states that year, after being hunted heavily in the second-growth woodlands of Nova Scotia, the New England states and Pennsylvania.

They've been staging a comeback since then and, with the help of good hunting for a growing number of rapid-reflexed sportsmen. But it's a sport that can easily become discouraging, like hunting grouse in heavy cover.

Protective coloring makes them virtually invisible. Their natural habitat is birch or alder thicket, usually near swampy or moist ground.

SPORTING TARGET

Woodcock sit perfectly still until you're almost on top of them. Then they whirr in straight upward flight to the thicket tops, making a whistling sound with their wings as they zigzag away. They fly only short distances, even when fired at.

Most hunters use a cylinder bore or perhaps modified choke for a wider pattern. Shot shouldn't be larger than No. 8.

Aside from worms, their diet consists of beetles, seeds and [illegible]. They lay four eggs, usually a buff color with brown speckles.

Woodcock, whose broad, round wings seem small for their plump body, are sort of a cross-breed between the wading birds and the grouse, pheasants and quail. They are listed, however, under the family of snipe and sandpipers.

New York Only Real City Open 24 Hours—Capote

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—"A city to me," said Truman Capote, forking thoughtfully at a strawberry tart, "is a place where you can get up at 3 o'clock in the morning and buy a book or a shirt.

"In a real sense of being in a city, New York is the only city in the world. It is the only one open 24 hours a day."

Capote, recently returned from Rome, has somewhat outgrown his child - wonder-of-the-literary-world status of a few years ago. Critics then were divided over whether he was startlingly precocious or startlingly precious—whether he was pale young genius or merely pale.

"I'm 28 now," he remarked at luncheon in the 21 Club, "and I've written four books and a play. I just finished writing the dialogue for an Italian film. Now I'm working on my third novel and doing the lyrics for a musical play, based on Haiti, called 'House of Flowers.' It's light and strange."

THE EYES HAVE IT

Capote, who talks with the artistic assurance of an Oscar Wilde, is blond, blue-eyed and small enough to walk under the arms of a high school basketball centre. He looks less like a sophisticated fawn today and more like a retired choir boy—or a rising young literary critic.

"I don't think writing for the films has anything to do with writing," he observed. "In writing for the films, the only important thing is the visual sense—the eye is everything."

But he did enjoy doing the dialogue for "Indiscretions of an American Wife," produced in Rome for Columbia Pictures by Vittorio De Sica.

"In Italy they don't rely so much on a script," he said. "They like to make things up as they go along. The film was shot in the Rome railroad terminal, and whenever they needed dialogue for the next scene I would go into another room of the station and write it."

NEVER SAW TELEVISION

Capote has never seen a television program.

"Do you think I should take up looking at television?" he asked. "I have no opnions against it. I simply don't own a television set, and nobody I know ever looks at it.

"It sounds terribly exciting, but I dislike all ephemeral things."

This mellowing enfant terrible of literature—he earned his living tap dancing on a river boat, painting on glass, and fortune telling while learning the writer's trade—poked moodily in the ruins of the strawberry tart, then said:

"What would bother me about working in television is that you have only the bubble of a moment. To the creatve artist, his work has to be a solid thing—not an ephemeral thing, such as an actor's performance."

Art Dealer, 83 T. F. Ryan Wed In January

TORONTO (CP)—Thomas Francis Ryan, 83, popular Toronto art dealer, auctioneer, sportsman and "perennial bachelor," was married Jan. 11 to Ruth Robins, about 50, it was disclosed Monday.

President and general manager of Ryan's Art Galleries, he has been a judge in the annual Miss Toronto beauty contests since they were started 17 years ago.

Friends didn't learn of his marriage until he was on his honeymoon in Florida.

He originated five-pin bowling.

KNOWN FOR SURPRISES

Fun-loving Tommy Ryan has become legendary for the surprises he has pulled on his host of friends.

"He acted true to form," a lifelong friend said. "He invented the game of five-pins and he certainly bowled us over."

A Canadian authority on art and antiques; Mr. Ryan is also probably the best-known auctioneer in Canada.

15 Of North's Best Dog Team Compete In The Pas Derby

By AL VICKERY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WINNIPEG (CP) — Dog races aren't what they used to be, says veteran musher Earl Brydges.

The 200-mile race from The Pas to Flin Flon and return now is carried over four days and run in four laps, compared with the old non-stop affair in the days of such mushers as Emile St. Godard, Brydges, Shorty Russick, Sam Pranteau and Walter Goyne.

About 15 of the north's top dog drivers are expected to compete in today's 1954 Manitoba dog derby, run in conjunction with the northern Manitoba trappers' festival.

Brydges, who lives near The Pas and won the derby in 1931 and 1932, says there is little comparison between races today and those in the early days, which were "a test of endurance and speed."

DIFFERENT TYPE DOG

"Nowadays, they use a different type of dog, which is more suited for the traplines," he says. "In the old days we used to raise dozens of dogs in order to pick a team."

Mushers paid as high as $3,000 for a team of four or five huskies and $1,000 for a lead dog.

Steve Pranteau of Grand Rapids, Man., has won the event in the last two years and has entered again.

The winner will receive $1,000 and the Hudson's Bay Company trophy. Second prize is $700 and third, $400. Cash bonuses will be awarded all teams finishing within four hours of the winner.

St. Godard, who died in 1948, was probably the best known of all mushers. He captured the northern Manitoba competition every year from 1925 to 1930. He also captured championship races in Quebec, Ottawa and the United States.

Another musher of early dog derbies was Goyne, the Alaskan who came out of the hinterland in 1920 to capture the Manitoba classic, started in 1916.

When Coyne arrived in The Pas, he found other mushers were using an old-style toboggan for racing, and their dogs were hitched in tandem style. He brought with him an Alaskan sled and his dogs were hitched in the now-popular Alaskan hitch—two abreast, with the leader centring the team in front.

Today the Alaskan hitch and sled is being used by all top-ranking mushers in northern Manitoba, the east and in many parts of the U. S.

Goyne was drowned with his dogs in Moose lake in 1922.

CITY CARPETBALL

The schedule for the week of February 8 is: Legion No. 1 vs. Fire Hall No. 4, Legion No. 3 vs. Glens No. 6; Legion No. 5 vs. Lawn Boys No. 2; Legion No. 7 vs. Red Patch No. 13; Fire Hall No. 10 vs. Orphans No. 8; Legion No. 11 vs. Legion No. 9; LOL No. 12 vs. Post Office No. 14.

Results of last week's play: Post Office No. 14 by holding their opponents, Legion No. 1, to seven scattered singles won a 13-7 game. The second game was Legion No. 1 8-5 going into the 10th end but No. 14 captured the final three ends with nine points and the game 14-8.

Fire Hall No. 4 playing at the Legion against Lawn Boys No. 2, jumped into the lead in the first game and never reliquished it, going on to win a 14-6 game. The second was a battle all the way, first No. 2 was leading then the opponents. This game was tied four times; No. 4 were down one going into the final frame and then scored a two to win a very close 11-10 game.

AN EARLY LEAD

Red Patch No. 13 jumped into the lead and while Orphans No. 8 threatened, they failed to overcome the lead chalked up by their opponents. So No. 13 won 13-9. The second game saw No. 13 again jump into the lead with a big five and then a two in the first two frames — but here No. 8 overtook and passed them by scoring in the next five ends and at that point were leading 8-7. The Red Patches again took command by capturing the next three and also the final end meanwhile allowing No. 8 to add only a single in the 11th frame to their score. Thus the final totals were 14-9 in Red Patch's favor.

LOL No. 12 met the league leaders, Legion No. 9, at the Legion Hall. The first game went to the Orangemen 11-10. They were leading 11-3 with three ends to go. Then No. 9 started to fight back by winning every one of those final three ends but failed by one point to make it a tie. In the second game, No. 9 came from behind to tie the score at 5-all in the fourth frame; it was again deadlocked at 6-all in the 6th end and while No. 12 scored a single to take the lead in the following frame, that was the last time they had the lead as No. 9 captured the next two ends and salted the game away by winning the final two frames in a 14-9 game.

A HEFTY SCORE

Legion No. 11 walked away with the first game against Glens No. 6 by 20-2 score, No. 6 saving themselves from a skunk by scoring singles in the two final frames. The second game was shown by the total submitted as another game won by No 11. by a 9-8 score —but it seems to be incorrectly totalled if frame No. 7 is added to No 6's score. The score should read 9-9. There is an oddity in this score. Each team scored four singles, a two and one, three each in winning six frames each, although the game was never tied until the final end when No. 11 scored their deuce to make it 9-all. This card will be submitted to the rival skips for their verfication.

Two more defaulted games reported: Legion No. 7 to Legion No. 3, and Legion No. 5 to Fire Hall No. 10. Games not reported last week: Fire Hall No. 10 won both games from Legion No. 7 by scores of 13-9 and 18-12, with No. 10 coming from behind to win both games in the closing ends. Post Office No. 14 tied the first game 12-all against Lawn Boys No. 2 and then went on to take the second game 10-7.

STANDING AT END OF FIRST HALF

Car Hits Train, Driver Escapes

Although his vehicle sustained frontal damage of $350 when it struck a train Monday afternoon, Thomas Butcher, 45, 247 Wolsley St., escaped uninjured from the crash. The accident occurred on Aylmer St. one the CNR tracks near Dublin.

Butcher was driving south when he saw the train. He attempted to brake his car but it skidded on the snowy pavement, into the front of a CNR yard engine driven by Norman James, 263 Caddy St.

Time of the accident was about 2:30. PC William A. Scott investigated.

SOLINGER FARMED OUT

TORONTO (CP)—Bob Solinger left Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League Monday to rejoin their farm club, Pittsburgh Hornets, in the American League.

Solinger was sent to the Hornets because of the expected return of defenceman Fern Flaman and centre Tod Sloan. Both have been out of the Leaf line-up with injuries.

Flaman held a light workout alone Monday and will probably accompany the team to Montreal for Thursday's game against the Canadiens.

Sloan, out with a knee injury, will practise with the team today. If he isn't ready for the game against Montreal Leafs may bring up a forward from Toronto Marlboros of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series. Marlboros will be in Montreal for an interlocking game against Montreal Canadiens of the Quebec Junior Hockey League Wednesday.

WINS TWO PENNANTS

HAVANA (AP)—Bobby Bragan, who is going places as a baseball manager, has won his second pennant in six months.

His Almendares team swept through to the championship of the Cuban Winter League, just as his Hollywood, Calif., Stars took the pennant in the Pacific Coast League in 1953. Before that, Bragan won two Texas League championships at Fort Worth.

Almendares clinched the Cuban pennant Sunday night by beating Havana, giving them an 8½-game lead with only eight games to play and assured Bragan's team of a place in the Caribbean world series.

Braves Work Out Big Deal To Get Hold Of Bobby Thomson

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Milwaukee Braves sliced into the best pitching staff in the National League to secure the long-distance hitting of New York Giants' Bobby Thomson in the Braves' second big player trade of the winter, announced Monday.

To get Thomson, the brilliant, veteran outfielder, and second-string catcher Sam Calderone the Braves had to give up left-handed pitchers Johnny Antonelli and Don Liddle, utility catcher Ebba St. Clair and rookie Billy Klaus, plus an undisclosed amount of cash.

"Bobby Thomson definitely is my left-fielder," Braves manager Charlie Grimm said. He added that he plans to have Thomson bat in the clean-up spot.

"I want Bobby to hit behind (home run leader) Eddie Mathews," Grimm explained. "He's got a lot of speed and is a hard man to double. Believe me, that boy won't hit into many double plays. What's more, Thomson hits a long ball and can break up a game at any time with that blow over the fence."

KEPT BEST PITCHERS

The trade still leaves Grimm with his best pitcher, Warren Spahn, and Chet Nichols, Bobby Buhl, Lew Burdette, Joey Jay and Gene Conley. Veterans like Vern Bickford, Jim Wilson and Ernie Johnson are on hand, in addition to rookies Phil Paine and Ray Crone.

Giant manager Leo Durocher said "we certainly hated to part with Bobby Thomson." He added that his club made the trade because the Giants need pitchers.

In an earlier trade this winter, the Braves landed infielder Danny O'Connell from Pittsburgh for Sid Gordon and Max Surkont and four major-league players, and a sizeable chunk of cash.

Thomson's addition "definitely gives us a chance for the pennant" Grimm said.

Rumor Riders May Get Paul Cameron

OTTAWA (CP) — Reports were current in the capital Monday that Ottawa Rough Riders may obtain the services of all-American Paul Cameron, star halfback of the University of California at Los Angeles.

The reports said Cameron, described as the greatest left half in UCLA's football history, has been approached by Clem Crowe, Rider's coach.

J. P. McCaffrey, president of the Ottawa club, said he could not confirm the report.

INTERESTED IN ARGOS

In Toronto, it was reported Cameron is interested in lining up with Toronto Argos. Cameron was quoted as saying Donn Moomaw, former all-American linebacker with UCLA who played part of last season with Argos, "convinced me Toronto was a wonderful place to play football and I'd prefer to play in the big city. However, I haven't heard anything from the powers up there although I believe Donn wrote them last week."

Coach Frank Clair said no contract has yet been offered Cameron.

1953 Deer Hunt Improved Survey Reveals

Of the 2,860 deer hunters interviewed at road-checking stations in the Lindsay of Kawartha district in the fall of 1953 — the greatest number of any provincial district — 762 deer were examined and an estimated 27 per cent hunter success was established. These figures are from a current release of the Department of Lands and Forests, Queen's Park, included in an all-over provincial figure.

The second highest number of deer hunters questioned, 2,766, was in the Tweed forestry district; they had taken more deer—885—and had better hunting success—32 per cent. Parry Sound was the third highest group in hunter numbers but with more deer than either of the first two mentioned and great hunter success.

The Ontario hunt picture shows that there was slightly bett0er average of success than in 1952 and that in most areas the deer population. Figures compiled from those released by the many deer-checking stations are known to be on the low side because sportsmen who hunt close to their homes were not tallied.

WEATHER TOO MILD

It was admitted in the report that better hunting conditions would have prevailed generally had the weather not been so mild but that the dates presently established appear to be well suited to average conditions.

The lifting of the ban on exporting deer to the United States, imposed by the United States Government because of the outbreak of hoof and mouth disease in cattle, accounted for about ten per cent of the deer hunters in 1953. There were few complaints from the Americans about the increase of non-resident licenses from $25 to $36.

In summary, the deer hunting success in Ontario in 1953 was entirely satisfactory, the announcemnet said.

Chamber Appeals To City For More Financial Aid

The Chamber of Commerce Monday night renewed their appeal to city council for financial assistance.

Acting as spokesman for a delegation of Chamber of Commerce officials, Sam Whitehouse said they were not asking for a grant or subsidy but felt the city should reimburse the chamber for services rendered.

He said secretary - manager James Fraser had estimated that about 30 per cent of the chamber's time was spent doing work that otherwise the city would have to do. But it wasn't felt the city could operate those services as effectively as the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Whitehouse said the chamber was being run on the same financial basis as it had been 35 years ago, in spite of increased costs and improvement and extension of services.

JAYCEES BEHIND

The Junior Chamber of Commerce had gone behind about $800 last year in its operation of the tourist information booth. The senior chamber handled literally thousands of inquiries of people wanting to start businesses or industries here.

"You have to sell what you have," Mr. Whitehouse said. "I would like to feel that the Chamber of Commerce was the sales department of the city."

While chambers in larger cities were able to operate on the income from membership, a chamber of commerce in a city the size of Peterborough was not able to do so, he claimed. The Peterborough chamber had 400 members and was a live organization, active in all civic movements.

"It used to be that the incoming president of the chamber had to solicit contributions from industry," Mr. Whitehouse said. "But industry is now bearing a heavier load with its assessment increased and feels that it should not have to subsidize the chamber.

"It would be a shameful thing if this city didn't have a Chamber of Commerce," Mr. Whitehouse concluded.

GRAHAM PLEDGE

Mayor Norman Graham promised the delegation that council would take up the matter when the annual budget was being prepared.

The chamber made its original request for assistance to last year's council, when the matter was laid over for the 1954 council. A revised brief has been submitted with the request that the city place $6,395 in its 1954 budget to be paid to the Chamber of Commerce quarterly.

The $6,395 is broken down as follows:

City promotion: Cost to chamber, salary of one member of staff for year, $3,850; city's share, $1,925.

Area promotion: Cost to chamber, $3,700; to city, $3,700.

Better Business Bureau: Cost to chamber, part salary of two members of staff for one year, $770; to city, $770.

Ratepayers Oppose Grant, Action Withheld

Steam Roller Tactics Are Charged In Proposed Grant To Nursing Registry

City council Monday night decided to reconsider their decision, made in committee, to make a grant of $1,000 to the Peterborough Nursing Registry.

The move was prompted by a delegation from the South End Ratepayers' Association and charges by council's finance committee chairman, Ald. Pat Anglesey, that the decision had been "steamrollered through" on the basis of inaccurate information.

The ratepayers' delegation, composed of Harvey Sutton, chairman of association's assessment committee, and Edwin Curtin, a member of the same committee, asked council to consider refusing the grant. They contended the registry was a private business and, as such, not entitled to a grant from the city.

They suggested the registry should arrange to provide their services on a paying basis.

Ald. Gordon Farquharson seconded Ald. Anglesey's motion to strike out the recommendation from the committee report. If the motion had been passed unchanged, the grant would have been finally revoked.

But Ald. Bill Beggs added an amendment, seconded by Ald. Art Burrows, that the matter be given further consideration in committee of the whole council. This amendment carried.

In his bid to have the grant turned down, Ald. Anglesey said he felt the measure had been steam-rollered through committee by one of the council members, who had suggested that immediate action was necessary because the deadline for listings in the telephone directory was the day after the committee meeting.

Ald. Anglesey said he had a letter which indicated that the actual deadline for listings in the directory was March 8.

"We were also led to understand that other cities were acting like fairy godmothers in handing out grants to nursing registries," Ald. Anglesey added. "I have authentic information that, of eight cities, including Peterborough, five of them haven't made any such donations and the three others gave a total of $300."

The five cities listed by Ald. Anglesey which had not made grants to nursing registries were Oshawa, St. Catharines, Kitchener, Kingston and Peterborough. He said Port Arthur made a grant of $75, Brantford $100 and Fort William $125.

These cities were the ones usually classed with Peterborough, on the basis of population, by government authorities for purposes of comparison in municipal matters, he said.

Council decided to reconsider the matter next Monday night in committee of the whole.

Hamilton Tigers defeated Chatham Maroons 3-1 Monday night in an Ontario Hockey Association Senior A game in Hamilton. The victory put Hamilton in third place.

A regular OHA Junior A game between Hamilton Cubs and Toronto St. Michael's College preceded the Senior contest. The Cubs lost 3-1.

In the Northern Ontario Hockey Association the second place Sudbury Wolves defeated North Bay Trappers 4-2 in Sudbury.

TAKE EARLY LEAD

At Hamilton the Tigers took an early 1-0 lead in the first period, relinquished it when Chatham scored before the period ended, and then popped in two goals in the third stanza for the victory.

Jack Taylor fired two goals for the winners, the second coming 49 seconds before the end of the game. George McLagan notched the other one for the Tigers. Jim Campbell scored for Chatham.

In Sudbury the Wolves won the game in the first period with three goals. Trappers got back two in succession but Nick Tomiuk scored in the third, his second goal of the night, to salt it away. Tatter McLellan and Andy Milne were the other Sudbury snipers. Stan Maxwell and Ches Koneczny tallied for North Bay.

Windsor is at Niagara Falls and Hamilton at Owen Sound tonight.

Pembroke Lumber Kings are at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., in the NOHA.

Dying Italian Alberto Braglia Forgotten Hero

MODENA, Italy (AP) — Alberto Braglia, who fell from Olympic fame to dismal poverty, was taken to a hospital today—a dying man and forgotten hero.

An ambulance wheeled him silently through the streets of a city which a half a century ago echoed his name.

The cheers had come after he won a golden cigarette holder from Queen Victoria and prizes from King Christian of Denmark and the last czar of Russia.

Alberto won one of the first prizes to be awarded in gymnastics at the first modern Olympic Games at Athens in 1904. He repeated his victories in 1908 and came home heralded as a hero. For a time he made good money. Then bad investments wiped away his fortune and he was forced to take a job as messenger boy in the very gym which was named after him. Eventually he was demoted and worked nights after the young athletes had gone home, sweeping out the building.

Italy finally gave him a pension amounting to about $35 a month. He had no other income.

Never Saw Ball Game Marilyn Says

TOKYO (AP)—Actress Marilyn Monroe, bride of baseball's great Joe DiMaggio, has never seen a ball game.

"I met my husband after he had retired from active baseball," the pin-up star told a Japanese-American press conference today.

With occasional help from Lefty O'Doul, San Diego Pacific Coast League manager, Miss Monroe parried questions ranging from the risque to the ridiculous.

MARILYN PARRIES EXPERTLY

"We are told you do not wear anything under your dress. Is that true?" a Japanese reporter asked as he eyed the fringe of lace peeking from beneath a form-tight red wool dress.

"I'm planning to buy a kimono tomorrow," Miss Monroe evaded with a grin.

While Miss Monroe talked to approximately 75 reporters, DiMaggio was almost unnoticed in a corner of the room. Only a handful of resolute baseball writers chose him to Marilyn.

DiMaggio and O'Doul will help coach Japanese professional baseball teams in spring training.

Thatcher Asks Why Gov't Sells Watches

OTTAWA (CP)—Ross Thatcher (CCF—Moose Jaw-Lake Centre) Monday asked the government how and why it sold 90-cent watches, 75-cent jackets and other surplus goods.

Six questions dealing with the report of Crown Assets Disposal Corporation for the 1952-53 fiscal year appeared on the Commons order paper.

Mr. Thatcher, a hardware merchant, noted the crown company sold two trucks for $2,625; 3,439 .22-calibre rifles for $1.75 each; 7,460 watches for 90 cents each, and 150,012 jackets for 75 cents each.

He asked whether the goods were new or used, how much the government paid originally, why they were declared surplus and how many companies were invited to submit purchase bids.

He also asked the number of boots, shoes and blankets sold by the corporation in the year, their original price and the reason they were declared surplus.

USES SPIKE FOR RAZOR—Al Skiffington, Newfoundland barber, uses a spike-razor given to him by a blacksmith in Labrador. The blacksmith took a spike, hammered part of the sides flat, hollow ground it on one side and tempered it. Skiffington liked it and traded the blacksmith a regular razor for the spike. Big Purge Seen Hungary's Top Communists

By LAJOS LEDERER

(OFNS) LONDON—A far-reaching reorganisation of the Hungarian Communist Party is indicated by the latest official announcements from Budapest. These appear to forecast a relaxation of the Party's grip, and a purge of officials who oppose implementation of the liberalisation policy launched last summer.

By a decision of the Central Executive of the Communist Party, elections for new leaders in all Party organisations and delegates to the Third Party Congress will begin on February 1. The primary task of the Congress, which will take place in April, is to approve concessions already granted and to decide on new ones.

DEMOCRACY

The current mood in Hungary is illustrated by the official Party organ, Szabad Nep, which writes of "the need for strict democracy within the Party." It condemns the present "hide-bound leadership," accuses the present leadership of the various party organisations of being "undemocratic," and emphasises that next month Party members will have their first opportunity "since thhe liberation" to choose their leaders by secret ballot.

It is clear that the new Hungarian Government, which came to office last summer, faced strong resistance in both Party and managerial groups when it began to implement its programme of liberalisation. Party officials saw in the new policy a direct threat to their own interests.

There is now evidence that large numbers of high Party officials had to be sacrificed. Szabad Nep confirmed this last week in saying: "The last basic organisational leaders were elected in 1951. Since then a number of these leaders have been replaced. In several basic organisations not a single member of the leadership in 1951 can be found in his original post."

But to show that the impending purge will not be too severe, Szabad Nep says: "It is a mistake to believe that the new election of Party leaders means the replacement of the entire original leadership. Some have committed mistakes or have had their heads turned by success. But all those comrades who have lately carried out their duties in the spirit of the June and October (liberalising) resolutions may naturally be re-elected to the Party leadership."

Hopeful Unnamed Vaccine Will Curb Poliomyelitis

OTTAWA (CP)—Hope is rising in Canada that poliomyelitis may be beaten by an unnamed vaccine now undergoing tests in the United States. But it may be a year or more before scientists have absolute proof of its power.

Meanwhile, Toronto's Connaught Laboratories have been instructed to increase production of gamma globulin to be fed into areas hit by the crippling and killing disease.

Dr. G. D. W. Cameron, deputy health minister, said in an interview that the Toronto laboratories last year produced about 26,000 doses of gamma globulin. Production this year might total as much as 150,000 doses. Distribution would be made on the basis of greatest need.

Dr. Cameron touched on the polio problem as he discussed a reference to the disease in the health department's 140-page annual report for 1952-53, tabled Monday in the Commons.

VACCINE REAL HOPE

The report said that while gamma globulin offers polio immunity, humanity's greatest hope is through active immunization by vaccine.

Gamma globulin wasn't the answer to the problem of polio prevention in large populations because of the "difficulty of producing a sufficient volume" and the "comparatively short duration of the immunity conferred—five weeks."

But the vaccine, now under test in the U.S., held promise. Dr. Cameron said he does not want to raise the hopes of Canadians too high, lest some unforeseen flaw makes the vaccine a disappointment. Reports so far were "encouraging," but the degree of permanency was unknown.

The report agreed, but said because of the need of "rigorous tests" before each batch of vaccine can be safely used, "it will be some time before these vaccines are available in any quantity."

But Canada is on the ground floor in the vaccine's production. The culture's first stages are produced at Connaught, where Canada has one of the top men in the field, Dr. Andrew Rhodes.

TB RATE DOWN

The health report touched on other health matters.

The death rate from tuberculosis, once man's greatest killer, fell in 1952 to a new low of 18 for every 100,000 persons. But cancer has made new inroads on the human body. In 20 years the death rate had increased to 123.6 for every 100,000 persons in 1951 from 92.4 in 1931.

The fact that cancer campaigns have not reduced the death rate is "indeed a sobering thought," the report said. Support must be given to critical evaluation of large and increasing expenditures on cancer control programs.

On the brighter side was the reduction in maternal and infant death rates. The maternal rate was reduced in 1951 to 1.1 for every 1,000 live births. The infant rate was 38 for every 1,000 live births. This still was high, but the decline was in keeping with changes in other countries with comparable medical care.

Man's life span has increased. The average life expectancy in Canada in the 19th century was 40 years. In 1947 it had increased to 65 years for men and 70 years for women. But longer life brought new medical problems. Trend in life expectancy, said the report, "calls for a new emphasis in our health program."

Says MPs Rights Challenged By Film Board Decision

OTTAWA (CP) — Opposition Leader Drew said Monday the rights of members of Parliament have been challenged by the government's decision to build the new headquarters of the National Film Board at Montreal.

He made his protest after Citizenship minister Harris, who reports to Parliament for the board, told the Commons the government has decided to award the contract for construction of the headquarters to the Hardy Construction Company of Toronto. The company submitted the lowest tender of $5,230,000.

Mr. Drew quoted Prime Minister St. Laurent as saying no decision would be made on the location of the film board until the government was prepared to come before Parliament with a definite recommendation. Mr. St. Laurent had said that until that time arrived there was always the possibility of a change in the decision to move the film board's headquarters to Montreal from Ottawa.

Mr. Harris said the government has spent $256,000 on purchase of the Ville St. Laurent property in Montreal. About $25,000 to $30,000 would complete the transaction.

He said it will cost "perhaps $500,000" to transfer personnel and equipment to Montreal and purchase furniture now being used by the film board.

Approve New Court

TORONTO (CP) — Mayor Allan Lamport Monday announced that Attorney-General Porter has approved the idea of establishing a special court here to deal with persons charged with drunkenness. He said the court will be set up almost immediately. The mayor said the court will relieve congestion in courtrooms and cells at city hall. An average of 62 drunk cases is handled daily.

Oliver Wants Expenditures To Be Itemized

TORONTO (CP)— Farquhar Oliver, liberal house leader in the Ontario legislature, said Monday night irregularities in the Fort William branch of the highways department could have been avoided if "members of the legislature had had, down through the years, a full opportunity to analyze and discuss" highway expenditures.

"This is a reform long overdue," he said in an address prepared for delivery over a provincial CBC network.

Under the present system in the legislature, Mr. Oliver said, the highways minister can spend all the money allocated for highways in the province of Ontario," he said. "There was no breakdown of these figures, no indication of where the money would be spent."

WANTS IT ITEMIZED

He called for itemized estimates by the highways department which spends "more of our taxes. . . than any other agency of the provincial government." Other departments gave itemized estimates.

"The public works department itemizes in the estimates the various works to be done and the estimated cost of each item and the minister of public works asks the house to appropriate a definite sum for a particular project to be undertaken," he said. Members knew what was to be done with the money, where the projects were and the nature and extent of the undertaking.

Communists Lose Ground Among World's Students

By FRED JARVIS

LONDON (OFNS)—The success of the recent Fourth International Student Conference in Istanbul (Turkey)—it was attended by representatives of more than 40 national unions of students—constituted a setback to the efforts of the Communist-controlled International Union of Students to regain support from student unions outside the Soviet orbit.

For some years the international student movement has been sharply divided. In the years immediately after the war, students of East and West joined to form the I.U.S., and for a time it looked as if the organization might bridge the divisions which separated nations at adult level. But the Communists gained control of the organization, and its blatant adherence to the Cominform caused all but a handful of non-Communist national unions to sever relations with it. For the past year the I.U.S. leadership has been making strenuous efforts to retrieve the situation, but with little success.

Since 1950 the national unions which were dissatisfied with the I.U.S. have come together annually at the International Student Conference to prepare a program of cooperation based on practical projects. In 1952 a Coordinating Secretariat was established at Leiden, Holland, to help implement the practical program; and this is now the focal point for the cooperative work. Examples of projects agreed to at the latest conference are the preparation of an international student identity card by Norway, a survey of student hostels by Germany, a report on student living conditions by Uruguay, a questionnaire on international student statistics by Finland and the organization of an international student press conference by Holland.

Specific recommendations were made for the provision of information, publications, text-books, and travel facilites for students in Uganda, the Gold Coast, Malaya and India.

The conference unanimously condemned the proposal of the Government of Dr. Daniel F. Malan to introduce "apartheid" (segregation) into all South African universities; it also protested against Government interference in universities in certain Latin American countries.

After calling on students and professors to defend the autonomy of universities and freedom of research, the conference decided to set up a permanent investigation commission to examine cases where these principles were infringed. It also recommended special measures, including an international scholarship fund, to assist exiled students.

The conference was in sharp contrast to the congress in Warsaw last year of the International Union of Students. Warsaw was a dull, monotonous affair, completely lacking in real debate. Istanbul, where there was no Party line to follow, no disciplining of delegates, almost suffered from a surfeit of free discussion and minor incidents.

The Argentine and Uruguyan delegations left when the Mayor of Istanbul addresed the conference, explaining later that this was a demonstration of their belief that student activities should be free of interference from civic authorities. Another incident arose when the Lebanese delegation withdrew from the steering committee because Israel was also a member.

The very democracy of its proceedings and the variety of the organizations it embraces constitute both the weakness and the strength of the International Student Conference. Weakness, because it inevitably lacks the cohesion (as well as the resources) of the I.U.S.; strength, because, as Istanbul showed, it has been able, by thorough debate, to reach agreement on basic principles and a practical program which correspond to the aspirations of most students in those parts of the world where freedom of thought still exists.

Pleads Guilty To Assault

WOODSTOCK (CP) — Henry Elliott of Lucknow, Monday pleaded guilty to a charge of assault with intent to rob—the last of 19 charges laid against him after a wild breaking and entering and shooting spree last fall.

Harry Birtch, 68, of Embro, said Elliott forced his way into his farm home, pointed a sten gun at him and demanded an auto. Mr. Birtch said he had no car.

Elliott then left and shot up the neighboring home of George McBurney with the sten gun. He was previously sentenced for this offence to six years in penitentiary.

On 17 charges of breaking and entering he was sentenced to three years.

On the charge heard Monday, Elliott was remanded to Friday for sentence.

Six-Inch Spike Provides Deluxe Razor

By STEWART MacLEOD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Al the barber can give you a better shave here with a six-inch spike than most barbers would with a new, super-deluxe razor.

In his Gower street barber shop, Al Skiffington still shaves the occasional customer with the improvized razor, now in use for 16 years and still providing a smooth shave for the toughest beards.

Al was barbering in Bishop's Falls when he obtained the unique razor. The late Garrett Kelly of Gambo, near Gander, then a worker in Labrador, walked into Al's shop one day to get his razor honed.

BACKSMITH'S CREATION

"Well," Al explains, "I didn't know what to say when he hauled out this spike, but I told him I would do what I could with it.

"Kelly then told me the history of the razor. He was working in the Labrador and had no razor, so being a blacksmith by trade he decided to make one. He got a spike, hammered part of the sides flat, hollow-ground it on one side and tempered it with pickle brine."

Kelly then shaved himself before skeptical onlookers.

"When I saw the razor," continued Al, "I was kind of fascinated by it, and since I was going to the United States the next year, I thought I would like to have it as a souvenir. So I made a trade with him, giving him a new razor."

After 16 years of practice Al knows how to use the implement and he has no trouble whisking off the whiskers. But give it to another barber and anything could happen.

The spike loses its edge faster than a factory razor and if Al doesn't strop it after every two or three strokes, the customers get that dental chair expression.

"That's its biggest fault," he says, "but if I put a handle on it, covering the rest of the spike, it would lose its value."

"This way, it shows what a Newfoundlander can do when he's stuck."

Movie Fans Mob Marilyn

TOKYO (Reuters) — Japanese movie fans mobbed Marilyn Monroe and baseball-happy youngsters swarmed around Joe DiMaggio as the newlyweds arrived here by air tonight.

The blonde movie star is in Tokyo to continue her interrupted honeymoon with the former New York Yankees outfielder. She walked off the Twentieth Century-Fox production of "Pink Tights" for her wedding with DiMaggio on Jan. 14.

Her husband is here to coach Japanese professional baseball players in partnership with Frank (Lefty) O'Doul, long an idol of Japanese diamond fans.

Has Stomach Ache Ate 28 Knives

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — Felice Scandina, 21-year-old Sicilian, entered hospital Monday complaining of a stomach ache.

Doctors operated and removed from his stomach 28 penknives, eight metal keys, three silver spoons, half-a-dozen metal coins, and bits of glass.

He said he had been "training" for a bet that he could eat an automobile—windshield, tires and all.

Warn Motorists About Strangers

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto police warned motorists today to be wary about picking up strangers after a professional football player and a piano tuner were robbed in the city by hitch-hikers.

Keith Carpenter of Pickering, former centre for San Francisco 49'ers and Winnipeg Blue Bombers was forced from his car by an armed man and robbed of $18. The car was found later, abandoned.

James Lowrey, Leaside, a piano tuner and organ builder, was beaten severely and robbed of $70 in cash and several cheques by a man, accompanied by two women.

Later police arrested James McMahon, 30; Rita Kennedy, 25, and Eleanor McCoy, 29, on charges of robbery with violence. Police said the trio had stopped Mr. Lowrey at a traffic light and asked for a lift home.

Calls Burwash 'Nursing Home'

TORONTO (CP) — Burwash Industrial Farm was described Monday as "the habitual criminals' nursing home," by Gordon Fee, counsellor at Burwash for four years.

"Actually that's what it amounts to," he replied to the suggestion of chairman W. J. Stewart of the Ontario legislature's reform institutions committee that prisoners just come there to be "reconditioned."

Mr. Fee, a former army counsellor, calculated that 80 per cent of the prisoners there are incorrigible criminals and unreformable and have no fear of Burwash.

Like alcoholics who must at periods go to a rest home, he said the habitual criminal goes to Burwash where he has the best medical treatment and food and where even teeth, eyeglasses and other things are free. Then he goes out to "pull another job."

Tractor Driver Charged

STRATFORD (CP) — Edgar A. Stoll of Clinton, driver of a tractor which police say injured a woman and killed her son in Mitchell Sunday, appeared in court Monday on a charge of dangerous driving. He was remanded until Feb. 8. Michael O'Donnell, 4, was killed. His mother, Mrs. Bruce O'Donnell, is in hospital here with severe injuries including six fractures of the pelvis. Her condition was reported slightly improved.

TV Unions Propose Major Changes

OTTAWA (CP)—Unions of television performers Monday proposed "major changes" in an agreement negotiated with the CBC last fall but never signed, the publicly-owned corporation said in a statement.

The CBC said it has taken under study proposals on pay rates and working conditions made by the Canadian Council of Authors and Artists. The council includes the Association of Canadian Radio and Television Artists and the Union des Artistes Lyriques et Dramatique.

After eight months of negotiations last year, the CBC and the Canadian Television Committee, which then included the CCAA's members, "arrived at what the CBC understood was a mutually-satisfactory agreement and which the CBC and CTC agreed to sign," the statement said.

NOT SIGNED

Last October, CTC negotiators said they would seek approval by their members of the proposed agreement, understood to include most television dramatic artists, singers and some announcers. The agreement was never signed, but its pay rates were put into effect Aug. 15 and its working conditions Oct. 1.

"The CBC now has received a document from two of the three groups represented by the CTC during negotiations last year, and preliminary study indicates major changes have been made in the negotiated agreement under which CBC television has been operating since last October.

"These changes have been made by the CCAA and not by the CBC. Consequently, the corporation must study the new document as well as the change in the group with which the CBC carried out the original negotiations."

Seaway Gets First Test In Congress

Committee Passes Senate Bill Authorizing Project

WASHINGTON (AP)— The House of Representatives public works committee today approved a Senate-passed bill authorizing the United States to join with Canada in building the St. Lawrence seaway.

The measure, slightly amended from the form in which it passed the Senate on Jan. 20, now goes to the House rules committee. The latter group will decide if and when the bill is to be sent to the House for debate.

Approval by the 29-member public works committee was by a 23-to-6 vote.

The bill, as passed by the Senate, would authorize a St. Lawrence Development Corp. to issue $105,000,000 in bonds to the U.S. treasury to finance the U. S. share of the construction.

CHANGE FINANCING

The House committee amended the financing provision by providing that the corporation issue revenue bonds in the same amount to the treasury. They would be amortized by imposition of tolls on ships using the 27-foot-deep waterway.

Several members of the rules committee have, in the past, been opposed to the seaway proposal.

But in view of President Eisenhower's strong advocacy of the seaway and the action of the several former anti-seaway senators in switching their position, the bill may find easier going before the House rules group.

LABOR GROUP OPPOSED

Traditional opponents of the seaway, meantime, continued to fire away at the project. Thomas Kennedy, vice-president of the United Mine Workers Union, said the pro-seaway forces are "using the old shell game" in an effort "to pawn off their boondoggle on the American taxpayer."

Kennedy, in a letter to all members of the House, declared:

"Despite all the alleged benefits the boondogglers are claiming for the seaway we know it will greatly damage the coal industry of the United States, hurt the railroad industry, (and) give marked advantages to foreign shipping.

"The seaway will seriously and adversely affect many communities, add to growing unemployment and open the flood gates to a vast volume of cheaply manufactured goods from Europe, produced by a labor market whose wages cannot begin to compare with ours."

The seaway bill sailed through the Senate Jan. 20 by a vote of 51 to 33 after six days of debate.

Defends Increases

OTTAWA —(CP)— Prime Minister St. Laurent, in a speech preceding his Thursday departure on a world tour, Tuesday night defended the government's proposal to increase the pay of members of Parliament. Many members now have to go into debt despite reducing their living standards substantially, Mr. St. Laurent said in an address prepared for delivery over the CBC's political free time series.

Toronto Plans Temporary Rent Control

TORONTO (CP) — A temporary form of city rent control will be carried on after provincial controls end on March 2, board of control decided Tuesday.

The board began working out a formula for the controls with the Ontario rentals administration. Another conference was called for Friday. Agreement was reached on only one aspect—that the period of so-called decontrol will be temporary.

The meeting was one of several that Ontario municipalities have called recently on rent controls. Suburban York township held a stormy meeting on the subject Monday night and a spectator at Tuesday's city council meeting was township reeve Fred Hall. He said later he will recommend a similar adoption of rent control in the suburb.

The subject also bobbed up at Sarnia, Brantford, Paris and Napanee.

SPECIAL FORMS

At Sarnia, city council decided that controls will be dropped after March 2 but special forms will be provided for tenants who feel their landlords are taking unfair advantage of the situation. Alderman Jack Church said the city has power to increase property assessments of landlords who charged exorbitant rents.

Brantford and Paris decided to continue rent controls under municipal jurisdiction. A by-law is being prepared to decide which portions of control will be continued in the city. The major action will be the appointment of an appeal board to hear complaints. The board would sit once a month.

Napanee town council decided to seek information from its solicitor before taking any action on continuing controls. Reeve Alvin Wartman said he believed that when the government quit rental control it was time for everyone to quit.

At Guelph, Jock Smith, president of the Guelph District Labor Council, is hearing a movement to have all unions in that area protest individually to the city council over its decision not to take over rent controls. He said that if the city council does not change its attitude "serious complications" will probably develop.

315 Pilgrims Killed In Stampede

1,000 Others Hurt In Pilgrimage At Ganges River

NEW DELHI (CP)—Authorities said 315 Hindu pilgrims were killed and about 1,000 injured early today at Allahabad, India, when a crowd of 3,000,000 stampeded into the holy waters where the Ganges and Jumna rivers join.

An official statement added that the death toll is likely to go higher because many of the victims' bodies were swept away in the current of the river and have not yet been recovered.

Most of the victims were women and children, many of whom were crushed beyond recognition by the panic-stricken crowds.

IGNORE WARNINGS

Authorities broadcast urgent appeals to the pilgrims not to go to the river to bathe in its sacred waters, but the rush of bathers continued without break at the scene of the tragedy.

Eyewitness accounts said 200 square yards along the sandy banks of the Ganges were strewn with bodies after the police cleared away the panic-stricken throngs of bathers at the Kumbh Mela festival.

NEHRU PLANNED VISIT

Prime Minister Nehru intended to visit the Kumbh Mela today and President Rajendra Prasad also had been scheduled to join the bathers. But there were no indications where Nehru and Prasad were when the stampede occurred.

The vast horde of pilgrims had gathered at the rivers' confluence in eastern India in observance of the orthodox Hindu belief that bathing there during the Kumbh Mela spares them the pangs of rebirth into a new incarnation.

The festival, from Jan. 14 to March 4, is held only every 12 years. It commemorates a battle on the site in Hindu mythology in which the gods defeated a horde of demons.

The pilgrims had waited all night on the river banks amid cold rains. They hoped to bathe during the first three hours after the daylight eclipsed the new moon, considered by the Hindus the most auspicious time for the ceremony.

In the early dawn they watched a procession of 20,000 sadhus—holy men—astride elephants going down to the water to bathe first.

Fully-Loaded Gun Discharged In Class, Pair Fall To Floor

TORONTO (CP)—Two pupils in a Central Technical School grade 10 class were wounded Tuesday when a fully-loaded .22 revolver was discharged in the classroom, police said today. Most seriously hurt was Norman Britton, 15, in hospital where an emergency operation was performed to remove bone fragments from his left hand. Zollie Gyorffy, 16, needed treatment for a shoulder flesh wound. Police said the bullet passed through Britton's hand and then embedded itself in the other youth's shoulder.

The other 20 pupils panicked briefly as both youths fell moaning to the floor.

BRITTON LOVED GUNS

James Gillespie, principal of the school, said the class was doing a work assignment under a replacement teacher when the shooting occurred. Both wounded students were first cared for by the school nurse, Miss E. M. de St. Remy before being taken to hospital.

Principal Gillespie said Britton was "fascinated by guns."

Lewis Gyorffy, father of the other wounded youth, said: "Only because my son was bent over his desk, drawing, is he alive today. Had he been seated upright he would have been killed or crippled."

Police said Britton told them he had gotten the gun from an uncle, Thomas Hazlett. The boy said he did not know it was loaded, although the cartridge, police said, was clearly visible in the open-end chamber.

Guatemala Gov't Expels Two Reporters

GUATEMALA (AP) — Guatemala's leftist government Tuesday expelled New York Times correspondent Sydney Gruson and the National Broadcasting Company's reporter Marshall F. Bannell.

Gruson, who began his newspaper career in Toronto with The Canadian Press, was charged with "defaming" the Guatemalan government and ousted as an "undesirable." Bannell said he was unable to find out the reason for his expulsion.

The Guatemalan foreign office said Gruson "has systematically defamed and injured this republic and its government through the press, being one of the most active agents of a campaign to bring them into disrepute."

SAYS NATION HASTY

The New York Times says in an editorial today that the Guatemalan government "has been hasty and ill-advised" in expelling Gruson and Bannell, "and it is to be hoped that the foreign ministry will reconsider what it has done."

The two "are responsible newspaper men who could not have done Guatemala any harm and might have done the government good."

The editorial, "Censors in Guatemala," continues:

"If the ... government honestly believes it has a persuasive case for its activities there would be no better way to present it to the American public than to allow a reputable correspondent like Sydney Gruson to write, as he would, without fear or favor.

"It has always been a baffling problem with those who have the interests of Guatemala, and of Latin America generally, at heart to create an honest understanding between the present government and those who feel deeply that it is being misled and misguided by the Communists."

Flyer Hits U.K. Train; None Killed

WATFORD JUNCTION, Eng. (CP)—The Royal Scot, Britain's speedy passenger train, collided with a London-to-Wolverhampton local at 5 p. m. GMT (noon EST) today.

No one was killed, a Watford Junction official said.

"There are quite a few casualties, mostly suffering from shock who have been taken to Watford memorial hospital.

DAMAGE HEAVY

"The trains have suffered fairly heavy damage and are off the track."

Two coaches of the Royal Scot were derailed. The crash hurled a truck from a coach of one of the trains across the station platform blocking another line.

Jewelry Store Robbed Third Time In Year

TORONTO (CP) — Three unarmed men today robbed a Dundas street jewelry store of $4,000 in watches and rings and left the 75-year-old proprietor, Mayan Melina, bound and gagged.

Mr. Melina said it was the third time in the last year that his store has been robbed.

6,000 People Marooned On Ice-Bound Islands Off Germany, Dutch Coasts

LONDON (AP)—More than 6,000 people were marooned today on ice-bound islands off the German and Dutch coasts as the worst winter in seven years spread death and misery through Europe. An estimated 300 people already have died in 10 days of the bitter cold wave sweeping from Norway to North Africa and from Portugal to Siberia. Weather forecasters said the great freeze-up may hang on until the weekend. Economic losses from stalled transport and absenteeism are counted in millions.

HAVE DROPPED FOOD

Airlifts have dropped food, medicine and other vital supplies needed to keep alive the 6,000 residents of the East Frisian isles off the German North sea coast. All but two of the islands are completely cut off from the mainland by ice.

Islands off the southwest Netherlands coast, ravaged by the killing North sea floods of a year ago, again are isolated, this time by thick ice. Helicopters are flying in relief supplies.

Germany's mighty Rhine river is frozen for many miles, and upper stretches of the Thames in England are ice-blocked.

Thirteen policeman battled through icy winds and chest-high snow drifts for hours Tuesday night and early today to reach an old peoples' home at Otterden in southeast England, snowbound from the outside world since last Saturday.

10-Foot Gash In CNR Liner

VANCOUVER (CP)—SS. Prince George, 5,800-ton coastal luxury liner, docked here Tuesday night with a 10-foot gash at the waterline—memento of an early-morning collision in tide-tricky Seymour narrows 150 miles to the north.

Capt. W. E. Eccles, who had been on the bridge for 26 hours, said the Canadian National Steamships vessel will go into drydock after unloading cargo today.

Seymour narrows, a winding channel between Vancouver island and Quadra island, has been the scene of many marine tragedies.

"Full emergency measures were taken," Capt. Eccles said. He said passengers were ordered into life jackets and told to stand by the boats while the first officer and chief engineer inspected the damage which was confined to the forepeak ahead of a watertight bulkhead in the collision chamber.

There was no panic, the captain said.

$200 Deposit For Election

TORONTO (CP)—As a deterrent to "nuisance candidates," the Ontario legislature's select committee on election law today recommended that each candidate in a provincial election should make a $200 deposit before his nomination becomes official. If he fails to poll a total vote equal to half the number polled by the winning candidate, he would lose the deposit.

At present there is no deposit requirement for provincial candidates, although federal candidates must deposit $200.

At the same time the committee recommended that candidates be required to have their nomination papers signed by only 10 qualified electors, instead of the present 100. Most members felt the larger number was no deterrent to nuisance candidates.

Recommendations of the committee will be presented to the legislative session that starts next week.

Second Starling Shoot Reported Successful

HAMILTON (CP)—Hamilton had its second starling shoot Tuesday night. Officials said it was as successful as the one a week ago in which several thousand of the birds were killed.

Again men with shotguns waited until the birds went to roost in downtown Gore Park, then blasted them out of the trees.

Controller Sam Baggs, chairman of the city's starling committee, said the men did an excellent job.

"We intend to keep after the starlings until we have eliminated the pests," he said. "More shoots will be held in the future. We may hold them twice a week, depending on the weather."

Robber Uses Ax On Couple

SIMCOE (CP)—Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Beatty, a 65-year-old couple, were in critical condition in hospital today from injuries suffered Tuesday night when they were attacked by an ax-wielding robber.

The attacker robbed their service station at Renton, four miles east of here.

The couple was discovered by Ray Chambers, a Simcoe district truck-driver who stopped at the service station this morning and found Mr. Beatty lying in a downstairs room in a pool of blood and Mrs. Beatty upstairs on the floor. A blood-stained ax was on a nearby couch.

Police believe the attack occurred some time before the station's normal closing time at 10:30 p. m.

There was no estimate of the amount of money taken.

Molotov Suggests General Plebiscite For All Germans On Alliance With West, Immediate Peace Treaty

BERLIN (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov proposed today that 68,000,000 Germans choose in a general plebiscite between alliance with Western Europe and an immediate peace treaty.

The Russian is engaged in a running battle to prevent Western attempts to set up a united Germany tied to the West.

Molotov led off the ninth day's session of the Big Four foreign ministers conference with a sharp attack on the proposed European Defence Community and then unloaded his plebiscite plan.

French Foreign Minister Bidault, presiding, voiced an immediate objection to the referendum plan, contending that free German elections as proposed by the West would take care of all that.

BALLOTING ON ONE ISSUE

What Molotov demanded was national balloting on one issue only: To choose between the Bonn and Paris treaties for European defence and a peace treaty. It was a powerful appeal to Germans weary of foreigners on their soil, however friendly they may be.

State Secretary Dulles fired back at Molotov that the Russian's attitude against free elections as a first step toward unifying Germany is perpetuating a dangerous situation. He said the time has come to realize that the continued division of Germany means "very great peril to all of us."

The American statesman made a fervent appeal to Molotov to rid himself of suspicions of Western motives. He said the West is trying to get at the hub of the problem in such a way that it will benefit both East and West.

Molotov, opening today's session, declared Britain and the United States are "the midwives of the European army."

State Secretary Dulles, Foreign Secretary Eden and Foreign Minister Bidault discussed the crisis at Eden's headquarters and also pieced together their strategy for the afternoon session of the Big Four in the Russian embassy.

Ahead of them lay the certainty that Foreign Minister Molotov would drop in one more unacceptable thesis on German unification. Molotov promised he would have a detailed plan for "free elections." By the very fact that he has one, he served notice he has little use for the Western plan.

WEST WANTS FREE VOTE

The Western plan calls for free and secret voting first. Moscow believes in merging the East and West German governments into a provisional regime that would perpetuate its German Communist vassals.

French sources reported that the Western delegates still figured the conference might possibly produce some lessening of tension in Germany by easing trade and frontier problems, and that a chance exists for negotiation on Korea and Indo-China in some form.

But for German unity, the outlook was bleak unless Molotov did the unexpected.

Foreign Secretary Eden, State Secretary Dulles and Foreign Minister Bidault spoke strongly Tuesday against the Russian proposals, which would get up a unified Germany, virtually defenceless, on the Red Army's doorstep and kill Western aims to arm Germans along with Frenchmen and others in a unified European defence force.

ANALYZES PROPOSALS

Bidault brushed aside attempts by Molotov to sell France the eastern point of view, analyzed the Russian proposals point by point and remarked coldly:

"In my opinion the exchanges of views on the question of a peace treaty are in danger of becoming sterile. Perhaps we can still examine one another's intentions. But up to now it is clear such an exchange of views is teaching nobody anything."

While Molotov failed to split the Western Big Three, he has given a certain amount of comfort to Communist leaders of the East German government, still shaken by the popular uprising of last June 17.

Canada One Of Fastest Growing Countries Experiences Phenomenal Advance Since War

CHATHAM (CP)—Dr. James Watson, chief of the federal geographic service in the department of mines and resources, said Tuesday Canada has experienced a phenomenal advance since the Second World War because of scientific development of natural resources.

From a small and relatively unimportant country in 1900, Canada has become one of the fastest-growing in the world, he told the Women's Canadian Club.

In the last 10 years agricultural production increased 33 percent, lumbering doubled in volume and mining was up 75 percent.

Ontario now is "the second greatest industrial area in the British Commonwealth." The country's next stage of development was production of electricity from atomic energy and its harnessing to industry.

Dr. Watson said a new Canadian atlas is being prepared to give an outline of the country to the North Pole. The first official Canadian atlas, appearing in 1905, showed Canada up to the 60th parallel of latitude because little was known of the country farther north.

Canada's rate of population increase was 21 per cent a decade, compared to 11 per cent in Russia, 12 per cent in India and less than four per cent in Britain.

"We are growing at nearly twice the rate of the United States," Dr. Watson said. "It's not inconceivable we'll catch up to Britain by the year 2000."

Canadian's Wife Has 25th Child

FORT KENT, Me. (AP)—A Canadian farmer's wife has given birth to her 25th child—and she says she wants more babies.

An eight-pound daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Heliodore Cyr of Ledges, N. B., Sunday at the People's Benevolent Hospital here. It was the first in the family born in a hospital.

Eighteen of the Cyr children are living, 17 of them still at home. The oldest is 24. There have been no multiple births in the 25 arrivals in 26 years.

Mrs. Cyr, married when she was 17, now is 42. Her husband is 47.

The new baby, which brings the family to nine boys and nine girls, hasn't been named yet. The family had expected a boy.

"Bootleg Barbers" Cause Chatham Row

CHATHAM (CP) — "Bootleg barbers" operating out of their "backyards" brought complaints to the Chatham board of health Tuesday night from the Chatham Barbers Association.

Paul Gosslin, city sanitary inspector, reported to the board that barbers complained that individuals are operating barber shops out of their homes, garages and basements at cut rates and in unsanitary conditions. Prices ranged as low as 50 cents per haircut, he added.

RCAF Plane Crash-Lands

FINALE LIGURE, Italy (AP)—A Royal Canadian Air Force plane crash-landed in the Mediterranean today 150 yards off the Italian Riviera coast.

All five members of its crew escaped in rubber boats and were picked up by a fishing bark before they could paddle to shore.

Cause of the crash was not immediately determined. Authorities said the plane is lying in only about eight feet of water and can be recovered.

At Ottawa, RCAF headquarters identified the pilot as FO. Ralph Hamilton Annis, 23, of McAdam, N.B. Four other men were also aboard.

Result of Conference

Canada Being Given Key Role

LONDON (CP)—The key role conferred on Canada as the only dollar country in the Commonwealth could be deduced today from the latest British post-mortem on the recent meeting in Australia of Commonwealth finance ministers.

The inference could be drawn from this statement, made to the House of Commons Tuesday by R. A. Butler, chancellor of the exchequer:

"We confirmed the wisdom of our decision taken a year ago to work toward a freer system of trade and payments between the dollar and non-dollar world.

"Indeed, I know of no other approach which would keep the policies of the old and new Commonwealth countries and Canada in step."

CO-OPERATES WITH CANADA

The statement simply means that the British government is determined to try to work toward the kind of trading world for which Canada has been pressing, rather than yield to domestic groups who would prefer to concentrate on the cosy confines of what Finance Minister Abbott of Canada has called the "ring fence" of the sterling area.

Advocates of the ring-fence system include opponents of GATT (the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade) and those who openly favor increased imperial preferences. Butler's statement Tuesday makes clear that they can expect little encouragement as long as he remains chancellor.

In a Canadian Press interview recently, Butler stressed the "fundamental role" of Canada at the Commonwealth finance conference and said the test of the conference would be whether delegates succeeded in reaching a policy "that He defined this policy as moving outward to greater freedom in trade rather than inward toward the restrictions implicit in increased tariffs.

Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express long an impassioned crusader for strengthened imperial policies, quoted Butler as saying there is no use in looking to preferences for Britain's economic salvation at a time when other Commonwealth countries are developing their own secondary industries. The emphasis now must be on investment in the Commonwealth.

Corporation Keeps Control Of Sale Prices Of Houses

OTTAWA (CP)—Though Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation will step out of joint lending, it still will have power to control the selling price of homes under the government's new housing legislation. D. B. Mansur, CMHC president, told the Commons banking and commerce committee Tuesday the government housing agency will be able to control selling prices under its authority to set lending values and mortgage levels.

The corporation will have the right, in the case of homes erected by commercial builders, "to stipulate that a maximum loan under the act is only available if the builder sells the house at a price not exceeding the maximum selling price established by the corporation, which generally is the lending value."

"The builder is not compelled to meet the established maximum selling price," said Mr. Mansur, "but if this price is exceeded, indicating an undue margin of profit, then the loan is reduced by an amount to be stipulated in the regulations—perhaps 10 per cent."

LOANS INCREASED

The government's proposed new loans' ceiling has not yet been announced, but it is understood it will be about $12,500, up from the present National Housing Act maximum of $10,000.

Mr. Mansur was the committee's first witness as it opened detailed study of the new legislation adopted in principle by the Commons after sharp opposition criticism.

After committee study it will have to get third reading in the Commons and passage in the Senate before it becomes law.

The new legislation will open the mortgage-lending field to chartered banks, reduce down payments and extend the time-to-pay on NHA homes.

Under a mortgage - insurance scheme to be administered by CMHC, the corporation will gradually withdraw from joint operations with lending institutions to provide NHA mortgages, theoretically leaving the field to private enterprise.

But the government's agency still will exert a great deal of influence on the housing industry. It will continue development of non-commercial and governmental projects and keep its hand in the commercial field through authority to buy and sell insured mortgages and advance loans to lending institutions if they put the insured mortgages as security.

A total of $55,000,000 will be made available to the corporation for these latter activities, Mr. Mansur said in a 31-page statement outlining some of the new legislation's features. In all, CMHC will be allowed to insure a total of $2,000,000,000 worth of mortgages.

Red Spy Ring Set Up In Japan

By ROBERT PROSSER

TOKYO (AP) — A trustworthy United States military source said today that a Russian diplomat-spy reported missing last week is revealing secrets of a Red spy ring in Japan to United States intelligence agents on Okinawa.

The source, who cannot be identified, said secrets from the "highly efficient agent" are helping crack the spy ring.

The diplomat, Yuri Alexandrovich Rastovorov, apparently fled in terror from the defunct Russian mission in Tokyo, the source said, after helping "set up a spy network that has already penetrated some of the highest levels of the Japanese government."

An American source said Rastovorov fled after being ordered back to Moscow because he apparently was found "softening" toward Americans.

The source said a Russian intelligence agent accompanying a Russian skating team here in January brought orders for Rastovorov to return. He said Rastovorov knew he was to be sent home, and decided to ask the Americans for asylum.

Not Planning Change In Butter Buying

OTTAWA (CP) — The federal government is not planning to change its butter-buying program.

Agriculture Minister Gardiner said Tuesday in the Commons that the policy is attaining the objectives of maintaining returns to producers in the summer and assuring reasonable prices to consumers in the winter.

The government now buys surplus butter in the summer at 58 cents a pound. It sells it in the low-production winter months at 61 cents in carload lots.

Mr. Gardiner said his department's information is that by May 1 the government may have about 30,000,000 pounds in storage, 6,000,000 more than a year ago. But that would not create any great difficulty.

DOG FINDS MASTER AGAIN—The way of a dog with a boy is recorded dramatically in Washington as a black pooch named Smoky tugs at the least while his master waits for him (top), then leaps into the youth's arms and bowles him over. Reunion climaxed a dog-hunt by Miami police after the 15-year-old boy and the dog became separated when the youth was arrested in Florida and sent to the National Training School for boys in Washington. School officials instigated the search because they doubted the boy could be rehabilitated if the separation continued.

WITH THE BOY SCOUTS

By CHARLES H. SPEARIN

A Letter From The Commissioner:

To All Boy Scout Enthusiasts: In order to get Scouting on firmer footing in Peterborough, and to ensure that every man will know his scouting job the commissioner has planned a group committee men's conference.

This conference will take the form of informal talks and discussions on the various phases of scout organization and operation.

The first session of the conference will be held at St. Andrew's church hall at 8.00 p.m., Thursday, February 11. In this session the topic of discussion will be group committee function and operation.

The second session will take place at Trinity church hall at 8.00 p.m. on Friday, February 19. Here you will see a bronze arrowhead course in operation; the topic for discussion, scout troops.

The third session will be at St. John's parish hall, Friday, February 26 where a Cub Pack will put on a demonstration. The topic, "Cubbing".

We are particularly anxious to meet the group committeemen, members of sponsoring bodies, scout fathers and others who are interested in Scouting at the conference.

Now is the time to get on the band wagon. Scouting is on its way up again.

E. T. Cotton,
Commissioner,
Peterborough Boy Scout Assn.
16th CUB and SCOUT MOTHERS' AUXILIARY

The January meeting of the Trinity Cub and Scout Mothers' Auxiliary was held in the ladies' parlor at the church.

The president, Mrs. J. N. Perry announced that a Cub and Scout church parade would take place at the evening service Feb. 7.

A committee was named to arrange the annual father and son banquet to be held February 12.

Mrs. Oscar Jamieson, convener of program and refreshments, introduced Scout Brian Malcolm who gave a recitation from the works of Rudyard Kipling, entitled "If".

The guest speaker, C. H. Spearin outlined the Cubbing program with its romantic background of "jungle atmosphere" tracing the course of a typical cub from "new chum" through the star tests. Mr. Spearin concluded his talk with a discussion of the requirements for the various cub proficiency badges. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Jamieson and her committee.

3RD ST. GEORGE'S PACK

The evening of Jan. 22 was an outstanding one for the 3rd St. George's Pack. Twin boys, John and Michael Smith and John Smith of another family were invested while the two fathers witnessed the ceremony. Three new leaders were taken into the pack and given their jungle names: Hathi, Kaa and Baloo. Following the games period the evening program concluded with a story, "White Seal and His Friends" told by Akela.

3RD ST. GEORGE'S TROOP

The troop met in the parish hall Tuesday night. Following "flag break" and inspection 7 Tenderfoot Scouts repeated their law and promise in an impressive investiture ceremony: Bill Kokesh, Terry Markwick, Roger Smith, Don Hines, Art McLaren, Art Howden and David Swyers.

Wayne Ferguson, David Nicholls and David Rye were presented with the troop colors. Scout Commissioner Ed Cotton attended the meeting and spoke about the bronze arrowhead course to take place in February.

1ST ST. JOHN'S PACK

Jim Welsh has been made senior sixer and new seconds are Hartly Mitchell, Henry Langley and Bob Yudin. The Grey Six, under Sixer Tom Lewis is leading in the inter-six competition by 3 points. Bagheera led the pack in a game of balloon relay and Kim conducted a game of stalking 4 balloons placed in the circle. A new leader (Kim) Ron Fonger was welcomed to the pack.

Report Prices Mixed On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO (CP) — Prices were mixed in active early afternoon stock market trading today.

Papers, foods, constructions, refining oils, financial institutions and manufactures were stronger in the industrials. Utilities and steels slipped. Motors and agricultures were steady. In the agricultures, Midland and Pacific Grain gained $10.

Golds traded slowly with Consolidated Howe, up nine cents and Inspiration, down 11 cents, the only major changes.

Base metals continued their recent downward trend.

Gunnar made one of the few uranium gains with a 25-cent addition in light trading. In the Bathurst-area issues Brilund led with a 12-cent gain.

Western oils slipped a little.

Preliminary Hearing In Fatal Shooting

BARRIE (CP) — The preliminary hearing began here today for two Toronto youths, Ian Robertson, 21, and William Stephen Kingsley, 19, accused of murder in the fatal shooting Oct. 29 of Fred (Scotty) Cameron, 57-year-old Toronto bond messenger.

Dr. Chester McLean, pathologist from Toronto Western Hospita, testified Cameron died from five bullet wounds.

Cameron's body was found Oct. 30 in a ditch at the side of a concession road about two miles from Stroud, a village 10 miles southeast of Barrie.

Dr. McLean said that the marks on Cameron's body could have resulted from a struggle.

315 Pilgrims

Then the streams of pilgrims began to push toward the bank, creating a crushing, human juggernaut.

Indian Red Cross and local medical authorities were reported rushing the dead, dying and injured to emergency tent hospitals in the makeshift pilgrim cities which have been set up on the river banks.

The reports said the confusion was heightened when the desperate sadhus sought to beat back the onrushing crowds with spears and the long, steel-pointed wooden staffs they use in their forest hermit life for protection against wild beasts.

ELEPHANTS FRIGHTENED

The rush also frightened the elephants carrying sadhu chiefs and Hindu temple officials, and the huge beasts added to the melee.

The disaster had been presaged by a smaller stampede Tuesday in which, according to reports published here, six persons were killed and 90 injured. These reports said a pontoon bridge collapsed under thousands of pilgrims.

Leaves Increase To Senators

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent has left it to senators themselves to decide whether they deserve an increase in pay.

He referred Tuesday in the Commons to criticism of legislation giving senators as well as members of the Commons an increase to $10,000 from $6,000.

Some members in favor of an increase for themselves opposed a similar increase for senators. They said members of the upper chamber did not have as many expenses.

Mr. St. Laurent said:

"It is quite true that in all the reasons we have given in attempting to justify an increase in the indemnities or allowances of members of this House, we have given reasons that apply to members of this House and do not apply to the same extent—I am free to confess it—to members of the other house. (the Senate)

"This bill, if and when it is passed by this House, will go to the other house. And if the members of the other house were themselves to say that, taking into consideration the reasons that motivated the increase here, and the fact that a lot of them do not apply to their situation, that they would not feel it proper to have the same indemnity provided for them, I am sure that if it came back in that shape to this House, this House would agree."

MPs Lose $60 For Absenteeism

OTTAWA (CP) — Members of Parliament, scheduled to receive a pay increase of $4,000 a year, will pay a larger penalty for absenteeism.

The government Tuesday night adopted suggestions to alter the penalty for absences.

During study of a bill to boost parliamentary pay to $10,000 from $6,000, the government added an amendment under which $60 a day will be deducted for absences without permission beyond 21 sitting days a session.

The present penalty is $37.50 a day for absences beyond 15 sitting days.

The suggestion for the higher penalty came from Stanley Knowles (CCF—Winnipeg North Centre) and the suggestion for a longer period of permissible absences from Davie Fulton (PC—Kamloops).

Burglars Rob Duchess At Dinner Party

LONDON (AP) — Burglars robbed the Duchess of Argyll of furs and jewelry worth more than £10,000 Tuesday night while she entertained a dinner party two floors below.

Police said the thieves apparently climbed up a drainpipe on the outside of the Argyll residence in the fashionable Mayfair district. The loot was taken from a third-storey bedroom.

It was the second costly burglary suffered by the duke and duchess in six months. Last August a gang raided their Scottish home, Inverary castle and made off with gold plate and heirlooms worth thousands of pounds. The loot that time included the baton the duke carries on state occasions as hereditary master of the royal household in Scotland.

Man Blew $70 Given To Deliver, Jailed

Walter Golloher, RR 1, Norwood, was sentenced to one month in jail this morning for taking $70, getting mixed up "in bad company," and blowing it. The money had been given him by his boss, Joseph Kelly, to take to Kelly's wife.

A second charge of taking Kelly's truck without consent was dismissed when the accused explained how it had got stuck in a ditch and he was unable to return it.

Golloher lives in a one-room cabin near Norwood with his wife and three children. The one-month sentence was handed out when Magistrate W. R. Philp, QC, reviewed the accused's previous record which consisted of convictions for theft, drunk driving, and receiving stolen articles.

Kingston Sailor Named Flag Officer

LONDON (CP)—The admiralty has announced that Rear-Admiral P. W. Brock, a native of Kingston, Ont., will become flag officer of the Royal Navy's Middle East section next April.

Brock, 52, transferred from the Canadian Navy in 1921 and commanded the cruiser HMS Kenya for two years during the Korean war. Subsequently, he was director of operations at the admiralty. He was promoted to rear-admiral in January.

PC Beardsmore told how he J. V. Brock, naval representative at Canadian joint staff, London.

Say Wolf Boy Badly Crippled

BOMBAY (Reuters) — Ramu, India's nine-year-old "wolf boy," is badly crippled and may never walk again, Sir Philip Manson-Bahr, British expert on tropical medicine, said today.

Ramu has been under observation in Balranpore hospital since he was found, naked and snarling like an animal, in a Lucknow train last month.

Medical authorities propose taking him to Lucknow zoo to watch his reaction to the presence of female wolves. He is believed to have been reared by wolves.

Manson-Bahr, who has examined the boy, said today he is quite sure Ramu had been brought up by animals.

"I doubt whether the poor thing will ever walk at all," he added. "He is very badly crippled and has obviously been lying in a hole for a long time."

He has always walked on his knees and elbows.

Nurse Falls From Ambulance

WATERLOO (CP) — A 24-year-old Waterloo nurse, severaly injured when spilled from an ambulance in a freak mishap Tuesday, is reported today as progressing "very favorably."

The nurse, Grace Martin, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Jesse B. Martin, received head injuries.

Their extent has not been determined, hospital officials indicated. X-rays may be taken later today or Thursday.

The accident occurred, police said, when Miss Martin, riding in the rear of a hospital ambulance, apparently leaned on the rear door handle as the vehicle made a turn. The door opened and she was thrown to the pavement.

Pilot Thrown Clear In Airplane Crash

GRAND PRAIRIE, Tex. (AP)—A Texas air national guard pilot set his ejector seat into action and threw himself clear of the flaming crash here Tuesday of his F-80 Shooting Star jet.

The pilot, Capt. James C. Smith, 31, was not seriously injured, but two workers in a boat factory storage yard where the plane fell were killed and four others were injured.

Eyewitnesses said Smith's ejector seat catapulted him away from the crash almost at the moment of impact.

Woman Gets 6 Months In Cheque Theft Case

Charged in connection with the Hutchinson-Northey cheque theft case, Mrs. Delphine Provenceur, 22, Brioux Ave., was sentenced to six months definite and one month indefinite in reformatory Tuesday.

She pleaded guilty to the charge and elected summary trial. Giving evidence against her, Detective Douglas Farthing said he took a statement from her and submitted it to the court. No evidence as to the extent of her implication in the matter was given.

U.S. Dollar At Discount

MONTREAL (CP) — The U.S. dollar was at a discount of 3 1-16 per cent in terms of Canadian funds at noon today. Tuesday's noon rate was 97 3-32 cents. Pound sterling $2.72⅝, against $2.73 1-16.

Lay Charges Against Father

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Criminal charges will be laid against the 41-year-old father of three Windsor children who were admitted to hospital with slight cases of exposure, crown attorney Bruce J. S. MacDonald today announced.

The crown attorney added that he has advised Roy Bondy, head of the Catholic Children's Aid Society, to lay a charge of failing to provide necessaries for his family against John Gaughan, 41.

The children, ages ranging from eight months to three years, were left in care of an 11-year-old brother, police said.

Police were called by a neighbor and found the children suffering from extreme colds, slight cases of exposure and from being "very hungry."

Vatican Says Pope Pius Still Improving

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano, in an evident effort to allay growing concern over the health of Pope Pius, said today that "the state of the supreme pontiff, thanks to God, continues to improve."

The newspaper also described as "absolutely unfounded" reports in the Italian press that a British specialist who attended the late King George VI had been called for consultation.

This report, printed in both Il Messaggero and Il Tempo of Rome, Conservative newspapers, had heightened worry that the pontiff might be suffering from cancer.

King George died of a thrombosis in 1952 several months after he had been operated upon for cancer of the lung.

GASTRIC AILMENT

An official Vatican press office bulletin said Tuesday that medical examinations had "happily negative results" and had established that the disturbance from which the Pope suffers is of a "gastric nature provoked by non-adequate functioning of the neuro-digestive system."

Messaggero and Il Tempo both said the pontiff has been placed on liquid diet and that he suffers stomach pains that require frequent applications of ice packs.

Regina Club Presents Best Play

REGINA (CP) — Regina Little Theatre's production of "The Country Girl" by Clifford Odets was judged best play Tuesday night at the conclusion of the Saskatchewan regional drama festival.

Prince Albert players won top honors in the one-act play class with Philip Johnson's "Orange Blossoms."

Peter Scott, former Winnipeg radio announcer, was named best actor for his part of Bernie Dodd in "The Country Girl." Mrs. Helen Bothwell was judged best actress for her portrayal of Georgie Elgin in the same play.

Graham Suter, British adjudicator, said the eight-play festival had proven itself "successful."

PRAISES SMALLER TOWNS

"Some of the smaller towns in Saskatchewan are putting on big shows and doing great credit to themselves," he said.

"The Country Girl" was the last presentation in the four-day festival. Mr. Suter said it was superbly directed and the acting was exceptional.

He complimented the Prince Albert group for travelling more than 200 miles to take part in the festival. He said their play demanded great resource and courage.

BLAZE BATTLERS — Firemen pour water on an explosion-punctuated fire, whipped by strong winds, which destroyed an industrial block in Boston. Near-zero temperatures hampered the firemen. The fire blazed for more than ten hours and caused damage estimated at nearly $500,000. Scores of firemen were treated for minor injuries.

Actress Leads Police To Studio Thief

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Police report that a bit of detective work by actress Lucille Ball led to the arrest of a man who has admitted he made about $16,000 a year by posing as a writer and robbing studio dressing rooms.

Detectives said Kenneth Darling, 31, a handsome and well-dressed ex-convict, was arrested Tuesday and booked on suspicion of burglary when he was found snooping in a dressing room at the General Service studios.

The police said Darling freely admitted that he had been operating in film and TV studios for the last four years by posing as a writer and always carrying a script under his arm.

ACTRESS GIVES LEAD

The detectives said that only recently the first lead in the case was supplied by Miss Ball. She said she encountered a stranger emerging from the dressing room of her husband, Desi Arnaz. Miss Ball gave police such a good description of the man that they located Darling's record in police files and circulated his photograph at all studios.

Detectives said Darling admitted nearly 500 studio thefts during the four-year period and said he sometimes netted as high as $500 a day.

Credit Union Pays 5 Per Cent Interest

COBOURG (ENS) — Cobourg Credit Union at its meeting Monday night passed a resolution to pay 5 per cent on savings as an education to members to appreciate the value of saving money.

Cliff McElroy of Port Hope, credit union organizer, reminded the meeting that less than four ago there were 20 members with a bank account of $40 and now there were 357 members with deposits totalling $25,000.

"Some people mistakenly believe that the credit union has something to do with labor unions," said L. Gutteridge, credit union president. "That is not so. We are not affiliated with any labor union and we are a non-profit banking organization, fully chartered by the federal government."

Pile Of Scientific Evidence Heard In Safe Robbery Case

The crown's case against Raymond and Walter McCaskie, jointly charged with breaking, entering and theft, began to take shape Wednesday as evidence of the ninth in an imposing list of witnesses was heard by Magistrate W. R. Philp, C. The brothers are appearing for preliminary hearing in connection with the theft of a safe containing $442 from Canadian Tire December 30.

Evidence was heard Tuesday morning from RCMP Corporal J. R. Abbott, the only footwear identification specialist in Canada. He testified unidentified shoes and rubbers, submitted as crown evidence, had been worn together.

The only link to their identity up to that time was evidence by Mrs. John R. Brown, 208 Lake St., who said one of the shoes belonged to her husband.

In the afternoon, however, Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw, QC, asked J. L. Thompson, who worked at Canadian Tire at the time of the break-in, if he noticed any rubbers lying loose in the store when he left the building, a few hours before the theft.

Thompson said he hadn't.

CHECKED IN OTTAWA

The stolen and later recovered safe was labelled exhibit 15 after it was visited and inspected by the court in the police department cellar. RCMP laboratory men told how they inspected it after its recovery and linked it with a panel truck and pipe wrench.

Chemist Ross V. Phillips said he inspected the three articles and determined paint chips on the panel truck floor could have come from the same source as paint on the safe. White material found on the pipe wrench, had the same components as insulation inside the safe.

Furthermore the paint chips found inside the truck could only come off the safe when its metal was flexed or sprung.

Ronald Rodgers, mathematician-physicist at the crime-detection lab in Ottawa testified following Phillips. Working on the safe and a piece of floorboard from the panel truck, he decided that marks on the safe side were "very probably" made by four screw heads on the truck floor.

By the end of Rodgers' testimony, the crown had submitted 24 exhibits, mostly of scientific nature dealing with identification.

For the first time, the name of the two brothers was brought into the matter when Douglas Hunter testified seeing Walter McCaskie at the South Beach hotel the night of December 30 with another man whom he didn't recognize.

Hunter's companion, Eldon Jewell, did recognize both Walter McCaskie and the other man, whom he named as Jack Brown, husband of the woman who had testified earlier in the day. Jewell had been in the hotel when McCaskie and Brown came in "about nine or 9:30."

DROVE TO CITY

He drove them to Peterborough later that night and let them out "in the north end."

J. L. Thompson was the afternoon's last witness and he described how he left the Canadian Tire associate store about 6.30 the night of the theft. He was called back at 8.30 and found the safe was missing. Marks on the floor indicated it had been dragged away.

"Did you see any rubbers on the floor when you left at 6.30?" Crown Attorney Bradshaw asked.

"No, I didn't," the witness replied.

"Would you have noticed any if they were there?" the crown asked.

"Yes, I think I would have."

Evidence was heard today from PC Arthur Beardsmore and I. H. Keefer, manager of the associate store, that the rubber identified earlier had been found by the back door of the store immediately after the theft.

Keefer said the 415-pound safe had been underneath a light in the store when he left with Thompson. Besides the money it contained "priceless" papers and records necessary for year-end inventory.

The first thing he noticed when he returned near eight o'clock that night was that the safe was missing. Tracing tracks out to the back door he and Constable Beardsmore found the rubbers.

"If they had been there at 6.30 I would have noticed them," he told the court.

WINDOW SMASHED

An upstairs window was smashed and a door leading downstairs to the main section of the store broken to give a clue as to how entry was gained.

PC Beardsmore told how he was investigating the alley behind Water St. stores the night of December 30 about eight o'clock and noticed the night light behind the tire store was out. He heard a thump like a heavy object falling on boards and then heard a car door slam.

Walking to the end of the alley he saw a man running from the back of a panel truck to the front door.

The truck, which he described as a 1953 Chevrolet sedan delivery, was backed up to the rear door of the tire store. The truck started to move, accelerating rapidly and the officer yelled at the driver to stop; he repeated "stop or I'll shoot."

The truck went by him and the officer had time for one shot at the tires before it sped away. The bullet missed and went through a cab window. As to how many people were in the truck, "I couldn't swear to it . . . but I believe there were three."

With the aid of his flashlight he saw the licence number; 5806', and hurrying to the tire store, the officer wrote it on a telephone book cover which was made exhibit 26.

A diagram of where the rubbers were found was submitted as exhibit 25.

The case will resume Thursday morning.

Hold Services For 15 Victims In Bus Crash

MONTREAL (CP) — Funeral services will be held today in Montreal, Trois-Rivieres and Quebec for most of the 15 victims of last Saturday night's bus-truck collision at Yamachiche, Que.

Police said all but two of the victims have been positively identified. Eight were from Montreal, the remainder from Trois-Rivieres and Quebec.

Meanwhile, police reported excessive speed by one of the two heavy vehicles may have been the cause of the accident.

Detective Sgt. Gaston Archambault said:

"Our findings won't be made public until the coroner's inquest which will not be reopened until next week. We'll be busy all week checking statements of some 25 persons, including 10 persons who survived the crash."

Condition of seven persons remaining in hospital at Trois-Rivieres has been reported "much improved."

In Quebec Tuesday, Premier Duplessis said the government is looking into the possibility of regulating the number and location of doors on large buses.

Chickenpox Prevalent

COBOURG (ENS) — Thirty-four new cases of communicable disease were listed for the week ending January 30 by the counties health unit.

Chickenpox is fairly prevalent, with 14 new cases, most of them in rural sections. There is one case of bacillary dysentery at Port Hope and one case each of red measles and German measles. There are eight cases of mumps and nine of scarlet fever.

Expect Good Skiing

COBOURG (ENS) — If the weather holds out, skiing should be good at the Northumberland Forest Ski Club.

Last weekend there was a good depth of snow on the main hill, but it didn't get packed down enough before the rush of skiers started and the snow didn't last.

However, there are 20 inches at the second two and plenty of snow on all trails. Snow conditions are the best this season and the club is hoping for reasonably cold weather to continue.

WELLAND, Ont. (CP) — Mrs. Ernie Lampman, who lives near Port Colborne, reported a black-and-orange butterfly hatched behind a storm window at her home at the end of January.

Town Employees Seek Contract Like PUC

COBOURG (ENS) — Proposed contract for the streets department workers of Cobourg for 1954 is essentially the same as the one which was presented to the utilities commission and will be dealt with next week by town council.

The utilities commission Monday night indicated they would prefer to use the 1953 contract as a working basis and consider the request for an across-the-board 25-cents-an-hour increase. It is understood town council is thinking along similar lines.

General China Sentenced To Die

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP)—A British court today sentenced the No. 2 fighting leader of the anti-white Mau Mau terrorists, the self-styled "Gen. China," to die. He was found guilty of consorting with armed persons and of unlawfully possessing two rounds of ammunition.

The 32-year-old native, whose real name is Waruhiu Itote, was the second leader of the Mau Mau high command nabbed by British forces in their war against tribesmen trying to drive them out of this rich East African colony.

Moscow-trained Jomo (Burning Spear) Kenyatta, considered the master-mind of the Mau Mau, was sentenced last April to seven years for leading the secret force. The Kenya Supreme Court upheld his sentence three weeks ago.

"Gen. China" was captured Jan. 14 in a skirmish 60 miles north of Nairobi. A young second lieutenant who had worked with him on the East African railways recognized him and shot him in the throat, wounding him superficially.

Transport Slides Off Road, Hits Tree

HAMILTON (CP) — A St. Catharines man, Harry Pinder was injured Tuesday night when his transport truck went off the road on the Queen Elizabeth way near Fisher's Corners and collided with a tree. He said he had been forced off the road by a motorist who did not stop.

The injured man was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital and treated for multiple abrasions and chest injuries.

U.S. President Confident Economy Will Adjust

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today he believes the United States is going through a period of economic adjustment but he is confident everything will turn out all right.

A readjustment has always followed in the wake of a defence emergency, the president told a press conference.

His administration, he added, believes the prosperity of a country lies in the prosperity of its masses, not in the wealth of any small groups.

His statement followed an expression of opinion by Treasury Secretary George Humphrey Tuesday that the U. S. is undergoing a "rolling readjustment" which is nothing to be disturbed about.

WON'T BOOST MINIMUM

In response to a question, Eisenhower said he is sticking by his decision that it will not be wise to try to raise the minimum wage of 75 cents an hour at this time of economic transition.

Ray Scherer of the National Broadcasting Co. asked for comment on what Scherer described as a feeling in some quarters that it is practically un-American to say there is a recession going on.

Eisenhower laughed and then said this is a free country and people are entitled to use whatever language they like.

As for himself, Eisenhower said, he supposes the U. S. economy has receded from something since not everything is at its peak.

In a conference covering a wide range of subjects, Eisenhower also:

1. Declared emphatically he will not compromise one word on the Bricker treaty-power amendment in any way which would alter the traditional blance of power among the three branches of government —the presidency, judiciary and legislature. Commenting on the controversy over Senator John Bricker's amendment to limit the president's treaty-making powers, he said that while he opposes it now, he would be willing to endorse any compromise which would make it clear that no treaty shall contravene the constitution.

2. Asserted he deplores any spread of hysterical fear in connection with U.S. possession of atomic weapons. Big talk and bombastic statements are not the way to deal with the situation, the president said, adding that a calm attitude is the better course.

CAN BE FREE

3. Said that if the people of Indo-China are determined they want to be free, they probably will be in the long run.

4. Declared, in reference to the Berlin Big Four conference, that State Secretary Dulles is doing a good job and has his full confidence.

5. Confirmed reports the United States has air technicians in Indo-China, as it has, the president added, in many other countries of the world. The units are entirely technical and are not fighting units, he said.

British Criticism Of Canadian Politicians

An editorial which we published on January 23, headed 'A Long Way From Disraeli' seems to have annoyed some of our readers, who think that the opinions expressed in it were anti-British, or anti-Commonwealth, and were inspired by a narrow Canadian nationalism. We do not think that anyone who is familiar with our editorial columns really supposes that we are anti-British; indeed, we have often been accused of a bias in their favour. And we make no apology for possessing a strong measure of Canadian national pride; why should we? Frankly, we think that our critics are not keeping as close an eye on expressions of opinion in Britain as we are.

* * *

For instance, we read yesterday in an English periodical devoted to books a review of Bruce Hutchison's life of Mackenzie King, which had been written by Christopher Hollis. Now Mr. Hollis is a well-known English writer whose opinion commands—or should command—respect. But we find him writing in this strain: "Canadian politics until recently did not provide a sufficiently attractive life to tempt an able man to give his life to them. King was the exception—the man who cared for nothing but politics and gave his life to them. As a result he was surrounded and opposed either by people of wholly inferior ability or else by people brought in somewhat against their will . . ." We submit that only an Englishman, writing from that lofty pinnacle which only an Englishman can mount when he is discussing the countries of the Commonwealth, could thus dismiss three generations of Canadian politicians.

* * *

So Canadian politics, until Mackenzie King, could not tempt able men to give their lives to its pursuit? Thus Mr. Hollis waves away Sir John A. Macdonald, Sir Charles Tupper, D'Arcy McGee, Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Sir Robert Borden—to name a handful. So Mr. King was opposed by men of "wholly inferior ability"? We would certainly not dream of suggesting that Mr. Arthur Meighen was a man of wholly inferior ability, but that is apparently the judgement of Mr. Hollis. Nor would we have said that Mr. King surrounded himself with second-rate men, when we recall the names of Ernest Lapointe, Rodolfe Lemieux, Henri Bourassa, Lomar Gouin, W. S. Fielding, Charles Dunning and others whose names will occur to our readers. It seems very likely that Mr. Hollis has never heard of these men, but Canadians who remember their service to this country will wonder why he chose to be so sweeping about a subject on which he had not troubled to inform himself.

* * *

The Canada of today was not made by nincompoops and second-raters, but by men of British and French extraction who met the problems of their time with a courage and a wisdom for which we are deeply grateful. Punch, reviewing Mr. Hutchison's book, took the chance for a gratuitous sneer at them; Mr. Hollis, from we know not what personal Olympus (we believe that he once distinguished himself in a university debating club) has done the same. In resenting this sort of offhand and ill-informed patronage we think that we show a characteristic inherited from our British ancestors.

Disarmed Germany? Horrors!

The Soviet Foreign Minister Mr. Molotov, tossed a "Molotov cocktail" into the Four Power conference at Berlin Monday evening. He said that a peace treaty with Germany should no longer be delayed—an opinion with which the West is in apparent agreement—but that the peace treaty should be of a kind to leave Germany unarmed. He said the treaty must limit future German land, sea and air defences to "tasks of an internal character, local defence of frontiers, and anti-aircraft defence." The West has raised its pious hands in horror. So that is the kind of peace treaty Russia wants, the dastards! That's their intransigent Berlin attitude, eh?

What a long way the Western world has come in nine years! Nine years ago, when it was realized that Germany was losing the war and that soon it must end, what did all the Allies—including Russia and the United States—want? Unconditional surrender, and a settlement which would forever prevent the rearming of Germany, whose militarism twice in the century had brought about world war.

If a treaty had been concluded in 1945 or 1946, the United States, France and Britain might have allowed Germany a minimum of arms—enough to keep internal order, for local defence of her frontiers, and for protection against hostile aircraft. Of course, those were the days when a Molotov cocktail—a real bomb—dropped on German forces was thought to be wonderful. Now, when Molotov proposes a peace treaty which would leave poor Germany unarmed, the suggestion is unthinkable; he is blasting the Berlin conference.

What was the war fought for, to which a peace treaty with Germany would put a formal end? That Germany might be re-armed, and again put into military dominance? Why does Russia object to a re-armed Germany? Why is she opposed to the European Defence Community, in which German men and arms would take a leading part? Has not Mr. Eden assured the conference that "it is our purpose to associate Germany so closely with the other peace-loving states that she will neither seek nor be able to use her regained strength for aggressive purposes"? The reason Russia wants a disarmed Germany is precisely the same one which moved the West ten years ago to disarm Germany—fear of German military prowess. Russia does not want E.D.C. because it can, with reason, see that E.D.C. is a war bloc against her.

Molotov said at the conference on Monday that: "The political aim, the political sense, of the plans for a so-called European Defence Community is that three states—the United States, Great Britain and France—attempt to create together with the official masters of Western Germany a war bloc against a fourth state—the Soviet Union." Russia has right to fear Germany, and any European alliance against the U.S.S.R. If Germany had not been at war with the West in 1941, and if the West had acquiesced in Hitler's eastern aggression, Russia would have been pounded to pulp, Moscow occupied and the armies and government of Russia driven into the Steppes.

The issue at stake in Berlin is not a German peace treaty, but power. Let us not be righteous about our course at Berlin; it is dictated by power politics. At the same time we can recognize why affairs have come to the pass they have, and why one of the most damnable paradoxes that any war has ever created is now being displayed at Berlin. The West has laid down to her former ally and co-victim of German militarism, that a necessary condition to formal peace with the common enemy is that that enemy be re-armed against one of them—Russia. It is a sad and rather horrible turn of affairs; it must give the true-blue patriots of ten years ago who ranted against the Germans and upheld with noble fervour the righteousness of the war, qualms in the stomach as well as mental perturbation.

There is this consolation. Russia herself is responsible. She would not talk peace terms eight years ago. She set herself up to master not only Eastern Europe but all of Germany and tried even to get Italy and France. It is Russia whose tactics after the war forced western Europe to unite for protection, to form NATO, to wage the Cold War, and, now, to attempt to create a European army in which a re-armed Germany is to take an integral part. Because the threat to the West of an armed Russia is now greater than the threat of a re-armed Germany, Molotov's proposal is being rejected. And because a military vacuum in middle Europe is a political impossibility, the West wants it filled by a European Army of her creation, not by a Soviet army.

Happy Landings!

Tomorrow our Prime Minister flies to London on the first lap of his goodwill tour around the world. What a splendid opportunity has been given by Mr. St. Laurent to his native land to show herself in finest guise. Polished, courteous, affable, mentally alert, and already a friend to many of the world's leaders and through his offices as Minister of External Affairs and the Queen's First Minister in Canada long familiar with foreign affairs, Mr. St. Laurent is an ambassador par excellence.

As we have remarked before, the travel, meetings, receptions and public appearances make an arduous schedule which could be an ordeal to a man of lesser stature. Mr. St. Laurent was 72 on Monday, only eight years younger than Churchill. He appears to be in fine form, and in the felicitations from his fellow-members in the House on his birthday, references were made to the bloom of his countenance and the sprightliness of his gait. We have no doubt that Mr. St. Laurent will bear the ardours of his trip as easily as he has the burdens of office. God speed and happy landings!

ROYAL STUD

All The Queen's Horses

By JOHN HISLOP

ALL RACING and breeding men who have been fortunate enough to meet Queen Elizabeth on her royal tour of the Commonwealth will have been impressed by her knowledge of and interest in both aspects of the sport; and it is to be hoped that her patronage will be rewarded by success during the coming season.

In some senses 1953 was an unlucky year for the Queen. Her colt, Aureole, ran second both in the Derby and in the King George VI and the Queen Elizabeth Stakes at Ascot, respectively the most important and the most valuable races in Britain, being beaten on each occasion by Pinza, who is probably the best horse to win the Derby since the war. On the other hand, to breed and own a horse of the class and ability of Aureole is no mean feat; and to so nearly win the greatest of all races, the Derby, in her Coronation Year, with a horse bred by her father, the late King George VI, is an achievement to be proud of.

✧ ✧ ✧

ALTHOUGH Aureole did not succeed in these attempts, he won two good races and finished third in the St. Leger; while Landau, which the Queen leases from the National Stud, won the last three of his five two-year-old races and was rated by the official handicapper as being in the top flight.

Aureole and Landau will be two of the Queen's chief hopes on the turf in 1954. Aureole has been faring well during the winter. Though a tough colt, he has always tended to be rather light-fleshed, probably because he is perpetually on the go when out of his stable — in it he is as docile as a lamb — but he has put on weight and strengthened since racing ended, and should be an imposing horse when he appears on a course again.

✧ ✧ ✧

HIS CHIEF objective will be the King George VI and the Queen Elizabeth Stakes at Ascot. (He will not have to meet Pinza again, the latter having failed to stand training.) He will also run for most of the other important middle-distance races, such as the Coronation Cup at Epsom and the Harwicke Stakes at Royal Ascot, and one or more of these coveted prizes should come his way.

Aureole is a striking horse: a bright, reddish chestnut, with a white face and three white socks. He can be faulted in his conformation, for he has rather ugly hind legs and his head and neck are not very attractively set on — the latter trait is often evident in the stock of his sire, Hyperion. But he has a great deal of quality, is a smooth and strong galloper and a good battler. He comes of a female line which has done great service to the royal stud. His dam, Angelola (by Donatello II), herself a top-lass racemare, is out of Feola, dam of seven winners, which include Hypericum, winner of the One Thousand Guineas and Above Board, a high-class stayer whose victories include the Cesarewitch.

✧ ✧ ✧

LANDAU IS A more handsome colt than Aureole, although of rather the same stamp. He is jet black, by the Derby winner, Dante, out of that brilliant mare Sun Chariot, who won the One Thousand Guineas, the Oaks and the Saint Leger in the royal colours during the war. His pedigree is interesting in that it represents the combination of a winner of the Derby and of the Oaks, a pattern of mating which has yet to produce a Derby winner.

Until he had had a couple of races, Landau was apt to get above himself on a racecourse, but he settled down as the season progressed and his behaviour on his last two appearances was exemplary. The form in the three races which Landau won was good without being top-class, but the style of his victory was most impressive and his physical condition suggested that there had been a good deal of improvement in him, as he was not hard-trained.

✧ ✧ ✧

HIS MAIN objectives will be the Two Thousand Guineas and the Derby, and his running in those races will determine his future career. In theory he should stay a mile and a half or more, but it would not be surprising to find a mile and a quarter his best distance, for both his sire and dam had great speed and his manner of racing and conformation have caused one or two critics to express slight doubt about his ability to stay the Derby distance. However, he is undoubtedly a high-class horse — about as good, relatively, as was Aureole at the same age — and he should certainly be able to win some good races.

Apart from Aureole and Landau, the Queen has fifteen horses with Aureole's trainer, Captain Cecil Boyd-Rochfort, and seven with Noel Murless, who has charge of Landau. Both these trainers have their stables at Newmarket.

✧ ✧ ✧

WITH Boyd-Rochfort are Philantrope, a seven-year-old, bought at the December sales to lead Aureole in his work; six three-year-olds, and eight two-year-olds. The best of the three-year-olds is a beautiful chestnut, own-sister to Aureole, named Angel Bright. She is much more handsome than Aureole and is a big filly, so was not hurried as a two-year-old, running only twice, towards the end of the season. On each occasion she ran extremely well in high-class company, being just beaten in a good race at Ascot in October, by a full brother to Gay Time called Elopement, whose previous (and only other) race, in which he was beaten a short head (also at Ascot), showed the form to be good. If Angel Bright improves from two to three years at the same rate as did Aureole, she may well reach classic standard. If this proves to be the case, it is not difficult to visualize her as a possible winner of the Oaks.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE QUEEN has no two-year-old out of the dam of Aureole and Angel Bright, but she has a filly called Belladona, who is by Donatello II out of Hypericum, winner of the One Thousand Guineas, who is by Hyperion out of Aureole's grandam, Feola. Among the Queen's other two-year-olds with Boyd-Rochfort are a colt named Alexander, who is one of the second crop of the Ascot Gold Cup, Doncaster Cup and Goodwood Cup winner, Alycidon, whose two-year-olds did well in 1953, and Sierra Nevada, a colt by Djebel, winner of the Two Thousand Guineas and one of the outstanding French sires in recent times.

✧ ✧ ✧

ALL the Queen's horses with Noel Murless were bred at the National Stud, from which they are leased. The five two-year-olds among them are promising: Perambulator, a bay colt by My Babu; Sun Chariot (by Hyperion); Jardiniere, a brown colt by Sandjar; Snowberry (by Cameronian); Abergeldie, a grey filly by Abernant; Fair Profit (by Fair Trial); Annie Oakley, a brown filly by Gig Game; Annetta (by Fairway); and Whiligig, a chestnut filly by Whirlaway, and Castelloza (by Djebel).

When I saw them as foals, Perambulator looked the best of the colts and Abergeldie the best of the fillies; but all five had the air of being in the top class, and it will not surprise me if my preference is different when I see them on the racecourse.

Letter To The Editor

CHEAP NATIONALISM

SIR: As a constant reader of your paper, I wish to remark that the recent editorial, "A Long Way From Disraeli" was not only in bad taste but also very unnecessary, in part inaccurate, and flavouring of the cheap nationalism that flourishes so freely in Quebec Province.

I might also add that most "colonial minded" characters you meet are not from England at all, but Canadian Nationalists who, presumably, picture themselves as emancipators. By their attitude and actions, they prove themselves totally ignorant of affairs in the Commonwealth today, and equally ignorant of its history from the time of 1763, and Peace of Paris.

Canada's attempts to destroy the chances of forming a Commonwealth cabinet are the work of, or are instigated by, these same cheap, insular, narrow-minded Nationalists, who are the disgrace of the country. To myself and many Canadians, a Commonwealth Cabinet seems a good idea, not only for promotion of greater unity within the Commonwealth, but also as a means of aiding in the establishment of orld peace. After scanning the record of Great Britain, and how she brought civilization and justice to parts of the world where they were unknown, one can scarcely gaze with fear on the prospect of being dominated by her, even if such a possibility existed.

Much more reasonably could we look with apprehension upon the bigotry and racial discrimination existing in Quebec, and fight against incursions of it into the other provinces, which are used to and proud of the British liberty that is their birthright, as it is to all subjects of the British Commonwealth.

ELVIRA SMITH

A-Battery

(NEW YORK TIMES)

NOT LONG after the discovery over fifty years ago that certain elements classified as "radioactive" emitted streams of electrons, scientists began experimenting with the possibility of producing a practical electric current from them. (Electric current is essentially a stream of electrons in a wire.) They made relatively little progress. No means could be found to "channel" the electrons through a wire to produce a current. Moreover, the limited supply of radio-active material made the experiments impractical in so far as utilization of a new source of electricity went.

Over the past decade, two developments opened the way toward production of a usable electrical current from radioactive material. One was nuclear fission which vastly increased the amount of radioactive material available. The second was new discoveries in the physics of solids, particularly the development of transistors. A transistor is basically a tiny wafer-thin crystal which amplifies electrical impulses in much the same manner as the vacuum tubes used in radios and other electronic devices.

Last week an isotope of strontium and a transistor-like device were brought together to produce usable electric current directly from the atom for the first time. David Sarnoff, chairman of the board of the Radio Corporation of America, tapped out a message on a telegraph key hooked up to an "atomic battery" about half the size of a package of cigarettes. The message was audible in an earphone. This is how the battery works:

Strontium-90, found in the "waste" from an atomic pile, is coupled to a wafer of silicon. The silicon contains an impurity which serves as a "wire." Electrons from the strontium-90 bombard the si'' on and dislodge "slow-speed" electrons which flow across the "wire." An electric current is the result.

The atomic battery is an entirely different — and potentially far more simple — means of producing electricity as compared with the atomic reactor. The reactor is simply a means of converting the heat produced by a chain reaction into steam. The atomic battery, on the other hand, is a new means of producing electricity.

Big Ben in Virginia

(Cornerbrook, Ifld., Star)

Mr. Gerard Tetley, of Danville, Virginia, U.S.A., has sent us an amusing story about one of his fellow-citizens, Mr. Harry W. Spencer, who regulates his life by the sonorous voice of Big Ben—not, however, the chimes which ring out in the General Overse Service of the BBC. Mr. Spencer, a wireless technician at a transmitting station in Danville, has a twenty-four-hour clock which records the hours with split-second accuracy. Thirty seconds before the hour, every hour, the clock automatically turns on a 'juke box.' And at exactly the hour the needle hits one of twelve records of Big Ben, each one sounding a different hour. Says Mr. Tetley: 'Mr. Spencer's Big Ben is no puny reproduction, because it bongs out not only in the house but on a quiet day all over the immediate neighbourhood.'

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And, behold, they brought to him a man sick of the palsy, lying on a bed: and Jesus seeing their faith said unto the sick of the palsy; Son, be of good cheer; thy sins be forgiven thee.

And, behold, certain of the scribes said within themselves, This man blasphemeth.

And Jesus, knowing their thoughts said, Wherefore think ye evil in your hearts? For whether is easier, to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee: or to say, Arise, and walk? But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins, (then saith he is to the sick of the palsy,) Arise, Take up thy bed, and go unto thine house.

And he arose, and departed to his house. But when the multitude saw it, they marvelled, and glorified God, which had given such power unto men. (Matt. 9:2-8.)

The Lord is my light and my salvation: whom shall I fear? the Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid? (Ps. 27:1.)

✧ ✧ ✧

What time I am afraid, I will trust in thee. In God I will praise his word, in God I have put my trust; I will not fear what flesh can do unto me. (Ps. 56:3, 4.)

UK Bishops' Stipends

(Kenora Miner and News)

New stipend schemes providing £2,200 a year, and rent and travelling expenses, have been granted to Bishops of the Church of England. They were the subject of orders in council approved by the Privy Council on December 22.

The new stipends involve an increase of £200 a year for the Bishops of Blackburn, Bristol, Chichester, Coventry, Derby, Guildford, Lichfield, Manchester, Ripon, St. Albans, and Sheffield; no change for the Bishops of Chester, Hereford, Norwich, Peterborough and Worcester; a reduction of £100 for the Bishop of Exeter, and a reduction of £200 for the Bishops of Birmingham, Liverpool, Lincoln, and Salisbury.

The Bishop of Chelmsford, under another scheme, receives an increase of £200 from £2,500 to £2,700, and rent, but will pay his own travelling expenses. The Bishop of Leicester receives £2,200, rent and travelling expenses up to £500, in lieu of a stipend of £2,000 and the Bishop of Southwark a similar amount in lieu of a stipend of £2,650.

Should Mark Trains

(Brantford Expositor)

According to J. P. Wadsworth, superintendent of safety for the Canadian National Railways, nearly half the crossing accidents during the Christmas and New Year holiday periods were caused by vehicles running into the sides of trains.

This is an old story. On the face of it, one might say that the fault is obviously with the drivers, since anyone should be able to see so large an object as a train. Experience shows, however, that the case is by no means as simple as that. Under some conditions of light and weather, even trains are not easily seen, or not seen soon enough to avert an accident.

This newspaper, among others, has long advocated what seems to be a simple and inexpensive means of preventing at least a good many level crossing tragedies — the provision of some easily discernible marking on the sides of all railway locomotives and cars, such as strips of reflector tape, or other substances, or even a line of luminous paint.

If conditions were ideal, there would be no level crossings and all this bother would be unnecessary. Unfortunately, in this country, level crossings are very common — and so, therefore, are crossing accidents. Under the circumstances, it does not appear unreasonable or unjust to ask the railways to do something think of the kind here recommended.

British-Japanese Pact Won't Affect Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—Trade Minister Howe said Tuesday a new United Kingdom-Japan trade treaty should have no effect on Canada.

He was asked in the Commons by Clarie Gillis (CCF—Cape Breton South) if the agreement would have an effect on Canadian industry, particularly in textiles.

"The agreement touches only the United Kingdom and its colonies," Mr. Howe said. "It will have no effect whatever on Canada that I know of."

Canada now is negotiating a trade treaty of her own with Japan.

Quinte Squad Captures Win Against The Petes, 6-5 In Keen Overtime Puck Struggle

BELLEVILLE (Special)—Again adopting their role of "giant killers" the Belleville Memos clipped the Peterborough Petes' win streak at four games here last night, edging the group leaders 6-5 in a thrilling senior "B" overtime battle. They did it the hard way. Down 5-3 going into the third period after trailing 2-1 in the first, the dungeon-dwellers flashed desperation hockey to even the count by full time and go on to win in the extra session.

Playing coach Lloyd (Red) Doran sparked the Memos to their victory with a brilliant effort. He scored two goals, one of them the winner and aided in three others. Big Vern Goyer played one of his best games on Belleville ice accounting for three of his team's markers. Ted DeGray got the other.

SCORED A PAIR

Crowley paced the Petes' attack with a pair of markers with Chum Fryia, Gus Leonard and Doc Prentice coming up with the rest. Both Donlevy and Sarrault, the respective goalies, turned in brilliant exhibitions, kicking out rubber and turning back opposing drives all night.

The game was lackadaisical in the first period when the Petes outscored the Memos 2-1 but the picture changed completely in the torrid second heat when play ripped wide open and it looked like an old-fashioned Belleville-Peterborough semi-brawl.

Seven penalties were handed out in this heat by Referees Moon Flanagan and Larry Heffering, three of them majors. Keith MacDonald and Eddie Redmond tossed punches at each other and drew five-minute sentences and later MacDonald and Collins heaved their gloves with the Petes' player drawing a major. Jud Semark drew a pair of minors and the Petes were quick to capitalize on the Memos' errors.

They scored four of their five goals while the Memos were short of manpower while the homesters accounted for one while the Petes were shorthanded.

The third period produced the best hockey of the night with the Memos outscoring the Petes 2-0 to even the count with less than five minutes to go. The pace was fast and furious with both goalies having narrow escapes.

GETS WINNER

The fast tempo was maintained in the overtime session with the Memos having a territorial edge. Three minutes and 21 seconds remained when Red Doran, Duke Doran and Peter Jones swept down the ice. Duke ripped into the corner and flung out a pass to his namesake who drove it waist-high past Donlevy for the winner.

Coach Remond yanked his goalie with 20 seconds to go but the Memos held the fort and time ran out for the Petes.

The Petes had only 11 men in uniform being minus the services of Montgomery, Armstrong and McMaster. Redmond and Munroe carried the brunt of the defence duties.

Play was not exciting in the first period until Jake Wade's pass bounced off Red Doran's stick behind Donlevy to open the scoring. Chum Fryia grabbed that one back in 26 seconds climaxing a neat three-way drive with Greenlaw and Leonard. Semark got the gate and Prentice slipping down the right boards drove a low shot from a difficult angle to put the Petes one up.

The game broke wide open in the second after DeGray evened the count, taking Red Doran's passout to beat Donlevy after prolonged pressure by Memos. Redmond and MacDonald started to throw punches and were given majors. Greenlaw got the gate 30 seconds before the majors expired and Vern Goyer drove a 20-foot shot from the left boards to give Memos a 3-2 lead.

GIVEN MAJOR

Collins and MacDonald started to mix punches with the Petes' player drawing a major and the Memo a minor. Then Semark got the gate and the Petes had a 5-4 advantage.

The Petes struck quickly. Crowley slapped home Leonard's pass and the same player repeated 44 seconds later. Semark got the gate again, then Leonard dashed after a breakaway puck to give the Petes a 5-3 lead.

Sarrault drew a penalty early in the third period with Duke Doran sitting it out. Belisle got the gate seconds later and the desperate Memos drove in on Donlevy with no damage done. Fryia broke away again and again Sarrault foiled him. Seconds later he hit the post with an open net in front of him.

Goyer fired another 30-footer from the left boards that beat Donlevy with seven minutes to go. Then Redmond was given a penalty for delaying the game because he could not decide on which stick to use. A minute later Vern Goyer got his hat trick from a Memos' power play to tie the count.

Both teams went all out for the winner but both goalies came up with fine efforts. Donlevy picked off Duke Doran's labelled drive from close in with 10 seconds to play.

Came the overtime and Red Doran's winning goal and that was that.

MUZZ PATRICK, the man in the middle grins happily along with Dean Prentice left and Johnny Bower, after they buried the Montreal Forum jinx on Saturday night. It was the first victory in twenty-six Montreal games for Rangers, hence the jubilation. Prentice scored his first goal, while Bower came up with a sensational game in the nets.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Leo Petticrew had this item in the Port Hope paper: "Hap Harrison tells a little joke which occurred at the arena during 'Young Canada Night.' He was introducing Eric Nesterenko and Rudy Migay of Leafs around and he met up with a beautiful blond. He introduced her as the champion hog-wrestler of Port Hope. After she left, Migay looked at Hap puzzled. 'Hog-wrestler . . hog-wrestler?' he muttered; 'she's too pretty to wrestle hogs.' Hap didn't say whether he explained to Migay about hog-wrestling and square dancing being one and the same pastime in these parts." Yea, it sounds like the genial oldtime Petes' ballster.

* * * * * *

"First couple step into the middle and shake your big feet to the tune of a fiddle" . . . it sure is a strenuous indoor sport, this square dancing, or hog-wrestling, if you wish. "The lady stay in and the gent step out, now all join hands and circle about" . . . this sort of thing takes off excess weight. "The lady step out and the gent step in, now all join hands and circle again" . . . and you still have three more couples to contend with ere you pass 'em by and then swing when you meet. After the third set, even the athletic type is ready for a brief breather before the fiddle starts again. Hog-wrestling, indeed, but a lot of fun. "One more couple and the ball rolls on!"

Playing in Little NHL

Little NHL zone puck tourney goes Saturday at Newcastle, the local Black Hawks being peewee entry in semi-finals against Ajax at 3:15 p.m. Port Hope and Newcastle go in the other bracket. There's also junior and AHL play in the competion. Boys in these groups range in age from eight to 13 years, and there's a provincial playoff tourney early in April. Winnipeg wants to send representatives east to make it a Canadian playoff around then. Little NHL teams go by such names as Leafs, Canadiens, Wings, Bruins, Rangers and Hawks; AHL team names are worn in that section of the minor setup; while the junior division sports such monickers as Marlboros, Royals, Hamilton, Galt, Guelph, St. Catharines. Hm, thought St. Mike's was in that.

Playoffs resume in the Peterborough Minor Hockey League tomorrow night at Civic Arena. A triple-header final frays for the three city minor hockey championships. Bantam Aces and Shamrocks tangle at six, the Aces having a three-goal bulge from the first of the home-an-home series. Midget Aces and Shamrocks mix it out next, and the latter boast a hefty lead of eight markers. It winds up with Aces and Oddfellows in the the juvenile final. Aces having won 7-2 in the opener to tote a five-goal lead into this return tilt. It'll be a short season for the losers, whilst the victors proceed into provincial playdowns later this month in juvenile, midget and bantam "A" series.

Still Tied Atop Heap

Minus Monty and Army in Belleville last eve, the TPT Petes lost a 6-5 overtime senior "B" decision to the Memos and this, coupled with Oshawa's 9-5 win in Orillia, puts Petes and Truckers in a top-place tie, five points up on Orillia and Kingston. Latter comes here Friday night. Memos still have a slim chance of making a playoff spot. A couple of fights in the Quinte duel as Memos came from behind to tie it in the third and win out in the extra heat. Red Doran scored two for 'em and aided on three more, as Hill, Greenlaw, Leonard and Munroe one each. Belleville goes to Kingston tonight.

Hoop activity aplenty on the local scene these days. In YM house loop play last gloaming, Test took Trojans 41-29, as Orfuns beat Apprentices 33-21. That means Test is atop with eight points, two more than Orfuns, and four in front of Apprentices. Trojans have yet to win in four starts. Nurses and doctors have their annual go at eight tonight at the collegiate. Tomorrow sees Collis girls and the Regents playing RCAF squads at Trenton. Kenner junior lasses came through last p.m. with a 40-30 decision o'er their SPS opponents. YW tussles on Friday: Black's vs. CGE, and Lindsay vs. Collis. Haven't the dope yet on SPS or PCVS Friday or Saturday night fixtures, but there'll be some.

Curling News

By HERB MARTIN

When we left last evening, there was room for just three more rinks for the men's open bonspiel next Wednesday.

C. Lawrence has a rink entered in the Lindsay bonspiel today.

Mrs. J. Elliott, Mrs. H. Hamblin, Mrs. E. O'Toole and Mrs. R. Faryon leave today to play in the ladies' open bonspiel in Kitchener.

On Saturday the following curlers are taking in the Midland bonspiel: Dr. M. McCartney, Dr. R. Morgan, O. Price, D. Carr, F. Stenson, D. Gerolamy and J. Smith.

It's the Neill Trophy this evening.

Notices are out for the annual Sturgeon mixed rink bonspiel. It's purely a local affair, so get busy and enter a rink. The first 28 rinks entered are it.

Remove Excess Water From Mantle Knee

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—New York Yankee centre-fielder Mickey Mantle will have some excess water removed from his right knee today, a surgeon said.

Dr. Dan Yancey, who removed a torn cartilage from the knee in an operation Nov. 2, said the water condition is not serious.

"Mickey will be able to report for spring training in Florida on March 1," Dr. Yancey said.

Cricket Aid

DERBY, England (CP) — The Derby county cricket club plans to test a jet engine as a drying agent for its pitch. Lancashire will look in on the pre-season experiment to note, among other things, whether the jet engine damages the grass.

Lakefield Gets OHA Tussle Against Orono

LAKEFIELD (ENS)—The local Lumbermen continued their OHA intermediate lakeshore group winning streak here last night by downing Orono Orphans 6-4 for their fifth victory in a row. A good crowd saw a neat number, with ice becoming rather heavy in the third period. Reid and Caravaggio stood out for the victors, while the West brothers, Dean and Junior, shone for the losers, who lead the league. Rock Wilson was in action, wearing a mask, but Sabatino and Dean Wasson are still out.

Caravaggio and Reid combined smartly in the first to tally, Dean West later evening it up from Armstrong. Floyd clicked for two fast goals to give Lumbermen the lead again in the second period, with Neil Wasson aiding on the second goal. Hunter scored one more in a scramble, with Caravaggio and Reid aiding. Dean West got one back in the lively middle inning.

It was rougher in the third, Junior West drawing a misconduct for arguing over a Dean West penalty. Ray West then tallied from Dean West to creep up closer. Schell was off when Neil Wasson tallied from McCracken. Floyd got a cut on the mouth accidentaly which cost him three teeth and gained him five stitches. Armstrong scored from R. West, but Reid flipped in the insurance marker on a nifty solo.

Orono: goal, Hooper; defence, Merca and Schell; centre, D. West; wings, R. West, Armstrong; alts.: K. West, J. West, Lunn, Johnston, Leguerre.

Lakefield: goal, Harding; defence, Richlark and Hopkins; centre, McCracken; wings, Floyd and N. Wasson; alts.: Wilson, Birch, Reid, Hunter, C. Wasson, Caravaggio.

Rollie Miles Signs 4th Eskimo Contract

EDMONTON (CP) — Halfback Rollie Miles, runner-up in the Western Interprovincial Football Union scoring race last season, has signed his fourth contract with Edmonton Eskimos.

Signing of the 26-year-old Negro back, who graduated to Canadian football from St. Augustine's College at Raleigh, N.C., dispelled reports that he might line up with a U.S. National Football League club. New York Giants were reported interested in him.

Miles has been voted Eskimos' most valuable player in fan polls for the last three years.

Kenner Lasses Beat SPS In Hoop Tussle

It's an occasion when a team wins its first basketball game. It's even greater occasion when a team wins its first game in two years. Therefore it was an occasion Tuesday for Kenner Collegiate's junior girls basketball team when they romped to a high-scoring 40-30 victory over St. Peter's High Saints at Kenner's gym.

Winless in their first season last year (they had just started basketball there, the Kenner girls were at a loss this season for a victory. But they came through Tuesday night so impressively that they may represent Peterborough district this season in junior "B" playdowns.

The other feature of the game was the fact that it was a "rough and tumble affair." Girls' basketball has rules especially fitted for the "weaker sex" but Tuesday in the fast play the girls took every play quite seriously.

LED THEM ALL

Diane Smith, a Kenner veterah, almost defeated the Saints alone. She led Kenner lasses throughout the game, helping them take a 22-13 half time score. She helped them keep that lead for the victor in the final half. In all she scored no less than 25 points.

With that large total Smith easily led the game scoring. St.

DIANE SMITH

Peter's Joanne Kearns was her closest rival with 11 points while Mickie McNaughton also of St. Peter's scored seven.

Lineups:

Kenner Collegiate (40) — D. Simth 25, S Reynolds 3, J. Guthrie 2, S. Somers 3, B. Tully 5, B. Succee 2, S. Reynolds, R. Trotter, J. Cunningham, S. Wood, D. Jarvis.

St. Peter's High (30) — Maey Crilly 2, J. Heard 4, J. Kearns 11, Marg Crilly 2, R. DeCarlo 4, M. McNaughton 7, D. Crowley, M. Caravaggie, E. Hajnik, W. Gooley, M. Maloney, A. Crowley, P. Davidson.

Try To Decide Marciano Bout

NEW YORK (AP)—Officials of the International Boxing Club huddled with Rocky Marciano's manager Tuesday to decide whether the heavyweight champion will make a title defence in March against Dan Bucceroni or wait until June for Ezzard Charles.

The Marciano-Bucceroni match for Madison Square Garden on either March 19 or 26 has been in the works for some time but the hitch is the health of Al Weill, Marciano's manager.

Weill underwent a delicate operation several weeks ago and has been taking it easy since. Rocky, meanwhile, has been doing light workouts at Grossinger, N.Y.

Truman Gibson and Harry Markson of the IBC visited Weill to see whether Al felt well enough to start conditioning the champion.

The decision on a March fight must be made in the next day or so. The IBC needs time to arrange the many details of a national telecast and broadcast.

EXPERT GYMNAST — Ernestine Russell, 16-year-old performer with the Windsor Gymnastic Club, shows her style with a one-hand stand on the end of the parallel bars. She is among the 50 members of the club ranging in age from 6 to 36 and in experience from novice to expert. Windsor's Gymnastics Club Wins International Acclaim

By ART BRYDON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—A visitor to the W. D. Lowe vocational school gymnasium any Tuesday evening in winter should not be surprised to have a young lady in tight-fitting white gym suit walk past him on her hands.

The visitor will also see a young man standing on one hand on the parallel bars, or another with feet towards the ceiling—resting on his left shoulder and left ear. These and a hundred other contortions are normal procedure at practice sessions of the Windsor Gymnastics Club.

WIN MANY MEDALS

Coach Bernie Newman and his Windsor gymnasts have an amazing record in competition, mostly in the United States. At meets in Detroit, Cincinnati, Dayton, Indianapolis and Chicago since January 1953, the team has won seven trophies, four plaques, 10 individual championships and 106 medals.

The first 1954 conquest for coach Newman was when his Lowe vocational team handily trimmed University of Toronto 59-35.

About 50 members belong to the club, ranging in age from 6 to 36, and in experience from expert to novice.

To be able to perform the difficult movements on parallel bars, trampoline, balance bar or side horse, is not enough. Points in competition come for grace and smoothness, so the first step for beginners like seven-year-old Leissa Krol, niece of footballer Joe Krol, is to learn basic ballet movements.

BALLET TEACHER

Teaching the young ones is the spare-time occupation of Mrs. Rene Russell, who has a ballet school in Windsor.

Mrs. Russell's 16-year-old daughter Ernestine is a star performer with the team. In her first year of competitive action three years ago she captured top honors on the parallel bars, side horse, balance beam, trampoline and in tumbling.

"Ernie" is most at home on the balance team, a piece of wood about the length and shape of a railroad tie and three inches wide across the top. On this space three feet above the floor, the competitor performs slow graceful ballet movements and various types of hand stands.

Another top performer is 17-year-old Ed Gagnier, a Lowe vocational student, who specializes on the flying rings. Al Cornwall, 17, is another fine gymnast.

Mrs. Russell is chaperone for the club when it travels and also instructs in tumbling and on the trampoline, an oblong piece of canvas fastened in a frame with springs so it provides an elastic start for flips and somersaults.

Coach Newman combines physical training instruction with other teaching at Lowe. He comes from a gymnastic family and has been coaching and promoting the Windsor Gymnastic Club for 20 years.

Bower Oldest NHL Rookie Proving Sparkplug For New York Rangers

By JIM BASTABLE, Canadian Press Staff Writer

John William Bower had eight years of hockey education in the minors before graduating to the big time. Now that he's reached the National Hockey League he has "no intention of going back." "It took me a long time to get up here," Bower says. "I hope to be around for quite a spell." Bower, a goalkeeper, is one of the clutch men in New York Rangers' plans to take a playoff berth this year. They expected big things of Bower when they called him up from Cleveland Barons of the American League. And they're getting them.

At 29 Bower is the oldest rookie in the league. He has been standing up like a seasoned pro against the best in the business.

DONE WONDERS

"He has done wonders for us," says coach Muzz Patrick. "He is one of the best I've seen in a long time."

In 49 games so far this season Bower, who learned the fundamentals of the game in his native Prince Albert, Sask., has allowed 137 goals for an average of 2.79 a game.

Bower will be in the nets again Thursday night when the fifth-place New Yorkers meet the last-place Chicago Black Hawks in Chicago. In two other games third-place Toronto Maple Leafs clash with second-place Canadiens in Montreal and fourth-place Boston Bruins meet the league-leading Red Wings in Detroit. No games are scheduled for tonight.

Bower was given little help by the youthful Rangers for the first few games.

GET OLD-TIMERS

"But now we've got a few old-timers in Max and Doug Bentley in the line-up and the whole team is going well," says Patrick. "Bower is even better than he was at the first of the season."

Ranger manager Frank Boucher, who had to make the decision to let Gump Worsley, a star with the Rangers last season, go so that Bower would stay, is satisfied he didn't make a mistake.

"He's wonderful, just wonderful," Boucher says. "With all that minor-league experience behind him, Bower is no nervous, fidgety rookie. He's cool and poised.

"Bower doesn't leave his feet very often. He's the quickest one to get to his feet after he's been down that I've ever seen."

Who does Bower have the most trouble with these days?

"They're all tough," he says, "but Gordie Howe (of the Red Wings) is the toughest. He has a wicked close-in shot."

Orillia Rink Downs Barrie In Playoffs

ORILLIA (CP)—Stan Sarjeant's Orillia rink Tuesday defeated Sully Meredith of Barrie 14-5 in the Orillia playoffs of the southern Ontario curling championships.

Sarjeant's rink will meet the winner of the Midland playoffs for the Orillia district championship here Friday.

Winner of Friday's competitions will represent this district in the southern Ontario finals here Feb. 10-12. The southern Ontario champions will advance into the Dominion finals, scheduled for Edmonton next month.

Harness Racing Bill Signed By Dewey

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Governor Thomas E. Dewey Tuesday signed his Republican administration's harness racing "czar" bill and formally appointed George Monaghan to rule the scandal-packed sulky sport in New York state.

The former New York City police commissioner was sworn in as "czar" a few minutes after the Senate confirmed his nomination.

Democrats contended the bill was window-dressing arranged by Dewey to grab the headlines in order to convince the public he was taking new, vigorous action in his drive to purge the sport.

Galt Hawks Crush Bilts In 8-1 Triumph

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

If the three winning teams in Ontario's junior hockey action had been any more convincing Tuesday night, there probably would have been a few goaltenders looking for other jobs today.

In each of the games the winners had margins of at least six goals.

Galt Black Hawks trounced Guelph Biltmores 8-1 in Guelph in the only league game in the Ontario Hockey Association.

The other two contests, involving both Quebec Amateur Hockey Association and OHA teams, were just as lop-sided.

8-2 VICTORY

Kitchener - Waterloo Greenshirts took an 8-2 home-ice victory from Jonquiere Marquis and St. Catharines TeePees defeated Quebec Frontenacs 10-4 in St. Catharines. St. Catharines took over first place in the OHA standings.

Hugh Barlow, Hank Ciesla, Cec Hoekstra and Barry Cullen each scored two goals for St. Catharines. Brian Cullen and Jack Armstrong added singles.

Fern Turcotte, George Faulkner, Clermont Doyon and Guy Rousseau accounted for the Quebec total.

In Kitchener the Greenshirts jumped on the Marquis for a 5-1 lead in the first period and added their final three goals in the third when Jonquiere tallied once.

HORNE GETS FOUR

Buddy Horne scored four goals and assisted once in the Kitchener victory. Graham Joyce notched two and Glen Cressman and Doug Vaughan netted singles.

Guy Rousseau and Gerry Normand counted for the cellar-dwellers in the QAHA Junior league.

Galt broke a five-game losing streak by besting the Biltmores. Six major penalties and one misconduct were handed out.

John Sleaver, Neil McDonald and Ron Halstead scored two each with the others going to Ed Switzer and Hec Lalande. Bob Forhan spoiled Les Binkley's shutout attempt.

Quebec meets the Flyers in Barrie, Jonquiere plays the Cubs in Hamilton and Toronto Marlboros are at Montreal Canadiens tonight.

Hockey Officials Hand Out 76 Minutes In Penalties

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Officials handed out 76 minutes in penalties in two Ontario Hockey Association Senior A games Tuesday night. Seventy-two minutes came in one game.

Owen Sound Mercurys, who climbed to within two points of the league-leading Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen by defeating Hamilton Tigers 4-1 in Owen Sound, couldn't be tagged with a penalty. The Tigers were given two minors.

But in Niagara Falls, where the last-place Cataracts defeated Windsor Bulldogs 6-4, referees had a hard night. They assessed the teams a total of 72 minutes, comprised of three 10-minute misconducts, two five-minute majors and 16 minors. Cataracts had a slight edge in penalties, taking 37 minutes.

The victory for Owen Sound was their 19th of 20 home games this season. Each team scored once in the second period following a scoreless first stanza. Mercurys counted three times in the final period.

Their goals were shared by Herb Carnegie, Harry Kazarian, Buck Forslund and Gerry Reid. Bill Hammond scored for Hamilton.

LATE RALLY

The Cataracts struck three times in the last three minutes of the game to take the Bulldogs.

Trailing 4-3 with two minutes and seven seconds remaining in the game the Cataracts knotted the count on Jerry Horton's goal. Sandy Air won it 39 seconds later and Bill Young clinched it six seconds before the end of the game. Ron Castelane, with two goals and an assist, led the Niagara Falls scorers. Dan Nixon notched their other marker.

Dick Kotanen scored two for the Bulldogs, others going to Gary Gordon and Walt Pawlyshyn.

In the Northern Ontario Hockey Association Senior league, southern group, Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Indians shut out Pembroke Lumber Kings 4-0 in Sault Ste. Marie. It was the first shutout of the season for netminder Jim Shirley.

Ken Greene, Henry Backor, John Raynack and Laurie May scored for the Indians who tallied twice in the first period and once in each of the second and third stanzas.

Chatham Maroons play the Indians in Stratford and Niagara Falls is at Kitchener in the OHA tonight.

Pembroke play the Greyhounds in Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., in the NOHA.

Red Wings Knock Out Prison Pirates 5-2

MARQUETTE, Mich. (AP)—Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League beat Marquette State Prison Pirates 5-2 in an exhibition hockey game Tuesday.

Several howling inmates, braving snow and freezing temperature, watched the game on the prison's outdoor rink. The contest was shortened so the Red Wings could put on a demonstration of shooting and passing.

Lyndhursts Blank Neuchatel 10-0

NEUCHATEL, Switzerland (Reuters) — Toronto Lyndhursts, Canada's entry in the forthcoming world hockey championships at Stockholm, Tuesday night blanked the Young Sprinters Club of Neuchatel 10-0.

The Lyndhursts scored four goals in the first period, three in the second and three in the third.

The Canadian team overwhelmed their opponents almost from the moment they took to the ice. Observers were particularly impressed with the Canadians' teamwork, their passing ability and accuracy of their shots on goal.

Of 15 attempts to score, 10 were successful.

Norman Gray, 23-year-old centre, scored four of the goals—once in the first period, twice in the second and once in the third.

Earl Clements and Don Couch each scored twice with Russ Robertson and Moe Galand getting the other two.

Cup Round At Sydney

MELBOURNE (AP)—The challenge round of the 1954 Davis Cup competition will be held at Sydney, Australia, instead of Melbourne, it was decided today at the annual meeting of the Australian Lawn Tennis Association. As Davis Cup holders, the Australians can set the site.

AFTER CRUSHING four other unoccupied automobiles this huge 26-ton United States Army tank came to rest on top of the fifth car. Tank driver Robert B. Duke, 25, of Headquarters Company, 11th Armoured Cavalry, California National Guard, swerved his vehicle to miss a car pulling out of a driveway. No one was injured. The accident occurred at Downey, California.

Costs 3 Million To Provide More Water

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—An engineers report Tuesday recommended expenditures of about $3,000,000 to provide water for a bigger London in the future.

James F. MacLaren Associates, consulting engineers from Toronto, said: "We find that it is probable that by 1974 the (public utilities) commission will be required to serve a metropolitan population of 180,000 with an average daily water consumption of 22,500,000 gallons."

—Basil Grover, assistant PUC manager, estimated an average of 10,000,000 to 11,000,000 gallons a day now is used by London's 98,000 citizens and those served in the suburbs. The suburban population is estimated at 17,000.

Among the recommendations of the engineers were: Building a water treatment plant and pumping station at Fanshawe lake—a dammed lake on the Thames river north of here—at a cost of $1,200,000; expenditures of $1,600,000 to extend and enlarge the distribution system, and a two-year test drilling program in the valley of the Medway creek to find new sources of water.

Newfoundland Finds Tourism Becoming Important Industry

By STEWART MacLEOD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP) — Although still in its infancy, Newfoundland's tourist industry is already big business.

The industry was of little value to the province before Confederation when only the hunter and fisherman crossed the Cabot strait with touring in mind.

The boom that struck the province following Confederation affected the tourist industry. The number of visitors is increasing each year. Hotels are more crowded, train and plane reservations are harder to get and guides are doing a bigger business.

The tourist office, directed by O. L. Vardy, is faced with problems unique in Canada.

First, accommodations are skimpy. Although there are several first-class hotels there is not enough room for all the travellers. Lack of highways is another big factor.

The places tourists are most interested in seeing are the colorful outports, but the majority of these villages are without hotels or guest houses.

During 1953, the tourist bureau mailed 150,000 pieces of literature about the province. Another 30,000 prospective visitors asked for information, but it is not known how many of these came here, or how many came without asking for literature.

The industry will get a shot in the arm next summer with the completion of the new ferry run from North Sydney, N.S., to Port aux Basque. This should keep business at a comparatively high pitch until 1956 when the trans-Canada highway is expected to be completed.

Pay Increase For Parliament Virtually Assured After Confusing Debate

OTTAWA (CP)—A pay increase for parliamentarians to $10,000 from $6,000 a year virtually is assured.

In a Commons debate Tuesday that was at times confusing, members approved government legislation proposing a $4,000 increase in indemnities for MPs and Senators.

This, however did not come about until after:

1. The CCF party split on the principle of raising pay. Seven were in favor and 15, along with 10 Progressive Conservative members, were opposed.

2. CCF proposals, first to reduce the proposed increase by half and then to eliminate the 102-member Senate from any pay increase, were defeated.

3. A Social Credit amendment, suggesting members be given a choice of taking part or all of the increase wage, was defeated.

ADOPT SUGGESTIONS

4. The government adopted opposition suggestions to increase penalties for absenteeism.

The bill, given second reading, approval in principle, and clause-by-clause approval, now awaits third and final reading before it is sent to the Senate.

The CCF split came on the motion for second reading, which was carried by a vote of 155 to 45.

The 30 PCs voting against the motion followed the lead set by Opposition Leader Drew, who criticized the government's method in presenting the bill. Nineteen were absent.

He said there had been no justification for any of the suggested increases and urged a preliminary study by a royal commission or special committee.

VOTED FOR BILL

Prime Minister St. Laurent had announced that Liberal members could vote as each saw fit, but all 132 Liberals present voted for the bill. There were 39 absent.

Thirteen Social Credit members—all but two, who were absent—voted with the government, as did the three Independent members.

Mr. Coldwel, CCF leader, said he could not oppose the principle of the bill because he felt some increase was warranted. Six CCF members went along with him.

They were Claire Gillis (Cape Breton South), Joseph W. Noseworthy (York South), Harold Winch (Vancouver East), Erhart Regier (Burnaby-Coquitlam), Max Campbell (Battlefords), and Thomas Barnett (Comox-Alberni).

Two, Mr. Gillis and Mr. Noseworthy, said the entire $4,000 increase should pass and later voted against the two CCF amendments to limit the increase to $2,000 and to eliminate senators from any increase.

CCF AMENDMENT DEFEATED

The first CCF amendment, by Mr. Coldwell, was defeated by a vote of 96 to 15, CCF members its only supporters.

The proposal by Stanley Knowles (CCF—Winnipeg North Cetnre) to bar senators from the increase was defeated 122 to 20. A Progressive Conservative, Wallace Nesbitt (Oxford), joined 19 CCF members in supporting the motion.

The 15 CCF members who opposed second reading of the bill were headed by Angus MacInnis (CCF—Vancouver Kingsway), who had criticized bitterly any increase whatsoever.

TAKE-IT-OR-LEAVE-IT

Later a Social Credit member, the Rev. E. G. Hansell (Macleod), proposed a take-it-or-leave-it amendment under which members could choose to accept payment of part or all of the $4,000 raise.

Social Credit members were alone in backing the amendment, which was defeated 148 to 8.

Police Cars Try Safety Belts

TORONTO (CP) — Aircraft-type safety belts are being installed here for a month's trial in selected police and fire department automobiles.

Study of accidents showed the most vulnerable seat is that at the right-hand of the driver, from which the passenger is thrown by collision against the dashboard or through the windshield. It has been called the "suicide seat."

Fire Chief Joseph Waterman and his deputy, Len Leigh, have had belts installed on this seat in their cars. Similarly equipped for the experiment are three police cars of suburban Forest Hill, two of the Ontario Provincial Police and one of the Toronto traffic police.

Deputy Commissioner W. H. Lougheed of the OPP said the belts would be given a 30-day test, and the fire department cars are also being given a month's trial. Inspector Joseph Thurston of the Forest Hill force however said the belts are being fitted to their cars as a permanent fixture.

Leafs' Doctor Dies

TORONTO (CP) — Dr. Horace MacIntyre, 65, well-known chest consultant and chief medical adviser to Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League, died Tuesday night. He retired some time ago but was still active in the medical field after his retirement.

Woman 110, Dies In Amherstburg

AMHERSTBURG (CP) — Mrs. Caroline Bowes, who would have been 111 Feb. 24, died quietly at her home Tuesday.

She left no relatives and was predeceased by her husband many years ago. Mrs. Bowes lived most of her life in Amherstburg. She was born in Anderton township. Her only interest was in the Mount Beulah International Church of God in Christ at Amherstburg.

Mrs. Bowes had been deaf for seven years and blind for about eight.

Contract Awarded For Ammonia Plant

TORONTO (CP)—The Fluor Corporation Ltd., of Canada has been awarded the contract for the engineering and construction of a $3,000,000 ammonia plant expansion of Dow Chemical of Canada Ltd., at Sarnia.

Announcing the contract, J. P. Wiseman, Fluor's president said that engineering of the plant will be handled by the company's associate, H. G. Acres and Company, Niagara Falls, Ont.

Construction will start almost immediately at Dow's Sarnia works, with completion scheduled late this year, Mr. Wiseman said.

Editors Holding Windsor Meeting

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Managing editors of Canadian daily newspapers will start arriving Thursday for the annual four-day conference to feature panel discussions on current problems and speakers from the United States and Canada.

President of the conference and first speaker is Irenee Masson of Le Soleil, Quebec City. Other speakers include Edgar A. Guest, Detroit Free Press poet, Raymond Daniell, Ottawa correspondent of the New York Times and Norman Isaacs, managing editor of the Louisville (Ky.) Times.

Panel discussions will be on "What has teletype setting done to our newspapers" and "Labor-management press relations." Speakers on the latter will include Walter Reuther, CIO and United Automobile Workers' president.

R. A. Farquharson, director of information for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, will speak Saturday followed by Roger Lemelin, Quebec correspondent for Time magazine.

Loses Sight of Eye

ORILLIA (CP)—Frank Nettleton, 19, lost the sight of an eye Monday night in an Industrial Hockey League game here.

ONE ACCIDENT

In spite of slippery conditions there was only one accident in the city Tuesday. Damage to vehicles was light and there were no injuries. Mrs. Thelma Welsh, 754 Fairburn St. and Francis Condon, RR 10, Peterborough, were driving the vehicles involved in the collision which occurred at Water and Meter streets.

MONDAY CLOSING

The new bylaw regulating the business hours of grocery and fruit stores and butcher shops will come into effect Friday, February 12, it was announced today by City Clerk E. A. Outram. All Peterborough stores in these categories will be required to remain closed all day Monday, beginning February 15, except when a statuatory holiday occurs on another day in the week. They are permitted to remain open all day each Wednesday.

Third Reporter Quits Guatemala

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A San Diego newspaper man today reported that he voluntarily left Guatemala at the same time two other North American correspondents were ousted by the left-wing government, and that he believes secret police were shadowing him.

In a dispatch from Mexico City, Dave Hellyer, inter-American affairs editor of the San Diego Union, said he flew from Guatemala City Monday on the same plane with Sydney Gruson, New York Times correspondent, and Marshall F. Bannell, NBC reporter, who were ordered to leave the country.

"The fact that the government expelled Gruson and Bannell may indicate that the secret police would have got around to me eventually. I had the feeling of being shadowed while I was in Guatemala. They have a lot of men around in black fedoras and they are watching everyone," he said.

Anti-Skeeter Campaign

WINNIPEG (CP)—The greater Winnipeg anti-mosquito campaign has prepared a bill to be introduced in the Manitoba legislature, providing a new financial basis for the anti-mosquito work. The bill would place a levy on all municipalities in the area on the basis of 10 cents a head of population, and is estimated to yield $34,700 yearly.

Will Elect Committee For Centre

Revitalized Group Needed To Build Community Centre

A public meeting will be called in a week or so to elect a new general committee for the Peterborough Memorial Community Centre.

A new general committee, plus a building committee, will have to be functioning before the private bill to use a part of Morrow Park as a site for the long-delayed memorial centre goes before the private bills committee of the Ontario legislature, February 21.

Mayor Norm Graham, eager to "get this thing going," called a special meeting Tuesday afternoon of all former committee members. But they soon found themselves stymied.

1. Minutes and records of the organizational work, which began back in 1945, are missing. It may be that Mrs. Joseph Jebson, wife of the former general chairman, has them in Toronto; if not they could have been destroyed.

2. Composition of the old general committee is not known exactly. It consisted of about 30 people, representing various civic groups. But over the years a number of the committee members have died, moved away, or become disinterested. A new general committee should be chosen at a public meeting, the group who met Tuesday decided.

3. An offshoot of the general committee will be a seven-man building committee who will hold office until the first unit of the community centre is finished. Four of the members will be appointed by the general committtee and three will be appointed by city council.

"Public funds have been invested and I think we should have a public meeting," said Alderman Stanley McBride. "Then we can find out who will continue to act."

"There's been a lot of criticism of the committee," said J. E. Weir. "Perhaps the public would like some new blood. I think the public would like a say in the choice."

"I think we should cut the committee down—so it will be in more workable form—and then go ahead from there," said Harold Dormer.

It was finally decided that not much could be done at the Tuesday meeting but a five-man group, under the chairmanship of Mayor Graham, was appointed. Function of the committee will be to find out who were the original committee members and who would be willing to serve.

An attempt will also be made to locate the minutes and records of the previous committee before the public meeting is called.

Tugboat Workers Postpone Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Tugboat workers today postponed a threatened strike in this port until after a new contract proposal can be voted on by the union's membership Sunday.

Joseph E. O'Grady, director of the city's division of labor relations, announced the postponement following an all-night meeting of representatives of tug, barge and tanker operators with negotiators of Local 333 of the United Marine Division of the old International Longshoremen's Association.

The walkout had been scheduled for last midnight, but the deadline passed without incident because negotiators were still together when the hour arrived. The new proposal was made by the employers, but details were not disclosed.

Bonus Catch

QUEBEC (CP)—The tommycod caught along the St. Lawrence are not only a seasonal delicacy. Among them are tagged fish worth $1 each. More than 3,000 have been tagged in the last three seasons and provincial fish experts pay $1 on receipt of the tag with information on size of the fish.

LOOKING OVER A LIST of their 1954 union officers are five members of Local 19, NUPSE (CCL), non-medical Civic Hospital employees. They held their annual election of officers Tuesday night at the Labor Centre. Shortly before they were sworn in by Alfred Barber, president of the Peterborough and District Labor Council (CCL), these five were photographed: (left to right) George Linsdell, president; William Yates, vice-president; Mrs. Meta Tivy, secretary-treasurer; Miss Arlene Jackson, recording secretary; and Thomas McIlhagga, chief steward.—(Examiner Staff Photo)

Gerald Berry Installed 8th Archbishop

HALIFAX (CP)—Most Rev. Joseph Gerald Berry, Bishop of Peterborough, became the eighth Archbishop of Halifax in a ceremony in Saint Mary's Roman Catholic basilica Tuesday night.

He succeeds Most Rev. John T. McNally, who died in 1952. No successor has been appointed to the Peterborough diocese.

James Cardinal McGuigan of Toronto presented Archbishop Berry with the crozier, the symbol of his ecclesiastical jurisdiction, following the reading in Latin and English of the apostolic mandate, the papal document appointing Archbishop Berry to the metropolitan see of Halifax.

Archbishop Berry, 52, who will administer the spiritual guidance and leadership of 71,000 catholics in Nova Scotia, speaks French and English fluently.

BASILICA CROWDED

About 1,500 persons packed the 134-year-old basilica for the ceremony.

Archbishop Berry, born in Montreal, was educated at the College de Montreal, the Grand Seminary, Montreal, and studied at Queen's University, Kingston. He majored in sociology at the Catholic University of Washington.

He was director of the Catholic Welfare Bureau of Montreal from 1940 to 1945, when he was consecrated as Bishop of Peterborough and named head of the Federated Catholic Charities.

Father, Son Suspended For Hockey Tilt Fight

TORONTO (CP) — The Ontario Minor Hockey Association today announced the suspension of a father and son following a fight in a juvenile hockey game between Campbellford and Norwood.

The son, Glen Wilson of Campbellford, was suspended for two years for striking a referee. His father, Howard Wilson, coach of the team, has been suspended for the remainder of the season for going on the ice during the fight between his son and the referee.

City's Welfare Department Spent $69,756.50 In 1953

Total expenditure of the welfare department of the city council last year amounted to $69,756.50 as itemized in the 34th annual report of A. G. Metheral, welfare officer and plumbing inspector. Contributions from the Ontario government and other sources totalled $28,285.46, leaving the net cost to the city at $41,471.04.

Appropriation of the city council for welfare purposes in 1953 was $41,800, leaving a credit balance of $328.96 after deducting the net expenditure of $41,471.04.

The provincial government assumed $23,404.33 as 50% of sharable relief; receipts from the Ontario Medical association, $2,909.55; relief refunded $20; refund of funeral $125; Christmas cheer clothing donation $100; and collection of chargebacks to other places $1,726.58, amounting to $28,285.46.

SLIGHTLY HIGHER

Mr. Metheral shows that the welfare cost to the city was slightly higher last year, $41,471.04 as against $40,631.11 in 1952.

Main items of relief expenditure for the year were: food, $32,914.36; shelter, $8,506.33; fuel, $6,626.41; clothing, $1,236.48; doctors, $3,900.44; sanatorium aftercare, $2,247.63; funerals, $597.

The number of persons receiving relief during December, 1953, was 267; registrations for relief during the year, 141; 24 were chargeable to the municipality in full, and of the remainder 71 were aided because of age or illness.

Assistance was given in fourteen cases of desertion and eleven on account of imprisonment of the head of the family; three while awaiting old age pensions; six were mothers with illegitimate children, and two were waiting dependents' allowance from the army.

Five residents were recommended for free insulin; 24 received free insulin paid for by the city to the extent of 25%. The sum of $143.78 was paid to the provincial Department of Health for that purpose.

Thirteen needy citizens received individual cheques quarterly from the treasurer of the Almira Grover Foley estate fund, amounting to $520.

Nine churches co-operated with the department in distribution of Christmas cheer, and 28 donations from the Green estate were given out through the welfare office, amounting to $287.75.

Sixty-five applications for old age pensions were completed; also 28 mothers allowances, one blind pension; 15 disabled persons allowances; and 33 old age security medicals, a total 142 applications. Of these 66 were home calls where the applicant was unable to visit the welfare office.

Mr. Metheral reported 374 hospital investigations, resulting in 229 admissions and 58 refusals because of residence or financial circumstances. Of the 221 admissions, 103 were to Civic Hospital, 75 St. Joseph's and 51 were to outside hospitals.

Of the outside hospitals, 17 were to sanatoria, four to Ontario hospitals and 30 general.

Cost of hospitalization: St. Joseph's, $8,856.90; Peterborough Civic, $14,661.60; convalescent homes, $2,430.01; total, $25,948.51.

Indigent patients cost the city $22,412.61; relief recipients, $3-535.90; total $25,948.51, and against that were collections on local hospitals of $992.78, leaving net hospital cost at $24,955.73.

Peterborough paid for 51 patients in hospitals outside the city: total, $5,999; less $367 collections in some instances; net cost to city, $5,632 for out of town payments, a decrease of $809 from last year.

Net hospitalization cost for the year, $30,587.73; net increase, $343.03; transportation to and from hospitals $183.

Payments to Children's Aid Societies: city and county of Peterborough, $20,336.40; other C.A.S., $9,520; total, $29,857.25. Refund (1/3) by province, $7,464.31.

Cost to city, $22,392.94 as against $15,795 last year.

Training schools cost the city $2,221 as compared with $2,164 in 1952.

City To Seek Buyer For Scrap At City Dump

The sanitation committee of city council Tuesday recommended that the city advertise for tenders on the salvage of scrap material from the landfill project in North Monaghan township.

The move was made on the suggestion of Mayor Norman Graham who felt the city was not getting enough for the salvage of scrap. Revenue from the sale of scrap last year totalled only $246.50.

City Clerk E. A. Outram strongly approved the proposal. Sanitation Superintendent J. E. Pierce said he would like to have a private firm salvage the scrap but warned that, although prices for scrap paper and cardboard has gone up a little, prices for scrap metal had fallen.

Mr. Pierce said the city used to have a rental contract for salvage but had later dropped it. Mayor Graham said he and the clerk had drawn up the contract and had been told the city would get between $6,000 and $7,000 a year but the revenue had dropped to $200.

MIGHT DELAY WORK

Mr. Pierce pointed out that the garbage at the landfill project was buried each night. A private salvage contractor might delay this.

Ald. Harold Rehill added that North Monaghan township had objected to fires in the old dump and the same situation might rise again if the garbage remained uncovered for any length of time before a private contractor got around to removing salvageable materials.

"I'm all in favor of reclaiming all the salvage we can; but there would have to be close supervision," Ald. Rehill said.

Mayor Graham suggested this difficulty could be got around by a contract calling for payment by the ton. Ald. Bill Beggs added that certain time restrictions could be stipulated for salvaging.

His Worship recommended also that all scrap should be weighed on the city scales.

George Linsdell Re-elected Head Hospital Workers

George Linsdell on Tuesday night was re-elected president of Local 19, National Union of Public Service Employees (CCL.) It is his second consecutive year in office.

Forty-four members of the local, representing 102 of the non-medical employees at Civic Hospital, were present for the annual election of officers.

Following is a list of local's officers for 1954:

George Linsdell, president; William Yates, vice-president, replacing John Fenn; Miss Arlene Jackson, recording-secretary, replacing Mrs. Lorne Chapman; Mrs. Meta Tivey, re-elected secretary-treasurer; Thomas McIlhagga chief steward, replacing Robert Morris; Jack Connelly, tyler, replacing Mr. McIlhagga; and six stewards-laundry, Lorne Sunford; cleaners, Stanley Loucks; orderlies, Robert Muirhead; ward aides, Mrs. Florence Coones; kitchen, Harvey McDougall; cafeteria, Mrs. Annie Young; auditors-Mrs. Coones and Mr. McIlhagga.

Local 19 have applied for the conciliation services of the Ontario department of labor in their contract dispute with the Civic Hospital board of governors.

Fourth Appraisal Of House Value Different Again

A fourth appraisal of the house and land, formerly at 501 Water St., was given today in the Best arbitration case now going before Judge John de N. Kennedy.

The one-and-a-half storey, seven-room house, on a lot 91-ft. 7-in. by 115-ft., was one of the properties expropriated by the city in 1948 so the block could be used for the new city hall. The arbitration case is to decide on how much the city should pay Miss Marjorie Best for the forcible taking of her property.

John R. Sinclair, real estate appraiser who was called to give expert evidence on behalf of the city, valued the property at $7,043.50. He estimated the land value at $55 a foot frontage for the 91-ft. 7-in. on the west side of Water St.; and another $2,000 for the building, more than 90 years old.

Mr. Sinclair tangled repeatedly with Alex Elliott, QC, counsel for Miss Best. Mr. Elliott didn't like the witness's appraisal because he had not made any allowance for the Best garden which George Sorenson, landscaper, had estimated would take 25 to 30 years to develop and would cost anywhere from $4,000 to $7,000 if a professional gardener did the job.

Mr. Sinclair said the garden didn't enter into his calculations. Some purchasers like one sort of garden; others like another. Besides, you don't expect to buy a house with nothing but a pile of rocks and old tin cans scattered about.

Appraisals have ranged from $6,919 by W. Ross Thompson to $18,177.90 by Adam Sands. Gordon Hancock appraised the property at $15,296.

Messrs. Thompson and Sinclair were expert witnesses called by the city, and Messrs. Hancock and Sands were experts called by Miss Best.

T. J. Carley is counsel for the city.

The arbitration case continued today after an adjournment since last Friday afternoon.

City Winds Up Business With Surplus Of $29,315 For 1953

Greatly Exceeds Estimated Surplus of $259 Fines, Meters Scoop Up More Than Expected, Some Departments Cut Operating Costs

Although the 1953 city council budgeted for an estimated surplus of $259.42, the actual surplus at the end of last year was $29,315.03, it has been reported by City Treasurer A. S. Couper and City Auditor Ed. Humpage in their annual statement of revenues and expenditures. The bulk of this surplus is accounted for by higher revenues than were expected from sources other than taxes, notably police court fines and parking meter revenues. But a substantial part is due to the fact that cost of operating some departments was lower than had been estimated, although this was at least partly offset by higher costs in other departments.

Another factor to be taken into account is the provision for "miscellaneous expenses," a catch-all item designed to provide for unforeseen expenditures including salary and wage increases. (Union wage contracts with the city are renewed annually at the first of April so that wage increases cannot be accurately estimated in the budget, which is prepared earlier.) Of $69,576.55 provided in the budget, only $50,730.74 was spent on these miscellaneous items.

$45,230 IN METERS

Leading the way in extra revenues were parking meter receipts which totalled $45,230.59, although only $34,000 was estimated from this source. Police court fines were also higher than expected, totalling $32,814.81 in place of the estimated $25,000.

Another unexpected jump in revenue was receipt of more than $6,000 above what was estimated in payments in lieu of taxes, $14,679.68 from wartime housing and $14,890.53 from the utilities commission. Wartime housing payments had been estimated at $13,000 and PUC payments at $10,000.

Also higher than expected were most provincial subsidies, particularly to the fire and police departments and for roads, although the subsidy for children's aid was slightly lower than expected. Altogether, the city estimated it would obtain $88,500 in provincial subsidies. Actually, $93,348.78 was paid.

ON OTHER SIDE

Offsetting these increased revenues to some extent was a drop in the occupancy tax from additional assessments from an estimated $17,000 to $11,443.88 and less revenue from the rent of city properties than was expected. City hall rentals were expected to yield $27,000 but only $26,682.83. It was estimated that rentals from other city properties would total $35,000 but the city received only $29,574.64.

Disinherited bachelors will be pleased to note that the city expected to receive $3,800 in the form of poll tax but got only $3,715 from this source.

Lower expenditures were realized in the cost of general administration of the city, of the protection of persons and property from fire and lawbreakers and in the works department. Other departmental expenditures were, for the most part, higher than expected.

ADMINISTRATION COSTS

Expenditures for general administration were estimated at $184,151.12 but actually totalled only $181,525.76. In this category, costs were generally close to the budget estimates but in some cases there was a wider variance. For example:

The cost of municipal government was estimated at $41,400 but actual expenditures totalled $44,331.07.

Interest payments were estimated at $15,000 but were only $11,243.96.

Expenditures on law and legislation were estimated at $2,000 but totalled only $872.84.

There was $25,000 budgeted for the pension fund but only $23,022.78 was spent.

The cost of workmen's compensation was estimated at $3,500 but totalled only $2,475.69.

Biggest saving in the protection of property and persons, which, because of a refund ordered by Hydro, was only $55,854.32, instead of $68,150.54, owing to an announced increase in rates which later in the year was rescinded. This was partly offset by the fact that fire department expenditures were $194,417.22 instead of the budgeted $185,915.59.

Expenditures were greater than the estimates in the sanitation and parks departments. Estimate for the sanitation department was $93,312.85 but actual expenditures totalled $109,876.85. Parks department spending was estimated at $65,000 but actually reached $72,738.73.

Also greater than expected were property costs and debenture debt charges. Expenses of $12,000 were estimated on property but these reached $16,833.26. Debenture debt charges totalled $689,149.77 in place of the estimated $672,659.10.

Offsetting these higher expenditures were savings in the works department and payments to Civic Hospital on operating expenses. The board of works estimated it would spend $292,200 but actually only spent $286,579.98. Payments to Civic Hospital totalled $219,377.16 instead of the estimated $225,600.56.

But there was a greater drop in taxes as a result of remission from the court of revision than was expected. This sum totalled $10,063.60 instead of an estimated $4,500.

Weather Figures Confirm Return To Good Old Days

Nobody needs to be an expert weatherman to know that January of this year was a "real old-fashioned" winter.

Lots of snow and prolonged cold spells are reminders of the times on George St., when snow was brushed to the sides of the street by the streetcar sweeper and left in piles until spring.

The centre of the street took on the appearance of a trough-shaped bobsled run and the only parking problem was the lack of space in the livery stables. From the car tracks only the tops of the moving persian lamb hats marked citizens going to and fro about their daily business.

The following comparative record—January just past against the same month a year ago — shows that it was indeed colder and snowier than last year and other recent years.

The highest temperature was 46 degrees on January 15, 1953, and 43 degrees on the 26th this year. Last year's January low was 8 below on the 8th and on this, 18 below on the 18th which gives an average temperature of 23.7 degrees in January 1953 and 14.5 in the current January.

There was more rain in '53 with .74 inches compared to .2 inches in January of this year, but less snow then with 8 inches against the current 14 inches. Combined snow-rain both years was practically the same — 1.54 inches in 1953 and 1.6 inches in 1954.

The average minimum temperature in the month just past was 3.7 degrees, that is, the average of the lowest Peterborough temperatures recorded each night by weatherman Jim Harrison. For good measure Mr. Harrison worked out the fact that there were 16 nights during the past month when the thermometer registered below zero.

Hard To Make Ends Meet

Hospital Not Overcharging As Some Patients Think

A lot of people go to hospitals and most of them come back. Some of them pay their bills and some do not. However, nearly everyone seems to complain either that their charges are too high or that they cannot understand where the costs come from.

They challenge the hospital's claim that it can't make a profit on hospital care.

In many cases, when the public argues against official findings, its rigid and uninformed views can be attributed to ignorance of the real facts. This might be so in this case.

It is easy to realize that a patient who goes into hospital for, say 10 days, soon loses joy in his new-found health when a bill of about $100 arrives. In his own way he makes a rapid calculation of the benefits he has received, their approximate cost, and then he begins to remember that Dr. Blank who has two new cars and that the hospital houses a lot of prosperous looking executives, doubtless earning high salaries.

By the time his opinion has been passed around a few times, hospitals have become profiteers. He figures that maybe he should open his own hospital and get in on the high finance.

Because the charges on hospital bills mystify many people, the Examiner, with the assistance of Civic Hospital superintendent John Hornal, found out just what costs make up an average hospital bill.

As Foster McGaw, president, American Hospital Supply Corporation, says, the simple truth of the matter is that the total cost to a patient hospitalized today is very likely to be less than it was 20 years ago. Hard to believe, but nevertheless true.

Here are the facts about two actual cases of pneumonia treated in the same hospital, by the same staff—twenty years apart.

In 1931 a patient suffering from lobar pneumonia had a prolonged fever and operative procedure was necessary. The duration of the illness was 100 days and it cost the patient $500 in time lost off work.

Fever lasted less than 24 hours with a patient in 1952, and in 10 days he was back to full-time work. He lost only $100 from being off work.

In the first case the costs of medication were $17.45 for symptomatic relief and in the second amounted to $1.65 for symptomatic relief and $18 for penicillin.

The total hospital cost of the illness in 1934 was $558.25, while in 1952 it amounted to only $122.50.

Mr. Hornal gave the instance of a typical case dealt with at the Civic Hospital. This is what would be done for a man admitted with a fractured neck of the femur (fractured thigh).

The first cost would be $25 for the operation. He would probably be on the operating table about two hours and a charge of $6 would be made for the anesthetic. A special plate fitted to the thigh bone would assist in speedier use of the leg at a cost of $15.

A sum of $30 would cover costs of X-rays and the moderate amount of drugs administered to combat infection would amount to $5.

The charges for board at the hospital varies as to the type of room taken. However, for this patient's probable stay of 15 days the charge for an ordinary private room would be $150 ($10 a day).

In all, the patient would be charged $231. He would be back at work in a comparatively short time and his loss in that capacity would not be too great. So there would not appear to be too much profit for the hospital in that case.

Actually, statistics prove that the Civic Hospital is losing money on its overall operations.

"We certainly don't make a profit when you lose $210,000 on a million-dollar budget as we did last year," commented Mr. Hornal.

The city of Peterborough is subsidizing hospital costs to provide a service at below cost simply because the board of governors realizes that the rates are now as high as the people can afford to pay.

Then people must not forget that someone has to provide for those who cannot or will not pay their bills. Over a 12-month period this amounts to a considerable sum. Last year approximately $56,000 was needed for indigent patients (those who do not pay). There is certainly no profit for the hospital in that issue.

Mr. Hornal attributes the wonder drugs such as penicillin and cortisone, to the quick healing of a majority of patients. Admittedly they are expensive but without them most patients would be in hospital much longer. They also give people a better chance of survival and after all the main thing is to keep alive.

Lindsay Second After Win Over Midland

LINDSAY —(ENS)— Lindsay juniors climbed back to second place in the Central Ontario junior "B" group standing here last night as they hung on for an 11-9 win over the Midland Red Wings, in one of the wildest games seen in the local arena in two years. It produced 20 goals, 18 minor penalties, two majors, five misconducts and a penalty shot.

The Lindsayites, playing shorthanded, again had to come from behind with a third period rally for the win. Midland took the lead 5-2 at the end of the first period, hung on and had an 8-6 margin in the second but the Lindsayites came back with five goals in the final frame to clinch the issue.

Art Truax and Tom Hutton led the winners with four goals each. Hutton scored three of his in the last period, one on a great solo rush with his team shorthanded in the final minute of the game.

Barrett with three, and James with two were top snipers for the visitors.

STRUCK EARLY

Truax and Hutton were the Lindsay scorers in the first period, when Midland looked to be on their way. Webb, Simms, Lizotte and Barrett with two, gave the Red Wings their lead. The period was marked by a flurry of minor penalties handed out by Referee Herb Payne of Peterborough, and included four misconducts—to Graham and Packer of Lindsay, and James and Hendrickson of Midland for starting fights in the penalty box after they had received minors.

In the second, the Lindsayites outscored the visitors with Packer, Cochrane twice and Truax hitting for the home club, James twice and Gerow counting for Midland.

Lindsay came out flying for the third period. Within five minutes the score was tied on a pair of goals by Hutton, and Truax added another pair before Barrett got the only Midland goal of the frame. Hutton added the clincher with a minute to go in the period.

The teams settled down in the final two periods, although Hal Williams of Lindsay and Webb of Midland drew majors for fighting in the second.

Honor Warsaw Couple On 50th Anniversary

WARSAW (ENS)—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sharpe were honored by more than 200 friends and relatives in the town hall on Monday night on their 50 wedding anniversary. The evening was spent in dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. Sharpe were presented with gifts from friends in the community. Stewart Clysdale made the presentations and read a letter of congratulations.

The gifts were a rangette, table lamp, elecetric tea kettle, chest of silverware, cushion tri- light lamp, a purse of money and several other gifts.

The family presented their mother and father each with a gold wrist watch.

The table in the front of the hall was decorated with flowers and a large anniversary cake.

Lunch was served and dancing was resumed.

2 Brothers Plead Guilty To Theft

KITCHENER (CP)—Two brothers from Hamilton, Emery and John Gatton, pleaded guilty Tuesday to entering the Aaron Metzger egg grading station near Elmira, and taking 250 dozen eggs.

They were remanded one week for sentence. After the robbery Jan. 19 at Elmira, 10 miles north of Kitchener, the eggs were left in a car overnight, were frozen and later discarded in a swamp near Guelph.

Suburban Population Soon Equals Toronto

TORONTO (CP) — Population of Toronto's 12 suburbs will equal that of the city within four years if present expansion continues, statisticians told metropolitan council Tuesday.

In June last year, the city had an estimated 723,000 persons, and the suburbs 527,000. The total of 1,250,000 was an increase of 25 per cent in five years.

JOE AND MARILYN LEAVE FOR TOKYO—Former Yankee baseball star Joe DiMaggio (left), his bride, actress, Marilyn Monroe, and Lefty O'Doul, manager of the San Diego Padres, wave as they board a plane at San Francisco. They were going to Tokyo where they were to open the 1954 Japanese baseball season. DiMaggio said that he "definitely" planned to make San Francisco their home when they returned. Marilyn is wearing a bandage on her broken thumb which she injured when she banged it against a door.

'RINGER' JURY HUNG

LONDON (AP)—A jury failed Tuesday to reach a verdict in the trial of five men accused of plotting the biggest swindle since the 1844 Derby in British racing—the "case of the 2 o'clock race at Bath" last July 16.

The defendants in the case, the betting fix that falled, were granted bail and ordered to stand retrial.

During the 16-day trial, the prosecution described the case involving the horse Francasal and a ringer named Santa Amaro this way:

"A cunning, clever and well organized conspiracy which savors of some of the more classic stories connected with the turf."

The Francasal, or Santa Amaro, story began when a horse entered at Bath as Francasal won and paid at odds of 10 to 1. The prosecution charged the winner was not Francasal but a ringer, Santa Amaro, who looked enough like Francasal to be a twin.

Both horses were shipped from France shortly before the race. Both were two-year-olds, both dark bays, same height. There was one big difference. The Francasal's previous record [illegible] at running was the thing [illegible] to do. Santa Amaro [illegible] hand, was a pret[illegible] ho[illegible]

Shortly b[illegible] the cut the [illegible]ole [illegible] linked t[illegible]ourse with bookies' [illegible] England. Then, B[illegible]kmakers were flooded [illegible]avy bets on Francasal.

At the trial, the defendants said they tried to pull off a legitimate betting coup on Francasal and claimed that if the horses were switched it was accidental.

The prosecution alleged that the men stood to win $168,000.

LEAFS LINES SWITCHED

TORONTO (CP) — Coach King Clancy Tuesday shook up two forward lines of his Toronto Maple Leafs in search of more scoring punch for Thursday night's National Hockey League game with Montreal Canadiens.

Rudy Migay, who has been centre for wingers Eric Nesterenko and Gordie Hannigan, was shifted to left wing on a line with Teeder Kennedy and Ron Stewart.

Sid Smith, who has been left wing on the Kennedy line for five years, will play with Nesterenko on right, centred by either Hannigan or utility man Bob Bailey.

Norwood, Havelock Take Minor Contests

HAVELOCK (ENS) — The Havelock Arena was the scene of a hockey double-header Tuesday in the juvenile and bantam series with H. Hunter of Havelock and Ralph Semmelhack of Madoc as the referees.

The first game was between Norwood juveniles and Madoc, with the former winning by a score of 7 to 6. The winning goal was by McMillan on a pass from Chase in the third period.

Norwood — Goal D. Lockhead; defence, D. Smith, M. Hannon; centre, Jim Chase; wings, Ken MacMillan, Jim Ruttan; alternates, F. Rooney, E. McArthur, D. Rusaw, B. Buchanan, M. Patterson, M. Johnson.

Madoc — Goal, Bob Cassidy; defence, Norman Mahanety, Jim Bird; centre, Fred Hanler; wings, Bert Dion, Fred Thompson; alternates, Bev Woods, Percy Tuft, Bob Bateman, Jim Ellis, Barry McCann, Doug Devlin.

BANTAM GAME

In the bantam game Havelock trimmed Norwood by a score of 15-5.

Havelock — Goal, Whitney; defence, Chase, MacMillan; centre, K. Scott; wings, Don Wilde, Toms; alternates, B. Watson, J. Watson, S. Little, B. McLaughlin, R. Scott, R. McKenzie.

Norwood — Goal, Mullins; defence, R. Byer, Makie; centre, B. Thompson; wings, Black, Hamblin; alternates, Tupstra, Shorten, Dunk, Blair, B. Byer, Waldon, Morgan.

Dartmouth Has Set Construction Record

DARTMOUTH, N.S. (CP)—Dartmouth, the town that has been dubbed the bedroom of Halifax, had more construction work in 1953 than at any time in its 200-year history.

Private construction during the year totalled $6,975,600, as much as the whole town assessment 20 years ago. Building inspector Welsford Symonds said this figure does not include a $1,600,000 defence project and the town's share of the Halifax-Dartmouth bridge.

Close to 900 new living units were included in the construction. Fifty-five apartment buildings were built at a cost of $5,125,000.

Dartmouth, just across the harbor from Halifax, has about 20,000 population but is growing rapidly and Halifax city manager August Debard once said the day will come when the town will be the bedroom of Halifax.

BOLOGNA, Italy (AP) — Fire swept through Europe's biggest spaghetti factory Tuesday night. Preliminary damage estimates were around $850,000.

Say Percival Head Coach At B.C. Games

VANCOUVER (CP) — Fred Rowell, national track and field chairman of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada, said Tuesday Lloyd Percival of Toronto will be considered head coach of Canada's British Empire Games team although he will be listed only as track coach.

Rowell said Percival was asked by the union's national committee to be track coach at the games here this fall and that Frank Richard of Calgary was named field coach.

In Toronto, Percival said that he still has not received an official invitation to be a coach.

"I haven't heard a word from them," he said.

Rowell said the games association rules called for a track coach and a field coach.

"JUST QUIBBLING"

The national committee, he said, considers Percival as head coach with Richard his assistant.

Rowell charged Percival was bickering over terminology—"just quibbling over words."

"Now he's just got to put up or shut up."

Percival said:

"I am greatly embarrassed by the whole controversy. I am further embarrassed by Rowell's statement. The only thing I know about the coaching appointments is what I have read in the papers.

"I have accepted a job with the CBC assisting in coverage of the Games for them. However, they will release me from my commitments if I am offered the head coaching job. No one from the Empire Games Association has ever officially approached me to ask whether I'd be available."

Plan Goalie Aid Lyndhursts

MIDLAND (CP)—George Dudley secretary-manager of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, said Tuesday night a goal keeper may be included if Canada sends hockey players to reinforce Toronto Lyndhursts in Europe.

Lyndhursts, Canada's representatives to the world hockey tournament in Swede[illegible] Feb. 27, are currently touring [illegible]ean countries and playing ex[illegible] games.

"W[illegible] or three players, [illegible]alie," Dudley said. [illegible] is the present ne[illegible]hursts. Lawrence Kea[illegible] acts as the team's t[illegible] alternate goaltender.

Dudley said Lyndhurst coach Greg Currie will telephone him this week-end at the conclusion of the present four-game series in Switzerland.

Talk of strengthening the team began after Lyndhursts were defeated 11-2 in Paris in their first exhibition contest.

Hornets Clip Cleveland 5-4

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The American Hockey League leadership race remained unchanged after two games Tuesday night with Buffalo Bisons eight points ahead of their nearest rivals, Cleveland Barons.

The Bisons were not in action but their lead was safe as a result of a 5-4 defeat handed Cleveland by Pittsburgh Hornets. The Hornets climbed into fourth place.

In the other game of the night, Hershey Bears edged Syracuse Warriors 6-5 to strengthen their hold on third position.

2ND-PERIOD BRAWL

The Cleveland game was featured by a second-period brawl that landed five players from each team in the penalty box and forced both sides to play 10 minutes short two men.

Ray Timgren, Andy Barbe, Willie Marshall, Danny Lewicki and Earl Balfour accounted for the winners' goals.

At Hershey, the Bears won in sudden death overtime on a goal by Dunc Fisher. Fisher was the star of the night, counting three goals.

Plot Winds As Carefully As Old Sailing Masters

MONTREAL (CP)—Times have changed but the pilots of today's giant aircraft have one thing in common with masters of the old sailing ships. They still rely on the elements to speed their journeys.

In the past sailing vessels were powerless without a wind and today aircraft require a tail wind to reach their destinations in fast time.

Because of this an aerial detective hunt has been under way for some years to chart upper air currents daily so planes can sweep more quickly from one part of the world to the other.

This method of flying to a pressure pattern is paying off too. On shorter routes such as the Gander, Nfld., to Prestwick, Scotland, flight scientific use of high winds has cut the duration of an average trip by 20 to 30 minutes.

In fuel costs—an aircraft consumes 1,700 pounds of fuel an hour—the reduction means a potential saving of about 750 pounds of fuel. This has given commercial companies the opportunity to reduce fuel weight and carry more passengers without endangering their safety.

WORK OF CANADIANS

The theory of pattern flying was brought to a practical level six years ago, largely through the work of two Canadians, Ron Peel and Pete Powell, members of Trans-Canada Air Lines, and two of the world's leading navigators.

The routine today is this: Meteorologists draw an upper air chart showing the air flow at high altitudes. Navigators combine this daily report with up-to-date information they receive in flight to reach their destinations in the shortest possible time.

Meteorologists now are searching for another hidden treasure of the atmosphere. They hope soon to be able to chart the "jet stream", considered the ultimate in pressure pattern flight.

A TCA expert described the stream as a narrow band of air moving at high speeds in the upper atmosphere. If harnessed it would enable long-distance flight times to be cut still further.

This jet stream is considered so powerful by air operators that they think it possible the stream was responsible for carrying smoke from Alberta forest fires across the Atlantic to cause a "blue moon" in the British Isles, some years ago.

Contract Awarded

WASHINGTON (AP)—The third of the new 60,000-ton Forrestal-class carriers, designed to handle the biggest United States Navy planes, will cost about $182,000,000 and be built in the Virginia yards of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company, the navy announced Tuesday. The contract with the company is for a fixed price of $117,750,000. The remainder of the total cost will be for the planes, radio, radar and other equipment.

Malan Party Making Bid Push Through Segregation

By ASTLEY HAWKINS

CAPETOWN (Reuters) — The second session of the 11th Parliament of the Union of South Africa, which opened late last month, faces a long, hotly-contested fight as Premier Daniel F. Malan's Nationalist party makes a "now or never" bid to push through the final measure of its Apartheid (apartness) program of racial segregation.

This measure, on which the Nationalists have so far been blocked by the constitution and the courts, would remove the colored (mixed blodo) voters in Cape province from the common electoral roll. Under it, the coloreds would be on a separate roll and would be represented in Parliament by whites.

To push their measure through, the Nationalists will need the support of dissident members of the United party opposition.

This is so because the coloreds voting rights are protected by the "entrenched" clauses in the constitution. To change these clauses requires a two-thirds majority of a joint sitting of the two-house legislature.

SHORT 16 VOTES

Malan and his Nationalists are 16 votes short of a two-thirds majority, but are hopeful of getting the needed votes from the opposition.

The United party was torn by dissension during the last session, the first after last April's election in which Malan's Nationalists were returned to power with an increased majority. The United party split resulted in the expulsion of five of its leading members.

Malan and other prominent Nationalists, after an attempt to secure a two-thirds majority on the coloreds issue failed in the last session, indicate the government is determined to settle the matter at this session.

LAST APARTHEID MEASURE

It is the last of the government's major legislative Apartheid measures which Malan submitted to the electorate in 1948 and for which the government claims a mandate.

Meanwhile, Opposition leader Jacobus Strauss and United party congresses have shown no signs of a weakning of their resolve to withhold the required two-thirds majority.

The expelled United party men still profess allegiance to the party and its principles, but not to Strauss. They will form a separate group in Parliament.

Firemen, Enginemen Sign New Contract

MONTREAL (CP)—The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen Tuesday announced the signing of a new contract with the Canadian Pacific Railway Company covering some 1,700 firemen and hostlers in the eastern region.

The one-year agreement includes several rules changes and provision for a five-day work week in the yard and hostling service. Wage scales were not available immediately.

Lumber History Outlined By W. R. Philp

Notes preliminary to the preparation of a short historical survey of Peterborough and district were read and discussed at the monthly meeting of the Peterborough City County Historical Society held at the Public Library Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Grace Reinhardt reported on steps taken to prepare a note on the local Indians. Miss Margaret Battersby read a list of Peterborough City and County Hisvenson itemized and briefly discussed the founding of industrial plants in the city.

LUMBERING

Magistrate W. R. Philp gave a detailed, analytic account of torical Society held at the Public rict, beginning with the days when the only uses of forests were for house-building and house-warming. He discussed the expansive period of squared timber when millions of feet of tall, stout elm and white pine were cut, squared and floated in rafts through the Kawarthas and the Trent to Lake Ontario and thence down the St. Lawrence to Quebec for shipment to England. When iron ships began to replace wooden vessels and masts were no longer needed, much of this market was lost.

The next big markets were Albany and New York. With the coming of rail and steam saws, lumbering brought hundreds of thousands of dollars into the area. This industry waned, as it is an extractive industry; the forests were cut over and no reforestation schemes were undertaken.

MILITARY HISTORY

John Londerville traced the history of the military of the district from the time of the rebellion of 1837 through the South African war to the two world wars. He remarked that since artillery units do not have colors or battle honors, those of the local regiment now deposited in St. John's church are likely to remain there, since the regiment has been transformed from infantry to Anti-Aircraft, a branch of artillery.

Miss Alexandra Howson reported on historic and beauty spots to be seen in the city and district, describing them and telling how to reach them. Her observations covered many areas and her enthusiasm whetted the desires of members who had missed some of the sights to go and see for themselves as soon as possible. The list, as being prepared, is to be mainly for the guidance of visitors to Peterborough city and county.

DIRECTORS ELECTED

Following the routine business of a monthly meeting, the annual meeting was held and reports were read by the secretary, Miss Heideman, and Miss Margaret Battersby, the treasurer. The re-organized society had its first meeting last March. The secretary's report showed that so much has been accomplished since that time, that William Graff moved that a copy of the annual report be sent to the Ontario Historical Society for their reference.

Mrs. B. D. Hall gave the report of the nominating committee and the following directors whose one-year term had expired were re-elected for three years: Mrs. F. D. Kerr, Miss Heideman, Mrs. Gordon Maniece, Mr. Graff.

John Londerville, president of the Society, was in the chair.

At the next meeting, Tuesday March 2nd, Colonel Richard Birdsall will give a paper.

M. P. HUGHES, who was elected president of the Life Underwriters' Association of Canada at the 47th annual meeting. Mr. Hughes is manager of the London branch of the Imperial Life Assurance Co.

Discover Canadians Use More Banks

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadians use banks more than residents of any other country, James Stewart of Toronto, president of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, said today.

In an address prepared for delivery at a Canadian Club meeting, he said Canada has one bank for each 3,716 persons. Its nearest rival in this regard, the United ingdom, has one to each 3,900 persons.

Mr. Stewart said the banker's equivalent of the maxim of not carrying all one's eggs in one basket is spreading loan risks over a wide area.

Newspapers Miss Photos Due To Mix-up

WINNIPEG (CP) — Newspaper photographers and reporters were unable to snap close-up pictures or interview drivers prior to the start of the 200-mile Canadian open dog sled championships Tuesday due to a "forgetful festival committee," RCMP superintendent R. W. Wonnacott said here.

RCMP at The Pas, where the annual trapper's festival is held, forbade any picture-taking or interviews.

The inspector said he had phoned The Pas and talked to some of his men.

GIVEN ORDERS

He added:

"They were told the CBC television cameras had exclusive photography rights, and members of the festival committee, somehow forgot about the newspaper men. They also told me that the TV cameras occupied the area that the press boys wanted to snap their pictures from.

"Everything is straightened out now and there won't be another mix-up like this."

LOL Service Held For Allan Tobico

ROSENEATH (ENS) — Members of Roseneath and Alderville L.O.L. as a group attended the funeral service for Allan Tobico at Alderville church on Monday afternoon.

The service was conducted by the Rev. J. N. Lovelace, pastor of Alderville church assisted by Mr. H. Lander, Coldsprings, a former pastor.

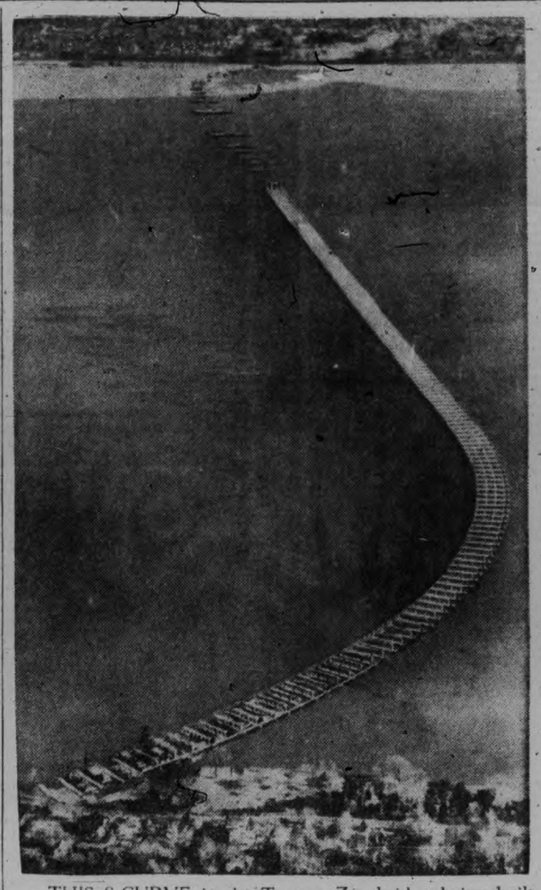
The deceased was one of the oldest members of Alderville L.O.L.. He also spoke Indian fluently and the mixed choir of the church with Percy Marsden at the organ sang one of his favorite Indian hymns in native tongue at the service.

The members of Rosneath L.O.L. 261 conducted the L.O.L. graveside service with O. J. Robins, W. M. in charge assisted by Douglas L. Coyle as chaplain and James L. Timlin as deputy master.

The floral tributes were carried by Thomas Lean, Roseneath, Moses Marsden, Lakefield; Albert Brown, Coldsprings and Zachariah Smoke, Alderville.

The pallbearers were: Earl Smoke, Cobourg; Orra J. Robins, Jas. Webb, Roseneath; ;Clayborne Beaver, William Bigwin and Sandford Smoke, Alderville.

Friends and relatives were present from Toronto, Clarkson, Oakville, Lakefield, Coldsprings, Cobourg, Roseneath and Alderville.



THIS S-CURVE in the Tappen Zee bridge being built to carry the New York State thruway over the Hudson River between Tarrytown, top, and the west bank of the river south of Nyack, N.Y., foreground, was designed by engineers because of the topography on both shores. It was considered easier to make the turns over water rather than on land, where 90 degree curves would have been necessary.

Ask Setting Up Of Commission

ORILLIA (CP)—A royal commission investigation of Ontario highways administration was urged Tuesday night at two meetings in the Feb. 8 Simcoe East Ontario provincial by-election campaign.

Farquhar Oliver, House leader of the Liberal group in the Ontario legislature, assailed the government for its handling of the Lakehead highways investigation. He contended the inquiry should be by royal commission. The government has appointed a private firm to investigate.

Mr. Oliver spoke at Oro in support of W. L. Moore, Liberal candidate.

URGES COMMISSION TOO

Fred Young of Toronto, runner-up in the voting for the Ontario CCF leadership last year, also urged a royal commission. He said the suspicion is that the private investigation's report may be "hidden from the public or changed."

Mr. Young spoke at Coldwater on behalf of Wilfred Hoult, CCF candidate for the seat left vacant by the death of John D. McPhee, Progressive Conservative.

Find Enthusiasm In Australia Almost Hysteria

SYDNEY, Australia, (CP)—Jubilant Australians leaned from surfboards and skyscrapers today to hail Queen Elizabeth's arrival with enthusiasm rivalling London's coronation ceremony last year.

Milling mobs filled Sydney's streets from the moment the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh landed today until a giant blaze of fireworks in the evening put the finishing touch to the biggest welcome of the royal couple's current Commonwealth tour.

An army of policemen manned barriers along the Queen's route as she drove through the city. But surging crowds, whose enthusiasm almost reached hysteria at times, toppled the barriers and jammed vantage points to watch every minute of the Queen's public appearance.

They clambered onto motor boats and surfboards to meet the liner Gothic as it entered the harbor bringing the royal couple from New Zealand.

Crowds hung from roofs and windows of office buildings as the royal couple drove through the city.

A mixture of paper confetti and rose petals showered the Queen's car as it passed through lines of soldiers, police and sailors.

Crowds formed again in the afternoon, when the Queen visited the building where she will open parliament Thursday.

SEES CIVILIZATION—Akyak, member of an Eskimo tribe living near Perry River, 75 miles inside the Arctic circle, gets his first look at civilization. Akyak was flown out of the north by an RCAF Dakota which carried food and supplies to destitute Eskimo families at the small settlement, 1,100 miles northeast of Edmonton. He was taken to hospital at Edmonton for treatment of an undisclosed ailment. Shown with Akyak is Sqdn. Ldr. Mel Bryan of Fort William who piloted the Dakota on its three-day 3,000-mile flight to Perry River.

Retells Tale Of Bootlegging In N.Y. Court

NEW YORK (AP) — James Rutkin, who is trying to get $22,500,000 from a former bootlegging partner, began retelling in federal court Tuesday his story of the alleged conspiracy.

Rutkin is suing Joseph H. Reinfeld, claiming Reinfeld cheated him of the huge sum as Rutkin's share in the sale of a distillery.

Rutkin claims in the suit that Reinfeld conspired with Samuel and Allen Bronfman of Montreal to cheat him of his share in the sale of the L. L. and B. Distillery in Chatham, Ont.

Reinfeld denies there was any such conspiracy.

A previous trial was declared a mistrial last year after jurors received anonymous letters.

Rutkin, who has been in a Hudson county, N.J., jail on an income tax evasion conviction, which he is appealing, is temporarily housed in the federal house of detention here to avoid taking him back to New Jersey every night during the trial.

His testimony, similar to that of the previous trial, involved the purchase of a Canadian distillery, his association with Abner (Longy) Zwillman, once a well-known bootlegger, and a deal made just before prohibition repeal to import quality liquors from abroad.

Under cross examination just before Tuesday's session ended, Rutkin admitted he had once been a partner of Joe Adonis, convicted gambler.

He said he and Adonis were partners in a gambling venture "in a little town in Passaic county, New Jersey."

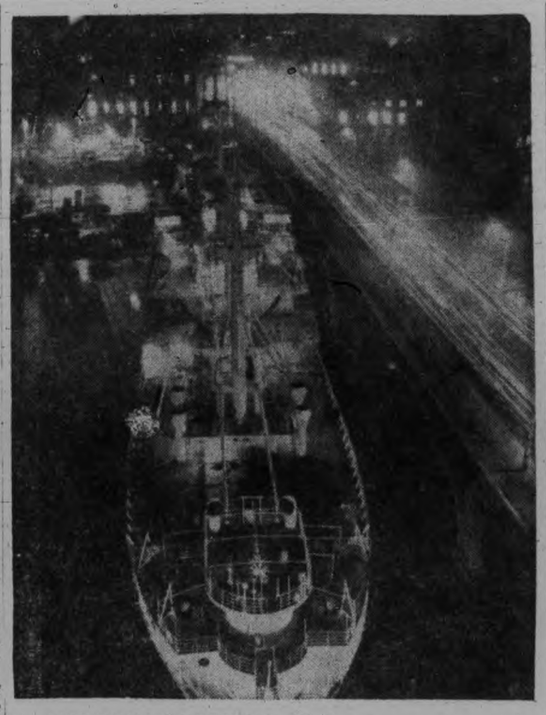
Adjournment came before Rutkin gave any further details of the venture.

Paper's Chief Engineer Killed By Truck

TORONTO (CP) — G. K. Roseblade, 32, The Telegram's chief engineer, was killed Tuesday when he fell under the wheels of a tractor-trailer in downtown Toronto. He had been chief engineer in the daily paper for five years. His wife died New Year's Eve.

Surviving are three children, Wendy, 6, Jerome, 3, and Deborah, 1.

His death was Toronto's eighth traffic fatality this year.



HIT LONDON BRIDGE—Tugboats move in to take over after the Spanish ship SS Monte Urquiola broke away from her Thames River moorings and struck the famed London Bridge. The vessel blocked river traffic for hours. The bridge was closed to traffic for several hours after the accident.

Army Showplace Collapses

HALIFAX (CP)—A new $320,000 motor transport and administration building which the navy regarded as an armed forces showpiece collapsed Monday night. Several persons escaped injury from falling timbers.

The building was opened two weeks ago. The navy said an investigation has been started to determine why the walls and roof caved in like a house of cards.

A navy bus and several new automobiles were badly damaged in the garage half of the building.

ONE WALL GOES FIRST

It appeared that one wall in the motor transport section of the structure gave way first. Added strain brought down the other three walls and the roof.

Only one wall remained standing in the second half of the building. The collapse was gradual and those inside had time to flee.

The motor transport section had been described as one of the most modern of its kind on any armed forces base in eastern Canada.

Workmen had not completed the job when the building fell to pieces.

Air Superiority Crippled North Korea—Gen. Weyland

NOTE: Korea's costs were high, but it taught the United States Air Force a great deal. In the first of three articles by tre chief of The Associated Press bureau in Tokyo, the commander of Far East air forces discusses the valuable lessons learned the hard way over Korea's rugged terrain.

By ROBERT EUNSON

TOKYO (AP) — Korea, a bomb-blasted peninsula sticking down into the Yellow and Japan seas, cost dearly.

But Gen. Otto P. (Opie) Weyland believes air superiority crippled the Communists in Korea by knocking out their planes, supplies, equipment and manpower, while infantry held the forward defence line and naval vessels protected the sea lines of communication.

The commander of U.S. Far East Air Forces said in an interview:

"We are pretty sure now that the Communists wanted peace, not because of a two-year stalemate on the ground, but to get air power off their backs.

"We know U.S. Air Force jets, once criticized as too fast for the Korean conflict, proved a superior weapon. . . .

COMES INTO OWN

"We know that the jet fighter has come into its own. Forty-eight rockets, all capable of knocking down an enemy bomber or fighter, can be fired from a jet fighter. Two 1,000 - pound bombs or a weapon of mass destruction can be carried by jet fighters and pinpointed to demolish a factory, or wipe out a military communications centre, or an enemy air base stocked with planes."

Several techniques in warfare were developed, Gen. Weyland says.

"In the last war we used ground controllers for close-support missions, but jets are fast. Often you can't sit up there and wait for someone to spot a target when you are in a jet, and they use lots of fuel down close to the ground.

DEVISED SYSTEM

"When we realized we would have to switch to jets to maintain air superiority, we devised the system of having a slower plane, the North American T-6, pick up the target, then call in the jets and direct them onto the strike.

"Also, the terrain in Korea made it necessary to search from the air. Our T-6 Mosquito plane pilots learned the terrain in their sector and could read it like a book. They could tell whenever the enemy made any change in the topography and they knew where he was hiding.

"So they'd put a smoke rocket on the spot and call for the jets or the Mustang F-51s to come in and lay their eggs."

RADAR ADVANCES

Weyland said great advances were also made during the Korean war in the use of radar, but said he could not go into too many details.

"In the last war," he said, "we had radar for guiding bombers and fighter-bombers, but nothing as good as we had in Korea. In fact when the MiGs got so violent in March, 1951, and we switched our B-29s from daylight to night raids there was almost no loss in accuracy.

"Those big guys can sit up there now and bomb through the darndest muck you ever saw and knock out a factory, a bridge, or enemy strong points and troops just a short way in front of our own lines, with no risk to our own troops."

When Weyland speaks of improvements in air war technique, everyone listens. He has had more combat experience than any other general in the U.S. Air Force.

Dies In Cell

TORONTO (CP)—John Seikz, 45, died Monday night in his cell at the Don jail. A post mortem and an inquest have been ordered. Seikz was taken to jail after being sentenced to $50 or two months on a drunk charge. He was examined by the jail doctor, found to be undernourished, and put up in a section of the jail where he would get special attention.

Thanksgiving Day

OTTAWA (CP)—Monday, Oct. 11 has been fixed as Thanksgiving Day this year, it was announced Tuesday in a special issue of the Canada Gazette. The date is fixed annually by order-in-council, but for some years Thanksgiving Day has been observed on the second Monday in October.

RCAF Plans New Operation Leapfrog

OTTAWA (CP) — The RCAF late next week will start another "operation leapfrog" to re-equip its air division overseas with 300 new Sabre-jet fighters.

The new Sabre V planes have Canadian-built Orenda engines and will replace the present 300 Sabres equipped with J-47 United States engines. They have more power and, with a new slightly altered wing formation, more manoeuvrability at high altitude than their predecessors.

The new Sabres will be flown across the Atlantic almost as fast as they roll from the assembly lines at Canadiar, Ltd., Montreal. The first mass flight will comprise 15 planes in "operation leapfrog V." Subsequent ferry trips will be known as "leapfrog VI," "leapfrog VII" and so on.

The first four leapfrogs were carried out between June, 1952, and last September without loss of a pilot or a plane. The new operation may take almost a year.

Even with its present Sabres, the air division has been classed by officials of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization as the most formitable fighting force in western Europe's defence system.

SCHEDULED FOR FRANCE

The British, conscious of what air attack can mean, are known to be reluctant to see the wing, three squadrons, leave North Luffenham, England, for France, as they are scheduled to later this year. The other three wings now are based at Gros Tenquin in France and Zweibruecken and Baden-Soellingen in Germany.

The new operation will be carried out by No. 1 overseas ferry unit, formed at Montreal last fall with some 25 pilots. Its commander is Sqn. Ldr. R. G. Middlemass of Montreal, a veteron fighter pilot of the Second World War.

The first flight, scheduled to take off Feb. 12 or soon after, will follow the same route as the previous leapfrogs: Labrador, Greenland, Iceland and Scotland.

FIRST PEACETIME BASE

The RCAF's first overseas base in peace time was opened at North Luffenham in late 1951. The first two squadrons were transported by the Canadian aircraft carrier Magnificent.

In June, 1952, 438 squadron of Ottawa flew its own jets across the Atlantic to North Luffenham and thereby made aviation history.

Three squadrons flew to Gros Tenquin in October, 1952, three more to Zweibuecken in March last year and another three to Baden-Soellingen last September. This completed Canada's air commitment to NATO ahead of schedule.

The RAF has flown 400 Canadian-built Sabres across the Atlantic.

PROMOTED—Charles Foulkes, 51, chairman of the chiefs of general staff who has been promoted to the rank of general, is shown wearing the insignia of his recent promotion. Gen. Foulkes, who joined the Canadian army as a private in 1923 will continue his present post and as Canada's military representatives to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. He figured prominently in the collapse of the 25th German army in Holland in 1945.—(CP from National Defence).

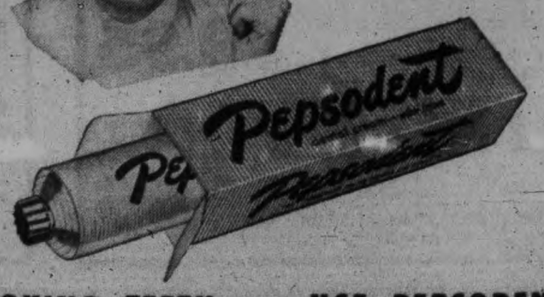
Do Your Teeth add years to your Face?

Your own mirror can tell you. See if old-looking teeth are robbing you of your youth each time you smile.

GET WHITER, YOUNGER-LOOKING TEETH IN JUST 3 WEEKS WITH PEPSODENT

Your dentist will tell you that teeth lose their youthful whiteness as they grow older. Far too often however people allow their teeth to become dull and dingy before they should, adding years to the appearance of their faces. If your mirror tells you your teeth aren't as white as they should be, try Pepsodent Dental Cream — Impartial laboratory tests prove that Pepsodent Dental Cream gives you whitest teeth — whiter than other leading toothpastes. Brush your teeth regularly with Pepsodent and in just 3 weeks, see the whiter, younger looking appearance of your teeth. And remember — white teeth are clean teeth and clean teeth help prevent harmful tooth decay.

ASK YOUR DENTIST — Every dentist has a tooth shade detector — it clearly shows that as teeth grow older they grow duller, losing their youthful whiteness. But, you can keep your teeth whiter, younger-looking by regular brushing with Pepsodent. Get Pepsodent today and in just 3 weeks see the improvement for yourself.



FOR WHITER, YOUNGER-LOOKING TEETH . . . USE PEPSODENT

TRAIN IN SNOWBANK—Three crew members of a Canadian Pacific Railway Kettle Valley, B.C. line passenger train escaped when the diesel locomotive somersaulted from the track in Coquibakka Pass and plunged 150 feet down a steep bank. A finger of rock halted the diesel's plunge, saving it from a 1,000-foot slide into a river. The trainmen suffered only minor injuries and the passengers escaped injury. The derailment occurred 114 miles east of Vancouver.

Cancer Society President Speaks To WI

HAVELOCK (ENS) — Mrs. Maurice Holt, president of the Peterborough Cancer Society, addressed the Havelock Women's Institute Monday.

She explained what the local branch of the institute would be expected to do in the event a sub-unit was started here. She also distributed a quantity of literature.

Mrs. Holt said there were three ways of treating cancer; surgery, radium, including deep x-rays, and the cobalt bomb.

One out of every five persons die of cancer. The early discovery and recognition of a growth were important. Neglected growths prove fatal.

The Cancer Society's work takes in lay education, including the distribution and showing of films. Mrs. Holt said 16,000 pieces of literature had been distributed last year and 49 patients had been assisted.

Under the welfare service, there are 13 groups making dressings. A few gowns have also been made.

The society will arrange for transportation of patients to Toronto and assist them in locating rooms if they require that help. Patients are also assisted in getting hired help if they need it. Assistance is also given patients who have recovered to get positions. Special treats are distributed at various times throughout the year.

The society has a campaign for fund raising once a year in April. The membership fee is $1. There are three sub-units in this district, Lakefield, Madoc and Bailieboro. The Lakefield unit raised $772 last year.

The Rev. L. Hamel Cooke, who also spoke, thanked Mrs. Holt on behalf of the institute. Mr. Cooke gave a talk on army life.

Mrs. W. Goadsby sang a solo, with Mrs. D. Kirk at the piano. Miss Minnie Williams gave a reading.

The roll call showed 23 members and 12 visitors present.

Mrs. H. Pollock, president, presided for the opening exercises and the business session.

Mrs. F. MceKnzie spoke on "The penny round-up" for mental health She said the school board had granted permission for a member of the committee to speak to the students.

The treasurer was authorized to send the convention fees of $18.50. Arrangements were made to send a gift to Mrs. W. Rice, a member of the local branch, who is ill in Toronto.

The president's name is to be sent in as a delegate to the conference, May 6 and 7, in Guelph.

Hostesses for tea were Mesdames R. Brown, J. Wilde, A. Holland, H. Revoy and B. Jewell.

BRIDGE COLLAPSES—An 11-ton sand-laden dump truck, back wheels in shallow water, noses up through broken timbers of Credit river bridge at Cheltenham, 10 miles northwest of Brampton. The truck was almost across the bridge when the structure collapsed. The driver managed to get out of his cab safely.

MPP Expelled 15 Days From Legislature

QUEBEC (CP)—A Liberal opposition member Tuesday night was expelled from the legislative assembly for 15 days when he called Premier Duplessis a "coward."

Emilien Lafrance, 43-year-old member for Richmond expelled twice during the 1952-53 session, flung the word from his backrow desk as Liberals pressed the government for information about "rumors of a scandal" in the construction of the 1,200,000 horsepower hydro-electric project on the Bersimis river.

Georges Lapalme, Liberal leader and George Marler (L—Westmount St. George) called "excessive" the penalty proposed in a motion by Mr. Duplessis and asked that it be withdrawn. Mr. Duplessis called for a vote and his motion was adopted 47 to 19.

UNPRECEDENTED ACT

It is generally believed the 15-day expulsion is unprecedented in Quebec's parliamentary history.

Last year Mr. Lafrance was expelled for one sitting during a debate on the Quebec Election Act. Later he was expelled for three days for accusing the Union Nationale government of tolerating liquor law violations.

The incident Tuesday occurred while the assembly sat in committee discussing estimates of the department of hydraulic resources.

Mr. Lapalme said all sorts of reports were circulating among the public about the project which involves expenditure of $225,000,000.

Water-Power Station

STOCKHOLM (CP) — Sweden's largest water-power station now is being built on the Ume river, about 200 miles south of the Arctic circle above the city of Umea. The first two generating sets will be ready in 1959 and the third in 1960. The new plant will generate 380,000 kilowatts.

Tug-Of-War Develops In Cost-Of-Living Indices

OTTAWA (CP)—There's a tug-of-war developing in the cost-of-living sub-indices.

On one side the commodity gang, such as foods and clothing, is trying to pull living costs down. But heftier prices for services, including rents, are struggling to keep costs from slipping.

Lately commodities have had the edge in the struggle. November's figures showed a decline in food prices overcoming higher rents to lower the consumer price index, yardstick for measuring living costs, by two-fifths of a point.

The drop to ~~115.8~~ from 116.2 in the index, which is based on 1949 prices equalling 100, was the second consecutive monthly decline and left the index 2.4 points below the all-time high of 118.2 in December, 1951.

Latest results of the commodities services tug-of-war will be announced Thursday when December's survey of living costs is published.

FOOD PRICES EASE

The food column, which scrambled to high ground in 1951, slipped by 1.3 points during November to 112.1, lowest in six months.

Declines for eggs, beef, pork, potatoes, lettuce, sugar, grapefruit and some canned vegetables, outweighed rises for most fresh vegetables, lamb, bread, butter, cheese shortening and coffee.

A few scattered declines for apparel and footwear shaved one-tenth of a point from the clothing group, which slipped to 110.2, lowest in seven months.

SHELTER GROUP

Struggling against the lower-price trend was the shelter group, including rents and home-ownership costs, which rose by a fifth of a point to 125.2, an all-time high.

Other service groups also kept up resistance. The household operations column remained steady at 117.4, just a tenth of a point below the all-time high.

The column entitled other commodities and services, which reflects personal and health-care costs, recreation and transportation, remained at 116.3, highest in 10 months.

Will Make Survey Of Gas Reserves

TORONTO (CP)—A survey will be made next week of western Ontario natural gas reserves.

The Ontario government has retained Ralph Davis, consulting engineer from Houston, Tex., to report on the question of making greater use of the gas reserves in Lambton county and the possibility of making some of these reserves available to Consumers Gas Company of Toronto as well as to the Hamilton and Oakville markets.

Consumers Gas seeks to bring natural gas to Toronto to build up a market for that type of gas in anticipation of the arrival by pipeline of Alberta natural gas in 1957. It is considering getting gas either from western Ontario or from the United States by way of a Toronto-Buffalo pipeline.

Suggest Tighter Annexation Regulations

TORONTO (CP)—A brief suggesting tighter regulations governing annexation procedures was presented to the Ontario government Tuesday by representatives of several Ontario municipalities.

The brief said that it was obvious many applications for annexation during the last five years were presented with the intention of obtaining a "large block of developed industrial and commercial assessment."

The delegation, including six members of the legislature and representatives of nine townships, was headed by Mrs. Madge Kinnear, deputy-reeve of Saltfleet township.

One of the main causes of annexation problems, Mrs. Kinnear said, is that existing legislation permits the initiation of an annexation application by any municipality too easily and too cheaply.

It was doubtful, the committee said, that any urban centre would apply for annexation if the suburban municipalities had no major industrial or commercial assessment.

The annexation trend, the brief said, is going to create larger urban centres at the expense of the suburban municipalities. Large urban centres resulted in a tendency for persons to live on small lots, in apartment houses or other types of multiple housing.

KEEP INDUSTRIES

However, development of suburban townships on larger lots with more single-family owned houses would continue as a more preferable way of life if municipalities were allowed to keep some supporting industrial and commercial assessment.

Instead of annexing municipalities, mature cities should be devoted to interior improvement. Many cities sought annexation instead of working on slum clearance and replacement with modern functional dwellings or factories.

Other members of the committee were: Arthur Child, Progressive Conservative member for Wentworth; Arthur Jolly, Progressive Conservative, Niagara Falls; Harry Allen, Progressive Conservative, Middlesex South; T. L. Patrick, Middlesex North; Stanley Hall, Progressive Conservative, Halton; Hollis Beckett, Progressive Conservative, York East; George Gordon, Liberal, Brantford; Reeve Harold Elson, deputy-reeve Herb McClure, and George Mitchell, all of London township; George McConachie, Trafalgar township; Reeve Harold Turvey and Ewart Biggar, Brantford township.

Set Tea Date

First vice president Mrs. Ford Turner presided at St. Andrew's WA meeting Tuesday afternoon in the church hall. Topic for worship was Christian Fellowship and was conducted by Mrs. C. M. Scott. Following officers and conveners reports, donations for various projects were approved. Date of the annual Christmas tea and bazaar was set for Thursday, November 4th. An illustrated talk by Mrs. I. H. Keefer on her trip to the Coronation and tours of the British Isles and Europe was very much enjoyed. Thanks was expressed to her by Mrs. J. S. Boyd, and also to Mrs. C. C. Pilon who operated the projector. Tea was served in the ladies' parlor by the February group.

Presentations Made

Presentations to the retiring officers of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion were a highlight of the reguar business meeting Monday evening at the Legion Hall. Mrs. C. S. Windsor, retiring after three years service as secretary, received a hammered alumunum lazy susan tray. Miss Ada Jenkinson, Mrs. Ella Moher and Mrs. P. Castle who have been kitchen conveners for the past several years, each received a beautiful hand-painted plate. Mrs. A. E. Manley, retiring vice president, received a planter. The gifts were all presented on behalf of the members by president Mrs. G. C. Stevens.

Lecture On Landscaping

St. Peter's sub-division of the Catholic Women's League met in St. Peter's School Tuesday evening to enjoy a lecture entitled "Beautifying Canada by landscaping your home" by Mr. Ross Richards of Bowmanville, assisted by Mr. Ron Gardiner of Peterborough. Colored slides were shown of plantings in Bownmanville, Strathroy and Abbotsville, Que., by the nursery they represented. Mr. Edwards advised the ladies as to proper selection of plants, shrubs and evergreens, the importance of landscape design service and top quality nursery stock. Planting, pruning, spraying and fertilizing were explained. Slides were shown of rose beds, flowering shrubs, ornamental trees, hedges, perennials, vines and evergreens. Refreshments were served at close of his talk and during this time questions were asked by the members and guests. President Mrs. Frank Guilfoyle took up the routine business later. She displayed a beautiful tea service which is to be drawn for at the March 17th tea.

WA Meeting

The WA meeting in the board room at George Street United Church Tuesday afternoon was held with first vice president Mrs. George Benton presiding. Mrs. Fred Horton's group was in charge of devotions on Christian Fellowship, Mrs. Horton taking the lesson thought and scripture reading and prayer being by Mrs. Charles Allen. Mrs. Chester Carson sang a hymn selection. Mrs. Lloyd Shorten spoke on the United Church Training School in Toronto of which she is a graduate. All those taking part in the program were thanked by Mrs. W. H. Morton. It was decided to hold a Lilac Tea in May.

MRS. JOAN COMAY

Wife Of Minister From Israel To Speak Here

MRS. JOAN COMAY, wife of His Excellency Michael Comay, Minister of Israel to Cañada, will be presented to a Peterborough audience Monday evening at Queen Mary auditorium by the University Women's Club of this city.

She will give pictures of life in israel and her interpretation of the problems of daily life in the new state. Mrs. Comay has observed the birth and growth of the State of Israel at first hand, has covered as a working journalist many of the dramatic events which have captured the attention of the world, and has visited and written up every important factory established during the last two years in Israel.

North American readers have been particularly attracted by her dispatches, written in the simple human terms of an Israeli housewife who stands in line for shopping, cooks for her husband and two teenage children, and also manages to entertain diplomats.

Mrs. Comay was born and brought up in Johannesburg, South Africa, and qualified as an architect.

Home and School Association News

CONFEDERATION SCHOOL

President Mrs. Harvey Sutton presided for the meeting of Confederation Home and School Association Monday evening. Mrs. W. Turner was pianist. Religious convener Mrs. A. Watkins led a short devotional and read the Home and School Creed.

New attendance banners were presented and Miss Carol's afternoon kindergarten class won the junior banner and Mr. J. Nicholls' class the senior.

Mrs. V. Reynolds spoke on founders' day and brought greetings from the Home and School Council. Growth and aims of the Home and School movement were outlined, showing the change from indifference to interest on the part of parents, and the organized effort begun by founder Mrs. A. C. Courtice.

A new tape recorder was presented to the school by Mrs. Don Wood and was accepted by principal Mr. Nicholls.

Guest speaker Mr. John Londerville was introduced by Mrs. G. Kiff. He spoke on "The three R's, and is there a 4th R."

"Ontario schools now develop the whole child, physically, mentally and spiritually, as well as the individual child, whereas in former years the subject taught was more important than the child" he said. The aim of education was changed in 1943 to retain interest, attention and energy of the pupils and has proved successful."

A discussion was held with groups being formed, each one answering questions put forth by Mr. Londerville. He gave outlines for over-coming problems and the subjects taught to bring forth the best in education of children.

Plans were made for a euchre party to be held March 12th.

Lunch was served by Mrs. D. Pilling and Mrs. Watkins.

QUEEN ALEXANDRA SCHOOL

The Rev. A. S. Roblin, minister of Park Street Baptist church and religious instructor in grades 7 and 8 at the school, spoke to a very interested audience Monday evening at the Queen Alexandra Home and School Association meeting. He outlined the course in religious education, and his vast experience in young people's work made his remarks of inestimable value. Advice to parents on religious training was submitted in a most helpful and appreciated manner.

As this program was planned to emphasize religious education and also founder's night, the Home and School hymn "Blessed be the tie that binds" was sung with Mrs. A. Bacon at the piano.

President Mrs. Arthur Black especially welcomed students from the Teacher's College who were present.

The Daffodil Tea date was set for March 24th with Mrs. R. Bell and Mrs. H. Tewsley to be co-conveners. Plans were made for the Association quota in "quarters for headquarters," the scheme to raise money for the new home for the Federation in Toronto. The Hobby Fair is again being planned. Next meeting on March 18, is to be father's night.

Principal Mr. K. McKee in brief remarks outlined ways parents can co-operate with the teachers.

Teacher Mrs. D. Cain was presented with a small gift in honor of her recent marriage by Mrs. Robert Bell, and later she was asked to cut the founders' day cake, which centred a pretty tea table laden with refreshments convened by Mrs. T. Evans.

Mrs. George Coleman paid tribute to the late Mrs. A. C. Courtice, founder of the Home and School, and outlined the service available through the Memorial Library. A special collection toward this was received by Mrs. O. Oxford.

Two lovely vocal selections were rendered by Miss Mabel McLarnon. She chose "Sweet Ladybird" and "The Lord's Prayer". Accompanist was Mrs. R. Y. Kenny.

Mis Armstrong's and Mrs. Cain's rooms were tied for the attendance award.

Mrs. J. Weir and Mrs. F. Whitton greeted parents at the door and other mothers of Mr. Dawson's room assisted in serving the lunch.

CORONATION SCHOOL

The pupils' oratory contest highlighted the meeting of the Coronation Home and School Association. A splendid turnout of parents were on hand to hear contestants and received a warm welcome from the president, Mrs. V. Amos.

Questions were taken by Mrs. H. Pearson. A short candle-lighting service in memory of Founders' Day was conducted by Mrs. Amos who lit the candles for Federation Home and School Association and "The Child." A collection was taken for the Courtice Memorial Library.

Mr. A. McLeod's senior grades won the attendance prize. Members were reminded of the "Family Film Night" to be held at the school on Saturday, February 13th.

Mr. Ted King introduced the pupils and their topics which were as follows:

Hazel Yateman, The Orange, the Nugget of Nutrition; Gerry Ireland, who spoke on Hydro and the Adam Beck Power Project at Niagara Falls; Roberta Bridges, who chose Flowers; Jackie Quinn, My Trip to Ottawa and the Parliament Buildings; Caroline Spinks spoke on the life of David Livingston; Terry McCall's humerous subject, The Unwelcome Visitors, The Skunks; Jim Cenise, A Hero of the Second World War, Steve Bader; Kathleen Knight, The Mosquito; Bob Mood chose Aviation Thru the Ages; Malcolm Ray, The History of Lighting; Gary Sutherland, The Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

Judges who had the difficult task of choosing the winners were Mrs. H. Wilson and Mr. A. Noftall, teacher at Kenner Collegiate. After commending the pupils for their fine effort, Mr. Noftall announced the winners as follows:

1, Malcolm Ray, 2, Caroline Spinks, 3, Jim Cenise, 4, Kathleen Knight and 5, Gary Ireland.

Mrs. W. Amos congratulated the winners and presented monetary prizes on behalf of the association. Mrs. P. Lavitoire moved a vote of thanks to the judges and participants.

A social half hour followed with refreshments served under the convenership of Mrs. J. Trennum and Mrs. J. Sutherland.

Former Residents Celebrate 60th Anniversary

Former residents of Peterborough, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Conroy, Edmonton, received congratulations from their friends January 9 when they celebrated their diamond wedding anniversary.

Married by the late Monsignor Kelly in Lakefield, Mrs. Conroy was Helena Chamberlain of Lakefield. Following their marriage, the couple lived here for 33 years.

Mr. Conroy was a senior member in the firm of David Conroy and Sons (later Conroy brothers) engaged in public works contracting. The couple moved to Edmonton in 1927.

Mr. and Mrs. Conroy's immediate family, Gerald, Catheleen and Mrs. R. A. Irwin, their children; two grandchilden, and one great grandchild, also reside in Edmonton.

In honor of their anniversary, Nuptial High Mass was celebrated at St. Joseph's Cathedral parish in Edmonton. The couple were the first members of the parish to celebrate a 60th anniversary.

Wed In Dummer

NORWOOD (ENS) — At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles MacMillan of South Dummer on Saturday, their daughter, Leona Irene, became the bride of Robert Henry McMillan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McMillan of Birdsall.

The Rev. Harold K. Wright of Norwood United Church performed the marriage. Wedding music was played by Mrs. William Hamilton, aunt of the bride.

The bride was wearing a street-length dress of French blue imported hammered satin, a blue feather headband and blue gloves and she carried a white Bible topped with a corsage of pink roses and gladioli. Miss Dorothy MacMillan as bridesmaid for her sister was frocked in cherry wine taffeta, and wore a yellow head band and gloves and a corsage of yellow roses and gladioli.

The groom was attended by his brother, James McMillan.

A wedding dinner for the immediate relatives was served by the bride's aunts. Afterward the couple left for Toronto.

Bringing Up Baby

Hints Collected by Mrs. Dean Gerber (Mother of 5)

When it's time to buy that first pair of shoes the wise mother will check these points for proper fit.

1. Shoes should have one-half to three-quarters of an inch grow room.
2. Socks should permit foot freedom. These too should be one-half inch longer than the foot.
3. Make sure shoes are wide enough when baby is standing.
4. Soles should be flexible, especially for little beginners.

Grecian Influence Strong In Paris Designer's Frocks

By NADEANE WALKER

PARIS (AP) — Now they want to make women dress like ancient Greek dancers.

Jacques Griffe, in his spring fashion opening, fell back on the Greek chlamy (a sort of tied-in toga) for inspiration. His creations are based on flowing draperies depicted in Grecian figurines.

It goes without saying that chiffon is a favorite material.

When cocktail and evening dresses don't look Grecian they resemble night - dresses and petticoats. A secondary theme is camisole tops and straps frankly borrowed from lingerie.

Suspenders support high-waisted tweed skirts, concealed under short tie-on bolero blouses of printed silk. Sea-urchin hats and porcupine hoods bristled with thorny spikes.

A "heartbreak watch" worn on the lapel is supposed to utilize heart beats for rewinding itself.

The Grecian-inspired dresses are usually in pleats or drapes falling straight from a point just under the bustline. The midriffs provide a little rolled string belt.

BUSTLE IN FRONT

While most other designers have put any surplus fullness at the back of the skirt, Griffe pulls flaring peaks and fans of pleating to the fore on some day dresses for a sort of bustle-in-front effect. For evening wear he goes in for sweeping bustle-trains behind.

Griffe dresses are a little more than an inch longer than what has come to be known as the Dior length.

Today, one of the busiest days of the spring fashion season in Paris, Dior, Schiaparelli, Balenciaga and Maggy Rouff will unveil their latest inspirations.

Canadian Girl Making Place On U.K. Stage

By MURIEL NARRAWAY

LONDON (CP) — Dark-haired, high-spirited Lois McLean is one Canadian in London who figures she's really "arrived."

She came here from western Canada in 1951, raising her "stake" by working as waitress in a Fraser valley lumber camp. Now she is production manager for an independent theatre company.

The 27-year-old Miss McLean, formerly of Calgary and Edmonton works for the company run by British impresario Peter Cotes. Her Canadian background is an asset because Cotes is the husband of Vancouver actress Joan Miller, prominent in several recent west end plays.

"I meet many Canadians in this job," said Miss McLean, "and seldom a week goes by without some Canadian girl friend dropping in to stay at my flat for a night or two."

PROVINCIAL TOUR

She likes her work. Soon she leaves her high-ceilinged office near busy Piccadilly Circus to make an eight-week provincial tour as production manager of a new play, "Walk Into My Parlour," starring blonde British actress Susan Shaw.

If the play is a hit it will open in the west end in late spring or early summer. Meanwhile she is handling preliminary details for the staging and rehearsal of Miss Miller's next play, the American comedy "My Aunt Daisy."

This should have a strong Canadian flavor. Cotes, perhaps because of his wife's influence, favors Canadians for North American roles and at least two are under consideration for parts.

Miss McLean caught the theatre bug at the age of six and went from acting parts in school plays to stage direction at the University of Alberta, where she took a teaching degree. Four years with Vancouver's Everyman Theatre and repertory in Seattle followed—then she decided to go to Britain in search of a sort of "finishing school" touch.

GOOD STANDBY

During the first tough days in London she fell back on teaching, first here and later in Glasgow. The latter post enabled her to study production nights and weekends at the Glasgow Citizens' Theatre.

Early in 1953 she was employed by Cotes. He says he hired her "because she could type."

Miss McLean also has a flair for mimicry and does radio shows on the side. Her first BBC part was with Sir Laurence Olivier in Oscar Wilde's "Canterville Ghost."

Strangely enough, she usually gets small-boy parts. When she made her first stage appearance in Beiseker, Alta., aged 6, she was so shy of boys she refused to leave the stage when she found each exit crowded with youngsters of the opposite sex.

Uses Pakistani Saris For Smart Evening Gowns

OTTAWA (CP)—Rosemary Kay is a tall blonde who, hext to designing evening gowns and cocktail dresses, likes to talk about them.

She especially likes to discuss Pakistani saris and the "completely distinctive" formal and semi-formal dresses she makes from this filmy, diaphanous cloth hand-woven from finely combed cotton or silk.

In an interview she said she is the first Canadian designer to make "sari gowns," though gowns from Indian saris have been in fashion in New York and Paris for several months.

A 29-year-old native of Montreal, Mrs. Kay devoted most of her attention to her husband, Dr. K. Kingsley Kay, chief of the health department's occupational health laboratory here, and to two young daughters until last August. Then she decided she could spare the time to give designing, something she had dabbled in for about 10 years, a real try.

Since opening her workshop, she has turned into gowns, materials ranging from inexpensive upholstery fabrics, woollen flannel and Canadian cotton prints to lavish, expensive batik, a hand-painted cotton, 2½ yards of which can take as long as a year to produce.

SACRILEGE TO CUT

"It was almost a sacrilege to cut it," she said, "but I did it and I'm glad."

Her chief concern, however, is that her creations "drape well and wear well." Inexpensive fabrics that are easily washed often drape as well and last longer than expensive ones, she said.

Her sari gowns are distinctive, and expensive, starting at $120, because each is made from a separate sari and no two saris are alike in color or design. A sari, six yards long and 45 inches wide, is simply draped around women of India, Pakistan and other Far East countries in such a way that it stays. Canadian women, apparently, prefer them cut into more conventional apparel for formal wear.

DOROTHY DIX

She Yearns For Fickle Boy, Now Only Pleasant To Her

DEAR MISS DIX: Two years ago I began going with Jerry, who is a high-school senior; I am a junior. I was very fond of him and we soon were going steady. Then we broke up, why I really don't know. That was almost a year ago, and I have hoped constantly ever since that we would get back together again. I cry about him almost every night, and am losing weight. I go out with other boys occasionally, but always wish Jerry was taking me out. Naturally, we see each other often, and though he's pleasant to me, he's never asked for another date. Is there any possible way for me to get him back?

L. M.

FLIGHTY LADS

ANSWER: Boys of Jerry's age are not dependable creatures. It takes a boy longer, as a rule, to make his final choice, than it does a girl. While you, at 17, may be quite ready to go steady and be serious, a young man of 18 is still looking around. Perhaps Jerry just isn't the one for you; in that case, a bit of looking around is the prescription for you, too. Keep going with the other boys you date and quite likely you'll find one you like. Crying definitely isn't the solution. If you're old enough to be seriously interested in a boy, you're old enough to realize that one can't have everything one wants. What we want frequently is not good for us. In a few years, when you're settled down with someone else, you may look back on your present frustration and probably be very thankful that you did not get your own way.

There's absolutely no sure way to get a boy back once his attentions have strayed. You aren't a neglected belle, by any means. After a year's separation, you're seeing Jerry largely through rose-colored glasses. I'm sure if you recall all Jerry's characteristics, you'll remember some that weren't all glamor. Getting over a broken romance takes a bit of philosophizing and an acceptance of reality.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a divorcee of 20. My two children and I live now with my mother. Two years ago I met a man, 24, who was married at the time, but has since separated from his wife. He and my brother, as well as myself are quite musical and often get together for a song fest. This man tells me the reason he hasn't obtained a divorce as yet is because he hasn't met a girl he liked, but that he is consulting a lawyer now. My brother thinks I shouldn't go out with him until the divorce is granted.

Ruth

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You brother is quite right. A divorcee, especially if she has children, is vulnerable to gossip. If your ex-husband wanted custody of his children he'd have a fair chance of getting them, should your conduct give him cause. Going out with a married man surely will cause you to be the target for gossip. Furthermore, in view of your youth, and the fact that you have already gone through one marital failure, I think you should postpone all thoughts of remarriage for some time.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: Four years ago I married a man who turned out to be a drunkard. Naturally, at the time I didn't know it, but after our marriage he was brutal, abusive and chased me out of the house many times. I've been divorced for a year; now he wants me to go back to him, declaring he has given up drinking. He isn't earning enough to support me, so I'd have to continue working. I believe my love for him would return, but my mind isn't at ease when I recall what I went through with him in the past.

Janet

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: An abusive brutal drunkard is, to my mind, the very worst husband. To chance a repetition of past experiences would be folly. You only have your ex-husband's word that he has quit drinking, against the information from his friends that he has not reformed. I think the risk is too great.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Can Prepare Exotic Recipe With Inexpensive Foods

What I observe and what my sister-cooks execute are often not the same. So I was satisfied, when I overheard (barefacedly eavesdropping) at the chicken counter, one young shopper say to her friend "Actually, Gert, chicken's cheaper than meat right now."

She was right too, for in my load of groceries I had a roast of beef which cost $3.11 and she chose a boiling fowl weighing over five pounds and it was a little over $2.00 — for I heard her say so.

That is why I have selected a different chicken dish for this menu.

Chicken Almond
Chow Mein Noodles
Tossed Salad
Peach Cheesecake Pie
Coffe or Tea

CHICKEN ALMOND

In this case we need two cups cubed cooked boiling fowl, so I would suggest you buy a large boiling fowl that is not overloaded with fat, simmer it in water to cover until tender, and when it is cool enough to handle, cut off what meat you need for this dish, and use the remainder for such wonderful dishes as chicken a la king or chicken salad, etc., and the broth for a wonderful pot of chicken soup. In two tablespoons butter gently cook ½ cup drained crushed pineapple for five minutes. Into ½ cup pineapple juice stir 1½ tablespoons cornstarch, and stir into them two cups chicken broth, then stir this into the sauteed pineapple until thick. Add the two cups cubed chicken and (and don't leave this out) ½ cup toasted slivered almonds, and ½ cup finely sliced celery and 1½ teaspoons salt. Gently let these just heat through to boiling.

Serve with or over chow mein noodles (these may be bought in cans) and if desired, heated just before serving time, in oven. These amounts will serve 6.

TOSSED SALAD

On Friday night last Marianne brought home one of her nursing buddies for dinner, and they both helped prepare it.

Jane took over the salad and Marianne the dessert and table setting, hesitate to tell these friends of Marianne's what to do because some are so capable. But Jane wanted to know every detail of how that salad was to be prepared.

I laid out lettuce, celery, cucumber, tomato, parsley and a hard bit of Roquefort cheese. For four of us, what went into the salad bowl was ½ head of lettuce coarsely chopped, about ½ cup finely cut celery, about ¼ of a cucumber scored but not pared, but very thinly sliced, one tomato chopped, and a "certain amount" of chopped parsley.

The hard bit of Roquefort might have been a one-inch cube. This Jane shredded over all and tossed the works with French Dressing.

PEACH CHEESECAKE PIE

A new and delicious dessert.

Crust: In a bowl mix together one cup fine graham wafer crumbs (about 12 crackers), ¼ cup each sugar and melted butter or margarine. When mixed press it into a nine-inch plate evenly coating sides and bottom.

Filling: Press 1½ cups (¾ lb.) cream style cottage cheese through sieve into bowl. Add ½ cup undiluted evaporated milk, three tablespoons flour, ½ teaspoon salt, three tablespoons lemon juice and mix well. Beat three eggs until light and stir into them ½ cup sugar. Fold egg mixture into cheese mixture and turn all into crumb crust. Bake at 300 deg. Fahr. one hour or until firm. Cool.

Topping: Open one can sliced peaches — 15-oz. size — and drain. Stir together two tablespoons cornstarch and three tablespoons sugar and stir the peach juice into these, then cook, stirring until thick, then cook over boiling water, stirring occasionally, until no raw starch taste can be detected. Cool.

When pie filling is cool, arrange peach slices attractively on it at centre like sunburst or close-spoked wheel, overlapping. Spoon thin layer of cool glaze over peaches and ffiling. Chill thoroughly.

As you can see, this would be a fine meal for guests and not too expensive.

Mrs. S. R. Adamson Auxiliary Hostess

The Helen Rogers Auxiliary of Knox United church held its January meeting at the home of Mrs. S. R. Adamson, 611 Bolivar St., Monday night. Mrs. C. Ross gave a detailed report of the presbyterial meeting and Mrs. M. Jude read a paper on christian stewardship.

Worship service was led by Mrs. Ross assisted by Mrs. R. Gillies and Mrs. A. Sproats. Study subject for the evening was the four R's, resistance, relief, reconstruction and reconciliation. Mrs. Betty Clarke, assisted by Mrs. S. Whitfield, Mrs. A. Gertly, Mrs. W. Preston, Mrs. G. Newmaster and Mrs. R. George were active in the study.

Pains, distress of "those days" halted or strikingly relieved in 3 out of 4 cases in test by doctors!

• Here's wonderful news for women and girls who — each month — suffer the tortures of "bad days" of functionally-caused menstrual cramps and pain—headaches, backaches, and those "no-good," dragged-out feelings.

It's news about a medicine well-known for relieving such suffering!

Here is the exciting news. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—gave complete or striking relief of such distress in an average of 3 out of 4 of the cases in doctors' tests!

Yes! Lydia Pinkham's is scientifically modern in action!

Thousands benefited!

This news will not surprise the thousands of women and girls who know the relief Lydia Pinkham's can bring.

And it should encourage you to see if your experience doesn't match theirs...to see if you, too, don't avoid the nervousness, tension, weakness, irritability — and pain — so often associated with "those days"!

Try Lydia Pinkham's Compound . . . or new, improved Tablets (with added iron).

Both are grand, too—for those "hot flashes" and other distresses common to "change of life"!

How Lydia Pinkham's works

It has a "calming" and soothing effect on the uterus... quieting the contractions (see the chart) that so often cause menstrual pain, cramps, other distress.

Taxi Driver Dies From Injuries

PORT CREDIT (CP) — Edward Seng, 29, Toronto taxi driver, died today of injuries suffered Saturday when his cab went out of control on ice on the Queen Elizabeth way and collided with another car.

Seng's passenger, Douglas Scrivens of Toronto, and the five occupants of the other car were severely injured in the accident near this village 10 miles west of Toronto.

Find Deserters Turning Up Around Paris

LONDON (AP)—The War Office disclosed today that a number of British servicemen who disappeared in Egypt last year have been turning up mysteriously in Paris.

"Just how they get there is a complete mystery at the moment," a spokesman said. "They seem to be quite well provided for. They have money and papers of a sort."

The London tabloid Daily Sketch hinted in a Paris dispatch they had been brought in through an underground channel from the Suez Canal zone.

FACE COURT MARTIAL

There was no indication how or why the men disappeared from the canal zone. The War Office said, however, they would face court martial on charges of absence without leave when they get back to Britain.

It did not give the number of men involved.

A spokesman for the Foreign Office said the British government "has registered a number of protests with the Egyptian government over the disappearance of British personnel from the canal zone."

Dead Man Named In Divorce Suit

HAMILTON (CP) — The late Steve Suchan of Toronto, hanged Dec. 16, 1952 for the murder of a Toronto detective, was named in an undefended suit for divorce here Tuesday.

Mr Justice Carl Stewart granted a decree nisi to John Mitchell of Hamilton against Mary E. A. Mitchell of Toronto. Mr. Mitchell was given custody of the children.

Mrs. Doreen Boyd of Toronto testified that the defendant and Suchan had lived together as Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Lenoff at various motels and hotels in the Toronto area in December, 1951, and in January, 1952.

Suchan and Leonard Jackson were hanged the same day for the murder of the police officer. The two had been charged with bank robberies for which Edwin Alonzo Boyd, husband of Mrs. Doreen Boyd, was sentenced to life imprisonment.

Player Loses Eye Hold Benefit Game

ORILLIA (CP) — A benefit hockey game is planned Saturday night for Frank Nettleton, 19-year-old Orillia hockey player who lost the sight of an eye in an Industrial Hockey League game Monday night.

He was struck by a stick in the third period. His eye was removed by surgery Tuesday.

Tackle Problem Of Controlling Large Groups

ARNPRIOR, Ont. (CP)—Chief constables from major centres today tackled the problem of how to control movement of large groups of people in the event that Canada is attacked or struck by some disaster.

An outline of the problem in a city was given teams of about 40 chief constables Tuesday night. During the night they worked out their solutions and presented them today at the civil defence college.

The discussion and criticism of the various solutions to the problem of traffic control were recorded and will later be printed as a guide for drawing up recommendations to the government on civil defence.

FIRST OF TYPE

The conference of chief constables, first of its kind attempted by the new civil defence college, also will consider the problems of handling large numbers of homeless and hungry people. Discussion will hinge on the relationship of police services to welfare services under these circumstances.

Later this week, the chief constables will discuss auxiliary police training and methods of police operations with a view to establishing a standard procedure. Discussions Friday will be devoted to special weapons and recommendations of the week-long conference will be drawn up Saturday.

Charles Thiele Bandmaster Dies

WATERLOO (CP) — Charles F. Thiele, 70, founder of the Waterloo band festival, died today.

A bandmaster, composer, music publisher and industrialist, Mr. Thiele was director of the Waterloo Musical Society band for more than 30 years. In 1932 he founded the Waterloo band festival in which about 60 bands, some from as far away at Kamloops, B.C., take part annually.

Mr. Thiele was a founder of the Ontario Amateur Bands Association and of the Canadian Bandmasters' Association. He bought the Waterloo curling rink some years ago, converted it to an industrial plant and built one of the finest band auditoriums in Canada on the second floor.

OBITUARIES

MISS EVELYN M. MORROW

Miss Evelyn Morrow, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Morrow, died today at her home, 524 Gilmour St.

At one time a member of the Peterborough public school staff, Miss Morrow was a member of Trinity United church and had been active as treasurer of the Trinity church WA since 1943. Until two years ago she had been corresponding secretary for the Civic Hospital WA, founded in 1937.

She is survived by one sister, Miss Lillian F. Morrow, also of Peterborough.

Funeral services will be Friday, at 2.30 p.m. from the late residence for burial in Little Lake cemetery. The Rev. G. S. Maxwell and the Rev. A. A. Mathews will officiate.

DONALD A. MOFFATT

The death occurred suddenly today of Donald A. (Pete) Moffatt, 43, of 319 Simcoe St., in Civic hospital. Mr. Moffatt was manager of the Queen's hotel for many years.

Born in Peterborough, he was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moffatt, was educated and lived here all his life. He was a member of the Anglican Church.

His wife, the fromer Hilda Stapler survives him as well as daughters, Mrs. Jack Morgan of Port Hope, Bonnie and Barbara of Peterborough; sons, Robert W. and Donald A., of Peterborough; sisters, Mrs. Ray Collett and Mrs. Nelson D. King of Peterborough, and Mrs. Joan Rocco of Rochester; brothers, Gerald of Peterborough and Kenneth of Rochester.

Funeral services will be on Friday at 2 p.m. from the Nisbett funeral home for burial in Little Lake cemetery. Canon Walter G. Gilling of St. Luke's Anglican church will officiate.

City Will Bury But Not Burn Old Documents

Local business firms with old documents to be destroyed can h ve them buried by the city's sanitation department at the landfill project but the department will not undertake to burn them.

This policy was affirmed by the sanitation committee Tuesday.

Sanitation Superintendent J. E. Pierce said several business firms had asked to have old records burned and he wanted to know if one cell of the incinerator should be put back into use for this purpose.

City Clerk E. A. Outram pointed out that, although legislation required the burning of such official documents as election ballots, private firms were not compelled to destroy their outdated records and their was no obligation on the city to burn them.

"I think with the landfill method the chances of anyone going on the dump getting such records are very slight," Ald. Rehill said.

"I think it's up to private firms to see to the destruction of their own documents," Ald. Stan McBride said. "It's not the city's job."

"I agree with Ald. Rehill," Mayor Norman Graham said. "If they want their records disposed of, they can bring them out to the project and have them buried."

"We'll see that their carefully disposed of if they want to do that," Mr. Pierce said.

Deputies Leave Path Clear

NEW YORK (AP)—Singer Dick Haymes and his actress wife Rita Hayworth had a clear path from their hotel suite today after being besieged for 24 hours by sheriff's deputies carrying a civil arrest order for Haymes.

The deputies arrived at the Hotel Madison suite Monday night at 8 p. m. with the order. They departed at about the same hour Tuesday night when a compromise was reached between counsel for Haymes and his former wife, actress Joanne Dru, who obtained the arrest order.

Miss Dru, now the wife of actor John Ireland, claims Haymes owes her $33,323. In Hollywood Tuesday night, a spokesman quoted her as saying:

"I took this action against Dick Haymes very reluctantly, only after he had repeatedly failed to live up to promises to help support his (three) children (by her) and also to repay thousands of dollars in tax money that I was compelled to pay to the government on income he had earned during our marriage.

"When a grown man drastically ignores his obligations, he makes drastic action the only possible answer."

TERMS SECRET

Bartley Crum, counsel for Haymes and Miss Hayworth, told reporters:

"We have reached an understanding but the terms will remain private at this time."

Miss Hayworth beamed at the agreement.

"It's going to be awfully nice to see a clear, unobstructed corridor," she said.

However, the couple apparently did not leave the suit Tuesday night. It was reported that they had dinner sent up.

Suing Agent For $27,000

TORONTO (CP)—A statement of claim filed Tuesday on behalf of Ursula Schlueter, 30-year-old German immigrant, said Jacob Garfunkel, Toronto real estate agent, is being sued for $27,000 for "false arrest, imprisonment and malicious prosecution."

Miss Schlueter charges in the statement of claim that Garfunkel "falsely and maliciously and without reasonable or probable cause" laid a charge against her of trying to extort $20,000 from him.

She and Edward Hefner, also a German immigrant, were jointly tried on the extortion charge Dec. 21 and 22. Hefner was found guilty and sentenced to six months in jail. Miss Schlueter was found not guilty.

She is suing for $25,000 general damages and $2,000 special damages.

Bus Driver Killed

WILLINGTON, Conn. (AP)—A Boston-bound bus with 20 passengers rammed the rear of a trailer-truck on a hill Tuesday night, killing the bus driver and injuring 17 passengers. Police identified the bus driver, pinned by the steering wheel, as Norman W. Brown, 28, of North Attleboro, Mass. Five of the injured were taken to hospital.

DERAILED FREIGHT cars are strewn through a canyon after a diesel locomotive hit a rock slide and plunged into the Deschutes River near Maupin, Ore., killing two crewmen.

Say Ratepayers May Be Forced Pay For Work

HAMILTON (CP) — Hamilton ratepayers may have to absorb the more than $2,000,000 spent by the city without Ontario municipal board approval.

Chairman Lorne R. Cumming of the Ontario municipal board asked city treasurer R. J. Menary Tuesday to prepare a statement of Hamilton's finances to show whether the overspending, incurred over a period of four years on four projects, could be taken from the general fund.

Mr. Cumming conducted a long inquiry Tuesday into what he promised would be a "thorough investigation."

Testimony was that:

Hamilton's $850,000 Jolley cut project for mountain access was well on the way to completion before the municipal board was aware of any details.

The city had borrowed "more than $3,000,000" prior to 1953 for capital works projects that had only city council approval.

For its Jolley cut project, the city applied for, and received, $239,000 in subsidies for a by-law that the municipal board has still to study for approval.

Bride Killed

MOULINETTE (CP)—Mrs. Rouelle Fournier, 18, of Detroit, was killed Tuesday en route home from her honeymoon when the car driven by her husband collided with a transport in this village, six miles west of Cornwall. Mr. Fournier was not injured.

Weather No Barrier To Crokinole Players

FRASERVILLE (ENS) — Despite the bad roads and stormy weather six tables of progressive crokinole were played Saturday night at the Orange hall, sponsored by the WA group of the United church.

Prize-winners were: gent's 1st, John Flett; consolation, Orville Moncrief; ladies' 1st, Edith Carl; consolation, Doris Sanders; girls' 1st, Marion Carl; consolation, Madalene Carl; boy's 1st, Grant Larmer; consolation, Brian Stewart.

Mrs. Keith Larmer conducted a contest. Winners were Janet Larmer and Herbie Hewitt.

Home-made candy was sold. Total receipts were around $10. Lunch was served by the committee in charge.

Higher Royalties Asked

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A resolution demanding increased royalties from foreign oil companies was approved unanimously Tuesday night by the Lebanese Chamber of Deputies. The British-controlled Iraq Petroleum Company and the American-owned Trans-Arabian Pipeline are the two groups affected.

USAF Cancels Orders

WASHINGTON (Reuters) — The United States Air force Tuesday said it has cancelled orders for 33 Martin B-57 twin-jet bombers, the American version of the British Canberra. The cutback was imposed as part of the general reshaping of defence forces now under way, air force officials said.

Million Cheering Australians Greet Elizabeth, Philip

SYDNEY, Australia (CP)—More than 1,000,000 cheering, flag-waving Australians turned out today to greet the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh as they arrived for the Australian portion of their six-month Commonwealth tour.

Australians were more than ordinarily overjoyed as this royal visit came after two others had been cancelled. King George VI was to have visited Australia after the war but the trip was called off due to his ill health. Then the Queen, who then was Princess Elizabeth, and the duke were en route here when they were called back to England from Africa when the king died almost two years ago.

Today's welcoming cheers varied from the restrained greeting of over-awed Aussies at the landing place in lovely, tree-lined farm cove in Sydney harbor to an unfettered roar as people standing 10 deep saw the Queen pass through Sydney's streets in an open car.

CHURCH BELLS SIGNAL

Church bells signalled to the happy crowds that the royal liner Gothic had anchored. Then the Queen and the duke travelled a mile from the Gothic in a royal barge to the shore, passing through a lane of nearly 400 yachts and small boats.

The Queen was welcomed by Field Marshal Sir William Slim, Australia's governor-general, and Prime Minister Menzies, along with Lieutenant Governor Sir John Northcott of New South Wales and Premier J. Cahill of New South Wales.

The Queen seemed nervous as she waited for about 30 seconds for presentations to begin.

Wearing a flimsy white chiffon dress with gold pattern, a tiny hat and open-toed white shoes, the Queen looked radiant as a 21-gun salute was fired and the royal standard broke out at an Australian mast for the first time in history.

As the presentations began, 18 fighter planes roared across the sky.

For an instant the Queen looked up and smiled.

NERVOUSNESS GONE

The Queen and the duke shook hands with 75 persons, then, having apparently shaken off her early nervousness, the smiling Queen stepped on Australian soil, the first reigning monarch to do so.

Thousands on the wooded hills around sang God Save The Queen.

Patrick Hills, lord mayor of Sydney, made a short speech of welcome, and the Queen replied: "I want to tell you how happy I am to be among you, and how much I look forward to my journey throughout Australia."

M. Hagerman Elected By LOL County Master

MARMORA (ENS) — Central Hastings County Loyal Orange Lodge held its annual meeting and election of officers on Tuesday, during morning and afternoon sessions in the Orange Hall, Madoc.

The retiring county master, Wor. Bro. Gordon Moffatt was in the chair. Among those attending included past grand master Fred Bateman and the grand master of Ontario East, Right Wor. Bro. Richard Sanderson, who spoke.

Masters of the four districts comprising the county gave encouraging reports of their districts.

The committe on returns showed a slight decrease for the year.

Bro. Rev. K. J. Crawford, as guest speaker gave an address in which he touched upon episodes in the life of Elijah.

Respect was paid to the memory of the late Grand Secretary, Right Wor. Bro. D. J. Sutherland. Past County Master E. Holland presided for the election of officers which resulted as follows:

County Master, Milton Hagerman; deputy county master, Nelson Howard, chaplain, the Rev. H. E. Beare; deputy chaplain, Archie Sinclair; recording secretary, Arthur Wilson; treasurer, Harold C. Marlin; marshal, William Phillip; 1st lecturer, Gordon Carleton; 2nd lecturer, George Gordon.

After the installation ceremonies carried out by the grand master assisted by the past grand master, Right Wor. Bro. Sanderson, presented the retiring county Master with a Past County Master's jewel.

Marmora LOL 319 was granted the privilege to hold the county 12th of July commemoration this year.

Cheese Prices Sag

STRATFORD (CP) — Cheese prices dropped 1 1-16 cent on the western Ontario cheese exchange here Tuesday with all boardings sold at 33 cents. Boardings were 1,324 colored, 170 white and 526 specials. The next exchange session is Feb. 16.

Provide $35,000 For Otonabee

KEENE (ENS) — Otonabee township council met Monday.

Surety bond for the clerk-treasurer and tax collector for $8,000 was renewed. E. H. Boyler was granted a pool room license.

Council decided to grant $25 to the Denwood community centre and that no action be taken this year on grants to the Norwood, Lakefield and Millbrook fair boards.

FIRE PROTECTION

Discussion took place of fire protection and further repairs to the township hall. The 1954 appropriation for roads and bridges expenditure was set at $35,000.

Council approved estimated expenditure of Rural Hydro Electrical Power Commission and agreed to pay 50 per cent.

Subject to the discretion of the road superintendent, the road voucher for $2,696.33 and general accounts voucher for $801.34 were passed for payment.

The possibilities of the Brucellsis Act being put into effect in Otonabee again were discussed and the matter was held over until the regular March meeting.

Manitoba Commission Considers Liquor Outlets

WINNIPEG (CP)—A commission to report on whether there should be new or fewer liquor outlets in Manitoba will come out of the legislature session which opened here Tuesday.

The speech from the throne, read by Lieutenant-Governor J. S. McDiarmid, said that with liquor legislation almost unchanged for a quarter of a century, "it is desirable to appoint an independent commission of representative citizens to review such legislation in the light of current social conditions."

Since 1928 there have been no major changes in the liquor control act which doesn't allow sale of liquor by the glass. Bottled liquor and wine can be bought in government liquor stores.

LITTLE MIXED-DRINKING

Manitoba beer parlors do not admit women. There is some mixed drinking of beer, however, in licensed clubs and beer is sold by the case in some rural beer parlors for consumption at home.

The throne speech said the province's Liberal-Progressive government, re-elected in last year's June 8 election, will introduce little legislation.

"By reason of the current revision of the provincial statutes, the government legislative program put forward for your consideration at this session will be kept to a minimum."

As the session opened, the standing was: Liberal-Progressive 32, Progressive Conservative 12, CCF 5, Social Credit 2, Independent 4, Independent Liberal 1, Labor Progressive 1. Total 57.

Two of the Independents have announced they will support Premier Campbell's government.

Board Authorizes Collecting $55,534

OTTAWA (CP) — The copyright appeal board Tuesday authorized BMI Canada Ltd., a performing rights organization, to collect $55,534 from privately-owned radio stations this year for performance of musical or dramatic works in its repertoire.

The board made no change in the schedule of fees proposed by BMI and the Composers, Authors and Publishers' Association of Canada to be collected from radio stations, dance halls, cafes, night clubs and other places of entertainment.

The radio fees authorized for BMI compares with the $46,278 authorized for 1953. The CAPAC fee remains at 1¾ per cent of the radio stations' revenues after commissions and certain other charges.

New Zealanders Captured By Queen's Great Charm

By J. C. GRAHAM

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (CP)—Prime Minister Sidney Holland's statement that "Our people will always remember these stirring days" aptly summed up the feelings of New Zealanders when Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh concluded their five-week tour and sailed for Australia.

No other visitors ever achieved such universal acclaim from one end of New Zealand to the other.

New Zealanders, traditionally reserved and undemonstrative, were swept away by the Queen's beauty and her charm and dignity. The duke achieved great personal popularity.

GIRLISH DRESSES

For the most part the Queen wore simple clothes in New Zealand—girlish dresses with full flaring skirts and short sleeves. New Zealanders, accustomed to think of the sovereign as a person of immense formality, were charmed to find her a natural and beautiful person.

But on state occasions they saw a different picture, when she appeared in regal splendor. Her appearance at the state opening of Parliament, when she wore her coronation robe with tiara and diamond necklace, was an unforgettable scene.

The duke's easy informality appealed with special force to New Zealanders who are not given to ceremony. His sense of humor and aplomb in any situation were of great assistance to the Queen in creating a happy atmosphere everywhere.

MET BY THOUSANDS

The Queen and Duke took pains to meet as many people as possible in their 39 days in New Zealand. On occasion they turned down opportunities to visit famous scenic attractions in favor of visits to the greatest number of centres of population. They met literally thousands of people, and showed an astonishing aptitude for learning facts about the country and its people.

The duke frequently gave evidence of close and intelligent study of New Zealand topics. He was able, for instance, to explain the action of Rotorua's famous geysers in a manner which drew admiration from the veteran official guide who has conducted thousands of visitors to the district.

Philip on one occasion had a friendly argument with Prime Minister Holland as to how the ancient Maoris wielded their weapons. The prime minister later agreed that the duke's version was right.

In his broadcast speech following departure of the royal liner Gothic, Prime Minister Holland expressed the gratitude of the whole country to the royal couple for the happy times they had made possible for New Zealanders. And he added: "All New Zealanders will trust that in giving so much pleasure to others they have, by the love and affection of the New Zealand people, been strengthened to bear the burden that fell on them so early in their lives."

Approve Senate Bill On Capitalization

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons Tuesday gave second reading—approval in principle—to a Senate bill increasing the capitalization of the Great Lakes Reinsurance Company to $2,000,000 from $500,000.

J. R. Richard (L—Ottawa East) said the company needed the increased capitalization because of added business in reinsuring other insurance companies. The bill was referred to the Commons banking and commerce committee for further study.

Senator Asks For Data On TCA Film

OTTAWA (CP)—Senator Thomas Reid (L—British Columbia) wants to know whether Trans-Canada Air Lines is making a movie film.

He gave notice Tuesday night in the Senate that he wants the government to give him the information. He also said he wants to know why the National Film Board isn't making the film for the government-owned air line.

Among other details he requested were the total cost, the title, purpose of the film, whether any United States actors were employed and what they were paid.

A 30-minute movie entitled "No Barrier" was recently completed for TCA by a Vancouver firm, a TCA spokesman said later in Montreal.

The spokesman said "No Barrier"—which took about two years to produce—was the third such film produced by the airline. One had been produced by an Ottawa company, Crawley Films, and the other by the National Film Board.

The Vancouver movie was produced by Lou Parry's Films, the spokesman said.

He added that it is his understanding the airline "shopped around" among various film producers before awarding the contract.

The spokesman said he was unable to give information regarding cost of the film or whether any United States actors were employed.

60 Canadians In Cast Of Opera Festival

TORONTO (CP)—More than 60 Canadians will provide the arias in the largest all-Canadian opera festival ever staged in Toronto from Feb. 20 to March 6.

The program includes four productions, "The Consul," "La Boheme," "School for Fathers" and "Rigoletto."

An innovation this year, casts will go on tour after the festival. "La Boheme" will be sung in Kitchener, March 12, and "The Consul" and "Rigoletto" in Hamilton March 10 and 11.

Last year the festival went all-Canadian for the first time.

The first festival was held in 1950 sponsored by the Royal Conservatory of Music.

Declares Dogs, Not Eskimos Needed Food

OTTAWA (CP) — Northern Affairs Minister Lesage says the RCAF flew 2,400 pounds of buffalo meat to Perry River, 75 miles inside the Arctic circle, to feed starving husky dogs, not Eskimos.

"No Eskimos were starving," he said Tuesday. "It was dogs—huskies—that were starving."

The food was moved by air to Perry River, 1,100 miles northeast of Edmonton, by an Edmonton-based RCAF Dakota following word that 50 dogs and a 12-family band of Eskimos were starving. The destitute Eskimos were cared for at the Perry River trading post.

TOOK BUFFALO MEAT

Mr. Lesage said in the Commons that the RCAF plane landed at Perry River Jan. 27 with the buffalo meat. It came from some of the 276 buffalo killed in the annual thinning of the big buffalo herd at Wood Buffalo Park on the Alberta-Northwest Territories border.

R. R. Knight (CCF—Saskatoon) had asked the minister for latest information on reports that the RCAF Dakota had been held up by bad weather in "its attempt to bring food to a number of starving Eskimos near Perry River."

Find Thief Using Meter Master Key

TORONTO (CP) — Police said Tuesday a criminal with a master key that will unlock any parking meter in downtown Toronto is behind thefts of $250 from the machines last week.

Crude, hand-made keys, fitting the meter locks exactly, were found on three men and a juvenile arrested last week on theft charges from parking meters, police said.

Police said they believed a "master mind" is selling duplicates made from a genuine meter key which "disappeared" from the city treasurer's office about a year ago.

Police fear it may be necessary to change all the locks on downtown meters.

Top Business Men Will Visit Mexico

MONTREAL (CP) — Prospects of increasing trade between Canada and Mexico will be discussed by top business men of both countries in Mexico City Feb. 9-10, national headquarters of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce announced today.

J. H. Borrie, president of the national chamber, will head a delegation of more than 40 Canadian business men, flying to Mexico City from eastern and western Canada.

The business meeting is a follow-up to last year's official visit by the Canadian goodwill mission to Latin America, led by Trade Minister Howe.

Dies After Fright

ST. CATHARINES (CP) — Mrs. Walter H. Arthur, 50, died Tuesday of a heart attack after a man tried to force his way into her home. Police summoned by Mrs. Arthur, who became hysterical while talking to them on the phone and giving them a description of him, found her collapsed on the floor. She died in an ambulance on the way to hospital.

Girl's Death At Hospital Still Mystery

Jury Has Returned Open Verdict About Technician

TORONTO (CP)—The death of hospital technician Helen Boyle, 24, of head injuries suffered in a downtown hospital laboratory the night of Jan. 6, went into the official records early today as a mystery.

An inquest jury returned an open verdict and said evidence had been conflicting.

Miss Boyle, formerly of Peterborough and Oshawa, was found unconscious in her darkened laboratory by colleagues at St. Michael's Hospital. Despite an emergency operation, she died 24 hours later without regaining consciousness.

An inquest was opened a week ago and adjourned until Wednesday night. Altogether, 28 witnesses testified, including medico-legal experts who expressed differing views as to whether Miss Boyle was struck down by an intruder or accidentally fell against the rounded corner of a table.

Chief Coroner Dr. Smirle Lawson suggested three possible verdicts: homicide, accident, or open verdict.

Three of the principal witnesses were Dr. Chester McLean, provincial pathologist; Professor Joslyn Rogers, analytical chemist; and Dr. H. Hoyle Campbell, the brain surgeon who sought to save the girl's life by performing the emergency operation.

CONFLICTING TESTIMONY

The jury, which deliberated 53 minutes, said in its verdict:

"Dr. McLean and Professor Rogers (testified) that in their opinion it would have to be a peculiar fall to give such pathological changes in the skull and brain, and therefore they believe there was possible foul play.

"On the other hand, Dr. Campbell gave in his evidence that he thought it was possible for him to have caused one of the fractures in the vault of the skull while he was using forceps on another fracture, and that the girl came to her death as the result of an accident.

"With such conflicting evidence, we the jury are unable to determine . . . what caused her death. . . and bring in an open verdict."

Sergeant of detectives James Mackey was asked by Dr. Lawson if he still suspects foul play.

"I have an open mind in the matter," the officer replied.

Doctors Trying To Rehabilitate Young Wolf Boy

NEW DELHI (AP)—Medical authorities in Lucknow say they are trying to rehabilitate a nine-year-old "wolf boy" who snarls at humans and stirs from apathy only when offered hunks of raw meat.

But a British specialist in tropical medicine who said he saw the boy expressed doubt he would ever walk like a human being.

Said Sir Philip Manson Bahr in Bombay: "The poor thing has his left arm and hand deformed and his legs contracted. It must have been lying in a hole for a long time."

Reports from Lucknow said the boy—given the name Ramu—was found in a railway freight car Jan. 17. How he got there was not learned.

LEGENDS ABOUND

Sir Philip said only experts at Lucknow were competent to say whether they had a genuine "wolf boy." The region about Lucknow, in north central India, abounds with legends of "wolf boys" and other children reared by wolves, leopards and bears in the surrounding jungle.

Dr. D. N. Sharma, Balrampur hospital superintendent, dubbed Ramu a "wolf boy." When word got out that the boy was under treatment, the hospital was be-

Say Letter Written By German

Detectives Begin Thorough Hunt To Catch Writer

MELBOURNE (Reuters) — Police today began a hunt for the writer of a letter threatening to assassinate Queen Elizabeth during her current tour of Australia.

South Australian police commissioner Ivor B. Green said the letter is being "viewed very seriously."

He said authorities will do everything possible to trace the writer.

The letter was mailed in Melbourne last weekend and turned over to police in Adelaide. Police would not disclose to whom it was addressed.

BELIEVED IMMIGRANT

The writer is believed to be a German immigrant. The Melbourne weekly newspaper Truth printed quotations from it today.

Truth said the author might be "a Hitler Youth fanatic whose mind has been poisoned with anti-British propaganda and who has been taught to hate everything British, the Royal Family in particular."

Adelaide detectives who have been investigating the matter said they believe the writer is a German migrant brought out two years ago by the South Australian Railway department and that he now is mentally unbalanced.

The letter, which was full of abuse of Britain, contained this passage: "Your Queen, your pictures make us stand up. We laugh and plenty will see her killed when she comes to Australia."

Appeal To Russians To Be Reasonable, Try For Agreement

BERLIN (AP)—French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault asked the Big Four meeting today to quit dealing with details and "start a movement which will permit us the remedy the evils we now deplore." Bidault's plea was inspired by two days of crossfire between Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and the Western Big Three in which the discussion covered the whole field of world problems without nailing down agreement of thought on a single one.

The French diplomat opened today's session, the 10th, with his appeal for reasonableness. He tried to point out to Molotov all the errors he thought the Russian was making in his interpretation of Western motives on German unification.

BERLIN (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov demanded tonight that the Big Four get on with forming a provisional all-German government including national elections and achieve unity for the divided nation. The Russian submitted a five-point plan to the foreign ministers conference to accomplish his aim: Recognition of the Communist East German government on a par with the freely-elected West regime so that the German Reds would be entrenched regardless of popular will.

ASKS FOR ANSWERS

Bidault made a determined effort to get some concrete answers out of Molotov in place of charges that Western policy is loaded with aggressive intent toward Moscow.

The Frenchman spearheaded the West's renewed effort to smoke out the Russian's real objectives in the parley.

They brushed aside as a trick his proposal for a plebiscite to decide whether the Germans should conclude a peace treaty with the Big Four or an alliance with the West.

The Westerners said Molotov's plebiscite proposal, made late in Wednesday's session contributed nothing to German unity.

American, British and French officials agreed that the election proposal anticipated from Molotov would have to be taken much more seriously than the plebiscite idea.

Molotov is believed ready to pop his plan almost any minute. If it resembles in any way the free election proposal put forward by

Constable Sleeps As Thief Ties Up Wife

HAMILTON (CP)—A housewife was bound and gagged Wednesday by a thief who forced his way into her house while her policeman husband slept, their police dog dozed on the stair landing and their two children sat watching television in an adjoining room.

The thief escaped with $85.

Mrs. Ernie Snow told police the man came to the front door shortly after 2 p.m. When she answered the door the man pushed her back and muffled her cries with his hand before he forced her along the hall and into the dining room. There he gagged her with a silk scarf and tied her hands with laces he took from her husband's skates.

Soon after the man fled Mrs. Snow's son, Buddy, 4, who had been watching television with his sister, Marie, 5, found his mother.

Constable Snow said he thought his son was playing when he cried out: "Mummy's tied up."

"Then it hit me that something was wrong and I don't think I touched many steps on the way downstairs." Snow was unable to find any trace of the thief when he rushed outside.

Cost-Of-Living Shows Third Monthly Drop

OTTAWA (CP) — The consumer price index declined by one-tenth of a point during December to 115.7 from 115.8, reflecting the third consecutive monthly decline in living costs.

The index now stands exactly where it was in December, 1952, when it also registered at 115.7. During 1953 it dropped, climbed and then declined again.

The index, based on 1949 prices equalling 100, is 2.5 points below the peak of 118.2 reached in December, 1951.

As in previous months, lower food prices powered the December drop—the smallest in 1953. A few scattered drops in clothing also assisted, to overcome increases for rents and other services.

Though the price of meats and vegetables rose, other food items, including eggs, decreased to push the food sub-index down by one-half point to 111.6 from 112.1, the lowest in seven months.

Rents advanced again, pushing the shelter column to a new high of 125.4, up one-fifth of a point from the previous month, the bureau of statistics report said.

A few scattered decreases among several items chipped one-tenth of a point from the clothing sub-index which dropped to 110.1 from 110.2, lowest in a half-year.

168,868 IMMIGRANTS

OTTAWA (CP) — A total of 168,868 new immigrants were accepted by Canada during 1953. This was slightly higher than the 164,498 arriving in 1952 but well below the postwar peak of 194,000 in 1951, the immigration department announced today.

Chicago Has Mad-Dog Scare Score Bitten By 2 Animals

CHICAGO (AP)—Strict enforcement of a rabies quarantine was intensified today by police in Chicago's worst mad-dog scare in years. Nearly a score of persons have been bitten by two rabid dogs in south side districts since Tuesday night. In the current outbreak, which has resulted in the city being placed under a rabies quarantine, one child died after being bitten by a rabid dog.

Sheriff John E. Babb said Wednesday night he has issued new orders to his 125-man police force to intensify the drive against stray dogs in the quarantine areas. The sheriff directed the police to shoot any dog which becomes vicious during efforts to capture it.

"This is an emergency," he said. "One human life is more important than all the animals in the county."

FIVE CREWS SEEK DOGS

Five dog-catching crews were sent into south side districts and were ordered to seize all strays.

Babb acted after a German shepherd dog, later found to be rabid, bit a mother and her four-year-old son and a dentist who tried to help them. The three are undergoing a series of anti-rabies shots.

The dentist, Dr. Robert J. Carroll, 30, was bitten on the arm before he seized the dog and hurled it through the open door into his first-floor office and slammed the door.

Inside the office, the dog tore down venetian blinds and damaged office equipment before it was shot and killed by policemen.

Health department tests also disclosed that a mongrel dog which Tuesday night bit at least 15 persons in a one-block area was afflicted with rabies. Investigators were seeking to have all the victims receive anti-rabies vaccine.

Married Or Not $65 Question

FLORHAM PARK, N. J. (AP)—"Are we married or aren't we?"

That's the question 25 couples, whose weddings were performed by a student pastor of the Presbyterian church, are asking themselves today.

The situation came to light when assemblyman William O. Barnes introduced a bill in the Legislature Monday to legalize the marriages retroactively.

The student pastor, John W. Vander Groef, 43, was not an ordained minister of the Presbyterian church at the time he performed the marriages between 1946 and 1952. He had been supply pastor of the church here during that time while continuing his studies at Bloomfield theological seminary.

Under Presbyterian rules, only an ordained minister who is a graduate of a divinity school is granted the privilege of performing marriages. State law says a person must conform to the rules of his church to be entitled to perform a marriage.

Rev. Charles Meade of South Orange, chairman of the Morris and Orange presbytery ministerial relations committee said the whole thing was "purely a matter of misunderstanding."

Giant Airliner Crash Lands

LITTLETON-ON-SEVERN, Eng. (AP)—Spouting flames from one of its four turbo-prop engines a giant 100-passenger Brittania airliner crash landed on a river bank near here today. Only one of the 14 men aboard was injured.

The £800,000 plane, second prototype of Britain's new commercial airliner, was badly damaged. A fuel tank exploded and both wing tips were snapped off. Pieces of the plane were scattered along the river mud for several hundred yards.

Firemen extinguished the flames and 200 airmen from an RAF camp nearby were rushed in to aid salvage efforts. Heavy cranes were used in efforts to pull the damaged plane to higher ground before it is submerged by high tides.

Comet Jetliners Go Back Into Service

LONDON (Reuters) — Britain's Comet jetliners, taken out of service after the air disaster in the Mediterranean Jan. 10, will resume passenger flying early next month—after nearly 50 modifications have been made.

Thirty-five died when a Comet plunged into the sea off Elba. British Overseas Airways Corporation immediately suspended all Comet flights while they stripped their fleet of seven in a search for faults.

Find Missing Truck In Seattle, Wash.

EDMONTON (CP)—A tractor-trailer truck missing since Jan. 11 while hauling army equipment to a Vancouver ordnance depot was located today in Seattle, Wash., headquarters of western army command announced.

A command spokesman said the tractor-trailer unit and its cargo of two army trucks were found in good condition.

There was no immediate indication of why the tractor-trailer did not complete the shipment.

St. Laurent Sets Out On World Tour

By WILLIAM STEWART

OTTAWA (CP)—Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent today sets out on the first world tour ever undertaken by a Canadian prime minister.

He hopes to spread the goodwill he feels the average Canadian entertains for people of other nationalities.

He plans to bring home six weeks from now a report on the problems of average citizens in a dozen other countries occupying a world divided by cold war.

In Europe, where the first section of the tour starts next weekend, the prime minister will reaffirm to Western leaders Canada's support for ideas of a strong European Defence Community.

In Asia, where he will spend almost three weeks, he will try to explain the North American view of the world picture.

MAKES FAREWELLS

Mr. St. Laurent made his farewells Wednesday to members of the Commons who surged about him at 6 p.m. adjournment to shake his hand and wish him good luck.

Earlier opposition leader Drew and spokesmen for CCF and Social Credit parties said the prime minister will carry a unanimous message of goodwill from the Canadian people to the countries he will visit in his 23,000-mile trip.

Mr. St. Laurent replied:

"I do feel, and I confess it, that I have the good wishes of all the people of Canada."

VISIT MANY PLACES

He will visit Britain, France, West Germany, Italy, Pakistan, India, Ceylon, Indonesia, The Philippines, South Korea and Japan.

He told Parliament last week and repeated Wednesday night in a broadcast to the Canadian people that the chief purpose of his trip by air is to visit Asia, whose affairs are of "real concern" to Canada.

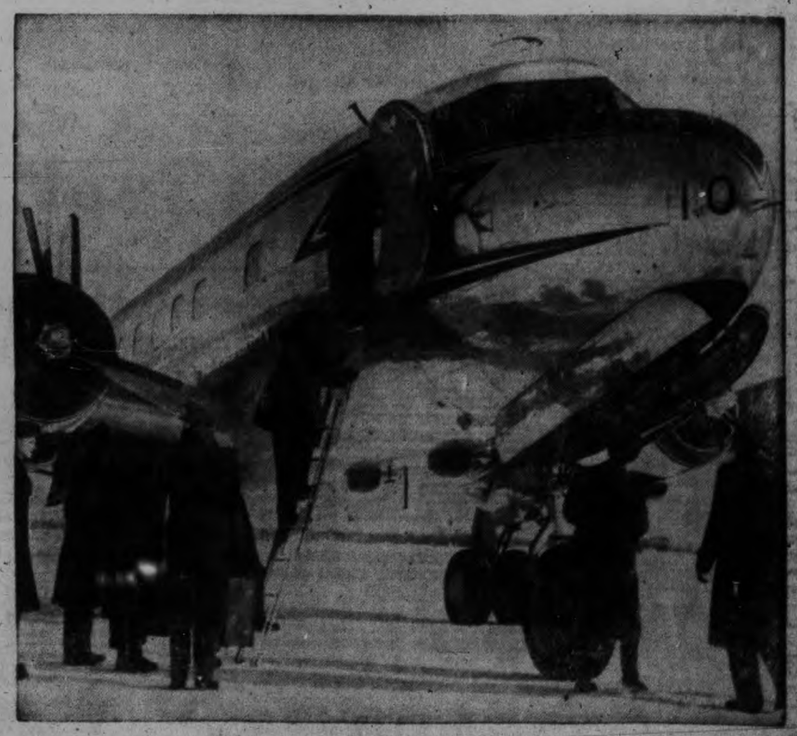
He said understanding between the West and the East will be achieved only if there is co-operation based on mutual respect and equality.

Mr. St. Laurent said the importance of his visit to Europe and talks with British, French, West German and Italian leaders is that they must take decisions which will affect Canada as a "middle" power in the Western alliance.

Today with a party of 10 persons apart from air crew, the prime minister boarded the government's four-engine C-5 plane for a flight to London.

The plane, manned by a double RCAF crew of 15 was due to leave Rockcliffe airport at 2:45 p.m. on a flight to London with an overnight stop at Goose Bay, Labrador.

Saturday in London, the Canadian prime minister will lunch with Sir Winston Churchill. Mr. St. Laurent's schedule calls for a flight to Paris Sunday for a three-day visit.



GOING ABOARD—The crew of Prime Minister St. Laurent's plane is shown going aboard as they set off today on his world tour, the first ever taken by a Canadian prime minister. The purpose of his mission is to spread goodwill.

Chief Red Spy In Japan Beria Protege Converted By Clever U.S. Intelligence

TOKYO (AP)—Lt.-Col. Yuri A. Rastovorov was revealed today as Russia's chief Red spy in Japan and a youthful protege of Lavrenti Beria, recently executed chief of the Soviet secret police.

Informed United States sources said Rastovorov, who asked a United States army intelligence unit for political asylum Jan. 24, was trained on the "Japan desk" of a special Soviet foreign office section under direct control of Beria's MVD organization.

Once a personal courier for Beria, Rastovorov apparently was headed for a brilliant future in the secret service. But, the source said, a growing admiration and "weakness" for Americans, probably Beria's execution, and finally direct orders to return to Moscow sparked his decision to change sides.

BRILLIANT WORK

His conversion, long and deliberately sought by U.S. Army operatives, is called by observers here the most brilliant piece of U.S. intelligence work publicized since the start of the cold war, and a blow at Soviet espionage in a key Far Eastern area.

"Intelligence work is subterranean war," the source said. "This is a great victory that may be decisive in Japan. It is the intelligence equivalent of a Midway or a Normandy."

Rastovorov, reported Wednesday to be co-operating with U.S. agents on Okinawa, was described as a dashing, handsome Soviet spy who moved easily in Tokyo social circles and who cultivated Americans.

LT-COL. Y. A. RASTOVOROV

"He even ate and drank at American Army officers' clubs," the source said. Some of his hosts did not know whom they entertained. Some knew all too well.

It also was revealed that at the time of Beria's execution, announced in Moscow Dec. 23, Rastovorov got in touch with U. S. agents who shadowed him continually and sounded them out on changing sides.

ORDERED HOME

Much as the army wanted him, it moved cautiously until Rastovorov, apparently in panic at personally delivered orders to go home, called the agents on the telephone and asked them to protect him as a political refugee.

The unit then had no choice but to grant his request for a flight to freedom, the source said.

The news apparently came as a shock to the defunct Russian mission of about 35 men still in Tokyo. Last week they filed an angry protest that Rastovorov had been kidnapped by the Americans.

Canada To Give India Copper Aluminum

OTTAWA (CP) -- Canada has agreed to provide India with $5,000,000 worth of copper aluminum as part of her Colombo plan contribution for the current fiscal year, trade officials said today.

She also will ship $1,200,000 worth of hydro and electrical equipment to help build India's big Umtru hydro project in Assam in the northeast of India.

Canada previously announced she will provide India with $20,000,000 worth of steam locomotives, of which $11,000,000 will come out of this year's Colombo plan contributions, officials said.

Officials said plans also are being developed to ship $650,000 worth of wheat flour to Ceylon. Of this total, firm agreement has been reached on $450,000 worth of the flour.

Ax-Attack By Thieves Kills Man

Wife In Hospital In Critical Condition; Have Few Clues

SIMCOE —(CP)— Bruce Beatty, about 65, is dead, and his wife is in critical condition in hospital as a result of what police believe was an ax-attack by thieves who rifled the till of the couple's service station four miles east of here.

Investigators say they think the beatings occurred late Tuesday night, possibly as Beatty prepared to lock up. One theory is that two men attacked Beatty and that his wife heard the struggle from upstairs living quarters and was set upon in turn.

It is thought the Beattys lay all night in pools of blood where their assailants left them.

Ray Chambers, a trucker who sought to buy gasoline, found them semi-conscious about 8:30 a.m. Wednesday.

DIES 24 HOURS LATER

The husband died in hospital here Wednesday night without regaining consciousness. His wife remained in critical condition but it was reported her injuries were not as severe as at first feared.

Chambers, describing the finding of the couple in the service station and lunch counter at Renton on Highway 3, said:

"I usually gas up my truck every morning at the station on my way to work. I filled up the tanks myself as I usually do. I walked into the station to pay for the gasoline and heard them moaning."

NIGHT ATTACK

One theory is that the attack occurred between 9 and 10 p.m. Tuesday.

Thomas Tyrell, who operates a service station and general store across the road from the Beatty establishment, said he saw all the lights on at the Beatty place as usual shortly after 9 p.m.

"About half an hour later, all the lights in the station were out with the exception of an outside pole light," he said. "A dark-colored car was pulling away."

Inspector Vern Whitely arrived from the provincial police criminal investigation branch headquarters in Toronto to take charge of the investigation. He joined Sgt. Leslie Throop, in charge of the provincial police detachment at Simcoe, who carried out the preliminary work. Fingerprint experts made an examination of the service station.

Beatty's body was taken to Hamilton where a post mortem examination was scheduled for today.

Can't Decide If Bombs Prank

TORONTO (CP)—Police are uncertain whether three home-made bombs discovered in the west end of Toronto are part of a plot or a prank. But they have charged two youths, Angelo Scardoroni, 18, and Clayton Cox, 17, with unlawful possession of the bombs.

The youths told detectives they were carrying the bombs because they were being followed by Communists.

Police said a letter was sent to the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Washington Jan. 26 purporting to contain information about Communist activities. It asked the bureau to send men to Toronto and meet the senders on Feb. 2. The letter claimed Toronto police, who said they had never been approached, had refused to help.

The information was passed on to the RCMP, who kept the appointment. Two youths appeared with two objects. The mounties took one of the objects and the names and addresses of the youths.

The object confiscated was examined and found to contain blasting powder and a fuse. The RCMP then turned the matter over to Toronto police, who visited the addresses given and found two more of the objects, said to be fashioned from pieces of gas pipe. They arrested the youths Wednesday.

Mrs. Fraser To Resign From Exhibition Board

The intention of Mrs. G. K. Fraser to resign from the board of directors of Peterborough Exhibition was reported today. It is understood that her resignation will be presented to the directors at their first meeting of the year, Tuesday, February 9, at the Public Library.

Mrs. Fraser has been a diligent director for some years, and was re-elected to the directorate at the annual meeting last week. Mrs. Floyd Curtis is the other women on the board.

Special interests of Mrs. Fraser were the flower show, and in other display quarters, the domestic products and art. She has also been president of the Horticultural Society for quite a long period, and in both these offices she gave much of her time to their requirements and the activities of the two associations.

Outside Expert Investigates Garage Collapse

OTTAWA (CP) — Government agencies Wednesday retained an outside expert to investigate Tuesday's collapse of a newly-built $304,000 garage the Shearwater naval base near Halifax.

The investigation will be conducted by K. E. Whitman, struetural designer of Halifax, commissioned jointly by the defence department and Defence Construction Limited, building agency of the production department.

Two walls and part of the roof of the garage collapsed. No one was hurt. Several vehicles were damaged.

GOT FINAL INSPECTION

Officials said the structure, built for Defence Construction, Limited, by Eastern Woodworkers, Limited, of New Glasgow, N.S., was turned over to the navy Jan. 26. They said it received final inspection just before that date by Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, government construction agency.

CMHC did not take part in building the garage but acted as inspection agent for Defence Construction, Ltd.

Turned Into Lane Caused Accident

George E. Levitt was turning his car into his driveway at 520 Elm St. (now known as Hopkins Ave.) when a car driven by Leo. A. Collins collided with him. In court today Levitt faced a charge of dangerous driving.

Collins said that he had followed Levitt's car for some time, when gradually it began to veer to the left. No signal was given before Levitt had suddenly turned into the driveway of 520. The front of the witness's car had rammed into the side of the Levitt car.

Collins maintained that he had had his driving lights on at the time, about 6 o'clock in the evening of January 14.

"I got out of the car and asked him if he ever made signals", said Collins. "He said, 'I don't know, I didn't see you till you hit me'."

Levitt, represented by Trevor Clarke, told the court he had been driving very slowing owing to the icy conditions. He was almost certain his signals lights had been on.

However, he was certain that no lights had been showing on the Collins' car. They had flashed on just before the collision had occurred.

Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw was a little sceptical about Levitt's observation that Collins had switched on his lights just before the accident occurred. He considered Collins would be more concerned with applying his brakes and trying to avoid a collision.

Levitt was fined $10, costs $6.75.

Last Of Meat Sold By Gov't

OTTAWA (CP)—The government has disposed of the last of its original 180,000,000-pound meat pile-up.

Officials said Wednesday the agriculture department has accepted the tender of a Canadian firm to purchase the remaining 9,000,000 pounds of canned pork for export.

The agreed purchase price was not disclosed, though it is understood it was about 18 cents a pound, a fraction of the roughly 58-cent-a-pound cost to the government.

The deal marks the end of the government's meat business arising out of the foot-and-mouth disease outbreak early in 1952. The total loss through sales at less than cost may run to more than $50,000,000.

Receives Promotion

OTTAWA (CP)—Lt.-Col. C. W. Jones, 43 of Ottawa and Kingston, has been promoted full colonel, army headquarters announced today. He will remain in his present appointment as commandant of the Royal Canadian Electrical and Mechanical Engineers school at Barriefield, a post he has held since August, 1952.

Toronto Youths Stand Trial For Shooting

BARRIE (CP) — Two slender Toronto youths were ordered Wednesday to stand trial for murder in the shooting last Oct. 29 of Fred (Scotty) Cameron, Toronto brokerage company messenger whose body was found in a ditch near here Oct. 30.

Francis Ian Robertson, 21, and William Stephen Kingsley, 19, were committed for trial after a day-long preliminary hearing before Magistrate Gordon Foster.

The youths, both dressed in light blue suits and wearing bow ties, were asked before they were committed whether they had anything to say.

"No, nothing," Robertson replied. Kingsley remained silent.

SPEAK TO PARENTS

Relatives and parents of the youths were permitted to speak to them before they were taken back to their jail cells. Kingsley's mother kissed him. Robertson's father shook hands with Robertson.

Evidence was that Kingsley and Robertson were questioned by inspector Alex. MacLeod of the Ontario Provincial Police and by Det.-Sgt. Bernard Simmons of the Toronto city police Nov. 5 and Nov. 9 and were charged Nov. 25.

The officers said that after their arrest both made statements to the police. Magistrate Foster admitted the statements as evidence but they were not read in court.

Both officers testified about the taking of the statements.

WANTED TO TALK

Sgt. Simmonds quoted the bespectacled Kingsley, smaller of the youths, as saying:

"It has been on my mind a long time. I wanted to tell you before. I have not been able to sleep at night for thinking about it."

Inspector MacLeod said Robertson wrote his own statement by hand after telling the officers:

"I don't know how to start, it's so complicated."

The inspector said he was given information at the time of the arrests that the gun used in the slaying, believed to be a .32-calibre automatic, was thrown over the Bloor street bridge in Toronto.

FIVE SHOTS FATAL

Dr. Ward Smith, director of the Ontario attorney-general's crime laboratory in Toronto, said Cameron died from five shots fired at close range. He said powder burns on Cameron's clothing indicated the muzzle of the gun was about six inches from the victim when at least two of the shots were fired.

Dr. Chester McLean, provincial pathologist who conducted a post mortem examination of the body, said the bullet wounds were widely separated.

Appeal To Russians

CAN'T PIN MOLOTOV

The way Molotov has jumped from crag to crag without settling down in any one valley of thought has the West pondering if it isn't time to try to salvage at least "smaller potatoes" out of the parley.

Still pending in this category are the long-deadlocked Austrian independence treaty, possible conference with Communist China about peace in Asia and perhaps further talks between Russia's foreign minister Molotov and State Secretary Dulles of the United States on Preisdent Eisenhower's proposal for an atomic pool for peace.

A possible outcome also was some simple mechanism for building up a larger exchange of goods between West and East Germany, a trade largely throttled now by political differences despite the divisions' mutual needs.

One Western informant said the Big Four ministers probably will spend the balance of this week in more fruitless talk on Germany, then move on to Austria.

The Westerners believe the parley, after nine days of talking, likely will go on for another 15 or 20.

One indication of the end to Western hopes for any major German settlement came Wednesday night when Russia's junior partner, the East German premier, Otto Grotewohl, seconded Molotov's latest proposal for Germany.

Inside the Russian embassy in East Berlin Molotov had proposed to the Western ministers that a plebiscite be held to let the Germans in both East and West say whether they want an immediate peace treaty neutralizing them or want Germany to join the proposed West European Defence Community.

France's foreign minister Bidault, speaking for the West, brushed the Soviet proposal aside. Let all the Germans elect their own unified government in the free elections the West has proposed, said Bidault, and that government can make its own decisions.

British delegates dismissed the plebiscite proposal as a ridiculous side-show designed to hide Russia's refusal to let the Germans choose their own government.

Two hours after the Big Four meeting broke up Wednesday night, Grotewohl broadcast a speech demanding "an immediate democratic plebiscite" to let the Germans decide "whether they wish to live under this dishonorable, war-hazardous (EDC) treaty or wish a peace treaty and restored unity."

ENDORSE SCHEME

The Communist-ruled East German parliament quickly came through with its standard unanimous vote endorsing the scheme.

A depressed band of West German officials who had hoped for better things talked with Britain's foreign secretary Eden. Later they had dinner with Dulles and the United States high commissioner, James B. Conant.

Butler Notes Trade Recession

LONDON (Reuters) — Chancellor of the Exchequer Richard A. Butler told the House of Commons today the "so-called trade recession in the United States" has already started and that "we are already beginning to pass through it."

He was opening a debate on the recent meeting of British Commonwealth finance ministers in Sydney, Australia.

Butler said Britain's outlook of "sober confidence" is based on a careful assessment of the future of world trade against the background of an American "downturn."

Butler said a slowing of the American economy prior to the end of 1953 had probably been one of the factors which caused British exports to the United States to be 10 per cent less in the fourth quarter of last year than in the third.

Burt Asks Ontario Labor Act Changes Discussed Publicly By Committee

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—George Burt, president of the Ontario Federation of Labor (CIO-CCL), proposed today that changes in the Ontario Labor Relations Act be discussed publicly by special committee of the legislature before they are introduced in the legislature itself.

In a speech prepared for delivery to the federation's annual convention, he said:

"This would give the public and the labor movement a better understanding of the problems involved and would give the government an opportunity to test public reaction."

Labor Minister Daley is said to have been reviewing the act for several months and there have been indications changes will be introduced at the session of the legislature starting Feb. 11.

Mr. Burt said a special committee comprising representatives of all parties would give the labor movement confidence that the government has no intention of trying "to put something over."

He said any changes which would work to the detriment of affiliated unions would cause a tremendous upheaval within the ranks of the federation.

SEEK CHECKOFF

"Free labor is not going to be shackled completely to unfair labor legislation. The federal government established a broad representative committee on industrial relations and this committee recommended the checkoff of union dues.

"Our suggestion of such a committee by the Ontario government would obviate the necessity of making the threat of strike action and would tend to calm the fears of the rank and file."

Federation officials said they plan a province-wide campaign aimed at influencing the Ontario government to pass legislation embodying provisions for the checkoff of union dues. The federation intends to call on all its affiliated members to write to their members of the legislature to ask support for the checkoff proposal, an issue expected to be raised by the CCF at the forthcoming session.

Mr. Burt said the biggest problem before the convention is that of unemployment. He said talk of recession has prompted some employers to increase their resistance to union wage demands. The employers' attitude shows a lack of faith in the future of Canada and should not reduce the legitimate demands of labor, he said.

Plumbing Inspector Found 443 Defects During 1953

Peterborough's plumbing inspector and welfare administrator, A. G. Metheral, in his annual report to city council, stated he had found 443 defects in new plumbing installations during the course of his inspections during 1953.

Of these 443 defects, only 29 remained to be corrected at the end of the year.

Unsanitary conditions were found in 18 old plumbing installations, with only nine remaining to be corrected.

Mr. Metheral's report indicated he is gradually catching up with the extra work of issuing permits for new plumbing installations since the beginning of the city's residential expansion of recent years.

At the end of 1952, there were 296 jobs still unfinished. There were 555 plumbing permits issued during 1953, which meant there were a total of 851 installations for which permits were required last year. Of these, 591 were completed, leaving a balance of 260 unfinished at the end of the year.

Of the 555 permits issued last year, 323 were for connections to city sewers, including 224 single-unit dwellings, 10 apartments, two duplexes, one office, three stores, one addition and six larger buildings.

Of the other permits issued, 59 were for converting dwellings to apartments and duplexes, 98 for miscellaneous work, such as replacing fixtures, 21 for installing septic tanks and 16 for connections to septic tanks already in operation.

Mr. Metheral made 1,914 inspections last year, including 870 water tests, 102 layouts, 468 smoke tests and 474 miscellaneous.

Revenues collected last year totalled $2,887.75, including $320 from plumbing licences, $2,193.75 in permit charges and $370 from extra inspections. The city's appropriation for this work last year was $3,508.25. Expenditures were $3,174.66, leaving a credit balance of $333.59.

48-Hour Week Long Enough For Firemen

Peterborough firemen, as well as others in Ontario, should not have to work more than a 48-hour week, the Peterborough Trades and Labor Council (TLC) agreed Wednesday night.

At present the maximum hours of work, under the Fire Departments' Act, is 56 hours. Municipalities may work the men fewer hours than 56, but not more.

"We feel as a union that the firefighters shouldn't be expected to work longer hours than other union groups," said Henry Nokes, secretary of the labor council and a member of the Peterborough association, Ontario Federation of Firefighters.

Peterborough firemen are asking city council for a 48-hour week to be written into their contract.

Mr. Nokes said that one department he knows of has a 40-hour week already, and a large number have a 48-hour week.

Mr. Nokes also told the AFL unionists that the Mayors' and Reeves' Association are trying to cut down the size of a fire department's bargaining unit. At present all officers are included in the unit; only the chief is excluded. The Mayors' and Reeves' Association are trying to scale the unit to include nobody over the rank of 1st-class firefighter, said Mr. Nokes.

As a result of this information the labor council decided to write a letter to the Hon. Harold R. Scott, covering the two points raised:

1. Asking the legislature to make the 48-hour week for firemen mandatory.
2. Protesting any scaling down of the bargaining unit.

Marine Trespasser

OSLO (CP) — A Soviet trawler captain whose ship was seized within Norwegian territorial waters off the northern coast was sentenced to pay a fine of 10,000 kroner ($1,500). The town court at Vardo also confiscated two-thirds of his catch, valued at about $9,000.

Believe Thaw On Way For Europeans

LONDON (AP)—Europe's bitterest cold wave in seven years showed signs of thawing today, but death and misery still stalked the frozen plains and snowbound mountains of Yugoslavia and Romania.

Fierce blizzards, the worst in 24 years, killed at least 14 persons in Yugoslavia's central province of Serbia. Most of the victims were buried in snowdrifts and frozen to death.

The Yugoslav victims raised unofficial estimates of the continent's weather death toll to more than 300.

Communist Romania ordered emergency measures to meet transport, communication and power breakdowns. Bucharest radio reported acute shortages of coal, food and water in many places, including the capital.

NORMAL WEATHER NEAR

Slightly warmer weather spread slowly southward in Britain and Germany, bringing welcome relief from the 11-day freeze-up. Normal winter temperatures are expected in most of western Europe by this week-end.

Despite the slight break in weather, much of northern Europe is still ice-bound. Planes still are flying food and other supplies to 6,000 North sea islanders cut off from the mainland by ice.

Several Belgian coal mines are shut because of the cold weather, threatening widespread unemployment.

Man Cornered After Wounding 3 In Hotel

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Three persons were shot and wounded in a Hollywood hotel Wednesday night and three hours later heavily armed police closed in on a veterans' hospital and cornered a gunman while he was admitting the shooting to a priest.

While the gunman, identified as Albert Markle, 32, held a gun and talked with the priest for an hour and a half, 15 officers armed with rifles and tear-gas bombs arrived at the hospital and stationed themselves outside the priest's office.

The officers kept Markle covered but waited while he talked for fear of injuring the priest, the Rev. Frederick Lamb, hospital chaplain, and another man Lieut. F. W. Green of the hospital police force, who was in the room.

While Markle talked the tension mounted. "We were just going to give him another two minutes to surrender his gun when he finally turned it over to Green," said police Sgt. Al Barr.

Markle was booked on suspicion of attempted murder.

THREATENS, SHOOTS THREE

Detectives said that earlier in the evening Markle had appeared at a small hotel, pointed a gun at George Lawless, 58, a male nurse, and demanded to see a Mrs. Juanita Simmons, 41. Lawless said he took Markle to Mrs. Simmons' room where her invalid father, Charles Piers, 80, also was present.

Lawless said Markle formerly had been a caretaker at the hotel and also had acted as a nurse for Piers. He added that Markle brandished his gun, argued over the selection of TV programs and became enraged.

Police said Mrs. Simmons told Markle: "We know you've been drinking, Al. Leave us alone and go away."

Lawless told detectives that Markle then fired three shots at Mrs. Simmons and four shots at himself and Piers. Mrs. Simmons was seriously hurt with two wounds in the stomach. Piers and Lawless were shot in the legs.

Detectives said that after the shootings Markle took a taxi to the hospital.

Report Pope Pius Continues To Improve

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Vatican announced today that Pope Pius is continuing to improve from the gastric ailment which has kept him in seclusion since Jan. 26.

Moderately optimistic like all other Vatican press office communiques on the Pope's health, the statement said:

"The improvement of the past several days in the Pope's health continues." It added that he had passed a restful night.

Again this morning the Pope received his pro-secretary of state, Msgr. Giovanni Battista Montini, to study affairs of the church.

The pontiff's private physician, Dr. Riccardo Galeazzi - Lisi, declined to comment today after the first of his two regular daily visits.

The lingering nature of the Pope's ailment and his seclusion from all but his closest associates have caused widespread anxiety about his health.

Rebuilt Arena Gets Attention

COBOURG (ENS) — The rebuilt recreation centre is receiving considerable attention from outside communities who are planning to construct similar buildings.

Practically destroyed last August by a fire which swept through the building so rapidly that firemen hadn't a chance to save it, the new centre is much more fire-resistant. The special roof design has been admired by visitors from out-of-town. A committee from a community near Hamilton inspected the recreational centre on Wednesday to gather information to assist in planning their own.

Church Groups Report At Annual Meeting

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS) — The congregation of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church held their annual meeting recently, which started off with a pot-luck supper.

The Rev. A. E. Tombs conducted the business portion of the meeting, opening with a prayer and scripture reading.

The board of managers' report was given by Arthur F. Collette. The year had been a busy one for the board, he said, with the church auditorium being completely redecorated.

"Reports was also heard from the WMS, the Women's Auxiliary, the Mission Band, the Ladies' Aid and the Seymour West Ladies Aid; choir, U. R. Welcome Club, YPS, Cradle Roll and Sunday school.

At the close of the meeting, a vote of thanks was extended to Mr. and Mrs. Tombs by J. F. McGregor for their untiring work during the year.

Weather, Shortages Delay Cobourg Work

COBOURG (ENS)— Combination of severe weather and mild wet weather is not helping the building work now in progress in Cobourg, which has been going on all winter. The $116,000 addition to St. Michael's Separate School will not be finished for at least two months.

Delay in getting steel, followed by a shortage of bricklayers held up progress and the bad weather of the past few weeks has also tended to delay things. Laying of the water main up Burnham street to the new housing area there has been plagued by too much surface water during the past week.

Town Council Studies 1954 Expenditures

COBOURG (ENS) Committees of the 1954 council are inspecting the town hall, market building, streets and other departments which come under their jurisdiction in order to see what has to be done this year.

The council is hoping to keep the tax rate at the same level as in 1953 and only necessary expenditures are being contemplated.

Committees are preparing their estimates in order that the 1954 budget can be prepared as soon as possible.

Tehran Voting Goes Quietly

TEHRAN (AP) — The Iranian capital's three-day elections for a national senate wound up quietly Wednesday night with an estimated 30,000 ballots in the boxes. Counting started today.

One man is still in the hospital as a result of earlier scattered fracases, according to police. Seven others injured during the balloting have been released.

Police claim there have been no killings.

Only 20 of the 69 persons jailed during the disturbances are still locked up, police said.

The voters selected 75 electors who will name 15 senators to represent Tehran. Iran's other nine provinces will pick 15 senators. The shah will name the other 30 members of the 60-seat upper house.

Newly-Formed Choir To Sing In Church

PORT HOPE — A newly-formed male choir will make its first public appearance Sunday, at 7.00 p.m. at the Port Hope United church. The choir, one of the largest men's choirs ever organized here, began functioning in November of 1953.

Its is a non-sectarian organizaztion. It is directed by Kenneth Cameron who had eight years' previous experience with a male choir in Nova Scotia. Practices have been held weekly and sometimes more than once a week since the choirs' inception.

Officers for 1954 include: president, Den De Rivers, vice-president, Lew Roberts and Secretary-treasurer, George Cameron.

Says Forest Resources Rapidly Destroyed

NIPIGON (CP) — Donald C. MacDonald, Ontario CCF leader, Wednesday night accused the provincial government of "standing idly by and permitting methods of exploitation that are rapidly destroying Ontario's forest resources."

In a speech at this logging and fishing resort town on Lake Superior, the CCF leader said the forest industry "has been reduced to the unbelievable position where it will have to be subsidized from the general revenues of the province in order to rebuild its long term productive capacity."

Mr. MacDonald's speech here wound up a tour of 40 northwestern Ontario communities.

Conqueror Of Mt. Everest Heads For Himalayan Valley

WASHINGTON — Sir Edmund Hillary's plan to explore the Barun Valley in the Himalayas turns the world's attention this year to one of Earth's least known areas, a desolate region of rocks, ice and cold.

Last May 29, under the leadership Sir John Hunt of the British Mt. Everest Expedition, Hillary and Tenzing Norkey, the Sherpa guide, scaled the world's loftiest mountain.

Immediately climbers wondered: After a man climbs Everest, what next does he tackle?

Recently, while preparing to fly to Washington where the Everest expedition will receive the National Geographic Society's prized Hubbard Medal, Sir Edmund gave the answer.

He wanted first to try an assault on Makalu, the 27,900-foot peak 12 miles southeast of everest. No man has yet set foot on its pinnacle.

U.S. TEAM TO TRY MAKALU

But a California team had won prior permission to attempt this giant of the Nepal-Tibet border. Hillary then decided to lead his New Zealand expedition into the Barun Valley, hitherto explored by only four Europeans — one of them himself.

A spectacular region of roaring avalanches and icy spires, the valley begins on the southern slopes of Pethangtse, a beautiful 22,080-foot peak six miles east of Mt Everest. Here the Barun Glacier scours a path southeast past the south ramparts of Makalu and feeds water into the precipitous gorge of the Barun River. Thirty-five miles from Mt. Everest the Barun flows into the Arun, a stream which cuts through the very backbone of the Himalayas.

Most of what is known about the Barun comes from Eric Shipton, a Briton who has scouted the Everest massif for years.

In 1951 he and Hillary set their hearts on probing the jagged formations of the basin. The next year they entered the region, accompanied by Dr. Charles Evans, a Liverpool (England) surgeon, and George Lowe, a New Zealand school teacher, both members of the successful Everest expedition of last year.

THEY CLIMB THREE PEAKS

They climbed two peaks of 22,500 feet and 21,800 feet. There they surveyed an awesome panorama. In mighty array the towering Himalayes pierced the clouds. Below, the jumbled floor of the Barun basin dropped from 17,000 to 4,000 feet.

In mid-June Hillary and Evans mounted another unnamed summit, 21,400 feet. Finally the party set out down the lower Barun valley. From a gloomy defile the men emerged into fertile, green pastureland strangely contrasting with the crystal configurations of Makalu's over-hanging glaccier of the north. Alpine flowers dotted the ground.

Jogging, on the party met friendly Buddhist shepherds and soon found itself among thick growth of rhododendrons, firs and birches. Waterfalls tumbled from heights resembling Norwegian fjords.

At the 9,000-foot level the Barun turned into a chasm lined with tropical forests where heavy rains alternated with sunny skies. Days later the group followed a circuitous route to the Arun, and thence to India.

The Townships And The City

People in the suburban townships who are not farmers, who work in Peterborough, have a house and lot or a couple of acres outside the city, are in some quandaries about the municipal services they want—street lighting, water, police protection, hospitals, schools, fire protection. They tend to look to the city services. The city, which has already by annexation removed from some township councils some of the problems which suburban residential expansion has occasioned, says that it is not the city's business to pay for services to township residents, even if they are living just beyond the city limits.

* * *

It is perhaps natural that a housing area which looks townish—rows of houses along a highway or a county road only a few hundred yards outside the city—should seem to lie within the city's sphere. Yet the City Council can say: this has nothing to do with us. The taxes go to the township; let the township council accept the responsibility. On the other hand, many township councils are not used to dealing with suburban questions. Most of the councillors are long-established farmers of the township, with little interest in, or liking for, the upstart housing developments on their township fringe. They are accustomed to being asked to maintain a country culvert deep in the heart of the township, but not to requests for street lighting, water, fire protection.

* * *

The question may be asked if township councils are taking their suburban problems sufficiently well in hand? It is their responsibility to provide for their suburban residents as well as for the rural people proper. City councils have had to grapple with many new and costly problems since the war, and many of them seem to be doing it courageously and well. What is the record of township councils, in areas bordering cities like Kingston, Brantford, Peterborough? Has there been a tendency to pass the buck, while keeping the tax buck these same suburban residents provide?

Coffee Steaming

The very great increases in the price of coffee since the war are out of proportion with increased prices of other commodities. What is the reason? It is said that blight and crop failures several years ago reduced the plantations in Brazil. That does not seem in accord with facts; there was a drop in production between 1935 and 1944, due, it seems, primarily to economic conditions and the war; but in 1951 production began again to take a predominant place, amounting to 28.48 per cent. of the total agricultural production of the country. A handbook, issued in French last year by the Brazilian Ministry for Foreign Affairs says that "Coffee, however, has suffered a very serious crisis, because of the development of foreign plantations, the fall in markets, the increase in the net cost, and the diminution of the crop due to the impoverishment of the soil."

The reasons stated for the "serious crisis" are not entirely convincing. More coffee is being drunk than ever before (twice as much in Canada, twice as much in Britain, for example, as fifteen years ago). The development of coffee plantations outside Brazil (in British Africa, for instance) cannot have been a serious threat to Brazil's markets, otherwise prices would have gone down, because of the competition and a glut. We can understand that exhausted soil might seriously affect Brazil's production, but the figures do not suggest a "crisis". The export tonnage of coffee increased in 1950, 1951 and 1952. We note that no mention is made of frost damage and the like—one of the reasons being advanced now for the increase in price to consumers on this continent.

We cannot forbear a suspicion that the market price is being manipulated in Rio or New York or both places. It is not without significance that the only comment made by the New York Times last Sunday on the lively topic of high coffee prices was an explanation of buying and selling methods on the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange, revealing a considerable area of speculation in prices.

Mention has been made above of the development of coffee plantations outside Brazil. Britain is now being supplied largely by African coffee and the price of coffee to Britons has risen only about ten per cent. in recent years. Even so, British coffee is not cheap; the top grade, in tins, retails at about a dollar a pound; lower grades at about eighty cents. If the price to Canadians of Brazilian coffee begins to put it quite out of their every-day reach, wholesalers might think of importing from African plantations—provided, of course, the cup of coffee a Canadian could make from it was not English-tasting coffee.

Another way out would be to revert to tea. Until recent years Canadians have been largely tea-drinkers. It is a good beverage, and the higher the price of coffee the better the taste of tea will be. Even Americans are today becoming tea-drinkers.

How Are You Feeling Today?

We have just wakened up to the fact that this is Health Week. We have been feeling pretty well for quite a while, and when we feel well we do not think about health; in this respect we are like most people, and we think that we are in the right. Health should be, after all, the normal state of mankind. Brooding about health, as though it were an unattainable goal, is in itself unhealthy. Are you feeling well? We hope so. You should, for you are living in what is probably the healthiest era that the world has ever known.

You doubt it? You believe that when mankind was in its youth, people enjoyed a wonderful, boundless health? You think that cavemen were great big fellows who never knew what it was to be sick? We hate to disillusion you, but the best information we have about primitive man suggests that he was a little fellow who ate a wretched diet, suffered from cancer, arthritis and toothache, and was an old man if he managed to hang on after thirty.

You think that it would have been fun to live in the picturesque world of the Middle Ages, or in the spacious days of the first Queen Elizabeth? You will change your mind if you do a little studying of the medical ideas prevalent in both those eras. Until doctors found out how to open people up without killing them, and until they began to use the microscope, the life of man was a chancy business and it was only with unusual good luck that he lived longer than the cave man.

You are depressed by thoughts of the atom bomb, or being hit by a car? But you cannot escape from misery by a flight into the past. You have heard of bubonic plague? But you do not know anyone who has had it? Well, in 1665 the total population of London was 460,000, and 68,596 of them died of plague. In the 14th century Europe was so ravaged by plague that it lost about 25 million people—about two-thirds of the total population. It is easier to hop out of the path of a car than it used to be to avoid the plague. And we doubt if the atomic bomb will ever wipe out two-thirds of a continent's population.

You think that cancer, and arthritis, and tuberculosis are very common? How do you know that? The most you know is that they are now diagnosed more efficiently than ever before. You know—or if you don't you should find out—that your expectancy of life is better than was that of your grandfather, and that you eat better food than the kind your grandmother cooked, whatever tender recollections you may have of it. In fact, we are all healthier than we have any reasonable right to expect, considering the innumerable follies and stupidities of mankind; in countries where such things are considered important, the general health of the population is improving.

And that is all that we have to say about Health Week.

July And August Elections

When the Progressive Conservatives in the House of Commons introduced a resolution that no Dominion elections should be held in the months of July or August, it was 'talked out'—a parliamentary term which means that its time for discussion was exhausted, and it now goes to the bottom of a long list, and cannot be raised again until all other matters on the list have had their consideration. We do not understand why elections should be barred in these months, or indeed in any part of the year. Of course, common sense makes it unlikely that an election would be called in midwinter unless some emergency demanded it; otherwise, what makes one month better than another?

It is not an answer to say that great numbers of people go on vacation in July and August; that used to be the case, but nowadays people take their vacations at all times of the year. And we feel that it is a little silly to say that anybody is disfranchised if an election falls in his holiday time; if he feels a burning desire to vote, he is even more free to do so than if he were at work. July and August are busy times for farmers, certainly, but what period of fine weather is not a busy time for farmers? And is there any part of the year that is not a busy time for several very large groups in the population?

When too much emphasis is laid on the convenience of the individual voter, the cart is being put before the horse. The country's necessity is what decides the date of an election. If the necessity is not pressing, the date will be made to suit everyone's convenience as much as possible. The proportion of votes cast, when compared with the number of voters in Canada, never suggests that every Canadian is straining to get to the polls, and that those who do not vote have been prevented by some hardship.

THE AMERICAN SCENE

Welfare State And Ballet

By ALASTAIR BUCHAN

TOO MANY Americans, particularly to most Republicans, the concept of the "Welfare State" is anathema; just as both the principal political Parties, Republican and Democrat, repudiate any policies which can be described as "Socialist." The ideal America, which its conservative politicians and magazines like to believe exists, is one of rugged individualism, free enterprise and lack of Government interference. But despite the fact that President Eisenhower has repudiated any idea of introducing "socialised medicine" — that is to say, a national health service similar to that in Britain — the United States is, and has been for the past decade and a half, one of the most welfare-conscious nations in the world.

✧ ✧ ✧

THIS was made perfectly clear in the enthusiastic reception which Congress gave to President Eisenhower's recent proposals for extending the coverage of the present social security legislation and for increasing the benefits which American workers will draw from it. Even the most conservative Republican Congressman know they have little chance of being re-elected next November if their voting record shows that they have been unsympathetic to welfare legislation

The pattern of such legislation in the United States is complicated by the federal system of Government. Unemployment assistance; public assistance for the blind, the disabled and for orphans; and maternity and child welfare, are the responsibility of the forty-eight State Governments. But since few of these Governments can meet their obligations in full, each of the States is aided by annual grants from the Federal Government, according to a formula which takes account of the State's size and resources. President Eisenhower has suggested increasing the Federal grant for public assistance in order to raise the general level of payments.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE FEDERAL Government itself administers an enormous scheme known as Old Age and Survivors' Insurance. This is a scheme whereby every worker whose average income is below a certain level pays a small contribution — at present two per cent., of his earnings — in return for a steady income at the age of sixty-five. It was instituted in 1937, in the days of the "New Deal." Now President Eisenhower proposes to enlarge it. He would raise the income up to which employer and employee pay two per cent. of the latter's earnings, raise the level of benefits, which are graded according to earnings and length of contribution; and most popular of all he would make it possible for a man drawing benefits after the age of sixty-five to also earn up to one thousand dollars a year without losing the benefits. This is considered very important in view of the increasing proportion of old people in America — as in all Western countries.

✧ ✧ ✧

FINALLY President Eisenhower has proposed a step which was denounced as "socialistic" when Mr. Clement Attlee's Labour Government took a similar course with the British Health Service in 1947. The President would increase the scope of Old Age Insurance to include ten million self-employed farmers, doctors, professional people, clergy and the like, in addition to the seventy-five million industrial and agricultural workers already covered.

There are, of course, many ways in which the American welfare structure cannot compare with that provide in Britain or Australia. Yet although there is no national health scheme, this fact is to a certain extent offset by a far wider use of group and private insurance systems than was common in Britain before the National Health Scheme was introduced. Fifty-eight per cent. of the U.S. population are covered by some form of group insurance, although this actually pays only fifteen per cent. of the nation's total bill for doctors, hospitals and medicine — a bill which has now reached the staggering figure of nine thousand million dollars a year.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE AMERICAN MEDICAL Association, a very conservative body, has fought doggedly against any form of Government insurance, and successfully defeated the efforts of the Truman Administration to introduce compulsory health insurance. What the Eisenhower Administration intends to try to introduce is a fund which would enable the private insurance bodies to reinsure part of their risk, thus enabling them to extend their coverage and eventually lower their rates. At the same time the Government would extend the direct grants it already makes for rehabilitation, clinics and medical research.

The United States is becoming more and more of a Welfare State while protesting vigorously that it is the last home of free enterprise. The pragmatic, piecemeal approach is different in character from the social revolutions which have occurred elsewhere; but it is probable that in our grandchildren's time the result will be very much the same.

✧ ✧ ✧

A NOTABLE thing about the post-war world has been the rise of the ballet as one of the popular arts in almost every Western country. Probably nowhere has the increase in its popularity been more swift than in the United States. Before the war there were occasional successful tours by famous companies; and indeed, a hundred years ago, when the Viennese dancer, Fanny Elssler, came to Washington, Congress declared itself in recess to go and watch her; but there was no indigenous school. Now, within the space of a month, the Sadlers Wells Company has played to packed audiences in Washington (it was a somewhat tired company, after a fifteen-week tour which packed opera houses, converted cinemas and even baseball stadiums across the country), and the visit of the Royal Winnipeg Ballet will have packed houses. There are thought to be two thousand ballet schools in the United States, and a manufacturer of ballet slippers has estimated that annual sales in this country are now a million and a quarter.

✧ ✧ ✧

IN the New York City Ballet the country now has one of the finest ballet centres in the world, and one based on distinctly American themes. Under its Russian-born director, George Balanchine, and its Bostonian "angel," Lincoln Kirstein, it has built up a reputation not only in the United States but in Europe for adventurous choreography, vigorous dancing and a much stronger collection of male dancers than most European ballets can now show to offset its two prima ballerinas, the French-born Tanacquil Le Clercq and the Oklahoma-born Maria Tallchief (a name which sophisticated ballet fans first assumed to be Russian.)

Balanchine is probably more responsible, through his superb talent for choreography and the high standards he has demanded, than any other man, for making American ballet-conscious; and it is a sign of his success that he can pack the New York City Centre at a time when all the New York theatres are doing badly — and do this even with his new work, "Opus 34," which has atonal music, and revolves round an opening theatre.

✧ ✧ ✧

FROM south of the border, down Mexico way, comes a strange footnote to President Eisenhower's call for greater emphasis on the peaceful uses of atomic energy. A woman has been charged with murdering her wealthy husband with uranium nitrate. The Senora has wisely fled the country, but the toxicologists who have studied the Senor's remains are positive that he was done in by some form of uranium derivative, which apparently could have been purchased in the strength it was administered for less than ten thousand dollars and the availability of which is, in any case, rigidly controlled. With arsenic and strychnine to be had almost for the asking, it seems a somewhat flamboyant method of dissolving a life's partnership.

Letters To The Editor

CLOSE HARMONY

SIR:-

Confusion reigns in the retail trade
With the Monday closing bylaw made.

Wednesday some shops close, you see,
But not the butcher or grocery.

Fruit stores lock up on Monday, too;
Saturday the banks are closed to you.

Sunday all shops are closed up tight,
Nor will anyone open on Friday night.

Three days all open, good ladies and sirs,
Except if a public holiday occurs.

Yes, confusion reigns, Confucius say,
So let's open all night and close each day.

Sincerely,
"UNHAPPY DAZE."

CURE FOR HICCUPS

SIR: The distress caused His Holiness Pius XII by hiccoughs during the past week brings to mind a remedy I have found for twenty years to bring immediate relief. It is mentioned in his autobiography by the late Professor William Lyon Phelps as an infallible cure for hiccoughs, and since discovering it twenty years ago I have tried it on hundreds of people suffering from this affliction and have never known it to fail.

On page 433 of his "Autobiography with Letters," Professor Phelps referring to his friend, M. Boulay, vacationing with him on the coast of Normandy, writes:

"I amazed and delighted him by curing him instantly of a case of hiccoughs that had lasted two hours and had given him great alarm. We were far out in the country and I told him I should cure him as soon as we could secure a glass of water. He would not believe that he was to be instantly cured. I told him to place his two thumbs tightly in his ears, closing the ears hermetically; and with the forefinger of each hand to close both nostrils; whereupon I held the glass of water to his lips and told him to swallow once. He did so, and the hiccoughs ceased immediately. I have never known this simple method to fail."

Nor have I! It is as effective as it is simple. In my opinion it would be a public service of considerable value to many people for this quotation from Professor Phelps' Autobiography to find a place in your columns.

Sincerely,
HERBERT A. MOWAT.

LOW RUMBLING FROM STONY LAKE

SIR: Now, at last, the long over due completion for a paved Stony Lake-Havelock Highway should be upper most in the minds of every citizen of Peterborough County, for such an improvement to one section of a county does have it's effect in a minor or major cost and profit to every one within reach.

When I began writing articles years ago, I went many times to speak before the County Council and made many special trips to Toronto to see the Highway Department officials, asking in every case, for their support and co-operation to do that which was in their power toward having the then dreadfully narrow, crooked and ancient type of gravel road with its many sections where the view of on-coming traffic was obscured, developed into an improved gravel highway extending from route 28 near Lakefield along Stony Lake and the farm and lake sections to Havelock. After I had properly presented these long overdue needs to the proper officials, as early as 1940 I asked nine individuals from different walks of life to aid me in approaching every citizen concerned far and near, to get their signatures and support to get this project accomplished. In less than 4 weeks, when the snow was at least 2 ft. on the level, we secured over 1,800 signatures. We did not have tourists from the U.S. or elsewhere write to the Examiner ridiculing our wash-board permanent wave sections made thus by the protrusion of the ancient logs placed there for the wagon-type road of our ancestors. Some of those logs may still be seen at times along our so-called improved gravel road we have today which along with the present large and dangerously deep pot-holes, the soft shoulders and that dreadfully blinding dust, are enough to prove that this mentioned gravel highway should in 1954 have immediate action toward paving and other necessary improvements. All the supporters of this cause have been patient while they have endured travelling over the dangerously deep pot holes, the blinding dust and other hazards while they have watched sections in the county built up with paved highways because some tourists wrote a few ridiculing letters and certain others boosted for such improvements; yet the taxpayers over the county had to do their bit and pay and endure the hazards of travel. Before more lake bottoms are covered with causeway sections and the present rumblings of a new causeway made across another lake be fulfilled I know many more than those, who gave us the 1,800 signatures are making low rumblings and in their own ways, asking that this Stony Lake Highway be paved and the section between this highway and Havelock be developed into an improved highway.

Last November, we made a 1,500 mile trip, including routes to Windsor, through the U.S. and back via Niagara Falls and we never were on 1 ft. of gravel or poor paved highway excepting that of our Stony Lake section.

Yours,
MRS. MAUDE (Joseph) HAMILTON.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Now the Lord had told Samuel in his ear a day before Saul came, saying, Tomorrow about this time I will send thee a man out of the land of Benjamin, and thou shalt anoint him to be captain over my people Israel, that he may save my people out of the hand of the Philistines: for I have looked upon my people, because their cry is come unto me.

And when Samuel saw Saul, the Lord said unto him, Behold the man whom I spake to thee of! this same shall reign over my people. (I. Sam. 9:15-17.)

✧ ✧ ✧

But the Spirit of the Lord departed from Saul, and an evil spirit from the Lord troubled him . . . And Saul said unto his servants, Provide me now a man that can play well, and bring him to me.

Then answered one of the servants, and said, Behold, I have seen a son of Jesse the Beth-lehemite, that is cunning in playing, and a mighty valiant man, and a man of war, and prudent in matters, and a comely person, and the Lord is with him.

Wherefore Saul sent messengers unto Jesse, and said, Send me David thy son, which is with the sheep . . . And it came to pass, when the evil spirit from God was upon Saul, that David took an harp, and played with his hands: so Saul was refreshed, and was well, and the evil spirit departed from him. (I Sam. 16:14, 17-19, 23.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Teach me to do thy will; for thou art my God: thy spirit is good; lead me into the land of uprightness. (Ps. 143:10.)

Unconsidered Trifles

JUST A START

It was the 'teenager's first visit to a perfume counter. Her eyes roved uneasily over the lurid trade names: Night of Passion, Mad Embrace, Irresistible.

Finally, she mustered enough courage to approach a salesgirl. "Excuse me," she said demurely, "but have you anything suitable for a beginner?"

COMPETITION

An acrobatic team, two men and a girl, were explaining their act to a booking agent. The girl said, "And once during every performance, they throw me into the audience."

"Why do they do that?" asked the agent.

"Well," was the reply, "you know we have to compete with three-dimensional movies now."

Red Wine For the Oldest German

(Trail B.C. Times)

Karl Glockner, oldest veteran of the Franco-Prussian War, died last October 3 in Eidengesass, Germany, three months before his 108th birthday.

Last year Glockner was made an honorary member of the United States 12th Artillery Regiment, then stationed in Gelnhausen, near Eidengesass. A former artilleryman himself, he remained alert till the end of his life and, until his last illness, drank a glass of red wine every day and smoked a cigar.

Elizabeth Opens Parliament

SYDNEY, Australia (CP) — A police inspector died on duty and many persons fainted today as Queen Elizabeth rode through Sydney at the height of a summer heat wave.

Some 60,000 tightly-packed spectators saw the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh drive from Government House for the opening of the New South Wales state Parliament. Police reinforcements were called out later when a crowd of 70,000 broke through barriers to see the Queen arrive for a women's luncheon.

Police on motorcycles roared their engines along the edge of the crowd to clear the road for the royal car. Women were forced to their knees in the crush and many fainted.

WORST CROWDS EVER

Police said they had never seen such crowds packed into one area before. A police inspector collapsed and died on MacQuarrie street while trying to control the mobs.

The famous "Sydney cheer" rolled like thunder over the whole city as the royal couple drove from Government House. The Queen, smiling and looking cool despite the temperature, waved back.

MAGNIFICENT FROCK

Brilliant sunshine emphasized her magnificent flowing frock, slashed with the bright blue sash of the Order of the Garter.

The opening of parliament was a ceremony rich in pomp, pageantry and brilliant color.

It was the first time a reigning monarch had opened an Australian parliament and the Queen said in brief personal speech that it was fitting that the first royal opening should be in the "mother of Australian parliaments."

"I am very pleased that I am able to speak to you in person on the occasion of opening the third session of the 37th Parliament of the state of New South Wales," she said.

"My long - cherished hopes of visiting with my husband my people of Australia are now realized. The welcome accorded to us was so cordial and spontaneous that we shall always remember it.

"I desire to express my appreciation to you and through you as their representatives to all my people of this great state.

"I look forward with pleasure to the rest of my stay in Australia.

ADVANCING COUNTRY

"Nowhere else has parliamentary democracy demonstrated more effectively its soundness and its adaptability to the changing times and needs than in this young and rapidly advancing country.

"My ministers are giving close attention to matters of importance to the contentment and prosperity of my people in New South Wales and they will submit their legislative proposals for your consideration.

"I now leave you to discharge your important duties with earnest prayer that under divine guidance your laborers may further advance the welfare and happiness of all."

SEPARATE ENGAGEMENTS

After the parliamentary opening the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh fulfilled separate engagements for the first time on the Australian portion of their six-month Commonwealth tour. The Queen met 670 Sydney women at a luncheon of representatives of women's organizations. The duke spent more than an hour at Sydney University.

The opening of Parliament, however, was the highlight of the royal engagements of the busy second day in Australia, winding up with a state banquet tonight.

So enthusiastic was the crowd that some women tried to climb lamp posts outside the parliament building to see the royal couple. Police lined part of the street 20 deep and reinforcements had to be called.

After the opening the Queen and the duke separated. As the Queen entered a downtown restaurant for the women's luncheon, crowds broke through police barriers and surged forward. An emergency police cordon held back the solid wedge of excited Australians as they threatened to engulf the entrance of the restaurant.

150 WOMEN FAINT

Ambulance men treated 150 women who fainted.

The duke had crowd trouble too —from girl students at the university.

Blowing kisses and screaming with excitement the co-eds broke through the barriers and ran along within a few yards of the duke, who just grinned at them.

Sydney newspapers have devoted almost their entire issues of up to 64 pages to reports to the royal arrival.

The Sydney Telegraph is running daily two columns headed "home town news for the royal party" containing news of Prince Charles and Princess Anne and of goings-on in London.

FAMILY TIES STRESSED

The Queen told the women's luncheon that modern life tends to weaken the influence of home and family, and "if that influence is weakened in a nation its strength and vitality will go from it."

"It always seemed to me from what I have learned that one of the happiest aspects of life in this country is the enduring strength of home and family.

"Were it not so I cannot believe that Australian manhood would be so renowned as it is for its vigor and self-reliance.

HELPED NATIONHOOD

"Pioneer women, by their sacrifice and devotion, brought up their families and created homes under conditions of utmost difficulty and by doing so helped immeasurably to bring Australia to nationhood."

The Sydney Daily Mirror said in a front-page story today that the Queen and the duke are considering the suggestion that the duke visit Australia next year by himself.

The duke's program, as in his visit to Canada scheduled for later this year, would include many of the out-of-the-way places missed on the present royal tour, The Mirror said.

APOSTOLIC DELEGATE — Most Rev. Giovanni Panico, 58, newly-appointed apostolic delegate to Canada, will arrive in Ottawa March 2 to assume his new duties. A former apostolic delegate to Australia, he has been apostolic nuncio in Lima, Peru, for the last five years. He succeeds Msgr. Ildebrando Antoniutti who was recently named apostolic nuncio to Madrid.—(CP Photo).

Rail Collision Proves Blessing

WATFORD JUNCTION, England (Reuters)—The collision of Britain's crack express, the Royal Scot with a northbound local Wednesday may have been a blessing in disguise.

The Scot had just swept out of a tunnel 17 miles from London when the last three coaches jumped the track. A slow train from London to Wolverhampton, pulling out two minutes late, was sideswiped, and served as a prop for the wavering, rear section of the express.

Only nine persons were injured, none seriously, when passengers were flung from their seats as the two trains ground together. The Royal Scot went on for another mile, leaving its damaged coaches tilted against the station's stone platform, which was wrecked.

Champs For A Few Seconds The Mills Brothers Fall To Whipper And Hombre

For about five seconds late last evening, Al and Tiny Mills were pro wrestling tag team champions of Canada—and then a reversed decision by Referee Joe Gollob of Montreal put them back in the challengers' category, leaving the way clear for Whipper Bill Watson and Hombre Montana to retain that title. The Whip made no mistake about it on his second chance and promptly applied the whip hold and slam to dump Tiny Mills hard for the deciding fall in eight minutes as the big crowd, all up on their feet and many swarming around the ring, cheered loudly. The villainous Mills brothers were fit to be tied and threatened to report Gollob to the Ontario Athletic Commission.

REF MISSED IT

It came about this way: Tiny Mills had throttled Watson by the ropes and bulled him down apparently for the fall. Without checking too carefully, Gollob counted Whipper out and raised the hands of Tiny and Al in token of victory for the deciding fall. Whip's partner, Hombre Montana jumped through the ropes and yanked Gollob over—pointing to the prostrate Watson's feet outside the ropes. He was still lying there without moving. The ref realized his error in allowing such a fall and reversed his decision. The indignant villains strode out of the ring, but Tiny finally reutrned when Joe was counting him out. Whip recovered then and dispatched him quickly.

Al Mills had won the second and equalizing fall over Hombre in five minutes with a slam, after Al had just before this interfered as Hombre had Tiny set up for his special back-breaker grip. Al jumped in and knocked Hombre flat, and on resuming he banged the big fellow to the floor for an undeserved fall. That's how it went much of the bout—the Mills teamed up better in their corner and Referee Gollob was too busy feuding with Whipper (who hates refs) to keep properly on the job. He didn't even catch Tiny rubbing grease from his hair into Montana's eyes.

HOMBER WINS

Hombre, weighing 325, and Whip (at 238) won the opening fall in 22 minutes over Al, who goes 255, and the hulking 274-pound Tiny, when Montana applied the back-breaker after two blows to the jaw on Al. It was a rough session all the way, the grapplers being in and out of the squared arena frequently, and all four smashing away at each other in the ring at one time. The ref missed much of the illegal stuff of the wily Mills' pair, but Whipper was too experienced and fast for his rivals, and Montana had the strength to stand the hard going. There was hot action from bell to bell and the fans—pulling for Whip and Hombre—made plenty of noise throughout.

A STANDING FLIP

Popular Jack Bence, going 226, took the semi-final bout over the 241-pound bald and moustached Firpo Szybsko of Poland. He did it in 17 minutes with a mule kick to the chops and a shoulder stand, after pulling as fancy a back flip as has been seen here this season to thwart a thrust for a leglock by the rough Pole. It was a complete back standing flip which put him in position to cross up the crowding Firjo and Jack drew a hefty hand when the count was over. The Pole was powerful and knew a lot of illegal stuff, but Bence had speed and agility. Their bout was lively all the way and drew a lot of laughs as some clowning was served up, Bence being quite a card. He rode Firpo once by his handle-bar moustaches and outtalked Gollob.

Johnny Harmon, at 224 pounds, and Bill Stack, who scales 241, went to a prelim draw in 30 minutes, both being slowed up at the finish. Their tussle was speedy in spots, with a lot of scientific mat tactics shown, both drawing applause for smart aerial work. The fans were divided on loyalty in this one, and cheered each in turn for tricky grappling grips and breaks. The referees had to break them several times when they applied identical holds to force a stalemate and cut down on the action.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

While the Petes' Trailermen are still considering the question of a coach for the coming OLA senior season, we note Bunny Morganson has a few lacrosse items in his column. Says: "If Lefty Jordan gives up as operator of Hamilton's senior lacrosse club, other Hamilton interests are ready to take over. The West York-Orillia dream is over. Bill McCormack may revive the old Weston Lions club to pick up the player slack. Mimico Mounties will return to their after-the-season-player-split for next season. They tried the pay-as-you-play system last summer and it was a dismal failure. St. Catharines may play some of their games outdoors when weather is favorable. They played all games last season in the Garden City Arena."

* * * * * *

Some time this month those interested in reviving the COBL for senior baseball should get together for a meeting. We mean a loop of Peterborough, Oshawa, Belleville and Kingston. Since Oshawa Merchants definitely have been dropped from the Inter-County League, folks in the Motor City will want baseball of a better than intermediate brand next summer, so why not a good amateur senior club again? The scribe there remarked recently: "Oshawa Transporters, 1953 OBA intermediate 'A' champions, will carry on this season in the best league they can find, either Lakeshore, COBL or Toronto, and it looks as if that will be Oshawa's only adult baseball club in 1954."

Hungry Petes Praised

When the TPT Petes downed Oshawa Truckers last Saturday to take over top spot along in their OHA senior "B" group race (they now share it again with Truckmen), the various papers in the circuit had much praise for the Redmond men. Mike Rodden of Kingston said in part: "The Petes, hottest team in the series, have accomplished the outstanding feat of the long campaign and rate orchids at this stage. The race continues to be the most exciting in many years and almost anything can happen before the 100th game is completed on Feb. 27." Quinte's George Carver comments: "The flaming Petes, riding high recenty, reached the heights Saturday, and the flags are flying in Peterborough." Oshawa's Campbell called Petes puck-hungry and said the difference Saturday was in the two teams' third lines.

* * * * * *

But Tuesday saw the TPT-ers fall in overtime to Memos 6-5 in Bella Villa, as Oshawa beat Orillia to tie 'em for first place again. Kingston, too, is coming along in a drive to reach the top rung ere the schedule ends, and Fridays fixture here betwixt the K's and Petes promises to be a sizzler. First time the Goodyears have shown up this way in more than a month, though the Petes have played several times down in the Limestone City during January. Kingston has added Walt Gerow of Napanee to the lineup, and last year's provincial senior "B" champs will be tough to take the rest of the way. We expect the Peterborough pack will be, too.

Slight Error by Referee

The villainous Mills brothers were first declared winners in the main pro mat bout here last e'en, and then ref found he'd made a mistake and ordered the bout resumed. So what happens? So Whip Watson and partner Hombre Montana finish on top. A merry mixup by the mad matadors, who sure get into some odd ring messes. Apart from the horrible Dusek brothers (and they'd make a real match against Whip and Hombre), there are no meaner pairs than Al and Tiny Mills. Especially when the ref is too busy feuding with the hot-headed Whipper to keep track of things. Anyway, Watson and Montana kept their tag team title for the time being. Jack Bence looked good taking the semi-windup o'er Firpo Szybsko, while Johnny Harmon and Bill Stack drew in the prelim.

* * * * * *

Basketeers toiled on several fronts around here last evening. Some 300 fans enjoyed the annual exhibition betwixt doctors and nurses, the former taking a 30-20 victory up at the Collegiate gym. PCVS senior boys romped to a 65-38 triumph o'er Cobourg and now Zolton Temesy's team is set for the next round. In Cobourg, PCVS junior lasses won 21-9 but their senior sisters dropped a 20-11 decision. Kenner lads won over St. Peter's in OABA bantam play by 17-14 and in COSSA tilt 58-35, but SPS junior boys downed their Kenner rivals 38-35 in COSSA competition. YW games Friday: Black's vs. CGE, and Lindsay vs. Collis. Nothing yet on PCVS or SPS action this weekend.

PCVS Senior Cagers Victors Against Cobourg, 65-38 Kenner And SPS Triumph

PCVS senior Garnet and Greys, coached by Zoltan Temesy, will advance into the next round of their school play. At least that's the way it appeared Wednesday night after they won their third straight over Cobourg 65-38. Meanwhile in Cobourg the PCVS senior girls lost 20-11 and PCVS juniors won convincingly from Cobourg High juniors 21-9. Kenner Collegiate won two games from St. Peter's, winning the OABA bantam 17-14, winning the COSSA bantam 58-35, but lost the COSSA junior 38-35 to the junior Saints.

Temesy's Garnet and Greys again outplayed the Cobourg High seniors and should have totalled a much larger score, but were off in their shooting, missing even simple layups. Just the same, they romped to a 22-8 first quarter, a 36-23 half and a 42-31 third quarter, finishing with a flourish in the fourth.

TOPS SCORERS

Terry Roberts, besides leading the attack, topped the scoring with his season's best of 26. Neil Courneya had 11 and Doug Ash eight. Cobourg's best was Round with 18.

Cobourg High senior lasses went well on their small Cobourg court and ran up an early 5-0 first quarter lead and then a 10-4 half-time score. After that they stayed well ahead of the Garnet and Grey seniors 17-11 at three-quarters and winning 20-11 in the fourth.

PCVS' Mark Dobson and Cobourg's Barbara Deyell each had seven points to lead the scoring.

The PCVS junior girls had much better luck. Paced by Bernice Callan, Joan Weir and Sally Fee the collegiate quintette romped ahead 9-2 in the first quarter, stayed ahead 13-6 at the half, outscored Cobourg High lasses 8-0 in the third, and staved off a last-minute rally by Cobourg in the fourth.

Callan led the scoring in this game with nine points, followed by Weir and Fee, each with six.

HAD EXPERIENCE

St. Peter's High junior Saints had too much experience for the Kenner Collegiate junior Rams. Just the same Kenner managed to take a 15-13 first quarter score. But after that they fell behind 23-21 at the half, then 32-28 at three-quarters and St. Peter's went safely through the fourth despite a Kenner rally.

Dan Quinlan of the Saints and Jerry Montgomery of Rams each scored 13 points.

The scoring followed much the same pattern in the OABA bantam but was reversed. The young Saints grabbed a 6-5 score in the first quarter but fell behind in the second quarter 12-9. Although back only a few points, the Saints couldn't catch up, Kenner staying ahead 15-13 in the third and outscoring Saints in a low-scoring fourth.

Dean Elliott had nine points for Kenner while P. Board had seven for Saints.

LOOKED GOOD

Despite the loss of two stars, Bill Hendry and Pete Faulkner in the second quarter, the Kenner COSSA bantam Rams easily took a 58-35 victory over Saints. Kenner ran ahead 17-5 in the first quarter and were slowed down in the second, losing Hendry and Faulkner through personal fouls. But Kenner stayed ahead 21-16 at the half.

Ken Wass, forced to resort to his second string, found they could also play basketball. The boys matched the first string's efforts and then some as they presented Kenner with a 44-26 third quarter score, romping still further ahead in the fourth.

Hendry, although he played only half a game, led the scoring with 15 points, followed up by Rowe with 13 and Wood with 11. Seidel had 12 for the Saints.

Swing To Pop Music

OLDHAM, England (CP) — Hit parade songs are ousting the old traditional tunes in many of the famous "singing pubs" of this Lancashire city. Middle-aged men and women seem to prefer what one district newspaper called "The swooning nostalgia of 'teen-age America."

BIG CATCHES

OSLO (CP)—Norwegian fishermen landed about 120,000 tons of winter herring in the first six days of the seasonoff the western coast. With fair weather, they expect to surpass the previous year's total of 600,000 tons. About 500 purse seiners and 1,600 drift netters were active.

Kitchener Dutchmen Shut Out Niagara Falls Cataracts 4-0

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

It was no surprise that Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen, pace-setters of the Ontario Hockey Association Senior A group, defeated lowly Niagara Falls Cataracts.

The surprise was that the Dutchmen had to battle for more than two periods before they could break through the tough defence set up by the last-place Cataracts.

After they found the combination, Dutchmen blasted through three more times to shut out Niagara Falls 4-0 at Kitchener.

The victory gives Kitchener a four-point edge over second place Owen Sound Mercurys. Cataracts are 10 points behind sixth-place Chatham Maroons.

Meanwhile, the Maroons missed a chance to crowd into a fifth-place tie with Stratford Indians when the Indians downed them 4-1 at Stratford.

SCORES FIVE GOALS

In a Northern Ontario Hockey Association Southern group Senior A game, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Greyhounds scored an 8-1 win over Pembroke Lumber Kings. Left-winger Jimmy McBurney scored five goals.

At Kitchener, Ken Laufman, Joe Schertzl, Art Hurst and Doug Verity scored for the home town team..

Chatham's lone goal was scored by Danny Blair and Stratford marksmen were Ron Ingram, Billy Flick, Lou Bendo and Ted Pletsch.

McBurney's five goals equalled the mark set by North Bay's Fred Valenti Jan. 5, 1952, when he scored five goals in a NOHA game with Sudbury Miners.

Terry Biocchi, Jimmy Johnston and Johnny Offidani were the other Greyhound scorers. Lionel Barber tallied for Pembroke.

Tonight, Sault Ste. Marie (Mich.) Indians will visit North Bay Trappers.

Owen Sound Mercurys will play Hamilton Tigers at Hamilton.

Dorothy Beatty Tops

Dorothy Beatty's 530 was tops for two games in the Girls' City Bowling League. She was followed by Joan Pope with 519, M. Cunningham 498, B. Befisle 476, J. Pammett 461, M. Timm 469, B. Peterkin 457 and D. Martin 451. Cardinals led teams with 2144. Bea Morrow still leads in high averages with 244 and Betty Peterkin in two-game totals with 590. Ruby Pearse's 340 was best single to date.

Leo Labine Makes Headway In NHL Playing Since Chip Off Shoulder

By JIM BASTABLE, Canadian Press Staff Writer

Leo Labine, who liked to throw his 170 pounds around in the amateurs, has become one of the most promising scorers in the National Hockey League since he overcame the urge to make clay pigeons out of opposing players. "But that doesn't mean I'm a sissy," the peppery little centre says. "I may not be going after the boys as much as I used to but don't get the idea that I'm going soft." Boston Bruins, who signed Labine while he was carrying a chip on his shoulder and scoring plenty of goals as a junior with Barrie Flyers in the Ontario Hockey Association, were happy to see him hold his own in the big league when he was brought up two years ago. They were delighted when he concentrated on the nets this season.

"All he needs is steadiness," says coach Lynn Patrick. "He has just about everything else."

In 49 games this season, Labine has scored 10 goals and 11 assists for the fourth-place Bruins. That is two more goals than he had in 51 games last year. In 15 tilts during the 1951-52 season, he had two goals.

PLAY WINGS TONIGHT

The 22-year-old native of Haileybury, Ont., will be with the Bruins tonight when they meet the league-leading Detroit Red Wings in a game that may have a big part in the race for the fourth and last playoff berth for the Stanley Cup championships.

The Bruins, who have won 21 games and tied six this season, are only three points ahead of the fifth-place New York Rangers.

In two other games tonight, the third-place Toronto Maple Leafs travel to Montreal for a game against the second-place Canadiens and the Rangers clash with the last-place Black Hawks in Chicago.

GET ANOTHER CHANCE

The Leafs get another chance to overhaul Montreal tonight.

They have 24 wins and eight ties in 47 games but none came in the Montreal Forum. They lost four games in Montreal and scored only five goals, as against 16 tallied by Canadiens.

A victory would give Toronto 58 points, one more than Montreal.

Remember When—

By THE CANADIAN PRES

The hockey world was stricken by the death of Frank Calder, president of the National Hockey League, 11 years ago today. Calder had been secretary of the old National Hockey Association for several years before he was elected president of the new NHL in 1917. He collapsed at a league meeting in Toronto a week before his death in Montreal.

Baseball Great Tris Speaker To Be At Dinner

TORONTO (CP)—Tris Speaker, one of baseball's all-time greats, will attend the February 18 sports celebrity dinner for crippled children sponsored by the Ontario Sports Writers and Sportscasters Association.

Announcement that Speaker, a member of baseball's Hall of Fame will be one of the celebrities at the $25-a-plate dinner came Wednesday. The association expects at least 17 other celebrities.

Proceeds, expected to be nearly $20,000, go to the Ontario Society for Crippled Children to help finance summer camp construction.

Speaker, still connected with Cleveland Indians for whom he played, is one of two baseball celebrities. The other is Lefty Gomez, former New York Yankees pitcher.

Two girls are among the guests: Marlene Stewart, 19-year-old Fonthill golfer who won the British women's open title in 1953 and was selected by the association as Ontario's outstanding athlete of the year; and Shirley Thomas, 18-year-old Ottawa equestrienne who was a member of Canada's international jumping team in 1953.

COLORFUL GUESTS

The guests include colorful figures from a wide variety of sports: Cyclone Taylor, John Ross Roach Eddie Shore and Frank Boucher, from hockey; Earl Sande, from racing; Herman Hickman, former Yale coach and now a TV personality, Bob Cunningham of Ottawa Rough Riders and Leon Hart of Detroit Lions, from football; Tom Burns and Earl Walls, from boxing; Ken Watson, Canada's No. 1 curler; Torchy Peden, the former cycling star; Aubrey Ireland, Jr., paddling ace; Cliff Lumsden, who has won the world championship 10-mile swim at Toronto's Canadian National Exhibition three times in the last four years.

Gus Ryder, Toronto area swimming instructor, is attending as a special guest. He will be honored for his contribution to sport and work among crippled children.

Emmett Crough Wins Fight By Technical Knockout On Perth Boxing Program

By DON GRANT

Emmett Crough likes to fight. What is more, he excells in it. The youthful Peterborough welterweight proved that he could box as well as "plain fight" Wednesday night to a gym-packed crowd at Sharbot High School, Perth. Combining both clever out-boxing and heavy in-fighting Crough knocked Harry Johnston of Mountain Grove into semi-consciousness to win on a TKO in the final round of the semi-final in an inter-club, Peterborough and Perth, boxing card.

Crough boxed well and dished up fast slugging. Unfortunately the other Peterborough boxers were too refined boxers, and therefore fell under the Perth boxers' blows.

In the final, a well-experienced, well conditioned middleweight, Dwight McLaughlin, of Perth, scored a third-round knockout over previously undefeated John Angiers. Cliff Johnston of Mountain Grove won a TKO over Tommy Mark in three rounds, while Bill Burgomaster lost a very unpopular decision to Bill Sproule, also of Mountain Grove.

HANGING ON

Harry Johnston matched Crough pound for pound, but within the first minute it was clear he wouldn't match the well-built Crough punch for punch. In fact, Johnston was warned several times in the first round to stop clinging and wrestling as he attempted to stop Crough's steadily beating fists.

Crough's ceaseless pounding made Johnston glassy-eyed in the second round, and the referee nearly stopped the fight. But Johnston continued, running into a solid right for a regulation eight-count in the third.

Throughout the fourth Johnston tried to hold on, bending low, dodging Crough's blows. He killed time repeatedly by having his gloves cleaned.

In the final round Crough continued his fistic barrage and Johnston was too groggy to continue. In fact, he was so groggy he took a swing at the referee as he was led to his corner.

Angiers, much lighter than the more experienced McLaughlin, who has a record of 19 wins, matched the Perth boxer evenly in the first round. But McLaughlin was feeling his way.

Late in the second McLaughlin started to work. Moving in close, he caught Angiers with a hard right, flooring him for a dizzy eight-count, but Angiers rose just at the bell.

IS KNOCKED OUT

Still shaky, Angiers walked into the third round and almost immediately was hit again by McLaughlin's right. Angiers rolled off the ropes and down for another eight-count. He rose, fought a fast exchange and then was cornered. McLaughlin set him up with a left, connecting with his right for the knockout.

The game Angiers attempted to rise, but could only get to his hands and knees.

Cliff Johnston was too well-conditioned for Mark in their welterweight go. In a slug-fest, Mark downed Johnston for eight in the first round as Johnston was warned time after time for holding and hitting.

That first-round flurry tired Mark and Johnston began to rally. Both tired quickly, but Johnston connected just at the bell and Mark went down.

In the third Mark was set up twice by Johnston for a knockout punch, but Mark evaded both. Finally the referee stopped the fight as Mark, too tired, became an easy mark for Johnston.

Burgomaster should have won his fight. He left-jabbed his way through two rounds with Bill Sproule, never giving the Mountain Grove fighter a chance to retaliate. In fact, Burgomaster nearly sent Sproule through the ropes twice.

But in the third, the last round, Sproule came out of his slump to thump Burgomaster. The Peterborough fighter went down just at the final bell. There was no count.

Although Burgomaster carried Sproule throughout the first two rounds, the Mountain Grove boxer was given the decision, much to the crowd's amazement.

The other bouts featured young amateur boxers.

FAST RELIEF FOR RHEUMATIC PAIN

MINARD'S "KING OF PAIN" LINIMENT

Suggest Hapes Coach Dutchmen Football Team

HAMILTON (CP)—Merle Hapes, named as possible successor to Gerry Tuttle as coach of Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen of the Ontario Rugby Football Union, said Wednesday night "neither the Dutchies nor myself has made any commitment."

B. F. (Spike) Kearns, president of the Kitchener club, hinted earlier he expects to announce the signing as head coach of a veteran of seven years in National Football League warfare, "who is familiar with our Canadian game."

Hapes fills the bill with his pro background as a New York Giant, and he said he has talked with Kearns.

"But we didn't agree on anything at the time. I told him I was interested and he told me he'd let me know after the week-end, when he talked with another prospect."

Kearns made his announcement to coincide with plans for a Kitchener Quarterback Club rally Feb. 9.

Another possibility is reported to be Harvey (Stud) Johnson, 1953 Hamilton Tiger-Cat backfield coach and a former National League star. Johnson is also said to meet all the requirements.

TO MAKE MILWAUKEE FAMOUS?—Bobby Thomson, former New York Giant slugger whose ninth inning homer won a pennant in 1951, points the route to Milwaukee as his wife looks on. Thomson and catcher Sam Calderone have been traded to the Braves for four players and cash.

Willie Troy KO's Ward In 8th

DETROIT (AP) — Smart Willie Troy of Washington secured his position as seventh ranking middleweight by knocking out Detroit's Moses Ward at 2:42 of the eighth round Wednesday night.

Referee Lou Jallos never had an easier time of it. Not once did he have to step between the two fighters. His hardest assignment was tolling 10 over Ward's limp body and then trying to haul him to his feet.

A left and right put Ward down for good, but he was a victim of exhaustion more than anything else. He simply punched himself out as his defeat put a damper for the time being at least on his dream of going into big time. It was the first time the young Detroiter had ever been floored.

Troy, who weighed 159½ to Ward's 161, was tired at the end as he scored his seventh straight knockout.

Johnny Lattner Decides To Play With Pittsburgh Steelers

PITTSBURGH (AP)—All-America halfback Johnny Lattner of Notre Dame has decided against going to Canada and signed a contract with Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League, the club announced today.

The Steelers declined to disclose the cash terms of the contract with their No. 1 draft choice. A club spokesman said Lattner was signed Wednesday night by head coach Joe Bach at the South Bend, Ind., home of Julius Tucker, a close friend of Lattner's who has acted as an unofficial agent for several Notre Dame players in the past.

The spokesman said the Steelers were elated to have signed the 21-year-old Chicago athlete who revealed previously he had received two tentative offers from representatives of Canadian pro teams, Vancouver and Ottawa were reported interested in signing him.

Lattner was quoted as saying he was "exceedingly happy" to get a crack at the NFL, and Steeler representatives said he undoubtedly would play at least one full season with the club before being called into military service. Lattner, a senior at Notre Dame, is a reserve officer student.

The all-America halfback has won numerous awards for his stellar grid performances with the Irish. He led collegiate players in kick-off returns last year with a 41-yard average, was second on his squad in rushing with 134 carries for 651 yards and the second highest Notre Dame scorer with nine touchdowns last season.

In a practice session for last season's east-West game he injured a shoulder, but the Steelers said he assured them the shoulder is in good shape now.

Blowtorch Risky

REGINA (CP)—Warning against using blowtorches to thaw out frozen water pipes or oil supply lines was issued by provincial fire commissioner R. A. W. Switzer, as presenting a fire hazard. He suggested hot water or cloths soaked in hot water.

Hamilton Cubs Wallop Jonquiere Marquis 9-3

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Hamilton was the only one of three Ontario junior hockey teams to come out on top in battles with Quebec clubs Wednesday night.

A 9-3 win for the Cubs over Jonquiere Marquis boosted them out of a three-way, last-place tie in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A standings and within two points of fifth-place Barrie Flyers.

At Barrie, the Flyers fell to a 6-4 defeat at the hands of Quebec Frontenacs.

In the third interlocking schedule game between the Ontario loop and the Quebec Junior Hockey League, Toronto Marlboros were edged 3-2 by Canadiens at Montreal. A win for Marlboros would have given them a top-spot tie with St. Catharines TeePees.

ELEVEN PENALTIES

Referee Bill Divorski handed Marquis seven minor penalties, a match misconduct, two misconducts and a major. Hamilton got 10 minors, and a major.

Brian Kilrea and Ed Louttit led Hamilton with two goals each. Real Larouche, Cummy Burton, Bill Stewart, Joe Zorica and Ted Reid got singles.

Fred Carter, Gaston Bordeleau and Jacques Gagne scored for Jonquiere.

COME TO BLOWS

Barry Hayton of Hamilton and Fred Carter of Marquis came to blows in the last period. Earlier, Jonquiere was given two misconducts for banging the boards with sticks.

The defeat for Flyers was their third successive loss on home ice. Frontenac scorers were Fernand Turcotte, with two, Mike Rathford, Maurice Mantha, George Faulkner and Richard Bouchard.

Barrie marksmen were Bob McNeil, Tommy Wilson, Danny Polizani and Jim Robertson.

PRONOVOST GETS WINNER

A goal by Andre Pronovost with only 19 seconds remaining gave Canadiens their victory over Marlboros.

Dave Reid was Toronto's top man, scoring both Marlboro goals.

The other Montreal goals were chalked up by Phil Goyette and Claude Boileau.

No games are scheduled for tonight. Three games Friday will see Quebec at Kitchener-Waterloo Greenshirts; Jonquiere at Guelph Biltmores; Montreal at Hamilton and St. Catharines TeePees at Barrie.

Bisons Edge Reds 2-1 To Increase Lead

Buffalo Bisons increased their first-place lead in the American Hockey League Wednesday when they edged the last-place Providence Reds 2-1 at Providence.

Pittsburgh Hornets trounced Syracuse Warriors 6-1 at home.

Defenceman Bert Bourassa scored for Providence and Ed Slowinski and Don Marshall for Bisons.

At Pittsburgh the Hornets tallied twice in each period with Danny Lewicki scoring two goals and assisting on two others. Johnny McLellan, Frank Mathers, Frank Sullivan and Bob Solinger were the other Pittsburgh marksmen. Billy Gooden got the Warriors' lone goal.

Good Stallion

VANCOUVER (CP) — Aplover, 10-year-old bay horse considered one of the best stallions on the Pacific coast, is dead. By Waterbird out of La Baronesa, Plover sired the 1954 nursery stakes winner Chant's Affair and also the 1953 champion, Plover Call.

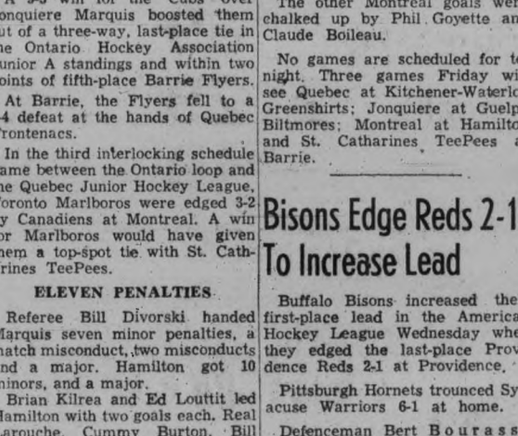
Lyndhursts Clip Davos 13-4

DAVOS, Switzerland (Reuters)—Toronto East York Lyndhursts, Canada's entry in the forthcoming world hockey championships at Stockholm, Wednesday defeated Davos 13-4. The Canadians dominated the game.

Moe Galand, 23-year-old right winger, scored three goals for the Lyndhursts; Bob Kennedy, Earl Clements and John Petro each scored two; Norm Gray, Russ Robertson, Red Spragge and Vic Sluce each tallied one.

The Davos team opened the last period by scoring two quick goals. Lyndhursts then launched an all-out attack which gained them seven goals in 12 minutes.

The Canadians now go to Basle where they will play a Swiss team Friday.



BRENNAN OF THE IRISH—Terry Brennan, just named new head football coach of Notre Dame, celebrates by acting as a horse for his 18-month-old son, Terry, Jr. Mrs. Brennan and daughter Denise, one month old, watch the horseplay. Brennan, 25, was characterized by retiring coach Frank Leahy "almost a genius as a coach," although his experience was limited to three years as a high school coach and one year at South Bend.

UNDERWENT OPERATION—Veteran hockey player Joe Shack of Winnipeg, 38, recovering from an eye operation for a displaced retina in his left eye in London, has recovered the sight of the eye but an official of Harringay Racers hockey club indicated his playing days may be over. Shack, captain of the Harringay team, has been in English hockey since 1946 and played previously with St. Paul, Ottawa Senators of the Quebec Senior League and briefly with New York Rangers of the National Hockey League. The eye condition is believed to have resulted from hard knocks he received during his career.—(CP Photo).

PERCIVAL ACCEPTS

TORONTO (CP)—Lloyd Percival said Wednesday night he has received a second invitation to be head coach of Canada's track and field entries in the British Empire Games at Vancouver this year and has accepted—for the second time.

Percival said he was told during a telephone conversation with Fred Rowell of Vancouver, national track and field chairman of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada, that Rowell and the AAU would consider Percival head coach. Frank Richard, Calgary, recently appointed field coach, would be Percival's assistant.

Percival said he asked Rowell to clarify his position with officials of the B.E.G. He said certain B.E.G. regulations cover the number of coaches for each country but he added he was not familiar with these regulations. Only one coach was appointed for Canada in the 1950 games, he said.

Percival said Rowell also agreed to retract a statement he made that he was "just quibbling over words" and that he would have to "put up or shut up."

He said he had wired his acceptance of the position.

Percival said he was offered the head coach job recently by Fred Foote, chairman of the Ontario branch of the AAU. He accepted. Later, he said, he read in newspapers that he was track coach and Richards was field coach.

LEAF BACHELORS DECLINE

TORONTO (CP) — The Maple Leaf list of eligible bachelors is down to four.

With St. Valentine's Day around the corner, 23-year-old rightwinger George Armstrong has announced his engagement to 22-year-old Betty Shannon. Betty comes from Capreol, 17 miles from George's hometown, Falconbridge. He said wedding plans are indefinite.

The four other bachelors on the Leaf team are Jim Morrison, Rudy Migay, Bob Bailey and Eric Nesterenko.

NO MARCH TITLE FIGHT

NEW YORK (AP)—The International Boxing Club said Wednesday Rocky Marciano will not defend his heavyweight title before June.

"There will be no title fight in March," Murray Goodman, IBC publicity man, announced. "After discussions with Al Weill, Marciano's manager, it's been decided that Marciano won't fight again until the summer and his opponent is indefinite."

There had been talk that Marciano might meet Dan Bucceroni in March. Ezzard Charles also has been mentioned as a likely opponent.

✦ ✦ ✦

THOMSON AGREES ON SALARY

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Outfielder Bobby Thomson, obtained in a trade with New York Giants three days ago, agreed to 1954 salary terms with Milwaukee Braves Wednesday.

General manager John Quinn said he telephoned Thomson at his Staten Island, N.Y., home and reached a verbal agreement with the 30-year-old outfielder.

Quinn declined to discuss terms. The best guess was that Thomson will receive nearly $35,000, which he is believed to have been paid by the Giants last season.

WILL ATTEMPT LONG SWIM

VICTORIA (CP)—Florence Chadwick will attempt to conquer the Strait of Juan de Fuca next August.

The American long-distance swimmer advised the Victoria Times she would like to schedule the swim after the British Empire Games end at Vancouver Aug. 7. The Times and a paint company here are sponsoring the attempt.

Miss Chadwick said that the exact date of the attempt to cross the 20-mile stretch of turbulent water between Victoria and Port Angeles, Wash., will not be decided until after she arrives here in late June to begin training.

Uphold Restriction

VANCOUVER (CP)—City council endorsed action of its personnel committee which rejected a request from the Vancouver Council of Women, who urged a revision of the city policy which excludes married women from holding permanent civic jobs.

Tarlton Skips Rink To Win

HAMILTON (CP)—Ross Tarlton Wednesday skipped his Thistle club rink to an 11-7 victory over a rink skipped by clubmate Russ Armstrong to win a berth as Hamilton district representatives in the Ontario curling championships at Orillia Feb. 10-12.

Winners of the Ontario championship will compete in the Dominion curling championships at Edmonton in March.

In the semi-final round, Armstrong's rink defeated a Hamilton Victoria Club rink skipped by Dr. A. E. alkey, 9-2. Tarlton's rink defeated another Victoria rink, skipped by H. B. Paddon, 9-1.

Bob Lagana Hits 304

Bob Lagana had high single of 304 and Art Robertson best trio of 729 in the Mercantile Bowling League. Zita Spenser tied up women's high three with 680 as May Finnegan led in singles for lasses with 283. Team pinnage went to East City Market with a total of 2936.

Glen Baker's split with Neill's 2-2, as A & P No. 1 won 3-1 from Austin's, Crowes downed A & P No. 2 by a similar count as did East City over Cal Nicholls. Empress walked off with four points from Prudential. Men's high average is 214 by Don Penrose, and the best for girls is 201 by Vera Page.

Lloyd Mangrum Favorite For Phoenix Open

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—The touring golf brigade made its annual stop here today in what appears to be a wide-open chase for the $10,000 Phoenix open championship.

The tournament, to run through Sunday, will be the conventional 72-hole medal play with 143 in the field.

Although he hasn't been doing too much lately in California tournaments, Lloyd Mangrum of Niles, Ill., remains the sentimental favorite. Mangrum has triumphed two years running here and if he succeeds again he will establish an all-time record in Phoenix.

Just about everybody except Ben Hogan and the injured Dutch Harrison lined up at the starting tee this morning.

as Fred Haas Jr., winner at Palm Springs, Calif., last Sunday; Bo Winniger, co-runner-up in the same tournament; Fred Wampler, victor in the Los Angeles open; Jim Demaret, Cary Middlecoff, Lew Worsham, Doug Ford, Walter Burkemo, Ed Oliver, Julius Boros, Jim Ferrier and Dave Douglas, among others.

In the pro-amateur event Tuesday, Al Balding, Toronto professional, teamed with Bill Huie of Phoenix for a best-ball score of 60 to win top honors.

Balding and Bud Holscher, White Plains, N.Y., each registered 66s over the Phoenix Country Club course for the lowest scores of the day.

Nearing Completion

COBOURG (ENS) — Work is nearing completion on the administration building at the ordnance depot. Key building in the huge warehouse area, the administration building, will house all the offices and is ultra-modern in design. The corner stone was laid last fall by Defence Minister Claxton.

Workmen have completed the bulk of the construction details and all that remains to be done is the interior finishing and installation of equipment.

Medicos Take Triumph From Nurses

Doctors disciplined Nurses 30-20 before 300 enthusiastic basketball fans in their annual exhibition contest at the Collegiate gym last evening. After an 8-8 first quarter, the medicos tossed in nine points without a return for a hefty 17-8 halftime lead. Nurses rallied to outscore the MDs 8-6 in the third, but the Doctors had a 7-4 edge again in the lively fourth quarter.

Drs. Arnup and McNeil led the victorious squad with eight points apiece, with McLean having five and Gastle and Aiken four each. Sue Slater of the Nurses gave the doctors the most concern as she dropped in nine points, M. Flavelle and P. Peryer being good for four each, and Jean Bell two. Teams:

Nurses—J. Bell, S. Slater, B. Dane, P. Peryer, B. Lewis, J. Elgeti, S. Frost, N. Heard, D. Mark, M. Flavelle.

Doctors — Arnup, Gastle, Rutledge, Whiteside, Calvert, McNeil, Blastorah, Aiken, Chenoweth, Lewis, McLean, Matthews, Magee, Wishart, Clark.

Hastings Bows To RCAF In A TVL Game

HASTINGS (ENS) — Hastings T.V.L'ers finished off their last home game as the R.C.A.F. shellacked them 13-6 before a slim crowd.

The boys up front played well, and carried their share of the play, but the defence was something that shouldn't happen to any goalie.

They appeared to be playing the European style of no bodying, which just goes to show what can happen when a fellow reads too much.

Hastings—Goal, Mulholland; defence, Killingbeck, Sullivan; centre, Bacon; wings, West, Burns; subs., Killen, Allen, Dodd, Vyse, Maloney, Donoghue.

R.C.A.F.—Goal, Dupaul; defence, Vegina, Stewart; centre, Beatch; wings, Bowman, Rachon; subs., Boucher, Gingras, Gillan, Mead, Powell, Lecourse, Cowick, Racicat, Dickson, Tardiff.

Referees—Cousins, Hunter.

The 7-0 wins went to Sea-Ho...es, Boucher and Clapper over Clements, Crowley and McLeod; the 5-2 victories were taken by Hewitt, Burtol, D & W, Wonder, UE and E & B against Revenoors, Silents and Curtis. The 4-3 wins went to Paramount, Edwards, and Lock over Selkirk, Bartley and Plazas.

Good scores: W. Howes (723), I. Hanes (316) 762, M. Doris (326) 734, G. Walton 716, R. Bennett 726, W. Boon 720, E. Mattucci 723, W. Miller (303) 742, P. Pryde 703, J. Pagett 772, L. Hinonen 743, D. Moriarity (308) 700; and singles of H. Killen 320 and M. Mackey 306.

Lindsay Rinks Win In Bonspiel

LINSDAY (ENS) — Lindsay rinks won the lion's share of the five prizes in the Victoria and Grey Trust one-day bonspiel here Wednesday, but the major award the trophy and first prizes, went out of town, won by Sid Harper's Unionville rink.

Rinks from Oakwood, Fenelon Falls, Peterborough, Lindsay, Bobcaygeon, Beaverton, Blackstock, Orillia, Woodville and Janetville competed in the spiel.

Three wins—S. Harper, Unionville 32 plus 6; J. Curtis, Lindsay 30 plus 6; W. Moore, Fenelon Falls 30.

Two wins—Leo Rogers, Lindsay 32 plus 3.

One win—P. Skiktch, Lindsay 33 plus 8.

Himes Rink Wins Division

GALT (CP)—A Galt rink skipped by Normie Himes, former National Hockey League star with the old New York Americans, defeated another Galt quartet, skipped by Jack Patrick, to win No. 8 division in the playoffs for the Ontario single rink curling championship.

Himes crew will meet other divisional winners Feb. 10-12 at Orillia in the Ontario playdown. The Ontario champions will advance into the Canadian championships next month in Edmonton.

Himes' rink defeated W. Horner's Galt rink in the first round 8-6 and edged out E. Hewitt's Kitchener squad 10-9 in the quarter-final. Then the rink—which with the exception of second Fred Perry has been playing together for two years—nudged out veteran Carroll McCune of Galt 9-6 to enter the finals.

The Patrick foursome had a bye in the first round then defeated rinks skipped by Ev Brown of Galt and Allan Jones of Guelph to enter the final.

Warsaw Girls Get Win Against Douro

WARSAW (ENS) — Warsaw grils played their first game of hockey Wednesday night in Warsaw arena against the Douro girls.

In the first period, they took the lead with three goals by H. Carlow.

In the second period, the play warmed up with Warsaw getting two goals, one by E. Hamblin and one by H. Carlow.

In the last period, Warsaw scored five more goals to make the final score 10-0. The goals were scored by K. Carload (2) and L. Hie, D. Carlow and by H. Carlow.

The Warsaw goalie was sensational throughout the game. H. W. Smith, the coach of Warsaw girls gets credit for his excellent coaching.

Lineups:

Douro: Goal, G. O'Brien; H. Heffernan, Hickey, J. Delaney, D. Delaney, R. Delaney, W. O'Brien, E. O'Brien, B. Lunigan, M. Sheenan, T. Towns.

Warsaw: Goal, B. Thompson; K. Carlow, H. Carlow, D. Carlow, J. Tedford, W. M. Millan, M. Keating, S. Bolton, L. Hie, E. Hamblin, D. Hamblin, H. Edwards, R. Edwards, D. Freeborn.

Havelock Gets TVL Tilt Over Trenton

HAVELOCK (ENS)—Havelock defeated Trenton at the local arena in a TVL game Wednesday night by a score of 10-6, before a crowd of 400 fans.

Stewart and Moss of Marmora were the referees and in all there were only six penalties which the teams shared equally. Play was fast throughout the game despite the fact that the ice was becoming sticky in the third period. Laing and Mortimer led the scoring for the winners, each getting two goals and an assist. At the end of the first period Havelock led by a score of 2-0, while each team bagged three goals in the second. In the third period Havelock gained five more goals with three going to Trenton, two of which were scored by Jones.

Havelock— Goal, Nicholls; defence, Mortimer, Hannah; centre, Laing; wings, Ruttan, Scott; alternates, Brooks, Floyd, Slater, Eakins, Kane, Mason.

Trenton—Goal, Hill, defence, Turland, Schmidt; centre, Scott; wings, Jones, Demille, alternates, McDonnell, Barr, Leavey, Istead, Graham, Baker, Watson, Greene.

Guerrilla Commander Killed By S. Koreans

SEOUL (Reuters)— Government troops killed the commander-in-chief of all Communist guerrillas in South Korea last Sunday night, a South Korean army spokesman said today.

The spokesman gave the guerrilla leader's name as Bang Chung Kun. Sixty-six other gurrillas, including one woman, were also killed in the engagement in southwest Korea, he said.

The announcement of Bang's death was held up until the body had been definitely identified.

Bang succeeded Lee Hyoo Sang as commander when Lee was ambushed and killed by South Korean forces last fall.

Report Two Bishops Drafted In Army

BERLIN (AP)—West Berlin's official Roman Catholic newspaper said today that two Catholic bishops in Yugoslavia have been drafted as rank and file soldiers into "the Communist Yugoslav army."

The weekly newspaper Petrusblatt said also that many of Yugoslavia's younger priests have been called to military service and that their parishes had to be placed under aged and retired churchmen.

86 Airmen Convicted

LONDON (Reuters)—Eighty-six members of the RAF have been convicted by court-martial of homosexual offences during the last three years, Air Undersecretary George Ward said Wednesday in a parliamentary return. He said this was an average of about one in 9,000 a year.

Many Cars

STOCKHOLM (CP) — A record total of about 75,000 new passenger automobiles were registered in Sweden last year, bringing the total of private cars to more than 400,000. In 1949, the number was 185,000.

Record Exports

LONDON (CP) — The United Kingdom Radio Industry Council announced a record was set for radio and television equipment exports in 1953. Value of exports at 272,000,000 compared with 268,500,000 in 1952.

Warsaw Defeats Apsley 15-7

WARSAW —(ENS)— Warsaw WARSAW (ENS)— Warsaw night in a clean, fast-moving game. Only five penalties were awarded.

Warsaw took an early 4-0 lead in the first period and were never headed from there on. Apsley scored two in the second but Warsaw banged in seven, holding their margin in the final period when Apsley chalked up five goals in a late rally

The victory might have been more one-sided except for the stellar work of Hickson in the Apsley net. He had to handle five times as many shots as Wingate.

Lonsberry led the scoring for the winners with five goals and three assists, followed by Darling with three goals and four assists. Smith got three goals and an assist. Evans got a goal and two assists, Williams and Watts a goal and an assist each. Mathews got a goal and Griffin was credited with an assist.

Houle and Crough each got two goals for the losers. Walling got a goal and two assists, McCormick one and one, while Scelcher got a goal and Tucker an assist.

Conservatives Win By-Eection

ILFORD, England (CP) — The Conservatives Wednesday handily retained the Ilford riding near London in the 23rd by-election since Winston Churchill was returned to power in the 1951 general election.

Thomas Lascelles Iremonger, cousin of Foreign Secretary Eden, won the parliamentary seat with 18,354 votes to 9,927 for Labor candidate Tom Richardson.

Liberal G. E. Thornton polled only 2,430 votes and lost his deposit.

Bitter cold weather kept the total vote down. Many prospective voters were busy with frozen pipes.

The Conservative majority of 5,997 was 334 votes lower than the party polled when it won the seat in 1951.

Standing in the 625-member House of Commons now is: Conservatives and allies 319; Labor 294; Liberals 6; Irish Nationalists 2; Irish Labor 1; vacant 3.

Radio-TV Show Defies Welfare Dept.

NEW YORK (AP)—New York City's drive against radio-TV give-away programs that get money from the public was defied Wednesday night by "Strike It Rich," first of the shows to be criticized.

The program went on the air without changing its format or waiting for the licence the welfare department said it should have.

Welfare commissioner Henry L. McCarthy Wednesday declared that "programs like this are a national disgrace" and "play into the hands of the Communists."

The program questions people who tell hard-luck stories. They win prizes by correctly answering a simple quiz, and then people phone in to offer cash, jobs, homes and other aid.

This puts it in the same category as a charity, the welfare department rules, and thus it should be licensed.

LURED RELIEF CASES

"McCarthy's ire was directed at "Strike It Rich" because, he said, at least 55 families, lured by the promise of "easy money," have chased the program's rainbow from all over the country right onto New York City's relief rolls.

The welfare department suggested that producer Walter Framer change the program's format.

Sidney J. DuBroff, the show's public relations man, told a press conference "we do not want to step on Mr. McCarthy's toes (but) we do not feel any laws were being violated."

The city can go to court if it denies the licence and the show goes on anyway.

McCarthy had talked of a report that the show has received $1,000,000 from listeners. The producers insisted the fund has amounted to only a little more than $42,000 in about three years.

Fraserville YPU Debates Christianity

FRASERVILLE— (ENS)— The Fraserville Y.P.U. met for their weekly meeting at the home of Herbie Hewitt Monday night. Sixteen members were present.

The vice-president Leona Moffat had charge of the meeting in the absence of the president Earl Lackey. The meeting was opened with a sing-song from song sheets.

Prayer was offered by V. Stewart who assists the Rev. Yarr in leading the Young People.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and also the roll call by the secretary Joan Cook.

During the business period further arrangements were made for a fowl supper Februray 15 and plans were made for a program of outside talent to follow the supper.

The group then were divided into two groups and a debate was held on the subject: Christianity is more advanced now than it was 2000 years ago. Following this a geography match was held and lunch served.

James Allan Wood

HAVELOCK (ENS)—The funeral took place today of James Allan Wood, 82, who died Tuesday following a lengthy illness.

The service at his residence here was conducted by the Rev. R. G. Newman of Havelock United church, of which Mr. Wood was an adherent. Burial was in Maple Grove cemetery.

Mr. Wood was born in Michigan and came to the Oak Lake settlement as a boy with his parents, the late James Wood and Selinda Munroe.

He followed lumbering as an occupation and for a number of years was employed by the Ontario Forestry branch. He had been a resident of the village for 37 years.

Surviving are two daughters, Alatha at home and Mrs. Stanley Wood (Doreen) of Keene; a son, Albert of Seymour township; three sisters and two brothers, Mrs. A. Nicholson, Mrs. Katie Althouse, Mrs. Roy Althouse, John Wood and Howard Wood, all of Havelock.

Halls Glen News

Monty, Betty and Sherrie Buck of Toronto were weekend visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Mathews.

Mr. Tom Drain has returned home after a three weeks visit with friends in Toronto.

Mr. Roy Whetung of Clarina is a patient in St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough.

Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Crowe entertained the Kawartha Players on Friday evening. Under the leadership ot the director, Mr. Charles Hull, and secretary, Mrs. Reg. Williams, plans were made for the variety concert in Zion church. Mrs. Crowe served lunch.

Havelock News

Fire Chief Recommends New Station In South End To Raise Perennial Problem

Fire Chief Bill Sorrie has recommended to city council the construction of a two-bay fire station in the vicinity of Lansdowne St. to ensure better fire protection of the southern part of the city.

Problems raised by the protection of this section are, according to the chief, those raised by railway crossings; the distance (three miles) from the central station to the southern city boundaries; rush-hour traffic and road conditions in bad weather.

In his annual report to council, Chief Sorrie also recommended the installation of a high-pressure unit on the 1940 Bickle-Seagrave pumper at a cost of approximately $2,400. The unit consists of a small pump and two hose reels with 400 feet of one-inch high-presseure hose.

In addition to greatly increasing the efficiency of the pumper, he maintained, the expenditure would be justified over a short period of time because it would enable the pumper to be operated by fewer men.

REFIT OLD TRUCK

The chief also recommended equipping the 1927 American LaFrance ladder truck with four-wheel brakes and proper steering or replacing it with a 65-foot aerial truck.

The truck's engine requires a major overhaul, he maintained, at an estimated cost of $850. In its present condition, the apparatus constitutes a menace on city streets, he said.

Other purchases recommended by the chief were:

A short-wave radio to be installed on the 1943 American LaFrance pumper to maintain contact with all important apparatus while absent from the station.

A walkie- talkie type portable radio for more efficient operation and control at large fires.

Two self-contained Scott Air Pac masks. These would allow two hose lines to be advanced into a building through heavy smoke, permitting the fire to be extinguished before it had reached uncontrollable proportions and ultimately reducing fire and water damage.

NEW RESUSCITATOR

A new resuscitator for emergencies such as drownings, gas cases, heart trouble and electric shock; to be carried in the chief's car.

A used half-ton truck for the maintenance of the fire alarm system and general purpose work.

Hose reels for the 1943 LaFrance and Dodge pumpers. The lack of them has damaged the hose and caused couplings to come apart at fires.

Chief Sorrie also recommended that fire inspectors be equipped with boots and gabardine coats and that shower baths be installed in the basement. He asked also for paint and materials for painting the main apparatus floors.

The city's fire fighting apparatus at present consists of a 1927 LaFrance pumper with a tank capacity of 60 gallons; 1927 LaFrance ladder truck; 1934 Johnson portable pump; 1940 Seagrave pumper, 80 gallons; 1943 LaFrance pumper, 100 gallons; 1943 Dodge-Bickle pumper, 134 gallons; 1946 Plymouth chief's car; 1948 Seagrave aerial ladder; 1950 LaFrance pumper, 600 gallons (at the Bellevue substation).

Additional fire department equipment consists of 14,500 feet of 2½-inch hose; 3,400 feet of 1½-inch hose; 1,000 feet of ¾-inch hose; 100 feet of three-inch hose; one lifeboat and motor; 65-foot canvas chute; one Browder life net; two safety belts; one resuscitator; one inhalator; three self-contained air masks; three Chemox self-generating type masks; four all-service cannister masks.

MOMBASE, Kenya (Reuters)—A freight train ran into a herd of elephants crossing the railway line Wednesday about 120 miles from here. One bull elephant was killed. The train was not damaged.

UN Gets 15 PoWs

SEOUL (AP)—The Indian command today turned over to the United Nations command 15 North Korean war prisoners who changed their minds after asking to go to neutral countries. The Koreans had wanted to go to the United States; but cannot, under the armistice, because the U.S. fought in the Korean war. The 15 presumably will be turned over to the South Korean government.

Malaya Fights Reds

SINGAPORE (AP)—The Malayan government is sending a "substantial" police force to southern Thailand soon for co-ordinated operations against Communists who are active on the border, it was announced Wednesday. A special unit of the Thai criminal investigation department already has gone to the border from Bangkok to meet the Malayan contingent.

Police From Many Cities At Civil Defence College

ARNPRIOR, Ont. (CP)—Policemen have taken over the federal government's civil defence college here this week to pool their experience in helping to work out a country-wide plan for large-scale disasters, including an enemy attack.

All day they discuss the police role in civil defence. In the evening the 40 representatives, most of them chief constables, of some 30 forces from Newfoundland to British Columbia divide into eight seminars.

Each group takes a subject, chief constable Walter Mulligan of Vancouver said in an interview Wednesday night, "kicks it around" and brings in a report the next morning. The reports are to give the college a picture of the "thinking and impressions" of the police officials.

TRAINING POLICE

Today the policemen, representing the Ontario provincial police, Quebec provincial police, RCMP and various other city and municipal forces, begin considering the problem of training regular and auxiliary police to handle large-scale problems that would arise in event of a sudden emergency, such as an enemy attack.

Chief Mulligan estimated that a city like Vancouver, with a normal police force of 700, "in terms of what I know now" would need from 5,000 to 7,000 police in case of a bombing or similar disaster.

He said the "magnitude" of the civil defence problems have been made clear to the conference by Dr. Edward Massey, scientific adviser to federal civil defence authorities in Ottawa.

Wednesday the policemen heard senior staff inspector Frank B. Creasy of the OPP in Toronto outline the emergency rural traffic plan he drew up for Ontario, and Vancouver traffic superintendent Alan Rossiter describe the West Coast city's scheme for handling its traffic in event of disaster.

METHODS DISCUSSED

Inspector Ralph Hansen of the RCMP's identification branch in Ottawa explained methods of identifying disaster victims and S. J. Bailey, a federal civil defence welfare administrator, discussed methods of supplying food, clothing and shelter for disaster victims.

The conference, first of several the college plans of civic heads concerned with civil defence, is being held with the co-operation of the Chief Constables Association of Canada, of which Chief Mulligan is president.

The college has placed "every facility" at the disposal of the police, Chief Mulligan said, but the discussions are "our own show." They are directed by a police panel headed by him.

B.C. Riveter To Open Bridge

VANCOUVER (CP) — A high-climbing "hard hat" will lay aside his rivet gun for a pair of silver scissors today officially to open Canada's first eight-lane bridge.

Charles Geisser was chosen to cut the ribbon on the new $16,500,000 Granville street bridge as a tribute to the steelworkers who mauled the 5,000-foot structure across the mud and ooze of False creek two months ahead of schedule.

It is the largest bridge built in British Columbia since Lions Gate was opened here in 1938.

To begin with, only four lanes will be in use. The cloverleaf tentacles, which sweep into the heart of the business district to the north and the Kitsilano district on the south, will be finished next June.

On completion it will pour an estimated 10,000 cars out of the centre of Canada's third largest city during the evening rush hours.

Norman Payne

Funeral services for Norman Payne, Warsaw, who died Monday, were held Wednesday at the Anderson funeral home, Lakefield, the Rev. George Dyson of Bethel United church officiating.

Burial was in St. Mark's cemetery, Warsaw.

Pallbearers were Ernest Batten, Wesley Little, Russell Little, Luther Payne, Bert Cuffe and Allan U. Payne. Flower-bearers were Elias Thompson, Clinton Payne, Beryl Clysdale, Gordon Cuffe, Frank Payne and Clarence Payne.

700 Egyptians Homeless

CAIRO (Reuters)—A fire which swept three villages in the Nile delta Wednesday left 700 persons homeless, Egyptian authorities announced today. One child was killed and 31 persons injured in the blaze. Damage is estimated at $34,000.

KEEP McCarthyism OUT OF CANADA

". . . We in Canada want no part of McCarthyism, either from the United States or any brand that might be generated in this country itself . . ." (Stanley Knowles, M.P., House of Commons, Nov. 23, 1953)

McCARTHYISM . . .

McCarthyism attacks the very basis of democracy—the right to freedom of opinion and expression. It seeks to impose conformity by fear, coercion and repression.

Canadians have made it very clear during the past few weeks that they want no part of it. We must make it equally clear to the government and our Members of Parliament that we do not want the ends of McCarthyism to be achieved by other means.

It is natural that we should be proud of our high regard for the "due process of law"; that we should scorn and repudiate the unscrupulous methods of McCarthyism. But it will avail little and be of no credit to us, if we approve, sanction or permit its establishment in Canada by "due process of law."

Years ago in England people were hanged for stealing sheep. They were hanged legally, after "due process of law." Nowadays no one would dare to propose the re-establishment of such a crime or of such a punishment.

Yet it is now proposed that Canada should turn the clock back hundreds of years by enacting laws which might once again make it possible to impose the death penalty upon critics and opponents of the government.

BY "DUE PROCESS OF LAW"

Bill 7 (the proposed new Criminal Code) is one of the most dangerous pieces of legislation that has ever come before Canada's parliament. If some of the proposed sections become law we shall have taken a long step on the road to McCarthyism.

Senator W. M. Aseltine has correctly stated that Bill 7 "affects the life and liberty of every individual in the whole of Canada. . ."

For example, for 600 years, in peace time, the only treasonable offence was a personal attack on the Royal Family.

But in Section 46 of Bill 7 there are now more than 40 different offences — OFFENCES PUNISHABLE BY DEATH. Most of them are broad, general, vague, uncertain and undefined. To strike freedom of the mind with the fist of patriotism is an old and ugly subtlety.

Throughout our history many charges of treason and sedition have been laid, not for betrayal of the country to an enemy, but because the government of the day resented criticism of its policy. An honoured Canadian statesman, the late J. S. Woodsworth, was once charged with sedition for having quoted passages from the Book of Isaiah.

FREEDOM FROM FEAR

"Guilt by association, the technique of the smear, the profession of the public informer, the practice of the big lie must never become an admitted part of Canadian life.

"If we lower our standard in matters of this kind, we shall have lost one of the finest products of the human heart and mind. It must never be said of Canada that this was the land in which honest men feared to speak their minds."

—Dr. Hugh L. Keenleyside
Globe and Mail.

LESSON FROM HISTORY

"History shows that governments bent on a crusade or officials filled with ambitions have usually been inclined to take shortcuts. The cause being a noble one (for it always is), the people being filled with alarm (for they usually are), the Government being motivated by worthy aims (as it always professes), the demand for quick and easy justice mounts. These shortcuts are not as flagrant perhaps as a lynching. But the ends they produce are cumulative, and if they continue unabated they can silently rewrite even the fundamental law of the nation."

—Justice William O. Douglas of the U.S. Supreme Court, in the New Republic.

★ ★ ★

THE RIGHT TO BE WRONG

"The preservation of our democratic way of life requires that Canada shall maintain the spiritual things of freedom. By freedom I do not mean the right to do wrong; but the right to be wrong.

"Freedom means that we do not have to think alike; we do not have to be told what we shall read, or hear, or speak, or write. Freedom cannot survive if thought is outlawed.

"Experience has shown that freedom is not always safe in the custody of an overwhelmingly powerful government supported by an overwhelming majority."

—John Diefenbaker, Q.C., M.P.
House of Commons Debate.

Warning of Peril!

IN THE SCOTTISH BORDER-COUNTRY, in ancient days, fires were lit on the hills when an enemy raid was imminent — fires that blazed as a signal, a warning of peril. It has become necessary to light similar danger signals in this country. For such an attack is now under way in Bill 7, the proposed revision of the Criminal Code. This Bill would destroy some of the most basic, most meaningful rights of the Canadian citizen.

Under many of its sections, a reactionary government or a Canadian counterpart of Senator McCarthy, would be able to plunge us into a state of fear and suspicion equal to that now prevailing in the U.S.A. Under three sections (52, 365 and 372) the rights of organized labor would be seriously impaired. Other sections (46, 50 and 60) are dangerous for every Canadian who believes in, or exercises, the right to freedom of thought and freedom of speech.

Surely it is common sense for us to learn from the experience of the United States where an atmosphere of hysteria has been accompanied by sweeping acts of repression. Criticism of government policy has been made suspect. The witch-hunt has invaded the schools, the universities, government departments, political activity at every level. . . . Writers, radio actors, movie directors have been blacklisted and denied the right to earn a livelihood at their crafts. Fear, indeed, sits on every doorstep—fear made real by such warnings as the declaration of the New York World Telegram which said, after a series of trials under the Smith Act: "We now have a streamlined instrument for thought-control trials."

We, in Canada, want no thought-control trials, and no thought-control legislation. Nor do we want a repetition of what happened in the thirties under Section 98. The government and our members of parliament must be left in no doubt as to where we stand on this vital matter. McCarthyism must not happen here.

To those who might be inclined to say even now "it's not me they're after," I commend these words, written during an earlier period of hysteria:

"It is the unpopular people who are the first victims of any Gestapo. The turn of the more reputable citizens comes next, when, after having acquiesced in injustice being done to people they dislike, they find that their own shield against injustice has been destroyed."

—(J. V. McAree, Globe and Mail, October 12, 1940.)

Let us so tend the lamp of liberty in our own land that it will not send out flickering or doubtful rays across the world. For liberty is a fundamental necessity to the spiritual and material development of all men everywhere. Let us keep Canada free.

ROSCOE S. RODD, Q.C.,
National Chairman, League for Democratic Rights.

THIS IS TREASON

"If the intention is to frighten and intimidate the citizen into silence and consent to everything the government may decide to do, then the Bill (7) will be successful. But this is tantamount to admitting that democracy cannot survive on its own merits. This too is a treason which we have a right to fear."

—The Anglican OUTLOOK

★ ★ ★

A BACKWARD STEP

"The government has been working on consolidation and amendment of the criminal code for the past two or three years. Unfortunately . . . instead of liberalizing it, and bringing it into line with humanitarian principles, they propose to take a backward step, make punishments more severe, cut down the hard won rights of Labor, and even invade the freedom of thought which is one of the corner stones of democracy . . .

"There are clauses in the proposed amendments which could be used to limit the righ. to strike, and the right to peaceful picketing . . .

"Our Criminal Code, containing as it does, savage penalties out of the dark ages, is undoubtedly in need of revision. But it is not in need of revision in the direction of the Taft-Hartley Act and the American thought-control laws which have made McCarthyism and Senatorial witch-hunts possible."

by Harold Horwood
Evening Telegram, St. John's, Nfld.

HANDS OFF

". . . . The time has come to serve a hands off notice to McCarthyism . . . we will not be intimidated by the big lie and the big smear. . . ."

New Machine Helps Speed Vital Copra Production

WASHINGTON — Mechanization has raised its iron head among the South Sea coconut palms that yield copra, one of the world's most useful commodities.

From copra, the dried meat of the coconut, comes oil for soaps, paints, candy, shortening, plastics, lubricants, explosives, and many other industrial needs, says the National Geographic Society. The residue is valuable as cake and meal for stock and for fertilizer.

The new machine for the industry, invented by a resident of copra-producing Tahiti, speeds the initial slicing and gouging out of the coconuts.

It includes a "guillotine" set in a vertical frame that cuts cleanly through the outer husk and hard inner shell. The flesh is then scooped out by a motorized tool and set out to dry in the sun or by artificial indoor heat.

A one-horsepower motor is used for the operation, and the whole apparatus weighs 290 pounds.

COPRA MARKET VARIABLE

The mechanical method— many times faster than the slow, laborious hand processes of the native workers—is expected eventually to give a big lift to copra output.

What effect the increase supply would have on prices is another matter. The copra market, like that for gold and other highly desirable or strategic commodities, has been subject to sudden booms and disastrous drops.

The world produces about three and a half million tons of copra a year. Leading sources are the Philippines and Indonesia, accounting for a million tons apiece.

Ceylon, India and Malaya are next, though with far less output, followed by Papua, Mozambique and innumerable Pacific islands where coconuts grow with wild luxuriance.

Latin America is also becoming more important in the copra industry, with palm plantations expanding in Brazil, Mexico and West Indies islands.

PHILIPPINES SUPPLY U.S.

The heavy demands for coconut oil in the United States have long been met by the Philippines.

In World War II, when the Japanese controlled the islands, the United States obtained a limited copra supply from Ceylon and French- and British-held Pacific areas. Coconut oil was rationed and was released only for such war essentials as synthetic rubber, chemicals, and brake fluid for airplanes.

After the war, the dormant Philippines copra industry made a surprisingly quick recovery. Exports were at an all-time high by the middle of 1947.

Officers Elected

TORONTO (CP)—Roy M. Gilmour of Carleton Place has been elected president of the Canadian Retail Hardware Association for 1954-55, the association announced.

Other officers include: M. A. Johnson, Grimsby, vice-president, and Herbert Fox, Belleville, J. L. Wedlake, Brantford, and Don McCay, Kingsville, directors.

Royal Thumbs And Elbows Yield To Atomic Measures

WASHINGTON — The art of weighing and measuring, once a matter of fumbling guesswork, has become a science of almost unbelieveable accuracy.

Technicians of the atomic age now weigh invisible substances by "scales" that are themselves hard to see, says the National Geographic Society. In one operation, a rare radioactive material is measured by a quartz fiber so finely drawn that it has to be magnified to show the results. The amount the fiber twists under pressure indicates the weight.

Scientists have weighed the earth, and calculated the thickness of a soap bubble wall. They have recorded the footfall of the common housefly, and determined the degree to which a bar of steel is affected by a fly's standing on it.

By the vibrations of atoms, they measure time with clocks of a precision never before attained.

From the earliest days men have found it necessary to apply some form of commonly accepted measurement in everyday life and business affairs.

Ancient peoples, lacking delicate apparatus, made rought estimates based on parts of the body. Such terms as "foot," "hand," and "finger," sill in use, have varied considerably in the past. The now standardized 12-inch foot has ranged from eight to 20 inches.

The cubit of the Sumerians and Egyptians designated the distance from the elbow to the end of the middle finger. It represented 20 inches more or less depending on the general custom or the whim of the authority who set the length.

England's King Henry I (1068-1135 decreed that a legal yard was the reach between the tip of his nose and the end of his thumb. An inch, by order of Edward II, was equal to three barley corns laid end to end.

Surveyors of 16th-century Germany computed a rod by combining the length of the left foot of 16 men, picked at random and lined up as they left church on Sunday morning.

NATIONAL STANDARDS VARY

Through the centuries, by practice and chance, each nation developed its own standard weights and measures.

Symbols differed from country to country, and even the same words often had different meanings. The British (imperial) gallon still stands for a pint more than a U.S. gallon; the British bushel is equal to 1.0315 U.S. bushels.

The metric system of computing by meter, gram and liter in units of 10 has simplified matters for the several countries which have adopted this method since its introduction by France more than a century and a half ago.

The United States and Great Britain are among the few nations to hold out against it. Yet both British and American science has turned to the more convenient and precise international standards of the meter (39.37 inches) and the kilogram (2.2046 pounds).

The United States National Bureau of Standards in Washington—the arbiter of the country's weights and measures—uses a duplicate of the international meter and kilogram preserved at Paris.

Like their prototypes, these U.S. standards are made of a platinum-iridium alloy that is all but impervious to minute changes affecting other metals. So delicately exact are the balances achieved that the Bureau's experts handling the standards must work ten feet away with remote-control tools, lest their body heat influence the result.

Even more accurate is a new measuring device of atomic research. Man-made "mercury 198" offers the world's most precise standard of length. Using the wave length of green light that it emits, scientists can calculate with an exactness to one part in 100 million.

Ottawa Youth Named Editor-In-Chief

KINGSTON (CP) — Appointment of Tony King, 19, of Ottawa as editor-in-chief of Queen's Journal, Queen's University student paper, was announced Wednesday by the Alma Mater Society.

He succeeds Seymour Bronstein of Montreal, who recently resigned with two other senior Journal editors after a dispute with the society over advertising policy. The disagreement involved a society resolution forbidding journal acceptance of advertising by Kingston merchants of jackets unacceptable under AMS regulations.

Also announced is the appointment of Michael Dafoe of Winnipeg, as associate editor. He is a grandson of the late John W. Dafoe, former editor of the Winnipeg Free Press.

Lew Ayres Plans To Film Story Of Religions

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "When man understands, he no longer fears; when he no longer fears, he loves; when he loves, there is peace."

This is the principle that will guide Lew Ayres on a trip to film the story of religions around the world. He will abandon his acting career for the global tour, which he will finance himself.

I visited Lew in his home on the peak of the Hollywood hills, where he leads an almost monastic life.

"I'm leaving Feb. 21 by air for Japan," he explained. "I'll fly all the way because it would take me two years by boat to visit all the places I want to see. An old friend, Bob Duncan, will go along and help me with the cameras and recording equipment. It would be too much for one man.

"I'll spend about two weeks in each place, perhaps longer if I find I need more time to get the material. I hope to get a variety of things. In some places, I'll record the ritual and liturgy of the major religion; in others, I'll do interviews with church leaders. I hope to present the major religions of the world without controversy. There will be no attempt to make odious comparison.

SATISFY CURIOSITY

"That's why I want to do this job on my own. If I accepted support from organizations or even the state department. I couldn't remain as impartial. I am a Christian, but a layman. I belong to no particular church."

How did he decide on the trip?

"You know how I have been interested for years in the brotherhood of man. There comes a time when you have to do something; man is not a mere vegetable. So I decided to make the move. I've had 25 good years in the movie business. The producers are not exactly breaking down my door with offers, although I still make a good living from pictures.

"I like acting. I always have. But I think it's time for me to do something positive to satisfy my great curiosity about life. I have looked into every religion. Now I would like to help other people to learn."

Set DST Period

TORONTO (CP)—Daylight time will be in effect here this year from April 25 to Sept. 26, board of control decided Wednesday. Sudbury set similar dates Tuesday night. The period coincides with the five months during which the railways operate on summer time tables.

ELK INVADE PRAIRIES — A small herd of elk race through snow in Waterton Lakes National Park in southwestern Alberta leaving an interesting pattern of hoofmarks as they are frightened by the noise of motors on the aircraft from which this picture was taken. An estimated 5,000 elk, their food supply blocked by four feet of snow, have swarmed down from the Rocky Mountains near Lethbridge to raid ranch haystacks. A number of ranchers reported "substantial" losses of hay this winter because of the elk attacks. Ranchers and their neighbors got special permission to shoot the elk.

Expect Strong Opposition To Planned Increase In Canadian Postal Rate

OTTAWA (CP)—A government proposal to increase first-class postal rates is expected to meet opposition.

The legislation giving effect to the one-cent-an-ounce increases, starting April 1, comes up for debate today in the Commons. Progressive Conservative, CCF and Social Credit parties voted against the increases last month when they were outlined in a resolution preliminary to the bill.

The bill would increase the letter rate on the first ounce to five cents from four on mailings between postal districts and to four cents from three on mailings within a postal district. The rate on additional ounces also would be increased one cent an ounce.

The government also plans to eliminate the seven-cent airmail rate within Canada and proposes to carry all first-class mail by air wherever facilities are available.

WOULD ELIMINATE BUSINESS

Wednesday the Commons spent most of its half-day mid-week sitting debating a government motion to eliminate private members' business on Wednesdays—starting Wednesday.

After protests from all three opposition parties, the motion was withdrawn by Citizenship Minister Harris, government House leader.

He said, however, that the government will introduce the motion again later, asking that government business be given precedence over private members' business on and after Wednesday, Feb. 17.

This would leave only one hour on Tuesdays and Fridays for private members. Private members' Mondays previously were eliminated.

The government Wednesday had planned to have the House consider a bill sponsored by Prime Minister St. Laurent to raise the salaries of cabinet ministers. The salary of the prime minister would be increased to $25,000 from $15,000 and those of the 20 other cabinet ministers to $15,000 from $10,000.

OFFERS AMENDMENT

Opposition leader Drew offered an amendment to the motion to permit the prime minister's bill to come up for debate in view of his departure today on a six-week world tour. The amendment would have retained future Wednesdays for private members.

The motion was dropped, however, along with Mr. Drew's amendment. Mr. Drew later suggested that the prime minister be permitted to proceed with the bill, but Mr. St. Laurent declined. He said the bill should not be given any special treatment.

After the motion was dropped the House debated a private members' resolution proposed by Victor Quelch (SC — Acadia) urging legislation to provide for a system of approved farm storage under which the Canadian Wheat Board would make advances to farmers on grain held on farms.

FEAR LOSSES

Irvin Studer (L—Swift Current) and Walter Tucker (L—Rosthern) said the proposed plan could result in heavy financial losses to the board which must be borne by Canada as a whole. This would endanger the board's existence.

The resolution was supported by spokesmen for the Progressive Conservative, CCF and Social Credit parties. No vote was taken because Mr. Studer was still speaking at the 6 p.m. adjournment hour. The motion goes to the bottom of the list of private members' resolutions and is not likely to be debated again this session.

Portugal Builds Naval Vessels

LISBON (Reuters) — Portugal's growing ship-building industry this year, for the first time in history, will begin building naval vessels for a foreign power, the United States.

Under the terms of an "off shore" procurement system contract, Portuguese shipyards will build three coastal escort vessels in iron and two anti-magnetic minesweepers in wood. The total cost will be 250,000,000 escudoes (about $8,750,000).

On the same day the contract was signed, the keel was laid for the biggest ship ever built in Portugal, the 16,800-ton tanker Erati, being built at a cost of $3,500,000 for a Portuguese company.

Portugal's merchant marine at the end of 1953 consisted of 211 ships, totalling 575,098 tons, compared with a tonnage of 350,389 tons in 1945 and 265,320 tons in 1939.

Pair Admit Defrauding Finance Company

OTTAWA (CP)—Lloyd Bilow, 31, of Winchester, and Lyle Smith, 33, Cornwall, Wednesday admitted defrauding a finance company of $2,765 in a series of automobile sale deals.

Bilow pleaded guilty to two charges of defrauding Commercial Credit Corporation, Limited, of $1,665, while Smith, a former Ontario Provincial Police officer, admitted defrauding the same company of $1,100.

Magistrate Glenn Strike remanded Smith to Monday for sentence and Bilow to next Wednesday.

Some Farm Returns Reported Slipping

TORONTO (CP) — George E. Gathercole, Ontario provincial economist, said Wednesday some farm returns are slipping at present but he believes the long-term prospect is bright.

Addressing the Ontario Agricultural Council, an organization made up of county council representatives, he said farm incomes generally are higher than they used to be and living conditions are improving steadily. There still was room for improvement, because only 41 per cent of Ontario farm homes had running water and fewer than that had flush toilets.

CCF Candidate Finds Frost's Name On Tree

ORILLIA (CP)—Wilfred Hoult, CCF candidate in the Feb. 8 provincial by-election in Simcoe East, Wednesday found the name "Leslie" carved on a beech tree outside his home.

Leslie is the first name of Premier Frost, who lived in Orillia as a boy and who is taking part in the by-election in support of Progressive Conservative candidate Lloyd Letherby.

Here for a reception this afternoon, Premier Frost heard about the name on the tree and said:

"Yes, I carved my name on that tree. I used to live a block from there when I was a youngster."

Study In Honesty

VANCOUVER (CP) — When a dairy truck with 200 quarts of milk was temporarily abandoned in a snow drift, a housewife saw citizens picking up bottles and leaving money. Others then took milk without leaving payment. Finally someone stole the money. Loss was estimated at $40.

Won't Play With Gun Again

TORONTO (CP)—Norman Britton, 15, says he's through playing with guns.

In an interview from a hospital bed Wednesday, he said he carried a loaded .22-calibre revolver to Central technical school Tuesday, started taking it apart and putting it together again in his second-form classroom, and it discharged. The bullet went through the palm of his left hand and hit Zollie Swyffy, 16, a fellow student, in the left shoulder.

"The .22 was my uncle's and I had had it about a week," he said.

Neither youth was severely injured. Zollie went to school Wednesday but Norman remained in hospital.

Fireworks Treasurer L. S. MacDowell Dies

TORONTO (CP) — Leonard S. MacDowell, 81, for many years responsible for the nightly fireworks finale at the Canadian National Exhibition, died Wednesday night. Secretary-treasurer of the T. W. Hand Fireworks Company Limited at nearby Cooksville, he was regarded as an expert fireworks technician.

Born in Norwich, he lived for a time in Kitchener. He joined the Hand company more than 40 years ago in Hamilton and came to this area when the firm moved its head office to Cooksville. He left the company for a few years to establish his own fireworks business in Brandon, Man.

Toronto Unions Seek 15% Increase

TORONTO (CP) — Unions representing 4,860 civic employees Wednesday asked the city for a general 15 per cent wage increase, 50 per cent payments by the city towards employee hospital care, and better overtime and vacation plans.

The Toronto Municipal Employees' Association and the Toronto civic Employees, both AFL-TLC unions, made the request to board of control. The unions are bargaining agents for employees with salaries ranging from $1.37½ an hour to $7,000 a year. The present contract expires March 31.

George Bell, city personnel director, said the wage increase asked would cost the city an additional $2,000,000 a year.

NEW PROOF

THAT MILLIONS CAN END THE NEED FOR LAXATIVES

—find relief from constipation this safe, natural way—without the injurious effects of repeated laxative use.

With all the progress of medical science over the past 30 years, authorities say there is no longer any reason why irregularity should be our most widespread human malady.

Nor is there any reason for developing the habitual use of harsh laxatives—of dosing with one preparation after another in the vain hope of finding, in some potion or pill, the "secret" of lasting relief.

Long-continued study of the problem has shown that one of the most common causes of irregularity is lack of bulk in the diet. And when this is the case, the common-sense correction is to be found not in the drug store but in your food store!

IT HAS LONG BEEN A MEDICALLY RECOGNIZED FACT THAT NATURE HAS PROVIDED, IN THE NATURAL FOODS MEN WERE INTENDED TO EAT, ALL THE ELEMENTS NECESSARY FOR THE LIFE-LONG AVOIDANCE OF COMMON CONSTIPATION.

One of these elements is natural fibrous bulk, or vegetable cellulose, which normally and naturally aids the rhythmic process of elimination.

In no natural food is this natural bulk so ideally found as in the outer layers, or bran, of the whole wheat kernel which, as you know, is lost in modern milling.

Because of the known value of bran in promoting regularity the Kellogg Company has produced a complete, whole bran—with nothing taken away to lessen its effectiveness—sold under the name of Kellogg's All-Bran, the natural laxative cereal.

How effective is All-Bran? This has been demonstrated in a series of systematic clinical studies reported in leading medical journals.

In one study, 135 people with known delayed bowel function were given one ounce of All-Bran daily for one week. They were studied clinically and with X-ray with tests made before, during and after they ate the All-Bran.

OF THE 135 PEOPLE, 107 SHOWED DEFINITE CLINICAL IMPROVEMENT IN JUST 7 DAYS.

IN A FOLLOW-UP STUDY, BETTER THAN 6 OUT OF EVERY 7 PATIENTS WHO WERE GIVEN ALL-BRAN IMPROVED.

The greatest advantage of All-Bran is that it corrects the cause of irregularity due to insufficient bulk. Chemical or drug-type laxatives, on the other hand, are intended only for overnight relief of a temporary stoppage.

When people use these products habitually—in a way that laxative makers never intended—they punish their digestive system in a way that nature never intended. Instead of correcting the cause, they often actually make their condition worse.

If you think you must take a laxative preparation occasionally, do so. But do it wisely. Read the instructions completely. AVOID EXCESSIVE USAGE. But for natural and lasting relief put your trust in nature. Just eat daily a one-ounce serving of All-Bran for breakfast and drink plenty of water.

This All-Bran plan has helped millions to re-establish and to maintain healthful regularity. Why not you?

The girls were filmed during the past weekend in their new 16-girl routine, in the Parasol. On Saurday night the club will be giving a request performance at the Royal Military College.

Youth Shot In Leg By Accident

Hunting Rabbits With Friend, Rifle Discharged

COBOURG (ENS) — Robert Lax, 16, of 47 Brown St., Port Hope, is in Port Hope Hospital with a bullet wound in his right leg. He was accidentally shot by a companion while out rabbit hunting. Wednesday afternon.

Lax, a high school student, was walking slightly ahead of five other hunters at Quay's Crossing, three miles northwest of Port Hope. He was breaking down dead bushes that were in the party's path and was hoping to scare some rabbits.

SAFETY CATCH SLIPPED

Somehow the safety catch slipped on a .22-calibre repeating rifle carried by Harry McLauchlan, one of five 'teen-aged boys in the party. The trigger was fired and a shot went through Lax's right leg above the knee.

His hunting companions took turns carrying him out of the bush and he was taken to hospital in Port Hope.

OPP Constable Cy Meadows of Cobourg investigated the shooting.

Besides Lax and McLauchlan, the party consisted of Harold Hoskins, 24, and three other 'teenagers—David Low, Danny Williams and Garry Wakely.

Summer Theatre Plans 12 Weeks

Summer Theatre director Michael Sadlier has been in Peterborough making preliminary arrangements for the coming season, which it is expected, will be a twelve-week run, instead of ten as last year.

Harry Goddard, one of the principals on stage last season is being engaged as play director and his wife Margaret Braidwood will head the company. Miss Braidwood was a popular star on the Queen Mary stage last summer, and during this winter has been playing leading parts in Ottawa, also doing TV work.

Ron Bailey is scheduled to return—the only original member of the company with the Peterborough Summer Theatre since its formation, apart from Mr. Sadlier himself. Other actors expected to be in the company are newcomers: Margaret Griffin, Robert Shirriff and John Douglas. Mr. Sadlier is now in Toronto enlisting his company. Wilf Pegg, who did the sets last year, is again being engaged as stage designer, and Douglas Henderson, who has been with the company for several seasons, is expected back as stage manager.

TV PLAYS

Mr. Sadlier and his wife spent the autumn in England, where Mr. Sadlier is laying the ground-work for an extensive television film enterprise, financed by Bermuda capital. The new company, of which Mr. Sadlie is prime mover, expects to make in London next autumn and winter a series of 26 films, especially designed for TV showing on this continent. The couple are leaving for London again on the 14th of this month, and will not return to Canada until mid-April.

In London Mr. Sadlier has already engaged English writers for the TV plays, and work on this has begun. Last month he flew down to Bermuda to complete financial arrangements. The actual filming will begin next autumn in London studios, Mr. Sadlier plans. An American stage and movie star is to be engaged to play a central part in all the films. Each film will run for a half-hour, in a related series.

LAYING A SEWER before building a road, Peter Mohan & Sons have reached Erskine Ave. with the 2,000 feet of 21-inch sewer line through the remnant wood and swamp south of May's school and the Simpson-Sears new building. They used a well-point method of dewatering the job ahead of the power shovel. Its pipe is shown in the foreground, connected to the gasoline pump. The street that will eventually be laid from Erskine to Monaghan Rd. is shown on the city map as Borden Ave. John Mohan (left) is shown with his foreman, John Bennett. That job through poplar-willow swamp has been a tough one in their varied experience.

Births, Deaths, Revenue Reported By City Clerk

Since the first one was installed in Peterborough on May 12, 1947, the city's parking meters have added $230,803.12 to the city's revenue. Of this total, $196,560.60 was from street meters and $34,242.52 from meters in the city square parking lot on the old market site, which went into operation on July 21, 1951.

How the meters have proved a lucrative means of replenishing the city's coffers is shown in the annual report of the city clerk on the activities of his department during 1953. Here is a list of meter revenues year by year:

From street parking meters: 1947, $17,924.05; 1948, $26,053.05; 1949, $26,780.22; 1950, $28,371.47; 1951, $30,594.20; 1952, $31,256.45; 1953, $35,581.16.

From city square parking meters: 1951, $4,864.55; 1952, $11,938.49; 1953, $17,439.48.

Although parking meters have come in for severe criticism as revenue producers wherever they are used, they are a product, not only of population growth, but of the increase of the number of people who drive cars today. Municipal officials have insisted that the purpose of meters is to prevent the streets from becoming all-day parking lots.

CONTINUING STUDY

Peterborough city council and the special traffic committee they have set up are continuing their study of the provision of off-street parking with the revenues from parking meters.

Other figures presented in the clerk's report indicated the gen- and increase in statistics at the city hall over the past few years. For example, ten years ago, in 1943, there were 1,012 births recorded in the city. The number had jumped to 1,810 by 1952. In 1953 the total grew to 1,844.

There were fewer deaths recorded at the city hall in 1953 than the year before, 314 in 1952 and 297 last year. But there were only 297 marriage licences issued last year, compared with 314 the year before.

DISTRESSING FEATURE

Another, more distressing feature of the city's recent growth was emphasized in the police court statistics. Ten years ago, in 1943, there were 1,214 cases heard, yielding $7,135.73 in fines. Last year, 5,540 cases were recorded—an increase of more than 350 per cent in 10 years—yielding $30,934.56 (the only bright side to the story).

Even in one year, the number of police court cases recorded increased almost 25 per cent. In 1952, there were 4,500 cases (3,475 of them under the Highway Traffic Act) and 3,475 convictions registered. In 1953, there were 5,540 cases (2,104 under the HTA) and 4,211 convictions.

In 1952, police court receipts totalled $30,389.29.

A general indication of the stepped-up activity at city hall is given by the figures showing the increase in total receipts in the clerk's department in one year. In 1952 the total was $85,901.35. Last year it jumped to $108,861.23.

Apart from meter and police court receipts, the most significant item was an increase of more than 50 per cent in receipts from parking tickets. In 1952 these were $5,160. In 1953 they were $10,750.

Trades, Labor Council Names Committees

The Peterborough Trades and Labor Council (TLC) have appointed their 1954 committees:

Legislative — Chairman John McPhee, M. D. Sullivan, Mervin Williamson, Hugh Arnold and W. Jorgenson.

Organization—Chairman Henry Nokes, William Givens, Cam Wasson, Henry O'Rourke, Gus Siegel, and William Collins.

Wage Survey—Chairman George Gimblett Jr., Joseph Kelly, Fergus Moher, Jack Cochrane, Mervin Williamson and William Condon.

Building Trades — Chairman Cam Wasson, Lionel Kelly, Bill Givens and a member of the plumbers' local if they become council members.

Education—Chairman Peter McCombe, Richard Martin and Mr. McPhee.

Letters Sent Out To Organize Fund Campaign

Organization work for the Community Chests campaign, due to start March 5, is already well under way chairman A. L. Elliott said today.

Today a letter went out to all retailers enlisting their support for the retail section's $19,250 share of the $100,000 objective. It was recommended that all stores adopt a scheme of payroll deductions, to enable employees to give adequately without impairing their present needs.

The technique of federated financing, the letter reads, saves money for both the agencies benefitting and the individuals and organizations contributing. Campaign costs in a single campaign averages 10 per cent of cash raised, but the Peterborough Red Cross and Community Fund Campaign hopes to cut costs to 3½ per cent of the total.

Samuel J. Whitehouse, president of the chamber of commerce will be organizing local merchants to adopt the payroll deduction plan. Since this plan was used in 1953, the chamber and the community fund campaign hopes that workers will be educated to budget for the drive, and that response this year will be higher than ever before.

20 Cheers

Twenty years ago, the first beverage room was opened in the city and Wednesday some local historians held a quiet celebration to commemorate the occasion. Two men bought a turkey, roasted it at home, and took it along to their favorite club on the holiday afternoon to make it available to as many of their colleagues as possible. Many just as keen about history as themselves, gathered around the delicacy and demolished it with an occasional toast to that first wet day.

City's Fire Loss During 1953 Totals $169,636

Sixty-nine fires destroyed property worth an estimated $169,636.72 in Peterborough last year. The loss was considerably less than in the previous two years, according to the annual report of Fire Chief Bill Sorrie. Total property loss from 57 fires in 1952 was $505,525.11. In 1951 there were 64 fires and a total property loss of $483,635.84.

The largest part of last year's loss was attributed by Chief Sorrie to the explosion at the Quaker Oats Co. and fires at the Canadian Legion Hall, the Lawrence Salvage Co. and Immaculate Conception church. Of the city's total loss, only $3,730 was not covered by insurance.

Although there were only 69 fires last year, 663 alarms were turned in. The majority, 549, were by telephone. Only 24 were from alarm boxes, 29 were verbal, 36 from sprinkler systems and five by radio.

There were 95 false alarms, 22 from alarm boxes, 34 from sprinkler systems and 39 from other sources.

DISTRIBUTION

Of all the alarms turned in, 113 were from north of McDonnel St.; 146 from south of Townsend St.; 84 from east of the river; 64 in the west section of the city bordered by McDonnel, Park and Townsend Sts.; 211 in the centre section bordered by McDonnel, Townsend and Park Sts. and the river; 16 in the annexed portion and nine from outside the city.

The majority of alarms were caused by chimney fires or overheated pipes. These totalled 111.

Other causes were: sparks on roof 3; overheated heating equipment 8; rubbish 62; hot ashes, coals 2; oil units 75; careless smoking 26; children and matches 17; faulty wiring and equipment 20; electrical appliances 12; grease, tar 15; flammable liquids 14; torches, welding, etc. 5; lamps, lanterns, stoves 1; gas and appliances 2; spontaneous combustion 3; fireworks 3; lightning, sparks from machinery 3; incendiary 5; miscellaneous 52; unknown 10; explosions 2; emergency, drowning, etc. 25; recall 11; cars, trucks 26; grass fires 32.

It was the first annual report for Chief Sorrie. He was appointed August 12 last year to replace Chief Ralph Leonard, who was compelled to resign due to ill health.

The department's strength was increased by the addition of eight new members. Fireman John Luther resigned March 8 but was not replaced.

Discipline of the department had been good, Chief Sorrie reported. Two suspensions and other forms of punishment were meted out to members for infractions of the regulations.

Many improvements were made during the year. Rectifiers for the fire alarm system were purchased and installed. A 10-watt mobile radio was installed on the Seagrave pumper. A 500-gallon fog nozzle was bought for use on the aerial water tower for better control of large fires. The second floor was completely renovated, kitchen facilities improved and the control room moved to the main floor.

The fire prevention bureau conducted an extensive fire prevention program with films, talks and displays at schools, homes for the aged, clubs and various organizations.

A training syllabus was established. Fireman Hubert Kennedy was promoted to captain, November 1, and Captain Vic Barry transferred to the fire prevention bureau on the same date.

"During the year, the department was granted the utmost co-operation by members of the city council, heads of departments, the daily press and other civic - minded groups," Chief Sorrie concluded, "and I take this opportunity to express my sincere thanks for the many courtesies extended to me."

Laying Sewer Pipe Through Swamp Tough Job Finished

Peter Mohan & Sons, Toronto, contractors laying the Erskine-Western Ave. sewer, have emerged into comparatively firm ground after struggling through the poplar swamp south of May's school and the Simpson-Sears property. They have been wintering in a water job, digging their way through the swamp and its diverse layers of soil, and about the only bright aspect of it was simply that if the time were spring they would have been flooded out.

"It has been one of the toughest stretches of sewer trench we have encountered in quite a while," John Mohan told The Examiner today with full endorsement of his foreman, John Bennett, both of Toronto.

They bucked into a complex of tangled roots of willows and poplars, water, a depth of frost in the ground, and recurrent severe weather in their progress from Monaghan Rd. west to Erskine Ave. Out of the woods Wednesday and about ready to turn north on Erskine, they found a grim jest in the memory of the difficulties they had been through since winter overtook them.

The Mohan firm hooked on to the completed sewer end at Monaghan Rd., and Braidwood Ave., and moved fast in a short reach northerly to the end of Edison Ave. There they turned west and projected the trench under the CNR and beyond the railway into the swamp. They began November 7 in ideal late autumn weather.

21-INCH PIPE

The sewer pipe is 21 inches in diameter and the distance across the fields to Erskine Ave. is 2,000 feet. Bulldozers pushed most of the trees out of the way on what will become a new street, showing on City Engineer Chalmer's map of the city as yet unopened Borden Ave.

In the foreground of the photograph of the west end of the job is a four or five inch pipe with smaller offshoots spaced about every four feet. This is known as the well-point method of dewatering the subsoil in advance of the sewar pipeline.

The points were sunk 15 feet, and a hitch of suction and centrifugal pump raised a flow of water that enabled the pipe men to put together the concrete sections in the necessarily slow day to day extension of the sewer line.

Beneath the trees and their roots in a top layer of black muck, the power shovels came upon a seam of some kind of white rubbery soil which none of the men had ever seen before. Mr. Bennett said it felt as soft as velvet, was readily soluble, and in water it had the appearance of milk.

There were days in December and January so cold that the men could hardly keep warm at their work. Brush fires along the route helped.

HIT QUICKSAND

Peter Mohan Company did a sewer job on Cameron St. about two years ago. It was a line laid through sand, with the chief obstacle quicksand.

On Erskine Ave. and up Western Ave. to the end of Chamberlain St., they should have fairly normal conditions for this season. At any rate they are out of the swamp and the muck.

The north end of this sewer has been completed in sections for some time, normally on Western Ave. to Clonsilla then across a field to Sherbrooke and so on up to the new Westmount Gardens subdivision of Westbrook Company in the vicinity of Weller St.

Of the Borden Rd. job there is one feature reassuring to the ratepayer. This is a rare instance of the sewer preceding the road. Usually it has been the reverse, build a road, then houses, next demand a sewer from their tenants and owners, finally breaking a trench through the road, and having to lay a new travel surface.

Labor Council Renews Support Of TV Application

A move to have the Peterborough Trades and Labor Council (TLC) dissociate themselves from the application of Kawartha Broadcasting Ltd. for a television licence was defeated Wednesday night.

Peter McCombe, of Local 248, International Typographical Union, said he feared a further monopoly by the same interests who already have a monopoly in the daily newspaper and radio fields here in Peterborough.

(Kawartha Broadcasting—one of two groups applying for a television licence—consists of a group including Senator W. Rupert Davies and Roy Thomson and was formerly known as the Brooklands Broadcasting Co.

(The Peterborough Examiner is published by The Peterborough Examiner Company, Limited, in which Senator Davies has not been a shareholder for five years, and in which Mr. Roy Thomson has never been a shareholder at any time.

(Another group, headed by Herb May, Toronto radio actor and announcer, has also applied. They include Garth Braund and Ed V. O'Toole of Peterborough, Kenneth MacDuffee, formerly of Peterborough and now of Lindsay, and G. A. Reynolds, of Toronto.

(The CBC board of governors on Monday reserved decision on the two applications "to provide further opportunity for clarification of questions of public support in the community for the respective applicants.")

Mr. McCombe read a short statement which he intended to be the gist of a letter that would be sent to the CBC board of governors:

"The Peterborough Trades and Labor Council seeks to draw the attention of the board to the fact that one of the applicants seeking permission to set up a television station in Peterborough already holds a monopoly there in the fields of daily newspaper publishing and also in broadcasting.

"The council believes that it is not in the public interest that further monopolies should be granted to the same interests."

Mr. McCombe thought that it was a mistake for the local labor council to endorse the Kawartha Broadcasting Ltd. as they had done by going to Ottawa at the

1954 "Year Of The Horse" Lucky Symbol Of Old China

WASHINGTON — The Chinese New Year, celebrated Wednesday with traditional festivities of parades, firecrackers, and banqueting, ushered in the Year of the Horse, a happier-omened period than the dubious Year of the Snake that preded it.

In the Oriental chronology, followed also in Japan, Tibet and other Eastern lands, the horse is the symbol of speed and perseverance. It presages fast-moving, constructive events. The snake sign is one of evil and cunning. It is regarded with fear and distrust, tinged with awe for its power.

The Chinese zodiac calendar is organized by 60-year cycles, says the National Geographic Society. The system was started during the reign of Emperor Huang Ti more than 4,500 years ago. Each 60-year cycle is divided into five sub-cycles of 12 years, known as the Twelve Terrestial Branches. Each branch is named for a different animal. The first is the Year of the Rat, succeeded in turn by the Years of the Ox, Tiger, Rabbit, Dragon, Snake, Horse, Sheep, Monkey, Fowl, Dog, and Pig.

SOOTHSAYING ART UNCERTAIN

Animals play an important role in Chinese mythology. Each of the calendar beasts has its own significance, subject to the contradictions and variations in interpretation common to all the arts of soothsaying and folklore.

The dragon, for instance, is a wicked medieval monster in the West, but a powerful, beneficent creature to the Chinese. With the tiger, the dragon represents one of the world's two great forces, the dragon being "Lord of the Water," the tiger "Lord of the Land."

Among the Chinese calendar's less spectacular animals, the rat is the emblem of timidity and meanness, the sheep of a quiet, retired life. The ox is linked with spring and favors the fortunes of agriculture. The short-lived rabbit, or hare, oddly stands for longevity; its year's span is supposed to be propitious for getting married, having children, or changing occupations.

The soothsayers are of mixed opinions about the Years of the Monkey, Fowl, Dog, and Pig. The influence of these animals may augur good or bad luck, wealth or poverty.

GREGORIAN CALENDAR

Officially, China abandoned its picturesque old calendar with the establishment of the Republic in 1912. Based on lunar or moon-phase observations, it was out of step with the widely used Gregorian calculations, adjusted to solar, seasonal time. After adopting the West's Gregorian Calendar the Chinese Government made it unlawful to publish or use any other.

But the Chinese people continued to go by their time-honored system of animal symbolism. Millions of farmers and city dwellers still set the course of their daily lives, from haircuts to marriage, by its omens and portents. Plantings, harvesting, and festivals are guided by it.

Though the Gregorian Calendar calls January 1 the beginning of every year, most Chinese at home or abroad celebrate their own New Year on a date that may fall anywhere between January 20 and February 19. In Communist China the new calendar issued recently for the Year of the Horse shows a horse of a red color.

The Chinese leaders, using the familiar layout of the old almanac, have retailored text and illustrations along Red propaganda lines. The old conglomeration of superstitions, hints on farming and homemaking, lists of anniversaries and government regulations has been replaced or slanted to promote Communist programs.

THE FACES OF DESTINY—In spite of Soviet talk that a unified Germany will be attained, gloom seems to hang over the Big Four Foreign Ministers' meeting in East Berlin. Clockwise from lower left are Russia's Gromyko, Foreign Minister Molotov and Zarubin; and America's MacArthur, Conant and Secretary of State Dulles.

Dog Food Manufacturing Big Business In Calgary

CALGARY (CP) — Two city firms have found going to the dogs can be big business. Their produce is being lapped up by customers—literally.

Man, it appears, has shared his post-war rise in standard-of-living with his traditional best friend, the dog.

Proof is contained in the 12,000,000 cans of dog food turned out annually at the plants of Dr. Ballard Animal Food Products Ltd., and Red Top Ltd., on Calgary's outskirts. Production of the two plants now is valued at nearly $1,500,000 annually, with markets extending from Winnipeg to the West coast.

The present-day dog's life is a royal one indeed compared with that led by Old Mother Hubbard's hungry pet. Cupboards now are filled with canned meats flavored with liver, chicken, eggs and tomatoes, guaranteed to quell the growls of the most finical canine.

TWO REASONS

Manufacturers give two main reasons for the change.

First, more people are living in cities, where heavy road traffic makes life hazardous for wandering dogs. Result is a decline in the number of owners who care little for their pets and an increase in those who keep them off the streets and maintain their health by careful feeding.

Secondly, high meat prices have cut the dogs' supply of table scraps. When owners shop for food specially for their pets, they find canned products far cheaper than liver or hamburger.

Chief ingredient in dog food is horse meat. Manufacturers are keeping wary eyes on the dwindling number of horses available for slaughter. In Alberta it is believed there are enough to keep the dog food industry supplied for several years.

Price of horses, averaging $56 each, has almost tripled in the last five years.

In addition to the meat and various flavorings, dog food products contain beef by-products, cereal, cod liver oil, bone meal, onions and carrots. A special item for cats contains a high percentage of fish.

NO CHLOROPHYLL

One innovation that had to be abandoned was a dog food containing chlorophyll, intended to cut or kill the "doggy" smell of housepets. So much chlorophyll was needed that the food would not have been a paying proposition.

The Dr. Ballard factory here operates in conjunction with larger plants in Toronto and Vancouver.

Man-Made Nests

REGINA (CP)—The Junior Wild Life Conservation League has been making 50 nests for goldeneye ducks, whose natural nests in hollows of rotten trees are often cut down or destroyed. When 15 of the artificial nests were placed at the Qu'Appelle lakes last year every one was used by the ducks.

Woman Refuses Join Husband Till Dog Freed

HALIFAX (CP) — A striking, brown-eyed German immigrant vows she won't join her husband in Edmonton until her dog is freed from port quarantine here.

"Mushie will die for sure without me," Mrs. Elsie Scheithauer said in an interview Wednesday night.

Mrs. Scheithauer, 36, bought the black-and-white dalmatian to fill a place left in her heart after her father's death six years ago.

She married last July, and her husband, Fred, left three days later for Edmonton, where he now is a $40-a-week hotel cook.

On arrival here late last month Mrs. Scheithauer's dog was placed in detention under the agriculture department's health of animals regulations. An Edmonton veterinary is trying to arrange it so the dog can be shipped westward without waiting the usual 90 days.

Mrs. Scheithauer, meanwhile, is finding that keeping her vow not to leave Mushie isn't easy.

She is coping with strange foods and sometimes-abrupt customers as a waitress in a downtown lunch counter on a salary that she doesn't yet know.

"But I'm sure that I'm losing money," she says, "so I eat only one meal a day." She stays at the YWCA, where she pays $1.50 a night, and the keep for her dog is 75 cents daily. She hopes her salary will be more than $10 weekly.

But she says the sacrifice is worth it, although her husband doesn't appreciate it.

"When papa died six years ago there were only my mother and my sister and I left. And I couldn't sleep nights. I told mama that I wanted a dog.

"When Fred left last year for Canada, I told him that if Mushie couldn't come I wouldn't come. I think he understands but he can't help too much because his salary isn't big and he has an apartment out there.

"But a Dr. Scott is trying to get permission to have Mushie sent to Edmonton soon. He is a veterinary, and my husband has made arrangements with him to look after the dog. I expect to hear from him next week."

Mrs. Scheithauer, who says that the lunch counter proprietor is a "good guy because he stands up for me when I can't understand what the customer wants," spends her spare time with Mushie.

Mrs. Scheithauer was a clerk during and before the war and later was a waitress in a United States Army canteen in her home town of Augsburg. That's where she met and married Fred, a German soldier who was a prisoner of-war in the U.S. and later returned to search unsuccessfully for his family in the Russian sector of Germany.

Business Men Sharply Divided About Report

NEW YORK (AP) — Business men are as sharply divided over the Randall report as Congress.

Many who want to see world trade barriers lowered so that they and others can sell more goods abroad, especially now that their business is dipping a little at home, are disappointed. They feel that the report of the foreign economic policy commission does not go far enough. It proposes only a moderate lowering of U.S. tariffs.

Many others feel this goes too far. American manufacturers who fear the competition here of cheaply-produced European and Japanese goods would prefer to see higher tariffs, not lower.

To most business men, the chances of much of the Randall report being adopted, at least at this session of Congress, seem slim.

Foreign traders hope for some further relaxing of customs red-tape, tax encouragement for American companies operating abroad, and more liberal provisions for American tourists bringing back foreign purchases.

Stormy hearings before the Randall commission, in which various American industries protested that tariffs were too low, foreshadow a hot fight in the months ahead in Congress.

Business men feel that the Randall report will be an informative background in the upcoming battle. But many of them suspect that the final result in Congress will be—as so often in the past it was accused of being—the product of congressional log-rolling and back-scratching.

95,000 Killed In Accidents In U.S. In 1953

CHICAGO (AP) — This is the tremendous price the United States paid for accidents in 1953:

Killed: 95,000. Injured: 9,600,000. The cost: $9,100,000,000.

The bill was added up today by the National Safety Council, which noted that the 1953 accident death toll was 1,000 below the 1952 total. But it also noted that it was more than three times as great as the toll of U.S. dead during the entire Korean war.

The motor vehicle held its place as the No. 1 accident killer. Traffice deaths numbered 38,300. That was a gain of one per cent over 1952.

The traffic total was the third largest in history, exceeded only in 1937 and 1941.

HOME ACCIDENTS

Fatalities in home accidents numbered 23,000, a decline of 1,000. Accidental deaths at work were unchanged at 15,000.

Ned H. Dearborn, president of the council, stated that "no civilized nation can long endure this tragic and disgraceful waste of manpower and resources from accidents that are avoidable."

But there were some relatively bright spots in the otherwise-grim array of statistics.

The 1953 death rate for accidents of all types was 60 per 100,000 population, lowest on record. Nevertheless, one out of every 16 Americans suffered a disabling injury last year.

ALL-TIME HIGH

The 38,300 traffic deaths were recorded during a year when the number of vehicles on the road and the number of miles they travelled reached an all-time high. Thus the death rate per 100,000,000 vehicle-miles was estimated at seven—lowest rate on record.

Traffic accidents resulted in about 1,350,000 non-fatal injuries.

Falls brought death to 20,200 persons, one per cent fewer than in 1952. Burns cost 6,400 lives, a four-per-cent decrease. Firearm fatalities rose four per cent to 2,450. Drownings were unchanged at 6,800.

The estimated economic loss of $9,100,000,000 covers both fatal and non-fatal accidents. It includes wage losses, medical expenses, insurance costs, production delays and damage to equipment and property.

OLD CUSTOM

The custom of wearing earrings was common to both sexes in olden times.

STAY AFLOAT—Sure to make a big hit with nonswimmers is the floating quality of a new swimsuit demonstrated by three Chicago models who are floating in water with their hands tied over their heads. The new suit, which is almost identical in appearance to the regular suit, uses captive air cells within the soft material to provide buoyancy. There is nothing to inflate and manufacturers say the buoyancy is permanent.

Harbor Strike Settled

KARACHI, Pakistan (Reuters)—Harbor workers on strike for nine days Wednesday night voted to go back to work today. The union accepted the Pakistan government's offer on wages and vacations. Originally, 5,000 stevedores and dock workers struck. They were joined later by rail workers and others.

Britain Leads West

LONDON (Reuters)—Sir David Maxwell-Fyfe, Britain's home secretary, said Wednesday that Britain is spending more per head on civilian defence than any of her Western allies. He was replying to charges in Parliament that the country's civilian defence budget is too low.

Want Candidates Deposit $200 For Ontario Election

TORONTO (CP)—A streamlined version of the Ontario Election Act, calling for a $200 deposit by candidates and an extension of the number of days between the filing of writs for an election and the election day, was outlined Wednesday by a select committee of the legislature.

The first major overhaul of the act in a number of years will be presented to the session of the legislature opening Feb. 11.

At present candidates are not required to make a deposit, although federal candidates must deposit $200.

The committee suggested a minimum of 45 days between the calling of an election and election day. At present the minimum is 44 days for winter elections and 37 for others.

CHANGE ACT

Rather than extend the minimum time to 60 days, as suggested by some provincial officials who said more time was needed because of the system of preparing voters' lists, the committee recommended changes in the Voters' List Act under which the 45-day minimum would be sufficient.

To speed up nomination proceedings, the committee recommended that the number of qualified electors who must sign nomination papers be reduced from 100 to 10. Also, the committee recommended that the practice of revising rural voters' lists be eliminated to save time. Another amendment would eliminate the necessity of printing lists.

Instead they could be produced by other methods such as typing.

The advance poll now available only to those away from home on business, would be extended for use by any person expecting to be absent from his electoral district on polling day for any reason, including holidays.

Pedestrian Killed

HAMILTON (CP)—Mrs. William Paul, 55, of Winona was killed Wednesday night when, police said, she was struck by a St. Catharines automobile on the Queen Elizabeth Way five miles east of here. Police said she had just got off a bus and was walking across the highway at Lewis' sideroad.

BISHOP F. H. WILKINSON

Toronto Bishop To Dedicate St. Luke's Organ

The Coadjutor Bishop of Toronto, the Rt. Rev. F. H. Wilkinson, is a rare church official: a notable theologian, he is also an accomplished musician. In his capacity as Bishop he will dedicate the new pipe organ at St. Luke's church, Ashburnham, Sunday evening after Evensong. As a musician he will give the first official recital on the new instrument immediately following the dedication.

Bishop Wilkinson has had a remarkable career. Born in Nova Scotia and educated chiefly in Toronto, he is a Master of Arts, a Bachelor of Divinity, and an honorary Doctor of Divinity. During the First Great War he served as an enlisted man with the 10th Canadian Infantry Brigade Signals, was three times awarded the Military Medal for Bravery (MM and Two Bars). His theological training followed his war service.

During his undergraduate days he was organist for the Sunday services at the University of Toronto. When he was rector of St. James the Apostle church in Montreal (1936-44) he gave annual recitals of piano and organ. When Bishop Wilkinson became rector of St. Paul's church, Bloor St., Toronto, (1944-53) he gave a number of recitals on that church's great organ.

During his coast-to-coast life, Bishop Wilkinson has carried his music with him — Dartmouth (N.S.), in Hamilton as a curate, at Saskatoon as a professor, in Calgary as rector, in Vancouver as rector and sub-dean of the cathedral, in Montreal, and in Toronto. He was elected coadjutor Bishop of Toronto in November, 1952.

Sunday evening will be the first time that Bishop Wilkinson has played in Peterborough. His program at St. Luke's new organ will include three choral improvisations by Karg-Elert, a Healey Willan prelude and fugue, Brahms and Guilmant.

During their short stay in Peterborough, Bishop and Mrs. Wilkinson will be the guests of Canon W. J. Gilling, rector of St. Luke's, and Mrs. Gilling.

Actress Admits Failure, Heads Home

LONDON (CP)—A young Canadian actress boarded a ship for home Wednesday, ruefully confessing herself a "failure" in British show business.

Dark-haired Olga Landiak of Fort William, with strong slavic features and a deep, dramatic voice, said it seemed her stage personality was "too strong." So now she's going to Toronto to try to break into Canadian drama circles.

The 28-year-old actress, of Ukrainian origin, discussed her "flop" with good humor and lack of bitterness.

"It just seemed to be all of me," she said, "my height (five feet, eight inches) -my features, my voice. I tried to play myself down, as it were, but British producers didn't want to take a chance on somebody who didn't seem exactly right for the part."

TWO TV ROLES

She did land two television roles, one as a female robot, but apart from that her acting was confined to amateur productions. For a living she took a job as secretary to a member of Parliament.

Miss Landiak came to Britain five years ago on the first scholarship granted by the Little Theatre Group in London, Ont. The outlook seemed promising when British artist Nicholas Egon picked her photograph for inclusion in a book called "Beautiful Women of Our Time."

After that Miss Landiak hopefully made the rounds of agencies, film companies and television producers but the answer was nearly always the same: You're too strong for the part.

FRIEND OR FOE?—Jody, the eight-week-old parakeet, looks warily at the mouse as if pondering whether this stranger is friend or foe. Jody finally decided to put the intruder in his place with a sharp peck at his tail. Jody is the Christmas-present pet of Mrs. Walter Armstrong, of Fort Scott, Kan. Armstrong caught the mouse in a friend's barn, where he stores oats. Another, similar, mouse bit his finger and ran. The mouse is unusual because it does not have the pink eyes of a true albino.

Health League Plans Campaign

TORONTO (CP)—Health League of Canada plans to promote community interest and participation in health activities is being promoted as part of the league's health week campaign.

Hearst, one of the first centres since health week was announced to inquire how a community can participate actively in a health movement, may be first in the province to have volunteer health patrols.

Patrols would plan and carry out ways of promoting special education weeks such as an immunization week, spreading information from the league and local health officials, co-operating with local hospitals, clinics, public health officers and others and working in various other ways in the interests of public health.

Health week is currently supporting immunization, milk pasteurization and other projects.

Boy Killed By Truck

LONDON, Ont. (CP)— Edward Foster, 7, was killed Wednesday night when he ran across the highway during a snowball fight and was struck by a transport truck.

Group Changes Name

OTTAWA (CP)— The Canadian Automotive Transportation Association has changed its name to the Canadian Trucking Associations, it announced here.

Married Couples Elect Darlings

OMEMEE (ENS)—The Family Friendship club (young married group) of Bethel Church had their annual meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Art Darling with 16 members present.

Alden Bailey presided and Mrs. John Flynn was in charge of the devotions. Mrs. Ed. Ruth read a poem "Prayer Time".

Mrs. V. E. R. Zufelt took the chair for the election of officers. The new executive comprises: Hon. Pres. Rev. and Mrs. Zufelt; Pres., Mr. and Mrs. Art Darling; Vice-pres., Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Finley; Secretary, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Ruth; treasurer, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Wellman; program committee, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Chatten; Sunshine Committee, Mr. and Mrs. A. Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. C. Endicott, Mr. and Mrs. J. Flynn; Lunch, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Faulkner, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rose.

Lunch was served by the committee.

The Young People of Bethel Church put on a very successful comedy in the Coronation Hall, Omemee, on Tuesday evening with a good crowd present. "The Dutch Detective" was directed by the Rev. V. E. R. Zufelt and the cast included Howard Carew as the detective, Allen Storey, Bruce Wellman, Donald Faulkner, Harold Harrison, and the girls' parts taken by Delores Renout, Olive Faulkner, Mrs. Dean Wellman, Jessie Moncrief, and Beverly Darling.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Carnegie and Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Smith spent a day at the Canadian Retail hardwaremen's association at the Coliseum, Toronto.

Mr. Howard Bent has had an operation at the Civic hospital and his condition is satisfactory.

Roy, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Rawlins, has been hospitalized this week and is much better.

All you do is complete this sentence (in 25 words or less): "I'm glad I switched to Blue Bonnet Margarine because . . ." Send as many entries as you like—but with each entry enclose TWO END FLAPS of Blue Bonnet Margarine (with Good Housekeeping Seal of Approval) or reasonable facsimile. You may win a brand-new 1954 Ford — a Necchi Sewing Machine — a C.G.E. Rotary Ironer—a Marconi Mantel Radio! Your opportunity to win is as great as anyone else's. Send to Blue Bonnet Sue, Box 2170, Toronto, Ont.

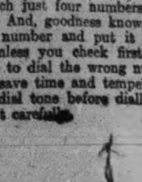
Just The Way You Like It! Can't ask for more, can you? That's why breakfasts right across the country are so much happier now that every member of a family can have coffee "custom-made" . . . strong, medium or mild. The NEW INSTANT CHASE & SANBORN COFFEE has made this happy state possible. This famous coffee firm — with over a hundred years of coffee "know-how" back of it, has perfected the method for embodying the full rich flavour of the coffee beans in coffee granules, that melt into superb coffee as soon as boiling water touches them. No fuss or bother. No wasted time. And you save up to 40c a pound over ordinary coffee too!



"What's For Dinner?" Something special is what, when you cook it with HEINZ TOMATO KETCHUP. And there's a new, FREE RECIPE BOOKLET called "Cooking with Ketchup" that's brightened up my winter meals almost 100%. If the Heinz Ketchup you buy doesn't have the booklet attached, simply write to me, Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal — and I'll be glad to send you a copy. I'm sure you'll enjoy it and I know your family will enjoy your exciting, new meals . . . sparked with Heinz Tomato Ketchup. Truly, it's "Red Magic" the way Heinz Ketchup makes gala feasts of everyday meals. Have two bottles on hand at a time . . . one for the table and one for cooking.

At Our Neighbor's The Other Night, the small son of the house was restless and wakeful because he could not breathe through his nose. A head cold had clogged his nostrils and the poor darling was very uncomfortable! Quickly showed his mother how MENTHOLATUM spread liberally inside his nostrils, and then sniffed well back, eased Junior. The medicated vapors in Mentholatum help to reduce local swelling, lessen congestion, improve drainage, and so aid in restoring normal breathing through the nose. Send for your GENEROUS FREE SAMPLE today! . . . Save Time, Save Temper (your own and others too) by checking in your telephone book to make absolutely sure you've got the right number before you make a call . . . I was astonished the other day to learn that there are actually twenty-four different orders in which just four numbers can be put! Twenty-four! And, goodness knows, it's so easy to twist one number and put it in the wrong place . . . unless you check first. It's such a waste of time to dial the wrong number . . . so take time to save time and temper! Be sure to wait for the dial tone before dialling, and then dial each digit carefully.

Build 797 Miles Of Trans-Canada Road

OTTAWA (CP)—The works department reported Wednesday that 797.2 miles of the 5,000-mile trans-Canada highway have been built.

A return tabled in the Commons for C. W. Hodgson (PC—Victoria, Ont.) said 679.86 miles are paved, and 6274 miles of highway now are under construction.

The cost of the highway construction to the federal government amounted to $42,777,242 as of Jan. 23, 1954. Under the Trans-Canada Highway Act the federal government pays 50 per cent of the cost of construction in the provinces and the total cost of highways through national parks.

Apart from new construction, there is more than 2,500 miles of paved road along the route of the trans-Canada highway. Federal and provincial authorities have not yet agreed on how much of this mileage meets trans-Canada specifications.

Mortgage Corporation Has 6 Million Budget

OTTAWA (CP) — Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, the federal government's housing agency, Wednesday filed in the Commons a capital budget of $6,700,500 for 1954.

The amount does not cover loans under the National Housing Act, which the corporation estimated at $120,600,000 for the year. A further $14,500,000 would be laid out in federal-provincial housing projects.

Largest item in CMHC's 1954 capital budget is $3,400,000 for the repayment of debentures. Another major item is $1,224,000 for development of a townsite at Ajax, Ont., where CMHC is conducting experiments in housing.

Canned Food Industry Has Great Growth

CHATHAM (CP)—J. F. Perry, chief canning inspector of the department of agriculture, Ottawa, said Wednesday that Canada's canned food industry has grown from a value of $20,000,000 in 1918 to $270,000,000,000.

Mr. Perry, one of the speakers at the one-day convention of Essex and Kent county vegetable growers, said 64,000 spot checks of canned goods were made in 1953, including checks on imported products. About $200,000 worth of olives now were tied up for inspection.

POISED FOR FLIGHT TO FUTURE—On the runway at the Air Force Flight Test Center at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., is a collection of the latest U.S. experimental aircraft. The needle-nosed plane in the center is the Douglas X-3. Clockwise from left are the Bell X-1A, which has flown more than 1600 mph; the Navy's jet-powered Douglas D-588; the Convair XF-92, built to test the delta wing configuration; the Bell X-5; the Navy's rocket-powered Douglas D-588, which holds the record of flying higher than any other piloted aircraft; and the twin-engine Northrop X-4.

Combined Red Air Force Totals Over 6,500 Planes

Editor's Note: In this second of three exclusive interviews, Gen. O. P. Weyland, United States air chief in Korea, assesses Communist strength.

By ROBERT EUNSON

TOKYO (AP) — The combined Communist air force in the Far East—Russian, Chinese and North Korean—totals more than 6,500 planes, says Gen. O. P. Weyland, commander of the U. S. Far East Air Forces.

In an interview, he put Chinese and North Korean strength at 2,000 combat planes, and said the Russians have at least 4,500 more based near Vladivostok, on Sakhalin and in the Kurile islands.

"A preponderant number of these Soviet planes are fighters," Weyland went on, "But recently the Russians have converted many of their light bomber units to jets with the capability of reaching anywhere in Japan.

"They have enough of these bombers to constitute a good wallop, especially if they are carrying the atomic weapon.

"The Russians have converted about 85 per cent of their fighters to jets. These are fighter interceptors, primarily to guard their bases from attack.

IMPROVED PLANES

"Likewise they have improved their bombers. They are replacing their old medium bombers, the TU-2, with an IL-28, which is something like our B-49. It is a fast jet with the capability of reaching anywhere in Japan or Korea.

"The Communist air force has not increased in numbers in the last year or two so much as it has improved its planes."

Weyland said the air fields around Vladivostok make up "the largest complex of bases in the world."

In addition to the jet bombers, Weyland said the Russians have "an impressive number" of TU-4s, which were copied from one of three B-29s that made forced landings on Russian soil during the Second World War and were never returned.

"That amoutn of aircraft constitutes a definite threat in the Far East," Weyland said, "but all we can do is sit and wait and watch."

When the Korean war started, the North Korean Air Force had 150 obsolete Russian planes, Weyland said. Entry of the Chinese into the war brought the MiG-15, the Russian jet fighter interceptor. The first MiG was shot down Nov. 1, 1950. For a time this new Russian jet caused considerable worry among U. S. pilots.

ARRIVAL OF SABRES

A month later, however, Sabres began arriving in Korea and in the first week of combat the F-86s shot down seven MiGs and damaged two with the loss of only one Sabre.

This running fight between the Sabres and the MiGs went on for 2½ years. The Sabre came out on top of its Russian rival nearly 14 to one—58 Sabres were lost in air combat to 802 MiGs.

One question often heard during the Korean war was: Why not bring out the B-36s and six-jet B-47 bombers: Says Weyland:

"The answer is the B-29 was plenty of airplane for Korea, so long as our range was limited to the Yalu river on the Manchurian border. The B-36 has great range, but it wasn't needed since our B-29s reached all North Korean targets from Okinawa and Japan with lots of fuel left.

"The B-47 is primarily an atom-bomb carrier, and so fast that it can outrun some types of jet fighters—those of the enemy and our own. But like the B-36 it wasn't needed."

Salvage RCAF Plane Off Riviera

FINALE LIGURE, Italy (CP)—The Italian Navy Wednesday night salvaged an RCAF Beech craft transport plane which crash-landed earlier Wednesday 150 yards off the Italian Riviera coast with five airmen aboard.

The plane was in only a few feet of water and was hauled ashore without difficulty and housed in a shed pending investigation.

None of the five airmen—four Canadians and a Frenchman—was injured.

The five escaped in emergency rubber boats and were picked up by a fishing boat before they could paddle ashore.

THOSE ON PLANE

Pilot of the plane was FO. Ralph Hamilton Annis, 23, of McAdam, N.B. The other Canadians were identified as William John Buzza, 32, Harold Curtis Robinson, 30, and Stanley Gordon Tilley, 25. Their ranks or hometowns were not disclosed.

Col. A. C. Cherrier, Canadian military attache at Rome, said the plane was en route from Gibraltar to its base in France when a faulty radio sent it off course and it crash-landed when its fuel ran out.

RICH MINES

Diamonds worth an estimated £12,000,000 have been taken from Brazilian diamond fields since 1727.

LISTENING POST—Patrolman Raymond Beardsworth of the Bridgeport, Conn., police department receives instructions from headquarters via this newly developed radio receiver. It is called the "cigarette pack" radio and was developed by Clifford F. Fraser, police communications supervisor. The receiver is operated by subminiature tubes from low battery current and reception is good up to 40 miles away from the transmitter. It is not designed for two-way transmission.

Weigh Aga Khan In Platinum

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP)—Fifty thousand Ismaili Moslems celebrated the 70th anniversary of the Aga Khan's accession to leadership of their sect Wednesday by symbolically weighing their portly leader in platinum.

The 215-pound, 77-year-old Aga Khan, who claims 20,000,000 followers throughout the world, sat on a wide-armed, throne-like chair on a scale of balances while officials dropped pieces of platinum—at the rate of one ounce for every 14 pounds he weighs—into the small side balance.

Members of the sect matched the worth of the precious metal with contributions. The Aga Khan will donate the money to welfare work among his people.

Followers of the Ismaili leader contributed nearly 3,000,000 rupees ($800,000) to the jubilee fund but the Aga Khan asked that none of the money be spent for platinum. Tiny bits of the metal in the form of Arabic letters spelling out the Ismaili chief's descent from the prophet Mohammed, which had been donated by Ismaili in France were used instead.

Railways Ask Help On Warning Signals

OTTAWA (CP)—The two major railways Wednesday suggested highway departments should have to bear a greater share of the cost of safety installations at grade crossings.

They advanced this view in separate submissions as the board of transport commissioners opened the final series of hearings in a long inquiry into the crossing problem. The inquiry was ordered by the federal government in 1952.

The companies argued that enlargement of highway traffic is responsible for much of the need for additional safety facilities, and highway departments should be responsible for costs to the extent that traffic flow on the roads causes them.

Suffrage Anniversary

OSLO (CP)—The National Council of Norwegian Women, which has played a leading role in emancipation of Norwegian women, recently marked its 50th anniversary. Wreaths were laid on the graves of five former council presidents.

Norwood School Shows Credit Of $7,760.14

HAVELOCK (ENS)—The financial statement for 1953 was presented at a meeting of the Norwood district high school board, Monday night.

The report showed a credit balance at the end of the year of $7,760.14, more than double the amount on hand at the end of the previous year. Recepits amounted to $188,199.95. Main items were: provincial grants, which included the capital grant, $65,560. 72; county grant for agriculture $500; temporary loans $63,000.00, fees for night classes $231.00; Douro pupils $415.45.

The district taxation amounted to $50,086.80 and was divided among the municipalities in the area as follows: Asphodel, $14,-073.99; Belmont and Methuen, $8,735; Dummer, $4,240.77; Otonabee, $6,340; Percy, $16,000; Norwood, $5,477.84; Havelock, $5,470; Hastings, $4,150. Receipts from the cafeteria were $1,310.37.

Expenditures for current operations amounted to $53,137.82 and included cost of instruction, $35,-664.09; instructional supplies, $2,-634.97; administration, $1,992.08; plant operation, $11,448.22; plant maintenance, $562.79; auxiliary services, $835.67. Cost of transportation was $28,267.50. Tuition fees paid to other schools totalled $2,189.88. Capital outlays cost $1,209.09 for equipment and $2,-974.61 for levelling and seeding. Other expenditures were; night class teacher $270, distribution of capital grants, $20,756.56; repayment of loans, $8,000 for 1952 and $63,000 for 1953, interest on loans $634.35.

The auditor stated he was pleased learn the board intends to retain the capital grants to use for current expenses. The practice of distributing them among the various municipalities has been the most confusing portion of the accounting system during previous years, he said.

Trustee B. Haryett, presented the 1954 estimate for maintenance cost as $106,600 made up as follows: teachers, $34,000; supplies, $3,000; agriculture department, $2,500; transportation, $31,000; maintenance, $2,500; operation, $16,000; fees to other boards, $3,000; auxiliary fees, $2,200; capital, $4,000; miscellaneous, $8,-400. The expected grants totalled $81,147 and the levy on the municipalities in the district was estimated at $25,000 compared with a levy of $50,000 for 1953.

Since the school was established the department gave a grant of $20,756.56 to the board on the debentures. This amount was turned over to the municipalities within the district to apply on the debenture yearly payment, levied by the county. This year this grant will be used b the board to apply on the maintenance cost of the school. This with the expected increase in grants enabled the board to reduce the maintenance levy to $25,000 compared with the 1953 levy of $50,000.

A delegation comprising R. M. Freeman, guidance teacher and J. Hamblin, bandmaster, addressed the bord requesting permission to use a school room for band practice. There are 10 members of the band who are high school students. Mr. Freeman said it was along educational lines and thought a high school band would develop. The board granted their request.

A letter was read from the provincial attendance officer informing the board that a school attendance officer would have to be appointed with jurisdiction over the high school students.

It was decided to appoint Golden Andrews as high school attendance officer at a salary of $75 per year, plus the approved mileage of seven cents per mile. He will report monthly to the board. In the event that Mr. Andrews does not accept the appointment, the management committee were authorized to appoint a suitable attendance officer at the same rate.

SHEEP ON THE LAM—"Where did ewe find that animal?" a disbelieving desk officer asks Patrolman Al Amundson at the 100th Precinct at Rockaway, Long Island. "I am not trying to pull the wool over your eyes," Amundson replied sheepishly. "but I lassoed it with a skipping rope borrowed from a school girl." Police were called to hunt for the ewe when residents of the district complained of hearing sheep-like noises. The other men at the station couldn't refrain from snickering when the animal was brought in and turned over to the SPCA.

Young Members Assist WMS At St. Paul's Tea

As always, a most delightful hour was spent by the ladies who attended the annual Expense Fund Tea of the St. Paul's Auxiliary WMS, held on Wednesday afternoon.

Friendliness characterizes this particular tea which is held to make money for the expenses of the organization in carrying on its usual missionary work in Canada and on foreign fields. This enables the givings of members each month to be devoted entirely to the welfare work.

Young people of the church who are in the auxiliary groups that will some day provide the WMS with new members were helping on this occasion.

Mission Band girls had a table at which they were selling very attractive braided leather bracelets, earrings, necklaces and belts, and their profits, amounting to nearly $15, are to be turned over to the WMS. The girls in attendance were Janet Northey, Maureen Macdonald, Mary Lou Basson, Patty Taylor, Mary Hughes, Lucy Steedman and Elizabeth and Catherine Toole. They were assisted by Mrs. Russell Huggins and Mrs. W. R. Hughes.

Candy, bibs and stuffed toys were offered for sale by Mrs. H. D. Ward and Mrs. Clarence Porter, acting for the Explorers' Group. CGIT girls, who are under leadership of Mrs. Alexander Fleming, came to help with the serving after school.

Red hearts and candles on the white linen covered tea table drew guests' attention to the Valentine season. This attractive arrangement was done by convener, Mrs. Robert Abbott.

Pouring tea were Mrs. W. A. Burrell, Mrs. D. W. Clark, Mrs. E. H. Howson and Mrs. S. Dickson Hall, and the servers were Mrs. Walter Perks, Mrs. Dickson Davidson, Mrs. Fred Hills, Mrs. D. T. Diplock, Mrs. C. A. Sollitt, Miss Helen Munro, Miss Annie Little and Miss Mary Lees.

A table of home baking, which did a splendid business, was in charge of Mrs. Victor Tully, Mrs. W. J. Hancock, Mrs. O. M. Steer, Mrs. T. J. Carley and Mrs. W. A. Cochrane.

President Mrs. Hubert Eastwood greeted the guests at the door, assisted by Mrs. J. J. Craig and Mrs. C. G. Boyd, in turn. Mrs. W. A. Hinds and Miss Margaret Lees accepted the donations.

SARONG TYPE—From California comes this pheasant feather print swim suit. This is a hand-print, one-piece suit with half skirt. Pattern is planned to create a sarong effect.

Has No Arms But Toes Do Work Efficiently

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (CP) Raymond Sageloly was born without arms, and crippled by polio at four. But today, at 23, he runs a successful business in the specialized field of radio repairs, thanks to the co-operation of interested citizens.

Dexterity with his feet is the answer. Using his toes as other people do their fingers, he can take a radio apart, disentangle its myriad wires and do a neat job of soldering.

He writes all his own letters with a pen, uses a dial telephone, plays piano and guitar and cooks his own meals when necessary. He lives in an apartment with his parents. His father is employed at the Algoma Steel Company.

CITIZENS HELPED

Raymond's career took a new turn after an article about him in the Sault Daily Star last autumn, which was carried by The Canadian Press, led members of service clubs to organize a campaign. A trust fund was established and a well-equipped workshop was built near his home.

The radio workshop was what Raymond wanted. He had had three years in high school and now has taken courses in engineering, specializing in radio and television.

When he was born at Blind River, Ont., Sageloly's parents despaired of him ever walking. After he was struck by polio, he was bedridden for eight years, until he was 12.

His dexterity with his feet was built up by long practice. At 10 years of age he amazed his family by winning a prize for making a model airplane out of match sticks.

Now he can tackle the most complicated jobs—and he gets plenty of business.

3 Local Rinks Competing At Seigniory Club, PQ

One hundred and fifty-two women curlers from many parts of Eastern Canada and United States will join forces at the Seigniory Club this week end (February 4-7) to take part in the 23rd annual competition for the Sewell Trophy. Three Peterborough rinks are in the competition, skipped by Mrs. Harry Dulmage, Mrs. C. Westbrook and Mrs. Jack Lanning.

First round of the 'spiel opened this morning at 9 o'clock with play continuing throughout Friday and Saturday and semi finals scheduled for Sunday. Each of the 38 rinks will play three ten end games after which the four teams with highest margin of score in three victories will play to a finalist for the trophy; consolation games will also take place with prizes awarded all winners.

In the twenty-two years since the late W. B. Sewell (an American whose country house was at the Seigniory Club) presented it for annual competition, the handsome silver curling stone has carried the names of thirteen victorious Toronto Granite rinks and this despite the fact that Toronto players are accustomed to the larger, lighter weight granites instead of the small irons which, until this year, have been used for women's competitions in Quebec province. This year the Sewell bonspiel, as well as all others scheduled for the Seigniory Club, will be granite competitions as the majority of curlers in Canada and the U.S. play with these stones instead of the smaller irons. Montreal curlers have won the Sewell trophy on six occasions during the years of play, Ottawa took it once with Lachute and Toronto High Park each one-time victors.

Last year at the 22nd annual competition, Mrs. L. E. Woolley, one of Canada's most experienced and skilful exponents of the game, guided her Toronto Granite rink to victory for the eighth time. She defeated Mrs. C. Chapman's Montebello entry in an extra and after the 10 end match had tied 8 all. Mrs. Chapman's rink, incidentally, has been a runner-up on four occasions.

There is rich measure of interest and entertainment, even from a spectator's point of view, in either an all-feminine curling event, or at any one of the Seigniory Club's all-masculine competitions or mixed curling events that enliven the winter months here. Women have invaded the sporting world and they have also introduced a serious interest in curling that has set the opposite sex to studying the finer points carefully in order to keep up with them.

The game of curling in Montreal and surrounding districts has been co-educational, so to speak, ever since the day in the early 1890's when Lady Meredith, then Miss Brenda Allan, put up the first iron at the Montreal Thistle rink. Later, special irons of lighter weight than men's were made for Montreal women players and they formed their club at the Montreal rink (Royal Montreal) in 1894. Mrs. E. A. Whitehead, first president of Royal Montreal Curling Club, was actually the founder of women's curling activities in Montreal. Other districts soon followed suit.

TALENTED NATIVE

Ephraim Amu, then 52, was the first African native appointed an examiner at London's Royal Music College.

Council Meets

After enjoying supper, Members' Council of the YWCA adjourned to the new club room for their meeting Wednesday evening. Miss Annie Williams was in the chair.

Opening devotional was in charge of Miss Jean Hammond who read "The Legend of St. Valentine" and a scripture selection.

Miss Jean McIntyre reported on the very successful "Bailey Bridge" and announced the council is now able to send a delegate to the regional conference in Kitchener this month, at which Miss Hazel Wilson is to be a discussion leader. The "Spring Hat Tea" will be held on March 13th. It will again be an all-association project to raise funds for the World Service allocation.

Nurse Is Speaker

The Baby Band Mothers of Mark St. United church met Wednesday evening in the ladies' parlor. President Mrs. H. Hamley welcomed two new members and conducted the business period. The program was in charge of Mrs. D. Simpson and her group. Mrs. N. D. Patterson sang a solo, "Sunshine and Shadow," accompanied by Mrs. E. DeNure. The speaker was Miss Marjorie Snook, who is at present a nurse at St. Joseph's hospital. She spoke on her work with the Salvation Army in the Maritimes. Lunch was served by Mrs. K. Shuran, Mrs. E. Downing, Mrs. R. Johnston, Mrs. J. Nicol, Mrs. D. Dorsett, Mrs. D. Miller and Mrs. D. Simpson.

Visit Beauty Salon

As part of a well-balanced program of activities, the Girls' Auxiliary of St. John's church met Wednesday evening at Lillian's Beauty Salon on Hunter Street for instruction on good grooming. Miss Weiss explained the latest in hair cosmetics, emphasizing the various skin problems and the treatment of the hair. Importance of a well-shaped cut which can be combed in several ways, stressing the time-saving angle, as well as style, was also emphasized. Hair styling was demonstrated on Rosemary Deyell and Carol Williams and Bonna Farthing and June Valois received corrective cuts. The girls who won lucky draw prizes were Anne Merrett, Sherry Hope and Barbara Sullivan. A cup and saucer were presented to Miss Weiss by president Sherry Hope on behalf of the girls, to show their appreciation of the time and effort spent in their behalf.

Mary T. Lynch Weds Navy Man

The wedding of a Peterborough girl, Mary Teresa Lynch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John I. Lynch, of 147 Montgomery St., to James R. Schwalback Jr., of the United States Navy, took place last Saturday morning in the Church of St. Barnabas the Apostle, Baltimore, Long Island. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father McGee.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was wearing a pale blue wool suit trimmed with pearls and rhinestones and white accessories and she carried white gladiolas with a centre white orchid. Mrs. Eugene Markham of Valley Stream, L.I., was her attendant. She wore a pale pink wool suit with navy accessories and carried pink gladiolas and rosebuds.

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Schwalback, was attended by his brother William Schwalback.

The reception was held at the home of the groom's parents at 57 Croydon Drive, Bellmore, L.I., where the bride is going to live during the time the groom is on his ship, USS Baltimore, now in port in Boston.

The bride's mother received in a navy sheer gown, wearing navy accessories and a corsage of red roses. The groom's mother was wearing brown sheer with pink accessories and pink roses.

The couple left for a short honeymoon motor trip.

HAVELOCK

HAVELOCK (ENS) — The Havelock Home and School Association presented a special program at their meeting Monday evening in celebration of Founder's Day.

A special feature was an acrostic, using the letters in "Founder's Day". Each of the members taking part gave the meaning of her letter in regard to the work of the Home and School Association.

Mrs. Howard read the introduction to the acrostic and a portion at its close. Those taking part were Mrs. G. Kennedy, Mrs. R. Sayers, Mrs. W. Nobes Jr., Mrs. W. Nobes Sr., Miss E. Clark, Miss Ames, Mrs. F. Chase, Mrs. J. Calnan, Mrs. L. Parnall, Mrs. T. Watson and Mrs. D. MacLean.

The program period was opened by community singing, led by Mrs. D. Kirk, with Mrs. G. Kennedy at the piano. Mrs. F. Chase was soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Kirk.

The health convener, Mrs. W. Nobes Sr. took as her topic "Good Posture" and also briefly outlined the talk on cancer given by Mrs. Maurice Holt, president of the Peterborough Cancer Society, at the Women's Institute in the afternoon.

Mrs. D. Kirk introduced Mrs. C. V. Coon of Lakefield, district representative of the Home and School Association, who spoke on mental health. She also showed lantern slides on a home and school meeting, showing the proper way to conduct it and dealing with all aspects of the association's work.

The attendance shield and prize of $5 was won by Mrs. E. Clarke's room.

Refreshments were served by the lunch committee.

Maj. Bennett IODE Holds Dinner Meeting

The annual dinner meeting of the Major Bennet Chapter IODE took place Tuesday evening in the Green Room at the YWCA, with Mrs. Donald Murray presiding. Special guests at the head table were honorary regent, Mrs. W. G. Hall, honorary vice-regent, Mrs. R. E. Clarke; and Municipal Chapter regent, Miss Mary Medd.

Miss Betty Castle and her committee arranged the delicious dinner. The tables were decorated with red and white candles and a beautiful floral centrepiece on the head table.

The chapter was favored with four after dinner piano selections by Miss Betty Evans, daughter of a chapter member, Mrs. John Evans. She chose Mendelsohn's Song Without Words, Rigadoon by McDowell, Chopin's Waltz in B Minor, Prelude and Fugue by Bach.

The chapter appointed Mrs. C. M. Scott as national representative and Mrs. W. G. Hall as provincial representative.

Mrs. Stanley McBride reported plans for the Valentine Ball are going well, with a few tickets still available.

Mrs. Thomas Gaskell, services at home and abroad convener, asked for clothing for six needy children of a local family. A sewing meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Robert Gibbons, 83 James Street on Tuesday, February 23rd.

The annual business meeting took place with each convener presenting her annual report.

Honorary regent, Mrs. Hall took the chair to install the 1954 executive, congratuating the Chapter on the quality and volume of their work, and paying special tribute to Mrs. Murray for her outstanding leadership in the past two years.

The new slate of officers is as follows: honorary regent, Mrs. W. G. Hall; honorary vice regent, Mrs. R. E. Clarke; past regent, Mrs. Donald Murray; regent, Mrs. Ralph Clark; 1st vice regent, Mrs. Evart Malcom; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. John Evans; secretary, Mrs. Reg Reid; assist. secretary, Mrs. Douglas Hill; treasurer, Mrs. Kenneth Gibson; educational secretary, Mrs. Donald Clarke; echoes secretary, Mrs. Jock Raine; standard bearer, Miss Betty Castle.

Conveners are: Services at Home and Abroad, Mrs. Sidney Constable; assistants on boxes, Mrs. Wm. Agges and Mrs. S. Sage; sewing, Mrs. F. Parsons; knitting, Mrs. C. Dobbin; publicity, Mrs. Robt. Gibbons; film convener, Mrs. Donald Craig; Empire and world affairs, Mrs. Hudson Hall; membership, Mrs. W. Laird; Canadianization and immigration, Mrs. Russell Huggins; commonwealth and Empire, Miss Joyce Alexander; Empire correspondence, Mrs. Robt. Clarke; hospitality, Mrs. O. Price; assistants, Mrs. L. Dyer, Mrs. A. Thompson, Mrs. Stan McBride, Mrs. S. Gledhill, Mrs. D. McIntyre; councillors, Mrs. W. McDougall, Mrs. M. Banks, Mrs. A. Metcalfe, Mrs. H. Rennie, Mrs. H. James, Mrs. R. Garner, Mrs. R. Seabrooke, Mrs. Bruce Payne, Mrs. G. Moher.

Chapter representatives: Mrs. S. Lockington, Mrs. J. Twigg.

Incoming regent, Mrs. Ralph Clark took the chair for remainder of the business and closed the meeting.

THE FIRST GROUP OF LEADERS trained at Peterborough YWCA are now equipped with uniforms and on Wednesday afternoon were presented with crests. Six girls who successfully completed the course of training now act as assistants to gym director Miss Beatris Pelsis. Pictured are four of the girls (left to right), Heather MacDonald, Donna Mann, Jean Hunter and Elizabeth Pollock receiving her crest from YW board president Mrs. H. T. Rehill. Miss Pelsis is standing at left, behind them, with Mrs. C. G. Collins, chairman of the health education department. The leaders not present for the picture are Carol Guppy and Carol Fallis. —(Examiner Staff Photo)

ST. ANNE'S SCHOOL

St. Anne's Parent-Teacher Association met on Monday evening. Members were first favoured with two selections by an outstanding boy soloist, Roy Bacon.

Guest speaker was Rev. F. Mihelic, who introduced his speech by an interesting narration of experiences in Austria and of his narrow escape from the Communists. Father Mihelic stressed that it is important that children know the answers to their Catechism, "but the answers are of no avail unless they are applied" he said. "The parents good example is essential in helping the child use the knowledge he is given."

A vote of thanks was extended by Miss M. Maloney for the interesting and thought provoking talk.

Attendance prizes were won by Miss Sheehy's room, Grade 1B, and Mrs. Moore's room, Grades 2 and 3.

Lunch was served by Mrs. J. Smith. Servers were Mrs. N. Stover, Mrs. C. McNichol and Mrs. L. Downs.

Mrs. Thos. Chaplin New Regent Lakefield Chapter

A dinner meeting was held at Lakefield Hotel Monday evening by the Catherine Parr Traill Chapter I.O.D.E. Twenty members and one guest were present.

Table decorations were carried out in Valentine colors, the table centred with red carnations in a crystal bowl and crystal candle holders held white candles trimmed with red and silver. Each guest received a miniature nosegay of red flowers. Conveners were Mrs. Huddart and Mrs. G. Winder Smith and decorating was by Mrs. Price Morris and Mrs. William O'Brien.

Business of the regular and annual meeting was conducted with Regent Mrs. J. A. Arnott in charge.

Two new members were welcomed, Mrs. Price Morris and Mrs. Alfred Gariepy and each was presented with a corsage and Mrs. Arnott explained the badge and presented one to each, also the constitution of the Order.

Mrs. J. Kerchar moved a vote of thanks to Mrs. E. Orr for the splendid work she is doing in sending cards to shut-ins and bereaved families.

The slate of officers for 1954 is: Honorary regent—Miss Florence Atwood (whose grandmother the chapter is named in honor of); regent — Mrs. Thomas Chaplin; secretary—Mrs. Earl Orr; treasurer—Mrs. J. McKerchar 1st vice-regent, Mrs. G. Winder-Smith, 2nd vice-regent — Mrs. J. Huddart; educational secretary — Mrs. G. Renwick; Echoes secretary—Mrs. S. Henderson; standard bearer—Mrs. Donald Hendren.

Mrs. G. Winder-Smith was appointed to buy valentine treats for the residents at the county home.

At portrait of the Queen was on display, this to be presented to Lakefield Memorial Hall. The chapter has presented a portrait of the Queen to each room in the high school and the Lakefield library.

Bridge followed the meeting.

DOROTHY DIX

Girl Fears Mother-In-Law Interference

DEAR MISS DIX: I am to become engaged soon. Chester and I are fixing up the second floor of his mother's home, where we will live until we have our own house. He is satisfied with the idea; I am not. I like his mother, but I am not optimistic about what might happen between us in the future. I am also bothered because Chester takes his mother along when he goes to buy something for our home. I'm not even asked if I like what they buy. This has been going on about a month and I think it's time it stopped. HOPE.

DISCUSS MATTERS NOW

ANSWER: Any difficulties that come up now between you and Chester should be settled as thoroughly as possible before you marry. If you are going to object to your living quarters, discuss the pros and cons before summer—not after. It does seem to me that you're getting ahead of yourself in the home - planning department. Since you aren't even engaged yet, you have lots of time to work out the housing problem, the purchasing difficulties and all the other matters incident to marriage.

In one respect you're wrong, Hope. Since you like Chester's mother now, why borrow trouble by assuming that you might dislike her later? If you want to establish a good relationship with her—and I'm sure you do if you love Chester—anticipate the best possibility, not the worst. Chester should definitely consider your wishes in selecting furniture, but he may have reasons for askikng his mother's advice. Find out what they are. Perhaps you're very young and he doesn't entirely trust your judgment. In that case, remind him that he evidently looks upon you as being old enough to marry, and therefore you should be able to select your own household goods. Perhaps he's been so accustomed to his mother's advice that he can't get used to the idea of having any other opinion. By proving that you, too, have good judgment, he will have increased confidence in you. Whatever happens, don't adopt an antagonistic attituude toward his mother. If you find there are too many irreconcilable factors involved in your future marriage, weigh them carefully. The problems you face now can make or mar your future.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 19 and very fond of Tom, who is 21. My father forbids me to go out with him, however, because his nationality is not the same as ours. Dad is emphatic on this point; he won't permit me to go with anyone of a different national background. I'm sure he'd likke Tom if he met the boy in our home. JEAN.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Stubborn parents are difficult to change, Jean, and your father is a victim of the most pernicious stubbornness — intolerance of any nationality but his own. Look up some famous people from Tom's native land and point them out to your father. Perhaps he'll wake up to the fact that persons should be judged on their own merits.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: We have a 6-month-old child and my father in-law has never seen him. My husband's stepmother has been the cause of friction between him and his father. The father never cared for me, but, in spite of that, I dislike seeing my husband hurt by his father's indifference. My father-in-law is a good man at heart, but "stops talking" over the slightest difference of opinion.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: The only way this misunderstanding will ever be cleared up is for one party or the other to pocket considerable pride and make the first move. Since your father-in-law is older, and has had that many more years to get set in his obstinacy, it's up to your husband to carry the banner of peace. It will doubtless be received with cheers.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Canapes, Hors d'Oeuvres Dainty Trifles For Guests

My desk looks just about as cluttered as it did before Christmas. The lifeblood of a daily column is the amount of mail its creator receives, so I should not breathe a word of complaint and I am not, but to get a word in edgewise between answers-to-readers columns, this week I have to put on my blinders, say what I want to say, then take off the blinders and buckle down to answering you.

There are requests that range from how to brine a new-slaughtered pig to what kind of a stone to buy for an engagement ring in the Yukon!

Before Christmas I wanted to give you some perfectly slick ideas for canapes and hors d'oeuvres but the presssure for other and more traditional recipes crowded out my idea. Now I'm going to give them to you or bust in the attempt.

Hostesses! look alive here, and clip these, for I seldom come up with dainty little trifles like this.

CANAPE SPREADS

1) CHICKEN LIVER PASTE: Buy ½ lb. chicken livers, wash them and trim off any of the little green bile stain. Add ¾ cup hot water to them and simmer covered for 15 minutes. Meanwhile saute one tablespoon chopped onion in two tablespoons butter gently, for two minutes. Do not brown the onion.

Drain chicken livers and pat them dry and put through finest knife of food chopper with the onion, being sure that all of the onion and liver is forced through by following them with ½ slice of dry bread, but don't let bread get into ground liver. Add ½ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper and ⅛ teaspoon MSG or Accent. Mash and stir this until it is a smooth paste.

If necessary, put it through the grinder again to make it very smooth. If desired, you may use chicken fat instead of butter for sauteing the onions. Chill until as firm as butter before spreading on canapes.

2) CHOPPED CLAM AND CHEESE SPREAD: Drain the clams from the liquid from one one-pound can whole or minced clams. Place on chopping board and chop very finely with long sharp knife. To them add TWO oz. of white cream cheese (½ of a four-ounce, package), and two tablespoons sour cream (if you have no sour cream use sweet cream). Now mash and mix until you have a smooth paste. Season with salt and pepper. Chill this too before spreading.

3) ROQUEFORT AND CREAM CHEESE SPREAD: Use what you think would be ½ cup Roquefort or other blue cheese and to it add about 1-3 cup white cream cheese. If you have an electric beater mix them to a smooth paste in it, or mash it to a smooth paste. Add one tablespoon each Worcestershire sauce and dry mustard and two tablespoons mayonnaise or soft butter, and mash some more until smooth and mixed. This is good for canapes but it is even better for stuffing for celery. Put it in your pastry tube and pipe it attractively in short stalks of celery. If you do not have a piping tube use this as a dip for little, perfectly white, cauliflowerets.

4) SALMON SPREAD FOR SHRIMP CANAPE: Mash finely or put through fine knife of grinder One four-ounce can red salmon well drained. Work into it 1½ tablespoons mayonnaise and one teaspoon lemon juice. Use this as a spread on round canape bases. Top each with one whole large shrip or top with small slice cucumber, spread it with a bit of mayonnaise and top that with small whole shrimp.

TOAST BASES FOR CANAPES

Trim crusts from fine-textured white bread and slice it very thin —about 3-16 inch. Cut into fancy shapes with canape cutters, oblongs, stars, rounds, etc. Saute these on one side, to toast them, in a little butter. Be sure not to soak them in butter. Dry and cool on wax paper.

When ready to serve, spread untoasted side with one of the above spreads. Be sure to garnish the canapes daintily with tiny sprigs of parsley, slices of stuffed olive, strips of pimiento, finely chopped ripe olives.

6—In Memoriam

BURNS—In loving memory of our dear Dad, Thomas Edward Burns, who passed away Feb. 4, 1948.

We lost a Dad with a heart of gold
Who was more to us than wealth untold,
Without farewell he fell asleep,
With only memories for us to keep.
We have lost, but God has gained,
One of the best Dads the world contained.

—Always remembered by daughter and son-in-law Madeline and Gerald Everson.

HADLOW—In memory of my son, Signal William Hadlow who gave his life for his country 8 years ago. Plot 193 C Massryues Cemetery Extension Marseilles, France.

They saw with brighter vision
The Empire through the years
They went with songs and laughter
We leave them there with tears
A helping hand to all he knew
He was so kind and generous and true
On earth he nobly did his best
Grant him, Jesus, heavenly rest.

—Mrs. William Emery, his mother, Hastings.

3 Mills Close Union Asks Aid

MONTREAL (CP) — New demands for federal aid to the textile industry have been made by representatives of a textile union, hit by the closing of three mills.

The demands came from the 20-member Canadian Cottons council of the Textile Workers Union of America (CIO-CCL). The council represents 3,600 workers in mills of the Canadian Cottons Company which recently closed mills in Cornwall, and Marysville, N.B.

The council met here to discuss the closures and described the company's action as "the prelude to a major crisis for the nation's textile workers who even now are embracing the gloom of depression.

Closing of the mills left more than 1,000 workers unemployed, the council said. More than 20,000 of the country's textile workers now were totally unemployed while the remaining 85,000 were "mainly existing on the subsistance earnings derived from a two- to four-day work week."

Drug Addict Jailed

CORNWALL (CP)—Adrian Vermette, 34, of British Columbia, was sentenced Wednesday to five years in Kingston Penitentiary for illegal possession of narcotics. He was also fined $200 or an additional two months. He pleaded guilty and asked magistrate P.C. Bergeron for a long sentence in the hope he would be cured of the narcotics habit while in prison.

Court Refuses To Accept Driver's Excuse

The long arm of the law eventually catches up with you, even if you are only a witness to an accident. This, at least, was the experience of Ralph Louts who was called to testify for the Crown in a case against 16-year-old John Paul Sparrow, schoolboy of 293 Dalhousie St., who was charged with dangerous driving.

When Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw, Q.C., asked the witness, Louts, if he had seen Sparrow get out of his car after the accident, Louts replied: "No, I got out of there as quick as I could so that I wouldn't have to be a witness in court".

However, later police had discovered he had seen the accident involving Sparrow's car and another driven by Roland Blackburn, and he had been called as a witness.

"Never mind, you may be glad you did", commented Magistrate W. R. Philp, Q.C. "You never know, one day you might be involved in an accident and want some witnesses".

OWN DEFENCE

John Sparrow, who conducted his own defence, said he was driver of a car which had collided with the Blackburn behicle in Monaghan Rd. aboutu 2:10 on the morning of December 30. The Blackburn car had been double-parked outside the C.G.E. gates. However, slippery conditions had prevented him from pulling over onto the other side of the road and the collision had been unavoidable.

Evidence supplied by Crown witnesses convinced the magistrate that Sparrow had had every opportunity to realise the dangerous surface of the road and that he did not take sufficient precautions which could have prevented the accident.

The magistrate admitted that the Blackburn car had no right to be double-parked in the road, but there had been sufficient room, nevertheless, for another car to pass.

Mr. Bradshaw: "It's just one of those cases where we're letting these young people drive too soon. They are all right until they meet with an emergency. I suggest that Sparrow just got flustered."

Sparrow: "I did not get flustered. I did all in my power to avoid the accident. I think it was due to the condition of the road, and the position of Blackburn's car."

Magistrate Philp: "The situation of the other car might be important in a civil action, but it is of lesser importance in this charge. Your defence is that the slippery road prevented you from manoeuvring your car, but you should have realised soon enough to allow for that. You say you saw the car when still quite a way off".

Sparrow was fined $10, costs $15.75.

Changing Tire Struck By Truck

BROCKVILLE (CP) — Michael Czupris, 43, of Algonquin, Ont., and Julian Pokora, 9, of Spencerville, Ont., preparing to change a tire on fog-cloaked No. 2 highway early today, narrowly escaped death when a big highway transport plowed into the rear of their parked half-ton truck.

Czupris is in hospital here suffering from a possible fractured skull, concussion and undetermined injuries and Pokora is suffering from shock. The truck was knocked 68 feet into the ditch.

Bob Smith of Brantford, driver of the transport, also suffered from shock when the big truck smashed into a tree. Damage was estimated at $4,200.

Civil Defence Cost Levied For Sudbury

SUDBURY (CP) — Municipalities in the Sudbury district will be charged 8.5 per capita for civil defence in 1954, the Sudbury and district civil committee decided at their inaugural meeting.

The rate, a reduction of a half-cent from last year, was made possible by a balance of $1,537 carried forward from the previous year. The charge for civil defence in 1952 was 10.5 cents and 6 cents for the six months of operation in 1951.

The committee decided it will not approve municipal financing of civil defence beyond 1954 without federal or provincial help.

Power Authority Sure Digging By Summer

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—The state power authority Wednesday voiced confidence that it would be able to start digging on the St. Lawrence river hydro-electric project by summer.

In its annual report to the governor and the legislature, the authority said it had scored "a belated triumph, but a real one" in gaining a federal licence to join the Ontario hydro-electric power commission in the proposed power development.

Noting that opponents of the project still could fight the federal licence in the United States Supreme Court, the authority said:

"We are confident their claims are groundless and we shall be able by next summer to proceed with actual construction."

It added that "a good welcome in the money market" was expected for a bond issue of $316,000,000 proposed to finance the project on the International rapids section of the river.

The money would be repaid in 50 years with revenues from the sale of power. The state's credit would not be used to guarantee the bonds.

The authority said the construction job would "have great economic and social impact on our northern frontier." It promised to report "within a few weeks" on plans to handle the problem, largely "by private enterprise."

The power development would produce an estimated 6,000,000,000 kilowatt hours of electricity for United States consumers.

Seek Two Men Swindling Breeders

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Search for two men who posed as government auditors to swindle a Moore township cattle breeder of $570, widened over western Ontario today with police admitting the possibility of additional victims.

Provincial police of Port Lambton and Sarnia came to London provincial police headquarters to check the files of known swindlers.

The men, who are believed members of a London and Tillsonburg gang, tricked Ernest Baxter, who lives near Sombra, into signing two checks.

Injured In Crash Man 25, Dies

LEAMINGTON (CP) — Carl Campbell, 25, of Leamington, who was injured in a plane crash on Pelee island Saturday, died in hospital here this morning. Campbell suffered a fractured leg at the time and was thought not to be seriously injured, but complications set in.

He was on his way to attend his father-in-law's funeral on the island when the plane in which he was a passenger crashed on the island airport.

Labor Council

board's hearing last month.

He drew a bead on Roy Thomson who is buying up radio stations and newspapers "not only in Canada but also in the Old Country and the United States—a multi-million business.

"Now that's no particular concern of ours," continued Mr. McCombe, "but we must remember that Roy Thomson is no friend of the labor movement."

The ITU has had trouble with Mr. Thomson in Canada, he said, and now Mr. Thomson has bought the Edinburgh Scotsman which was "notoriously anti-union" in its dealings with the Scottish Typographical Union.

"I think the labor council would be very badly advised to commit themselves to the Davies-Thomson application."

Henry Nokes, secretary, said: "When the president (John McPhee) went to Ottawa we felt we were supporting a local group, not endorsing Thomson. It was like supporting a local industry. We want a television station and they have the money."

After further discussion the motion to send a letter to the CBC board of governors was defeated 6 to 4.

Peron Predicts Americas Will Be United By 2000

LONDON (OFNS) — Speaking at the fair of the Americas in Mendoza, Northern Argentina, this month, President Peron said that "the year 2,000 will find us a united America or a dominated America." His entire speech was dedicated to the theme of what he calls "complementation," that is, regional co-operation, by which in fact he means that other American countries should co-operate with Argentina.

Argentine activities in the last few weeks show that no chance is being lost of implementing this policy of "complementation." On January 4 it was revealed that the Eva Peron foundation — which started in Argentina as a charity and has now become one of the most important props of the regime—had extended its activities to neighboring Paraguay. On the same day it was announced that the Argentine river-port of Formosa was being re-equipped to handle Paraguayan imports of fruit and vegetables.

On the following day, the Argentine - Chilean Economic Union Council, meetings in Santiago De Chile, revealed that it had worked out a formula for exchanging Chilean steel for Argentine wheat, and a Sao Paulo, Brazil, radio station quoted a "highly reliable source" as saying that President Peron was definitely going to the United States. This, of course, may have been an Argentine-inspired rumor to test North American reactions, which would fit into the general pattern.

On January 6, the Argentine official information service reported that the Colombian minister of health was to visit Buenos Aires as a guest of the Argentine government. On January 14, progress in the Argentine-Colombian trade talks was said by the same source to be good, and an agreement under way by which Colombia was to export coffee and oil to Argentina in exchange for wheat, wool and linseed oil. Next day a Bogota, Colombia, radio station revealed that a visit by President Peron was expected within the next six months. Two Colombian foreign officials have received Argentine decorations.

INTEREST IN OTHERS

Further signs of Argentine interest in other American countries have been the visit of a Chilean military mission to Buenos Aires, the opening of a new railway across the Andes Mountains (in addition to two routes already in operation), linking Argentina with the Chilean port of Antofagasta, and the inauguration by Aerolineas Argentinas of a new air service to Bolivia and Peru.

Would Penalize Non-Voters

OTTAWA (CP)—A Progressive Conservative member of Parliament proposes that federal constituencies in which a certain number of eligible voters do not cast ballots be unrepresented in the Commons.

Rodney Adamson, member for the Ontario riding of York-West, placed his proposal on the Commons order paper today.

The resolution suggests that, in any riding where the top candidate in a general election receives fewer votes than the number of eligible voters who did not cast ballots, the election in that constituency be declared null and void and the riding go unrepresented in the Commons during the ensuing parliament.

Near-Uprising Over Jail Food

HALIFAX (CP)—City prison was the scene of a near-uprising last week, Governor John W. Grant told city council Wednesday in explaining his request for an increased food budget in 1954. He said 12 prisoners made strong complaints about the food.

He requested a food budget of $8,909 for 1954, up $700 from 1953. The committeed voted $8,400.

"What did you have for meals today, governor?" asked Mayor Richard Donahoe.

"For breakfast they had porridge, molasses, bread, milk and tea," the governor replied.

"That's what I had only my bread was toasted," said the mayor.

Three Go On Trial For Sudbury Murder

SUDBURY (CP) — Three Montreal men are scheduled to go on trial for murder in Supreme Court sittings which open here Feb. 15.

Robert Deslauriers, Jean Guy Henaire and Emile Bedard, will be tried by Mr. Justice J. A. Treleaven and a petit jury.

They are charged jointly with the murder of Frank Asselin, slain near Val Caron Oct. 3.

The largest jury panel in the history of the district has been summoned. Notices have been sent to 115 men and 30 women in the city and district.

Trial of Joseph Carver of Montreal on charges of car theft and possesion of a stolen car is also scheduled.

Uses Iron Bar To Cow Victims

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — A thief threatened two men with an iron bar then fled with about $50 in cash early today from Central Chevrolet-Oldsmobile Ltd.

Steve Willows and Howard Rosele dicked into a car and locked the doors when they discovered the man.

They said he grabbed a bar and swung it high over his head. When they got into the car the man ran out of the building.

An office cash register was rifled of $50.

Police said a rear door had been forced.

Still Active

WINNIPEG (CP)—Among those enrolling here for civil defence classes in basic training was R.B. Lloyd of Norwood, who will be 86 next April. He explained he could not attend Thursday or Friday evenings because that's when he goes bowling.

Furious Durham Miners Deny Any Wife Beating

DURHAM, England (Reuters)—A statement that Durham miners "commonly beat their wives as a generally expected and understood thing" aroused this northern English town today.

The statement was made in defence of John James Cowan, a former Durham miner who pleaded guilty in London to attempting to strangle his wife.

His wife claimed Cowan could not understand why wife-beating, recognized in Durham, "could not be tolerated in other parts of the country."

Cowan was sentenced to three years in jail for attempted murder.

DURHAMITES DENY IT

But the case didn't end there. Outraged comments came from Durham officials.

"It is not the regular practice, and never has been, for Durham miners to beat their wives," said Sam Watson, secretary of the Durham area of the National Mineworkers Union.

Mrs. M. E. Burt, probation officer in Durham for 25 years, said: "The allegation is absolutely untrue, I don't think you will find in any other part of the country men more thoughtful and courteous to their wives than the Durham miner."

Durham judge J. C. Simpson said Durham miners have never indulged in wife-beating "to my knowledge."

Expect Festival To Top 1953

STRATFORD (CP) — Officials of the Stratford Shakespearean Festival said today the festival this year promises to overtop the 1953 season.

Ticket requests already had come from nine Canadian provinces and 13 U. S. states.

Festival performances open June 28 with Shakespeare's "Measure for Measure" directed by Cecil Clarke, followed on June 29 by "The Taming of the Shrew," directed by Tyrone Guthrie. Sophocles "Oedipus Rex" is scheduled to open July 15. James Mason, British actor, will play lead roles of Oedipus in the Greek tragedy and Angelo in "Measure for Measure."

Names of the Canadian supporting cast have not been released.

Jailed 10 Years In Boy's Death

TORONTO (CP) — Alexander Sielinski, 33, today was sentenced to 10 years on a charge of causing grievous bodily harm to the 2½-year-old son of Mrs. Edna LeBlanc, the woman with whom he had been living.

The child, Paul David LeBlanc, died Jan. 19, 1953 of a haemorrhage and skull fracture.

Sielinsky appeared stunned when he heard the sentence. He was convicted Wednesday.

During the trial Sielinski accused the baby's mother of causing the injuries that led to death. Mrs LeBlanc in turn accused Sielinski. She said he beat the boy with a two-foot strap.

Mrs. LeBlanc recently completed a year's term in reformatory for failing to provide the necessities of life for the boy.

Father Turns Son Over To Police

TORONTO (CP) — Police said today Hayden Cawford, the caretaker of a downtown office building, turned his own son over to police when he found the youth and a companion in a third-floor office in the building Wednesday night.

Police said they are holding Donald Crawford, 19, son of the caretaker, and Robert Beal, 17, on charges of breaking and entering.

Begin Negotiations On Oakville Contract

OAKVILLE (CP) — Negotiations for the first contract between Ford of Oakville and 3,000 employees will begin this month, officials of the United Automobile Workers Union (CIO), representing the workers, said today.

The union was recently certified as bargaining agent for the big new plant near this town midway between Toronto and Hamilton.

Fred Childs of Milton, was elected union president Wednesday.

Ouimet To Report On Tour In India

OTTAWA (CP)—Marcel Ouimet, 38, assistant director of programs for the CBC, will fly to India Feb. 11 to report the Far Eastern section of Prime Minister St. Laurent's world tour for the CBC.

Earlier stages of the tour will be covered by CBC commentators in London and Europe.

Television coverage of the tour will be supplied by film correspondents who will air express their filmed reports to the CBC for use on its Toronto, Montreal, Ottawa and Vancouver stations and private stations at London and Sudbury.

EASTERN CLOTH

Muslin, a fine cotton cloth, is believed to have been first made at Mosul in Mesopotamia.

Father, Son Meet For First Time

MONTREAL (CP) — A 29-year-old building contractor stepped off a plane here Wednesday night to roll back the years for the father he does not remember.

Twenty-nine years ago Edward Bornman Vincent, of Sun Valley, Idaho, then a three-month-old baby vanished with his mother from their Manchester, N. H., home.

He came back to greet his father, 52-year-old Emery Vincent, now a Montreal plasterer's helper.

"It's been a long time," Edward said. Emery, the father, said nothing. There were tears in his eyes.

The Vincent family broke up shortly after Edward was born, the mother placing the boy in an orphanage. Adopted, he moved with foster-parents to the west coast.

WIFE SAW PICTURE

When his mother died 25 years ago his link with the past was broken, until close family resemblance and a picture in a paper brought father and son together again.

The son until recently known as Edward Lewis Bornman, is a cement contractor in Sun Valley, married with three children.

His wife, Ruth, opened the door to the past when she saw a picture of Robert Vincent, 31, a Korean war veteran, in a Seattle newspaper and was struck by the resemblance between him and her husband.

Robert turned out to be a brother who had kept in touch with the father.

Lose Argument On Fluoridation

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Opponents of fluoridation of the city's water supply lost one argument decisively Wednesday evening at a public meeting.

Medical officer of health Dr. John Howie was telling the gathering of 35 persons that flurorinated water has no taste.

Robert Dugal, most outspoken opponent of fluoridation at the meeting, shouted that this statement was not true. Fluorinated water has a definite taste, Mr. Dugal contended.

Controller Robert M. Fuller, chairman, then pointed out that at that very hour Mr. Dugal was drinking water with fluorine in it.

Unknown to anyone present, Controller Fuller had brought fluorinated water from Stratford and placed it in the water jugs of city council chambers. Those attending, including Mr. Dugal, had been drinking the water all evening. It had no taste.

Leave Battle To Federation

TORONTO (CP) — Representatives of city high school teachers early today decided to put their battle for a single salary schedule back into the hands of the executive of the Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation.

The decision was reached shortly after a third meeting with a finance sub-committee of the board of education failed to bring about agreement.

The high school teachers are seeking a separate pay schedule instead of the present system under which they are classed with public school teachers according to qualifications and experience. They have threatened to resign next May.

Jack Dempsey Testifies On Behalf Of James Rutkin

NEW YORK (AP)—Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight boxing champion, testified Wednesday in federal court on behalf of James Rutkin, who is seeking to recover $22,500,000 from his onetime bootleg partner, Joseph Reinfeld.

Dempsey said he first met Rutkin in 1935, when the pair began negotiations for the Dempsey-Vanderbilt Hotel in Miami, Fla., as a joint venture.

The former champion said that while the deal was pending Rutkin introduced him to Reinfeld and that Rutkin described Reinfeld as his partner. Dempsey added that Reinfeld had agreed to pay all the bills of the hotel for five years.

LOST $200,000

Under cross examination by Theodore Kiendl, a lawyer for Reinfeld, Dempsey said that the Dempsey-Vanderbilt Hotel was in operation as such for two or three years and that he "heard" that the venture lost about $200,000.

"What work did you do there?" Mr. Kiendl asked.

"I was a greeter and took care of the dining room and the kitchen" Dempsey replied.

NOT A VACATION

"Did you use the hotel for free lodging and vacations for yourself and your wife?" Kiendl asked.

His face flushing, Dempsey replied, "No, I did not. I went down there to work and I spent a lot of time at it."

"Did you lose anything in the venture?" Kiendl queried.

"I put nothing in and I took nothing out, but my time was worth something," Dempsey answered.

Dempsey said shortly after Rutkin sold his share of the hotel he (Dempsey) resigned his partnership.

Rutkin claims in the suit that Reinfeld conspired with Samuel and Allen Bronfman of Montreal to cheat him out of his share in the sale of the L.L. and B. Distillery in Chatham, Ont.

Reinfeld denies there was any such conspiracy. A previous trial was declared a mistrial last year after jurors received anonymous letters.

Former City Man New Fire Chief

The town of Clawson, Mich., will have as its new fire chief a former Peterborough man, J. Albert Thomas, who will command the 21-man volunteer organization.

Born in Peterborough, son of Sergeant-Major and Mrs. Samuel L. Thomas, Mr. Thomas was educated here and moved to Detroit with his family in 1923. His grandmother, Mrs. E. E. Booth, lives at 516 Chamberlain St., and two other aunts, Mrs. Eva Ainslie and Miss L. Booth, also live in Peterborough. He has a brother, Harold, and sister, Barbara, living in Clawson.

Thomas, 40, is a former Clawson council-man and constable. He is presently employed by the Royal Research and Engineering Co. He has lived, with his wife and two children, James, 16, and Lynda, 11, in Clawson since 1938.

The department which he will command is composed of 15 volunteers and six auxiliary men, and has two fire trucks and an inhalator.

Sunday School Pupils Given Diplomas

APSLEY (ENS)—Diplomas were presented to a number of Sunday school students at an evening service, Sunday. Under direction of Mrs. Hector Montgomery, a surplice clad choir of scholars sang hymns to the accompaniment of Mrs. Keith Watson on the organ.

Mrs. Montgomery presented framed diplomas to: Gail Reynolds, Bobbie Hales and Mauretta Montgomery; diplomas to Elain Brown, Mary Jean Wilson, Joan Wagner, and Shirley Reynolds; primary diplomas to: Harry Ross Reynolds, Murray Montgomery, Jack Montgomery, Bertie Reynolds; certificates of attendance to: Dave Mahn, Rickie Mann, Joan McCauley, Larry Nisbett, Barry Smith, Lynda Reynolds, Arnold Brown, Mrs. T. Post, Mrs. F. Mann, and Mrs. K. Watson.

DEATH TAKES A HOLIDAY—The Rev. Thomas McEnroe kneels in a New York City street to comfort Eugene Canfield, who fell between the front and rear wheels of a truck and had his head pinned to the pavement. The truck driver, unaware of the accident, was halted by a pedestrian who shouted "stop." Canfield was taken to Bellevue Hospital where his condition was listed as not critical.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Reports On Year's Work

LAKEFIELD (ENS)—The annual congregational meeting of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church was held recently. The minister, Rev. H. Kaye was chairman and conducted the worship period. Mrs. T. W. Chaplin was secretary for the meeting.

T. W. Chaplin, in presenting the session report, voiced the appreciation of the congregation to Mr. Kaye and Mrs. Kaye for their work, and expressed gratitude for the support and co-operation given by the various organizations throughout the year.

Mention was made particularly of those who had contributed their musical talents and also those who gave their time to the caretaking of the building and grounds. The congregation suffered in the loss by death of a loyal and faithful member, Mr. Jas. W. Ridpath. Mr. Ridpath had been a member of the building committee and later of the board of managers for more than 20 years.

Mrs. Sadie Crowe reported for the WMS showing the allocation had been exceeded by a substantial amount. One life membership was given.

Mrs. A. H. Clark gave the report of the WA. This society had been very active, the receipts totalling $358. One of the highlights had been the Christmas party given for the Sunday school pupils and their parents.

Carson Webster, the superintendent, reported for the church school. The attendance had been good.

Clarence Duff presented the report of the adult bible class. Allen Clark gave the auditors' report.

Mrs. T. W. Chaplin, secretary-treasurer of the board of managers, read the financial statement, showing a substantial balance after meeting all expenses. An increased interest in missions was shown by the fact that the budget allocation had been exceeded.

The three retiring members of the board of managers were re-elected: Geo. Vallance, E. Turk and C. Webster. Four new members were added: John Neish, Ralph Beavis, Wm. Blewett and Roy Dunbar.

Clarence Duff was reappointed Presbyterian record secretary and Allen Clark and Miss Jean Clarke auditors for 1954.

The Women's Association served refreshments.

Mrs. Louis Cupoli

Funeral services for Mrs. Louis Cupoli, 548 Elm St., who died Sunday, were held Wednesday from the Lane funeral home to St. Peter's cathedral.

The Rev. L. M. Dubbery said the mass and the Rev. G. V. Gaughan said the graveside prayers in St. Peter's cemetery.

Pallbearers were David Ahern, Bill Ahern, Neil Harrington, Thomas Cupoli, Nelson Davis, and Pat Gilic.

Lazy Sergeant Not Responsible For Accident

OTTAWA (CP)—A reserve army sergeant-major described as "too lazy" to pick up an army truck asked a military hospital orderly to do it for him.

The truck, driven by the orderly, hit a civilian on the highway between Montreal and Ste. Anne de Bellevue. The civilian, Joseph Bonin, sued the government.

In the Exchequer Court Wednesday, Mr. Justice Alphonse Fournier—lately federal works minister—ruled that the driver's negligence caused Bonin $6,248 damages but held the crown was not responsible.

NOT UNDER ORDERS

Mr. Justice Fournier found that the orderly, Norman R. Harrison of the Ste. Anne de Bellevue military hospital, was not under army orders while operating the truck. He was not in the army.

The justice found that Harrison had been asked to pick up the truck by a clerk at the same hospital, reserve army Sgt.-Maj. Robert McKinnell, whom Mr. Justice Fournier described as feeling "too lazy to get it himself." It was to have been used to bring reserve personnel to a drill hall.

The judge threw out the case because Harrison was only doing the sergeant-major a favor and was not under army orders.

The sideroads were filled with snow over the weekend. But the snow plow is opening them up again this week.

Larger Treasury Grants Asked For Crossing Fund

OTTAWA (CP)—Treasury contributions to the federal government's grade crossing fund should be increased substantially, the board of transport commissioners was told Wednesday by several spokesmen in its crossings inquiry.

The suggestions came as the board opened a final series of hearings in its year-long inquiry into the grade crossing problem, directed by the federal government in 1952.

The federal treasury now puts $1,000,000 a year into the crossing fund, used to help finance safety measures at highway - railway crossings. The railways, provinces and municipalities share in the costs.

MAKE SUGGESTIONS

Suggestions for boosting the size of the federal fund came Wednesday from the two transcontinental railways, the government of Saskatchewan and the municipalities of Toronto, Montreal, Quebec City and Lachine, Que.

None of the bodies made a specific proposal as to the size of the federal contribution; though the Canadian Pacific Railway said it might have to be tripled or quadrupled to take care of various plans for crossing safety advanced during the investigation.

"Perhaps $4,000,000 a year might be a reasonable sum for an experimental period," the CPR said in a brief.

The government-owned Canadian National Railways named no specific figure, but said a "substantial" increase might be needed.

Police Chief Resigns

AYR, (CP) — Chief Constable Cecil Pickett Wednesday sent his resignation to village council, claiming he was losing money at the job and that on one case he had $25 out-of-pocket expenses and received only $10 in court costs.

Fined For Leaving Dog

GUELPH (CP)—Gustave Drews of Kitchener Wednesday was fined $50 for abandoning a dog in distress and causing it unnecessary suffering after it was struck by his truck. Magistrate F. Watt said in passing sentence that "dogs have as much right on the highway as people."

Felt Nervous, Tired Rundown—Praises Syntona

Tells how this Herbal Medicine brought relief from long-standing health disorders. "Wouldn't be without it."

MR. JACOB STOVER

If you are disturbed night after night by kidney disorders it is time you began taking Syntona Herbal Compound. This medicine, which is made entirely from herbs and roots, acts effectively, not only on the kidneys, but also on stomach, liver and bowels. It is a general tonic medicine which helps to tone up the entire system. Thousands of people who have suffered this way say they can rely on Syntona for best relief.

Here is the experience of Mr Jacob Stover, RR 2, Tillsonburg, Ontario, who said recently:

"I suffered from kidney disorders, getting up often at night and had rheumatic pains all through my joints. Because of this and through loss of sound sleep I became nervous and rundown and felt tired out.

"A friend advised me to try Syntona and in no time at all I could see that it was helping this condition. As I kept on taking it, the trouble cleared up and now I feel like myself once more. Now I wouldn't be without a bottle of Syntona in the house and I want to let other people who suffer this way know how wonderful it is."

Why not let this Pure Herbal Medicine help you as it has so many others? Syntona is sold and recommended in Peterborough by Elliott's Drug Store. (advt.)

TROPICAL TREATS FOR "UP-NORTH" MEALS

THERE'S SOMETHING VERY GLAMOROUS about Southern cooking, isn't there? Just tell the family that there's Southern-Fried Chicken for Sunday dinner . . . and see if you can keep them from haunting the kitchen! Promise a Hawaiian or South American dish — and excitement runs high. That's why I occasionally like to give you recipes with a southern accent. Such recipes as my Hawaiian Custard Pie, for instance — Hawaiian, because you spread it with crushed pineapple at serving time. As for the filling itself — well, it's smooth and rich-tasting beyond describing . . . because it's made with Carnation Evaporated Milk. You'll be amazed at the wonderful things that double-rich, heat-refined Carnation does for custards. Gives them the wonderful consistency and rich flavor you'd expect if you made them with cream.

HAWAIIAN CUSTARD PIE

(Makes a 9-inch pie)

4 eggs
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 large can undiluted Carnation Evaporated Milk
1 cup water
½ cup sugar
Unbaked 9-inch pie shell
1 small can crushed pineapple, drained

Combine first six ingredients; beat with rotary beater until smoothly blended. Pour into unbaked pie shell. Bake 15 minutes in hot oven (425 deg. F.). Lower to moderate (350 deg. F.); bake until set so that a knife inserted in the centre comes out clean (about 30 minutes longer). Cool. Just before serving, spread with the well drained pineapple.

I MENTIONED Southern-Fried Chicken. One thing is a "must", if you like delicious golden crust on your chicken . . . and gravy that's silky-smooth and rich flavored and delightfully creamy colored. That's the Carnation Milk that's used to dip the chicken pieces, and the Carnation that's used in the gravy.

SOUTHERN-FRIED CHICKEN

(Makes 4 servings)

Cut a frying chicken in serving pieces. Dip in ½ cup undiluted Carnation Evaporated Milk, then in ½ cup seasoned cornmeal. Brown in frying pan in ½ cup shortening. Top with ¼ cup (each) chopped green onions and pimiento. Bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) for 30 to 40 minutes, until chicken is tender. Remove to hot platter.

CREAM GRAVY

2 tbsps. chicken drippings
2 tbsps. seasoned flour
1 cup undiluted Carnation Evaporated Milk
1 cup water

Blend chicken drippings and flour over low heat. Mix Carnation and water, and stir slowly into flour mixture. Stir and cook until mixture reaches the boil.

"from Contented Cows"

FOR MORE TEMPTING COLOR, for more delicious flavor, for economy, "cream" your coffee with undiluted Carnation Milk. Millions of critical coffee lovers do. They prefer Carnation to any other brand of evaporated milk — even prefer it to cream in coffee. Try it! You'll love it.

3 Of U.K. Cabinet To Attend St. Laurent Lunch

LONDON (CP)—Three members of the British cabinet have been invited to attend the luncheon party which Sir Winston Churchill is giving Saturday for Prime Minister St. Laurent, it was announced today. The luncheon will be at 10 Downing St., the prime minister's official residence.

The British ministers who will attend, in addition to Sir Winston and Lady Churchill, are R. A. Butler, chancellor of the exchequer; Viscount Swinton, secretary of state for Commonwealth relations; and Sir Walter Monckton, labor minister.

The Canadian prime minister, starting a six-week tour, is due to arrive tonight by air. He will be welcomed by Norman Robertson, Canadian high commissioner in London, and Lord Swinton, official British government representative.

St. Laurent's tour has aroused considerable interest in British papers. Among others, the Birmingham Post cautioned the prime minister to bring along some heavy clothing with a view to combatting the current spell of extremely cold weather Britain is enduring.

St. Laurent has no other official engagements in London. He is scheduled to attend a play Saturday night and to lunch informally with Robertson Sunday before going on to Paris by plane.

EN ROUTE TO LONDON

GOOSE BAY, Labrador (CP)—A plane carrying Prime Minister St. Laurent and his party on a round-the-world tour left here today at 7:02 a. m. AST (6:02 a. m. EST) en route for London.

Mr. St. Laurent left Ottawa's Rockcliffe airport Thursday at 2:45 p. m. EST and is scheduled to arrive in London, first official stop-over today.

The RCAF C-5 flew at 17,000 feet.

Fireman Takes Day Off, Fire Comes Visiting

Chris Comiskey is a fireman. Friday was his day off and Friday afternoon three fire trucks answered a call to the Comiskey home at 541 Brioux to put out a blaze in the back shed. Meanwhile, Fireman Comiskey was uptown shopping.

The fire started shortly before 1 p.m. when Norman Sweet, Mr. Comiskey's father-in-law, was building up a fire in the oil-burning space heater in the kitchen. He lit the heater with a rag and threw the charred fragment into the shed, thinking it was out.

But the rag was still smouldering and newspapers caught fire. Flames licked up the plywood wall and around the doors, making it impossible for either Mr. Sweet or Mrs. Comiskey to get in.

"We were really worried for a while," said Mrs. Comiskey. There was an extra tank of oil for the heater in the shed and the flames crept dangerously close to it.

Damage to the shed was slight, except for the charred and water-soaked floor. Most depressing aspect of the whole thing, says Mrs. Comiskey, was that she had just finished giving the shed a hosing down shortly before.

The blaze brought three trucks (including two pumpers) under Chief William Sorrie.

Burlington Bridge Will Be Delayed

TORONTO (CP) — Ontario Highways Minister Doucett announced today that construction of the proposed $16,000,000 Burlington bridge over Hamilton harbor will not start this spring, as hoped, but might begin later in the year.

The province, he said, is waiting for federal approval of the project and an announcement of the amount the Dominion will pay toward its cost.

German Talks Failure, No Progress

Eden Calls Soviet Plan Mere Grab For Rhine Power

BERLIN (CP)—Britain, the United States and France today rejected the new Soviet plan for setting up an all-German government. They charged adoption of such a plan would lead to Soviet domination of West Germany.

Foreign Seeretary Eden, State Secretary Dulles and Foreign Minister Bidault told Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov his idea of merging rival governments in divided Germany indicated Russia has no real desire to see the nation unified.

Dulles, leading off for the West today, denounced the Russian plan as a mere grab for power west of Berlin.

Eden said the Soviet plan would leave West Germany "at the mercy of the Soviet zone people's police," and termed it "wholly unacceptable." Bidault took a similar line.

SAY REBELS FEAR VOTE

Dulles charged that Russian proposals aimed at extending the solid Soviet bloc to the Rhine. He and Eden both charged that Russia's rejection of the West's five-point plan for a German settlement was

Tourist Promotion Increase Refused

OTTAWA (CP) — The government has rejected a plea by the Dominion-provincial tourist conference for a major increase in federal tourist promotion.

Finance Minister Abbott's estimates tabled today in the Commons propose $1,561,407 to the Canadian government travel bureau for 1954-55 operations. The amount represents an increase of $32,957 over 1953 but most of this will be eaten up by additional operating expenses.

The tourist conference urge the government at a recent meeting in Ottawa to spend more money attracting tourists to Canada. However, Northern Affairs Minister Lesage told the delegates that high defence expenditures would prevent any major increase in tourist promotion.

$58,997 Holdup Car Recovered

TORONTO (CP) — A stolen car used in Thursday's $58,997 holdup of a Lever Brothers messenger has been recovered, police said today.

A brief case which had contained $1,189 in cash and $57,808 in non-negotiable cheques was found empty in the back seat. The case was snatched from Bert Petts by two men with revolvers who drove away in the car.

The car was recovered a short distance from the holdup scene in east-central Toronto.

BOGGED DOWN—A power shovel nearly toppled over Thursday afternoon while digging a ditch for pipe connections behind the Miller apartments on Clonsilla Ave. Operator Jim Leahy was switching the shovel to a new trench when suddenly it pitched forward and down. The ground had seemed level but there was actually a man-hole pit which hadn't been covered in, which later filled up with water, snow and ice. Workmen (above) using a car wrecker and two small bulldozers attempt to right the machine.

Defence Slashes Of $92,000,000 Fail To Cut Costs

OTTAWA (CP)—The federal government proposes to spend $4,491,751,000—a peacetime record—in the 1954-55 fiscal year. Despite a $92,000,000 slash in military spending and reductions in other forms of defence activity, Finance Minister Abott's main estimates tabled today in the Commons jumped about $58,000,000 over the estimates to date for the current fiscal year ending March 31.

The all-time high for federal spending was $5,322,000,000 in the war year of 1943-44. The 1953-54 figure of $4,433,466,000 was the peacetime peak up to now.

OTHERS IN MARCH

Supplementary estimates for the current year will be brought down next month and there also will be supplementaries to the 1954-55 spending program placed before the Commons later. But Mr. Abbott said that, because of changes in the make-up of the estimates, the figures available now for the two years are about comparable.

The estimates—which Parliament later will be asked to approve as the government's spending program—do not include a forecast $355,850,000 for old age security pensions, which comes out of a fund raised by special taxes. Also not included is $48,165,420 for loans and investments.

HEAVY DISBURSEMENT

With the addition of these amounts, the government expects to disburse $4,895,767,125 besides what may be covered in supplementaries.

How the money is to be raised will be disclosed in Mr. Abbott's budget. The date of the budget has not been announced.

By far the largest figures in the new estimates—more than one-third—were for spending on different types of defence.

Proposed direct military expenditures, cut by $92,000,000 from the present year, are estimated at $1,908,000,000.

Name Arctic Islands After Queen

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's most northern group of Arctic islands has been named the Queen Elizabeth islands, Northern Affairs Minister Lesage announced today in the Commons.

The islands include some 160,000 square miles of territory inhabited by less than 200 persons scattered among seven tiny communities. They comprise all Canadian soil north of Lancaster and Viscount Melville sounds.

Mr. Lesage said the Queen "has been graciously pleased to allow that her name be given" to the northern half of the Canadian Arctic archipelago.

VERY FITTING

"It seems particularly fitting that our present sovereign should allow her name to be permanently associated with this part of Canada," Mr. Lesage said.

"It was during the reign of her illustrious namesake that British seamen made their first voyages of discovery into what is now the Canadian Arctic."

The island group did not previously have a collective name. Some Arctic islands already bear names of other members of the royal family. Prince Charles island, in Foxe basin, was discovered and named about five years ago. Victoria island, Prince of Wales island and King William island are farther north, just below Viscount Melville sound.

"Now, northernmost of all are the Queen Elizabeth islands—our final frontier," Mr. Lesage said.

Largest island in the group is 77,392-square-mile Ellesmere island. It was from Ellesmere's northern rim that Admiral Robert Peary made his final dash to the pole in 1909.

Bell Hearing Set March 22

BELLEVILLE (CP)—Mrs. Mary Bell, 48, charged with the murder of her husband, appeared today in magistrate's court and preliminary hearing of the case was set for March 22.

The date of the preliminary hearing was agreed to by special crown prosecutor Alex Hall of Oshawa and John Lennox, counsel for Mrs. Bell.

Between 30 and 40 spectators were in the city court room when Mrs. Bell, wearing a green coat and dark hat, entered the room.

She went quietly to her seat and spoke briefly with her counsel before the court opened.

Mr. Hall said that due to previous commitments of certain witnesses the preliminary hearing could not be held before March 22.

Mrs. Bell was arrested Jan. 22 at her Albert street home following a two-week investigation into the death of her husband, Percy Warner Bell, a Belleville engineer.

Russians Now Offer U.K. $1,000,000,000 Contracts

MOSCOW (AP)—A British ship builder has signed a contract to build 20 fishing trawlers for the Russians. His contract, worth $17,000,000, highlighted the Soviet Union's offer Thursday of more than $1,000,000,000 worth of contracts to British industries. Delivery would be made from 1955 to 1957. First comment from the British board of trade in London said "We welcome any increase in trade with Russia, provided it is within the non-strategic field." The cash-for-goods Soviet offer of £400,000,000 ($1,120,000,000) involves varied equipment including tankers, industrial plant equipment and railroad equipment.

It was transmitted by Foreign Trade Minister Ivan G. Kabanov to a delegation of 32 visiting British business men, along with a breakdown of equipment the Russians said they could use.

APPROVE LIST

The British delegation—biggest private enterprise group to visit Moscow since the Second World War—has been conferring with leading Soviet foreign and domestic trade officials to ascertain what goods Britain can sell Russia, as well as possible products for import.

The delegation's chief, J. B. Scott, expressed satisfaction with the Russian list. He said many of the items were not on the British restricted list for exports while relaxations were expected on others.

Recapture Five Prisoners 6 Hours After Jail Break

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (AP)—Police recaptured five prisoners today less than six hours after they fled from the Chippewa county jail by overpowering a turnkey. Three were caught a little more than two hours after they jumped the guard while he was locking 10 prisoners in cells for the night.

The remaining two surrendered near the Sault suburb of Algonquin. They were Ralph Beseau, 17, of Sault Ste. Marie, sentenced to Marquette state prison for 1½ years for breaking and entering, and Robert J. Overland, 16, of Newberry, held on a similar charge.

TRYING BOARD FERRY

John de Nicola, 65, Sault Ste. Marie, held for larceny, was recaptured in the Sault area.

Two others were recaptured at St. Ignace while trying to board the ferry Vacationland to cross the Straits of Mackinac into southern Michigan. They were Charles George Aslin, 17, and John E. Quilan Jr., 21, both of Newberry. Both were held for breaking and entering.

Have Trouble Feeding Pope

VATICAN CITY (Reuters)—The Vatican, in its first official medical bulletin on Pope Pius' health, today disclosed that the pontiff's physicians are having difficulty in feeding him.

The bulletin was signed by the Pope's personal physician, Prof. Riccardo Galleazzi Lisi. Pope Pius has been ill for the last 11 days.

Earlier, a Vatican official said the Pope has been restricted to a purely liquid diet for the last 10 days and his weakness is increasing. The official said the pontiff, who will be 78 March 2, requires strong intravenous injections.

The bulletin announced that the hiccups from which the Pope suffered for nine days ended last Tuesday.

The Pope's personal physician moved in to the Vatican papal apartment today for around-the-clock duty.

He took this decision after an accident Thursday night to Sister Pasqualina Lehnert, the German nun who has looked after the Pope's household for more than 30 years. She has nursed the Pope constantly since the beginning of his latest illness.

Continue Controls

TORONTO (CP)—Rent controls should continue in Toronto until Sept. 2, board of control decided today and will make that recommendation to the city council.

Ontario government controls end March 2.

Dulmage Rink Downed 14-8 By Toronto

SEIGNIORY CLUB, Que. (CP)—Mrs. F. E. Robinson's rink from Toronto High Park today defeated Peterborough, skipped by Mrs. H. Dulmage, 14-8, in a second-round match in the 23rd annual Sewell women's curling bonspiel.

Mrs. L. Nerlich, Toronto Granite, defeated Mrs. W. G. Beddoe, Ottawa Rideau, 9-5.

Decide Britain Invented Fuse

LONDON (AP) — A royal tribunal decided Thursday night the proximity fuse, which helped win the Second World War, was a British—not an American—invention.

The commission on awards to inventors accordingly ruled that £15,000 be paid to seven British scientists claiming joint credit for the idea.

The fuse is a radio device which explodes a bomb or shell as soon as it gets within effective distance of its target, making a direct hit unnecessary.

Anti-aircraft gunners used it with deadly effect on the flying buzz-bombs dispatched to London by the Germans in the late stages of the war. The United States Navy employed it to down dozens of Japanese kamikaze suicide pilots in the Pacific.

New York Flyer Hits Freight, 6 Injured

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—The Baltimore and Ohio railroad's St. Louis-New York flyer, the National Limited, sideswiped a freight train five miles south of Wilmington today, derailing 10 of the 13 passenger cars.

Six railroad employees, two of them aboard the freight train which was being shifted in a yard operation and four aboard the National Limited were treated for minor injuries at Wilmington General Hospital.

A short time after the wreck a B and O spokesman at Baltimore reported the engineer of the shifter engine had been killed but the engineer, W. A. Jackson was found some time after the wreck conferring with railroad officials at the scene. Jackson was bruised but not hurt seriously.

City Firm Had Halifax Truss Contract

$320,000 GARAGE COLLAPSES — The new $320,000 motor-transport and administration building at Shearwater naval air base across the harbor from Halifax, considered an armed forces showpiece, collapsed mysteriously. Naval officers said they believe the building may be a total loss. There were no injuries. Government agencies have retained an outside expert to investigate the collapse.

OTTAWA (CP) — Production Minister Howe said Thursday he is satisfied the government will suffer no loss through Tuesday's collapse of a new $304,000 maintenance garage at the Shearwater naval base near Halifax.

He told the Commons the contractor guaranteed the structure for one year. It was turned over to the navy Jan. 26. The contractor was Eastern Woodworkers, Ltd. of New Glasgow, N.S.

Mr. Howe, acting prim minister, said the cause of the collapse is not yet known.

TRUSS FELL

He said it apparently was due to the falling of a laminated wood trusses, but no one knows, how that happened.

The contract for the truss, he said, had been sublet to a "very reliable" Ontario firm.

(It was learned the firm was Timber Structures, Ltd., of Peterborough.)

"We are waiting for word, momentarily, on the causes of the collapse of the maintenance garage at the Sheawater naval base near Halifax," said executive vice-president and general manager of Timber Structures Ltd., Ralph Fulbright. The Examiner talked to him briefly in Toronto by phone today.

First word of the building collapse came to Mr. Fulbright from his Ottawa agent on Wednesday evening. Divisional engineer Edward Mercer of the Peterborough office was dispatched to the spot immediately by air. He is expected to make a full report to Mr. Fulbright in Toronto sometime today.

The laminated wood trusses for the building, processed for the job by the Timber Structures of Peterborough had been erected and were in place for more than a year Mr. Fulbright said. He could give no reason for the collapse of the structure on Tuesday until he has studied a detailed report from Mr. Mercer.

Timber Structures were sub-sub contractors for this building, Mr. Fulbright said; his firm supplied the laminated trusses. The sub-contractors of the project were a Montreal timber construction firm who in turn worked for the contractors, Eastern Woodworkers Ltd., of New Glasgow, N.S.

Mr. Howe said that another contract let to the New Glasgow firm—for a $428,000 army barracks at Halifax—is not being held up. This company had done several million dollars worth of construction for the government. It always has been good for any losses.

Ontario Labor Federation Renews Fight Against Racial Discrimination

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—The annual convention of the Ontario Federation of Labor (CIO-CCL) was told Thursday that racial discrimination in Ontario is increasing.

Delegates representing 200,000 organized workers in Ontario discussed reports of intolerance at Dresden, a Chatham district community which was the escape centre for negro slaves fleeing from the United States nearly a century ago.

Mine strikes and unemployment in the textile and farm implements industry were other convention topics.

Lloyd Fell, delegate from the United Packinghouse Worker's Union and a former CCF member of the Ontario legislature, said Dresden negroes have to go 30 or 40 miles to shop or to eat in restaurants. He said both Attorney-General Dana Porter and Municipal Affairs Minister George Dunbar "buck-passed" responsibility for clearing up the situation.

WANT LEGISLATION

The federation by resolution urged the Ontario government to enact legislation to make it illegal for any establishment to refuse to serve persons because of race, religion or nationality.

Frank Quinlan of Windsor, United Automobile Workers delegate, said publicity on the discriminatory employment policy of one automobile company in his area forced the firm to open its doors to negro workers.

The convention pledged continued support to the 3,000 gold miners still on strike in northern Ontario and northwestern Quebec. Most of the Timmins district strikes which started last summer have been settled. Eamon Park, legislative director of the United Steelworkers of America, said there is no immediate prospect of settling the strikes in northwestern Quebec, biggest of which is the one by 1,500 workers at Noranda Mines Limited.

Delegates were told workers in two basic Canadian industries, textiles and farm implements, are facing a crisis.

ON BRINK OF DISASTER

J. Harold Daoust, Canadian director of the Textile Workers Union of America, said the textile industry is on the brink of disaster because of price-cutting competition from other countries. He said his union wants as much tariff protection for textiles as other industries receive.

The convention adopted a resolution calling for a joint government-management-union committee to study the textile situation.

BRANTFORD HARD HIT

Tom Paton of Toronto, a UAW delegate, said Brantford has been particularly hard hit by layoffs at farm implement plants.

President George Burt called for a program by the federal government to bring about full employment.

He said the Canadian economy may break down under the impact of mounting unemployment. He estimated the number out of work in Canada at 500,000.

Europe Gets More A-Guns For Defence

U.S. Unit Alerted For Movement Within Three Months

WASHINGTON (AP)— The United States army is adding to its atomic punch for the defence of western Europe by sending still more far-reaching nuclear cannon to the strategically vital frontier of Western Germany.

It disclosed Thursday that to the original six atomic cannon sent last fall, with gun crews and other personnel, it subsequently had dispatched other 280-millimetre gun units, and to these, a spokesman, said, another unit will be added, probably within the next three months.

The exact number of guns or units which have gone since last September was not revealed. A spokesman said Thursday the unit which has been placed on the alert for movement to Europe in the next few months is the 264th field artillery battalion from Fort Sill, Okla.

PRESS COMMENT

Thursday's development followed a press conference comment by Defence Secretary Charles E. Wilson Tuesday that he saw no reason why atomic weapons, as well as conventional, shouldn't be used if a new aggressive attack comes.

The 280-millimetre gun can fire either standard ammunition or shells with nuclear explosive warheads.

The army lays emphasis on the range of the big gun, the fact that it can deliver atomic explosives on an enemy in weather conditions which ground bombers, and on the extreme mobility of the 85-ton weapon and its towing tractor units.

Using the full, 280-millimetre size shell, (that is equivalent of about 11 inches) the cannon can fire about 20 miles.

Large Public Aquarium Planned For Toronto

TORONTO (CP)—The Canadian Aquaria Society, a non-profit organization with a federal charter, is planning to build Canada's first large public aquarium here.

The society said it hopes to begin building this summer and have the main exhibit opened by fall. Fish will be brought from all over the world.

The central structure, which is to be built first, will house 100 aquariums for the display of tropical and marine fish. Canadian game fish will have 15 large aquariums. The main structure will have two storeys, 50 by 100 feet, and is expected to cost $300,000.

Foil Two Bandits

BLYTH (CP)—Elmer Pollard, 58, and his housekeeper Thursday night "held the door hard" when two men pointed a gun at them and demanded entry. Mr. Pollard said he told his housekeeper, Mrs. Mamie Fritzley, 51, to call the police and the men fled. Mr. Pollard suffers from a heart condition. Blyth is 15 miles south of Wingham.

Won't Abolish Savings Bank

OTTAWA (CP) — The government has rejected a recommendation by a Toronto firm of consultants that the 87-year-old Post Office Savings Bank be abolished.

The firm, J. D. Woods and Gordon Ltd., made its recommendation in a report on post office administration tabled in the Commons Jan. 20 by Postmaster-General Cote. It said discontinuation of the bank would result in an estimated annual saving of $377,000 to the post office.

Mr. Cote said Thursday in the Commons that 59 of the 73 recommendations of the company have been implemented in whole or in part, nine are being studied and four have been rejected. One of the four turned down was a "matter of government policy."

A government official said later that this recommendation urged that the bank be abolished. He declined to comment on the report's recommendation that if the bank is not closed no new accounts should be opened in communities with alternative banking facilities.

Stratford Festival Film Ready For Showing

Tom Patterson, the chief organizer of the famously successful Stratford Shakespearean Festival and now its Director of Planning is in Peterborough today. He told The Examiner this afternoon that the National Film Board's movie about the Festival is now almost ready for release and it is a superb film. Done in the same color system as the Film Board's record of the Royal Tour, it is considered by experts who have seen sections of it in preparation to be another stellar National Film Board production. Mr. Patterson says that "Stratford Adventure" will have its premier in Stratford in the spring, followed immediately by a New York opening.

PRODUCTION DECREASE

Defence production costs are being slashed to $31,858,000 from $67,122,000, largely because of cuts in capital assistance to defence industries.

Civil defence costs are steady at $6,498,000, compared with $6,506,000 in 1953-54.

Apart from defence spending, departmental budget spending for the year is calculated at $2,537,000,000, up $184,000,000 from the current fiscal year.

The additional amount is chiefly made up by $43,000,000 more in public debt charges, $27,000,000 in civil service salaries, $22,000,000 for higher tax rental payments to provinces, a $22,000,000 contribution to government employees' superannuation fund and $17,000,000 more for family allowances.

NEW ITEMS

New items also are $15,000,000 more for the CBC—which now goes through the government instead of being raised by set licence fees—and a $7,000,000 subsidy toward lowering freight rates across northern Ontario.

The new grant to the CBC from excise taxes on radio and television sets and equipment brings the total the publicly-owned corporation will receive from Parliament to $23,544,450 from $8,634,368 in the 1953-54 fiscal year.

Among the non-defence departments, expenditures will be increased everywhere except for the fisheries, justice, state secretary and veterans departments.

LARGEST IN FINANCE

Largest jump is in finance—to $936,424,000 from $847,500,000—partly accounted for by increases in public debt charges and in amounts payable to the provinces under tax rentals agreements.

Mr. Abbott, in a statement as he tabled the 601-page book of estimates, said the higher departmental expenditures took into account pay raises for members of the civil service and the armed forces granted recently. These ran around 10 per cent.

CHICAGO GRAIN

WINNIPEG (CP)—Light trade in oats and barley today on the grain exchange uncovered routine domestic shipper orders. Dealings in rye and flax were mostly local, and all grain prices continued to hold to a narrow range.

Trade reports, however, said several cargoes of Canadian wheat had been picked up by Japan, probably in connection with Thursday's announcement by the Canadian wheat board that eight cargoes were made available for offering.

11 a. m. prices:

Oats: May ⅛ higher 71¾A; Jly unch 69¼B; Oct. not open.

Barley: May unch 96¼A; Jly unch 94A; Oct. not open.

U.S. Dollar At Discount

MONTREAL (CP) — The U. S. dollar was at a discount of 3 7-32 per cent in terms of Canadian funds at noon today. Thursday's noon rate was 96⅞ cents. Pound sterling $2.72¼, against $2.72 7-16.

Europe's Cold Spell Breaks, Rush Supplies

LONDON (AP)—A bright wintry sun brought a break in Europe's coldest spell in seven years today as relief missions rushed supplies to snowbound highland hamlets and islands still isolated.

Helicopters were used to reach 70 hamlets in Italy's Apennine mountains east of Rome, where some communities have been cut off for a week. Outbreaks of minor epidemics of tonsilitis were reported in two villages—Capracotta and Baselice.

Hardy inhabitants of the lone island of Foula in the Shetlands north of Scotland welcomed their first mailboat in 31 days. The 70 islanders—accustomed to long periods of isolation in the winter—had laid in a good stock of foodstuffs beforehand, and suffered no great hardship.

Budapest radio reported "acts of heroism" by Hungarian railwaymen digging out from the biggest snowdrifts in years.

DEATHS EXCEED 300

The death toll over Europe is estimated at more than 300.

The thaw brought threats of more hardships. The fearsome landslide of Missano de Zocca in the Italian Apennines—halted by frozen ground — began moving again during the night and swallowed up two more buildings.

Greece reported zero temperatures in many sections of the country.

The Simplon Orient express was seven hours late arriving in Salonika. Road traffic was halted in central Macedonia as army engineers used bulldozers trying to restore communications. Large masses of earth partially blocked Corinth canal.

Asks New Constitution To Clarify Powers

MONTREAL (CP) — Philippe Ferland, a professor of legal procedure at the University of Montreal, today urged adoption of a new Canadian constitution to clarify the legislative and fiscal powers of the federal and Quebec governments.

In a brief presented to the Quebec royal commission on constitutional problems, Mr. Ferland said Confederation was to have been a contract between two equal associates.

It was accepted by Quebec as long as it did not "compromise our chances of living our life as a distinct people . . . we believed we were signing an act in which there would be no legislative union. . . ."

Tax agreements signed between the federal government and the other provinces was in feefct legislative union, he declared.

By-Election Campaign Carried On By Telephone

HULL, England (Reuters)—The campaign has started here for a vacant House of Commons seat, and the heat is on—over the telephone.

Tonight, and every night until Feb. 11, you just dial Hull 21835, and you get a 60-second heart-to-heart talk from each of the candidates.

If you happen to dial into the beginning of Conservative candidate Patrick Wall's recording, you'll hear this:

"Yes? Patrick Wall speaking. Oh, it's you. I'm glad you phoned because it means you're interested in the by-election."

After Wall has told you what he stands for politically he says, "Hang on a minute, my wife wants a word with you." Then his attractive wife, Sheila, 28, comes to the phone with a plug for her husband.

Wednesday night a reporter dialled 21835 and the first thing he heard was Labor candidate Charles Bridges shouting, "Get out." Bridges hadn't meant to be rude. He was merely saying that the election gave the voter a chance to tell the Conservative government to change its class policy—"or get out."

The telephoning campaign service is carried from 8:15 to 11 p.m. every night except Sunday over Hull's phone system—the only privately-owned one in the country.

The phone election campaign service is donated by the Hull phone company.

At the last parliamentary election in this area Bridges was defeated by Conservative candidate R. K. Law by 7,583 votes. Law became a baron in the New Year's honor list and therefore had to give up his Commons seat. Polling is Feb. 11.

Magistrate Quits Job By Request, Ignored Rules

TORONTO (CP) — Magistrate Charles D. LeMay of Fort William, has resigned at the request of the government for failure to follow correct procedure in banking money obtained from fines.

The resignation, announced Wednesday by Attorney-General Porter, came after Mr. LeMay had been warned by the department to bank all fines money in a special trust fund. The first warning was given several months ago and when a recent audit disclosed Mr. LeMay was not following instructions, his resignation was requested.

Attorney-General Porter said there was no shortage of funds involved. "He just did not do what he was supposed to do," Mr. Porter said. "He had failed to bank about $2,000 all of which was accounted for by Mr. LeMay."

He was one of the youngest magistrates in the province when he was appointed for the Thunder Bay district in 1935 by Arthur Roebuck, attorney-general in the Hepburn Government.

His resignation came so quickly Wednesday that Fort William was without a magistrate Wednesday. Cases were ordered held over until Thursday when a magistrate from Sudbury or Port Arthur was to take over the court.

At Fort William, Mr. LeMay said he resigned as magistrate to return to private practice.

German Talks

motivated by fear of free German elections.

Dulles said Molotov's lengthy proposal "shows that he has no intention of seriously seeking German unity with freedom."

Bidault declared the Soviet concept of free elections is so hostile to the West as to be unacceptable.

"We have indicated in several instances that the plan we have presented could be discussed and revised," Bidault said. "In the face of the fundamental differences which separate the plan refused by Molotov and the plan which he in turn presented, we want to know if there is any possibility of any agreement among us on the urgent and essential problem of uniting Germany by means of free elections.

"I would not want to give up too quickly . . . but nothing up to now has come out to encourage our patience and our hope."

RAPS TROOP PROPOSALS

Eden criticized Molotov's proposal that the occupying forces of the four powers should leave Germany before elections are held. Molotov had proposed that only a "limited" number of occupation troops should remain for "protective functions."

The effect would be that the only armed forces of either side in Germany would be those in the Eastern zone which were organized on a full military basis equipped with tanks, guns and airplanes, Eden asserted.

Dulles accused the Soviet Union of trying to extend the Kremlin's power to the Rhine river.

Dulles said that Molotov had rejected a Western plan for unification of Germany through free elections because he is afraid that the 18,000,000 Germans in the Communist zone "would overwhelmingly reject" its present Red regime.

"Mr. Molotov has good reason to be afraid," Dulles said.

Dulles led off the Western attack on the Molotov plan which he said follows the "tragic pattern" by which the Soviet Union has spread Communist control over eastern Europe since the war.

Dulles said Britain's Anthony Eden, France's Georges Bidault and he had come to Berlin two weeks ago hoping that solutions would be found to the problem of German unity in a conference which at the outset carried the promise of easing world tension.

NO INTENTION

But, he said, the Molotov program which the Russian minister put before the conference Thursday shows that "he has no intention of seriously seeking German unity with freedom."

"I would say to Mr. Molotov," Dulles declared, "that it is late, but not too late to redeem the promise of Berlin."

The cornerstone of the Russian program, Dulles said, is the Communist government of East Germany which he declared was put in office and kept there by Soviet power. It would have been "forcibly ejected" by the workers of East Germany last June, Dulles asserted, had it not been for "elements of 22 Soviet divisions, including tanks and armored cars."

He referred to the workers' rebellion in which 2,000,000 East Germans defied their government and the Russian occupation itself to show their resentment of Red rule.

Dulles' speech came as the West pondered whether to scuttle further German talks or go on with endless wrangling.

To make certain that Western ideas would not influence the elections, Molotov proposed that all foreign troops be withdrawn from Germany. And the Communist-controlled quarter (17,000,000 population) would have a weighted vote equalling all the rest of the country (47,000,000) in shaping a future Reich.

Within the U.S. camp a large group favors giving Molotov a quick explanation why his type of Communist government would not be acceptable to them or to western Germany, and then telling him bluntly:

"The subject of Germany is finished. Let's get on with a discussion of Austria and see whether any measure of agreement is possible."

FRENCH OPPOSED

These words from a top-level U.S. adviser were not welcomed by the French, who argue that ending the talks would weaken Foreign Minister Bidault's case when he goes back to Paris to demand quick ratification of the European army pact, the core of the controversy in Berlin.

Molotov devoted a large part of his speech again Thursday to denouncing the army plan as a plot master-minded by the Americans to organize western Europe with a German spearhead against the Soviet Union.

Eight Convicts Escape Prison

ATMORE, Ala. (AP)—Heavily-armed police officers poked through tangled areas near here this morning for eight long-term convicts who escaped through a tunnel under Atmore state prison Thursday night.

The escapers, described as "tough turkeys," used a key to open a door leading from a special security cell block into a small tunnel. They forced their way through two other doors into a main tunnel before reaching freedom, emerging in a powerhouse outside the prison fence.

L. A. Strubble, deputy Alabama prison commissioner, said bloodhounds had picked up a definite trail this morning.

A rebuilding program has been under way at Atmore nearly two years and is 70 per cent complete. Prisoners have been kept in the old facilities while the new prison went up around it.

"We've been afraid something like this would happen," Strubble said.

Most Groups Higher In Active Trading

TORONTO (CP) — Most groups were higher in active early afternoon stock market trading today.

Industrials were in the lead, followed by western oils and base metals.

Papers, utilities, steels, refining oils and liquors were stronger in the industrials. Aluminium was up $1, Goodyear added $2 in the motors and Dominion Bridge was $1 stronger.

Golds were almost unchanged as Hollinger added 25 cents in the seniors to show the only major change. Consolidated Howey was up 10 cents.

Western oils traded actively despite a slow opening and Great Plains was the highest with a 37½-cent gain.

Uraniums were slightly higher with Gunnar adding 50 cents.

Base metals were a little higher with Consolidated Smelters adding 50-cents in the seniors and Geco up the same in the juniors.

Freighter Rescuing Crew On China Sea

MANILA (AP)—The Panamanian freighter Liberal radioed today that it had picked up two boatloads of crew members from the British motorship Fernmoor, which ripped open its bottom on a reef in the South China sea.

The U. S. Navy base at Sangley Point near here said the Liberal reported that other members of the Fernmoor's crew were standing by the sinking ship in lifeboats.

The Japanese freighter Eisho Maru also was reported standing by. The Fernmoor struck a reef near Palawan island in the southwestern Philippines.

The sea was reported calm and the crew in lifeboats apparently was in no danger.

The Fernmoor's crew are all British except for a Canadian apprentice, D. W. Green of London, Ont.

Increase Efforts To Drive Out Lamprey

OTTAWA (CP)—The fisheries department plans to increase efforts to rid the Great Lakes of lampreys, a parasitic eel endangering the lakes' fish population.

Finance Minister Abbott's 1954-55 estimates propose a $100,000 boost in research on methods to kill the lampreys. The total proposed expenditure is $150,000, compared with $50,000 during the previous fiscal year.

Supercharger Being Adopted

DETROIT (AP)—A supercharger is being adapted to a passenger car engine again after a lapse of nearly two decades.

Kaiser Motors' 1954 model Kaiser Manhattans will have the device on an L-head six cylinder engine.

The now defunct Graham Motors introduced the super-charger principle in 1936 along with the now popular overdrive transmission.

Superchargers have been popular on European cars for many years. One reason probably is that in some countries there is a tax on the size of the bore in the car's engine. That made high piston displacement more or less prohibitive

Kaiser expects to gain two major objectives with the supercharger: to retain a high mileage economy at cruising speed and at the same time provide a goodly reserve of power for passing, hill climbing and increased top speed.

Kaiser engineers claim the supercharged engine gives much faster cold weather starts.

Bus Strike Hits Rochester

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — Thousands of workers in this city of 332,000 were without bus transportation today as a result of an unexpected strike of about 900 drivers and mechanics of the Rochester Transport Corp. The city's subway trolley line was also shut down.

The strike hit the city without warning Thursday during the afternoon rush hour. Thousands were stranded.

Local 282, Amalgamated Street Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees Union (AFL), said the strike was called because of the company's failure to abide by an arbitration board's award on wage scale and hours.

Plan Fisheries Fair To Be Held In Norway

OTTAWA (CP)—A national fisheries fair is to be held at Aalesund on Norway's west coast, June 13 to 27, the Norwegian legation announces.

It will be the first event of its kind ever to be staged in that country where fish occupies about the same place in the country's economy as does wheat in Canada.

A specially-built aquarium will provide window-views of all types of Norwegian fish species in their natural element. Of special interest will be an exhibit of fishing boats and equipment including replicas of types of equipment used from the earliest days of the industry to the present time.

U.S. Refugee Hvasta Flees Czechs

Hid 21 Months In Red Country Before Getting Away

MUNICH, Germany (AP)— A triumphant young American named John Hvasta heads home by plane today, the winner in a grim cat-and-mouse game with the Communist regime of Czechoslovakia that lasted five years.

First a prisoner, then a fugitive, then a refugee sheltered for four months in the United States embassy in Prague, the 26-year-old Czech-born U. S. Navy veteran started catching up on freedom when a state department car whipped him through the Iron Curtain at the Czech - German border Thursday.

The full story of at least one phase of this life as a hunted man in Czechoslovakia for 21 months may never be publicly told. It could touch off a reign of terror against the anti-Red Czechs who sheltered him.

ACCUSED OF ESPIONAGE

Like Associated Press correspondent William N. Oatis, freed from Czech imprisonment last May 17, Hvasta was accused by the Red regime of espionage. He was sentenced to 10 years. He had served 2½ years when he took part in a five-man break from Leopoldov prison near Bratislava early in 1952. Then came his 21 months as a fugitive and four months in the Prague embassy, technically U. S. soil, while diplomats dickered over his fate.

The Prague radio, skipping the details, reported he had been "released" and ordered expelled.

U.S. military police stood guard as Hvasta slept overnight at the Grand hotel in Nuernberg, 85 miles north of Munich. He arrives at New York's Idlewild airport at 8:25 a.m. EST Saturday.

Hvasta looked forward to the reunion with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hvasta of Hillside, N.J., like him naturalized U. S. citizens.

Their joy at his release was reflected in the tumbled words of Mrs. Hvasta in Hillside: "We waited for this day; oh, how we waited for this day."

HOPING FIVE YEARS

John's younger brother, Steven, 23, said: "For five years we have been hoping. It's been up and down, and we didn't know."

Steven is a brewery worker, as is his father.

John Hvasta returned to Czechoslovakia in 1948 as a student at the University of Bratislava. He worked four months at the U.S. consulate in Bratislava, but Czechoslovakia still considered him a Czech citizen. He was arrested in October that year as a spy. The conviction came the following May.

Governments Buy Land For Home Building

TORONTO (CP) — Joint acquisition by the governments of Canada and Ontario of considerable acreages of land in the Toronto district for sale at cost for home-building purposes, was announced jointly today by federal Works Minister Winters and Hon. W. K. Warrender, provincial minister of planning and development.

Acquisition of considerable acreages in North York and Etobicoke townships within the metropolitan area of Toronto, have already been made. Negotiations for the purchase of additional parcels of land in these areas are under way.

The plan will provide more than 600 acres of land and sites for some 2,500 low-cost homes.

Anniversary Salute

TORONTO (CP)—A 21-gun royal salute will be fired here at noon EST Saturday in honor of the second anniversary of Queen Elizabeth II's accession to the throne. Similar salutes will be fired at all army saluting bases in Canada, and by the First Canadian Infantry Brigade in Germany and the 25th Infantry Brigade in Korea.

British Papers Discouraged By Berlin Talks

LONDON (Reuters)— Early optimism in British newspapers about chances for agreement at the four-power Berlin foreign ministers' conference today gave way to sharp disillusionment.

Typical comment came today from the Manchester Guardian, Liberal, which saw "despair" of any four-power decision on Germany, and from The Daily Telegraph, Conservative, which bluntly said the conference had reached "a dead end" on the German question.

The Times, an independent newspaper, said it now is clear that "the main Russian object at Berlin is to dislocate the European Defence Community and thereby to strike at the North Atlantic treaty."

CHANGE OPINIONS

Earlier in the conference British newspapers had hailed preliminary moves by Russia and the Western ministers as indication of future progress at the meeting.

Today The Daily Telegraph said "There was never any but the slenderest prospect of finding an accommodation between the Western standpoint and Russia's."

Even the Communist Daily Worker joined the pessimistic chorus, though it laid the blame for any snag in the talks on John Foster Dulles and Anthony Eden.

Your Children's Aid Society

A Weekly Column Written in the Interest of the Peterborough Children's Aid Society

Some people may say that surely if the foster home is clean and there is enough income to assure the child getting sufficient food, that the Children's Aid Society could find out by placing a child in the foster home whether or not it is the right home for the child. It is true that that is the final test. Neither the Society nor the foster parents can be sure that the right home and the right child have got together until the child lives in the home for a while.

But what happens if the placement of a child in a foster home does not work out? The child has got to be moved to a new home. That is one of the greatest hardships for any child. Most children in the Children's Aid Society feel that adults have let them down or why would they not be with their parents. Then if their foster home placement doesn't work out, they lose a bit more faith in adults. They may feel it isn't worth while, trying to become part of a family. Who cares how you get along anyway?

Wards of a Children's Aid Society say that one of their most difficult experiences while with the Society is moving from foster home to foster home. Therefore, it is important that every effort be made to find the right home for the child. Some of the children with the Children's Aid Society are in foster homes for many years and that is as the Society would wish it to be.

Babies may be in boarding homes from one day to months. If the baby is adoptable, he needs boarding home care for but a few weeks while the adopting parents are making their decision. A few babies are looked after for two or three months while the parents make plans to take the baby into their own home. Then there are others who are looked after for a year or two until they can be judged on their own merits for adoption.

The foster parents who look after these babies do a very fine piece of work. They give many babies a wonderful start in life and the Society would be lost without them.

Sometimes people wonder why they have to wait so long for a child when the Society is constantly wanting foster homes. Perhaps it will now be clear that while the foster home may be fine, it may not suit the particular child needing the home.

The Children's Aid Society would like to have quite a number of foster homes ready to receive the children so that when a child is ready for placement, there is likely to be a home among those known to the Society, suitable for the child.

Being foster parents is of course, not an easy task. It takes understanding, loving, patient, and tolerant people to do this work. If you are interested, do talk it over with the Children's Aid Society. You will be under no obligation if you decide you are not interested.

Next week we will tell you about the adoption program of the Children's Aid Society.

Boy, 8, Praised For Honesty

COBOURG (ENS)—Chief Harold Pearse, who likes to see the young folks grow up to be good citizens, is quite pleased about a little lad named Bruce Harp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvan Harp of Cobourg.

Bruce walked into the police station the other day with a five-dollar bill he had found in the snow on Main St. The chief commended him on his honesty and put the money in his desk, confident that somebody would be reporting its loss.

He didn't have to wait long. The same day, a tearful little lass of eight, the same age as Bruce, came in to report that her mother had sent her to the grocery store with five dollars and she had lost the money. After a little checking, the chief turned over the money to the owner.

If everybody was as honest as that, it would be a much easier job for the policeman, used Chief Pearse.

Syria Closes Her Frontiers

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Syria slammed shut her frontiers with Lebanon today, cutting off all movement of people and goods between the two Middle East neighbors. Only citizens caught on the wrong side of the line were permitted to cross back to their own side.

No official reason was given for the sudden action. Syria's president, Col. Adib Shishekly, clamped martial law over many parts of the country last week after announcing there had been attacks against his troops and efforts to overthrow his regime.

Observers here pointed out the Syrian-Lebanese economic agreement expired Thursday. The frontiers between the two countries have been sealed numerous times in recent years because of disagreements on trade and tariffs. The pact which just expired was designed to end such disagreements.

Founded Chemical Firm

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Carl Franklin Braun, founder of one of the country's largest engineering research and chemical manufacturing firms, died Thursday of a heart attack. He was 69. Braun headed the C. F. Braun Co., with plants in the United States and Canada. The Braun firm has two subsidiaries, the Braun Transworld Corp. and the C. F. Braun and Co. of Canada, Ltd.

Bert Watson Dies

LEAMINGTON (CP)—W. Bert Watson, 57, general traffic manager for W. J. Heinz Company of Canada, died suddenly Wednesday in Leamington hospital. He was born in Oil Springs, near Sarnia, and came to work for the company in 1919. He was interested in children's work and an active baseball player and manager.

Italy, Russia Exchange

ROME (AP)—Italy said tonight she will obtain 125,000 tons of hard grains from Soviet Russia under a trade exchange agreement. No cash was involved in the transaction. Grain will be exchanged against Italian goods already sent or being sent to Russia.

Holstein Breeders Attend Championship Show Meet

Holstein breeders of ten counties were represented at meetings here Wednesday of the executive of the Central Ontario championship show. James T. Brown of Newcastle was chairman.

Others atetnding were: Howard Evans of Northumberland; William J. Murphy, Victoria; Earl Burnside, Hastings county; Tom May, Prince Edward, James McSague, Simcoe; Bruce Watson, York; Orvan Chambers, Ontario county; Harold McCaul, Lennox-Addington; Carlos Tamblyn, Durham; Stan Wood, Peterborough; Gerald Nelson, Brooklin, Fieldman; and national directors, George McLaughlin, Charles Cerswell, Ray Barker.

Date of the Central Ontario championship show will be Friday, Oct. 8 at Morrow Park, 9 a.m. one hour earlier than other years. For nominations for judge were sent on to the national Holstein association meeting in Toronto netx week.

A separate class has been left for four year old cows, both wet and dry, with the aged cows being five years and up. A new class has been opened for the two best uddered females bred and owned by the exhibitors.

Beggar's Choice 10 Days In Jail

"Where do you live?", queried Magistrate W. R. Philp Q.C. of 45-year-old Webster Hooper in court today.

"I live a thousand miles from here", said Hooper.

"Where's that?" asked the magistrate.

"In New Brunswick", replied Hooper.

Hooper, charged with being a vagrant, went on to tell the magistrate that he had been in Peterborough about eight months, but that now he was unable to get work.

Crown attorney John A. Bradshaw said as far as he knew Hooper was not very keen on working when he did get a job. He had been hanging around the city for some time and had spent several nights as a lodger in the cells.

The magistrate asked Hooper what kind of work he could do. The reply was rough labor, which did not include bush work.

"Oh well, $10 or 10 days in the county jail", said Magistrate Philp.

Hooper did not have the $10 so he was left with the proverbial beggar's choice.

Negotiating New Contracts

KIRKLAND LAKE (CP) — Negotiations are under way between the United Steelworkers of America (CIO-CCL) and the Macassa and Upper Canada mine managements on new contracts for the two mines.

Talks were begun Thursday and will continue. Pat Burke, union area supervisor, and Alex Harris, spokesman for the mines, said the meetings had been friendly and some progress had been made.

Contracts at the two mines expired last fall and it was agreed at the time to postpone their renewal pending settlement of strikes at eight gold mines in the Timmins area.

It is believed that higher wage rates—generally about five cents an hour—gained by the union to end strikes at Hollinger and some other Timmins are gold producers, will form the basis of new contracts at Macassa and Upper Canada.

Ocean Fleet Now 19 Vessels

MONTREAL (CP) — Canada's dwindling ocean-going freighter fleet fell to 19 vessels Thursday—lowest since 1939.

Officials of Montreal Shipping Ltd., announced sale of the 7,159-ton freighter Mont Clair to unidentified Italian interests. Sale price was not disclosed.

Officials said the vessel will be delivered at an unnamed European port this week.

The Mont Clair, which served during the Second World War as a supply ship to the United Kingdom, follows two sister ships into foreign registry. The freighters, Mont Gaspe and Mont Alta were sold to British interests two months ago.

The sale was made under federal government regulations that proceeds from the transaction be placed in a fund for the construction of new Canadian flag vessels.

Honor Mail Carrier

STIRLING (ENS)—Harry Jones, mail carrier on RR 4, Stirling, was honored when a delegation visited him at his home to show their appreciation of his services and many kindnesses throughout the years.

An address was read by Mrs. Roy Bush and Mr. Jones was presented with a smoker with tobacco, cigarettes and pipe, station wagon coat with cape to match, a sweater coat, flight boots and shoes.

Hurtling Body Injures Woman

NEW YORK (AP) — Carmen Patino, 34, is in a serious condition today, survivor of a horror that is the stuff of nightmares.

Miss Patino and her sister were among hundreds of persons strolling around Bowling Green in lower Manhattan Thursday afternoon. So was Mitchell Esberg, 27, brokerage house employee.

Suddenly a body plummeted down from the 17th floor of a skyscraper. There were cries of terror; the body hit.

Miss Patino and Esberg went down with it.

Esberg suffered severe leg injuries. Miss Patino was knocked unconscious. Her sister, Mercedes, 23, became hysterical.

The dead man was Robert M. Robertson, 53, a $40-a-week clerk for a law firm. In his pocket police found an eviction notice and a note begging "someone" to care for his family.

Heated Cell, Office For Marmora Police

MARMORA (ENS) — Marmora village council is having the basement room under the public library section of the Memorial Hall renovated as an office for the chief of police

Being a good-sized room, a need will be met which has existed for some time. The office will also be fitted up with a prisoner's cell in case some one has to be locked up overnight

The room is heated by the furnace which heats the post office and library so that under the circumstances, it will not be necessary to take a prisoner to Belleville overnight in case of an arrest.

Owing to fire regulations, it has been impossible to leave a prisoner in the cells at Marmora town hall unless someone remained in the building overnight. It is expected the new office will be completed within two weeks.

School Board Seeks Extra Accommodation

COBOURG (ENS) — In an attempt to solve the problem of accommodation for Cobourg's increasing public school roll, a special committee has been appointed by the board to see where the overflow of pupils can be quartered

The school board last year opened its $288,000 new east end public school but even this will not answer the purpose. Almost 300 new pupils are expected by next September Most of them are from families of the new ordnance depot personnel.

The school board, hard put to find room, has appointed a committee to hunt around for some temporary accommodation.

The Town Is Busy

Last year's civic business is being wound up and totalled; this year's business is rolling into view as the council, other official boards and commissions survey the probabilities and jobs, and try to estimate receipts and expenditures. A surplus of $29,315 is reported from last year's city budget. Fire losses of $169,636 are recorded. The Welfare Department spent $69,756 during 1953, $41,471 at the cost of the city's taxpayers. (It is a comment on the Biblical statement that 'the poor we have always with us', that in Peterborough's big year and Canada's most booming one, the cost of relief, medical care and other assorted expenses on behalf of indigents was, in this city alone, about $70,000.)

* * *

The new year's business now entered upon ranges from large and flourishing matters like the commercial development and ensuing Utilities jobs at the southwest corner of the city, to a modest proposal by the sanitation committee to try to sell scrap from the city dump. The Memorial Centre, a ghost of nearly ten years ago, is to be given a substantial shadow by reorganizing the committee for the Centre. Churches, labour organizations and societies are electing new officers and girding themselves anew for the year's work. Generally throughout the city one senses a healthy activity. We do not think that it is due entirely to slight indications that Spring is on the wing and winter passing its peak, that there is a buoyancy in Peterborough, despite a scattered seasonal unemployment.

* * *

We think it is possible to note a new, stronger interest by citizens throughout the city in the city's affairs and in how their Council and boards conduct them. That, too, is healthy. The official groups have many problems and much responsibility. These are, in fact, all citizens' concern and pertain to their well-being and their purses. Good administration, thrifty trusteeship and prudent planning depend, in the long run, on an informed and alert, an inquisitive and a demanding citizenry.

Restricting Sovereign American Rights?

The so-called "Bricker Amendment" now before the American Congress is a bill introduced by a Republican senator named John W. Bricker of Ohio, which would circumscribe the powers of the President to conclude treaties with other governments. It has strong Congressional support, but is opposed by the Administration.

We need not go into the background and details of the Bricker proposal to amend the American Constitution, for it is purely an American concern. But inasmuch as Canada and other countries enter into executive agreements with the U.S., the Bricker Amendment can affect future relations between Canada and the United States. So we wish to point out that, if it is passed, the American administration will be even more tightly bound by constitutional ropes than it is at present. If a country cannot make a treaty with the United States through the U.S. Government, with whom can a treaty be made? With every member of the Senate and the House of Representatives and with every individual State in the American union? Dealings with the U.S. are already complicated because the American Cabinet and the President are not responsible to Congress, in the way that the Canadian Cabinet and Prime Minister are responsible to Parliament. If the President's treaty-making powers are to be circumscribed by the Bricker Amendment, wherein will lie the sovereign power of the U.S. as a nation?

The Bricker proposal is popular with old-fashioned isolationists, and with Republicans who distrusted the foreign policy of the previous Democratic Administration, supposed "secret agreements" entered into by President Roosevelt at Yalta, and the "creeping socialism" of U.N. The two chief provisions of the Bricker Amendment are that "a treaty shall become effective as internal law in the United States only through legislation which would be valid in the absence of a treaty." Second, "Congress shall have power to regulate all executive and other agreements with any foreign power or international organization".

On the face of them, these clauses do not seem unduly restrictive. However, on examination, and considering the complicated processes of American legislation and the constitutional rights of each of the 48 States, the Bricker Amendment would hamstring the U.S.A.'s ability as a sovereign state to make agreements with other nations. This is particularly serious, since the U.S.A. is now predominant in world affairs. Mr. Dulles, Secretary of State, says that the Bricker Amendment would have invalidated twelve of the twenty-three treaties negotiated by the United States Government last year, if it had been in force.

Educational Gobbledegook

Dr. Hilda Neatby's indictment of Canadian education, So Little For The Mind, has caused a good deal of muttered discussion among educationists, but full-scale replies to it have not yet appeared. The nearest thing to a reply to Dr. Neatby that has come our way is a letter from the Canadian Education Association, called Ivory Tower Survey; the C.E.A. chiefly includes officials from provincial education departments, and some word from it was to be expected; its reply, though it made some good points, was not impressive as a whole and we may hope for better things in future writings. In the current copy of The School Guidance Worker, which appears under the authority of the Ontario College of Education, there is an article called Miss Neatby on Guidance, by M. D. Parmenter, which attempts to answer Dr. Neatby chiefly by contradicting her. Indeed, the educationists have not done very much so far to present an effective case against Dr. Neatby's criticism. They have contented themselves with the attitude which Miss Fanny Squeers made famous in her letter to Nicholas Nickelby—'I pities yer ignorance and despises yer'.

One of the recurrent themes in So Little For The Mind which interested us was Dr. Neatby's dislike of the jargon of the professional progressive educationist. There are some pleasant examples of this kind of language in the current School Guidance Worker. In particular we were impressed with the purple prose of Dr. Delwyn G. Schubert, whose article on Remedial Reading is reproduced therein. Says Dr. Schubert: "Select and concentrate on retarded readers whose mental ages are considerably above their reading ability. By working with students who have potential, you can be assured of maximum returns in pupil growth. Remember that some retarded readers are really slow learners who are doing as well as can be expected." If we were asked to translate this into the language of every day, we should put it like this: "Try to find children with brains who do not read well, because you will make the best showing with these; of course, some are just plain slow." Another piece of advice is this: "Try to uncover and remove the cause or causes of reading deficiency. Briefly, these include physical defects, emotional maladjustment, and unfavourable home and school environments—both past and present. Teachers should bear in mind that a retarded reader is usually a product of multiple causation". Or, in the language of the layman "Bad readers usually have something wrong with them".

We shall not give all of Dr. Schubert's gems at full length. He recommends that reading be made a game as much as possible, to conceal from the children that they are learning something, and he particularly urges that the extra reading class should not interfere with anything else, such as the camera club or the gym period. He says that children who are bad readers should not be given help at home, because the people there "lose patience easily and know little about proper methodology." This seems to us to be a rather sweeping condemnation, and we have known very capable teachers to ask for home help in teaching reading, with good results. But it is not to contradict Dr. Schubert, but to give examples of his prose splendours, that we comment upon his article. Certainly a child who hopes to understand such writers as he will have to work very hard indeed.

The Problem of Free Publicity

Newspapers are continually asked to give publicity to a wide variety of causes, many of which are excellent. Upon the whole, newspapers respond generously to these requests, particularly when they come from local sources and have some interest as news. But newspaper men never cease to be surprised by the optimism of governments, movements and business firms who send large quantities of publicity material to editors, which has no chance at all of being used.

In self defence, newspapers have to throw away much of the material of this kind that reaches them. A contemporary recently brought together and weighed the publicity which reached it in a week, and which it was expected to publish for nothing. It weighed two-and-a-half pounds and, if printed, would have required 38 columns. It is not widely understood that every newspaper, every day, has roughly twice as much material at its command, of legitimate news interest, to fill its columns. Understandably it has no place for what is simply free advertising.

SOVIET "NEW LOOK"

Human, After All

By EDWARD CRANKSHAW

WHILE the Soviet Minister is concerned, at the Berlin conference, with the place of the Soviet Union in the world, inside Russia itself enthusiasm is being whipped up for the elections to the new Supreme Soviet which takes place in March. So far there has been nothing to indicate whether these elections will be used as a pretext for further changes in the higher leadership; but it is already certain that they are intended to take place in an atmosphere very different from that of the last elections under Stalin.

The Soviet "new look" is spreading. It is affecting so many fields that it is difficult to keep pace with it. More and more people are being given their heads in their own spheres. The peasants are being given a chance to work for themselves; the housewives are being given a chance to buy what they want; the writers and musicians are being given a chance to express themselves in their own way; the critics are being given a chance to pull to pieces, in a sudden access of high spirits, the dreary pot-boiling works concocted according to the Zhdanov formula and hitherto applauded.

✧ ✧ ✧

ALL KINDS of cheerful sidelines are being started up, all calculated to let individuals enjoy themselves in their own way — from the formation of a by-no-means-utilitarian society for inter-planetary travel to the almost universal celebration of Christmas in something very like the traditional way.

Every effort is being made by the Government to induce in election time an atmosphere of hope. More and more stress is being laid on the real possibility of peace. The Russian people are being at last encouraged to find solidarity and companionship in the cultural achievements of other nations, and to feel that in every other country most people share their hopes and their ideals. For example, the Pushkin Museum with its fine collection of French impressionist paintings, anathemised by Zhdanov, has been reopened in Moscow. Again, Ilyaehrenburg has bestowed public approval on a distinguished bevy of American, British and French writers.

✧ ✧ ✧

ALL THIS, of course, goes in hand with a constant sniping attack on the Governments of the West in general and of the United States in particular. But even here there is a slight amelioration of the usual line. It is admitted tacitly that by no means all the Western leaders are wholly bad, and that if only they can break away from the "warmongering monopolists" of the United States, all will be well. This is part of the game of breaking up the Western coalition on which the Kremlin sets such store; but at the same time it is preparing the ordinary Russian for the prospect for indefinitely living side by side with other Powers.

✧ ✧ ✧

SUCH PREPARATION was the most striking aspect of the speech by Mr. Pospelov, secretary of the Communist Party's Central Committee, on the anniversary of Lenin's death this month. This annual occasion is always important because it sets the ideological tone for the coming year. All the emphasis last week was on peaceful co-existence, East-West trade and the continuity of present Soviet policy with the policy of Lenin in the days when he was most actively seeking some sort of modus vivendi with the West — always with the proviso that sooner or later the Western system must collapse and give way to Marxism.

✧ ✧ ✧

BUT the most striking development of the "new look" movement has been the remarkable attempt of the Prime Minister, Mr. Malenkov, and his colleagues—including even Mr. Molotov — to humanise themselves. The holding of a whole series of children's parties in the Kremlin was a most cheerful aspect of this new spirit. In the days of the Czars the Moscow Kremlin, that fantastic collection of palaces and churches encircled by mighty, crenellated walls, was no secret to the Russian people: it was as accessible as Windsor Castle in England or the Hofburg in Vienna. But for many years past it has been totally forbidden territory. Only those with special business were allowed inside, except on rare occasions — and these have increased lately — when groups of foreigners were taken around. The children's parties have changed all that, and if the new spirit continues, the Kremlin will soon cease to be a theatrical symbol of the sinister and secretive power of an arbitrary dictatorship.

✧ ✧ ✧

THAT IT MAY continue is suggested by the revolutionary change of habits in the new rulers of Russia. For years past, except at an occasional gala performance at the theatre, or at some special Moscow meeting, Stalin ruled unseen — and with him his lieutenants, except on those occasions when a Kaganovitch or a Khruschev descended like an evil portent on this or that republican capital to initiate a purge.

Stalin seemed to find all his strength in total withdrawal and in making a dreaded mystery of his Government. He never went out except for the swift, guarded, bullet-proof drive from the Kremlin to his country house, or the special train that took him to the Black Sea and the Caucasus. His successors, his late colleagues, are changing all that. Immediately on top of the news that some of them have been making extensive "fact-finding" tours in different parts of the Soviet Union, we find them making unexpected appearances at all sorts of minor functions.

✧ ✧ ✧

FOR EXAMPLE, throughout the raions, or wards, of Moscow, the local Party associations have been holding a series of conferences; and many of these conferences, quite low-level affairs, have been graced by the presence of one or more of the all-highest. Mr. Malenkov himself appeared with Messrs. Khruschev, Ponomarenko and Pospelov at one meeting. Molotov had to tear himself away from his preparations for the Berlin conference to appear with Bulganin at another. Voroshilov and Kaganovitch separately dropped in at the meetings of the Leninsky and Kirovsky raions. Mikoyan and Pervukhin turned up together at the meeting of the Molotovsky raion.

✧ ✧ ✧

This may not be democratic; but it is something unheard of in Russia for the past twenty-five years. For the first time since Stalin gained power the Russians are being invited to think of their leading statesmen as human beings, not as obscure and unapproachable divinities — or devils. And it is this sort of things, together with the stumbling beginnings of a new freedom of expression, Government - inspired, which makes it possible to hope that the deep changes inside Russia are not, as it at first appeared, simply designed to stave off an undeniable economic crisis, but have their roots in a genuine desire to turn aside from the blighted path of Stalinism towards a richer and more human prospect.

Letters To The Editor

HUMANE SOCIETY SPEAKS

SIR: Recently we, the local Humane Society, received some publicity in your columns and although many of the comments made to us were adverse criticism, we do thank you for the publicity and stimulation.

To dispel the idea that the Humane Society are a "bunch of sentimentalists," I offer the following information piecemeal for the enlightenment of your readers, perhaps enlightenment may breed interest.

The objects of the Humane Society are: "To promote and develop public and humane sentiment and to provide effective means for the prevention of cruelty; to endeavour to secure the enactment of suitable laws; to assist in the enforcement of all laws which are designed for the protection of animals and birds; to secure by lawful means the arrest, conviction and punishment of persons violating such laws, and by means of literature and public address, to create and sustain a general interest in humane work."

Recently a humane-minded lady was approached for a $1 membership fee. She countered the request with condemnation of the society. She didn't know that: (1) The society employs a full time inspector on salary (most people get paid for a 44 hour week), (2) Although we are permitted by the police commission to hold a tag day, that no group which benefits from Community Chest does have one.

For several years the P.H.S. has not held a tag day.

With the grant received from the city and the fund allotted by the Community Chest, for both of which we are very grateful, the P.H.S. is almost able to keep out of the red. What we need is memberships of one dollar, (75 cents to non-residents) hundreds of them, or better still, thousands of them. Other cities our size have memberships in hundreds. We need junior Humane Societies and Humane Education.

The inspector is not a member of the executive. Besides a salary and a regular monthly car allowance for inside the city limits, mileage of 10c per mile is paid for outside city calls. Peterborough Humane Society has jurisdiction over a district of 60 miles radius. Just to mention one item — to ensure humane handling of animals exhibited at fairs or used on midways. Our inspector travelled over 1,200 miles to fall fairs in 1953. This alone cost the society over $120.

Let me mention one or two more of the many duties of the inspector:

He answers calls to have dogs or cats humanely disposed of. For this service the person making the request pays one dollar. If he lives outside the city, he also pays the extra mileage.

Animals taken to the shelter by the inspector may be disposed of by him 48 hours after admission. It is his responsibility that all animals sold by him go to good homes. Unspeyed female dogs are not sold, unless pure bred, which are priced accordingly. A dog which appears to be a particular pet may be held beyond the 48 hour period in the hope it may be claimed by the owner. This is left to the judgement of the inspector.

Generally speaking the society disapproves of the sale of animals from markets or stores to uninvestigated homes.

The inspector is employed by the city to remove dead animals from the street. Public health regulations call for certain restrictions if a dog bites some one. Neither of these cases are under Humane Society jurisdiction.

The society does not board animals, we have reason to hope that next summer, the society may sponsor an excellent boarding place near the city for your cat or dog while you are on holidays.

Recently "A Citizen" complained through this column re dogs in the community. Any justified complaint made to the inspector will receive his attention but anonymous calls or letters cannot be taken seriously.

Some ten days ago an article appeared in your paper regarding cruelty to a wounded deer by a group of hunters. The report must have roused the indignation of every humane reader. It is regrettable that the 30-day time limit for laying a charge had lapsed before the Humane Society were acquainted with the incident, for this reason they were unable to prosecute.

The society invites the co-operation of the public in its efforts to be a more useful organization.

To the public we extend an invitation to attend the annual meeting, in April, and any other open meetings during the year, and to express opinions and ideas. Your idea may be the one we need most.

And to all those who read this — will you entrust the Peterborough Humane Society with your membership fee, your interest and confidence and I know they will not disappoint you

Thank you,
HELEN COLE,
Secretary,
Peterborough Humane Society.

NURSING REGISTRY STATES ITS CASE

Sir: To correct the misleading comment made in the last Council meeting concerning the Community Nursing Registry, the general public should be provided with a true picture of this Community service to Peterborough. It was organized in Peterborough a little over five years ago at the request of our two local hospitals, under the policy of the Registered Nurses Association and the approval of the Provincial government. Then, as now, an acute shortage of nurse power was the reason for so doing. In order to establish a Registry, fees from subscribing nurses, the medical men and a related service which is the Victorian Order of Nurses was necessary. The income from these sources amounts to less than $4,000 per annum and the cost of operation remains practically stationary from year to year at slightly in excess of $5,000. In order that the title of Community Nursing Registry may be used, as it is in twenty-seven other cities in Ontario, it must be operated by registered nurses and must be open for service twenty-four hours a day and for seven days a week. The average salary of the three full time nurses and one part-time relief nurse is the small sum of less than twenty-one dollars a week. That is possible only because the Registry personnel are all married women operating the service from their own homes. The rent charged for housing of the office proper has been fifteen dollars a month. The annual meetings have been open to the public and we once again invite the citizens to attend the next Annual meeting on March 2, 1954, notice of which will be in The Examiner.

The nurses in charge of this service are prepared to give at any time professional advice, especially in emergency and accident cases. Calls for the Victorian Order of Nurses are handled for twenty out of twenty-four hours per day at the cost of $10.00 per month. Twenty-one thousand calls in all were answered during 1952 and over fifty per cent. of these came from the general public seeking help in times of sickness. Many people believe this to be a service set up by medical men and nurses for personal gain. That is not true. We all receive calls through the Registry but we all pay for that service. Up to the end of 1953 the citizens at the end of five years had paid nothing, until the hospital Boards of Governors decided to pay for services rendered for the year 1953. That financial assistance, together with proceeds from teas, bridges, raffles, dance and private subscriptions from grateful patients and our friends enabled us to meet our deficit by December 31, 1953. We are only too glad to continue this service but when we are openly accused in meetings of the City Council we are forced to let the citizens of Peterborough know the truth.

Firstly, an accusation was made by Alderman Patrick Anglesey that "Steam Roller Tactics" were employed by our Registry and that the $1,000 grant was proposed on the basis of inaccurate information received from us. Let me tell you neither charge is true. The subscribers to the registry knew the deadline date for listings in the 1954 Telephone Directory to be March 8 but that was not our chief concern. Because of an agreement between the registry and the medical men listed in the "If no answer call 20479" which is the Community Nursing Registry number, and the Clinic's, thirty day are allowed in which to inform the medical men in case service is to be discontinued. Because of this a meeting of the Registry Board had been called for January 19 to decide whether we should close or in the case of financial assistance from other sources, remain open. Naturally, when the Council met on January 18, most or all of the members knew we had to know the following day whether assistance was forthcoming or not. Moreover the Council was not asked for one dollar. A letter went earlier in the month to them stating that the Registry would be forced to close unless financial assistance was assured from one or more outside sources. In the meantime both hospitals had expressed their desire to see the service continued and arranged to pay for services rendered in 1954. With this in mind the majority of the members of the Council decided that the community should also pay their share for services rendered to them and thus voted $1,000 to the registry for the year 1954.

The delegation of ratepayers contended that the registry is a private business and as such not entitled to a grant. Any ratepayer or citizen of Peterborough has only to look in the Municipal Act, Section 386 which says that by-laws may be passed by councils of all municipalities for the Victorian Order of Nurses, and to any local Community Nursing Registry approved by the Registered Nurses Association of Ontario.

I wonder if those same ratepayers knew, or if the citizens of Peterborough in general know, that Alderman Patrick Anglesey has been operating a private Telephone Answering Service (T.A.S.) since June 1952, and that he had repeatedly canvassed the President, the Registrars and the Medical men, subscribers to the Community Nursing Registry; to allow him to take over this service? Naturally no such arrangement could possibly be made but Alderman Anglesey is evidently still hopeful. In his zeal to appear to try to save the city of Peterborough $1,000, could he be hiding his real personal interest in increasing the membership of his own Telephone Answering Service?

The Community Nursing Registry is a non-profit organization, operating solely as a community service and as such has a legal entity. Can Alderman Anglesey say as much for his Telephone Answering Service? Again Alderman Anglesey said that he had information concerning eight city registries, and infers that we gave misinformation to Council members concerning his self-styled "fairy godmother grants" handed out by other city councils. We too, have first hand information where such grants are concerned. As yet I have not received the 1953 annual report on Community Nursing Registries but part of the 1952 Report states; $1,500 given to Windsor Registry, municipal grant; Ottawa $600, municipal grant; London started a few years ago with a $200 grant and gradually raised to $1,000 in 1951; Cornwall received $250 for three years, then $350 for two years. Guelph, in [illegible]nted $1,000 from the Community Chest and Sault Ste. Marie has been receiving from the Community Chest a percentage of receipts which in 1951 amounted to $1,472 which was a reduction from former years.

Much more information could be given but let me assure such information will be gladly given any citizen if they wish to call Mrs. M. B. Pringle at the Community Nursing Registry, Dial 20479.

(MRS.) EVA BRECKENRIDGE
President,
Community Nursing Registry.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Arise, shine; for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee. For, behold, the darkness shall cover the earth, and gross darkness the people; but the Lord shall rise upon thee, and his glory shall be seen upon thee. And the Gentiles shall come to thy light, and kings to the brightness of thy rising. (Isa. 60:1-3.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Philip saith unto him, Lord shew us the Father, and it sufficeth us.

Jesus saith unto him, Have I been so long time with you, and yet hast thou not known me, Philip? he that hath seen me hath seen the Father; and how sayest thou then, Shew us the Father? Believest thou not that I am in the Father, and the Father in me? the words that I speak unto you I speak not of myself; but the Father that dwelleth in me, he doth the works . . . Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father. (John 14:8-10, 12.)

✧ ✧ ✧

But when the Comforter is come, whom I shall send unto you from the Father, even the Spirit of Truth, which proceedeth from the Father, he shall testify of me; and ye also shall bear witness, because ye have seen me from the beginning. (John 15:26, 27.)

✧ ✧ ✧

I have yet many things to say unto you, but ye cannot bear them now. Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak: and he will shew you things to come. He shall glorify me: for he shall receive of mine, and shall shew it unto you. (John 16:12-14.)

Unconsidered Trifles

A film magnate notorious for long after-dinner speeches now expresses himself with brevity. He explains: "During one of my speeches one man said to another: "What follows this speaker?" And the other replied, "Wednesday."

A young man was being medically examined for military service. He pleaded that his sight was weak. He could make nothing of the type on the M.O.'s ordinary test-card. Larger type was held up, but still he couldn't read it. At last the M.O. held a huge tin tray about a foot from his nose.

"Can you see that?" he demanded.

"Yes."

"What is it?"

"Er — a quarter."

Noticing that his Scottish guide went bareheaded in all sorts of weather, the London sportsman made him a gift of a fur cap, the kind that has heavy ear flaps for extra warmth.

On his next visit to the lodge he asked the old Scot how he liked the cap.

"I hae not wore it since the accident," was the gloomy reply.

"What accident?"

"Jock MacLeod offered to buy me a drink," sighed the guide, "and I didna hear him."

Simcoe East To Vote On Monday

ORILLIA (CP)—The Central Ontario constituency of Simcoe East votes Monday in the second provincial by-election since the Progressive Conservative administration of Premier Leslie Frost was returned in the 1951 general election.

The first was in Niagara Falls constituency last Oct. 26 when Arthur Jolley, Progressive Conservative, won out in a seat which went Liberal in 1951.

The voting in this area 75 miles north of Toronto will give the government its first test of strength since reports alleging fraud in contracts for highway construction in northern and northwestern Ontario were published late last month. Several cases arising from contracts are before the courts at the Lakehead and Premier Frost has ordered an investigation by a private firm of management consultants.

The Simcoe East seat was left vacant by the death last December of Dr. John D. McPhee, Progressive Conservative member of the Legislature for the last two years.

Dr. McPhee polled 8,644 votes in the 1951 provincial election to 5,069 for John R. MacIsaac, Liberal, and 1,741 for CCF candidate Wilfred Hoult who is running again.

THREE CANDIDATES

Candidates for the traditionally Conservative seat—its last Liberal member sat during the Hepburn regime of the '30s—are Mr. Hoult of Orillia, CCF; Lloyd Letherby, Coldwater, Progressive Conservative; and William L. Moore, Orillia, Liberal.

Mr. Hoult is president of the Orillia carpenters' union. He has been active in labor affairs and community life for several years. He has run in several previous provincial and municipal elections and came third in the contest for the Simcoe East seat in the 1951 election.

Mr. Letherby, an insurance man, has lived in the district all his life and is known throughout the riding. He has led the Simcoe East Progressive Conservative Association for several years.

Mr. Moore is a lawyer in the Orillia firm of Moore and Carter. He served in the navy during the Second World War. Leader of the Simcoe East Liberal Association for several years, he made one previous run as a candidate and was defeated by Dr. McPhee.

The 22,316 eligible voters can cast their ballots at 99 polls and two advance polls. Voting hours will be from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. EST. Orillia is in the riding, which also embraces the townships of Orillia, Oro, Matchedash, Medonte and Tay and the communities of Midland, Victoria Harbor and Port McNicoll.

Card Party Sponsored By Stirling WI

STIRLING (ENS)—The Stirling Women's Institute sponsored a successful card party with 11 tables in play at the community hall. Players were present from Wallbridge, Mount Pleasant, Frankford, Belleville and Oak Lake.

Winners were Mrs. Maude Ford, ladies' high; Mrs. Florence Morrow, ladies' low; Mrs. Luella Bronson, gentlemen's high Percy McMullen, gentlemen's low.

Lunch was served. The committee in charge comprised Mrs. S. Kirby, Mrs. Clara Wright, Mrs. Don Thompson and Mrs. Mabel Megginson.

QUADS' BIRTHDAY — The Badgett quadruplets, of Galveston, Tex., are shown as they posed for their 15th birthday picture. To date the four girls, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. W. Ellis Badgett, have been able to be what they want the most, to be recognized as individuals. They wear different styles of clothes and comb their hair differently. The girls, 15 years old, are 9th Grade junior high school students. Standing are Jeraldine, left, and Jeanette. Seated are Joan, left, and Joyce.

Alleged Hydro Irregularities Infuriate Quebec Premier

QUEBEC (CP)—Quebec's Premier Duplessis and the Montreal morning newspaper Le Devoir tangled Thursday night in a series of angry recriminations.

During a legislative debate touched off by a challenge from Opposition leader Georges Lapalme who demanded that the premier deny charges of irregularities in the construction of the huge Bersimis power development, Mr. Duplessis lashed out at the paper and its parliamentary correspondent.

Red in the face with anger, the 63-year-old premier jumped up and denounced the paper and its correspondent, Pierre Laporte, for a series of articles on the $225,000,000 hydro-Quebec project in the wilds of northeastern Quebec.

The French-language paper, he said, was pandering to "the vilest instincts of yellow journalism and the most ignoble sentiments" in the articles.

DENIES ENGINEERS QUIT

He said he had not read the series, but contents of one of them titled "The More It Costs, the More it Pays" had been reported to him. He branded as false statements in it that seven engineers quit their jobs rather than pad payrolls.

Mr. Duplessis then turned on Mr. Laporte, saying the writer had once asked him to have a special bill passed to settle family affairs.

The bill had been passed and the reporter should now at least behave decently even if he showed no gratitude.

Mr. Laporte, silent in the legislative press gallery while the premier was speaking, afterwards issued a statement calling the premier's account of what happened "fantastic."

The incident occurred some years ago and had concerned his grandfather. He recalled that at the time Mr. Duplessis had termed it a good bill.

"Mr. Duplessis said he rendered me an immense service," the reporter said. "Following his attack, I consider myself even with him."

PAPER CHIDES PREMIER

Today in Montreal, Le Devoir carried a signed editorial by its assistant editor-in-chief, Andre Laurendeau, defending the writer.

"If he was wrong, let him be proved wrong," Mr. Laurendeau wrote.

"Personal attacks don't prove anything," the editorial continued. "Mr. Duplessis gives the impression of wanting to avoid the issue. Does he think he can convince us in that way that Pierre Laporte is wrong? Does he think he can persuade us that these articles haven't hit home?"

The paper asked why its reporter should feel bound by the fact that Mr. Duplessis had once obtained passage of the private members bill, and said if it were wrong at the time Mr. Duplessis should have opposed it.

"We are ashamed as French-Canadians with the premier's conduct," the paper added.

LAPALME DEFENDS WRITER

In the House Mr. Lapalme also defended the reporter.

"It does not matter what the premier may have granted him. In the past I have given money to friends who went over to the Union Nationale (Mr. Duplessis' party) but I will never give their names."

Mr. Lapalme said Le Devoir had published its views openly, knowing it could be dragged into court if what it said was untrue.

The Bersimis project, second largest hydro-electric scheme in Canada, will provide 1,200,000 horsepower when completed in 1961.

Earlier the legislative council passed a bill providing stiffer penalties for errant motorists and establishing separate speed-limits—60 m.p.h. for automobiles and 45 for buses and heavy trucks.

Buck Rogers, Flash Gordon Up To No Good—Russ Writer

By RICHARD KASISCHKE

MOSCOW (AP)—Take it from the Soviet press, Captain Video, Buck Rogers, Flash Gordon and the rest of the United States space boys are up to no good. They're the vanguard of a new and greater "American imperialism" aimed at conquering other planets.

This is the judgment of one G. Avarin, writing in the Soviet periodical "Art of the Cinema." His article is entitled, "Hollywood looks to the future."

Even if the Americans can't get to those other planets yet, says Avarin, they're using the space films to scare the United States taxpayer so badly that he won't mind paying the bill for rearming. According to the Soviet writer the destruction of New York shown in the movie 'When Worlds Collide' is an attempt to give "the common American man a deadly fright and to justify the armaments race."

NOT GOOD ACTOR

At least one space man isn't even a good actor in the Soviet view. Avarin described swimming star Buster Crabbe as "one of the nine pseudo-actors who played Tarzan in the Hollywood films." He told his readers Buster played Flash Gordon "quite colorlessly."

Avarin reported that Flash, Buck Video, Superman and Bruce Gentry "show all kinds of atomic, electric and thermo weapons, explosive flying disks, atom eyes, stratoplanes, cosmo-vibrators and other weapons of mass destruction."

The critic said such "atomists" as Bernard Baruch and the late defence secretary James V. Forrestal ordered Hollywood to launch the space campaign when the U.S. thought it had a monopoly on the atom bomb. The purpose: "To do everything possible to frighten the forces of peace and democracy with the United States atom-bomb monopoly."

SEES NEW PHASE

But when Russia exploded her bomb, Avarin continued, Hollywood entered a new phase. The movie men "foretold the inevitability of interplanetary wars and propagandized the idea of conquering the universe" in such epics as "Destination Moon," "When Worlds Collide," "The Red Planet Mars," and even "animated cartoons like Superman."

To Avarin, the space films have several other evil purposes:

1. To "incite hatred against the U.S.S.R. and the people's democracies."

2. To preach "the futility of life, the futility of the struggle for peace and progress in the face of the approaching universal catastrophe."

3. "To propagandize reactionary, racial and hate theories, by teaching audiences a 'taste' for the conquest of new territories and the killing off of the 'inferior' populations of other and, for some unknown reason, hostile planets."

19th Century House Razed

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP) — An early 19th-century house, one of the city's oldest landmarks, is being demolished.

Built during the reign of George IV, the house survived the great fires of 1846 and 1892. It has been condemned by the city as unfit for habitation.

The walls are covered with 14-inch Mississippi hemlock boards. Over this heavy lathwork supports thick plaster. The studding is pine, still solid.

In the original fireplace, now boarded over, hang iron pots and pokers covered with the dust of years.

Identity of the builder of the old landmark at 36 Duckworth street is unknown, but the house has changed hands several times in the last decade.

Taylor, Rhee Meet

SEOUL (AP)—Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, United States 8th Army commander, flew today to Pusan for a meeting with President Syngman Rhee and Gen. John E. Hull, United Nations commander in chief. A spokesman for President Rhee declined to comment on the purpose of the meeting.

French Fine American

PARIS (Reuters) — A French court Thursday fined a Kansas sergeant $15 for slapping he face of a Paris cafe proprietress. Police said the brawl started when Sgt. Charles Sieben, 23, mistook singing Bretons for Communists and tried to throw them out of the "jockey" bar.

Blind Lead Blind

NEW YORK (AP) — When a minor fire broke out in Brooklyn's industrial home for the blind Thursday, 25 blind supervisors led 75 blind workers to safety, with the aid of three seeing-eye dogs.

Not Certain Death Penalty Worth While

OTTAWA (CP)—A government nominee to the parliamentary committee which will study the death penalty said Thursday he wonders whether the penalty stops enough potential murderers to justify "the degrading effect in the community of state executions."

Senator A. W. Roebuck, attorney-general of Ontario from 1934 to 1937, spoke during debate on a government motion naming him and eight other Senators as members of a joint committee of the Commons and Senate to study the death penalty, whipping and lotteries. Debate on the motion was adjourned.

"The question in my mind as we approach this subject is whether the death penalty is a sufficient deterrent to murder, above any other type of punishment, to justify the renown it lends to the criminal and capital trials and the degrading effect in the community of state executions," he said.

MUST STUDY PENALTY

"The committee must study the death penalty as to whether it is a sufficient deterrent to warrant its retention despite the other objectionable features or whether it would be possible and advisable to follow the trend of the last few hundred years."

This brought a protest from Senator W. M. Aseltine (PC—Saskatchewan), another nominee for the committee, who said he thinks such remarks before the committee begins investigation are improper and might influence him.

Start New Building

TORONTO (CP) — Construction of a new $2,600,000 treasury building for the Ontario government has been started on the east side of the Parliament buildings here. The six-storey building will be connected to the east block of the building by a tunnel.

No Authority To Test Worship Act

OTTAWA (CP)—Justice Minister Garson said Thursday there is no legal authority for a joint application by the federal and Quebec governments to the Supreme Court of Canada to test the validity of the province's new Freedom of Worship Act.

He was asked in the Commons by M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, whether the federal government will approach the Quebec government to seek a supreme court ruling on the act.

The act, recently passed by the Quebec Legislature, outlaws the distribution of pamphlets or other information containing material which attacks churches and religious organizations.

Mr. Coldwell asked if the federal government will seek a joint application to the supreme court to decide whether the act constitutes an amendment to the Criminal Code and is "of doubtful validity."

Under the constitution, criminal law is a federal responsibility.

Mr. Garson said there is no legal authority for the two governments to act jointly in sending a reference to the supreme court.

Aces and Shamrocks Capture Minor City Puck Titles In Juvenile, Midget, Bantam

Peterborough Aces captured the minor city hockey championship over Oddfellows at Civic Arena last night, as the bantam and midget Shamrocks also came through against Aces in their brackets to take PMHA titles in final playoff games before provincial playdowns beckoh the victors. The bantam Shamrocks, who were down 4-1 to Aces from the first playoff a week ago, showed a reversal of form to win 7-2 last night, taking the round by an 8-6 count. The winners are coached by Pat Doherty, with Dave Hayes the manager. This same pair saw their midget Shamrocks lose 3-0 to the battling Aces, but an 8-0 lead in the first game gave Shamrocks the round 8-3.

WRAP UP SERIES

The juvenile Aces, coached by Bill Crowley and managed by Angus Bradley, had won the opener by a 7-2 score and they yanked out a 4-3 decision Thursday night to wrap up the round by an 11-5 count before a fair-sized crowd of puck fans. Arrangements will be announced shortly for OMHA bantam, midget and juvenile "A" playdowns.

In the juvenile joust last evening, Goldie and Hunt scored early for Oddfellows, with Kane getting one back in the first frame for Aces on a play with Ferren and Floyd. McDonald tallied for IOOF in the second heat, and Brooks scored from Strickland for the Aces. The latter clinched the series with two in the third, Floyd and Brooks hitting the hemp. Play was clean all the way and fast, the winners getting two of the three minor penalties handed out. Teams:

Aces — Masterson, Pollard, Chambers, Kane, Floyd, Ferren, Parry, Stewart, Smith, Strickland, Godfrey, McFadden, Doris, Brooks.

Oddfellows — Hobart, Jones, Gray, Heron, Lang, Hunt, Pagett, Renwick, McDonald, Roy, Goldie, Johnson, Allen.

MIDGET FRAY

Parnell notched the only goal of the first period for Aces as Shamrocks were blanked. Heffernan hit the twine twice for Aces in the second heat, McArthur getting an assist. The losers on the game drew three of the five penalties in clean but keen play as the boys battled hard, Aces making a real showing but having too big a deficit to overcome the first tilt. Teams:

Aces — Hickson, McNamee, Baker, Heffernan, Murphy, Naish, Towns, Brown, Ferguson, Kinlin, Stewart, McArthur, Parnell.

Shamrocks—Welsh, Riel, Forestell, Craig, Darling, Mahoney, Baker, Pace, Daly, Coombes, Armstrong, Stewart, Olmstead.

AN EARLY LEAD

Shamrocks racked up a 4-1 lead in the initial inning of their bantam playoff last night. McFadden struck for the hat-trick, banging home three goals, with Doughty getting the other. DeNoble, McCarthy, Nichols and Copping each earned an assist. Fitzgerald tallied from Vilneff for Aces. In the second heat, DeNoble and Doughty tallied for Shamrocks, Delpellaro helping on one. Allen notched the last marker for Aces, with Billingsley and Anthony in on the play. Nichols finished it up with a solo thrust in the third to score. Shamrocks drew four of the six penalties in another wide-open contest. Teams:

Aces—Reid, Knox, Vilneff, Bignell, Allen, Finney, Fitzgerald, Barber, Sorrie, Julian, McIntosh, Billingsley, Quinlan, Anthony, Wade.

Shamrocks — Roy, Delpellaro, DeNoble, McFadden, Shearer, McCarthy, Nichols, Copping, Tucker, Moffat, Meagher, Doughty, Vanastry.

Referees, E. Woodcock, J. Hawthorne, L. Williams, W. Romhanyi.

Curling News

By HERB MARTIN

We have been asked by many of our friends who take time out to read this column, if we would have the little piece entitled "The Game Guys' Prayer."

Yes, we have it. It came to us many years ago, and at that time we did print it. It appeared in the schedule book of the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club. However, if you have never read it before, it is worth your while to do so now; and if you have read it before, it will do you no harm to read it again:

THE GAME GUYS' PRAYER

Dear God:

Help me to be a sport in this little game of life.

I don't ask for any easy place in the line-up; play me anywhere You may need me.

If all the hard drives seem to come my way, I thank You for the compliment.

Help me to remember that You won't let anything come my way that You and I together can't handle.

Help me to understand that the game is full of knots and knocks and troubles, and make me thankful for them.

And, O God, help me to always play on the square; no matter what the other players do, help me to come clean.

Help me to study the Book so that I'll know the rules, and to study and think a lot about the Greatest Player that ever lived, and other great players that are told about in the Book.

Help me to be a regular feller with the other players.

Finally, O God, if fate comes to uppercut me with both hands and I'm laid on the shelf in sickness or old age or something, help me to take that as a part of the game, too.

Help me not to whimper or squeal that the game was a frame-up or that I had a raw deal.

And when in falling dusk I get the final bell, I ask for no lying complimentary stones. I'd only like to know that You feel that I've been a good game guy.

Havelock Bantams Take Playoff Lead

HAVELOCK (ENS) — Only a fair-sized crowd watched Havelock goalie Garry Whitney get his first shutout of the season Thursday night when Havelock bantams trounced Madoc 16-0 in the first game of the home-and-home playoff series, total goals to count.

Most of the action was in the third period when Havelock scored nine of their goals.

Bob MacMillan was top scorer with four goals and an assist, followed by Bill Watson with three goals and an assist. Little, Chase and McLaughlin each scored a goal, with the former doing stellar work on defence.

Only two penalties were handed out, one to each team.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Lloyd Percival, who has been offered the spot as head coach of track and field for Canada at the 1954 British Empire Games, recently put out a booklet "How to be Physically Fit." He says surveys show that but one Canadian in five is in really tip-top physical shape. As undoubtedly we are among the four, it behooved us to take a gander at the book's contents. A random glance at page six and this question jumped out: "Can you do a high kick with either leg to a height higher than head?" Golly, no, we'd wind up like a pretzel! But a closer study showed this was a questionnaire for girls only—the boys having other pages—and we recall seeing many girls who could kick that high with ease. There was the Avenue Burlesque in Detroit . . .

* * * * * *

However, many good tips on keeping in condition appear in the booklet for femmes and fellows. Good health is highly important and older folks realize this often after it's too late. As the jingle goes:

He spent his health to get his wealth
And then with might and main,
He turned about and spent his wealth
To get his health again.

Much simpler to preserve that health in the first place, wouldn't you say? Proper food and sleep, right sort of exercise for one's age, lots of outdoors, and learn to relax. It'll all be the same 100 years from now—so why worry? These are the things to remember and work on for physical fitness.

Get Away From Junior "A"

Some talk again of the NHL dropping junior "A" sponsorship An item from Kitchener says: "A junior hockey man pretty close to the picture says NHL teams will consider the subject in detail at a meeting shortly. Some of them favor switching their support to juvenile leagues where all the money can be devoted to providing equipment and where there is no long salary to eat up the receipts Said he talked with scouts of three NHL organizations and they all had the same ideas. Some of these pro clubs have heavy investments and they might lose players with such a switch. But everyone agrees something will have to be done and soon."

* * * * * *

Yes, the tendency in recent winters is for NHL scouts to take a sharper look at junior "B" and juvenile amateur pucksists. They like to get promising material young and they don't like to invest too much money on the amateur clubs. That's why both Boston Bruins and Detroit Wings have shown interest in a number of young Peterborough puckists. And Leafs liked a few district kids enough to put 'em in St. Mike's where they'll get a good hockey grounding and a chance to move up the ladder. Junior "A" is fine hockey, of course, but it's getting very expensive for the number of graduates who make the major league grade. So, many changes may be made in NHL sponsorship ere too long.

Senior Race Keeps Close

Present standing in Central Ontario's lively OHA senior "B" puck group has Petes and Oshawa on top with 36 points apiece, while Kingston is close behind with 33. Orillia comes next with 31, and Belleville boasts but 22 points. The 1953 provincial championship Kingston Goodyears come here tonight in an important tilt with the TPT-ers, the first local showing of the K's in more than a month. A win for 'em would pull Goodyears up to within half a game of the loop leadership, whereas a local triumph would put the Petes on top alone again. That leading position could be brief, too, as there are two Saturday scraps, Orillia at Kingston, and Belleville at Oshawa.

* * * * * *

Just about three weeks left of the long, keen race, ere group semi-final playoffs loom. After tonight, Ed Redmond's men have but three more home games, as well as three on the road. They trek to Orillia on their last schedule trip next Tuesday, and have Oshawa Truckmen up this way on Friday, Feb. 12. Orillia and Kingston come here late ere the schedule concludes on Feb. 27. Petes also have to go before then to Oshawa and to Kingston. Semi-finals call for the No. 1 and 4 teams to tangle, as the No. 2 and No. 3 finishers mix it, the series being best-of-five. Group finals are best-of-seven, with the winner liable to step right into Ontario semi-finals. Yes, the winter is gradually slipping along and hot hockey is on tap the rest of the route.

Decides To Bench Goalie Nick Pidsodny

WINDSOR (CP)—Coach Murph Chamberlain of the Windsor Bulldogs Thursday night decided to bench goalie Nick Pidsodny for the Bulldogs' Senior OHA game against Owen Sound Mercurys Saturday night.

Monty Reynolds will replace Pidsodny for at least one game. Chamberlain said it would depend on how the team did whether Pidsodny is back in the nets for the next game. He said he has been dissatisfied with the goalie's play recently.

Young's Point Outlasts Hiawatha 9-7

YOUNG'S POINT (ENS) — Wednesday night saw an action-packed feature as Hiawatha and Young's Point tangled in their first EPHL meeting.

The game was played in Lakefield arena before a good crowd, with Young's Point winning 9-7.

Play got off to a fast start with both teams showing up well, and it was not until 5.50 that Brydges (Anderson) opened the scoring for Hiawatha. Shortly after the halfway mark, Young's Point netted their first marker, D. Heard scoring from D. McIsaac and J. Fawcett. S. McNaughton received the first penalty, for tripping, at 10.58 and while Young's Point was a man short, Brydges got his second counter on a pass from D. Musgrave.

Another quick goal by B. Cowie (D. Musgrave) gave the visitors a 3-1 lead. Each team was penalized once for holding the puck, Darling going off for Young's Point at 14.33 and Brydges for Hiawatha two minutes later. Young's Point came back strong in the closing minutes of the period with K. Fawcett and J. Blewett each scoring on two nice passing plays, D. Musgrave (B. Cowie) once again put Hiawatha in the lead in the dying seconds of the period.

The second frame saw Young's Point hold a definite edge on the play, while Hiawatha led in the penalty division. K. Fawcett (J. Blewett) tied the score at 4-4, and B. Evans (K. Fawcett) scored Young's Point's fifth goal a few minutes later. At the 13-minute mark, G. Henry and Brydges were banished for high sticking and while they were off J. Blewett again blinked the red light, an assist going to K. Fawcett. J. Stock collected Hiawatha's only goal of the period at 14.03. Other penalties of the period went to Brydges and H. Steenburgh, both for interference.

The final frame saw penalties aplenty as tempers flared, including majors to L. Salleby and K. Fawcett for fighting and a match misconduct to Brydges. D. Musgrave scored for Hiawatha early in the period to tie the score 6-6.

Soon after this, the referees had a busy few minutes as a fight broke out between the two teams, with L. Salleby and K. Fawcett as the main contenders. They both drew major penalties. A few seconds later J. Stock was given the gate for tripping and while both teams were short-handed, D. Heard scored twice to put Young's Point ahead and G. Henry (Evans) made it 9-6.

G. Salleby received a hooking penalty about the halfway mark and Brydges was waved off for the same offence at 12.54. He refused the penalty and was removed from the game with a match misconduct penalty for hitting the referee. Paudash was next in line with a penalty for elbowing. Hiawatha's final goal was scored by L. Salleby from G. Salleby, and the game ended 9-7 for the homesters.

High scorers for the evening were Blewett and K. Fawcett, with two goals and three assists each, and D. Heard with three goals. D. Musgrave led Hiawatha with two goals and two assists. The next meeting between these two clubs takes place Friday night in Keene.

Young's Point—Coal, Spencely; defence, R. Freeburn, G. Shearer; centre, Heard; wings, McIsaac, J. Fawcett; alternates, Evans, Henry, K. Fawcett, Russelle, Darling, J. Northey, B. Shearer, Blewett, McNaughton.

Hiawatha—Goal, Atchison; defence, Anderson, W. Steenburgh; centre, Stock; wings, Cowie, Paudash; alternates, Heafield, L. Salleby, G. Salleby, E. Musgrave, W. Thomson, D. Musgrave, Morgan, Brydges, H. Steenburgh.

Referees, L. Williams, D. McCracken.

St. Peter's Girls Swamp Lakefield, Enter Playoffs

St. Peter's High School junior girls' basketball quintette became the first Peterborough team to earn a playoff position Thursday night when they romped to an easy 32-12 victory over Lakefield High. Actually the Saints' lasses had only to defeat Lakefield High twice to advance into the school playdowns. But the Saints also played exhibition games against the quintettes from PCVS and Kenner Collegiate.

The Saints will now advance into the COSSA junior "B" playdowns next week, first meeting Port Hope High in a two-game points-to-count series. The first game of this series will be played Thursday night at St. Peter's gym, beginning at 8. The Saints will play another exhibition game with Kenner Collegiate girls on Tuesday night.

The Saints' experience was too much for the Lakefield girls who were playing their first year of basketball. Just the same the Saints were troubled by the Lakefield quintet, especially in the last half when the Lakefield guard line became hard to break.

Only a large first half score enabled them to take the large-margin victory. After that the Lakefield girls played better both offensively and defensively, outscoring the Saints 9-7 in the last quarter.

Led by star, Joanne Kearns, the Saints went ahead 16-1 in the first quarter and then 24-3 at half-time as Mary Crilly joined Kearns to iden the margin. The Lakefield guards checked well in the third and the score was only 25-3 at three-quarter time.

Kearns easily led the scoring with 13 while teammates Mary Crilly had eight, Mickie McNaughton 4, Joan Heard 3, Marg Crilly and Rosemary DeCarlo two each. Jeannette Staples led the Lakefield High scoring with six, Jean Calvert scoring three, Ann Brown two and Ann Wilson one.

Lakefield, Keene Draw 2-2 In Tight Contest

Playing in Lakefield before a slim crowd, Lakefield and Keene played to a two-all tie in one of the best games played in the East Peterborough hockey league.

The teams played to a one-all tie in the first period as Lakefield's D. Sloan scored, assisted by J. Sloan and Heffernan, and McFarlane, helped by Houle for Keene. After a scoreless second period the teams again matched each other goal for goal in the third Knox from J. Sloan and Calberry for Lakefield, Davidson from McCarthy for Keene. There was no overtime.

In the close, fast game the teams weren't bothered too much by penalties. There were only three handed out, two to Keene's Davidson and one to Lakefield's Heffernan.

LINEUPS

Lakefield — goal, Wasson; defence, Calberry, Calberry; centre, Hopkins; wings, Sloan, Knox; alt., Heffernan, Downs, J. Sloan, McCracken, McIlwain, Coons, Paterson.

Leafs Pull Upset Whip Canadiens 4-2 In Montreal

By JIM BASTABLE, Canadian Press Staff Writer

There was a new look around the National Hockey League today and indications that playoff forecasters may be crossed up before the 70-game schedule ends next month. Toronto Maple Leafs, the team coach King Clancy said would come along late but strong, are in second place and New York Rangers are still showing signs of overhauling Boston Bruins for the last playoff berth in the race for the Stanley Cup. Many fans figured the Leafs were a cinch to make the playoffs but few expected them to knock the powerful Montreal Canadiens out of second place. They did it Thursday night by beating Canadiens 4-2 in Montreal.

Meanwhile, the Rangers, virtually counted out of the running until they brought up veteran Doug Bentley to go with their youngsters, came from behind to beat Chicago Black Hawks 3-2 in Chicago. The victory left Rangers only one point behind the Bruins, beaten 5-0 by the league-leading Red Wings in Detroit.

BIG MARGIN

The victory gave the Red Wings 67 points, nine more than the Leafs. The Rangers have 47, one behind the Bruins.

It was the Leaf-Canadiens game that upset the odds-makers and made Clancy look good on his prediction that "we'll move into second place against Montreal and then just watch us go."

The 14,538 fans were banking on a Montreal win because the Leafs had not beaten Canadiens in the Forum in four games this year.

There was little doubt about this one as the Leafs took a 3-0 lead in the first period, led 3-1 at the end of the second and split two goals in the third period. The Leafs outshot Canadiens 38-14 in doing it.

All Leaf goals came from left-wingers. Gord Hannigan scored two of them. The others were tallied by Harry Watson and Sid Smith.

RICHARD SCORES

Maurice Richard and Floyd Curry scored for Canadiens. Coach Dick Irvin made a change in his first line, sending in rookie Jean Beliveau to centre Richard and Bert Olmstead, Beliveau, replacing Ken Mosdell on the line, got an assist.

At Chicago, centre Don Raleigh scored one goal and set up another to spark the Rangers. Raleigh sent Nick Mickoski into the clear in the second period and scored in the second for a lead the Rangers never lost. Dean Prentice tallied the other New York goal. Bill Mosienko gave the last-place Hawks a 1-0 lead at 17:52 of the first period but Jack McIntyre scored at 14:12 of the last period for the other Chicago goal.

Detroit leftwinger Ted Lindsay fired two goals that started the Wings off to their win and goaltender Terry Sawchuk's ninth shutout. Glen Skov, Red Kelly and Johnny Wilson added the others.

Pranteau Leading In Dog Sled Race

THE PAS, Man. (CP)—Steve Pranteau of Grand Rapids, Man., continues to break trail with one lap remaining in the 200-mile Canadian open dog sled championships.

At the end of the third lap, the 33 miles from Flin Flon to Cranberry Portage, the total elapsed time for the Indian fisherman was 16 hours and 47 minutes.

After an overnight rest, the five mushers still in the running will set out through snow made soggy by an early thaw on the final lap to The Pas, where a $1,000 first prize awaits the winner.

Second at the end of three laps was Gilbert LaValee, Pine Bluff, Man., trapper, with a total time of 17 hours, 16½ minutes. Third was Phillip Carriere, Cumberland House, Sask., 18 hours, 15 minutes.

Sled Dog Derby In Ottawa After One Year

OTTAWA (CP)—The fifth running of Ottawa's international sled dog derby will hit the frozen trail here next week after a lapse of one year.

A record entry list of 25 top-ranking mushers from Canada and the United States will send their dogs over a 66-mile course Feb. 9-10 with drivers combining the best elapsed time in two daily 33-mile heats winning $1,000 in cash and a gold challenge cup.

Poor snow conditions forced cancellation of last year's derby. But this year the weatherman has turned a benign smile on the capital and derby committee members expect trail conditions to be ideal.

The race will start and finish on the frozen Rideau canal near the Union Station.

Canadian mushers have won the last three meets.

Bill Shearer of East Jaffrey, N.H. won the derby in 1949.

NOTED MUSHERS

Wilf Lepine, 33-year-old lanky, sure-footed musher from Quebec city, captured the gold challenge trophy in 1950 and 1952 and Emile Martel, 41, of Lorretteville, Que., won in 1951.

Shearer, Lepine and Martel all will be competing again this year.

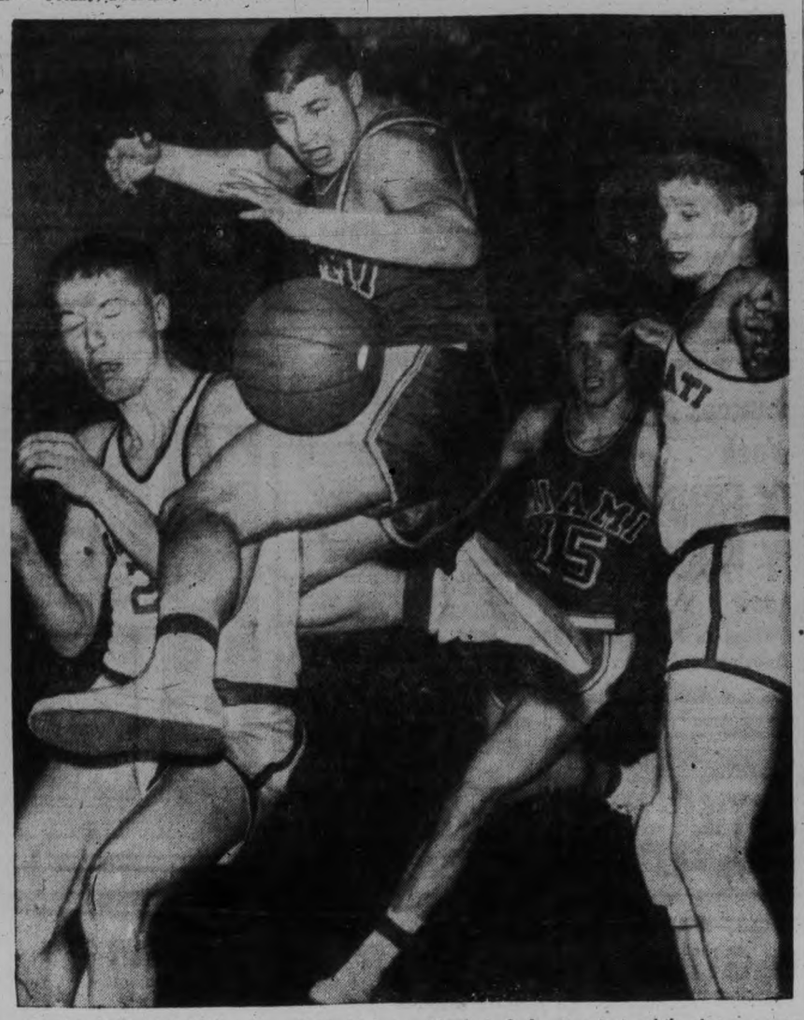
So far, three women have entered. They are Mrs. Bunty Dunlop of Burlington, Ont., who captured the capital sweepstakes for women in 1952, Mrs. Jean Lane of Lunenburg, Mass., and a newcomer, pretty 17-year-old Sandra Stiles of Ottawa, daughter of a well-known musher.

Also expected to be included among the U.S. competitors are Dr. Roland Lombard, Auburndale, Mass., Dr. Charles Belford, Deerfield, Mass., and Tat Duval, 35-year-old drug salesman from East Jaffrey.

Running under the Canadian army colors will be Sgt. Denny Hayes of Ottawa, who is making his third entry in the international derby.

Other Canadian mushers entered are the Brunet brothers, Ernest and Albert of Gatineau Point., Que., Fern Telmosse, Deschenes, Que., Don McFaul, Maniwaki, Que., and Ed Derraugh, Hull, Que.

Mayor Charlotte Whitton will fire the starting gun.



LOOK OUT BELOW!—Darrell Hedric, of Miami University, looks like the famed man on the flying trapeze as he goes off the floor for a loose ball in a game with Cincinnati. The gent at the left seems disgusted with the whole situation, while the man at the right is more than flabbergasted. Gary Dillon (15) also seems overwhelmed. Cincinnati finally won by 66-58—but does that matter?

TO HEAR SUIT AGAINST CLUB

HAMILTON (CP)—A civil suit for $10,000, brought by quarterback Stan Heath against the Hamilton Tiger-Cats football club of the Big Four and Coach Carl Voyles, will be heard Feb. 15 before Mr. Justice J. L. McLennan of the Ontario Supreme Court.

Heath claims Voyles and the club broke a no-release contract calling for $9,500 for a 14-game schedule.

The Tiger-Cats, who obtained Heath from Calgary Stampeders of the Western Interprovincial Football Union, cut him in October after he played in two games. The Big Four club said his injured right arm hadn't healed.

Heath seeks the $9,500 plus another $500 for general damages.

An attempt to settle the suit out of court ended in failure.

SOME GOOD NEWS

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Outfielder Dave Philley has returned three unsigned contracts to the Philadelphia Athletics, and the Philadelphia Phillies have received two rejects from pitcher Jim Konstanty.

The only bright news on the Philadelphia baseball scene was a telephone call from first baseman Eddie Waitkus that he was satisfied with the second contract Phillies owner Bob Carpenter mailed him.

Waitkus, a sparkling glove man, hit .291 in 81 games with the Phillies in 1953.

Philley had his finest major league season in 1953, hitting .303 for the Athletics. Konstanty, who won 14 and lost 10 for the Phillies last season insists he could have done even better if given the chance. The bespectacled right-hander, most valuable player in the National League in 1950, said he had a 10-4 record by mid-season, but that after the all-star game he made only two starts.

MONOPOLY CHARGE FAILS

NEW YORK (AP)—The government lost a monopoly suit Thursday against the International Boxing Club as the major promoter of professional championship boxing matches.

Federal Judge Gregory F. Noonan dismissed a government action against the IBC of New York and Chicago, and their three principal stockholders, the Madison Square Garden Corp., James D. Norris of New York City and Arthur M. Wirtz of Chicago.

The judge said he was following a principle laid down last fall by the U.S. Supreme Court in throwing out an anti-trust action against organized baseball.

The government charged the promoters with restraint and monopoly in violation of the Sherman anti-trust act.

Judge Noonan listened to about 40 minutes of argument, then dismissed the suit.

"I feel the principle in this case is the same as that decided in the Supreme Court and I will follow Judge (John C.) Knox's ruling in the Shubert case," he said.

In the latter case, Judge Knox held that the Shubert's legitimate theatres were in the entertainment field and not subject to anti-trust laws. Similar reasoning was set by the Supreme Court in the baseball case.

Mercs Come Through, Trip Tigers 7-5

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Owen Sound Mercurys, known to come through when the chips are down, did it again Thursday night.

Falling down in the first half of the game and allowing Hamilton Tigers a 5-1 lead, the Mercurys rebounded with six unanswered goals in the last half to take a 7-5 victory.

The victory hoisted the Mercs to within two points of first-place Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen in the Ontario Hockey Association Senior A series.

Owen Sound matched Hamilton's first marker early in the game but slipped while the Tigers added three more in the first period.

Opening the scoring in the second the Tigers increased their lead to 5-1. That was all.

Starting at 12:21 of the second, Owen Sound fought back into contention by scoring three times within two minutes and then knotted the count with 40 seconds of the middle period remaining.

SKOV SCORED WINNER

Elmer Skov won it with less than four minutes to go in the game and Vern Gardiner scored the clincher with five seconds left. It was his second goal of the night. Skov also got two. Others went to Jerry Reid, Bill McComb and Doug Gillespie.

Bill Hammond scored twice for Hamilton as did Hub Anslow. Jack Taylor notched a single.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Indians defeated North Bay Trappers 9-5 in North Bay during the only game in the Northern Ontario Hockey Association Senior Asouthern group. The win edged the Indians to within one point of the third-place Trappers and Pembroke Lumber Kings.

Marcel Clements, John Raynak and Bill McCracken each counted twice for Sault Ste. Marie. Henry Backor, Dean McBride and Jack Heon rounded out the scoring for the Indians.

Don Hog.a scored two for North Bay to pull his total for the season to 30 goals. Stan Maxwell, George Gosselin and Mike Bukacheski netted singles.

Hamilton meets the last-place Cataracts in Niagara Falls, while Stratford Indians play Chatham Maroons in Chatham in the OHA tonight.

Indians go to Sudbury for a game with the Wolves in the NOHA.

National League Wins Battle Over Canada For Grid Stars

By ED SIMON

NEW YORK (CP)—Call it war, friendly rivalry or spirited competition on the open market, the early scramble for professional football talent next fall has been a clear victory for the National Football League over its upstart but well-heeled Canadian opposition.

Outbid for some of the outstanding college graduates and deprived of some of the stalwarts on their own rosters in past seasons, the American clubs clearly are out to beat the Canadians to the punch by signing up all the big names in sight.

Pittsburgh Steelers threw the latest one-two punch Thursday when they corralled two all-American halfbacks on their draft list, Johnny Lattner of Notre Dame and Paul Cameron of UCLA, signing up the former and getting Cameron to agree to terms by long-distance telephone.

Clearly the NFL's draft, under which they parcel out 300 of the best college graduates in the United States among themselves, was paying dividends. While Canadian clubs bid frantically among themselves for the big names, each was subjected exclusively to the blandishments of a single American team.

Lattner spurned offers from British Columbia Lions of the Western Interprovincial Football Union and Ottawa Rough Riders of the Interprovincial Rugby Football Union in casting his lot with the Steelers. Cameron turned down bids from Ottawa, Toronto Argonauts and Winnipeg Blue Bombers.

But the Canadians were taking a shellacking in across-the-border raids for professional talent as well.

Bernie Flowers, all-star end with Ottawa last season, was recaptured by Baltimore Colts, from whose draft list the Riders swiped him at the start of last season. San Francisco 49ers grabbed halfback John Henry Johnson from Calgary Stampeders and Saskatchewan Roughrideds lost scatback Herb Johnson to New York Giants.

Against that string of losses, Canada could claim one major victory—the signing by the Lions of tackle Arnie Weinmeister, an NFL all-star with the Giants last year.

It remained to be seen whether the Giants would follow through on their threat of legal action against their fugitive tackle, but previous experiences of NFL clubs in Canadian courts offered them little hope of success.

Two Basketball Squads Both Down RCAF Teams

Trenton's RCF basketball teams were grounded by Peterborough intermediate quintets, the YMCA Regents and Collis, in exhibition games Thursday night in Trenton. The Doug MacPherson-coached Regents staved off a last-quarter rally by the Flyers to edge out a 54-53 victory. At the same time Bus Manbeck's Collis squad, Peterborough's new girls' intermediate entry, slowed the Trenton Jets down to a stop with a crushing 38-16 defeat.

Shifty Joan Dunk was at her best as she paced the Collis quintette. Dropping in four field baskets and four foul shots, Dunk led Collis to a 32-9 halftime score. Joan Will, Mac MacMillan and Lee Lahman were able to drop the ball through the basket for the Jets.

In the second half the Collis quintet began to spread their points around. Rita Naylor, Dot Jackson, N. Rose, Marg Owen, Pauline Stewart and Dunk all shared 15 points for the victory, Babs Babchuk was the only effective Jet.

Dunk's boyish play netted her the night's scoring honors as she totalled 16 points. Her closest rival was teammate Pauline Stewart with eight points. MacMillan and Will each had five points for the Jets.

It took Doug MacPherson's Regents a little time to become used to the court. During that time the Flyers, led by O'Hara, Chambers and Coffil, took a two point first quarter lear, 12-10. Don Ash, Gord Burns and Joe Stewart kept the Regents close by.

But in the second quarter, the Regents began to feel their way through the Flyers defence. Finally they ripped it to shreds. Ash led the way, along with Dan Griffen, Bill Edger and Bob Smith and before their attack was stopped had scored 21 points to lead at the half 31-14.

The Flyers tightened their defence for the third quarter and once again edged the Regents. O'Hara and Woods gave the Flyers a 14-11 edge but Ash once more kept the Regents ahead 42-28 at three-quarters.

The Flyers began to zoom in the fourth quarter as they rallied under the leadership of O'Hara Coffil and Campbell. They dropped in 25 points but the Regents saved the win on points by Edger, Ash, Burns and Ab. Stewart.

Ash easily led the game scoring with 20 points for the Regents while Bill Edger had 10. The Flyer's O'Hara had 19 while teammate Coffil had 11.

Expect 60 Rinks At Northern Curling 'Spiel

NEW LISKEARD (CP) — This northern Ontario town of some 4,500 persons is getting ready for one of the biggest invasions of curlers and curling fans in its history.

Hotels are booked to the limit and, even the local hockey club has had to alter its schedules in preparation for the 24th annual Timiskaming and Northern Ontario Bonspiel which will get under way Monday.

The TNO spiel, as it is known to curling fans throughout the north, is the biggest and oldest of all northern curling meets. It takes its name from the old Timiskaming and Northern Ontario Railroad (now the Ontario Northland Railway). As the TNO thrust its way northward with new communities and new curling rinks springing up along its tracks, the TNO spiel got bigger each year.

60 RINKS EXPECTED

This year New Liskeard will play host to more than 60 rinks from towns as far distant as Arnprior and Palmerston to the south and Kapuskasing to the north.

The Junior A hockey team has been displaced from its arena and what was a fast skating surface now has five sheets of ice for the curlers. In New Liskeard Curling Club six sheets of ice are lying in readiness for the big spiel.

As a prelude to the spiel, the British Consols zone finals will be played this week-end with rinks from Belleterre, McGarry, Cochrane, Pamour, New Liskeard, Norranda, Kapuskasing and McIntyre taking part.

Curling Results At Kitchener

KITCHENER (CP) — Curling rinks from Toronto Granites, Guelph and Kitchener advanced to the semi-finals of the main event Kitchener Record trophy competition in the annual two-day ladies bonspiel Thursday night.

A Kitchener - Waterloo Granite Club rink skipped by Mrs. Kay Sehl filled one bracket after wins over Mrs. Wray Bessey of Georgetown 15-1, and Mrs. Fred Perry of Galt, 6-5.

The Guelph rink, skipped by Mrs. W. H. Cutten, qualified with an 8-5 win over Hamilton Thistles skipped by Mrs. A. L. Garson, and Mrs. Jean Shaw of Toronto High Park, went down 10-8.

Mrs. Amell's Toronto rink won victories over Mrs. A. Gooch of Hamilton 15-6, and by an 11-1 margin over Mrs. Floyd Gabel of Kitchener.

A fourth semi-finalist will be declared today when Mrs. C. G. Teskey's Kitchener rink clashes with a Brantford rink skipped by Mrs. A. Benson.

Kesselring Ties For 11th Place

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Australian star Peter Thomson of Melbourne and Jack Harden of El Paso., Tex., scoring seven-under-par 64s, led an array of 35 par-breakers through the first round of the $10,000 Phoenix Open golf tournament Thursday.

Harden, 40-year-old club pro who limits tournament play to just a few during the winter each year, rang up seven birdies for his 32-32—64.

Thomson, 24, runner-up to Ben Hogan for the British open title last year and 1952 Australian open champion, fashioned a 33-31—64. His round included seven birdies, two bogies and an eagle 2.

Jerry Kesselring, Kitchener, making his first tour of the winter circuit, carded a two-under-par 69 to tie with eight others for 11th place. His 34-35 matched the score of Julius Boros of Mid Pines, N.C., 1952 U.S. open titleholder.

Campbellford Trims Norwood Juveniles

HAVELOCK (ENS)—Campbellford Juveniles handed Norwood a 10-6 trimming at the Havelock arena Thursday night.

Top scorers for Campbellford were Holmes, with three goals, and Scott, with two goals and three assists.

The first period ended with Campbellford leading 4-2. Norwood put on the pressure in the second, netting three goals to Campbellford's two. But in the third, Campbellford added four goals to their score, while Norwood got only one.

Six penalties were handed out, two to Campbellford and four to Norwood.

Canadian Skater Finds Altitude Bothers Her In Switzerland

DAVOS, Switzerland (Reuters)—Mrs. Pat Underhill of Edmonton says she could have done better in the international speedskating championships here if she had had more time to get used to the altitude—5,000 feet above sea level.

Nevertheless, the 25-year-old housewife said in an interview today that she was "very pleased" with her two second places in the 1,000 and 3,000-metre races Tuesday, each time behind Randi Thorvaldsen of Norway.

Both races were much longer than her specialty, the half mile, while the 3,000 metres is nearly twice as far as the longest distance she raced in Canada, one mile. There was no 500-metre sprint for Mrs. Underhill to show her real talent.

"I got here last Saturday and the races were on Tuesday," she said. "Another week to get used to the height would have made all the difference, I think. I felt rather short of breath, especially in the 3,000 metres."

RUNNER-UP SPOT

Miss Thorvaldsen won the 1,000-metre event in one minute, 42.8 seconds while Mrs. Underhill was timed at 1:59.7 in the runner-up spot. Cocci Rogger of Switzerland was third in 2:05.2.

In the 3,000 metres Miss Thorvaldsen's time was 5:42.7 followed by Mrs. Underhill in 6:20 and Miss Roger in 6:52.2.

Mrs. Underhill is preparing for the women's world championships to be held Feb. 20 and 21 in Ostersund, Sweden.

"There will be six Russian women in the world championships, they hold all the records, and if they are anything as good as their men here in Davos, they will be really excellent," she said. Asked if she had any hopes of winning she laughed and added "I hardly think so."

"The Russians and the Norwegians are the tops in speedskating. We in Canada have so much to learn from the Europeans."

FIRST EUROPEAN VISIT

Mrs. Underhill is here to do just that. The Davos races were the first in which she took part and this is her first visit to Europe.

She will leave Davos Monday for a speedskating training camp at Hamar, Norway, where she will stay until the world championships.

After the world championships she plans to go to Belgium for some indoor racing before returning home.

Mrs. Underhill was happy to receive a letter from her husband, an Imperial Oil Company engineer, in Edmonton.

"I am all alone over here," she said. "But this time the shoe is on the other foot because it's usually my husband who spends a lot of time away from home."

THRILLS, SPILLS, CHILLS—The drivers run to their mounts at the starting signal for the 590-mile International Sports Car Race in Buenos Aires. The Italian team of Giuseppe Farina and Umberto Maglioli cross the finish line first in a Ferari 4500 after six hours, 41 minutes and 50.8 seconds.

National League Plans Record 239 Night Games

NEW YORK (AP)—The National League released its 1954 baseball schedule today, which listed a record number of 239 night games and unprecedented single games for two clubs on the United States Decoration and Labor Day holidays.

Every team in the league except Chicago Cubs, which has no lights, increased its arclight output. Last year the circuit scheduled 220 night games, which tied the all-time mark set in 1951.

St. Louis Cardinals again have more floodlight contests scheduled than any other club, 53. That's two more than last year.

Philadelphia has scheduled 48 arclight tilts, six more than in '53. Milwaukee has 33, one more than last season; Cincinnati 32, four more; Pittsburgh 28, one more; Brooklyn 26, two more and New York 19, three more.

OPEN APRIL 13

The season starts April 13 and for the first time in 61 years Pittsburgh Pirates will open at home. Philadelphia will furnish the opposition. In other opening day pairings, Brooklyn is at New York Chicago at St. Louis and Milwaukee at Cincinnati.

In what is believed to be the first time single games have been scheduled on Decoration Day (May 31) and Labor Day (Sept. 6), Brooklyn is at Philadelphia for one game on the former date and St. Louis at Cincinnati for a single on the latter.

The regular season closes Sept. 26.

E. Stanbury Hits 327

Ethel Stanbury took high three of 688 and top single of 327 this week in the YMCA senior lasses' bowling league. N. Hepburn rolled 661, A. Reid 640, N. Barrett 637, Betty Castle 636, M. Faherty 616 and S. Heckman 602. N. Hepburn had a single of 296, B. Castle 268, A. Reid 251, B. Pogue 244, B. Bailey 243, N Barrett 231 and P. Menard 228.

Aces and Glens took six points respectively from Bombers and Commandos, while Corvettes and Tigers took four from the Hurricanes and Lucky Strikes in that order.

2 City Rinks Win Matches At Quebec 'Spiel

SEIGNIORY CLUB, Que. (CP)—Mrs. L. E. Woolley's defending champion Toronto Granite rink posted a 13-6 win here Thursday over a Buckingham, Que., team skipped by Mrs. R. B. Walker in the first round of the 23rd annual Sewell Trophy women's curling bonspiel.

The 38 rinks entered will each play three ten-end games in the four-day competition. Play continues Friday and Saturday with finals scheduled for Sunday, Feb. 7.

One of three rinks posting the maximum 10-point margin allowed by the rules of the trophy competition was that of Mrs. H. W. Meikle of Morrisburg, who defeated Mrs. E. A. Cone, Pembroke, 15-5.

In other matches, Mrs. C. B. Westbrook, Peterborough, defeated Mrs. J. B. Cawthray, Ottawa, 12-9; Mrs. F. Earle, Lachute, Que., defeated Mrs. D. F. McPhee, Vankleek Hill, Ont.

Mrs. J. Fanning, Peterborough, defeated Mrs. R. J. Mitchell, Toronto Ladies, 14-9.

Miss M. Patterson, Toronto Granite, defeated Mrs. P. Leduc, Hawkesbury, 13-5.

Mrs. A. J. Siddall, Perth, defeated Mrs. F. S. Livingston, Toronto Granite, 10-9, after an extra end.

Canadian Cup Stars Win Florida Matches

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—Canadian Davis cup stars Lorne Main of Toronto and Bob Bedard of Sherbrooke, Que., won their third-round matches Thursday in the Austin Smith tennis tournament.

Main defeated Bosse Anderson of Miami, 4-6, 6-3, 6-0, and Bedard downed David Harum of Coral Gables, Fla., 6-2, 5-7, 6-4.

Al Harum of Coral Gables defeated Don Platt of Toronto 6-0, 6-1.

In women's singles Hannah Sladek of Montreal defeated Sue Tomhave of Fort Lauderdale 6-2, 6-2.

CHMC Building Inspection Criticism Said Justified

OTTAWA (CP) — The head of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation Thursday told a Commons committee that criticism of the quality of CHMC building inspection is "more than justified in some areas."

D. B. Mansur said the government housing agency has had trouble finding sufficient experienced inspectors and its inspection "is not perfect."

But CMHC was trying to do something about it. It was drawing on staff from defence projects. It was trying to improve not only the quality but the uniformity of construction inspections.

"It won't be long," he told the Commons banking committee, "before we hear builders complaining about the unreasonable nature of requirements of the autocratic CMHC."

The committee is scrutinizing the government's housing legislation which would allow banks to enter the mortgage field, to reduce down payments and extend time-to-pay on homes built under the National Housing Act.

RURAL STANDARDS

C. A. Cannon (L—Iles-de-la-Madeleine) suggested the legislation should have greater flexibility. Rural folks should not have to conform to the rigidities of building standards in the same way as urban dwellers.

George Hees (PC — Toronto Broadview) said builders have reported they could cut down construction costs from, say, $10,000 a house to $7,500 if CMHC would agree to lower the life expectancy of the house. But every time they brought up the suggestion, they ran up against a "brick wall" at CMHC.

Mr. Mansur said there was no brick wall. CMHC had discussed the government's proposed housing amendments with the National Home Builders Association.

He agreed that building standards required improvement. A revised national building code—two years in the making—would be issued shortly by the National Research Council. About 162 municipalities were waiting to work the code into by-laws.

Firemen Rescue Woman

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Mrs. Basil Brown collapsed on the floor of her home Thursday after she telephoned the fire department about a smoke-filled basement. Firemen revived her with oxygen and hospital officials said later her condition was not considered serious. Firemen said she was apparently attempting to put out a small fire in some rags and rubbish in the basement of the house where she lives alone.

Asks Members Unseated If Vote Small

OTTAWA (CP)—A Progressive Conservative wants the Commons to take the stand that members elected on a small turnout of voters should be unseated.

Rodney Adamson (PC — York West) Thursday gave notice in the Commons of a resolution asking the House to express the "opinion" that winning candidates be unseated when they poll fewer votes than the number of registered voters who did not ballot in a general election.

In such cases, according to the terms of the resolution, the candidates' ridings would go without representation until the next general election.

UNSEAT 101

On the basis of statistics from the general election of last year, such a move would unseat 101 of the 265 Commons members returned last Aug. 10.

However, the resolution is not likely to be debated at the current session of Parliament.

Mr. Adamson was not available for comment on his resolution, but it evidently was aimed at reinforcing his protests against the calling of an August election in 1953.

Agricultural Council Asks Inquiry Into Price Spread

TORONTO (CP) — The Ontario Agricultural Council, comprising representatives of county councils, Thursday voted to ask for an investigation of the spread between producer and consumer prices.

Delegates said the spread is constantly widening and farmers are getting the blame, although prices received by the producer are on the decline.

The organization discussed a resolution suggesting that needy countries be provided with gifts of food from Canadian surpluses. Another resolution recommended that efforts be made to distribute such food in a manner that would show the world's needy that Canadians are their friends.

The council finally voted in favor of endorsing the resolutions in principle and decided to discuss the proposals with officials of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture and federal authorities before making any definite recommendations.

ENDORSES RESOLUTION

It endorsed a resolution asking for provincial control over the flow and use of streams, so that irrigation systems would not be permitted to dry up some waterways during the summer.

A proposed subsidy for potato growers was voted down, as was a suggestion that the council ask for removal of tariff and excise tax on tin and stainless steel cans and equipment used by the dairy industry. This resolution, from Elgin county council, had suggested such a move as a step toward reducing production costs in the dairy industry.

Charges Board Abuses Powers

HAMILTON (CP)—Ald. Malcolm M. Cline charged Thursday that the Ontario Municipal Board has been "set up as little tin gods who can frustrate the decisions of democratically elected municipal councils."

Ald. Cline, making a statement following an OMB hearing here Tuesday, said he would introduce the question of the board's powers at the next meeting of city council.

The alderman said the city was "rapped over the knuckles" by the board Tuesday for authorizing and completing $2,000,000 in civic works without the board's approval.

"The whole question of the Ontario Municipal Board's powers should be re-examined by the provincial government," said Ald. Cline. "They should be merely an advisory body. Their powers are much too wide."

Labor Council Requests Inquiry

TORONTO (CP) — The Toronto District Trades and Labor Council (AFL-TLC) by resolution Thursday night called for a public inquiry into operations of the Blue Cross plan for pre-paid hospital care and of all private health insurance plans.

"We are more convinced than ever that only a prepaid government-sponsored hospital and medical plan can give citizens the coverage they need at minimum costs" the council said. Blue Cross recently announced a 26-per-cent increase in rates, effective April 1.

The council also said Senators and members of Parliament, for whom salary increases have been proposed, should be given a time-study and job evaluation.

Another proposal by the council was for a royal commission inquiry into operations and contracts of the Ontario highways department.

Peek In Window Costs Bobcat Life

FORT WILLIAM (CP)—A bobcat looked in a window and frightened Mrs. Wilfred Forrest of nearby Neebing township Thursday. But it paid with its life for the prank.

Mrs. Forrest said she saw the bobcat standing on its hind legs and peering through the window in the door.

Mrs. Forrest was terrified.

Mrs. Forrest telephoned a neighbor, Thomas Tronsen, who found the big cat skulking behind a woodpile near the house and killed it with a single shot from his .22-calibre rifle.

The bobcat weighed about 30 pounds. It measured more than four feet from the tip of its front paws to the end of its tail.

Northern Lights Give Up Secrets To Modern Science

WASHINGTON. — One of nature's most spectacular displays—the gorgeous night show of the polar aurora or "northern lights"—is helping science to explore the world of the upper air.

An unexplained phenomenon until modern times, the aurora has enabled man to measure how far the atmosphere extends above the surface of the earth. Analysis of its light has revealed the composition of gases in the ionosphere the electrified region between 50 and 250 miles above the earth.

The aurora's new role as a contributor to science seems strange, says the National Georgraphic Society, remembering through most of recorded history the sky spectacle was an enigma. For centuries the lights were believed to be the battles and manoeuvres of spirits or gods, or portents of evil tidings.

STEM FROM SUN

Actually, the rippling arcs and streamers of lights are caused by gigantic currents of electrified particles spouting forth from the sun and speeding millions of miles out into space like streams from a huge hose.

If an observer could see the auora borealis from out in space, it would seem to be a luminous cloud near the North Pole on the dark side of the earth, hundreds or even thousands of miles in length and breadth. At times it extends 600 miles up into the thinning atmosphere.

Oxygen atoms produce the bright red and yellow-green colors of the aurora. Nitrogen molecules give the orange-red, blue-green, blue-violet and deep-violet-grey shades.

To the naked eye, auroras usually appear to be greenish white. Green is the aurora's predominant color, and the eye is much more sensitive to green than to red.

... bright auora lights up the landscape at night about half as much as does the full moon.

Though most residents of the northern hemisphere think of the aurora as the "northern lights" or aurora borealis ("dawn of the north"), there is also an aurora australis, or "southern lights." Together, they are known to astronomers as the "aurora polaris."

The aurora australis is seen far less frequently than the aurora borealis because there is little inhabited land within the region where it is visible.

Contrary to common belief, the auora is not most brilliant or frequent at the north and south geographic poles.

The region of greatest brilliance and frequency is along a line running through northern Norway, across central Hudson Bay, around to Point Barrow, Alaska, and through northern Siberia. As many as 243 auroras have been observed in a single year over central Hudson Bay.

Residents of northern Maine, Minnesota, North Dakota and Montana see some 25 aurora displays annually—more than are witnessed by any other U.S. citizens. They are most frequently observed during the months of the spring and autumn equinoxes, around March 21 and September 21.

Over New York City, Chicago and Portland, Oregon, the lights are visible about 15 times a year. Floridans, Texans and residents of Southern California rarely see the "northern lights" more than once each year.

Gold Mining Areas Interested In Coin Minting Suggestion

KIRKLAND LAKE (CP)—A proposal heard in the House of Commons last week that minting of gold coins be permitted in Canada is creating wide interest in Ontario gold-mining areas.

Rodney Adamson, Progressive Conservative member for York West, introduced a bill to amend the currency mint and exchange fund act.

The amendment would provide that gold coins "should not be legal tender but may be freely held, bought, sold, imported or exported by any person."

They would not, in other words, be in the form of the old $5 and $10 gold pieces, but would be marked only on their gold content. Their value would be decided daily on Canadian commodity and stock exchanges.

Timmins town council this week passed a resolution urging it be passed.

Reeve Ralph Neelands of Tech township in this area has expressed approval of the bill.

Three elected government representatives reached by telephone from here Thursday expressed different opinions.

Mines Minister Kelly of Ontario said the bill "would provide a substantial new market which might prove a real shot in the arm for the gold-mining industry which for a number of years has been fighting gallantly against adverse circumstances."

Mrs. Ann Shipley, Liberal member of Parliament for Timiskaming: "I am in support of anything practicable that will help the situation but I am informed certain sections of the Adamson bill could not be permitted under international agreements."

W. J. Grummett, CCF member of the Ontario Legislature for Cochrane South: "The suggestion certainly has merit, but there are many difficulties . . . there is an international agreement provided for the withdrawal of gold from use as currency; also the nations of the world would have to agree to stabilize its price."

4 Ancient Law Books Will Be Displayed

TORONTO (CP) — Four law books, two of them from the 16th century, are to be displayed for the first time outside England when the mid-winter meeting of the Canadian Bar Association starts here today.

The books are being sent by one of Britain's oldest publishing houses, Butterworth and Co. of London, for display by its Canadian branch.

The works include Staunford's Kinges Prerogative, issued in 1567 and here in what is believed to be its original binding, and Glanville's tractatus, issued in 1555 and since rebound.

Approve Plans For $9,500,000 Cancer Centre

TORONTO (CP)—Plans for a $9,500,000 cancer research and treatment centre here housing two cobalt bombs, have been approved by the Ontario government, Premier Frost announced Thursday.

The project, proposed by the Ontario Cancer Research Institute, is expected to be completed by 1956.

"These plans . . . provide the fulfillment of the province's desire . . . to establish for the people of Ontario a research and treatment organization which would develop the latest in medical knowledge for cancer patients," said Premier Frost.

"MOST ADVANCED"

Norman C. Urquhart, chairman of the institute, said the planned centre will be the "most advanced of its kind on this continent."

The province will contribute $8,475,000 to the project and the federal government $1,025,500, Premier Frost said.

The Ontario cancer treatment and research foundation now supports clinics in Toronto, London, Kingston, Hamilton, Windsor, Ottawa and Port Arthur.

Premier Frost said the institute will serve as a research, teaching and treatment centre. It will replace overcrowded facilities in the Toronto General Hospital.

4 By-Elections To Be Held On March 22

OTTAWA (CP).— Four by-elections March 22 will provide the first test of voting strength in the federal field since the general election last August.

It will be the largest mass by-election balloting since six seats were decided in the "little general election" of May 26, 1952.

All four contests are in Ontario and Quebec. The electors will fill two Ontario seats held by Progressive Conservatives and two Quebec seats held by Liberals.

The date was announced Tuesday by acting prime minister Howe for Gatineau, Que., and Elgin. Earlier, the government had chosen the same day for Montreal Verdun and Peel.

Deaths caused three of the vacancies; a resignation, the fourth.

In Gatineau and Elgin, the seats were opened up by the deaths of Joseph C. Nadon, 64, Liberal, and Charles D. Coyle, 66, Progressive Conservative.

Mr. Nadon had held the Gatineau riding—once represented by Sir Wilfrid Laurier—in two general elections. Mr. Coyle had represented Elgin since 1945.

APPOINTED JUDGE

The Peel by-election will replace Gordon Graydon, former deputy leader in the Commons of the Progressive Conservatives and his party's foreign affairs specialist at the time of his death last fall. Mr. Graydon had represented Peel since the 1935 general election.

The Verdun by-election will fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of Paul E. Cote, parliamentary assistant to the minister of labor since 1947. Mr. Cote recently became a judge of the Quebec Superior Court.

Here is the present standing:

Liberals, 171; Progressive Conservatives, 49; CCF, 23; Social Credit, 15; Independent, 3; vacant 4; total, 265.

Ask Royal Commission Check Federal Economies

OTTAWA (CP) — The Canadian Chamber of Commerce today urged the government to set up a royal commission to investigate federal economies.

It proposed also that cuts be made in income and excise taxes to boost productive incentive and help Canada withstand increasing trade competition at home and abroad.

"Although we are entering 1954 with most of our resources fully employed, there are signs that the pace of expansion is slowing down" the chamber's executive council said in a brief presented today to Finance Minister Abbott and Revenue Minister McCann.

"This may well be a year of consolidation when the economic gains of the past can become the foundations for new progress.

"While external developments are very important, sound fiscal policy can assist in making the economic climate more favorable for business.

"To this end, the executive council believes that tax levels are still too high, particularly for a developing country where personal incentive and corporate efficiency are the mainsprings of economic progress."

VOLUNTARY FEDERATION

The chamber is the national voluntary federation of almost 700 boards of trade and chambers of commerce across Canada. A delegation headed by R. M. Fowler of Montreal, council chairman, presented the brief.

The chamber agreed defence costs must be a "first charge" on federal finances, but even in this spending, waste must be eliminated. The defence budget should not become a method to maintain employment at a peak.

As for civilian spending, it was the government's responsibility to reduce spending wherever it is in the public interest to do so.

A royal commission should be appointed immediately to recommend ways for increased economy, efficiency and improved service in government departments.

Plan To Increase Payments For Swine

OTTAWA (CP) — The federal government plans to introduce legislation to increase payments for swine and sheep which have to be destroyed because of contagious disease.

Agriculture Minister Gardiner gave notice of the move on the Commons order paper Thursday.

During last summer's epidemic of hog cholera in western Ontario, legislation under the animal contagious diseases act limited the amounts payable to farmers in compensation to $30 for ordinary hogs and $50 for purebred hogs. Ordinary hogs during the period commanded more money on the open market.

It is understood the legislation the government plans would make it possible for the government to pay the farmer a price in line with the current market price.

Determined Arsonist

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C. (CP) — A determined arsonist made three attempts Thursday to burn down a four-storey apartment block. Fire Chief Claud Highsted said the fires in the downtown building were set deliberately. Two other attempts were made last week. All three fires were started in garbage chutes or containers in the grey-stone building that contains about 36 apartments. Police said the building will be guarded day and night.

Missionaries To Speak In Army Temple

Brigadier and Mrs. John Wells, recently returned from missionary service in China, will address a public meeting in the Salvation Army temple, Saturday evening.

The couple were interned during the last war and suffered many privations. "Glimpses into the Orient" is the title of the brigadier's address, in which he will relate many of his experiences in China.

On Sunday, the couple will conduct two services at the temple with the brigadier acting as chairman of the monthly Sunday afternoon musicale.

The program will include the Salvation Army band and songsters playing and singing: "The Golden Jubilee," "The King's Highway," marches by the band, "Le Secret," "Autumn Days," "In a Secret Place," "By Babylon's Wave," and "Voices of the Heart." Guest soloist John Moore will give a baritone rendition of "O, God Have Mercy," "Arise O Sun," and "Out of the Deep."

Bank Of Canada To Be Given Greater Bank Credit Control

By HAROLD MORRISON

OTTAWA (CP)—Federal authorities plan legislation to give the Bank of Canada greater power to control bank credit.

Authorities say the legislation, likely to be introduced as an amendment to the Bank of Canada Act at the current session of Parliament, will provide the central banking agency with power to fix minimum cash reserves in chartered banks within a flexible range.

Currently the law orders that cash reserves in chartered banks must be at least five per cent of deposits. In practice banks usually keep about eight or 10 per cent.

Under the proposed federal amendment, the central bank could order a shift in the reserves from time to time, possibly within a range of a minimum eight per cent and maximum 12 per cent of deposits.

MAKES BIG DIFFERENCE

This may seem like a narrow range, but experts say a shift of one per cent in the ratio of reserves to deposits could release or withdraw many millions of dollars available for loans.

Thus the central bank would have power to increase the flow of bank credit in times of money scarcity or reduce it when there is too much on the market.

Controls over bank credit by the central agency, of course, would have an impact on the amount of money the banks will have available to lend to their customers which include industrialists, shopkeepers, professional persons and others seeking a personal cash loan.

To some extent the bank already exercises some influence on the money field through deployment of its portfolio of some $2,000,000,000 in securities. It can influence the money market by selling and buying securities.

But this influence is indirect, compared to the direct authority to control cash reserves. This central control already exists in the United States and has been under consideration here for some time.

Experts here feel the chartered banks will welcome the new move, rather than oppose it. It will prevent over-extension of bank credit and give the banks a ready excuse for refusing loans to some customers.

Call Post Office Dept. Just Medium Of Political Patronage

OTTAWA (CP)—The post office department has been described as a "medium of political patronage." Alistair Stewart (CCF-Winnipeg North) made the charge Thursday during Commons debate on a government measure to increase first-class postal rates by one cent an ounce April 1. He said owners of two drug stores in Winnipeg were asked to contribute to Liberal party funds for the privilege of having sub post offices in their stores.

Liberals defeated a combined opposition attempt to shelve the bill in favor of a parliamentary inquiry into the increase. A CCF motion to that effect was defeated 110 to 73, all three opposition parties and Raoul Poulin (Ind.-Beauce) voting against the government.

Debate on the bill continues today.

Mr. Stewart said that in North Winnipeg the usual price for the privilege of operating a sub post office is between $200 and $300.

The owner of one drug store containing a sub post office had been told by "one of the prominent members of the Liberal party in Winnipeg" that he could avoid a possible change if he paid $500.

Mr. Stewart said the Liberal candidate in Winnipeg North also told the store-owner he must remove CCF election cards from his window if he wanted the sub post office.

The CCF member moved a motion for a parliamentary inquiry into post office department operations and said a 25-per-cent increase in letter rates requires an investigation of what is going on in the department."

Speaker Rene Beaudoin later ruled this motion out of order.

The government's measure calls for increasing the cost of a one-ounce letter to five cents from four for mailings between postal districts and to four cents from three for mailings within a postal district.

The government proposes to eliminate the seven-cent domestic airmail rate and carry all first-class mail by air where it will speed delivery.

Postmaster-General Cote said that the increases are needed to raise an additional $13,500,000 a year to cover wage increases, a shorter work week and increased prices of mail-carriage contracts.

"I know the measure is not a popular one in some quarters," Mr. Cote said. "But it is at least honest and I am sure that it will appeal to those members of the public who desire to pay their way rather than to throw their burden on someone else."

Opposition Leader Drew said Mr. Cote's speech was a "tawdry political statement" which had no relation to the issues.

AFFECT LITTLE PEOPLE

He said the increase will affect "the little people" who use the mails to exchange ideas. Big businesses along the United States border could post letters in the United States for 60 per cent of the Canadian postal rate.

Harold Winch (CCF—Vancouver East) said the post office does not follow its principle that users of mail service should pay the full cost. Rates on second-class mail did not cover the cost of handling it.

Miss Margaret Aitken (PC—York Humber) suggested the government reinstate the stamp tax on cheques to increase postal revenues, and Davie Fulton (PC—Kamloops) said all mail carried by air should carry airmail rates.

LIVING COSTS DROP—For the third consecutive month living costs dropped during December, paring one-tenth of a point from the consumer price index which declined to 115.7 from 115.8. The bureau of statistics reported lower food prices was the reason for the decline. The peak of 118.2 was reached in December, 1951, with 1949 prices equalling 100. The dotted line shows the United States consumer index which also declined to 114.9 per cent of the 1947-49 average in mid-December. These indices measure percentage changes in each country but should not be used to compare actual levels of prices between the two countries.

Jailed Two Years For Stealing Chickens

KITCHENER (CP) — Convicted of stealing chickens, Percy Stoutenberg of the Washington district, 10 miles south of here, Thursday was sentenced to two years in penitentiary.

He pleaded guilty to two other charges of chicken theft and was given concurrent terms.

More than 400 chickens were involved in the three thefts early last October. Estimated value of the poultry was between $900 and $1,000.

In imposing the maximum sentence on Stoutenberg, 26-year-old father of four, Judge H. D. Lang of Stratford said:

"This is one of the most despicable offences in the Criminal code. Chickens are hard to identify and easy to steal."

Cattle Trading Dull, Slow During Week

TORONTO (CP)—Cattle trading was dull and slow with common to medium qualities making the bulk of the offering at the Toronto stockyards this week. Shortage of brandable cattle and a slow dressed beef trade caused a depressed market with brandable classes selling steady to 25 cents lower and in-between grades as much as $1 lower. Calves were strong to $1 higher while grade A hogs at $35 settled $1 lower than special stockyard sales. Lambs were unchanged.

Cattle totalled 6,159 head. General top on choice steers was $19 with some $19.50 and a few prime weighty steers $19.90. Good steers mostly $18-18.50; mediums downward to $16. Good heavy bulls met a broad demand at $12-13. Choice fed yearlings $21-21.50, few $22; mediums $16-19. Few good stockers $17-18; common downward to $13.

Calves were 963 head. Good to choice vealers $27-29; common to medium $15-26.

Hogs totalled 2,385 head. Prices settled at $35 for grade A; dressed sows $25; stags $18.

Sheep and lambs were 429 head with good lambs selling steady at $23-24. Some good heavies $16-20. Good sheep $8-10; common $4-7.

One Brother To Face Trial In Safe Theft

Case Dismissed Against Second At Court Hearing

Raymond McCaskie, 27, has been committed for trial on a charge of breaking, entering and theft in connection with the theft of a safe containing $442 from Canadian Tire December 30. A similar charge against his brother, Walter McCaskie, 26, was dismissed by Magistrate W. R. Philp after preliminary proceedings against the two concluded Thursday afternoon.

Most damaging piece of evidence against the accused, Raymond, turned out to be one of two toe rubbers found by the tire store door minutes after the break-in was discovered. The rubber was identified earlier in the hearing as having been worn at some time over McCaskie's right shoe.

SCIENTIFIC CASE

The three-day preliminary concluded what was probably the most scientific case prepared for a Peterborough court. Three expert witnesses, members of the RCMP crime detection laboratory staff, were called in by the Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw, QC, to testify against the brothers.

Evidence against the McCaskie's was purely circumstantial; not one of 14 witnesses could place either of the accused around the store near the time of the theft.

The McCaskie truck, however, was linked with the break-in in a number of ways. Marks on the safe were identified as having been made by its floor; it was seen pulling away from the back of the store hurriedly just before the theft was discovered.

When later discovered by police, cedar splinters were found on the truck's rear stone-guard. The safe was found beside a clump of cedar trees.

Cedars also figured in the evidence against Walter McCaskie. When searched by Inspector William Clarke, his pants were found to have leaf splinters in their cuffs.

SEEN IN HOTEL

That constituted almost all the evidence against the younger brother except for the fact he was seen after the break-in at the South Beach hotel with John Raymond Brown. The other rubber found at the theft scene was identified as having been worn over Brown's right shoe.

Crown Attorney Bradshaw was referring to Brown when he told the court "there's a warrant out across the whole of Canada for the third man involved in this matter."

The fact the two right rubbers were discovered sitting by the store door, side by side, prompted W. J. Arthur Fair, QC, counsel for both accused to remark "there's something awfully fishy about the whole thing."

PC Grant Gillespie who waited at Ray McCaskie's home for the accused to return the night of December 30, quoted McCaskie as saying he had had the truck all evening and had just returned from Lindsay. He told the officer he had dropped his brother off downtown and had come home by himself.

Detective Douglas Farthing said he timed himself driving from behind Canadian Tire to the 6th line of Douro where the safe was found out to Lakefield, then to Bridgenorth, then to 218 Wolfe St; where McCaskie lived.

The whole trip took 46 minutes.

SAW A TRUCK

Telling the court he had checked the rear door of Canadian Tire the night of the theft about 7.55 Detective Dennis Traynor pointed out there had been no rubbers at the rear door at that time and the light over the door was lit.

While driving out of the alley he noticed a 1953 Chevrolet delivery truck parked behind an adjacent car dealer's building.

It was shortly after that PC Beardsmore fired a shot at a fleeing truck of the same type.

RE-ELECTED CHAIRMAN of the Civic Hospital Board of Governors was Max J. Swanston, former mayor of Peterborough.

M. J. Swanston Re-elected Head Hospital Board

M. J. Swanston was unanimously re-elected chairman of the Peterborough Civic Hospital Board of Governors and chairman of the executive committee at the board's annual meeting Thursday night. Mr. Swanston's was the only name placed in nomination.

New vice-chairman is T. J. Carley. Mr. Carley succeeds Richard R. Stewart, former county representative on the board who retired in mid-year. Election of Mr. Carley breaks the unofficial tradition of having the county representative vice-chairman of the board.

The posts of treasurer and secretary and treasurer remained unchanged. Hospital superintendent John Hornal was named secretary, T. T. Rodger, treasurer. Mr. Rodger is also chairman of the board's finance committee.

With Mr. Rodger on the finance committee will be A. H. Lewis, P. M. McCarrell and county representative Willard A. Waterman of North Monaghan township and warden of Peterborough county.

Nominating Mr. Waterman for a post with the finance committee chairman Rodger expressed the hope that county representatives would continue to sit on this committee and "be able to report back to county council how their money is being spent".

Only election "battle" Thursday night was for the post of property and house committee chairman. New member P. M. McCarrell was nominated, but he declined the offer and suggested Douglas Miller. Mr. Miller was duly named and picked as his committee Mr. McCarrell, Dr. J. R. E. Morgan, J. D. Fitzpatrick and county representative Richard Tedford.

Personnel of the School of Nursing committee remained practically unchanged under chairman Dr. G. S. Cameron. Assisting Dr. Cameron will be Dr. Morgan, Mr. Miller, Mr. Fitzpatrick and Mrs. Gordon Wainwright, president of the School of Nursing Alumnae, and Mrs. C. J. Ray.

City TLC Unions To Hold Two-Day School

A two-day school for officers and and delegates from local Trades and Labor Congress unions will be held this weekend at the public library.

Henry Nokes, secretary of the Peterborough and District Trades and Labor Council, said today that 83 AFL unionists have already registered for the school and as many as 100 are expected.

Basic trade union problems will be discussed.

Subjects will include explanations of the Ontario Labor Relations Act, unemployment insurance, structure and activities of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, collective agreements, work of a shop steward, local union administration, Workmen's Compensation Act, preparation for collective bargaining, and finally a recapitulation and appraisal of the educational short course.

TO LEAD SESSIONS

Leading the sessions will be Arthur Hemming, director of public relations for the TLC; Max Swerdlow, director of organization and education; William Johnston of the workmen's compensation board and another board speaker; and representatives from the unemployment insurance commission.

Registration will be in the Empress Hotel, Friday night. The educational short course will be Saturday and Sunday. And there will be a windup dinner Sunday night with a number of short speeches by the principals.

Among the guests will be Ed DeLiew, president of the Belleville Trades and Labor Council.

A similar union school was held last week by the Peterborough and District Labor Council (CCL), made up of CIO and CCL unions.

Reduce Work Week

KITCHENER (CP) — The Civil Employees Union decided Thursday night to reduce the work-week of its members to 40 hours from 44 hours to forestall the expected lay-off of 12 to 15 men. The union embraces 178 civic employees.

Fire Coverage For Otonabee Discussed

City, Township To Examine Costs Will Meet Again

Fire protection for Otonabee township was discussed Thursday afternoon at a joint meeting of the city's fire, water and light committee and the township council.

Both groups agreed to do some cost estimating before they meet again. Nothing definite was decided.

Chairman Harold Rehill of the fire, water and light committee reminded the others that any effort the city made to Otonabee should, in all fairness, be made to other adjacent municipalities. Mutual aid agreements already exist between Peterborough and Lakefield, and Peterborough and Smith township. Both Smith and Lakefield have firefighting equipment and trained firemen to handle it.

"The first thing our ratepayers will want to know is how much will fire protection cost," said Joseph Slattery. Mr. Slattery lives at Downer's Corners, one of the built-up areas where the people favor some agreement with the city.

HOW TO PAY

There will have to be further investigation into how this protection will be paid for. Aldermen Rehill had no figures to submit on behalf of the city, and Reeve David McIntyre made no offer on behalf of the township.

"Is your council thinking of protection for all Otonabee or for the fringe area near Peterborough"? Alderman Rehill asked Reeve McIntyre.

"Well, we're mainly thinking of the fringe area," said Reeve McIntyre. "The small householders with small lots near the city are vitally interested . . . I don't say some of the farmers aren't interested but, needless to say, those 18 or 19 miles away from Peterborough don't feel the same as those close to it."

Fire fighting demonstrations arranged for the public in Otonabee have been failures. Few residents bothered to turn up and see them.

Two points relating to payment for the fire protection service stood out:

1. Otonabee doesn't want this extra cost to be raised by an additional mill-rate levy. Reeve McIntyre said that most of the farmer's assessment was on land not on buildings. The small owner on a small plot had most his assessment on his home, and naturally had more to gain from fire protection. Besides, the small owner frequently lived close to the city and could be reached more easily by fire trucks.

2. The city doesn't want the financing to be done on a straight so-much-per-hour basis or on a so-much-per-trip basis. In 1953 Alderman Rehill said, the Peterborough ratepayers had to foot a fire protection bill of $194,417 whether or not a wheel turned in the fire department. It could be that Otonabee wou dn't have any fire; so the township would be getting protection and not paying a cent for it.

TWO PLANS

Reeve McIntyre asked Fire Chief William Sorrie and the committee to estimate the total cost of a retainer, plus so much for protection within a three-mile radius of the city. He also asked them to estimate the total cost for a retainer, plus so much for protection for the whole township.

(Fire Chief Sorrie said underwriters' figures showed there was little chance of saving a burning building that was more than three miles beyond the city limits. However adjoining buildings could be saved.)

Clerk James McCarthy of Otonabee outlined a "fringe area" that the city might consider looking after. The boundary line extends easterly out the Warsaw Rd, includes Lot 32, and then swings south on Conc. 10 to No. 7 highway, includes Lot 27, runs west to Conc. 11, then south to include Lot 23, and west again to the Otonabee river.

That area takes in the built-up sections on the south side of Warsaw Rd., the Lancaster property, and Downer's Corners. Mr. McCarthy estimated that in it were 325 buildings, mostly barns and houses but also grocery stares, service stations and a lumber mill.

"What about fire protection in the meantime"? asked Mr. Slattery as the meeting broke up after an hour and a quarter of discussion.

Alderman Rehill suggested that Otonabee write a letter to city council making a specific offer if they wanted interim protection. Mayor Norman Graham agreed that this would be the best procedure.

Civic Kitchen Nears Record One Meal For Every Minute

One meal for almost every minute of the year, 24 hours a day, is the responsibility of Mrs. Aileen Morgan, chief dietician at the Peterborough Civic Hospital. Submitting her report to the annual meeting of the hospital board Thursday, Miss Morgan estimated a total of 514,650 meals in 1953, not much short of the 525,600 minutes in the year.

The 45 full-time and 18 part-time employees of the dietary staff are surrounded by food at all hours of the day and night. The total daily average of meals for patients and for cafeteria customer's works out to 1,410 and this is but one aspect of the dietary department's activities.

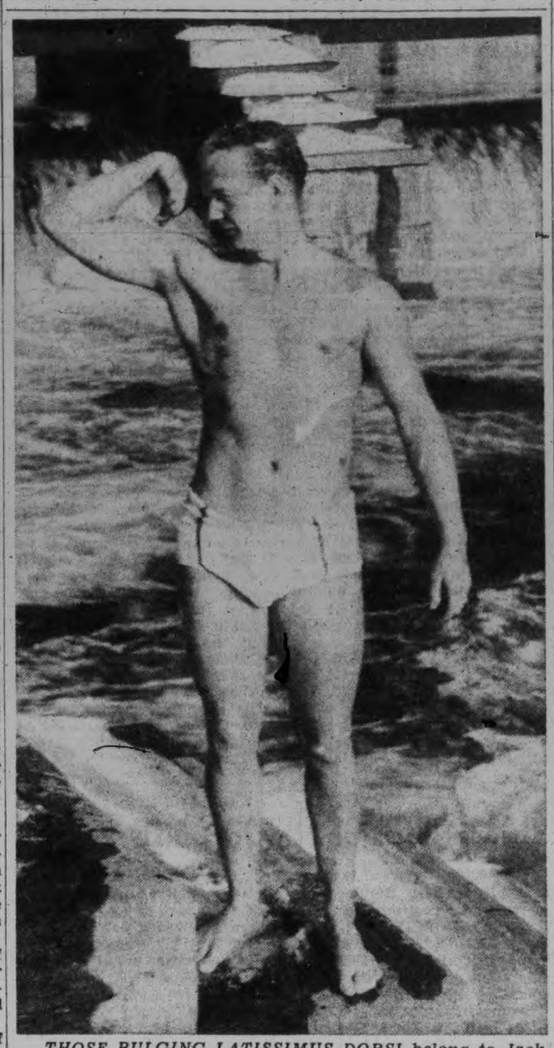
GIVE LECTURES

Miss Morgan and her three assistant dieticians were also responsible, in 1953, for 16 lectures to student-nurses on nutrition, two on formula preparation, 15 on diet therapy and 28 laboratory hours on nutrition. They have also given 53 student nurses their training during three weeks of therapeutic diet service in the kitchen and one week in the formula room for each student.

Special diet instruction is also provided for all patients requiring it and for many who ask for it. Diet sheets are prepared for these and in addition, says Miss Morgan, many discharged patients phone for diet advice to make a return trip to the hospital less likely.

CATERING

Catering for all social events (including tonight's nurses dance) is a responsibility of the dietetic staff including several dances, dinners for the Peterborough County Medical Society, food for visiting dignatries, business-pleasure teas, doctor's luncheons and various coffee and refreshments functions.



THOSE BULGING LATISSIMUS DORSI belong to Jack Higgins, 24-year-old devotee of the male body beautiful. Jack is showing off his muscles which he hopes will show well in the Mr. Canada contest in Windsor next July. The latissimus dorsi, incidentally, are the underarm muscles which are the focal point of the body-builder's art. Photo was taken in the snow overlooking the canal, but Jack looks happy. —(Examiner Staff Photo)

City Muscle Man Aims To Become Mr. Canada

The young man wearing swim trunks stepped through the snow, flexed his latissimus dorsi and said firmly: "I am not a weight-lifter I am a body builder"

The body belongs to Jack Higgins, 24, of Peterborough who hopes to ripple his way to success in the Mr. Canada contest at Windsor next July. He's been toting barbells and dumbbells about six hours a week for several weeks now and hopes to achieve perfect symmetry before the contest.

"People don't pay enough attention to male physique contests," Jack lamented. Cheesecake contests get most of the publicity "but the body builders are for themselves."

TRIM 175

Peterborough is especially behind the times says Mr. Higgins, whose 175 pounds are trimly encased in 5 feet 11 inches. Attempts to have a Miss Peterborough contest have not met with success "and no one even seems to have considered" a beefcake contest for the title of Mr. Peterborough.

What are the pre-requisites for male beauty? No physique artist is interested in loading on muscle indiscriminately, says Jack. The aim is for symmetry of form, an aim which is not confined to the male half of the human race. Shoulders should be wide and accentuated by the latissimus dorsi (under-arm muscles). Meaty pectorals should V into a flat stomach and narrow hips, the whole supported by muscular but not muscle-bound underpinnings.

Since this reporter is roughly the same height and weight as Mr. Higgins he led with his chin and asked what was wrong with the physique of most males.

"Well," said Mr. Higgins, eyeing the reporter dubiously, Most fellows have bulging stomachs, however thin they may claim to be. They pack too much weight on their hips, let their thighs run to flab and have the biceps of a baby. With careful exercise any man can become well-proportioned, but few exercise."

Body-building is desirable says Mr. Higgins "because people feel 100 per cent better when they train." When they feel better, they work better, and when they work better they are more of an asset to themselves and the community.

Mr. Higgins own vital statistics, which he hopes to develop still more before he goes to Windsor, are as follows: waist, 30; chest, 44; biceps, 15½; neck, 16.

PROPER DIET

Almost as important as exercise, says Mr. Higgins, is a proper diet. He passes up all starch foods, concentrates almost exclusively on proteins.

The winner of the Mr. Canada contest may compete in the junior Mr. America contest and later may try for Mr. America laurels. The ultimate goal for all physical culturists is the Mr. Universe title.

Why does Mr. Higgins spend so much time with the barbells? "Because it's good for me, because I hope to win some trophies and because I don't think the public realizes that body-building is really important."

Two Cars, Truck Lightly Damaged

Three vehicles, two moving and one parked, were involved in a collision at Brock and George streets Thursday. Damage to none of the cars exceeded $30 and no injuries to persons were reported. A car driven by Bruce Carew, 265 Hunter St., came into collision with a car driven by Mrs. Isabelle Wood, 858 Water St., before going on to collide with a parked truck owned by John T. Smith, R.R. 4, Peterborough.

Dr. William Gordon, 566 Gilmour St., was driver of a car which was involved in a collision at Stewart and McDonnel streets with a car driven by Leslie Groombridge, 269 Roger St. Damage was light.

Late Wednesday night Joe Johnson, 458 Bolivar St., received fairly minor injuries to the head in an accident at Park and King streets. He was driving a car which came into collision with a vehicle driven by Ronald Bovis of 320 McKellar St. Damage to the Bovis car was estimated at $300 and to the Johnson car, $200.

Library Board Asks City For $100,000 For Renovation Of Building

Architect's Plans Show Structural Changes To Make Library Appearance Conform To Exterior Of New City Hall

The Public Library board have asked city council to undertake extensive alterations to the library building at a total cost of $100,000. A special committee from the board appeared before the property committee of council Thursday afternoon to make the proposal. Spokesman for the committee was board chairman H. I. Bradburn. With him were Donald Loucks and J. C. Rutherford.

Mr. Bradburn pointed out that when the new city hall was designed, an extension of the north wing was discussed. This extension would include space for the library. If the city planned to make the extension within a short time, the alterations to the present library building would not be necessary. But if it were to be put off for a number of years, the board felt the alterations should be proceeded with.

NO CHANGE IN 20 YEARS

Ald. Art Burrows gave the opinion that the citizens wouldn't countenance an extension to the city hall for at least 20 years and asked Mr. Bradburn what the alternative would be.

"In that case, if the present building is not altered, we would just carry on the best way we can," Mr. Bradburn answered.

Sketch plans of the proposed alterations had been drawn up by an architect, Albert E. Vine, and were presented at the meeting. Of the $100,000 total estimated cost, $60,000 would be for structural changes and the remainder for furnishings, including shelves. Some of the present shelving might be used in the alterations which would reduce the architect's estimate of the cost.

The plans call for removal of the pillars at the main door and construction of a new facade to conform with the architecture of city hall.

Additional stacks would be provided in the basement where there would also be a local history room to contain the Denne collection and other items collected by the library. The main reading room would also be moved to the basement to provide additional space for stacks on the first floor. Present stack space would be increased by about a third altogether.

ART GALLERY

An art gallery would be added to the public meeting rooms and the children's department on the third floor. Steel stairways would replace the present wooden ones.

Mr. Bradburn said these alterations would be adequate for at least 20 years, depending on how fast the city grows.

The chief objection to the building as it stands is lack of space to provide modern standards of library service. The stacks were poorly arranged with not enough space between them. The books on the lower shelves were inaccessible to the public, Mr. Bradburn said.

Librarian William Graff pointed out that lighting was not up to hydro standards. Until floodlights were installed seven years ago, borrowers were in the habit of using flashlights to read the titles of books. Fluorescent lights on the main floor had come from the old city hall.

Except for the two offices, the interior had not been painted for 18 years. Two years ago, the outside and the offices had been painted and floor-covering had been laid in the front hall and second floor.

NEW HEATING SYSTEM

The plan calls for replacement of the present heating system, which is served from the city hall, by a forced air system to be installed above false ceilings to provide additional wall space for books.

The present building was completed in 1910 with money provided by Andrew Carnegie, United States philanthropist. The land is owned by the city but the building is deeded to the library board.

No endowment for operating costs was originally provided and the library has been maintained by the city. The Ontario Library Act was revised in 1946 to provide a provincial grant of 20 per cent of the municipal payment. The province also pays grants on professional certificates of staff members.

Last year it cost $63,818.43 to operate the library. The city paid $48,700 and the provincial grant was $12,737.60. Revenues from fines and subscriptions were $1,747.13. The bank balance at the end of 1952 was $2,093.84. This was increased to only $2,309.72 at the end of 1953.

The library had no depreciation fund to pay for improvements. The Library Act requires that any capital expenditures exceeding one-fifth of the municipal grant must be approved by city council. The narrow margin of operations would indicate the city would have to pay for capital improvements.

SOUTH END BRANCH

Mr. Graff said the library operated a branch on Park St. in rented quarters over a store. It was started five years ago, primarily for the use of pupils of eight schools. It would be adequate for two or three years but would ultimately have to be replaced by a permanent building.

Ald. Gordon Farquharson said it seemed to him a new branch library in the south end was the important consideration.

"That's away off in the future," Mr. Bradburn said. Besides, it would not solve the problems of the present main library building.

It was hoped to be able to use space in the old Turner house behind the library during the alterations.

In this connection, a letter was read from the recreation commission suggesting use of the house as a community centre, providing facilities for arts, crafts and social activities for older citizens.

Mayor Norman Graham said he was very anxious for a place where aged pensioners who live in boarding houses could get together socially. He thought a couple of rooms in the Turner house would meet the need.

The committee decided to make a tour of inspection of both the Turner house and the library next Wednesday afternoon.

County Farm Notes

By HARRY THEOBALD

Brucellosis Control Meetings Dated in Douro and Asphodel . . . Hog Producers' Annual Thursday, Feb. 18 . . . W. W. Dawson Elected 2nd Vice-President of Ontario Crop Improvement Association . . . Earl Doris President of Peterborough Holstein Club.

Explanation of the Brucellosis Control Act is the purpose of three meetings which have been listed by East Peterborough farmers with F. C. Paterson, agricultural representative.

They are:

Douro Town Hall, Friday Feb. 12 at 2 p.m.

Norwood Town Hall, Saturday Feb. 20 at 2 p.m.

Asphodel Township Hall, Westwood, Wednesday Feb. 24, at 2 p.m.

The Norwood and Asphodel meetings have been arranged by farmers of Asphodel township, but a general invitation is extended, and farmers of other townships will be welcome.

The new legislation was recently outlined at a meeting in Peterborough of township officials by R. H. Graham, Toronto, of the livestock branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture

Adoption of the new Act rests with farmers who have to petition their township councils If two-thirds of the cattle owners of a township apply for the control Act, the council is thereby required to notify the Department and by bylaw authorize the procedure of establishing control

There have been reports from Otonabee of one or two meetings pending in that municipality

Scope of the provincial legislation is to extend health of animals among the herds of cattle in Ontario.

At these meetings in the next few weeks the details of the legislation will be reviewed and explained in order that farmers will know the facts of the provisions that have been drafted for the benefit of their industry.

Frank C. Paterson, agricultural representative, and his assistant, Ken Best will attend these public meetings.

At the recent meeting here, hope was expressed that some of the Peterborough townships would take advantage of the Brucellosis Control Act. It was said that too many applications could not be accepted imediately on account of the volume of inspection work that would have to be done.

Plowmen's Convention

John A. Carroll, assistant deputy minister of agriculture, will speak on the success of the first world plowing match held at Cobourg last October, at the 44th annual meeting of the Ontario Plowmen's Association, Feb. 8 & 9, at the King Edward Hotel, Toronto.

Mr. Carroll is known across the province particularly from his years as secretary-manager of the Association, and appraising visitor at practically all the fairs, some time or other. He was the first president of the governing board of the World Championship Plowing Organization.

W. W. Dawson, 2nd V-Pres.

Robert Armstrong of Cavan, winner of the Ontario 60 Bushel Winter Wheat Club last year, was presented with a silver tray and $100, first prize awards, at the banquet of the Ontario Crop Improvement Association in Toronto last week. W. W. Dawson of Otonabee received the fourth prize of $40.

Mr. Dawson was also honored by the convention in his election as second vice-president. The prizes were the gift of Maple Leaf Milling Co.

The three authorized delegats from the district, Bruce Graham, Peterborough; Harold Chambers, Hastings county, and Ross McMaster, Northumberland, were unanimous Monday in naming Mr. Dawson as district representative.

The officers elected for 1954 were: Hon. President, Hon. Fletcher S. Thomas; Past President, Howard Harper, Goodwood; 1st Vice-Pres., Andrew Johnston, Renfrew; and 2nd Vice-Pres., Mr. Dawson. Sec.-Treas. is A. H. Martin, Toronto.

In the distribution of prizes, two 4-H Clubs of Durham county were in the honor company: 4-H bran and potato club: Harvey Graham of Nestleton and Roy McHolm ,Port Hope R.R. 1; 4-H Potato Club, Kenneth Buttery, Bowmanville, R.R. 6, and Maurice Hallowell, Orono. Their coaches were Ed. Summers and Jay Brown.

Jerseys To Venezuela

Jersey breeders of Oxford county shipped ten heifers and a herd sire to Venezuela from Woodstock last week. They were consigned to the Venezuelan minstry of agriculture. The young herd sire, Fairmount Jester Beacon 7th, bred by George Innes, Woodstock RR-4, was junior champion at the Woodstock fair in 1952. These Jerseys were trucked to St. Petersburg, Fla., and flown the rest of the way to Venezuela.

Hog Producers' Meeting

Charles Newton of Barrie will be the speaker at the annual meeting of Peterborough Hog Producers Thursday at 1.30 p.m. Feb 18 at the office of the Department of Agriculture. A member of the sales department of the provincial association is also expected to explain the progress and results of the first year's experience in organized selling.

Sells Herefords

C. M. Collins, Toronto jeweller, who has acquired a farm near Campbellford, bought three purebred Hereford heifers last week from the stock of Col. F. E. Birdsall and Wm. Wood at Birdsall. The same day they sold another heifer to G. John Cleugh also of Seymour township.

+ + +

Holstein President

Earl Doris of Otonabee was elected president of Peterborough Holstein Breeders' Club last week. Vice-presidents are, Alan Davis and Stewart Nelson, and the secretary-treasurer is Miss Mary Wood.

A committee was appointed to consider a banquet proposal, and the date of the county Black and White Day was laid over until the Central Ontario championship show is decided. A bus trip project instead of twilight meeting during the summer was left to a committee for recommendation.

Hog Quality Slumps

A serious decline in hog quantity is a major problem in the Canadian livestock industry as affirmed by two experts of the meat-packing branch at the annual meeting of the Industrial and Development Council of Canadian Meat Packers at Winnipeg Thursday. The correctives they suggested was a greater price differential between the top grades of hogs. The speakers were F. M. Baker of Winnipeg and E. S. Manning, Toronto.

Plowman's Impressions

In the West Cumberland Times (England), Alfred Hall, secretary of the world championship plowing organization, recalls some of his impressions of his trip to Canada and Cobourg last October.

He mentions the continual "following of press, camera men and radio people," and at one stage, "getting up at 5:30 a.m. for a farm broadcast after being around until past midnight for television and radio commitments, was a little too much for me."

"One thing that greatly impressed us was the way in which foodstuffs are presented to the consumer. You buy fruit by the basket, and it is sealed in transparent paper.

In the big stores meat is on display in glass "freezers," and each piece of meat is wrapped in transparent paper. The same care is takken with bread and other foodstuffs.

On reflection of such things being taken for granted as a normal practice of cleanliness in Canada, it is sad to think that one generation in this country has been brought up accustomed to unwrapped bread, and other foods being displayed on counters and handed to custmoers, or at best, perhaps parcelled in a piece of newspaper.

The old excuse of wartime shortage of paper should no longer be tolerated if we are ever to regard ourselves as having what constitutes cleanliness."

Juniors At Kemptville

Peterborough and Norwood junior farmers were represented by 16 of their members at junior conference at Kemptville Agricultural School last Saturday. Attendance at the dinner was 261, double that of last year.

The Peterborough county group were: Jack Matchett, Norman Blodgett, Howard Johnston, Orland Brown, Doris Jopling, Gaye Hancock, Mary Wood, Doreen Brown, Gerand Gwalda Bolton, Betty Cockburn, Harold Stinson, Eldon Van Volkenburg, Langdon Gardner, Harvey Cuthbertson, and Ken Best, assistant agricultural representative.

A panel on the subject of "Purposeful Living" affirmed the importance of active engagement in community affairs. Personal success that ignored the interests and needs of the rural neighborhood was rated incomplete in neglecting the cultural, spiritual, and social phases of life.

J. M. Purvis, of KAS staff, was chairman of the panel, and with him were R. S. Sparrow, Kinburn, farmer; A. O. Dalrymple, Stirling, agricultural representative; Mrs. Dean Hunter, Spencerville, school teacher; and Mrs. W. R. Healy, Brockville, RR 2, homemaker.

St. Helena's Report

St. Helena Forum, Asphodel, reports attendance of 20 Monday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Elmhurst, with Ronald Warner as leader.

On the subject of "Barriers To Trade" they concluded that free trade between Canada and the United States would be to the disadvantage to this country, "owing to the U.S. being able to flood our Canadian markets with their surpluses."

"We believe the trade barriers should remain, and that Canada should endeavor to build up freer trade with European countries, and with other countries in the British Empire."

Three Petherick Holsteins Sell To Roman For $3,600

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS) — Three prize Holstein cattle of the herd of W. Aylmer Petherick and Sons of RR 2, Campbellford, were sold recently to Romandale Farms, operated by Stephen B. Roman of King, Ontario. They brought an average of $1,200 each.

The trio consisted of Almerson Rocket Supreme, second senior yearling heifer at the Peterborough championship show in 1953 in a class of 21 entries. Sire of this heifer was Rockwood Rocket Tone, grand champion at the Royal Winter Fair and the Chicago International Dairy Show. He was also all Canadian for five consecutive years. He is owned by the Quinte District Cattle Breeding Association.

Governess R. A. Supreme (G.P.) second youngest of the three was first senior heifer calf at the Northumberland Black and White show in 1950 and also 4th two year old at the Peterborough Championship show in 1952. She was second in her class in the Northumberland Black and White show in both 1952 and 1953. She was sired by Regasborne R.A. Royal Governor (xx), another high rating bull owned by the Quinte Artificial Insemination unit.

$1,900 TO CRAIG NELSON

The third animal of the group was "Supreme Lucky Lady", who is graded "Very Good" and was a member of the third senior get at Peterborough in 1951 and also second three year old at the Northumberland Black and White show in 1952. Her sire, Lucky Supreme, was bred by N. Craig Nelson of Campbellford, and was sold by him at the "All Canadian" sale at Toronto recently to Hays and Company of Calgary for the sum of $1,900.

The three animals sold were all maternal sisters, being daughters of Tiny Supreme Dekol, who achieved the rating "Very Good", as a three year old. She was 2nd aged dry cow at the Northumberland show in 1950. She has a 365 day record as a 5 year old of 16,688 pounds of milk. 672 fat, 4.03 per cent on twice daily milking.

The three cattle brought $3,600 or an average of $1,200 each. The sale was made through Mr. David Houck, herdsman for Romandale Farms.

SENIOR CHAMPION

The present herd sire of the Petherick herd, Almerson Sovereign Supreme (xx) a maternal brother of the trio sold, has also done well in the show ring, being senior and grand champion at the Northumberland B. and W. day in 1953. Senior and reserve grand champion in 1952 and second aged bull at the Peterborough championship show in 1953. He also sired the reserve Jr. champion heifer and second junior get-of-sire at the Northumberland B. and W. show.

His sire, Hainecrest Sovereign Tycoon (xxx), is also owned by the Quinte District Cattle Breeding Unit.

Son Of Symbol Shapely Sire

John Page of Norwood is happy about his yearling Hereford son of Symbol which he bought as a calf last year from Dave Kerr, now of Windsor. The youngster has been developing in size, lines and appearance of vigor that were expected of his good breeding.

"Symbol" is sire of the herd bought by C. B. Neal (Outboard Marine) with the farm, its implements and the Herefords which Mr. Kerr decided to sell last year. He acquired a lot of John Stuart's Old Orchard cattle of WHR origin. Mr. Neal has been one of the recent visitors to the farm (Hill-Crest) which Mr. Page bought from G. A. Brethen, and saw there the young foundation stock on which Mr. Page is hoping to build a herd of his own.

Representatives of Maple Cattle Breeding Association have also been down to Norwood, and are reported interested in the Page bull. Even if they make an attractive bid for it, the owner would be confronted with the problem of replacement.

PICTURES TO GUELPH

Earl Hamblin's motion pictures in color of the 1953 Norwood Fair, shown at the recent meeting of its membership, included a striking picture of the 40 or more Hereford calves which the directors of the Fair bought from the McIntyre ranch in Alberta last spring. They were distributed among the boys and girls of the East Peterborough Agricultural Society's 4-H beef cattle club.

These imports from the west didn't know the feeling of a halter until they were allotted to youngsters who assumed the job of breaking them in and caring for them for display in competition at the Norwood Fair. It was an idea which President Brethen proposed to his directors. They went along with it, and finally had to call in the help of Dave Kerr who is a friend of the present head of McIntyre Ranch.

Eventually there were more prospective club members than calves, and to supply all of them Mr. Brethen supplemented the imports of a few calves of about the same age selected from Hereford breeders here in the east.

They were an outstanding feature of the Fair, and a fine credit to its board. The Hamblin movies showed them in a long row, more than 40, as uniform as pickets in a fence.

Recently it occurred to Arthur Brethen to show that line up at the Hereford Breeders' Association at Guelph on Saturday. He got the miniature film from Mr. Hamblin, took it to the Roy studio and asked them to "blow up" the row of yearlings. Mr. Brethen is taking it to Guelph on the bus trip (Feb. 6). That array of young heifers should look as impressive in the enlarged photograph as they did in the flesh. Incidently it is bound to give the President a chance to mention the Norwood Fair.

AROUND 50 MEMBERS

Homer Hawkey mentioned at the recent meeting here of the district Hereford breeders that their membership had increased from eight in 1949 to "close to 50 now". He and Col. Birdsall shared the presidency during that time, followed by Charlie Fisher of Bailieboro, who succeeded Mr. Hawkey.

Good Catches

AYLMER, Ont. (CP) — Perch were caught in large numbers by ice fishermen in the Lake St. Clair area during the last cold snap. Some cars were parked as far as four miles from shore at Mitchell's bay.

Few Grasshoppers

SASKATOON (CP)—The federal entomology laboratory here forecast only a "minor" grasshopper infestation for Saskatchewan this year.

JAMES T. BROWN, Newcastle, is the 1954 President of the Central Ontario Spring Show in Peterborough March 16-19. A director of the Canadian Holstein-Friesian Association, he presided here Wednesday at morning and afternoon sessions of the committee of Holstein breeders planning the Central Ontario Holstein Championship Show at Morrow Park (Exhibition Grounds) Friday, October 8.

Forums Defend Hog Selling

Three of the Farm Forums in Perth county, Fullarton, Munro, and Mount Pleasant, passed a resolution at their joint meeting in Fullarton township hall last week, taking issue with Reeve Parker of Ellice township about United Livestock Sales of the Ontario Hog Producers' Association.

Text was: "We take exception to remarks at Perth county council re United Livestock Sales. In the first place, we feel that at the hog producers' meeting at Mitchell, answers were given to every question. Reeve Parker was given time in the meeting, and use of the public address system, yet he failed to produce any sound argument against the agency.

"In the second place, figures show what United Livestock Sales has not cost us money, it has made us money. In the third place, we question the ability of urban reeves to vote intelligently on marketing legislation."

DEPUTATION'S PROTEST

Operations of the United Livestock Sales agency of the Ontario Hog Producers was defended by a deputation of 24 farmers representing the producers of Perth county at a meeting last week of their county council at Stratford.

They objected to the criticism by Reeve Theodore Parker of Ellice township, who a week earlier branded the organization as "legalized bandits."

Lorne Bell of Downie township, who submitted the resolution from the producers, said a county council meeting was no place to discuss the afairs of the producers' association. He and Clayton Bender of Gowanstown invited the councillors to attend any of the association meetings.

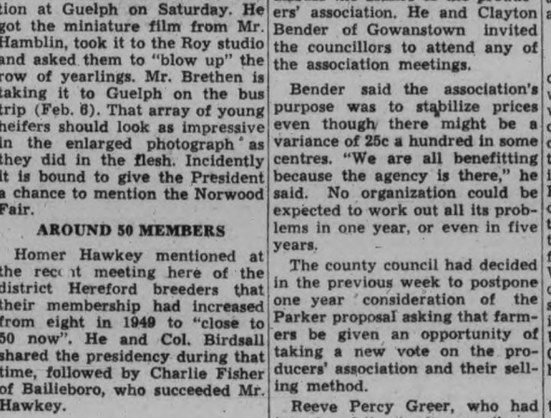
Bender said the association's purpose was to stabilize prices even though there might be a variance of 25c a hundred in some centres. "We are all benefitting because the agency is there," he said. No organization could be expected to work out all its problems in one year, or even in five years.

The county council had decided in the previous week to postpone one year consideration of the Parker proposal asking that farmers be given an opportunity of taking a new vote on the producers' association and their selling method.

Reeve Percy Greer, who had introduced the "wait a year" motion, said "Maybe council stuck its neck out. It's none of our business. As far as I am concerned the producers can run their own affairs."

Reeve Parker, replying to the deputation, said the producers' association had no power to handle all hog marketings in Ontario, but the sales organization still collected 20c on every hog marketed. He intimated that he would reopen the question at the annual meeting of the Perth Hog Producers at Milverton February 25.

The deputation's protest was filed.



CITY MAN TURNED FARMER — Above is the new Canadian Champion for lifetime production of butterfat on twice-a-day milking. She is the purebred Holstein, [illegible] Sylvia Alcartra and she has a 13 lactation lifetime total of 212,143 lbs. milk containing 8,589 lbs. fat (4.05%). These figures make her the highest living lifetime producer of both milk and fat in Canada regardless of times milked daily. Snowball's owner is Gordon Smith, Milverton, Ont., who is an example of the city man who dreamed of going farming and actually did it. He was an express agent when he bought his 200-acre farm in 1937. Although without previous farm experience he has been very successful. Snowball was bred by Morley Watson, Burlington, Ont.

Forums Divided On Free Trade With Uncle Sam

Some of Peterborough's farmers, as represented in their Forums, would not barter the autonomy of their country for free trade with the United States, as expressed in some of the summaries of discussion at last Monday night's broadcast.

They were apprehensive of unrestricted trade opening the door to political influence by their more populous and powerful neighbor. Some of the other groups may not have conceived any danger of the "flag following trade".

Two questions were explicitly presented to them: (1) What would be the effect on the farmers of your area if there were free trade in all farm products between the U.S. and Canada; (2) What do you think would be the long-run effect on Canada as a whole, if we had complete free trade with the U.S. in all products, through a customs union?

Forums generally found it difficult to visualize the effects of both measures of freer trade.

JUST ANOTHER STATE

WESTWOOD FORUM at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Lake with William Mood, leader, saw little effect of free trade in their own area, and on No. 2 question they report: "Canada would tend to become in effect a 49th State in the Union, and would lose her identity as a coming major world power".

LILY LAKE, 15 present at the school house, and Mrs. Clarence Hancock, leader, said free trade would not be beneficial to the farmers of that area "owing to the fact the surplus products in each country are much the same"; and on Canada as a whole: If we had complete free trade through a customs union we fear U.S. might politically dominate Canada.

Ideas were diverse at BEAVER FORUM, meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Junkin, with Sherman Northey leader. Reeve William Grant of Lakefield was one of the 17 present.

They felt there might not be any resultant harm to their own locality, and at times they might get better prices for their cattle and hogs. As to customs union: "We feel that it would be advantageous in the long run, but there would be a great deal of gradual adjusting needed". ("Each participant had his own ideas and was not unduly swayed by any other member.")

Twelve of MAPLE ROW FORUM were present at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell McCarrell. Leader was Raymond Robinson. They saw a larger market for their produce. Farmers would be less affected than manufacturers. The person with the best product would have the market for that product. It would take a few years to level the prices. ("We found it almost impossible to give an answer on this question as there were so many aspects to it, and we did not know enough about them.")

THREAT TO AUTONOMY

CENTRAL SMITH at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ferd Rowland, with Grace Rowland leader: "We want to protect our own autonomy. We think we have the best country in the world, and we want to keep it that way. Our Forum is not unanimous for free trade. However, we decided the time has come when it would be in the interest of both countries to reduce trade barriers in tariffs, custom formalities and other red tape . . . We think it would be good to have complete free trade with the U.S. so long as their standard of living is as high or higher than ours. U.S. should lead the way, with Canada following some years behind with tariff adjustments."

DONEGAL FORUM had an attendance of 18 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Barrie, with Milton Cornish leader. "Our Forum is divided in their opinion. Some think local farmers would benefit, others disagree. While automobiles may be cheaper, our fruit and market gardeners would be hard hit if there was free trade with the U.S. . . . Free trade might be all right on a long term basis, providing farm produce was uniformly graded and prices were established for certain lengths of time; also money would have to be at par. Some think that with exchange parity prices would be steadier. Some think Canada should try free trade for a while, and test it, but if it took 20 years to work out, many of us would never know whether our ideas were right. We know hay selling in this district for $18 a ton goes to U.S. and sells for about $48, a distance of 200 miles . . . We really needed more information on every day articles that we buy and sell to discuss this more fully, because none of us are big business men."

QUESTION TOO DEEP

FAIRVIEW FORUM at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Mann said "We are small producers compared with the United States, and would become more or less part of that country. Therefore our prices and markets would be mutual." . . . Also this notation: "The group found No. 2 question too deep and were unable to provide an answer."

COLDSPRINGS FORUM at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. Rose, Mrs. J. Tully discussion leader, reported a great deal of discussion, but no conclusions reached. "It was one of those topics vitally important but seemingly unanswerable."

Fair's Credit $722

Fred Trewin is the new president of Cartwright Agricultural Society (Blackstock Fair), succeeding Neil Malcolm. The directors reported a net credit balance of $722.15. Mrs. Norman Green was presented with the Ontario Department of Agriculture's long service diploma.

Quality Milk Paramount, Cull The Boarders, Advice To Herd Owners

"The man who makes a dollar out of the dairy cow has earned it the hard way," said Dr. H. C. Rowsell of Ontario Veterinary College at the annual meeting of the Herd Improvement Association of Peterborough county Tuesday at the office of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Morning and afternoon sessions, including a visit to Silverwoods Dairy, covered a wide range of topics of concern to the dairy farmer, the maintenance of health in the herd, sanitary conditions in the milking and stabling quarters, and particularly in milking practice.

With Dr. Rowsell were C. C. Morrow of the Ontario livestock branch, Dr. F. J. Harden, public health veterinarian of Peterborough's municipal health department, and F. C. Paterson, agricultural representative.

EFFECT ON INCOME

The main purpose of herd improvement is income improvement, and Dr. Rowsell said the dairy farmer had one of the hardest jobs in building up a good profitable herd and turning out a quality product.

Whatever may be the product of agriculture, quality is all important, Dr. Harden said, milk or wool, meat or potatoes.

"You wouldn't pay a high price for a moth-eaten suit, you wouldn't want it at any price, or a twisted axe handle."

The housewife is more quality-conscious than ever, Dr. Harden said, and in the dairy industry farmers have more equipment and other aids available for their work. The chief enemy of the dairy farmer is bacteria "for these cause off-flavors, odors and souring."

Dr. Harden said the operator had to be constantly careful in all the phases of his work, and to appreciate his problem realistically he should imagine the possibility of millions of bacteria in a single drop of milk, so small are they. Emphasis was repeated on the sterilization of all utensils, and generally the whole process aimed at a high level of santitation.

The dairy farmer has to keep bacteria out of milk and check the growth of the few that may enter it.

Vigilance against any signs of mastitis was the theme of Dr. Rowsell's practical talk, which was illustrated by a film showing how dairy santitation can be attained.

NOT ENOUGH IMPROVEMENT

Cliff Morrow spoke about the 50 herd improvement associations in the province with 1,300 members. Reports of the herd inspections for 1953 were not yet complete, and a preliminary examination indicated "that there is not enough improvement in those herds."

"It appears that there are too many 7,000 and 8,000 pound (milk) cows. Actually some herds don't appear to have any good cows."

The HIA supervisors are doing for herds, mostly of grade milkers, usually with some purebreds, the work corresponding to the Record of Performance tests that are made, and kept at Ottawa, for the purebred herds.

Mr. Morrow said that the herd improvement reports indicate to a farmer the milkers in his herd. Classing them in three groups, A, B and C. Mr. Morrow advised the fixing of attention on the "A" group, and getting rid of the mediocre "C" cows which he described as "boarders," cutting down the farm income.

"Naturally, a buyer is likely to pick out A's, but the only farmer who can afford to sell his "A+" cows is the man who has more than enough of them. And, even then, he should let them go only if he gets a price."

CULL LOW PRODUCERS

Mr. Morrow strongly urged the culling of the cows that were poor milk producers. On the other hand, a grade herd could be improved by means of artificial insemination, by looking for milking background in the families of the sires. He also recommended going to the odd dispersal sale. "It will pay you to pick out and buy good cows that you see there."

As to the "boarders," sell them even if you are getting $50 or $100 less than you think you should get. The main thing is to get rid of them."

The dairy farmer "has got to know the individual cows of his herd," their breed lines, their milking records and so on, one by one.

Morning and afternoon sessions were preoccupied with topics relating to quality milk and healthy, productive cows.

The association's officers were re-elected for 1954. President is S. G. McIntosh; vice-president Burritt Jopling, and secretary-treasurer Wellington Sutton. Supervisor is Don Chambers.

Field Day At Louada Manor

Peterborough Shorthorn Breeders have gratefully accepted the invitation of Louis Cadesky to hold their field day at Louada Manor Farms, Saturday, June 12. The Ontario Shorthorn Club is being invited.

The application of the local breeders for a regional show in this area was discussed at Guelph Wednesday. Lorne Pimmett said decision was postponed pending executive consideration. "It didn't sound as if we were going to get it this year, but the regional show has not yet been settled."

The last field day several years ago at the Cadesky farms drew a big attendance, and was a fine success.

Leadership Reminder

"We are sure of 50, and we are expecting a lot of others at the leadership school Thursday, Feb. 11 at Knox Church Hall, Reid St., morning and afternoon," Ken Best said yesterday. "I don't know how many are coming from the Women's Institute, but reports indicate quite a number."

Russ Magazine Declares U.S. Controls Canadian Uranium

By BILL BOSS

MOSCOW (CP)—An article in the Soviet magazine New Times claims Canada's uranium industry is American controlled.

The magazine, printed in Russian, English, French and German and sold throughout Communist Europe, quotes the Canadian Tribune, Toronto Communist publication, the Wall Street Journal and the Atomic Energy Newsletter as its sources.

Headed "the U.S. drive for atomic materials," it gives the Soviet analysis of President Eisenhower's proposals for an atomic pool.

It maintains "U.S. monopolies have, with government support, managed to lay their hands on all the chief uranium deposits of the capitalist world."

It argues that U.S. authorities have refused to supply other Western countries with atomic isotopes for peaceful research and that even uranium-producing countries, such as Belgium, "with the vast resources of uranium in the Congo, has not been able to obtain sufficient quantities even for a very modest atomic pile."

Long before the President's Dec. 8 speech "plans were afoot in Washington for a demonstrative act that would allay resentment in countries supplying uranium ore and at the same time assure the U.S. an uninterrupted flow of atomic raw materials for military purposes."

The article does not mention that in Canada atomic research is active and confined to peaceful applications of atomic energy.

"Nominally," it says, "practically the whole of Canada's uranium output is controlled by a government monopoly, Eldorado Mining and Refining, Ltd."

"But Eldorado is a government agency only in name. Before the war it was controlled entirely by American capitalists. Towards the end of 1944 the Canadian government bought up all the shares and appointed a Canadian, W. J. Bennett, chairman of the Eldorado board.

"This, however, did not affect the firm's old contacts with U.S. corporate interests: The reorganization was no more than a deal between the Canadian and American monopolies and has been exposed as such by the progressive Canadian Tribune. . . .

"The Wall Street Journal says that four American corporations, one of them being the big Jones and Laughlin Steel Company, are already mining uranium north of Lake Superior, in the area around the Montreal river, and at Sudbury. Reports in the U.S. press indicate that the St. Joseph Lead Company, an American firm, has through its Canadian subsidiary started a uranium mining project at Lake Athabasca at the cost of $4,500,000.

"The Eldorado refining mills are at Port Hope, near Toronto, not far from the U.S. border. But even here the refining is not completed, and the ore is shipped for further processing to the U.S.

At Ottawa, W. J. Bennett, president of Eldorado Mining and Refining Ltd., described the claim as "ridiculous."

He said the article in the New Times is "completely inaccurate", and is similar to a story printed recently in the Russian army publication Red Star. A number of speeches by Canadian Communists in the last few months were along the same party lines.

Mr. Bennett said Eldorado is Canadian controlled, although some Americans own shares. The company was expropriated by the Canadian government in 1944 and now is owned by the federal administration.

The article's statement that four American corporations are mining uranium north of Lake Superior near the Montreal river and at Sudbury was incorrect. There were no uranium mines in either area.

Mr. Bennett said the Joseph Lead Co. started a uranium mining project at Lake Athabasca. This company was financing a base metal mine in N. Brunswick for uranium.

Brutal Drama 'Stockade' On Broadway

By MARK BARRON

NEW YORK (AP)—When "What Price Glory?" was produced after the First World War it was thought that the theatre had achieved the ultimate in picturing the coarseness and brutality that war brings out in soldiers.

But, "What Price Glory?" was a valentine compared to the roughness among soldiers portrayed Thursday night when the new drama, "Stockade," opened on Broadway at the President theatre.

This new play by Mark J. Appleman is based on a single section of the novel, "From Here To Eternity," by James Jones. It is not one of the most pleasant parts of that novel, but it is a dynamic, shocking picture of one facet of the army which was mostly kept behind closed curtains as far as the civilian public qas concerned.

The stockade is a military prison barracks in Hawaii in 1941, just a few months before Pearl harbor.

The prisoners are recruits who recently came into the army and who are held for court-martial on various charges. Sitting in their barracks prison they are overcome with boredom, harrassed by sadistic sergeants and lieutenants who are just as bored and who relieve the monotony by thinking up tortures.

BREAKS ANOTHER'S ARM

The prisoners are so bored that they think up ways of inflicting torture on themselves. But at times they quiet down and talk philosophy, poetry, women and, occasionally, their many plans to escape. One prisoner persuades another to break his arm with a sledge hammer while they are working on a rock pile so he will be taken from the stockade and sent to the hospital.

The prisoner who does the arm breaking is traced and is killed, after a brutal beating, by staff sergeant Judson who is the warden of the stockade. Another prisoner challenges Judson to a knife fight and the sergeant is killed. In turn, the murderous prisoner is shot by other MPs.

This brutal, frequently shocking picture has an excellent all-male cast headed by Murray Hamilton, Jay Barney and Rusty Lane.

Victim Of Reds Gets Suspended Sentence

PORT COLBORNE (CP) — A young woman said to have been the victim of Communist brutality in Europe before coming to Canada with five other members of her family was given suspended sentence Thursday on a charge of unlawfully disposing of the body of her stillborn child with intent to conceal the birth.

The girl, whose name was not made public, speaks little English and her story was told in court by Rev. W. E. Diesenthal, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church.

The pastor said that at the age of 12 the girl was taken into a Communist labor camp 10 miles from her eastern European home and forced into immoralities.

The pastor said the child born to the girl last month was the result of "an unfortunate acquaintance" with another immigrant who promised to marry her when he reached this country. He said the man now is in Toronto but the girl has not heard from him.

Minesweeper Flotilla For Great Lakes

HALIFAX (CP) — Canada will soon have a minesweeper flotilla in the Great Lakes for training purposes, Commodore K. F. Adams chief of naval divisions at Hamilton, said Thursday night.

Four Second World War minesweepers now in mothballs at Sydney will be refitted this year for training of reserves, he said in an interview.

Commodore Adams, who formerly commanded the aircraft carrier Magnificent and Stadacona naval base here, said he will assume command of Canada's 6,000 sea cadets with headquarters at Hamilton.

Cadets To Meet

OTTAWA (CP)—The 13th annual meeting of the Air Cadet League of Canada will be held at the Seigniory Club, Montebello, Que., Feb. 17-18, league headquarters announced Thursday. The meeting will bring together league directors from Canada's 10 provinces who will hear reports on last year's activities, elect new officers for 1954 and study a number of proposals designed to expand air cadet training in Canada this year.

CANADIAN BREAD IN GERMANY—Sgt.-Maj. Danny McGowan, of Camp Borden, chief cook with the 2nd Battalion, Royal 22nd Regiment, in Germany, pulls from the oven a tray of freshly-baked Canadian bread, available to Canadian troops in Germany for the first time. Bread previously supplied the troops was a heavy type baked by the British Army. Sgt.-Maj. McGowan spent three days with a British supply depot teaching the cooks the method of bread-baking with a Canadian recipe.

C. R. DE REAMER

Safety Expert To Speak To Local Group

Safety for the individual in work will be the text of an instructive talk to personnel men, safety engineers and factory managers when C. Russell DeReamer, manager of safety for the General Electric Company, visits Peterborough next week. He will address an anticipated attendance of 800 in the auditorium of St. Peter's school on February 11.

The visit, which is being sponsored by the Peterborough-Lindsay section of Industrial Accident Prevention association, will be one of the year's highlights for safety people.

When Mr. DeReamer was appointed supervisor of safety in the G.E.'s Bridgeport works, he was the youngest man to hold a key safety position in a plant of 14,000 people. Today, he is probably the youngest man in the United States to head the safety service of a large organization.

Oldest Station Now Heliport

BRUSSELS (Reuters)—The oldest railway station on the Continent of Europe, Brussels' "Allee Verte," has become Europe's first "heliport."

Around the station, where thousands in top hats and crinolines gathered 119 years ago to watch the first continental train draw slowly out, Europe's first international helicopter terminal now stands.

Only the roar of a helicopter's rotors disturbed the scene as a handful of passengers climbed aboard the last train to leave the gaily-decorated wooden station.

The gleaming white concrete building of the heliport terminus stands on the exact spot from which the first train left Brussels.

Regular international helicopter services run by the Belgian Sabena Airline include twice-daily flights to Antwerp and Rotterdam and one flight daily to Maastricht, Cologne and Bonn, as well as Lille, in France.

Sabena uses three Sikorsky S-55 helicopters, each carrying seven passengers.

Food For Destitute

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP)—A government official says surplus commodity food will be shipped into Dunklin county to relieve about 3,000 persons there who are without food and funds. Floyd H. Tuchscher of the United States department of agriculture Thursday said the food items should start moving into the southeast Missouri county the first part of next week.

Queen Given Great Ovation By Children

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Queen Elizabeth encountered her first real Australian "scorcher" today, with the temperature reaching just over 83 degrees.

The Queen used a big parasol to protect herself during parts of her strenuous day. There was little breeze to give relief from the heat. She wore a light summer frock of patterned ice blue with white hat and white shoes. But the Duke of Edinburgh remained bare-headed.

It was their third day in Sydney. About 110,000 children in the Sydney cricket ground cheered madly as the royal couple, standing in an open car, drove by.

TOTS SCREAM WELCOME

Sydney officials said it was the greatest gathering of children ever seen in the world. It certainly must have been the noisiest. The tots screamed "Hello, Queen Elizabeth" at the top of their lungs.

They outdid their parents who stayed at home to hear the occasion broadcast. There was hardly a parent in sight.

At one point the duke told the driver: "Go slower. We want to see the kiddies."

Both the Queen and the duke were obviously moved by the children's welcome.

The Queen told the masses of children: "It is you who will guard the safety and guide the destiny of this country in years to come, and I feel sure that you will be worthy of that great trust."

The day had started with a touch of sadness at a ceremony when the Queen formally opened the gates of the Anzac Memorial.

Tonight the royal couple attended a ball given by the Lord mayor. Many were waiting outside the town hall 12 hours before the Queen arrived.

Sentenced To Death Editor Collapses

SEOUL (Reuters) — A South Korean newspaper editor, sentenced to death for spying, was reported today to have escaped from jail in the chief warden's jeep.

He is Chung Kuk Eun, former editor of the pro-government newspaper Yonhap Shinmoon. A Seoul newspaper said he escaped with two other prisoners after stealing the jeep.

South Korean army spokesmen would not comment on the report.

Chung, sentenced to death by a military court-martial last December, was originally to have been executed Jan. 23. A few hours before his execution was due, the South Korean army clamped a news blackout on his whereabouts, and later announced the execution had been cancelled.

OFF TO THE YUKON

CALGARY (CP)—Eight old-time hockey players of Calgary and district will fly to Whitehorse Saturday for an exhibition game that night against the Yukon Centre's Club. The following day they will give hockey lessons and show films on hockey, the Calgary stampede and the Grey cup game.

Making the trip will be Lorne Carr, Eddie Wares, Tommy Anderson, Eddie Wiseman, Art Somers, Doug Cairns, Cam Burke and Gord McFarlane.
